THREE MEN DIE AS STOVE EXPLODES

ALL ARE GUILTY MANSLAUGHTER IN MASSIE CASE

Racially Mixed Jury Adds Recommendation for Leniency to Four Verdicts.

APPEAL ENTERED.

Mrs. Massie's Sobs Break Silence After Sentences, in Court Lined With Police.

By William H. Ewing

HONOLULU, April 30. — (AP)—With a recommendation for leniency, a racially mixed jury has convicted four Americans of manslaughter for the slaying of an Hawaiian.

The jury reported a verdict late yesterday after more than 48 hours deliberation. The defendants are Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, U.S.N.; Mrs. Granville Fortescue, society matron, his mother-in-law; Albert O. Jones and E. J. Lord, navy enlisted men.

The verdict was read in a court room tense with silence. First to break it was a sob from Mrs. Thalia Massie, wife of the naval officer, who allegedly was criminally attacked by Joseph Kahahawai, the slain native.

Conviction set Honolulu a stir with excitement and rumors. Gov. Lawrence M. Judd denied the National Guard had been summoned but said precautions had been taken against possible emergencies. The governor declined to say what his precautionary action had been.

Chief of Police A. F. Weeber, who manned the judiciary building with every available policeman while the verdicts were being read, said he had taken no additional precautions other than to have all officers "on their toes."

Navy Element Angry

It was no secret the navy element of the population was not only indignant but angry.

The racial factor continued to remain in the background of the many ramifications of the case. Some Hawaiians and Orientals were outspoken in favor of the verdict, which was returned by a jury of eight Caucasians, three Chinese and a native.

LONDON, April 30.— (Canadian Press Cable.)— The Everton Football Club to-day won the championship of the English Soccer League. Pushed down into the second division in 1930 after having been in the first division of the league since its commencement, they won promotion back again in 1931. RUMOR BRIG.-GEN. ORMOND CHIEF OF PENITENTIARIES

OTTAWA, April 30 (C.P.)—While no appointment will be actually made for the present, Brigadier-General D. M. Ormond, officer commanding Military District No. 13, Calgary, is being very prominently mentioned for the post of Dominion Superintendent of Penitentiaries.

The retirement from the position of General W. St. Pierre Hughes, who is on six months' leave of absence expiring on August 1, was announced some time ago.

Everybody is Chasing Dirt in Peterborough

Peterboorough's citizens started out this morning on the biggest clean-up; paint-up; give-a-man-a-job campaign to be ever staged in this city. The campaign closes on May 7 and during the interval the citizens are urged to put forth their best efforts in making it a success. Any citizen needing a man to aid in the clean-up work is asked to call Hugh Robertson at 5717, the employment bureau for this district.

Appeal Has Brought Response

From the Employment Office, Charlotte Street, (telephone 571), it is learned that the "Give a Man a Job" campaign has produced results that are quite encouraging.

Its first momentum was checked by the change in weather ten days ago, but even with that adverse factor operating against this community effort, numerous jobs have been reported.

With the recovery of Spring yesterday the initial response should pick up volume again, and citizens who have been delaying their clean-up and improvement work are urged to go ahead with the contributions of employment which they have been considering.

The city has been doing its part; the government has had men making certain repairs to the post office; the county and various townships have started men on the roads removing the damage of the departing frost.

This appeal, however, is directed especially to the individual citizens. Even those who have had their salaries clipped have not been set back much financially, for they have compensating advantage of the many lower prices.

Among these citizens there must be some who have work that needs doing around their homes. This is their opportunity to help their fellowmen who are not so pleasantly and comfortably situated.

Spring should be here next week with all its invitation and opportunity to make a further start in the "Give a Man A Job" campaign, the possibilities of which have been sketched in this column during the last two weeks.

FIFTY TRADE UNIONISTS HOLD NEW SOUTH WALES' TAX OFFICE

Are in Government Pay and Will Resist Federal Attempts to Seize Fyles.

NO INTEREST TO BE PAID.

SYDNEY, N.S.W., April 30 (C.P.). — Fifty trade unionists in the pay of the Government occupied the New South Wales tax office to-day, prepared to resist any attempt by the Federal Government to seize the files kept there.

This was part of the tactics of the Provincial administration to resist the Commonwealth's enforcement of the Financial Agreement Act. Under that Act the Commonwealth assumed responsibility for the state's foreign obligations, moving recently to impound the New South Wales taxes in lieu of foreign debts on which the state defaulted.

Premier J. T. Lang lost a skirmish in the courts by which he sought to have the financial agreement declared unconstitutional.

Now he has let it be known that New South Wales will default tomorrow on interest payments amounting to about £200,000 on internal loans.

Back to the Days of Auntie

NEW YORK, April 30 (C.P.). —Sea shore fashions are going conservative. The new swimming suits are oddly reminiscent of the ones that auntie wore.

They are two-piece affairs, reaching to just above the knees, though they could hardly be called "revealing." The under garment hangs from the shoulders like a slip, though the bottom part is fashioned like shorts, skimpy ones.

HAMILTON, April 30.—(CP)—There was a splash and a shrill cry for help. Bubbles rose from the water in the harbor. Lawrence van Allen, second engineer on the City of Montreal heard and saw it all, or at least he thought so. Without a moment's hesitation Van Allen plunged overboard and dived repeatedly. There was no trace of the body. Two patrol wagons, one ambulance, the harbor patrol, an inhalator and one consignment of live saving equipment arrived. So did a flotilla of launches and a flock of detectives.

Later, it was found, Ernest Edwards, nine, appeared on the scene, escorted by an irate father. Ernest, it seems, had pushed a large stone off the dock, and then ran away. Alex Steplock, seven, a playmate gave the alarm.

OATH BILL GETS SECOND READING BY SLIM MARGIN

De Valera Has Majority of Six on Abolish the Oath Bill.

NOT TREATY VIOLATION.

President Declares "We Propose to Get Last Letter of Our Rights."

DUBLIN, April 30.— (CP) —Only one supporter of President Eamon De Valera, and one member of the opposition, were absent when the critical division on second reading of the bill to abolish the Oath of Allegiance came in the Dail Eireann last night. Second reading was given by a majority of six votes, the figures being 77 to 71. The balance-holding Laborites assured passage of the bill through its latest stage.

Today it was reported President De Valera had said that defeat on a vital matter in the committee stage which the bill is entering would mean a change in the government. This is highly significant in view of the possibility the Labor party, hitherto considered as generally favoring standing by the terms of the Irish treaty, may closely examine its attitude.

The vote came after President De Valera had declared "we propose to get the last letter of our legal rights". The Fianna Fail leader denied the abolition of the Oath of Allegiance to the Crown was a violation of the Anglo-Irish treaty, which he stand taken by Great Britain.

Not Afraid of Negotiations

"If Britain is going to use the treaty as a big stick let her use it in the face of the world," De Valera declared. "If British Government attempts any reprisals it will prove the pretense of co-equality among the nations of the Commonwealth to be all bosh."

The opposition attack on the bill was led by ministers of the Cosgrave government which had been in power from the formation of the Free State 10 years ago to the opening of the new Dail following the general elections last February.

Irish independence has been won already but some people are so foolish as not to see it, declared Patrick McGilligan, formerly Minister for External Affairs.

Victims Trapped In Small Shanty Outside Welland

Friend Who Had Accompanied Trio From Work and Just Stepped Through Door is Unhurt, as Blast Wrecks Building.

POLICE SUSPECT GAS FUMES HAD COLLECTED AND IGNITED WHEN FIRE WAS STARTED IN STOVE

WELLAND, April 30.—(CP)—Three men were killed today when a stove exploded in a shanty near here. The victims are Sam Bell, John Mukoluk and Peter Hodowen, all of Crowland township.

The three, with Frank Sakal, also of Crowland, were in a small Michigan Central Railway section house outside the city, and had just returned from work. How the explosion occurred is unknown. Sakal left the building, walked across the railway track, and the explosion occurred almost immediately. He was not injured.

Police are investigating, but as yet no official statement is forthcoming on the tragedy. Sakal stated Hodowen had mentioned "it was chilly" inside the building, but had no idea as to what caused the explosion.

The police advanced the theory that gasoline fumes had accumulated in the small building, and that these exploded when the fire was ignited.

250,000 CORDS WOOD BLAZING IN QUEBEC TOWN

MILLS UNTOUCHED.

Fire Casts Gloom as Plant, Shut Over Year, Was Due to Open Monday.

CHICOUTIMI, Quebec, April 30 (C.P.). — Fire which broke out in a huge pile of 250,000 cords of wood at Port Alfred, Que., late yesterday afternoon was still burning at an early hour this morning.

The wood, owned by the Port Alfred Paper Mills, a company controlled by the Canada Power and Paper Company, was said to be valued at approximately $3,000,000.

When it was seen that the sweeping flames could not be stemmed by the local fire brigade and voluntary fifefighters officials of the company sought assistance from nearby towns. Pumps and other fire equipment were rushed from Bagotville, Grand Baie, and Chicoutimi. Eighteen fire hoses spurted tons of water on the swiftly creeping blaze with little apparent effect. At an early hour this morning it was estimated that about $250,000 worth of the wood had been destroyed.

Shut Over Year.

The spreading conflagration cast a gloom on the unemployed of Port Alfred. The mills, closed since December, 1930, were to have been reopened next Monday, and would have provided work for most of the male population of the town. With the flames still uncontrolled the date of the resumption of operations was problematical. Hopes were held, however, that the fire would be extinguished before the flames consumed much more of the wood and that the mills would re-open on Monday as per schedule.

The great pile of lumber spread over a mile. A favorable wind swept the flames away from the mills and the plants were in no danger of destruction early to-day.

Wandering Child Is Returned Home

Late yesterday afternoon police learned that the two-year-old boy found wandering alone about the corner of George and Dublin streets at 11 o'clock in the morning by John Edgar, Inspector of the Children's Aid Society, was the child of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Holland, 85 Hunter street west.

No inquiries were made for the child to police or Mr. Edgar. The Examiner learned, but having heard the description of the child Constable Joe Wheeler directed Mr. Edgar to the Holland home, where it was learned that the child belonged.

Police state that they have repeatedly found the child wandering about the streets unattended and taken it home. Inspector Edgar is considering holding an investigation into the case. The Examiner was informed by police that the husband is employed at a local factory and the mother works at the Bonner-Worth, leaving the care of the children to other hands during the day.

HUGE MAY DAY RALLY PLANNED

Communists and Jobless Reported to Have 1,000 Pounds of Dynamite.

POLICE PREPARING.

VANCOUVER, April 30.—(C. P.) —With a monster May Day demonstration planned here and 1,000 pounds of dynamite reported in the hands of Communists and unemployed workers police forces of British Columbia are on the alert to prevent possible disturbances. Detail of the theft of the dynamite are still lacking.

According to word received here it was stolen by a party of men who broke into an isolated powder magazine at Ashcroft, 175 miles east of here. The men, who had previously stated they were on their way to Vancouver to take part in a Sunday demonstration are said to have taken 20 boxes, each containing 50 pounds of dynamite.

Police on the Look-out.

Police forces throughout the province were notified and at once started an intensive search. Hundreds of unemployed men have been travelling towards Vancouver for days on trains. They have been so numerous the few isolated policemen along the railways have been unable to stop them.

Forecasts of possible radical activity at Kamloops, 300 miles east of here, have stirred railroad police to unusual activity. Threats of demonstrators commandeering trains to carry them to that city were reported.

Permission has been given Vancouver unemployed to hold a May Day meeting in Powell street grounds Sunday afternoon, providing there is no parade.

MISSIONARIES ESCAPE RED FORCES, REACH AMOY

AMOY, China, April 30 (A.P.) — Four foreign missionaries stationed at Sioke, southwest of Chaochow, arrived here to-day after two weeks in the interior fleeing Chinese Communists.

They are the Rev. H. J. Voskuil and the Rev. T. V. Oltman and their wives. They represent the Presbyterian Reformed Church with headquarters in New York.

The Communists were reported to have captured a village within ten miles of here during the night, kidnapping many men and women and killing others, finally burning the town after looting it.

Cricket Results

LONDON April 30 (C.P. Cable) — Surrey had scored 243 runs for only four wickets at the tea interval in their opening match of the first-class county cricket schedule with Worcestershire at the Oval to-day.

In the only other first-class match started to-day, the scoring was distinctly poor, Warwickshire totalling 69 runs in the first innings and Middlesex getting only 43 runs for the first four wickets.

INSPECTOR JOY NOTED MOUNTIE TAKEN BY DEATH

HAD COLORFUL CAREER.

OTTAWA, April 30 (C.P.). — Alfred Herbert Joy— northern adventurer, explorer, policeman, ambassador—is dead. Ill for less than a week, Inspector Joy, termed the living personification of the popular "Mountie," was fatally stricken in his hotel here yesterday on the eve of his marriage and succumbed a few hours later in a local hospital.

One of the most colorful and romantic figures in the storied force, Inspector Joy was completing arrangements for his marriage today to Miss Carmel Murphy, of Ottawa, when his illness became acute. He was found unconscious in his hotel room by friends Last November his marriage was postponed when the inspector was seized with an illness which kept him in hospital for many months. The marriage was to have taken place to-day in St. Theresa's, the Church of the Little Flower.

Arctic Expert.

Paying tribute to the officer, Major-General J. H. MacBrien said he was regarded as the country's leading expert on matters affecting the lands near the Arctic Circle

Funeral arrangements have not been made, but it is expected he will be buried here with full military honors, his rank as inspector in the R.C.M.P. entitling him to the honorary rank of Captain in the defence forces of the country

As a youth Alfred Joy was so anxious to join the famous "Mounties," that he left England before he was of age and had to spend a year farming in Saskatchewan before he could be admitted to the force at the age of 21. He showed a devotion to duty which quickly forced his rise in the service until he attained his commission as inspector in 1927.

On Famous Janes Case

Inspector Joy was one of the pioneer mounted policemen in the Arctic. In 1916 he was prominently connected with the famous Janes case which attracted attention all over the world.

Reports leaked out of the north that a white trapper named Janes had been slain by an Eskimo far beyond the borders of civilization, where there was no police force. Inspector Joy was sent north on a whaling boat and left alone with the natives to investigate the report. A year later he was called for at a remote harbor and it was found he had done a thorough job. He had acted as detective, undertaker, coroner, magistrate and jailer and had ready for transport back to civilization a native named Noo-Kud-Lah.

Of late years Inspector Joy has been officer commanding the Eastern Arctic sub-district and has made yearly patrols of his posts by means of the Steamer Beothic. His last trip was made last summer. He left here in July and returned in September.

Found Guilty of Manslaughter

The four defendants in the Joseph Kahahawai lynching case in Honolulu were convicted last night of manslaughter by a racial mixed jury which asked leniency. McRAE BARES INSIDE STORY OF BENNETT'S FLAT REFUSAL TO ACCEPT $200,000 OFFER

EXPECT DIVISION TUESDAY.

Dandurand Defending McDougald, Haydon Believes They Did Not Get Fair Trial.

OTTAWA, April 30.—(CP)—Liberal members of the Senate moved to the defence of Andrew Haydon and W. L. McDougald yesterday as the attack on the two Senators assumed the aspect of leading toward their expulsion from parliament. A few minutes after the Red Chamber was informed by Senator George Lynch-Staunton that it possessed the power to expel any member who had prostituted his public duty, Senator Raoul Dandurand, Liberal leader, served notice the party would not "desert" the two men under fire.

Senator A. D. McRae, formerly organizer for the Conservative party, revealed some inside political history when he related that Premier R. B. Bennett replied: "Not a damned cent" to offers of Beauharnois funds. It was shortly before the last election, said General McRae that an offer of $200,000 was made to the Conservative party, through an intermediary. It was turned down flatly.

"I never solicited a dollar from Beauharnois," proceeded Senator McRae, "I never accepted a dollar from them and consequently never returned a dollar to them—Beauharnois, Sweezey or any other so-called Beauharnois interests."

Senate Steals Spotlight.

Once again the Senate stole the political spotlight from the House of Commons as the debate continued on the report of the committee which condemned the associations with Beauharnois of Senators Haydon and McDougald, and issued a mild rebuke to Senator Donat Raymond. It will continue on Tuesday when a division likely will materialise, probably on political lines. It has been understood the adoption of the report would be a preliminary to a direct attempt to expel the two members.

The two Senators, said Senator Dandurand, had not received a fair trial, and he regretted there was a distinction between a trial by one's peers and a trial by one's political enemies. Throwing out the suggestion of compulsory voting, the Liberal leader said this would obviate heavy war chests by political parties.

It was an undisputed fact, said Senator Lynch-Staunton, that both the Senate and House of Commons had power to suspend or expel one of its members. It was not necessary to convict under the general law, and the Senate was a court from which no appeal was possible.

Several members of the British House, proceeded the Hamilton, Ont., senator, had been expelled for "conduct unbecoming an officer and gentleman." Twisting this old army charge to "conduct unbecoming a gentleman and senator," Senator Lynch-Staunton said it fitted many of the relationships between the two accused senators and the power and navigation project. The evidence adduced before the committee, he said, revealed many incidents of "conduct unbecoming a gentleman and senator" on the part of both men.

Dandurand Defends

Taking up the cudgels for the two senators under fire, Senator Dandurand said every effort had fallen to the ground to prove that Beauharnois plans had been approved by the Dominion Government through political influence. He pleaded for a non-political examination of the evidence and he felt sure the senate would not adopt the censuring report.

Senator C. W. Robinson, Moncton, N.B., one of the Liberal members on the committee, observed this was a case apparently where all judicial consideration is thrown aside. He defied the senate to read the evidence, free from bias and political leanings, and render a verdict of guilty.

"These men were tried and condemned and their executioner

Wild Cats Invade Town in Vermont

SOUTH WHEELOCK, Vt., April 30. (AP)—Citizens of this town were going about their duties yesterday armed against an invasion of wild cats which has all but terrorized this community in the past few days. A cat weighing 35 pounds was shot on the main street. The animals are believed to have been driven out of their usual habitats by the lingering snows in the hills.

Loving Father Prefers Jail

HAMILTON, April 30.—Police court witnessed an unusual incident today when Mr. and Mrs. Steven Medecki argued as to which of them would serve a three-months' term imposed on Medecki for false pretences. Steve final won out when he told the court he would rather be in jail than "at home minding the kids."

School Fair Prize Withheld This Year

Interesting Program at Monthly Meeting of Women's Institute.

OMEMEE, April 30 (Examiner Correspondence)—Mrs. J. Eggleston entertained the members of the Women's Institute for the April meeting at her home, King street, west on Wednesday at 7.30 p.m., the president Mrs. Rea occupying the chair. The attendance was gratifying, about 20 members being present.

Some time was devoted to a discussion as to whether or not the Institute contribute a prize to the school securing the most points at the annual school fair. It was decided not to contribute this year.

After discussion, on motion it was decided that the Institute would pay $5 to Trinity United Church for the use of articles belonging to the church, that had been used by the Institute in catering at the high school banquet.

An interesting and informative program completed the evening's proceedings. Mrs. Rea contributed an instructive paper on "Whatsoever things are lovely." The losing group in a "music" contest which divided the company into two groups, entertained the winning side for a few minutes. A recitation giving a humorous description of a young gentleman asking for the hand of a fair maiden was given by Mrs. E. MacPherson.

At the close of the meeting the hostess assisted by Mrs. James and Mrs. Parsons served lunch, when a social chat was enjoyed.

The officers will have charge of the May meeting, when the annual reports will be received and the election of officers will take place. Mrs. McPhee's home is the place for the gathering.

QUIET ELECTION SEEN IN FRANCE

Over Eleven Million Men Expected to Cast Ballots on Sunday.

3,617 CANDIDATES OUT.

(By George Hambleton, C.P. Staff Writer.)

PARIS, April 30—Quiet polling is expected as French voters go to the polls tomorrow for the first ballot in the double-ballot French general elections to the Chamber of Deputies. The second ballot in seats where a decisive result is not recorded on the first, will be held one week from Sunday, and the general opinion is that two-thirds of the 615 constituencies will undergo a second ballot.

Comprehensive measures to check any disorders arising from the coincidence of the first ballot with May Day have been taken, but every indication to-day was the French elector would be allowed to deposit his ballot in peace.

The closing days have brought a new outburst in manifestoes. Special billboards in Paris have now been plastered with charges which in Canada would yield a fruitful crop of libel suits.

What's What

Here are a few election particulars:

First polling day, May 1; second polling day, May 8

Electors 11,500,000.

Members to be elected, 615 (including colonies).

Candidates running, 3,617.

Candidates to be elected on the second ballot need only head the poll.

Women do not have the vote, and are not eligible as candidates.

Hunt Continues for Lindbergh's Son Without Definite Clues.

MANY MYSTERIOUS TRIPS.

HOPEWELL, N.J., April 30.— It will be two months to-morrow since kidnappers stole Charles A. Lindbergh, Jr. So far as the public knows, there is still no definite clue to the child's whereabouts.

John H. Curtis, one of the three Norfolk men trying to negotiate the child's return, has gone on still another secret mission. He was reported to have put to sea from Norfolk on the yacht Marcon with Lieut. George L. Richards of the United States' naval air station at Norfolk and Edwin B. Bruce, N.Y., a friend.

No results were reported from a message broadcast Thursday night from Newark. The message asked Harry Fleischer, Detroit gunman long sought in the kidnapping, to communicate with an unidentified person through a New York lawyer.

SEES ENGLAND LEADING WORLD TO RECOVERY

TORONTO, April 29 (CP)—Of course England will lead the world in the march back to economic recovery, declared Gordon Selfridge, London merchant, in the course of an interview here to-day. Mr. Selfridge is visiting in Toronto for some days.

England will be at the head of the parade just as in the past. It is character that does it. We are carrying tremendous burdens. We haven't a bit more money than we had a while back when things were at their worst, but we are on our feet.

In England we have an old country, an old culture and an old and firmly-grounded character. That is the advance we have over the new lands, such as United States, he said.

England may reduce its tax on beer by about two cents.

Increase Is Seen In Woolens Employment

A bulletin issued by the Canadian Woolen and Knit Goods Manufacturers Association says:

The substantial increase in employment of workers in the woollen, hosiery and knit goods, and silk industries in Canada is reflected in the April 1932 "Employment Situation Report" just released by the Dominion Bureau of Statistics. The index figures are based on 1926 as 100.

Index At April 1st	1932	1928
Woollen Industry	115.5	99.9
Hosiery and Knit Goods	110.9	102.9
Silk Industry	378.1	238.5x

x1929 figures; not shown in 1928.

How important and encouraging these increases are can only be appreciated when they are compared to the general curves for industries other than agriculture, which dropped from a point at approximately 102 in April 1928 to approximately 87 in April 1932.

CHAMPAGNE EXPLODES WINERY MAN IS HURT

LONDON, Ont., April 30.—William Cramer, 651-2 Wharncliffe Road, almost lost his right hand late yesterday, when two bottles of champagne he was preparing at the London Winery, exploded simultaneously. The glass gashed his right wrist and cut one of the main arteries. He was rushed to Victoria Hospital under care of Dr. R. Lannett. His condition is said to be fair.

SPLENDID LIST OF 22 OPTIONS BEING OFFERED

Horticultural Society Making Special Appeal to Citizens.

NEW TROPHY DONATED.

Membership Fee Hardly Covers Cost of Some of the Options.

With a list of twenty two options, including shrubs, flowers, flowering vines, lillies and roses, a comprehensive range for all members, the Horticultural Society is promoting its community work this year with a special appeal all next week.

This is one of the oldest organizations in the city, and its usefulness is attested by its many years of progress and accomplishment. H. L. Beal, chairman of the Campaign and Finance Committee, points out in the 1932 circular "that our government grant has been reduced by 50 per cent" and for that reason it is obvious that more dependence than ever must be placed upon the local citizens if the Society is to continue its efforts this year toward the beautification of Peterborough and the encouragement of home owners in the planting of flowers and shrubs.

The circular offers this hint to gladiolus growers. "The thrips that have been causing trouble by destroying gladiolus in the last two years will bep leasede to learn that these pests can be controlled by soaking the bulbs for 12 hours in a solution of ½ oz. corrosive sublimate and three gallons of water. Use a wooden receptacle. Be careful, this is a deadly poison."

The promotion of the scenic driveway and its marking throughout the city, the encouragement of flower shows, and the support given the Parks Committee of the council are some of the spheres of the Society's work.

Trophy For Residents

To encourage beautification along Drive a fine silver cup has been donated for annual competition. Each year a replica of the cup will be given to the winner for that year. Second, third and fourth prizes will be given in shrubs or plants to the value of three, two and one dollar, winner's selection.

The cup and prizes are to be presented for the greatest improvement of home grounds or vacant lots and is open to all residents on the Horticultural Drive, who after June 1st do not employ any help outside the family.

Entries are to be made to the Secretary by May 15 with a picture of the property before improvement. See the cup in the window of Hall's store, George street, from May 2 to 7.

It is hardly necessary to remind the people of Peterborough of the civic worth of the Horticultural Society. The membership fee is only one dollar, and this hardly covers the cost of some of the options. The secretary is S. T. Harris at the Gas office of the Utilities Commission 139 Simcoe street. As the season has been delayed by unfavorable weather you should join up next week.

Because of the conditions existing this Spring a special appeal is made to all the old members for their assistance this year.

ONTARIO GRAIN

TORONTO, April 30. — Wheat, 52c to 54c; barley, 35c to 40c; oats, 27c to 30c; rye, 45c; buckwheat, 45c; corn, 44c to 46c.

WALPAMUR has made its mark as the most practical and economical flat wall and ceiling finish for inside and outside the home.

Everybody is interested in Walpamur on account of its economy, its permanency, its lovely color combinations and its ease of application with either tinting brush or spray gun. Two coats form a perfect and permanent decoration on old or new plaster, brick-work, concrete or stucco. On any kind of wallboard, one good coat will generally be found sufficient to give solid covering, no previous sizing coat being necessary.

After being allowed to harden for 3 to 4 weeks, it only requires washing to be kept thoroughly fresh and clean.

"I see by the PAPER," said Mr. Picobac

MR. PICOBAC had been reading the report of the tobacco crop, issued from Ottawa by the Bureau of Statistics.

"I see by the paper," said he, "that Canada produced over 48 million pounds of tobacco in 1931. And 18 million pounds of this crop, it says, was Burley. That's a good piece of news."

Mr. Picobac puffed in meditative silence for a few moments, for his pipe had burned low. "I don't want this pipe to run short of Picobac," continued he, presently. "Picobac, made from Canadian burley tobacco, is my idea of a mild . . . cool . . . sweet . . . smoke."

Picobac Tobacco is the selected, graded and expertly manufactured product of the Burley tobacco crop as produced in the county of Essex and neighboring counties on the Lake Erie front, the "tropic belt" of Canada. Try it. And don't forget, you get more tobacco for your money . . . Good for making cigarettes, too.

World Famous Churches

AS you travel down through the lake country of Ireland, you come upon Sligo. It lies 134 miles from Dublin, amidst a stretch of beautiful glades and valleys. Benbo, a small mountain, looks down upon it, at its summit a crystal lake which never has been exhausted. A meadow river runs from the place where, a mile away, is Lough Gill, one of the lakes of Killarney, famed in many a poem.

It is in this ancient spot that one comes upon the Church of St. John and the Dominican abbey which stands with it. The abbey, according to the records of the place, was erected in 1252; and the church antedates it. But the structure fell into ruins. Fifty years ago it was rebuilt and now, an edifice with distinct Romanesque influence in every line, it serves to house a congregation of the Church of Ireland. In its graveyards are tombs and graves, dating back to antiquity.

Interesting as is the church, it is the Abbey which possesses the greater amount of historical interest. Maurice Fitzgerald established his castle on this spot in the thirteenth century, and from this beginning came the Monastery of the Holy Cross. For two hundred years, church and abbey stood unmolested, despite the various warring factions and depredations of the lands. Then quite by accident it was destroyed in a fire. Brian MacDonough restored it in 1416, and it remained in all its glory until the reformation. Then it fell into disuse and gradually became what it is today.

It is of Norman foundation. There are eight narrow lancet windows. Part of the cloister still stands, of perhaps the most interesting of all, fifteenth century design. A low choir looks through a door to the receiving vaults and graveyard without. The ground has been raised by the dust of many buried there.

Of the interesting mounments within, most interesting is that of O'Connor Sligo. Life-sized figures of O'Connor and his wife kneel at the tomb. About them are cherubs, saints, skulls, swords, drums, an hourglass, and a coat-of-arms—a strange medley erected to their honor.

Sligo is famous in literature as the home of W. B. Yates, for it was there the poet spent his boyhood and wrote his earliest verses.

THE WELLS OF ISAAC

ISAAC was the son of Abraham. And it was because of Isaac that Abraham received his name. "Abram" means father; and when, in his old age, his faithful wife, Serai, bore him a son, Abram became "Abraham," meaning "father of a multitude," and Serai became "Sarah."

Isaac lacked the initiative of his father. His wife, Rebekah, was chosen for him by Abraham, and he was quite content to remain at the place where his elder died until Jehovah commanded him to pick up his tent and move. And so he did, to one place and another, until he finally came to the spot where the famous Wells of Isaac are to be traced to this very day.

Wells had been digged by Abram. Inimical herdsmen, who objected to the incursions into their favorite feeding grounds, had filled them with sticks and stones, dirt and refuse. Two new wells were dug by Isaac. For these the herdsmen contended. So he moved on and on; and when he dug a third well without opposition, he knew that his journey was ended, for he had removed himself far enough from civilization to have plenty of territory necessary for the support of himself and his followers.

Wells of safety. A sign of prosperity. This Isaac found, and to his satisfaction, settled down to establish an altar to Jehovah and a home for himself.

If we must seek the wells of Isaac, let us continue our endeavors until success crowns our efforts. Let us search on and on, until we find the best and the most welcome outcome, not only for ourselves, but for all of us as well.

QUESTIONS

1 Who was Isaac and when was he born?
2 Tell about the names of Isaac and his parents?
3 Who were the members of Isaac's family?
3 How did Isaac come to go to Gerar?
5 What occurred there?
6 Why did he leave the place?
7 Where did he go?
8 What did he find?
9 Tell about his wells?
10 Where did Isaac settle down at last?

ANSWERS

1 Isaac was the son of Abram and Serai. He was born 1903 B. C.
2 Jehovah promised the old couple that they should have a son. Because of their age, it seemed improbable and Serai laughed. Isaac's name came from this since it means "Laughing One." Abram, means "father", and the addition made it "father of the multitude" fortelling the Jewish race. Sarai's name was changed at the command of Jehovah.
3 Isaac's family consisted of Rebekah, his wife; and two sons, Jacob, and Esau. He remained with his family at Hebron, and then moved to Beer-lahai-roi. When his parents died, he continued to reside in this vicinity.
4 Famine struck the land, as it did in the days of Abraham, and Isaac took his household to Gerar, a Philistine city.
5 Isaac continued there for a time, and then decided to move into Egypt, where better pastures would be afforded. But Jehovah commanded him to remain in the country.
6 Abimelech, ruler of Gerar, became jealous of Isaac, because he thrived and prospered, his flocks increased, and his crops were bountiful. So he ordered Isaac to leave.
7 Where did he go?
8 He found that the wells which had been dug in the old day during the time of his father had been filled with rocks and sticks by the herdsmen of the plain.
9 Isaac set to work to dig new wells. The first, when it was completed, was battled for by the plain herdsmen, so he named it Esek. The second caused another battle, so he named it Sitnah. The third, which they dug unmolested, he named Rehoboth.
10 When Isaac completed the last well without opposition he knew that at last he had found the place he sought. So he settled at Beersheba and erected an altar to Jehovah.

But lift your eyes bravely yon mountain to scan,
And do something for someone as quick as you can.

A Chat with Young Peterboro

ON THE SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON FOR MAY 1ST.

I WONDER how Isaac would get on these days. He wasn't at all pushful and energetic like his father Abraham and his own son Jacob. Abraham was a strong-willed pioneer and Jacob was a go-getter if ever there was one. John said to me, "Isaac was a sort of sissy fellow. Why he even let someone else go and choose a wife for him." "True, but he didn't do so badly there," says I. "Well," said John, "look how he let the Philistines drive him from the wells he had dug; wells to which he had a perfect right! Did he stand up for himself? No, he didn't. Twice he settled in a new place, and just got nicely started with a good new well for his cattle when the other folks came and raised a rumpus. Each time he only said, 'All right, you can have it,' and moved off and started over again. And he didn't forget the trouble he had at each place either, for he called the first one 'Strife' and the second one 'Opposition.' But the third one he called 'Room Enough,' for it was the last time he was bothered that way."

I guess Isaac wouldn't be popular these days. We aren't a bit like him as a rule. We are mostly quick to take offence, and hit right back. If anybody owes us money we go to the courts with it. Of course, the lawyers get most of it in the end, but that doesn't make any difference. We wouldn't build any monuments to a chap like Isaac.

Yet, somehow, strange to say, Isaac got on. He prospered and became very rich, and at last the Lord gave him the same kind of wonderful promise that He gave to his father Abraham. I think I know why. The Book tells us that before Isaac started his own well-digging, he had begun by cleaning out the old wells of his father, the wells the Philistines had stopped up because they were jealous. In other words, Isaac started following and worshippin his father's God. That's the secret. We sing "Faith of Our Fathers," but we've got to make their faith our very own. Abraham was a great pioneer, but Isaac, too, was a great pioneer, a pioneer in the beautiful Path of Peace. Whoever before his time would have given up those good wells without a fight? We ought to admire Isaac because he had in those early times so much of the spirit of Christ, the Prince of Peace.

The Christ Of Common Folk

I LOVE the name of Christ the Lord, the Man of Galilee,
Because He came to live and toil among the likes of me.
Let others sing the praise of a mighty King of Kings;
I love the Christ of common folks, the Lord of common things.

The beggars and the feeble ones, the poor and sick and blind,
The wayward and the tempted ones, were those He loved to find;
He lived with them to help them, like a brother and a friend,
Or like some wandering workman finding things to mend.

I know my Lord is still my kind of folks to this good day:
I know because He never fails to hear me when I pray.
He loves the people that He finds in narrow, dingy streets,
And brings a word of comfort to the weary one He meets.

My job is just a poor man's job, my home is just a shack,
But on my humble residence He has never turned His back.
Let others sing their praises to a mighty King of Kings;
I love the Christ of common folks, the Lord of common things.
—George T. Liddell.

The New Year

A FLOWER unblown: a Book unread:
A Tree with fruit unharvested:
A Path untrod: A House whose rooms
Lack yet the heart's divine perfumes:
A Landscape whose wide border lies
In silent shade 'neath silent skies:
A wondrous Fountain yet unsealed:
A casket with its gifts concealed:
This is the year that for you waits
Beyond To-morrow's mystic gates.
—Horatio Nelson Power.

THE rain comes seeking the thin soles of our shoes.
A hurrying wind rushes against us
Slanting the rain roughly.
Layer upon layer of grayness
Smothers the straight path through the dripping willow trees
Where we seek shelter.
A white flower lying wetly upon the moss
Is crushed beneath the feet of a garden-boy
Leading the cranes home.

The Bright Hearts

THERE are souls in the world who have the gift of finding joy everywhere, and of leaving it behind them where they go It seems as if a shadow of God's own gift had passed into them They give light without meaning to shine.

These bright hearts have a great work to do for God.—Faber.

Training

IT is fairer to train the boy to do right than to restrain him from doing wrong; it is easier to cultivate good habits than to remove bad ones; it is cheaper to prevent crimes than to cure criminals; it is businesslike to form character instead of trying to reform it.—A. J Harms.

"I never knew you" means that Christ "knows" no man in whom he cannot recognize His own likeness.

At Eventide

A FEELING of rest steals over me
When the curtain of night drops softly down.
And the moon is a-sail like a ship at sea
And star sare shining like gems in a crown.

I sit by my window and think of the past,
Shed tears for wounds—and smile for pleasures;
Have I lived as if this day were my last?
Have I been too thankless for all my treasures?

I breathe a prayer to my Lord on high,
As my spirit grieves over things gone wrong,
Then I drink at the fountain that never runs dry
And my heart is filled with a glad new song.

My strength is renewed for the tasks of the morrow,
I will cheerfully do the things to be done,
I will put from me my face of sorrow
And trust the Everlasting One.
—Nannie Smith Thaxton.

To-Day

YESTERDAY is already a dream. To-morrow is only a vision. To-day well lived makes every yesterday a dream of happiness, every to-morrow a vision of hope. Look well, therefore, to this day.—From the Sanskrit.

SATURDAY, APRIL 30, 1932

THAT BERMUDA JAUNT.

Some criticism has been voiced in several newspapers and doubtless by the public generally over the fact that a delegation of senators and members of the House of Commons is visiting Bermuda to attend the Empire Parliamentary Association.

Somehow or other the impression had been created that the expenses of this Canadian delegation were being paid out of the public treasury, and there has been considerable biting comment over the impropriety of authorizing such an expenditure in the face of the present economic conditions.

And if the charge had been true the protests would not have been without a considerable amount of justification.

These are not the times for parliamentary joyrides.

However, the Canadian taxpayers need not worry about this particular jaunt.

The senators and commoners who are Bermuda-bound are not travelling at the expense of this country, Premier Bennett told the House the other day.

They are to be the guests of the Government of Bermuda, and all the expenses attendant upon their visit are to be paid by that Government.

That explanation will put an end to the criticism and clear the air, for most people care nothing about how many members of Parliament visit Bermuda so long as they are assured that the money involved is not coming out of the public treasury.

RELIEF MEASURES.

The Federal Government's plan for continuing relief measures has been outlined in a resolution laid down in the House which asks for authority to enter into agreements for relief with the Provinces and to pay out what sums it may be considered necessary.

Henceforth municipalities, which find the task of looking after their own unemployed too heavy to be borne single-handed, will have to look to the Provincial Government for assistance.

The federal administration will if necessary come to the help of the Province, and the required authority is being sought in a resolution now before Parliament.

The measure does not name any definite sum for relief purposes, and will be strongly objected to by the Opposition on the ground that it is another blank cheque bill, but public opinion is not likely to find much fault on that account, the difficulty of estimating how much money will be required being generally recognized, while most people will be unable to see much difference between a blank cheque and the naming of a huge sum arrived at purely by guess work.

The main thing is that some form of relief assistance must be continued, and under the circumstances the public are not inclined to worry about constitutional technicalities.

NO PAY FOR COMMITTEE MEETINGS.

Municipal councils throughout Ontario whose members have hitherto received fees for attendance at committee meetings are at a loss to know whether the new section passed at the last session of the Legislature was passed with the deliberate intention of stopping these payments or whether the omission of the power to pay salaries for committee meeting attendance was due to an oversight.

At all events the payments have been stopped, and the legislation is retroactive to March 29, the date on which the act was given royal assent.

From now on members will be paid only for attendance at regular meetings of the council.

The old section of the Municipal Act which permitted payment for committee meeting attendance read as follows:

"By-laws may be passed by councils of cities having a population of less than 100,000 for paying the members of the council for their attendance at meetings of the council, or of its committees, at a rate not exceeding $5 a day."

This was repeated and the following substituted:

"The council of a municipality may pass by-laws for paying the members of the council for their attendance at meetings, at the following rates:

"A city having a population of less than 100,000, a town and a township having a population of less than 10,000, at a rate not exceeding $5 a day for attendance at meetings of the council, and in the case of such township, 10 cents for each mile necessarily travelled in going to such meetings."

By eliminating the words "or of its committees" following "meetings of the council," the commissioners were automatically deprived of their fees.

THE COST OF OLD AGE PENSIONS.

It has been intimated by Hon. W. G. Martin, Minister of Public Welfare, that the Ontario Government is considering the question of paying twenty-five per cent. of the cost of old age pensions, the other three-quarters to be assumed by the Federal Government.

In other words, should this plan be decided upon the municipalities of Ontario would be relieved of all expenses in connection with old age pensions, a measure of relief that would undoubtedly be welcomed by many hard-pressed municipal governments.

Under the original plan the Federal Government paid 50 per cent. of the cost and the Provincial Government was responsible for the other 50 per cent. In Ontario and several other Provinces part of the Province's share was loaded on to the municipalities.

Now, however, with the Dominion Government providing 75 per cent. of the expenses of old age pensions there does not seem to be any reason why the Province should call upon the municipalities to share up the remaining 25 per cent.

Apparently the Queen's Park administration is beginning to realize that fact and is apparently about ready to announce that henceforth no portion of the cost of old age pensions will be levied on the municipalities.

At first The Examiner was of the opinion that if by the payment of part of the cost municipal councils had some control over the administration of pensions the expenditure might be worth while, but the system has not in all cases worked out as was expected, and the municipalities will be glad to be relieved of the responsibility as well as the cost of the system.

A REFERENDUM.

Washington announces that a member of the Hoover Cabinet has worked up a plan for taking a national non-party referendum on the proposed repeal of prohibition and that the idea, a little later, may become the official plan of the Administration.

There is undoubtedly a widespread demand in the United States for a change in the present laws governing liquor. On the other hand, many Americans are still satisfied with the prohibition law and believe that it should be retained. A referendum, submitted in a non-partisan way, should be a reliable barometer of sentiment and satisfactory to both "wets" and "drys."

It offers one great difficulty, of course, and that is the ever present possibility of a close vote. It is now generally appreciated that a law that interferes so drastically with the traditional habits of the people must have an overwhelming public sentiment behind it in order to be capable of strict enforcement. For the United States to remain officially "dry" or to go "wet" by a slight majority would not improve the situation.

Years ago there used to be a great deal of criticism of the late Sir James Whitney because he insisted on retaining the three-fifths cause in connection with municipal voting on the local option plan in Ontario. Experience shows that Sir James was entirely right. Under the three-fifths plan a municipality that wanted to go "dry" had to produce at least 60 per cent. of the votes cast, in favor of the change. In the same way, the "wet" leaders had to induce 60 per cent. or more of the voters to support their idea in order to bring the license system back in a municipality. This mean, of course, that public opinion, in either case, was solidly behind the law and keenly interested in seeing it enforced. And only when public opinion is this way can such a law be really enforced.

We would think, therefore, that if a referendum on prohibition is taken in the States, some consideration should be given to the question of providing a two-thirds majority. Then, too, should a national verdict be binding on individual states or should each state vote separately, thus determining its own course? Governor Roosevelt, likely Democratic candidate for the presidency, favors State control. The latter is much more feasible than the present arrangement.—Border Cities Star.

PORT CHURCHILL'S FUTURE.

In the House of Commons the other day the Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals, made rather a disturbing statement regarding the prospects for the shipment of grain out of Churchill by the Hudson Bay route. It appears that Canadian grain trade has evidenced slight interest in the facilities provided at the port, and which cost the Dominion $50,000,000. Canadians will learn with surprise that it was only after great difficulty that sufficient grain was secured for two trial shipments to Britain last fall. At the present time there are no bookings for the shipment of grain. The trouble is not from lack of vessels, as there are plenty available if the grain were forthcoming. The real drawback appears to be that the insurance rates on the cargoes are abnormally high, being about five times the ordinary rate.

This high rate is hardly justifiable in view of the aids to navigation provided on this route, and the Government has made strong representations to the underwriters to bring about reductions. It will be remembered that at the beginning of the present century the same discrimination was made against the St. Lawrence route, thereby lessening traffic of all kinds from Montreal and Quebec to Europe. The Government of the day took hold of the situation in a very energetic manner and, by dredging the channels, blasting out rock and establishing the latest and most scientific aids to navigation, rendered the route as safe as that of any other. It would be highly regrettable if Port Churchill were to remain idle after an expenditure of $50,000,000 for the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway and the terminal facilities and elevators. Of course the present season of depression is hardly a fair test, as the shipment of grain can be easily handled by other channels. The real test will come after a heavy crop, when it is desirable to reach the markets of the world in the shortest possible time.—Brantford Expositor.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

A lion ran amuck in a Boston radio station the other night. We always knew those crooners were bound to start something.

Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen's indictment of Senators McDougald and Haydon must have made those members and some of their colleagues wish that the former Premier had been left in political seclusion.

Ex-King Alfonso of Spain is said to be contemplating a visit to Canada. Service clubs looking for speakers please note.

The House of Commons is about ready to bring the session to a close, and there will not be a word of protest from the people, most of whom are already tired of continual bickering and the manoeuvring for party advantage.

Members of Parliament might do well to adopt the slogan, "See Canada First." And some of them should make a start by touring the Trent Waterway from the Bay of Quinte to Georgian Bay.

News of Our Own Village

Several horseless carriage drivers have been in front of the village cadi this week for careless habits. There's room for more, say we.

They aint no truth in the rumor that the fooprints noted on Main St. this week was made by the feet of 1 of the village constabulary.

Disarmament Not the Basic Consideration at Geneva

By H. W. L. MaHOOD

Armaments are only a symptom. Armaments are not the great cause of war. To limit armaments would logically lead to peace. Rather peace makes easily solved the problem of disarmament.

Two things have been the cause of war. One has been the greed for natural resources. The other, greed for the basic necessities of life. Until a reasonable and just plan has been found for the prorating of these basis necessities the threat of war will remain. Only in a world conference in which every nation is ably and sincerely represented, and in the spirit of generous consideration, can these causes of conflict be removed. Such a conference will be different from a Disarmament Conference. It will be a Conference For Co-operation. It will include all the nations of the world. The nations will have equal representation. The strong will not dominate the weak. Such a conference is the need of this hour.

In such a movement the League of Nations, and the World Court could furnish the machinery to function in such a task. Instead of the League of Nations functioning chiefly to prevent the outbreak of war it would have a much more effective function of clearing away the basic causes of conflict. The issues which now block progress at Geneva would not be considered of sufficient importance as to have a place on the program of such a gathering. France would not be insisting on an international police force for security. Other nations would not be making their own interests first.

Such a Co-operation Conference would deal with the problem of tariffs. What are the nations doing, the nations, with delegations at Geneva You answer, "Building tariff walls. Practically, all the nations are busy building tariff walls. Such a procedure will bring all trade to a stand still. The moment an effort succeeds in cutting down imports it will be as successful in cutting down exports. Then what will be the condition of the markets of the world. Worse than now. Every one of the great nations is now experiencing the difficulty of meeting old obligations, at present prices, and have been forced to make drastic curtailment of purchases abroad. Where there is an unwillingness to buy there will be an inability to sell. As this is written an economic war is raging; and it is world wide in its reach. War always halts enterprise. Business confidence is shattered. Personal security takes the place of business enterprise. Two things the man with means will not do in such times—he will neither buy nor lend. He will hoard. And this is just what capital advantaged men are doing in both Canada and the United States. This is what they will continue to do as long as the economic war rages. If building tariff walls continues prices will go lower than they are now. Money will become tighter. Public works will be on a smaller scale. Times will be harder.

Tension can not be long continued without disaster. Who can read the newspaper editorials of France, or Germany, or The United States, or Great Britain and not sense the severity of that tension. This tension is accentuated by internal dissensions. At this hour the great nations are each one of them paralyzed by internal dissensions. The very existence of the German Republic is in doubt. Do not think that the attitude of De Valera is a matter of small significance. Britain has a great task before her in continuing her beneficent upbuilding of belated peoples in many parts of her vast empire.

She is eager to make sacrifices in any movement that holds promise of good for the whole world. She will welcome a formula that will remove the causes of conflict, and make for world peace. Her new policy of tariffs is only a temporary expedient. It will not become her fixed policy. Her trade is so extensive that when her policy reverts to free trade once more other nations will follow her policy, and her lead.

Events are bringing home to the leaders of nations that there must be an expansion of credit resting on a restored confidence. Such confidence must rest upon an economic and political truce. With such a compact of the nations a new day will dawn. No more will it be necessary to hold Disarmament Conferences.

Just Hamlet

It seems that Douglas Fairbanks Jr., whose sense of humor is admirably developed, burst in on a conference of story writers and plot contrivers at the First National Studios with the demand that they listen to a plot that he had just thought up. He outlined it in detail, without dates, however, and, one and all, the assembled craftsmen dismissed it, saying that it was too episodic and, in short, no good. Douglas departed with a grin, but turned as he went out the door to say: "Well, someone thought it was good. The story I've just told you, gentlemen, is the plot of 'Hamlet.'—Boston Herald.

SON OF THE GODS

By REX BEACH

INSTALMENT NO. 6

Alice chattered ceaselessly on the way uptown, failing utterly to notice Sam Lee's silence. Over and over, in a hundred ways she voiced her exultation, blessed Lee Ying as a benevolent saint and his son as her good angel. Such rapture, such animation as hers would have transfigured the plainest girl, it worked a miracle with her.

"My father's wisdom is as great as his benevolence," the young man said finally. "I bow to his judgment in all things. But he can be cruel and implacable. Tonight he pierced me with a spear."

"Why, Sam! You said you wanted him to help me!" Alice observed for the first time the fixed, white look upon her companion's face, and she changed her tone. "It's going to be hard to say good-bye—we've had such good times together. You're a darling, Sam, and I'll miss you terribly."

"Alice!" It was the first time he had ever addressed her as anything but "Miss Hart," and she was startled. An odd flatness in his voice challenged her attention as he went on, "You must realize how much I care for you."

Good Lord! It was coming. He was going to spoil everything, thought the girl.

"You'll be sailing at once. Will you marry me before you go?"

Alice recoiled. She uttered an exclamation and jerked her hand from his sleeve. Marry—! She had never dreamed he'd ask that. The other was bad enough. Marry—a Chinaman! The fellow was insane.

The moment that followed was an eternity to both of them.

Sam turned his head, he waited; Alice's thoughts were racing, she glimpsed consequences that appalled her. In a panic she gasped:

"Oh, not that! I couldn't. You shouldn't ask me—" She bit down on her tongue, in spite of herself a shudder of physical repulsion ran over her.

"I'm sorry," Sam said quietly. "I hoped you cared for me."

"I do. You've been wonderful—I'd do anything in the world for you." Alice was thinking dizzily, sickly, what luck for this to happen! Tonight of all times. Just when everything was arranged. This would wreck her plans. Oh, it was cruel! But she musn't let him, she wouldn't let him, spoil it all. "Don't let's talk about it now," she said, trying to smile ingratiatingly. Her lips felt stiff and she feared her smile was a painful grimance. "Not tonight, anyhow? Sometimes, perhaps—"

"Let's settle it now."

The girl swallowed hard, fright seized and shook her. "You're the dearest thing in the world and I owe you everything. I'm crazy about you, honestly! I guess I've proved that—going out with you at all hours and—and meeting you in your apartment and everything. But I can't give up my career, now can I?"

"That's the farthest thing from my thoughts."

"It isn't fair to—ask me. You know how I feel, how much I like you, without my telling you."

"I'm beginning to understand, for the first time."

"Now, Sam!" The speaker pouted, her tone reproached him. "We've gone along in such perfect understanding. Let's go on being just—"

"You've indicated in a good many ways that I could go further than I've presumed to go."

"You've no right to say that," Alice cried. "I think you're beastly."

There was a silence through which Sam drove with eyes fixed; upon his face was the intense blankness that hides emotion. Finally he nodded and said:

"I understand. In my person I'm not altogether unpleasing, nor very different from other fellows. As a lover, therefore, I'd be acceptable, if nobody knew. But marriage to a Chinese; that's another matter!"

"Now you're insulting."

In an explosion of wrath as sudden as it was unexpected he exclaimed: "It's you who insult me!—Women are monkeys! You've insulted me not once, but a thousand times and I stood for it. Your caution! Your secrecy!—'Nobody must know!' 'What will people say?' The crowning insult was your surprise when I asked you to be my wife, and not my mistress. Let's be honest, for a change. I'll be frank with you, please be the same with me."

"All right!" stormed the girl. "I'll pay any price to go to Paris, if you must know, but I wouldn't marry you if you were the last man on earth. Live in Chinatown! Among those people! Oh, my God! I'd cut my throat first. Now what have you got to say?"

"Only this; there may be Chinamen who would have you, but I wouldn't."

Alice was shaking, her breast was heaving tumultuously, abruptly she bent forward, covered her face with her hands and began to sob convulsively. "I—suppose this—ends everything," she gasped. "I could—kill myself."

"It ends nothing except a fantastic misconception on your part. Don't concern yourself in the least about your—'career.'" Sam pronounced the word bitingly. "My father has promised. I'm a yellow man but not 'yellow' enough to interfere. For that matter he wouldn't listen to me if I did. I've fallen pretty low but not low enough for that."

"I don't see that—caring for me—Is that something to be—ashamed of?" Alice wondered if Sam could be sincere. It was incredible, but his next words, contemptuous as they were, somewhat reassured her. "Centuries before your country was discovered we Chinese had discovered the truth about women. But what can be made of a man who will not profit by the wisdom of his elders?"

Another silence came between them which lasted until the car stopped at Alice's hotel. She had done some thinking meanwhile; timidly she said: "Don't let's quarrel. I didn't mean all I said."

He left her in her room after a few moments of vain conversation.

The next two days were an eternity for Alice Hart. She suffered tortures. Sam did not communicate with her in any way, neither did I see Ying, and as the hours crept along she called herself a fool for making an enemy of the son. She had been a bigger fool to believe his protestations of magnanimity. No man could be as generous as that; not after the hurt she had dealt him. Why had she flared up? She could have managed somehow to avoid committing herself—any girl playing for stakes like hers could have managed to temporize. Promises are made to break. But she had no experience. And the thought of marriage was so shocking. It had come so unexpectedly. Oh, he was furious! The way he had said "you'll go to Paris" should have told her he was beside himself. Funny how a common Chinaman could, with a curl of his lips, and a disdainful look, make her feel like a whining mendicant. And that's practically what she was—Yellow men are vengeful, Sam, of course, had told his father that she scorned him—Fool! Idiot, that she was!

Lee Ying had promised, to be sure, and high-class Chinese are reputed to observe a scrupulous code of honor but—This uncertainty was maddening. How different her situation now to a few days ago. Life was still going on around her but she had no place in it and she feared to leave her room lest a message should arrive. Nevertheless she couldn't sit here like this forever. Not with a hotel bill running up. She hadn't the remotest idea what the rate was, but it must be appalling. If she didn't hear from Lee Ying, who would pay that bill? How much longer would she be permitted to stay? Yes, and who would pay for these clothes? Here was a thought to bring consternation. She could be arrested—

That was it! What a simple and satisfying revenge from Sam's standpoint. Every hour she stayed here she fell deeper into his power. He'd force her to meet his demands, humiliate her, make her eat dirt. The miserable cur! What craft, what ruthless cruelty. And if she refused—Arrest! A trial! Disgrace! It would come out that she had been the associate of a Chinaman! People in Bartonville would hear of it.

In a panic she considered calling him up, making friends with him, but she was too frightened to finesse in the slightest. And telephone calls cost ten cents. They'd be put on her bill. Food, too, and "room service," cost money. Thank Heaven she had no appetite—She supposed a real adventuress in her place would order extravagantly, keep the bell boys hopping, cash a worthless check. But that took courage—All the same she was slowly going crazy. Every voice, every sound in the hall made her start, the rattle of a key in a lock caused her to cower. Once her telephone rang and she stifled a scream. She nearly fainted before she reached the instrument, then to hear a casual voice drawl, "Wrong number. Excuse it, please."

The bell rang again, late on the second afternoon. A man—Alice was too agitated to heed his name—was calling. He was from Carter and Pelz, attorneys. Should he come up or would Miss Hart come down? She stammered, "Yes."

Attorneys! Was this the beginning of the end? His voice had been cold, formal, forbidding. The girl's mouth was dry, her knees shook as she blindly left her room.

Faintly she made inquiry at the desk, then started as a man stepped up to her side. He did not lay a hand on her shoulder, as she half expected; instead he proferred her a fat envelope and explained that it contained her steamship ticket and letter of credit. On the next morning, if agreeable, the speaker would call for her and together they would attend to the formality of securing her passport.

When Alice got back into her room she broke down and cried for an hour.

FARMERS' MARKET.

A marvellous remedy that is supposed to be a universal medicamentum was demonstrated on the market this morning by a very healthy looking gentleman, assisted by a Negro.

There were many customers on the market this morning, in spite of the rain. Produce was very plentiful, especially in the basket section.

Hens were priced at 20 cents a pound and chickens at 22 cents. One woman was selling fall chickens at 15 cents a pound.

Butter was 20c and 22c a pound and eggs were 13c to 15c a dozen.

Potatoes were 40 cents a bag and maple syrup 50 cents a quart and $1.75 a gallon.

Little three-day old chicks were 12 cents apiece.

Little cuttings and slips of plants were 10 and 15 cents each, with bleeding hearts at 35 cents a clump. The display included spirea, Shasta daisies, pyretheum, poppies, dahlias and iris, with a new plant called penstemons, described as having clusters of little bell-like flowers on a long stem.

Golden Bantam corn for planting was 30 cents a quart. Onions were 30 cents a peck, apples were priced from 25 to 50 cents a peck, and little pigs were $2 apiece.

The fish vendor had trout at 23 cents a pound, pike at 12 cents, herrings at 15 cents and mudcat at 10 cents.

A gentleman in the lower entry sold "Cake-Mix" in paper boxes, intoning "We don't say one thing and mean another, we're here today and at church tomorrow." Behind him, a tiny black Pom poked a black-eyed head out of a basket and viewed the world. He was priced at $3.

WALL STREET ENDS TRADING FOR APRIL WITH LEVEL TONE

Industrials and Utilities Hold Firm During To-day's Short Session.

RAILS ARE HEAVY.

NEW YORK, April 30.—(CP)—The stock market ended April, another month of declining prices, with a levelling off tendency today. The list showed signs of sinking further into new low territory during the first hour, then recovered and fluctuated narrowly in the late trading, closing with numerous gains to a point or so.

The turnover for the two-hour sessions was under 500,000 shares, but the closing tone was steady.

Some of the rails were heavy, but industrials and utilities were mainly firm. Among issues rising about a point were Bethlehem Steel, Borden, Allied Chemical, Lews, and Coca Cola, while fractional advances appeared in U.S. Steel, American Can, General Motors, National Biscuit, North American and others. American Telephone was barely changed.

Railroad securities were somewhat unsettled by the order of the Interstate Commerce Commission requiring the Frisco Railroad to effect a reduction in fixed charges before approving a reconstruction loan. This was interpreted as forcing a voluntary reorganization of the company, with a receivership as the alternative.

Most of the rail stocks held about steady, but Santa Fe slid back a couple of points, and Union Pacific, New York Central, and Pennsylvania from fractions to a point.

HOLLINGER UP FAIR DEMAND

Close Changes Show Majority of Small Recessions on Standard Exchange.

NORANDA AT NEW LOW.

TORONTO, April 30.—(CP)—Price action was mixed and, confined on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange market in today's short session, with closing changes again showing a majority of small recessions.

Hollinger recovered 9 to $4.75 in fair demand, Lake Shore was holding at $26 but Teck-Hughes slipped 5 to $3.60 and Wright-Hargreaves 4 to $2.26. Among the cheaper issues Buffalo and McLeod River firmed a little but Siscoe and Macassa were down a couple each and Sylvanite and Bidgood lost a fraction to a cent.

Noranda established a new low of $14.50 and was off 15 at $14.60 on end. International Nickel firmed a few cents to $8.10 and Eldorado recovered a couple to $1.12. Peninsular Pete, up a fraction, showed the only change in the oil section.

Today was the last day for trading of Imperial and other higher-priced oil stocks which are being delisted under an agreement with the Toronto Stock Exchange which in turn delists all mining stocks with the exception of International Nickel and Consolidated Smelters.

NICKEL MAKES LIGHT ADVANCE

Price Changes Mixed and of Narrow Range on Toronto Market.

TRADING DRAGGY.

TORONTO, April 30. — (CP)—Price changes were mixed, of narrow range, on Toronto Stock Exchange this morning. The volume was light, trading dragging throughout the entire two hour session.

Photo Engravers dropped between 2 and 3 points to a new low of 12 and C.P.R., Ford of Canada, National Steel Car, Noranda recorded small recessions.

Bell Telephone, Montreal Power, Gypsum, Nickel and Imperial Oil made fractional gains. Smelters rose 1¾ points to 39½. Apart from Imperial Oil, leading oils were uncharged. Brazilian Traction, Service Stations and Walkers common and preferred also closed unchanged.

Trapping Case Will Be Heard On May 10

LINDSAY, Ont., April 30 (Special to Examiner).—Lawyers are preparing for an unusual test case that will come before Magistrate G. A. Jordan on May 10th, it was announced to-day, when it will be finally decided whether or not the Mississaga Indians of this district have the right, under an old treaty governing certain Indian tribes in this district, to trap on any drowned land in Victoria and Peterborough Counties. It is not known if the old treaty rights have any legal standing now. Signs prohibiting trapping had been posted on the land on which two Indians were caught trapping, and the disposition of this case will decide the rights of the Indians.

Greece plans to construct 2,100 miles of new highways.

New Stamp

La Societe Saint-Jean-Baptiste of Montreal, the leading French Canadian national association, is sponsoring the printing of a postage stamp to commemorate the hundredth anniversary of the granting of a charter to the "Corporation of Montreal" (June 12, 1932). The above drawing has been submitted to the Postmaster General. The picture is that of Jacques Viger, the first mayor of Montreal, a reputed journalist and archivist—(his latest successor, Hon. F. Rinfret, elected a few weeks ago, is a journalist). The T. in its cross-form recalls the cross erected on the Mont-Royal by M. de Maisonneuve, the founder of Montreal (1642)—on the same site a large cross electrically lighted every night, has been erected by Le Societe Saint-Jean-Baptiste, some years ago, as a perpetual remembrance of Maisonneuve's pious gesture. The M. as the appearance of the Virgin Mary's monogram reminding that the city's first name was Ville-Marie. The flowery symbol honors the four principal ethnical groups who built the Metropolis: The Fleur de Lis, the Frenchmen; the Rose, the Englishmen; the Thistle, the Scotchmen, and the Shamrock, the Irishmen.

Grain Reviews

CHICAGO, April 30.—May unofficial crop estimates to be issued next Tuesday are now regarded as certain to show huge abandonment of domestic winter wheat acreage.

Forecasts current to-day indicated that the estimated losses would range from 6,000,000 to 7,500,000 acres. This would mean that 15 to 20 per cent. of the United States winter wheat has already been plowed ducks and drakes with, to say nothing of vicissitudes to be encountered the remainder of the season.

Despite this outlook, however, the wheat market this morning was sensitive to recent bearish factors, was 2-2¾ cents a bushel lower, compared to a week ago, with corn 2¼-2¾ down, oats 1-1¼ off, and provisions showing 15 to 40 cents decline.

AT WINNIPEG.

WINNIPEG, April 30.—(CP).—Two weeks of almost continual precipitation may be good news for farmers in the United States winter wheat territory and the wheat lands of Western Canada but have proved disastrous for wheat values.

Wheat prices, declining quietly but steadily on Winnipeg's grain market this week, added more than 2½ cents to the 1½ cent loss of last week. Though absence of export aided in the decline, the improved moisture conditions were the major factor.

The sudden influx of buyers of Canadian wheat for export Friday caused a rally from the sharpest break of the week. More than one cent down at one time, values recovered to close unchanged.

May delivery eased 2¾ cents at 59¾, its close Friday, and July 2½-2⅝ at 61⅞-62 cents. October was 2⅜ off at 64-⅝-½.

May Future Selling.

Holders of the May option were quietly selling this future and purchasing July throughout the week. Selling pressure, however, was not extremely heavy until yesterday's session, which was the liveliest of the week.

BRITISH SKIMP FILM BUDGETS

WAS WITH GAUMONT

HOLLYWOOD, April 30.—British and other foreign made pictures will never seriously jeopardize the American product. This news, naturally cheering to Hollywood, was brought this week by Millard Debb, director of "Gentlemen of the Press," "The Sea Beast," and a dozen or so other films, after a year of direction with British-Gaumont at their Shepherd's Bush studios.

According to Mr. Webb, British conservation reaches its peak in the English studios. Cost of production is limited to from $50,000 to $60,000 for their best pictures, almost a Poverty Row figure in Hollywood. From this producers expect a 6 per cent return on their money and are satisfied with such a profit. They realize that their films cannot compete in the world market, and they are content with the British Empire.

"The English producers don't go after stories by their great authors," Mr. Webb said. "They take old or inexpensive stories and do what they can with them. They miss timely subjects completely. Even if they make a topical film, under their producers' agreement, they wait six months before they release it.

"They don't make any great bid for American stars for two reasons; they can't afford Hollywood prices, and they are influenced by tradition. When they made 'Escape' they cast Sir Gerald du Maurier as the 25-year-old lead. Sir Gerald is in his late fifties.

"But they knew that England would accept him in the part because he had always played such parts and, though he looked his age, tradition justified it."

According to Mr. Webb, many of the English studios are poorly equipped. Gaumont gave him everything he asked for, however, except a yielding to tradition. The Shepherd's Bush studios are the best equipped in Europe, he said.

Emil Jannings would return to Hollywood at the crook of a finger, Mr. Webb reports. The Ufa plant, where Jannings works with Erich Pommer is a mausoleum of past grandeur. Little activity was noted in France by the American and the studios on the Riveria where Rex Ingram made pictures are empty. The Russian product, while stimulating technically, is so full of propaganda that it can never be of world-wide interest.

"We do many insane things in Hollywood, but after a year abroad I find it a pleasant insanity," Mr. Webb concluded. "In spite of the restrictions producers place on us here, we have a free reign on new ideas. And the rest of the world seems not only to accept our pictures, but to like them."

NEW STARS ASK HIGHER SALARY

CAGNEY WANTS $3,000

HOLLYWOOD, April 30.—Three of the newly known in pictures, James Cagney, Joan Blondell and Marian Marsh, are sulking at Warners in a salary rebellion. If they hold out it can possibly finish them for major filming under the intra-studio agreement on talent now in effect.

Warners is ready to drop Cagney rather than pay more than his present $1,400. Actor wants $3,000 instead of the $2,000 due in three months under his contract. Result is that Cagney will be out of "Blessed Event" with the studio replacing him with Jack Oakie on loan from Par.

Miss Blondell has been turned down on a raise from $800 to $1,500, and Miss Marsh may be dropped for an inflation attempt on her $400 paycheck.

SCREEN AND STAGE NOTES

Hoot Gibson will hold his annual rodeo May 1.

Edna May Oliver and Robert Armstrong will be bracketed in Radio's "Penguin Pool Murder."

Jean Harlow has a contract for the title part in Metro's "Red-Headed Woman."

"Shanghai Express" (Par) is a smash in Berlin, with box office records expected.

David Manners will play the title role in "Crooner" for Warners. With him are Ken Murray, Evalyn Knapp, Eddie Nugent, William Janney and Frank McHugh.

Mae Marsh will play her first role since her return to the screen in "Over the Hill" when she appeared in "Rebecca of Sunnybrook Farm."

George Arliss sailed recently with Mrs. Arliss for England. He has completed "A Successful Calamity" at the Warner Brothers' studios and the picture will be released during the summer. Mary Astor has the feminine lead. Mr. Arliss plans to return to work around the end of September.

In addition to "Red-Headed Woman," M-G-M has an active Summer schedule planned. It embraces "Promiscuous" for Joan Crawford; an untitled yarn for Wallace Beery; "China Seas," a story of Oriental pirates; an unnamed story for Marion Davies; "Downstairs," by and with John Gilbert; Buster Keaton's next, "Speak Easily," from the Clarence Budington Kelland yarn, "Footlights."

"State's Attorney," the picture which John Barrymore has been making for RKO, was completed at the studios last week. It will be presented at the Mayfair, New York, Thursday evening, May 5. The cast which surrounds Mr. Barrymore in "State's Attorney" includes Helen Twelvetrees, Jill Edmond, William Boyd, Mary Duncan, Oscar Apfel and Ralph Ince.

Ann Harding finished her last picture, "Westward Passage," this week and prepared for her next, "Just a Woman"; "Bird of Paradise" with Dolores Del Rio is practically completed; "Hold 'Em Jail," the last Wheler and Woolsey comedy for RKO, is in production; "Is My Face Red?" is shooting, as is the Constance Bennett film, "The Truth About Hollywood," and progress is being made in Richard Dix's newest, "The Roar of the Dragon."

The momentous news from Joe E. Brown this week is that the comedian will be a life saver instead of a six-day-bike racer in his next film. The title, however, remains unchanged—"You Said a Mouthful." The high spot of the comedy will be Mr. Brown's entry into the twenty-eight mile marathon swim from Catalina Island to the California coast. Among the supporting cast will be Minnie, Hollywood's best-known trained seal.

Paramount has fallen into the vogue for mature stars such as Wallace Beery and Marie Dressler, and is launching a constructive campaign to feature Alison Skipworth. Her first starring pictures is "The Sporting Widow," retitled from "The Countess of Auburn," by Malcolm Stuart Boylan and Harvey Harris Gates. It is based to some extent on the life of a woman who has been much in the news in the last dozen years in getting out of prison and then getting right back in. George Barbier will play opposite Miss Skipworth.

Now that he has completed "Two Seconds," Edward G. Robinson will spend the next few weeks making "Tiger Shark," formerly known as "Tuna," which Howard Hawks wrote and which he will also direct. It is a story of the ins and outs of the fishing industry along the coast of California and Mexico. Mr. Robinson will be sailing a small fishing boat in Pacific waters most of the time the film is in production which should be a satisfying change from guns and prison stripes. "Silver Dollar," a story of pioneer Colorado, which was recently purchased for Mr. Robinson's use, will be postponed until after the production of "Tiger Shark."

Universal has collected an interesting cast for its production of "The Old Dark House." Charles Laughton, the English actor who gave theatregoers the shudders in "Payment Deferred" last Fall, has one of the leads. He was brought over by Paramount and loaned to Universal for this one film, his first picture in America. Gloria Stuart, the ingenue whose entrance into the films caused so much controversy that the Hays office had to step in and adjudicate it, will have her first opportunity in "The Old Dark House." Raymond Massey, who came over from England to play "Hamlet" and found his way into pictures, has replaced Walter Byron in the cast. He will likewise be acting his first role in an American film. In addition there are Boris Karloff, Melvyn Douglas and Lillian Bond. James Whale is directing the production.

CANADIAN AIRWAYS LIMITED REPORTS $263,830 FOR 1931

According to Statement Issued to Shareholders at Annual Meeting Friday.

REDUCED TRANSPORTATION

MONTREAL, April 30.—(By the Canadian Press)— Canadian Airways, Ltd., reported a net loss for the year 1931 of $263,830, after providing for depreciation charges of $463,824, and without restoring to the profit and loss account unused insurance reserve of $72,066, according to the statement presented to the annual meeting of shareholders here yesterday.

The restoration of the unused reserve would have resulted in revision of the year's net loss to $191,763.

The total mileage was reduced from 1,786,608 in 1930 to 1,646,639 in 1931, a loss of 139,969 miles or 7.8 per cent, whereas a total operating revenue from all sources declined from $1,817,543 to $1,412,797, a loss of $404,746 or 22.3 per cent. James Richardson, president, stated in his remarks to the shareholders, on behalf of the Board.

Mr. Richardson pointed out that the reducing revenues were noted in both mail division and survey-transport division, throughout the system.

The company carried 459,459 pounds of mail in 1931, compared with 333,913 pounds in 1930, an increase of 125,546 pounds, or 37.6 per cent.

The working capital position at the close of the year was $1,026,707, as compared with $881,112 at the end of the previous fiscal year. The ratio of current assets to current liabilities was 14½ to 1, as compared with 9½ to 1 at Dec. 31, 1930.

Morris Wilson, on Montreal, vice-president and managing director of the Royal Bank of Canada, and Senator W. H. Dennis, of Halifax, owner of the Halifax Herald, were elected to the directorate.

ALL ARE GUILTY MANSLAUGHTER

tette received the findings of the jury. Lieut. Massie, who admitted killing the native after Kahahawai allegedly had admitted taking part in an attack on Mrs. Massie, stood with set, white lips as his fate was read by the court clerk.

In the jury's finding, the insanity defence set up in behalf of Lieut. Massie was disregarded. This and the unwritten law had been pleaded by Clarence Darrow, aged leader of the defence.

Darrow, who came out of retirement to defend the four, said of the verdict:

"I am very much disappointed."

The four defendants were charged with second degree murder, which calls for a sentence of 10 years to life imprisonment. Judge Charles S. Davis had instructed the jury it could find the quartette guilty as charged, guilty of manslaughter, or not guilty. He added a possible finding of not guilty by reason of insanity for Massie.

Notice of Appeal Given

Notice of appeal was given by George S. Leisure, defence attorney. In the course of procedure, the case would go to the United States Circuit Court of Appeals in California.

The jury's findings left a variety of possibilities in the way of sentences. The maximum penalty for manslaughter is 10 years. The lightest sentence possible would be a suspended sentence for that length of time, which is within the power of Judge Davis.

But the court also has authority to fix the punishment anywhere between these extremes.

In addition, Gov. Judd has the power to pardon any or all of them.

Judge Davis fixed next Friday as the date for pronouncing sentence, and the four were put in custody of Capt. Ward Wortman, U.S.N., and taken to Pearl Harbor for the night.

Public reaction to the verdict varied. Generally it was a surprise because rumors had been circulated the jury probably would convict Lieut. Massie only. Few expected the conviction of Mrs. Fortescue.

William B. Pittman, counsel for Horace Ida, one of the four remaining men accused of attacking Mrs. Massie, asked a police guard for the Ida home.

Pittman also represented Kahahawai in the first attack trial, which ended in a jury disagreement.

CAMPBELLFORD MAN GIVEN 18 MONTHS

Wilbert Earl Rogers Sentenced to Reformatory on Serious Offence Charge.

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, April 30. — "This is a very serious offense and one that warrants a long term" said Magistrate G. A. Payne in Police Court yesterday afternoon when he sentenced Wilbert Earl Rogers to 18 months in Guelph reformatory on a serious offense against his sister, a minor. The charge was laid under Section 204 of the Criminal Code by Chief G. C. Bromley on April 14.

Rogers is a 21-year-old farm hand, resident in Campbellford, and when charged pleaded guilty to the offences which it is stated he committed in 1929-1930. He gave a statement to the police. Arrested on April 25, Rogers was taken to Cobourg until the trial yesterday and was brought into court under the escort of Provincial Constable R. McBrian.

Crown Attorney Col. F. D. Boggs, K. C. asked Magistrate Payne for leniency, pointing out that the prisoner who was undefended, had given himself up voluntarily and had also made a clear statement to the police. He approved however the sentence of 18 months imposed upon Rogers.

Magistrate Payne also committed the girl to the Alexandria Industrial School on plea of her parents who declared they were unable to control her at home. The girl when questioned by the magistrate regarding her desire to be sent away intimated that she wanted to be removed from her associates in Campbellford. Dr. Dally of the Children's Aid took charge of the girl. Rogers was taken back to Cobourg.

Political considerations motivated the report of the committee. It was charged by Senator W. A. Buchanan, Lethbridge, Alta. There were Liberals on the committee, but the Conservative majority drafted the report to suit political conveniences and told the Liberals to take it or leave it.

FAMILY ESCAPES IN NIGHT ATTIRE

Campbellford Family Have Narrow Escape When Fire Burns Home.

AWAKENED BY NEIGHBORS.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 30 (Examiner Staff Correspondent).—Escaping in their night attire, Mr. and Mrs. Bernard George and a small baby, their grandchild, managed to get clear from their house which had broken into flames about 11.30 p.m. They sought shelter with kindly neighbors. Damage estimated at $3,000.00 which is covered by insurance, was caused by the blaze which completely destroyed the kitchen and woodshed.

Mr. and Mrs. George and the baby, the only three occupants of the house were awakened from sleep by a neighbor, Mrs. A. E. Wragg, who had seen a burst of flame coming from the kitchen as she was preparing to retire. She at once raised the alarm, calling the Fire Department and rousing the occupants of the burning house.

With the assistance of other neighbors Mr. and Mrs. George were able to get all their furniture and chattels from the house with the exception of the kitchen range.

Directed by Chief C. Davidson, who was on duty for the first time since his recent illness, the Campbellford Fire Department performed splendid service, and despite lack of water pressure kept the fire confined to the source of origin. It is believed to have been caused by sparks from the chimney.

Peterboro's Y.M.C.A. Community Project

The service of the Y.M.C.A. of Peterborough is not confined to the members of the Association but extends to every phase of community welfare in which it can be of service in a special way. Some of the ways in which the "Y" serves are the "Learn to Swim" campaign for boys in which 195 were enrolled and 170 learned this indispensable art. The Hobby Show for boys of the city in which 406 entries were made. This activity is carried on by the boys themselves and gives them wonderful training in executive work and management. The Church Basket Ball League games were held in the "Y" Gymnasium over a four months' period, as well as a Church Bowling League. Numerous social evenings have been conducted for the staffs of the different industrial concerns of the city and their wives and lady friends, the Quaker Oats, Western Clock Co., Peterborough Canoe Company, De Laval Company and several departments of the Canadian General Electric Company, are among the groups served in this way during recent weeks. Prior to the opening of the Red Cross Hostel on Hunter street, the Y.M.C.A. gave overnight accommodation to over 200 unemployed young men without charge when these young men were unable to pay. The Association co-operates with the Rotary Club in supplying the leadership for the Rotary Boys' Camp, Mr. Doug Loomis having directed this splendid camp for a number of years. The Association secured Mr. Lyn Rohrbough, an outstanding leader in church recreation, to conduct a one-day conference in this important field. Leaders not only from Peterborough but communities as distant as Oakwood and Port Hope, took advantage of this unusual opportunity.

The Sunday evening after church song service has aroused the keen interest of the young people of the city and has held them in an increasing degree during the last six months. Such was the insistence on the part of over 250 attending at the last scheduled meeting that it was decided to continue for a time. The total attendance for these meetings was over 4,000.

The total attendance at all activities during the last six months was 34,000, which is proof of the popularity and drawing power of the Peterborough Young Men's Christian Association.

Ennismore

The Misses Florence and Loretto Sullivan of Toronto spent the week-end with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Dennis Sullivan.

Mr. J. P. Flood held a barn-raising on Tuesday afternoon on his farm east of the post office. There were about thirty-five men in attendance.

On Wednesday morning, T. J. Crough had a narrow escape from having his house burned. The chimney took fire owing to the high wind, and the sparks ignited the roof, burning it through in several places. A number of men gathered and had the fire extinguished in a short time.

Warsaw

Warsaw cheese factory opened for the season on Tuesday. Patrons have to see to the drawing of their milk this week, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday. On Tuesday, May 3, A. Crowe starts hauling milk with his new truck. For a few weeks he expects but one load. Soon, however, he will make the second trip.

"The Colonel's Maid" will be presented in Warsaw Town Hall on Thursday evening, May 5.

Goods loaded and discharged at Grecian ports last year showed a decrease from 1930 of less than one per cent.

Parks Committee

Ald. Macdonald as an executive of the Baseball Club asked for the use of Riverside Park for the coming season, and Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Cotton, that the request be granted on the usual terms. The letting of Riverside and King Edward parks was left to Ald. Stocker, chairman, and it is understood that the Ashburnham lot will be assumed by the ball club practically at once to get the grounds in proper condition.

Ald. Stocker was instructed to have the necessary repairs made to the stands, not overlooking the wire netting in front of the main stand.

Ald. Stocker reported that three hundred hard maple trees had arrived Thursday from Winona. About 150 were planted Friday on Prince, Princess and Aylmer streets, and the others are going in the ground today on Bolivar street and on Burnham and other streets in Ashburnham.

Cut This Out

Excellent Preparation For Catarrh, Catarrhal Deafness and Head Noises.

If you know someone troubled with head noises or catarrhal deafness, hand this to him and you may save the poor sufferer from total deafness. We believe catarrh is caused by a constitutional disease and that salves, sprays or inhalers merely give temporary, not permanent relief from its distressing symptoms. Therefore, much time has been spent in perfecting a pure, gentle, yet effective tonic that should quickly expel all catarrhal poison from the system. It proves very simple and inexpensive home treatment.

Secure from your druggist one ounce of Parmint (Double Strength). Take this home and add to it ½ pint of hot water and a little sugar. Take one tablespoonful four times a day.

The first day should start relieving the distressing head noises, headache, dullness and cloudy thinking, while the hearing should rapidly return as the system is invigorated by the tonic action of the treatment. Loss of smell taste, and mucous dropping in the throat are other symptoms of catarrh often overcome by Parmint. If nearly 90 per cent of all ear troubles are directly caused by catarrh, there must be many people whose hearing could be restored by this effective home treatment.

Artificial drying of hay is possible by a new machine in Europe, the device being portable and able to dry from 150 to 200 tons in about three weeks.

MAJOR E. SMITH TAKES HIS LIFE

Retired British Officer Was Superintendent of Communications for Canada During War.

MANAGED NEWSPAPER.

WILMINGTON, N.C., April 29. — Major Ewart W. Smith, retired British army officer who was Superintendent of Communications for the Dominion of Canada during the World War, shot himself to death in his home here.

Major Smith was 57 years old. His wife found him lying across a bed when she returned home after taking their children to school. He had shot himself through the head with an army practice rifle.

On a dresser were his insurance papers and a note, hurriedly scrawled, which said, "I'm afraid I'm going crazy."

Major Smith was in active service overseas from the beginning of the World War until after the Second Battle of the Marne, when he was transferred to Canada as Superintendent of Communications.

After the war, Major Smith came here, it is said, from Regina, with his brother-in-law, the late James Cruikshank, and purchased The Wilmington Dispatch. He was Business manager of the newspaper until it suspended in 1923.

What the automobile has taught women about household lubrication

Experience with motor cars has taught women that moving parts must be protected against wear by a film of oil. Many of them haven't learned, however, that moving parts of sewing machines, vacuum cleaners, lawn mowers, washers, and other mechanical devices must also be protected against dirt and rust.

3-in-One Oil not only lubricates; it also cleans and protects. It is different from all others, because it is a scientific blend of three high grade oils—animal, mineral and vegetable. 3-in-One is the oil you should use on mechanical equipment if you want best results.

Don't risk your expensive household devices by using oil that does only half the job. Insist on the old reliable 3-in-One. It costs little more to buy and much less to use. At good stores everywhere. For your protection, look for the trade mark "3-in-One" printed in Red on every package.

95TH ANNIVERSARY WILL BE OBSERVED

Rev. Dr. Barr to Preach at St. Andrew's Church Anniversary June 19.

CAMPBELLFORD, April 29 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Featuring the 95th anniversary of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, Campbellford, special services will be held on Sunday, June 19, both morning and evening, at which the special preacher for the occasion will be the Rev. Dr. A. T. Barr. There will also be fine musical selections by the choir under the direction of W. A. Newcourt, organist and choirmaster.

St. Andrew's Church has a long history of achievement in the community and has been pastored with some of the outstanding men of the faith. The cause of Presbyterianism has always been strong in this section of the country and for some years in its early history the church was served direct from the mother institution in the Old Land. At one time linked up with Warkworth it was later segregated and became an active separate body.

The present minister, Rev. J. C. Robinson, came to St. Andrew's from Uxbridge sixteen months ago, succeeding the Rev. Dr. Mark, and since that time has endeared himself into the hearts of the congregation. The church has prospered under his leadership and the forthcoming anniversary services are expected to be some of the best, spiritually and financially, that have been held for many years.

Cavan

Farmers are nicely started on the land, and the fields are drying quickly. By the end of the week spring will be well on the way.

The cold weather is retarding the growth of the grass. Feed is scarce. In driving through the country, cattle are seen out in a number of pasture fields where there is very little picking. A shortage of feed causes this premature grazing.

Mr. Watson has moved from the Eighth Line, Cavan, to Cavanville.

Mrs. James Douglas spent a few days recently with her sister, Mrs. R. Hootan, Fairmount.

On Sunday afternoon, May 8th, Cavan United Church Sunday School will hold their annual Mother's Day service at 2.30 p.m.

The Rev. Mr. Sutcliffe of Murray Street Baptist Church, Peterborough will be present and give an address.

Mrs. James Paul and Miss L. Syer attended a quilting under the auspices of the Women's League of Grace Presbyterian Church in Millbrook on Wednesday.

Mr. David White sold a team of horses recently.

Mr. E. Syer sold a number of beef cattle on Tuesday.

Thorndyke bread truck has started its semi-weekly visits on the Eighth and Ninth Lines, Cavan. During the winter it did not deliver on the Eighth Line.

When You CAN'T QUIT

Fatigue is the signal to rest. Obey it if you can. When you can't, keep cool and carry-on in comfort.

Aspirin was meant for just such times, for it insures your comfort. Freedom from those pains that nag at nerves and wear you down. One tablet will block that threatening headache while it is still just a threat. Take two or three tablets when you've caught a cold, and that's usually the end of it.

Carry Aspirin tablets when you travel. Have some at home and keep some at the office. Like an efficient secretary, they will often "save the day" and spare you many uncomfortable, unproductive hours. Aspirin is harmless, so keep it handy, keep it in mind, and use it. No man of affairs can afford to ignore the score and more of uses explained in the proven directions. From a grumbling tooth to those rheumatic pains which seem almost to bend the bones, Aspirin tablets are ready with quick relief—and always work. Neuralgia. Neuritis. Any nagging, needless pain.

Get the genuine tablets, stamped with the Bayer cross. They are of perfect purity, absolute uniformity, and have the same action every time. Why experiment with imitations costing a few cents less? The saving is too little. There is too much at stake. But there is economy in the purchase of genuine Aspirin tablets in the large bottles.

Miss Helen Garbutt Speaks At Fairview

FAIRVIEW, April 30. (Examiner Correspondence).—A large attendance marked the April meeting of the Ladies' Association of Fairview United Church, the gathering being in the home of Mrs. W. Roseborough on Wednesday afternoon.

The business session following the treasurer's report showed progressive work being done. It was decided to continue the sale of home cooking, also to hold the annual strawberry festival at the usual time and place.

A special feature of the program and one that was thoroughly enjoyed by everyone present was an address given by Miss Helen Garbutt, graduate of MacDonald Institute, Guelph on how to set and serve an informal dinner. Miss Garbutt had four ladies to assist her in demonstrating while she gave the address. Miss Olive Bell taking the part of Hostess and Mrs H. Lewis that of the host, and Pearl Mullin daughter in the home, while Mildred Harrison took part of ill-mannered guest.

A very dainty lunch was served to all and a most hearty vote of thanks was passed expressing appreciation of Miss Garbutt's address and to Mrs. Roseborough for her home and the most delightful time and lunch which all had enjoyed so much.

The three-act comedy play put on by the Dramatic Club of Murray Street Baptist Church in Bridgenorth Forester's Hall on Wednesday evening under the auspices of the Athletic Association, was a complete success from every standpoint.

The names of characters in the play and those representing them were: Jack Webster, taken by James Mann; Reggie Manners taken by Cecil Lapp; Jim Jerkins, taken by Walter Cox; William Club, taken by Rolley Scott; Cyclone Sally, taken by Marion Armstrong; Jenny Thatcher, taken by Irma Roseborough; Ruth Thatcher, taken by Doris Armstrong; Effie Varden, taken by Adrienne Mathews; Vivian Vernon, taken by Genevieve Foster.

The director of the play was Walter Fitzgerald, while Miss Florence Lasenby did the prompting.

Between the acts H. Hotston and W. Fitzgerald and Arthur Collins gave several numbers including banjo and violin duetts, piano solos and whistle solos.

Mr. Windover will be greatly missed in the village both in athletic and church circles. He is a keen hockey and tennis player and also was pitcher on the local softball team. The United Church choir will also miss him as he was one of their loyal and valued members.

When morning broke and baby came
The house did scarcely seem the same
As just before. The very air
Grew fragrant with the essence rare
Of a celestial garden where

To God, to guard her first-born care.
And with what diligence each ear
Did listen, as her lips did frame
The helpless little stranger's name—

Why Buy a House for Your Landlord?—Own Your Own Home

"And that's why

I stopped worrying about the mortgage"

He arranged for an Imperial Mortgage Protection Policy to carry the burden

HIS home is mortgaged—properly so because he could not have bought it otherwise.

Then he realized the danger to his wife and children should he die before the mortgage was paid off.

He found there was an insurance policy with special features and with attractively low premiums specially designed to take care of such cases as his. He took out an Imperial Mortgage Protection Policy to match the amount of his mortgage dollar for dollar—and now he sleeps quietly at night. No more worry about what would happen to the home if he died prematurely.

And the outlay was merely like adding another 2% or so to the interest rate on the mortgage.

This Policy can also include a total disability provision, which is mighty comforting.

TRADE DEFENDS IRELAND'S TIES WITH BRITAIN

Separation of Free State Would Demand Finding New Markets.

ENGLAND BIG PURCHASER

Ninety-six Per Cent. of Free State's Exports Go to Britain.

DUBLIN. — It would be difficult to find any other two countries which are so complementary as Ireland and Great Britain. Ireland at present is first, last and all the time agricultural. It produces milk, butter, eggs, poultry, sheep, cattle and horses vastly in excess of its own requirements.

Great Britain on the other hand needs precisely these products. At the same time, Britain also needs markets for its own surplus output of industrial goods of which Ireland, apart from the six northern counties, produces practically nothing.

Ireland, in fact, is separated only by a few miles of sea from the one big mart in the world for imported agricultural produce; while England similarly has at its very doors a customer whose wants are those to which British industry specially caters.

Heavy Purchases in England.

It is not to be wondered at therefore that 96 per cent. of the Free State's exports in 1931 went to Great Britain, and 8 per cent. of all British exports went to the 3,000,000 inhabitants of the Free State. The people of the Saorstat Eireann, to use its Gaelic name, bought more per head from Great Britain than those of any other country.

During its 10 years of office, the previous government gave much attention to farming matters. Under the auspices of Mr. Patrick J. Hogan, the Minister of Agriculture, a number of measures were passed to improve the quality of Irish agricultural products so as to insure not only bigger sales but better prices and profits.

Thus the breeding of pigs in the Free State has been practically standardized by a system of licensing and there are heavy penalties against sending undersized, dirty or stale eggs into the export trade.

Development of Industry.

Mr. Hogan's successor, Dr. James Ryan, has not yet had time to develop his policy. He has, however, arranged for an export bounty of 4d per pound on butter—the first export bounty ever granted in the Free State.

But his party, the Fianna Fail, is showing more interest in fostering industry than in reorganizing agriculture. Mr. Sean Lemass, Minister for Commerce and Industry, has already announced his intention of bringing in a comprehensive new schedule of tariffs.

Fianna Fail's contention is that it is a mistake for a country to put all its economic eggs in the British basket.

Consequently, it plans to take a country-wide census of the Free State's resources. It wants to see local committees, district committees, county committees culminating in one controlling, centralized, directive body in Dublin. This chain is to investigate the dormant community, district and national resources, co-ordinate them with the national needs, and link the whole country in an un-Sovietized Five-Year Plan.

There are many rivals for the markets in Britain now open to the Irish and it might be a serious calamity for the Free State if it broke with with Britain. For it is one thing to lose 8 per cent. of its total export trade as Britain might do. But it is quite a different thing to lose the whole of it as might happen to the Free State.

SCOTCH PROGRAM IS MUCH ENJOYED

Vocal and Instrumental Numbers Given at Caledonian Meeting.

Members of the Caledonian Club made an appreciative audience last evening in the Woodmen of the World Hall at a Scotch concert.

The chairman, D Anderson, made fitting reference to the death of Mrs. Gilmour, one of the Club's oldest members, and as a token of respect for her memory two minutes' silence was observed by the company.

The concert opened with two splendid bagpipe selections by A. Milne, the Club's piper, who always gets a great ovation. The rest of the program was entirely vocal except for two numbers, one of which was a delightfully well-rendered selection of Scottish airs on the piano by Miss Cathie Chivas. Miss Chivas also favored the audience with an encore of bagpipe tunes, also played on the piano.

Other numbers were "Love's Old Sweet Song" and "Believe Me if all those Endearing Young Charms," splendidly sung by Stewart Massie, accompanied on the piano by Miss C. Chivas.

T. Kieran, in his usual efficient style, gave two banjo selections which drew much applause.

"Beautiful Isle of Somewhere" and "D' Ye Ken John Peel," two old favorites, sung by H. G. Lewis and accompanied by Miss Chivas, were greatly enjoyed.

R. Hendry, an old favorite, came to the platform and gave two enjoyable songs, "There is Somebody Waitin' For Me" and "I Like My Own Home Town." Accompaniments were played by Jack Smith.

Jack Smith gave two well-rendered solos, "The End of the Road" and "Shipmates of Mine." He was accompanied on the piano by W. Dougal.

"Mother Machree" and "The Bonnie Lass o' Ballochmyle," sung by D. Anderson, with piano accompaniment by A. D. Clark, received hearty applause.

A vote of thanks, proposed by the chairman to the various artists, brought a hearty response from the audience, and an enjoyable evening was brought to a close by a service of tea and pancakes, and a few dances to music supplied by A. Milne on the bagpipes, and G. Low, traps, and W. Dougal, piano.

BETHEL.

Mrs. Fred Nelson visited friends in Toronto over the week end.

The many friends of Mr. James Hope will be sorry to learn that he is ill with pneumonia.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Garnet, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Grant, Mr. Edwin Fife, Miss Adeline and Mr. Donald Fife attended the shower given in honor of Miss Olive Fife, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dave McAdams, Fowler's Corners.

Mrs. Hubbs of Peterborough is visiting at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Miller.

BRITISH FLAG TO COME BACK TO SAULT, ONT.

DURING WAR OF 1812.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., April 30. — (C. P.) — Governor Franklin D. Roosevelt, of New York, has directed the return of the British flag taken from Sault Ste. Marie, Ontario, by American troops in July 1814 when the town was captured and burned by them. Major General Ward of the State Museum at Albany, however, has not yet been able to locate the flag, which according to the Soo's information was "in a g'ass case in the State Museum at Albany" a few years ago. Mr. Roosevelt's action is in response to a request from the Canadian Soo.

The flag was taken from a building at the corner of Queen and Pilgrim streets, part of which is yet standing. It was erected about 1790 by C. O. Ermatinger, the Soo's first trader, and was used by him as a trading post and fur warehouse. It was never used for military purposes.

It is interesting to recall that it was the burning of the Soo, which caused the British to burn Washington later in the year. At that time the Soo was one of the most important posts on the Great Lakes. The year before York (now Toronto) had been burned by the American troops, and in retaliation the British troops had burned Buffalo. The Soo's turn came in July, 1814, and Washington's later the following month.

The hoisting of the old flag is scheduled as one of the events of the Soo's "Wolf Week," with a full pack of timber wolves, which is set for the last week of July. If it can be recovered Governor Roosevelt will be asked to come over and rehoist it, in appreciation of his courtesy, or if he finds that impossible to designate some one to act for him. The chief feature of "Wolf Week" will be the presentation on the river bank of a stage version of Longfellow's Hiawatha by the Ojibway Indians, who inspired it, in their own language. These live alongside the Canadian Sault. The poem is a glorification of the Sault area and Lake Superior. Another northern Canadian feature will be a Hudson's Bay company barbecue with an Indian program.

Rev. Mr. Fierheller, rector of St. Paul's Anglican Church has been appointed to take charge of the church at Allandale, the Rev. Mr. Hadden coming to the parish at Bethany. Much regret is felt in the village and district in the departure from the village of Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Fierheller and family.

The members of the Women's Missionary Association of the United Church was held in the church parlors on Wednesday afternoon with 14 members present when the afternoon was taken up with the business part of arranging for the usual meals provided by the church for the 24th of May entertainment.

WOMEN'S INSTITUTE WEEKLY COLUMN

A goodly thing it is to meet
In Friendship's circle bright,
Where nothing stains the pleasure sweet,
Or dims the radiant light.
No unkind word our lips shall pass,
No envy sour the mind;
But each shall seek the common weal—
The good of all mankind.

OMEMEE

The proper feeding of children was the topic at the last Women's Institute meeting in Omemee.

"The hand that rocks the cradle rules the world," is an old adage and of course literally, is no longer true. Cradles are not rocked in these days—at least in the best regulated families. But the mother of the children is still queen of their world and the dispenser of health, wealth and happiness to her dependent subjects.

One of a mother's greatest obligations to her children is to provide them with nutritious food in sufficient quantity to maintain bodily health. An undernourished child cannot possibly be a healthy child, a happy child or even a wealthy child (unless wealth is counted only as the possession of wordly goods. A simple test of whether or not your child is well fed is to ask the question, "Does he look well? Does he feel well and is he really well?"

Meals for children need not be elaborate to be sufficient for their needs. Just to be sure to include the much emphasized quart of milk a day, a cereal, either ready-to-eat or to-be-cooked, as well as some form of bread; a fresh fruit and a canned (or stewed one, a fresh, raw and cooked vegetable in addition to potatoes, an egg in some form each day, a protein food such as meat, cheese or legumes, an easily digested fat such as butter, and a simple sweet like honey, jam or syrup.

There are a few "don'ts" to be considered in planning meals for children. Be very careful not to let them acquire an appetite for sweets and this will make other necessary foods distasteful to them. Do not allow them to have too many fried foods as fat retards the digestive processes to some extent.

During the early spring months when children as well as adults appetites are prone to lag, do not insist that the children eat hot heavy foods at night. Be sure that they eat an adequate, substantial lunch and for supper give them a bowl of crisp, ready-to-eat cereal and fresh, cool milk with a sliced banana. Then the children will go to bed with their little stomachs "just full enough" of light, easily digested food which will not interfere with their sleeping peacefully the whole night through.

Dinner—Potatoes au gratin, pea timbales, grated carrot and head lettuce salad, bran muffins, butter, stewed raisins, milk, cookies.

Supper — Rice Krispies, sliced bananas, milk, sugar.

WARSAW

Mrs. Thomas H. Crowe's paper on Agriculture given at Warsaw W. I. recently—"Not so very many years ago, the statement that agriculture was the basic industry of the country, and the surest means of a livelihood, brought a supercilious smile from the industrial worker. He proclaimed that he was not interested in the farm, and to be tied to a cow or a plow was not for him to experience.

That was at a time that farm prices, in relation to prices of industrial commodities were a lot higher than they are at present. In the past year several thousand workers in Canada and in U.S. who were born on a farm, or have had farm experience, have been seeking a means of establishing themselves on the land where they could make a living at least for themselves and their families. When prosperity seems to be floating in the air, the farm has nothing to offer, but as a permanent home and a sure means of making a living, it is by far the most dependable field of activity. Urban industries cannot prosper trading horses among themselves. Real wealth comes from the soil. Only as workers of the world again start digging a living and a competence from the land—as they again start spending the returns from their labor on the products of industry, that will further aid them in their work, will the urban industries resume their wanted activity.

Not by maintaining men in idleness in the cities, nor by shortening hours of labor, to make what work there is go around, will prosperity return either to the urban industry, or to the farm. Men out of work make no good market for the farmer's products. Men at work on the land, though they may add, temporarily to the surplus of food supplies, create demand for industrial products, provide employment to the industrial worker, and eventually a market for what they themselves produce.

Agriculture is the basic industry of Canada and should be carried on with the dignity befitting an occupation which links hand in hand with the Creator of all things.

MILLBROOK

"Some Palatable Laxative Foods" was the message brought by a visiting district nurse to an Institute branch in the northern part of the province, request having been made that she should make this the subject of her address to the largely-attended gathering.

Prefacing the recipes given, the speaker dwelt first on the importance of her topic, telling of coarse breads as an aid to health, and exceedingly palatable if properly made. "Physicians more and more discourage the use of drugs in the treatment of constipation, urging instead that their patients eat natural laxative foods, and particularly breads made with coarse flours. Wheat bran in bread and cakes is especially recommended, as it provides the necessary roughage and stimulation for the digestive tract, and its persistent use in the daily diet will work wonders in the most chronic cases of this practically universal trouble."

Answering the objection that fresh graham flour is almost impossible to obtain since it soon grows rancid, a feature which the speaker said resulted from the fact that it contains all of the wheat including the germ, she insisted, however, that bran keeps well and is an excellent substitute. So also are rolled oats and wheat, and the nurse told of years of experience in using either of these in cake and bread, "as a variation from their time-honored position as breakfast foods only."

Pressed for an example the speaker mentioned her plan of making "delicious yeast bread from mixing one part of bran, graham flour, or rolled oats, with two or more parts of white flour, and continuing as for ordinary white bread." Another recipe was highly recommended as a "quick bran bread," obtained from a prominent physician who declared he had prescribed it extensively in his practice, and which might be varied to suit individual tastes, needs, and pocket-books.

Two cups bran; one cup white flour; one and onehalf cups buttermilk; one-quarter cup melted butter; three tablespoons New Orleans molasses; onehalf teaspoon salt and one teaspoon soda. Mix milk and molasses, beat in the soda, and add to the well-mixed dry ingredients; then add melted butter, and one-half cup or more of chopped nut meats; raisins, or if preferred chopped figs or dates. If desired rolled oats, wheat, or graham flour may be substituted for the bran, and sour cream used instead of the buttermilk, in which case omit the melted butter. Beat the whole well together, and bake in a medium oven in two shallow loaves, or in muffin tins.

"Easy Pancakes" was another formula copied down in several note-books: Mix together two cups white flour, one cup of bran, or graham flour or rolled oats, one teaspoon sugar, one-ha' teaspoon salt, and two teaspoons baking-powder. Add enough sweet milk for a smooth thin batter, and cook at once on a hot griddle.

"Bran Nut Snaps" was another favorite: Cream one-half cup butter with one and one-half cups sugar, add pinch of salt, one-half cup hot water, with one-half teaspoon soda dissolved in it, one cup each of bran and graham flour, one-half cup finely-cut nut meats, and enough white flour for a very firm dough. Knead well, roll rather thin, cut in shapes and bake until lightly colored.

Time did not permit the giving of all the recipes "tried and true," which the speaker might have passed on to her hearers, but one that she specially recommended was "Graham Ginger Bread": Mix one pint each of graham and white flour, one-half cup sugar, one level teaspoon salt, three teaspoons baking powder, and sweet cream or evaporated milk for a very stiff dough. Knead well, roll thin, cut in squares, and bake in a slow oven until crisp and of a light brown color. "Much superior to the commercial article if properly made.

ASSOCIATION TO PROVIDE DINNER

Fourteen Orange Lodges Will Walk at Warsaw on July 12th.

WARSAW, April 30 (Examiner Correspondence).—The regular W. A. meeting of the United Church was held in the Sunday school room on Thursday afternoon, with a large attendance; the president, Mrs. Arthur Edwards, in the chair.

It was decided to give dinner and supper on July 12, when 14 lodges will walk at Warsaw. The committee is Mesdames A. Edwards, U. Payne and D. Miller.

Mrs. G. G. Taylor is to have the program, devoted principally to music, Mrs. Digweed read the scripture lesson. Rev. J. W. Wilkinson gave a few notes on the purpose and aims of the Women's Association of the United Church of Canada.

A very interesting discussion regarding the parsonage committee took place.

The meeting closed with the Benediction, after which Mesdames Allan, U. Payne, R. Matthews, A. Edwards and D. Miller served refreshments, and a very happy social half hour was spent.

Choir Social

The United Church Choir held its quarterly social evening in the basement. This was a special meeting tendered Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Payne. The Star organized classes were present. Mr. Payne had been teacher of the boys' division. Part of the evening was spent in games, pricipally a geography contest, and tailing the donkey.

Henry Batten, choir president, conduced a short business meeting. Mr. Wilkinson read a short address to Mr. and Mrs. Payne, stressing their work in the community and the choir, and Mr. Payne's with the boys. Mrs. G. G. Taylor presented a silver sugar and cream to Mrs. Payne, from choir; Ivan Payne a teacher's Bible to Mr. Payne from his class, and D. Miller a fountain pen and pencil set to Mr. Payne from the choir. Mrs. Payne expressed her appreciation of the gift in a few words. Mr. Payne expressed his appreciation, too; and mentioned the pleasure that he had with his class, also spoke of the great help Mr. Somers, superintendent of Sunday school had been to him.

ALTERATIONS MADE MARMORA CHURCH

Full Sized Basement Will Be Used as Sunday School Room.

MARMORA, April 30. (Examiner Correspondence)— The alterations and improvements to St. Andrew's United Church are to be much more extensive than at first planned. The biggest change of all will be the excavating and construction of a basement the full size of the church to be used as a Sunday School room and for other purpores. The Sunday School room will be the full length of the church from east to west. The northern extension will be used as a furnace room and the southern extension will be fitted up as a kitchen. In addition to the painting and decorating of the interior, the main body of the church will have a new floor installed. The wood work on the outside of the church will be repainted as well as the spire and a new roof will also be put on. The interior decorations are almost completed and when the choir and pulpit platform is complete with the seats placed in the body of the church so as to face the north, the full beauty of the transformation will be apparent.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, April 30.—Butter prices touched bottom this week on the local market and then steadied. Trading was only fair during the greater part of the week and receipts from Ontario points and the West were too heavy. Buyers were taking some offerings, but were not interested to sufficient extent to relieve the situation and prices dropped 1½c below those of last week-end. Yesterday buyers were not active, but prices were steady at 17c for No. 1, creamery solids and 16c for No. 2. Ontario and Western makes. The Western shippers have been following the local market consistently, and unable to secure a premium over Ontario best quality, have offered supplies recently at prices not above those governing sales of Ontario butter.

Cream Lower

Cream prices took the expected drop this week and on Friday were more in line with the prices quoted for butter. At the end of the week local buyers were quoting 18c for special, 17c for No. 1 and 14c for No. 2, f.o.b. country points.

Cheese Down

Cheese was lower at the week-end than previously. New makes were quoted by brokers at 10c to 10¼c for large, 10¼c to 10½c for new twins and 10½c to 10¾c for new triplets. Prices to retailers were easier at 11½c for new large, 11¾c for new twins, 12c for new triplets and 14c for new stiltons.

Poultry Stronger

Poultry found a better demand this week and prices on chickens, fatted hens, broilers and ducklings were higher. The heavier grades of fatted hens gained 1c per pound, alive and dressed, while the lighter grade made a 2c to 3c gain over previous levels. Ducklings were up about 1c per pound for the white variety and old ducks, over 5 pounds weight, were quoted at 12c per pound.

Eggs Firming

Egg prices declined considerably during the past few weeks, but from the middle of this week until the close there was a much firmer feeling and prices regained to some extent. Brokers were forced down to the 15c levels for storage packed eggs recently, but at the week-end they were able to quote this quality at 16c to 16½c for extras and 14c to 14½c for firsts, with ordinary packed supplies at 15c for extras, 13c for firsts and 11½c to 12c for seconds. Country shippers were offered slightly better prices at the close of the week, at 12c to 13c for extras, 10c to 11c for firsts and 8c to 9c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned. Prices to retailers were steady yesterday at the recent declines. They were offered extras in cartons at 19c, extras loose at 17c, firsts loose at 15c and seconds loose at 13c per dozen.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, April 30.—Executing a quick right-about-face, wheat values late yesterday rallied compleely from a stop-loss selling rush to the olwest figures in a month.

Big buying of wheat developed near the end of the day, largely owing to reappearance of good export demand for United States hard winter wheat, the first time in three weeks. A further stimulating influence was late announcement that Germany's import duty on wheat had been reduced.

Wheat closed irregular, ½ of a cent off to ¼ up compared with Thursday's finish; corn, ⅜ to ⅝ down; oats, unchanged to ⅝ lower, and provisions varying from 12 cents decline to a rise of 2 cents.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, April 30.—The first decline of the current week on the Montreal dairy and produce market was witnessed yesterday, when cheese slipped off ¼c per pound. The price became generally 9¾c per pound for new cheese. Lower sterling exchange had tended to soften the tone of the market, in the last day or two, while lower prices at contry boards was also a factor. Receipts were 775 boxes.

Butter and egg markets continued the week's upward move. Butter gained ¼c when the range for No. 1 in car-lots or broken lots became 16¾c to 17¼c per lb. Receipts were 1,404 boxes.

Eggs became ½c per dozen higher on spot for graded Ontario's or Prairies in carlots. New prices were 17½c for extras, 15½c for firsts and 13½c for seconds. Some sales for shipment were at ½c under these levels. Local ungraded receipts remained 2c under graded levels. Receiepts were 5,178, with much of the arriving stock going into storage and leaving available spot stock, particularly of extras, light. Prices to retailers were light.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, April 30. — European purchases of Canadian wheat brought the market out of a one-cent decline at the opening to close unchanged to ⅛c lower for the day. Revival of export trade on the break offset reports of moisture relief in United States drought areas and rain in the Canadian West. May and July each closed unchanged at 59¾c and 62c, respectively; October eased ⅛c, to close at 64½c.

Export trade, light overnight, took a big spurt during the morning session, with estimates ranging around 750,000 bushels, from further amounts worked from seaboard. The best export trade in weeks had been worked on the decline.

Trade is Active.

Trade was quite active throughout the entire session, with local spreading from May to July. There was considerable buying for New York account. Broomhall expressed the opinion that American holders were afraid of May deliveries and were liquidating in anticipation of these tenders.

Crop reports indicated the best condition as to moisture in the Canadian West this season.

Cash wheat demand improved at fractionally better spreads. Forced liquidation accounted for breaks of three and seven cents respectively in rye and flax after the opening. Rye recovered a good portion, but flax held to the low points at the close.

The regular meeting of the Efficiency League was held in the United Church school room. The president Miss Roberts presided for the business session. Everard Chiles took the chair and a very fine program was given as follows: poem, "Music", Miss Barbara Fennell; selection by orchestra; reading "Health" Miss Alma Hagerman; the topic "Music" was taken by Mr. Bonney. He spoke especially on the correct method of singing hymns, and passages taken from "The Pathfinder." Another selection from the church orchestra and a contest, after which Charades were played, rounded out a very pleasant evening.

A delightful evening was spent on Tuesday last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John King at Belmont Lake, when a number of friends and neighbors gathered there for the social time that has become an annual affair at the home of this worthy young couple. Nine tables of euchre were played, the prizes for high score going to Miss Muriel Breckenridge, and James McCutcheon. Consolation trophies were awarded to Miss Lulu Breckenridge and Carl Barton.

NEW FRONTENACS ARE ON DISPLAY

New Features and Riding Qualities in Dominion Motors Product.

The new Frontenac and Durant automobiles are on display at the Showrooms of J. S. Selkirk, opposite Y.M.C.A. on George street, with new refinements, new features, new riding qualities and new values. These outstanding additions are in keping with the high standards that have always governed the building of Durant products and which led to the sensational introduction of the Frontenac.

There is much to arouse the intense interest of today's motorists, and particular interest will centre around the distinguished Frontenac with its many attractive features. This car, so skilfully designed for Canadian conditions is very appropriately named in that the great Frontenac, himself, was a leader, a courageous exponent of Canadian unity and strength and a staunch believer in efficient transportation, the best to be had in his day.

Dominion Motors, Limited, therefore, has embodied in the Frontenac Six the qualities which not only commend themselves to prospective purchasers but which prove themselves during the lifetime of the car as being stable, well-engineered, well-built and economically operated.

A new item in upholstering effect together with other interior refinements, will particularly please the ladies. The written description of these refinements could not adequately tell their charm. That is why Dominion Motors Limited is making this showing and is extremely desirous of having the ladies visit the exhibits where courteous attendants will be pleased to explain the various features and answer questions.

A Mighty Clean-Cut Effort in Relief of the Jobless

The Smallest Job Will Mean Work For Someone

Campaign Starts Saturday, April 30th

YOU can help yourself and at the same time very materially help the other fellow--the men of Peterborough who are now unemployed -- and you can extend this helping hand without seriously obligating yourself and at NO ADDITIONAL EXPENSE.

There are, for example, thousands of improvements, alterations and repairs needed in and about Peterborough homes, factories, stores and offices right now -- WORK that has for one reason or another, been deferred until a later date--but WORK nevertheless that sooner or later will become absolutely NECESSARY.

There are many idle men in Peterborough right now perfectly capable of doing this WORK, and these men NEED THAT WORK NOW. You can do YOUR share toward reviving and stabilizing business generally by improving and modernizing your property and for purely selfish reasons you should do it now while the prices of both the necessary materials and labor are at their present low levels.

If every citizen, in a position to do so, will do his part it will provide work for the unemployed--it will release idle dollars, which will make for vastly improved business

A recent issue of The Chicago American, described as "Chicago's most widely-read evening paper," carries the following article on its society page, relating to Mrs. John B. Hammond of 387 Monaghan Road: "The one-time Betty Williamson, now Mrs. John B. Hammond of Peterborough, Canada, has decided that her infant son must be christened in the same lovely home where she herself was born, made her debut and held her wedding reception—the resident of Dr. and Mrs. Charles S. Williamson at 1517 Dearborn Parkway.

"Thus far, Mrs. Williamson tells me, the Hammonds haven't decided on a name for the babe, although this important business will have been attended to by the time they arrive in town towards Summer.

"Recently Betty's mother returned from Peterborough, where she had gone to welcome her newest grandchild, and after seeing her daughter safely home from the hospital, she found time to enjoy a real old-fashioned Winter. As she described it to me:

"'We went racing over the snow in cutters to the jingle of sleigh-bells—something I haven't enjoyed for years and years. The crisp, frosty air was so exhilarating, and the sunshine sparkled on the snow to complete a perfectly beautiful scene. Then when I saw men dragging in logs for their fireplaces, it made me think the calendar had dropped back to the nineties!'"

Mrs. Hammond, accompanied by Miss Clair Mason, leave about the first of June for Chicago, for the christening of Mr. and Mrs. Hammond's son, who granduncle, Mr. Cyrus McCormick of the International Harvester Company, has expressed the wishe that the baby's christening take place in Chicago.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

PROPER INFANT TRAINING PREVENTS NERVOUS AILMENTS.

The fact that fewer children die during the first year than at any previous time in history is very good evidence that the mothers of today know more about the feeding of children than did the mothers of former years. It has been the proper feeding of infants that has lengthened the life span of the human race.

Yet, it would appear, that this very care that mothers take of their children often leads to trouble later in life, especially nervous ailments.

The mother in her watchful care, feeling a great responsibility to the youngster gives him too much attention. Every little act of play, of eating, sleeping, likes and dislikes is carefully considered, and naturally the youngster looks for this attention, in fact demands it, and learns to depend entirely on the mother instead of on himself.

Dr. J. M. Allen, London, England, in presenting study of 169 cases of neurosis, or abnormal nervous conditions in childhood, says that there are some children that rule the household and their parents from the moment they are born and ever afterward live as if their surroundings had to be adapted to them, instead of them to their surroundings. Such children sooner or later meet situations with which they cannot deal on such terms and are bound to be defeated.

Generally they show a complete absence of discipline of every kind; but sometimes they try to get around the situation by developing a 'neurosis' that is some condition of the body—heart, stomach or other part— that is not real in fact, but behind which they can cover their peculiar actions.

Now you can see that by the time the youngster has grown to the school age its habits are pretty well fixed, and it is going to be more difficult to try to train him in the proper habits of regular living and discipline. However, it is always worth the effort at any age, because as mentioned before, the majority of these nervous individuals can be straightened out mentally if they are brought face to face with the cause of their difficulties.

The point to remember then is that youngsters should not receive too much attention, that is they should not know they are receiving much attention, and should be trained to regular habits of feeding, sleep, and bathing, from early infancy.

An attractive boudoir dresser can be made from an old table, one may have, from an unpainted or unfinished table, or even from an ordinary wooden packing box.

• • • • • • •

The kidney table is the most graceful with its rounded out sides. This is a favorite shape for dressers bought from a furniture store. The hollowed out from centre permits one to get closer to the mirror when sitting before it.

• • • • • • •

The packing box is the most work to transform, but it is also the cheapest to make, unless one has some old table which is suitable.

• • • • • • •

Cover the top of the table or box with wadding. The kind is immaterial but it must be smooth lest it show irregularities through the outer covering.

• • • • • • •

Make the outer covering in six portions—top, two side strips and three front strips for flounces. Cut top portion to fit top allowing enough to cover sides.

• • • • • • •

Tack underneath top so that edges are smooth. Cut flounce portions long enough to reach from top to floor, allowing for half an inch heading along top and a three inch hem at the bottom.

• • • • • • •

Pleat side portions and tack to the sides of the top. Use tacks with colored or covered heads to that they are inconspicuous. Bring sides around ends to front for three inches plain, that is, not pleated and tack in position.

• • • • • • •

Fasten small curtain rod holders in sides of front, one inch from ends. Pleat the three front portions so that together they measure length of top.

• • • • • • •

Sew small rings at back of heading where pleats come. Run these on curtain rod having the wider strip come between the two narrower ones. Adjust the curtained rod on holders and the dresser stand in completed.

• • • • • • •

Then one might buy shoe cases having four drawers each for shoes and one drawer for stockings and put under each side. These cost little when made of extra heavy cardboard and slightly more than the case is of wood.

• • • • • • •

By putting a shoe and hat box under the middle of the dresser, the equipment is excellent.

• • • • • • •

Hang a mirror over the dresser. The frame can be covered like the dresser, or have draperies extending from the top just below the sides of the dresser.

• • • • • • •

Silk, artificial silk or mercerized sateen make good covering textiles. Veiled with sheer net or lace the dressers are exquisitly dainty.

• • • • • • •

Glazed chintz is very attractive and cretonne or linen can be used as well as many other styles of textiles.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

MOTHER INDIA AND BIDDING

Perhaps some of those who worship so blindly at the shrine of psychic bidding would do well to journey to India, which is today the hotbed of a revolution against the authority of the great British Empire, but out of which have come many ideas turned by the western world to its profit.

Probably no one but a son of India would dream of making a psychic bid when vulnerable, and few, except one schooled in that land, would have the faith in his psychological inferences to follow them through to their logical conclusion in the face of strong adverse bidding and the positive announcement of the anticipated defeat of his contract, through the double of his ambitious contract by an exasperated opponent.

I am indebted to an ardent Bridge fan, Mr. Shreeman Rai Krishnaji of Pandepur, Benares Cantt., for this hand, which he played last summer, and which, to my mind, shows psychological bidding at the perfection of its bloom. The application made of the information disclosed by his opponents in their exchange of bids was profitable to the partnership and despite its seeming daring was reasonably safe.

East—Dealer.
North-South vulnerable.
East-West not vulnerable.

	♠ K Q 9 7 ♡ 2 ◇ 9 6 4 ♣ K J 8 5 4
♠ A J 10 8 4 3 ♡ 9 ◇ 7 ♣ A Q 10 9 6		♠ 5 2 ♡ A K 10 8 7 6 3 ◇ 8 2 ♣ 7 2
	♠ 6 ♡ Q J 5 4 ◇ A K Q J 10 5 3 ♣ 3

The Bidding:

East	South	West	North
Pass	Pass	1♠	Pass
2♡	Pass	3♣	Pass
3♡	3NT	Dbl.	Pass
Pass	Pass

I give Mr. Krishnaji's interpretation of the bidding.

"As the partners denied each other's suits, South reasoned that both suits were stopped in his partner's hand, so there was reasonable probability of making 8 tricks and a fair possibility of rubber. South's previous passes, followed by an Overcall, led West to think that South held a regular notrump distribution and the Overcall was made to induce him to a game bid which he could not make, so his best policy would be to double and gather in penalties.

"There is nothing remarkable in the play, but I give it as it occurred. West led his heart. When East saw both the black Kings well guarded in Dummy's hand, he allowed the 9 of hearts to ride as the only chance of defeating the contract in case West held another heart. South won it with the Queen and played out his diamonds. At the eighth trick West and North each had three spades and three clubs. Perhaps in disgust West discarded a club. South shed a spade from Dummy and led a club, confining the opponents to the two black Aces."

TODAY'S POINTER

Question: How many tricks will 6-½ honor-tricks produce?

Black Bear, Eight Feet In Length Trapped By Burnt River Resident

(Special to The Examiner)

LINDSAY, April 30.—Robert Handley, who lives about a mile south of Burnt River, lost one of his valuable sheep, and on going out to his swamp to investigate, found it dead, and the carcass partly devoured by some animal. He went back home, got a couple of bear traps, set them, and on going to the woods to look things over later, found a four hundred pound bear in one of the traps that had wound the trap around a tree. He left Mr. Bruin, went to the village and Fred Hopkins, who returned with him despatched Mr. Bear by the gun route. Jimmy Woods, the school teacher after taking several pictures is having the carcass skinned and mounted. His coat is a jet black and Constable Alf Hodgins and Provincial Constable Nelson who were in that district last night stated that the carcass looked to them about eight feet in length.

Y. W. PAGEANT IN OPERA HOUSE IS BIG SUCCESS

Program Was Packed With Interest and Run Off With Precision.

Physical Work Excellent.

H. R. H. Kenner Reviewed Briefly Major Efforts of Y.W.C.A.

(By Jeanette.)

The Mother Goose Ballet, with all its color and youth and grace, was the outstanding feature of last night's presentation of this year's pageant of the Young Women's Christian Association, produced before a capacity audience at the Grand Opera House.

The program was packed with interest and was run off with that military precision which characterizes these yearly presentations of the work of the gymnasium classes. From the tiny, funny babies to the graceful seniors in their lovely dances, the different classes were a credit to themselves and their teacher, Miss Caroline Littlefield, who works so hard throughout the year to get them in shape for this big night.

The March Professional which annually opens the big Pageant was a pleasing commencement to the program. Led by their teacher and headed by the wee babies, the pupils emerge by the stage at the side of the house and progress down the aisle and up a runway to the stage again, their trim white sailor blouses and dark bloomers, their neat, black-stockinged legs, and their jaunty little heads make a pretty opening picture.

H. R. H. Kenner made the formal opening speech, his serious demeanor and humorous speech making a big hit with his listeners. Mr. Kenner reviewed briefly some of the major efforts of the Young Women's Christian Association and spoke very appreciatively of the work done by Miss Littlefield, saying that her splendid disciplinary command of the girls makes them respect, esteem, and love her. Mr. Kenner also commended Mrs. Morrison's work as superintendent of the Residence, and the work of the general secretary, Miss Leta Brownscombe, and her assistant, Miss D. Sherin.

He gave his audience an inkling of the reason of the natural "contrariness" of woman, as springing from her formation from the most crooked part of a man's make-up, the rib.

Physical Work.

The Babies' Class, by request, repeated their "Daily Dozen" dumbell drill, the aimless, fluttering little cherubs delighting their audience with their funny antics.

Gymnastics based on the Danish system, by the Seniors, were difficult and exacting, including figure and formation work and exhibiting a great deal of muscular control and expert practise work.

The Seniors also had a fancy club swinging drill with entirely new and intricate convolutions of the airy clubs, splendidly done.

The dances in this, the first section of the program, included numbers by the Elementary, Junior and Intermediate Classes. There was a sprightly character dance, "Playtime," done with colored balloons, the girls in gay frocks of rose with squares outlined in black, the 'boys' in green and rose suits.

A brilliantly colored dance was "All's Love," with tennis racquets, the girls appearing in white shorts, scarlet shirts and jaunty scarlet berets, in a bright number of much interest, which was followed by a trio of old-time dances, "At the Country Fair."

Commencing with two groups of Morris dancers who later formed an audience for the last two dances the girls appeared in Elizabethan dancing outfits of slashed green and black, with baggy trousers, wide hats and black staves with which they beat out the time.

Two barn dances followed: gay measures in which the various figures of the traditional country numbers were used. The girls wore gingham gowns of pink and blue and the "men" were in blue overalls with white shirts and straw hats. They danced merrily to the music of "Pop Goes the Weasel" and finished with the "Haymakers' Dance," in a blithe and carefree interval of swift toe work.

Modern Mother Goose.

The Mother Goose Ballet illustrated some of the "olden, golden days, days of happy youth, when those jingle-dingle nursery rhymes were truth." It was arranged by Miss Littlefield.

Mother Goose, with specs and a hobble, companioned by a blazing purple cat which brought to mind a paraphrase of that famous verse of Josh Billings: "I never saw a purple cow, I never hope to see one But all I know is anyhow, I'd rather see than be one"—came out on the stage in the entertaining ballet which closed the entertainment. She fell asleep, and the Spirits of Mischief (red-frocked members of the Senior Dancing Class) weave a spell over her with a scarf dance.

Then the nursery-rhyme characters come on in turn, all in a modern mould, with modern outfits.

First come the Mickey Mice (Junior Tap Dancing Class), little things in bright yellow pants with long black hose and floppy black ears, huge white spats and equally huge white gloves. They circle about while several of their number, including two very small girls, do expert and dazzling cartwheels before the bewildered old lady.

Members of the Junior Toe Dancing Class are a gay quartette, appropriately dressed in their parts: Jack and Jill and Boy Blue and Bo-Peep, caring not a whit about the hill or the pail of water or the lost sheep, and dancing about airily on the ir little toes.

The four and twenty blackbirds from the Babies' Class contributed much of the fun of the evening. They were the most cunning things imaginable, with their black wings and black peaked caps and little black bodies. They circled about the frightened maid and stole away her nose, and they were aided in their antics by Mary, Mary, Quite Contrary and her three companions, a quartette of the loveliest of the many lovely creatures in the ballet. They were frocked in frilly gowns of rose, gold, blue and green and wore large matching hats covered with flowers. They danced beautifully on silk-clad toes and charmed their audience with their beautiful appearance. They were members of the Intermediate Toe Dancing Class.

Russian Lovers.

Then came the Marionettes' Romance a very skilful interlude that added much to the color and charm of the Ballet.

A gorgeous lover in long-coated Russian attire, with a high and shiny black hat and a dignified air courted a lively and ardent Russian maiden, in a gay Russian frock of brightly colored mode. Her parents, brought to the scene by a tattling maid, are a black-whiskered patriarch and a matronly mother, who berate the lovers in pantomime and cause them to faint away with fright. Then the parents relent and all is peace and harmony. These clever dancers were from the Senior Class.

The Intermediate Tap Dancers contributed one of the smartest of the dancing numbers, bright, breezy and expertly turned out. They were the group of King's Soldiers for the Humpty-Dumpty number, with Humpty himself in a barrel-like outfit of bright hue and little feet emerging from the rotund middle. His Men were gorgeous Guardsmen with blue trousers, scarlet coats and high white busbies, scarlet-trimmed. They were among the snappiest of the dancers, and their number receiving repeated applause, concluded an entertainment that was satisfying and interesting and that took less than two hours to complete.

During the performance, many flowers and gifts were presented to Miss Littlefield by little tots of both sexes who climbed bravely up the runway and capered about the stage in search of their popular teacher.

The effective decorations of the stage, in flowers and ferns, and two tall guardsmen for the sides, were from the Hall Store and the Canadian Department Store.

An orchestra that played very finely for the various numbers included the pianistes, Mrs. Agnes Logan Green and Miss Mildred Hetherington; violinists, Stanley Northrop, A.T.C.M., and Alexander Robertson; and the drum and trap musician, Robert Beach.

Hope Scores K.O. Victory Over Toronto Boxer

RIGHT HOOK TO CHIN SENDS TORONTO SCRAPPER TO FLOOR FOR ONLY K. O. ON THE CARD

Jack McIlmoyle Squeezes Out Four Round Decision Over Spanis of Alpha.

Clever Boxing Exhibition.

A whistling right hook to the button after two minutes of the first round put Reg. White, Toronto colored lightweight, to sleep, giving Roy Hope another clean knockout victory. It was the fourth bout on the Alpha Club card at the Legion Hall last night, staged for the benefit of the war veterans, and a full house cheered the local boy for the only kayo of the program.

Keith Jarvis made his ring debut in the second scrape in impressive fashion, outpointing Jack Watson. Jack McIlmoyle squeezed out a four round decision over George Spanis in the other local bout. The semi-final saw Art Woods prove too classy for George Prince, another Toronto pug, taking every round. Paul Amato got a decision that was none too popular over Cliff Rhamey, Toronto, in the main fight on the card. A fine wrestling match between Jack Gardner and Mick Magee ended in a draw, neither getting a fall in ten minutes.

Harry Hance refereed the preliminaries and the grappling affair, while Gord Garwood was third man in the ring for the two main bouts. Judges were Len Post and Archie Hamilton. Merchants' prizes were put up for the different winners by the Metropolitan, Grafton's, Selkirk Shirt Shop, Grant & Thorpe's, Lesurf & Steinkrauss, Gosselin Tobacco Store, Schneider's Jewelry, Miller-Powell, and the United Cigar Store at George near Charlotte.

Two Foster Club 85-pounders, Pat Jordan and Joe DeNoble started things off in a fast-stepping, no-decision bout, both swinging hard and showing fair infighting. It was interesting, but little damage was done by the kids, and they received a good hand at the finish.

Makes Impressive Debut

Keith Jarvis, 111, of the Alpha stable, was too strong for Jack Watson, 110, same club, and took all three rounds. He lacked the other's speed and boxing experience, but jarred him repeatedly with hard right swings to the head. Jack made him miss plenty and countered as he went away. In the second Keith put him down for no count with a sudden one-two to the head. The third saw Jack going carefully and clinching or crouching to miss hard pokes. Jarvis was warned for the rabbit punch twice, but he deserved the victory for his heavy punching.

Gets Nod Over Spanis

Jack McIlmoyle, Foster 121, got the nod over George Spanis, Alpha 119-pounder, in four rounds. They opened up fast, Jack clouting hard but missing plenty, and Spanis showing clever southpaw boxing. He drove Jack to the corner once, flailing his midsection hard with both mitts. It was his round. McIlmoyle took the second after a slow start with a wicked smashing barrage to the head, hammering Spanis back and forcing him to keep away toward the end. Jack looked heavier and showed he was much stronger.

The third was slow at first again, Jack missing more swings and Spanis finally clipping him two neat ones on the whiskers. Mac buried one in his pantry and roughed him up at infighting, but they finished up battling hard on even terms. A fourth round was ordered, and it proved a slow affair with no damage done. Jack managed to land a few jabs to the head and the rest was sparring or clinching.

Scores Only Knockout

Roy Hope, Alpha Club, 134, polished off Reg. White, Toronto, 132, in two minutes of the first round with a dynamic jolt that exploded on the colored boy's chin. They came out fast and mixed it up, Roy clipping him a stinging uppercut to the face. White hooked him two or three short ones, and Hope jarred him around the ribs, crossing him with a quick right and left to the chin to put him down for no count. Roy connected with another hard stab to the midsection as White countered lightly, bobbing and weaving. As Reg. bore in close, Roy stepped into him suddenly and flashed a terrific short right hook that caught him right on the point and the negro banged his head on the floor. He was completely out and had to be carried out of the ring.

Too Good for Prince

Art Woods, Toronto Parkdale Club, 135, showed much superiority over George Prince, Premier Club lightweight, to take all three rounds in convincing manner. He proved to be fast and shifty with a hard sock in either hand. Prince was no sucker and fought back, but was rocked time and again as Art switched his two-fisted attack from body to head. Only in the third round did George do much and he managed to hurt Art twice with straight drives to the head and good infighting. He gave all he had, but the classy Art had things pretty much his own way throughout.

Gains Unpopular Decision

The main bout of the evening saw Paul Amato, middleweight Ontario champion, Parkdale Club, get the duke over Cliff Rhamey, Premier A.C. light-heavyweight. It was not altogether popular and could have safely been called a draw. While this scrap did not turn out to be the exciting blood-and-thunder type popular with fight fans, some very clever boxing and inside work was displayed. Cliff was much too tall for Paul and his weight advantage was hard to overcome. Paul fought in a crouch and the only times he could get in, they clinched and pounded each other at close range.

Every round appeared fairly even, the lanky Rhamey picking Amato of with left jabs and the odd mean right cross. Paul icked him on the mouth twice with flickering right uppercuts that stung in the third round and made him grunt from a smashing one-two just under the heart as they clinched. There was not much difference shown, but considerable classy ring work, and a draw would have been satisfactory. A mixture of cheers and boos greeted the decision given Amato.

Finishing the card, Mick Magee and Jack Gardner, 149 and 147 respectively, of the Foster A.C., presented a highly entertaining grappling match, going ten minutes without a fall. They gave each other the works in approved pro. wrestling style. Jack liked the flying body scissors and tackles, with Mick favoring toe-holds and body slams. Of course, they gave the fans a real variety, including the groans and faces. Nelsons, Jap jack-knives, airplane spins, reverse wrist and head lock and what have you? —all were thrown in. Both boys were tossed gently out of the ring during the fracas, and the crowd which cheered and laughed heartily during the performance, gave the perspiring tusslers a big hand at finish.

AMERICAN SEEKS RICH WIFE

In a case of American apples, opened in Selby, England, market, was a "wife wanted" message, said to have been sent by a man in the United States. To a large apple tied with blue ribbon was attached a message, which is reported to have read: "J. D. Another Girl Columnist

(BY JIMMY THOMPSON.)

Bobby Rosenfeld, one of Canada's outstanding girl athletes, is in Montreal to stay. She is going to write a girls' sport column for the Montreal Herald. It is also rumored that Bobby may play softball for the Murray's Athletic Club with Thelma Lamb and Margaret Devere, former members of the Maple Leafs, Toronto. Bobby is the second girl athlete to work for a Montreal newspaper, Myrtle Cook McGown being with the Montreal Star. She has been a moving spirit in girls' sports since 1923 when she left Barrie, Ontario, to go to Toronto. Since that time she has made herself famous.

MONTE WEAVER WINS FOURTH STRAIGHT FOR WASHINGTON

Former Baltimore Pitcher Allows Five Hits in Tussle With Macks.

YANKEES RETAIN LEAD.

(By Gayle Talbot, A.P. Sports Writer.)

If Monte Weaver of the Washington Senators maintains anything like his present pace, the experts will have practically no difficulty deciding on the American League's outstanding rookie pitcher for 1932.

With four straight victories, including three in a row over the league champion athletics, the slim right-hander from Baltimore promises to eclipse the record set last season by Lefty Gomez, who was conceded the mythical award after winning 21 and losing only 9 for the Yankees.

It took Gomez the entire season to win three from the A's, whereas Weaver already has reached that figure with the season less than three weeks gone. Weaver's only serious rival among the freshmen flingers of his league thus far is Whitlow Wyatt, the Detroit flash, who has won three out of four starts.

Beats Earnshaw 2—1

The Senators' sensation bested the veteran George Earnshaw, 2-1, yesterday in scoring his third straight over the Mackmen. In addition to holding the A's to five hits and stopping them dead in the pinches, he scored the winning run in the fifth inning when he singled and was driven in by Joe Cronin.

The win failed to regain the Senators their place at the top of the standing, however, as the Yankees were clubbing out an 8-7 victory over Boston and maintaining their grip by a few assorted percentage points. Every Yank except Sam Byrd joined an assault on four Red hurlers.

Cleveland made it six straight over Western rivals by beating the White Sox, 7-5. The Indians jumped on old Urban Faber for three runs in the seventh to win after Chicago had piled up an early lead on Willis Hudlin. St. Louis and Detroit were rained out.

The Boston Braves, out to prove their early pace was no flash in the pan, trimmed the Giants 8-3, behind Huck Betts' steady curving. It was Betts' second impressive victory over McGraw's pupils. He gave up only six hits, half of them in the first inning. Urbanski hit a double and two singles for the Braves.

Gain on Cubs

The win panted Boston only a half game behind the leading Chicago Cubs, who were held up by rain.

Eppa Rixey gave up 13 hits but had only one bad inning as the Cincinnati Reds made it a pair from Pittsburgh, 6—4. The Reds did a good job of bunching their seven blows off three opposition pitchers.

Chuck Klein, brilliant Phillie outfielder, gave the day's best solo performance in helping submerge the Brooklyn Dodgers, 13-6. His home run with the bases loaded, a double and two singles, drove in six runs.

7-RUN RALLY IN 7TH INNING CLINCHES VICTORY FOR LEAFS

Ray Fritz Continues Slugging Streak, Gets 4 Hits Including Homer.

BEARS INCREASE LEAD.

READING, April 30.— Powerful and opportune hitting swept the Toronto Leafs to a second straight victory over the Reading club here yesterday, the visitors gleaning eleven runs from thirteen safeties, crushing the slumping Keys to register a margin of 11 to 6 and plunging the locals into a sixth successive defeat.

Continuing his dizzy pace at the bat, Ray Fritz, the rookie first-sacker, despatched to Toronto by Detroit to replace Harry Davis, led the Leafs' vicious attack on pitchers Van Alstyne and Zumbro with four stinging blows, including his second home run of the series, and rapped three runs across the plate. Michaels, Doljack and Walker also contributed timely swatting to the Canadian cause with a pair of bingles apiece.

Art Smith was unable to hold the Keys and finally gave way to "Lefty" Milligan in the seventh inning, the eratic southpaw stopping the Keys in fine style, although he left the bases crowded in the ninth as Hubbie Walker snared Herschel Bennett's long fly to end the contest. Brilliant defensive support enabled Smith and Milligan to restrict the Keys to a minimum of runs, considering the fact that they registered a dozen good hits, including Jay Partridge's fourth homer of the season. Michaels, Owen and Morehart made several fine plays to rescue the faltering pitchers.

Support Needed

Gowell Claset, ace southpaw of the Montreal Royals, finally has discovered just what it takes to win a ball game in the International league this season.

Claset, who won 16 games and lost 14 for the Royals last year ranked eleventh in the earned run list, had dropped three games in a row when he took the slab against Jersey City yesterday. Beaten twice already this campaign by 1-0 scores, Claset bore down from the start, allowed only four hits and won, 6-1.

Montreal, weak with the stick in all of Claset's previous appearances, gave him support this time, battering two Skeeter pitchers for 13 hits. One was a home run by Tom Gulley with one on in the eighth.

Increase Lead

The Newark Bears took a two-game lead over the field by whipping the Buffalo Bisons for the second time in as many days, 7-3, while Baltimore moved into third place by nosing out the Rochester Red Wings, 8-7.

Newark collected ten hits off Roy Bergeron including doubles by Rolfe and Walker, triples by Hill and Barrett and a home run by Andy Cohen. Jim Weaver pitched good ball until the seventh when Heine Mueller's pinch double drove in two runs. Don Brennan came in then and held the Bisons without hit or run.

Baltimore had to come from behind to beat Rochester. Trailing 7-5 going into the last half of the ninth, the Orioles pounded Wetherell out of the box and won the game. Jim Stroner's double drove in two runs and Don Heffner's single brought home Stroner with winning counter. Harry Smythe gave the Red Wings only three hits in the last five innings.

OTTAWA STAR HAS FINE CAGE RECORD

Efforts of Leo McCaffery Have Restored Basketball to Capital City.

In ten years competition in league and playoff games, Leo McCaffrey, 29-year-old Ottawa star, has scored an average of 11.6 points for 132 games, a length of play and scoring punch record probably unequalled in the Dominion.

When Montreal Fusiliers eliminated Ottawa Britannias in a recent Dominion senior playdown series, McCaffrey saw his ambition of playing on a Dominion championship team again fade. But it was through no fault of his. Proving himself the best forward in the series, he scored 29 points in two games, a record for Ottawa-Montreal series games.

McCaffrey also holds the record for Montreal-Ottawa play-offs for 13 years in all classes with 73 points scored in an intermediate play-off game in 1926. For the past two years he has led the senior city league in scoring, and while an intermediate led the local circuit for three years—another record.

Volunteering to save the Ottawa and district basket ball league two years ago when it was on its last legs, McCaffrey has been mainly responsible for restoring the popularity of the game in the Capital, and has proved himself as able an executive as he is a player. This past season he was president of the league and manager and coach of the Britannia team as well as the star forward.

U. S. NET STARS MUCH TOO GOOD FOR CANADIANS

Outserved and Outdrove.

WASHINGTON, April 30.—Canada was honorably knocked out of the 1932 Davis Cup tie here yesterday afternoon in straight sets. Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn, the United States doubles champions, outserved and outdrove Dr. Jack Wright and Marcel Rainville to take the deciding match of the contests, 6—2, 6—1, 6—2. The Canadians could not cope with the net-charging tactics of Allison and Van Ryn, and their teamwork, suffering under the slashing attack of the United States stars, did not show its customary smoothness.

A last-minute shift in the plans of Captain Meldrum of the Canadians sent Rainville into action in the place of Walter Martin. The latter had been scheduled originally to pair with Wright, but Captain Meldrum had the option of changing his doubles line-up at any time previous to the match.

The recapitulation of the doubles yesterday discovers similarity to the score of Thursday's singles. Both days the United States players demonstrated superior speed and accuracy, but particularly speed.

Without disparagement of the work of Canada's coming ace, Rainville, the chief glory of the magnificent battle put up by the Canadian team to date goes to the court strategy of the veteran from Vancouver. This afternoon Wright was as steady and collected as on his home court.

Rainville seemed nervous at the start and, although as Canadian hopes sank, he courageously battled away to reach his normal speed, his balls dripped into the net or flew out with disconcerting frequency. Only one occasion did he register an unplayable smash or make one of those applause-raising recoveries from the corner.

Van Ryn and Allison, starting off with supreme confidence, pressed down the Canadian threat from the start with their smashing, charging tactics. They seized every opportunity to take the net, giving their opponents not the least opportunity for the offensive.

Inside Sportin' Dope—By A. Wise Cracker

Mister Sporting Editor:

Well, Mac, I'm writing this a little earlier in the week than usual and right now, as Monsieur Maurice Chevalier would say, my pick for the American League title is floundering around like they ain't going no place but the cellar. Up to this stage them Athaletics has took it on the chin 6 times in 7 stars, and the worst blow of all come when the lowly Bostonians pelted none other than Mister Lefty Grove all over the landscape and beat the A's 10 to 2. Now, Boston used to be just a gushover for Philadelphia, and when they turn on the Mackmen and make a mess of them with the mighty Mister Grove pitching, I got a right to ask you, Mister, where are we heading, if any place? However, I ain't no fair weather booster; I'm still saying, watch them A's before the season is over, and that the team what carries the American League banner into the nest world's serious will 1st have to knock off Mister Mack's lads, and that ain't so easy as some thinks. My choice ain't the only busts of the current season, Mac. You may recall a young fellow by the name Pepper Martin what nearly wrecked the Athaletics single-handed in the last world's serious. This Mister Martin got all the headlines and, according to the raves last fall, was the smartest ball player of them all. Right now Mister Martin is outa of the game, damaged up or something, but before he got hurt he appeared in 8 ball games for St. Louis and had piled up the astounding batting average of .120 and stood 25th in the list, which you got to admit ain't no place for a world's serious star. The old saying in baseball that you're a hero one day and a bum the next runs pretty well true, and both the A's and Mister Martin probably been reminded of it recently.

Box lacrosse is the up and coming game around these parts, Mac, right now, and it looks like a big season. They say the Indians what 1st started lacrosse wouldn't recognize this runt brand, but for all that the modern version is said to be faster than a rum-runner's boat and crammed full of excitement. The boys just naturally turn it on in a big way all through the piece, and they do say the game is liveller than pro hockey. In that case it oughta getta warm welcome.

The Central hardball loop is getting ready for a good season. With 4 teams in line President Collings' circuit oughta have a memorable campaign. Here at home the Petes look to have more material than for some time, and Mister Art Primeau's men will be in the hunt from the beginning. The season opens May 24th, but the Petes don't perform before a home crowd until the 1st week in June. It oughta be a gala opening.

Sportfully yours,

A. WISE CRACKER.

MARKS BROKEN IN PENN RELAYS

George Munger, Pennsylvania All-Around Athlete Wins Decathlon Title.

McCLUSKEY IS WINNER.

PHILADELPHIA, April 30.— (C. P.)—Clipping slightly more than a minute from the former record, Hamilton Collegiate Institute's medley relay team yesterday won the Penn relay carnival's interscholastic medley relay to share the spotlight of record breaking perfomances with Eugene Beatty, Michigan Normal star and Joe McCluskey, Fordham University athlete.

The Hamiltonians outclassed a field of 40 teams to win the medley in 7:47.4 for the 1¾ miles. The former record of 7:48.8 was established in 1929.

There was never any doubt of the outcome after Fred Shaver, Canada's school boy wonder, running the first 880, put Hamilton in front by 30 yards. Capt. Moore ,anchor man, finished the contest 60 yards in the van of his nearest rival. Previously the Hamiltonians had set a blistering pace in the preliminary heats to qualify for the final.

Overcomes Handicap.

McCluskey picked himself off the turf and ran 'em down to win the 300-metre steeplechase ,feature event.

This powerful youngster not only came from behind in sensational style after tumbling over an early barrier but covered the obstacle-strewn route in the fastest time ever registered in this country, 9 minutes, 28.6 seconds. He beat his own United States' record of 9:37, set at the Penn relays last spring, and turned a 20-yard deficit on the bel lap into a 50-yard margin of victory over J. C. Watson of Indiana.

Keep Title in Family.

In the 400-metre hurdles Beatty won in 53.3 seconds. In the absence of Barney Berlinger, who had won the event for three straight years for the University of Pennsylvania, the Decathlon title was kept in the family by George Munger, another Penn all-round star.

Munger finished strong to overcome Joe Hall of Florida and two other rivals, Saxe of Colagte and Pohl of Delaware, but the winner's total of 7,324 points did not menace Berlinger's carnival record or stamp Munger as an Olympic prospect now.

Other relay winners yesterday and their performances; Inter-Collegiate quarter-mile, Ohio State, :42 seconds; sprint medley, Penn State, 3:28 3-5; distance medley, New York University, 10:21 3-5; Interscholastic quarter mile, Mercerburg Academy, Pa., 43 seconds.

EIGHT TEAMS IN SOFTBALL LEAGUE

Entry Fees and Opening Date Set at Organization Meeting of Church Loop.

Eight teams entered the Church Softball League at the first meeting of the year held last night in the Court House. Entry fees and date were set and May 9th decided upon tentatively as the opening day of the schedules. A good representation was on hand and the work was handled capably and in short order.

Two sections comprise this league, seniors with an age limit of twenty-one years and juniors of sixteen and under. Teams were entered in both divisions by Knox, George Street, Mark Street and Trinity. Two more teams in each section are expected to round out the circuit. It was agreed that May 4th would be closing date for entries, and a fee of one dollar must accompany each application. May 9th is the proposed date for the opening of the schedules, which will be double ones, each team playing the other twice.

Harold Rehill will consider new entries and draw up the playing schedules. The first and second teams will play off as usual at the end, two of three games, for the divisional championship and shields offered by the Boys' Work Board. The games will all be played at the Queen Mary School grounds, with umpires appointed by the teams as in previous years. After other details had been discussed by those present, the meeting adjourned.

SPORTS Day by Day

HOCKEY, BOWLING, CURLING, BASKETBALL AND BOXING

CASUAL COMMENT

The war vets had a good turnout at the Alpha Club boxing show for their benefit last night, and fans had some good entertainment. Outside of the main bout, it was all worth seeing. And that last one was for anyone interested in infighting, as that was practically all it showed. Amato had to sacrifice too much in weight and reach to do any effective work on. Both fighters are first-class, but don't go well together.

• • • • • • •

No one could kick about the Jarvis-Watson scrap, nor the fight between McIlmoyle and Spanis. The latter shows he has had good ring training in Barrie and would put up a real battle against a boy his own weight. Art Hunter had been billed to box him, but suffered a strained ligament in his left ankle and could not possibly go on. Art hopes to meet him before long, and it will be a fight.

• • • • • • •

They all look alike to Roy Hope—Lindsay, Toronto, white or colored. He didn't fool with White, Toronto Negro at all. Just felt him out for a minute, then got to work on him. He lowered White's guard with a couple of vicious drives to the body and then stepped in to meet him with a short right jolt that reminded one of Dempsey's famous "Mary Ann", the wicked left hook that made ring history.

• • • • • • •

It was several minutes later in the dressing-room before the colored boy knew what happened, and about that time he must have wished he was back picking cotton in Alabam', or someplace. At that, White looked as if he knew quite a bit about the game when he started. He probably didn't think it was possible for a lightweight to pack such a wallop. Why you could almost hear the windows rattle when that right hand bounced off the Negro's chin!

• • • • • • •

Hope is coming along fine, and if is gradually matched with better boys should make himself a real rep. He wasn't sent to the semi-finals in Toronto this year, because he is not ready yet, but a year should find him okay. Right now, he would hardly be an even match for Art Woods.

• • • • • • •

Woods is a shifty scrapper and nice to watch. He had no difficulty outpointing George Prince in the semi-final, though the latter was game, tough and willing to mix it. Art can sock like a mule with his right while his left is also used for something more than just forking food into him. He is due to tangle with the Quebec champion at the Toronto Lion's Club show Monday, and that's one night he will have to be at his very best.

• • • • • • •

Quite a bit of work will be cleaned up at the East Peterborough League meeting at eight bells in Duffus' to-night. Four teams are expected to enter again, officers will be elected, delegates for the local Baseball Commission appointed, and all that. The Intermediate "A" Loop is looking for a big year again.

• • • • • • •

The Petes this summer are due to bring back the Art Johnston Cup, emblematic of the C.O.B.L. title, as we haven't had it here since '27. Before that, it was won by Peterborough just once, in 1920. The main winner of that trophy is Belleville, who has copped it seven times, no less. Kingston captured it three times and Oshawa once. As the four Central League clubs start shuffling up again with a new deck, it looks to us as if the Petes or the Ponies will get the cards this time.

• • • • • • •

Four junior and four senior teams have so far entered the Church Softball League, and a couple more outfits are likely to get into both divisions. Some nifty softball games were run off by this circuit last summr, many of the outstanding players in town being on the various line-ups. The games this season will be at Queen Mary School grounds, starting about a week from Monday and running a double schedule.

• • • • • • •

The soccer moguls go into a huddle at the Chamber of Commerce on Monday eve at eight o'clock to draw up the league schedule and arrange for cup ties. Representatives will be here from Port Hope and Deloro, as well as the local teams. Yes, sir, things are moving along as old April bows herself weepingly off the stage.

Appoint Receiver For Detroit Club

DETROIT, April 30.—A receiver was appointed yesterday to take over the assets of the Detroit Hockey Club which controls Olympia Arena. On petition of Union Guardian Trust Co., as trustee, for apointment of a reciver to handle the affairs of the club, Judge Joseph A. Moynihan named the trust company as receiver to conserve the assets of the organization.

It is likely that Judge Moynihan, an ardent sportsman, will take an active part in the management of the club.

The Detroit Hockey Club in 1927 issued $800,000 gold bonds, upon which the Union Guardian holds a mortgage. It was set forth that $660,000 is still outstanding and that payments have been defaulted. Among the assets of the hockey club, besides Olympia are the club's franchises in the National and International leagues and its contracts with players. Louis J. Giffels has been engaged by the trust company to manage the building.

U.S. OLYMPIC TEAM MAY BE CUT DOWN

Campaign for Funds Not as Successful as Anticipated.

PHILADELPHIA, April 30.— The United States Olympic team faces a financial crisis which, if not relieved by the campaign for funds between now and July, will result in sharp reduction of the athletic forces representing this country in the international sports at Los Angeles.

In connection with his call for a special meeting of the United States Olympic Committee here this Sunday to consider this critical situation, Avery Brundage of Chicago, President of the committee, as well as President of the National Amateur Athletic Union, said:

"This meeting has been called to discuss ways and means of cutting down the United States team, depending on the outcome of our campaign for money. In any event, we are faced with the sharp necessity for economy.

"My associates, I am sure, agree with me that we must not prepare to spend money that we will not collect.

"If it means that we cannot raise enough money to send more than half a dozen athletes to Los Angeles, why, we will not send more than half a dozen."

To date approximately $40,000 has been obtained toward the aggregate 1932 United States Olympic fund of $350,000 fixed for the handling of a full delegation in all sports.

SOCCER MEETING MONDAY EVENING.

A special meeting of the local soccer association will be held on Monday evening, in Chamber of Commerce Rooms, at 8 o'clock prompt.

LEVINSKY BEATEN BY MICKEY WALKER

CHICAGO, April 30. — Mickey Walker, a great little battler, outweighed 23 pounds, bounced off the canvas in the first round to conquer "King" Levinsky in a viciously fought 10-round battle in the Chicago Stadium last night.

The verdict, however, was not unanimous, although it was generally popular with the howling crowd of 20,000. Referee Eddie Purdy voted in favor of Levinsky, while the two judges cast their ballots for Walker.

Walker, knocked flat on his back in the first round by a terrific left hook that followed a right-hand blast to the head, jumped to his feet without taking a count. He was blinking and bewildered, but the courageous fighting instinct that brought him the welterweight and middleweight championships enabled him to survive the storm of gloves that Levinsky threw at him.

Wrestling Last Night.

HUDSON, Mass.—Lee Wykoff, 225, St. Louis, defeating Jim Heslin, 228, Australia, straight falls, 23:13 and 5:06.

ROCHESTER, N. Y.—Henri Deglane, France, threw George Zarynoff, Russia, 21:23; Joe Malcewicz, Utica, drew with Jim Browning, St. Louis, 30:00.

CINCINNATI — Ed (Strangler) Lewis, 220, defeated Milo Steinborne, 230, Germany, straight falls 16:45 and 0:55; Wildcat McCann, Portland, Ore., threw Ray Meyers, Toledo, 11:30; Cyclone Burns, Palm Beach, Fla., threw Hy Sharman, Salt Lake City, 17:51, Frank Brunowica, Poland, drew with George Zaharias, Pueblo, Colo.

New Play-Off System In N.H.L.

Not satisfied with the present play-off system, National League magnates have suggested that a change be made. It is suspected that Art Ross of the Boston Bruins has originated the latest scheme, which is as follows:

"That the second and third teams should play off two games on the ice of the second team, with the majority of goals to count. This play-off would take place simultaneously in each section. The winners would then meet the first-place team on the latter's ice in two games, with the majority of goals to count. The survivors would then have their five-game series, if necessary, which would, considered logically, be between clubs which beyond cavil are the strongest in their sections.

"It is an idea which is gaining ground among the magnates, a suggestion which has the stamp of merit; should be approved of, though some opposition may develop."—Toronto Globe.

Boston-Chicago Sox Finish Player Deal

BOSTON, April 30.—The Boston Red Sox management last night announced it had traded Charley Berry, first-string catcher to the Chicago White Sox for Outfielders Johnny Watwood and Smead Jolley, and Benny Tate, a catcher. In another deal with the White Sox, Jack Rothrock, Red Sox utility outfielder for the past five seasons, was sold for the $7,500 waiver price.

President Bob Quinn explained he was seeking additional hitting strength, which the Red Sox have needed for several seasons. Berry, although one of the most dependable receivers in the league, has been a streaky but heavy hitter.

The acquisition of the White Sox trio, Watwood especially, Quinn predicted, would give his club added punch. They will join the club here in time for Sunday's game with the Athletics.

Bathing Accommodations Turn Up As New Worries Of Olympic Committee

LOS ANGELES, April 29 (C.P.). — Members of the committee arranging accommodations for visiting Olympic Games athletes next summer, are worried about baths.

It's not their own ablutions, of course, but those of Japan and Finland.

The Nipponese are accustomed to a huge tub, large enough for 15 men to stand around and splash chilly water on each other; that can be arranged.

Runar Ohls, Finnish attache, has informed the committee hot rocks and birch twigs will be in demand when athletes from his country arrive. The rocks are heated and then doused with cold water. The steam rises to elevated shelves upon which the pride of Finland's manhood reclines after every gruelling athletic contest. After the steam relaxes the athletes, they leap from their shelves and belabor each other with the birch wands to stimulate circulation.

The art of baking also puzzles. For three days the officials have been collecting samples of pumpernickel, rye, cracked wheat, graham, and white bread in long, round, shot, fat, skimpy, dimpled and bulging loaves. They hope to find local bakers who know the art in each variety and nationality.

The Eighteenth Amendment has saved Games officials considerable trouble regarding beverages.

MAN FOUND ON TRACKS WITH HIS THROAT CUT

TORONTO, April 30 (C.P.). — With throat gashed, the bruised body of a well-dressed man about 35 years of age was found on the railway tracks near Long Branch to-day. Police were unable to establish identification as only a railway ticket was found on his person. The ticket was good between Toronto and Guelph and was dated April 27.

Thirty-five cents in silver was found near the body, which was discovered by sectionmen. The man had not been killed by a train.

JERRY IS BASHFUL.

With strangers always modest be,
Content to merely hear and see.
—Jerry Muskrat.

Paddy the Beaver and Mrs. Paddy appeared to have forgotten the tree that Paddy had just cut down and was yet to be cut up into logs. They were heading for the dam at the lower end of the pond and swimming as if they were in a hurry. There being nothing else to do, Jerry Muskrat followed. They made their way around the end of the dam, down the Laughing Brook and so into the lower pond, which was older and bigger than the upper pond. At once Jerry saw a dozen great birds on the water in the middle of the pond, their long necks stretched up as they looked and listened watchfully. Not a sound escaped one of them, although a short time before as they had approached that pond they had been gabbling noisily.

As Paddy and Mrs. Paddy approached one of the great birds swam out from the others and gave a low honk. Jerry knew then that this was Honker the Goose of whom he often had heard, and whom he had seen leading his flock high in the sky. Honker and his flock never had stopped at the Smiling Pool, for the latter was too small and too open. But each year they visited Paddy's pond deep in the Green Forest. Honker and Paddy were old friends.

"Welcome!" cried Paddy.

"K'honk," replied Honker, which presumably meant, "Thank you."

"Have you flown a long distance today?" inquired Paddy.

"Indeed we have," replied Honker. "We have been flying ever since it was light enough to see anything. We haven't stopped for either food or water. We wanted to get here before dark if possible and here we are. This is one place where we always feel safe. Goodness knows we need it! Safe places are few and far between these days."

Jerry swam a little nearer, but he took pains not to draw attention to himself. Somehow these great birds were so much bigger than he had expected that they made him feel rather small and of little account. Mr. and Mrs. Quack the Mallard Duck and other members of the Duck family he had long known. In fact they were very good friends. He had considerable respect for them. But he wasn't afraid of them. But as he saw the length of the necks of Honker and his flock he realized with what tremendous force one of them could drive the stout bill at one, and something more than respect, something very like fear, took possession of Jerry. He decided then and there that he would be very careful not to draw attention to himself.

Honker gave a low signal and at once all those long necks which had been held so rigidly erect were lowered and the big birds began to swim about. While some began preening their feathers, others began looking for food on the muddy bottom, and between times all did a great deal of gabbling.

"What a noisy crowd," thought Jerry. "Never have I heard such gabble, gabble, gabble. If they gabble like this all the time I am glad they are not neighbors of mine. It sounds to me like a lot of talk that doesn't mean anything. It must be that they like the sound of their own voices, for no one appears to be paying any attention to any one else. Some people are that way. Here comes Honker swimming this way. It may be all right sometimes to be seen and not heard, but there are other times when it seems to me wiser still to be neither seen nor heard, and this is one of them."

Jerry, who had had only his nose above water, drew a long breath, sank below the surface and swam under water to Paddy's house. Where the Black Shadows were blackest close to this he came up again, and there he floated and watched and listened. He was bashful. Yes, sir, for once in his life Jerry Muskrat was bashful. Those birds were too big and they gabbled too much for him to feel at all at ease.

What To-Day Means To You

"TAURUS"

If April 30th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., from 3:30 p.m. to 4:30 p.m., and from 10 p.m. to midnight. The danger hours are from 8 a.m. to 10:30 a.m. and from 8:30 p.m. to 10 p.m.

Fate will seem to be for, not against, you on April 30th, and it will not be difficult to materialize plans and to execute ideas. It will be a good time to spring difficult requests or to try doubtful experiments. Favors travels.

The child born on this April 30th will find itself in a difficult world because of its disposition and nature. It will be lacking in self-confidence, and will have a blunted sense of humor. It will be extremely conscientious, and will strongly desire to do and to be right.

Born on an April 30th, your exterior self is fascinating and you create wonderful first impressions, and are at once recognized as a significant human being. It is easy for you to adapt yourself to gay and general intercourse, and you know how to please your audience. Your interest, however, in everyone is largely selfish in what you can get from them or through them. You are a sentimentalist—a taster of emotions. On the one hand, you have keen perception, unusual gifts and decided charm; on the other hand, you are cold, cruel and fickle.

You are not fond of hard work, and you always use your wits to save your hands and feet. You are always willing to accept a lift, but you give few lifts to others gratis. You can dream, plan, promote or organize, but you are not fitted to execute your own plans or those of others. You are a most convincing talker or writer, but a poor doer. You make many friends who are able to help you, in both a social and business way.

Your position in life will be raised through marriage. Your greatest sorrows and disappointments in life will come through those of the opposite sex. Your eyes are blind when your heart is touched. You are not strong enough to resist flattery.

Sunday, May 1st.

If May 1st is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8 a.m. to 10:15 a.m., from 1 p.m. to 3 p.m., and from 7:15 p.m. to 9 p.m. The danger hour is from 5:30 p.m. to 6:30 p.m.

Disquieting influences will be in force on May 1st and too much thought or worry about personal relationships should be avoided. The restless atmosphere will not be good for the usual "Day of Rest," and you will start off the new week with a pessimistic foot.

The child born on this May 1st will have a refined, gentle nature, and will only fight when driven intothe corner. Upon occasion it can show sufficient grit and pluck, however. It will have a mentality above the average.

You are, if born on May 1st, a very serious minded person, and you live for your work whatever it may be. If you are a housewife, your horizon extends but little beyond your own door, and your interests are all centered upon your family.

If a man, you bury yourself in your job to the exclusion of all else, and you do not know how to leave the office behind, when you depart. You are only happy when talking "shop." Both men and women should try to broaden their outlook through hobbies, and should find other anchorages in case their one and only one should be destroyed.

No great talent has been given you, but you are able to turn a clever hand to many things. You do things thoroughly, and you put your mind on the task of the moment. It is rather difficult for you to differentiate between the importance of details, and you perhaps waste time on things unworthy of your exacting methods. You step lively when Duty calls.

You do not worry much about other people's opinions, and you are brave enough to live your own life in your own way. You are most unaffected and natural, and you never try to "show off" in order to gain prestige. You are not sociable enough to make many friends, but you always keep those you have through your own loyalty. You are very domesticated, and love both children and animals.

15,000 Boys Are Busy

With living-rooms turned into work shops, and attic or cellar nooks in houses large and small set up with carpenter's benches, 15,000 Canadian boys are now busily at work on the construction of miniature model Napoleonic coaches. In all centres of the Dominion, boys are poring over detailed plans, using minute tools in expert craftsmanship and moulding elaborate and beautiful coaches into shape. They are members of the Fisher Body Craftsman's Guild and are giving of their best in fine workmanship to earn some of the generous awards the Guild is offering to the youth of Canada and the United States this year in the $75,000 coach-building competition.

Enrollments in the Canadian Section of the Guild this year have exceeded all expectations, and indicate a keen interest among the younger generation in work that develops the skill of craftsmanship and induces ingenuity and perseverance.

This enthusiasm among Canadians was predicted by R. S. McLaughlin, president of General Motors of Canada, and president, also, of the Canadian section of the Guild, when, through his efforts, the competition was extended to Canada this year. Mr. McLaughlin, himself a master craftsman in the days of the old McLaughlin Carriage Company, is deeply interested in the very type of work the Guild is fostering, and on numerous occasions has emphasized the advantages the Guild offers in its type of training, fitting young men, as it does, to play a much-needed master craftsman's role in this industrial age, and to become better citizens.

The Guild members have until July to complete their miniature models. During that month, judging will take place, with separate contests in each of seven districts in Canada. The judging for the whole of the Dominion will be under the supervision of Brig.-Gen. C. H. Mitchell, Dean of the Faculty of Applied Science, University of Toronto; and M. Augustin Frigon, Director of Technical Education for the Province of Quebec and Dean of Ecole Polytechnic, University of Montreal.

The boys who build the two best models in each of the Canadian districts will receive, in addition to $100 in cash, free trips to attend the Guild Convention in Detroit in August, where their coaches will be judged in the International competition for four 4-year University Scholarships, valued at $5,000 each.

BRIDGENORTH

The Selwyn Young People's Union met on Thursday evening at the home of Isaac Elliott, Clayton Fitzgerald, the president, was in charge. A short program was given and the remainder of the evening spent in playing games, singing and in social intercourse. A dainty lunch was served. There were about forty present and all felt that they had had almost the most pleasant meeting of the season.

Millbrook

A meeting of special interest for the Institute Branches of East Durham is called for Tuesday, May 3, at 3.30 p.m., in the Town Hall, when Colonel E. E. Snyder, P.S.I., of Port Hope will address the gathering on the subject, "Teaching Music in the Schools." The school trustees of the village and surrounding school sections are especially invited to attend.

The Young People's Society of Grace Presbyterian Church, and the Centreville church, will hold a joint meeting at the latter point, on Monday, May 2, as the closing gathering for the present season. LINDSAY WOMAN'S CASE IS DISMISSED

LINDSAY, April 30 (Examiner Correspondence).—At a session of the Supreme Court of Ontario (non jury) held at the local court house on Thursday, His Lordship, Mr. Justice Wright dismissed without costs the action Mrs. W. E. Mason of Lindsay vs. Frank Smith of Madoc. This case had to do with a promissory note. In her claim, Mrs. Mason asked for $1,000 and interest on a note which was made out in 1928 by Dr. Frank Fraser, of Madoc, on the ground that Mr. Smith was a co-maker of the note. At the first of the action both Fraser and Smith were sued, and since the former did not protest, judgment was given against him. Smith pleaded that he was only an endorser and not a maker of the note. At the Spring Assizes before Justice Raney, counsel for Smith asked permission to amend his pleadings to include that there had been material alteration of the note. This was granted on condition that Smith would bear all costs pursuant to amendment. The evidence disclosed on Thursday showed that Fraser had changed the note, changing the interest from being payable yearly to payable half yearly. The action was dismissed without costs.

Some fifteen creamery men from Peterborough and Victoria Counties attended an interesting and profitable conference in the Agricultural Department office here last night. H. Sproule, of the Dairy Department, Ontario Agriculture College. Subjects dealt with were the grading of cream, grading of butter, improvement in quality of cream brought to creamery and method of keeping the over-run in butter down to the lowest possible point.

ONE OF FIVE JAP WAR OFFICIALS DIES OF WOUNDS

Three of Remaining Victims, of Bomb Hurled by Korean, Recovering.

MODERATE REACTION.

No Protest Likely as Attacker Was Japanese Subject—Peace Parley Interrupted.

SHANGHAI, April 30. (AP)—One of the five high Japanese officials severely injured by a bomb explosion in Hongkew Park yesterday, Y. Kawabata, president of the Shanghai Japanese residents' association, died to-day.

Of the other four, Mamoru Shigemitsu, Japanese minister to China, was in the most serious danger. Thirty-two pieces of the hand grenade alleged to have been thrown by Yin Kitsu, a Korean revolutionary from Manchuria, entered M. Shigemutsu's body. He passed a fairly good night at the hospital, however, and was said to be bearing up as well as could be expected.

Three Recovering

The other victims, General Yoshinori Shirakawa, Major General Kenkichi Uyeda and Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, were recovering.

The other victims, General Yoshinori Shirakawa, Major General Kenkichi Uyeda and Admiral Kichisaburo Nomura, were recovering. General Shirakawa, Commander in Chief of the Japanese land forces here, lost all his teeth and was suffering from severe bruises on the upper part of his body. Admiral Nomura lost an eye and was seriously wounded in the head.

LITTLE REACTION.

TOKYO, April 30 (C.P.). — Reaction to the bomb attack on the Japanese officials at Shanghai yesterday was kept studiously moderate here to-day in all responsible quarters, and it was stated it was not expected it would affect Sino-Japanese relations at Shanghai.

No protest was contemplated by the Government, since the scene of the bombing was under temporary occupation by the Japanese military and the thrower of the bomb was a Japanese subject.

Minister Shigemitsu, in spite of his injuries, dictated a number of despatches to the Government from his bed at Shanghai, describing the incident and expressing regret that he would be unable to continue the peace negotiation for the time being. He stressed the importance of concluding a peace agreement as soon as possible, however.

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION. NO. 84 By Edgar Rice Burroughs

(Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

Esteban now remembered the little sack which he had taken from Kraski. "It feels like ammunition enough to kill a regiment," he said, untying the thongs that held it closed. He let some of the contents spill upon the hut's floor. As the sparkling stones rolled scintillating before their eyes, the girl gasped. "Diamonds!" exclaimed the Spaniard. "Where could he have gotten them?"

Flora Hawkes' eyes narrowed. Awakened was the always present greed that dominated her. Now equally powerful, was her hatred for the Spaniard. Could he but have known it, those gleaming gems had crystallized at last in the woman's mind a determination to slay Esteban while he slept. Before this, she had been afraid of being left alone in the jungle. Now the desire to possess this great wealth overcame her terror.

Tarzan, ranging the jungle, picked up the trail of the fleeing slaves of the Arabs and the various bands of west coast natives. All told him the same story—none had seen Luvini since the night of the battle and the fire. So occupied was the ape-man with his search and his sorrow, he had not noticed that the sack of diamonds was missing. Suddenly he recalled the night by the camp fire with the three white men and missed the sack.

"They must have taken them," he muttered to Jad-bal-ja; and then at the thought of their perfidy, the scarlet scar flamed brilliantly upon his forehead. "Come," he said to the golden lion, "as we search for Luvini we shall look for these others also." He found the spoor of Kraski's trail and at sundown came suddenly upon the same rude hut that the ill-fated Russian had approached a few days before.

Intoxicated Driver Is Given Ten Days

LINDSAY, Ont., April 30 (Special to Examiner)—Clifford Duby, of 23 Humber Boulevard, Toronto, was picked up at one a.m. by Constable Hodgson and locked in the cells on the charge of being intoxicated while driving a motor car. He pleaded guilty before Magistrate Jordan, and was sentenced to ten days in jail, his license being cancelled. A companion, Neill McKenna, of the same address, was charged with consuming liquor and was fined twenty dollars and costs. McKenna's fine was paid by Duby, who had a considerable sum of money on his person when arrested. Duby was in a bad state of intoxication when arrested. He had run his car into a ditch on the highway, without causing damage. When he stalled his car on Lindsay's main street he could not get it started. Constable Hodgson approached him and found that Duby did not know his own name, and while talking with the officer a bottle of beer fell out on the street.

Fire, Water And Light Committee Turns In General Fire Alarm

In an efficiency test conducted by Alderman J. A. McNabb chairman of the Fire, Water and Light Committee last evening, members of Peterborough Fire Department were not found wanting.

Ringing in an alarm from Box 54 at Hunter and Mark streets at 9.06 p.m. Alderman McNabb and other members of the City Council had the satisfaction of seeing the brigade in action exactly 4, minutes and 2 seconds later, this despite the fact that they lost 30 seconds on the way to the alarm with the stop lights at Hunter and Water streets against them.

Alderman McNabb in expressing complete satisfaction with the results of the test, told The Examiner this morning that in responding to the alarm the Reo hose truck, the ladder truck and chief's car had to cover a distance of nine-tenths of a mile. Within a period of 1 minute and 2 seconds after arrival at the box the men had 100-feet of hose connected to the hydrant and a stream of water ready for action. The operations were directed by Fire Chief George Gimblett.

Inaugurating the "Clean-up; Paint-up; Give-a-man-a-job" Campaign the firefighters again turned out at 3 a.m. tod-ay and flushed the busienss section of the city from Brock to King streets on George and from Water to Aylmer streets on Charlotte.

ACCEPT INVITATION
The members of Hiawatha Encampment No. 66 I.O.O.F. left here this afternoon to accept the invitation of the Toronto district to exemplify the Golden Rule Degree in the Odd Fellows Temple on College St., Toronto. CONSTIPATION

A lack of tone or flabbiness of the muscular walls of the intestines is responsible for many cases of constipation. The intestinal wastes are not expelled regularly and re-absorption of poisons takes place. The sufferer becomes mentally and physically sluggish and the body gradually becomes so laden with poisons that it readily becomes susceptible to almost any disease.

CHIROPRACTIC
has aided in the correction of many cases of constipation, because it restores normal nerve force to the intestinal walls, toning up their muscles and giving them the energy necessary for normal activity.

KANSAS CITY'S EXPERIENCE IS TOLD TO ROTARY

Ryerson Ritchie Relates Story of How Western City Has Been Transformed.

COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Organization Turned Ugly Town Into Most Beautiful American City.

Out the wealth of his experience in Chamber of Commerce organization work, Ryerson Ritchie, Peterborough citizen, whose reputation in such activities spreads over the continent, told the Peterborough Rotary Club at its weekly luncheon to-day the interesting story of how the Commercial Club had transformed Kansas City into the most beautiful city in the United States. Mr. Ritchie's address was a revelation of what could be accomplished by vision and co-operation on the part of leading citizens in any community.

A visitor to-day was Ed. Otter, of the National Council of the Y.M.-C.A., who was introduced by Rotarian George A. Gillespie, and in a brief speech focussed attention on this week's campaign in behalf of the local Y.M.C.A.

Mr. Otter recounted the success of recent campaigns in other centers to prove the point that in this period of economic stress the wisdom of standing behind such institutions as the Y.M.C.A. was generally recognized. The speaker urged support for the local drive, remarking that the on-coming generation deserved its chance.

Tickets for the Rotary Carnival draw were distributed to the team captains by Rotarian George A. Gillespie, and Rotarian J. H. Seels announced the opening of headquarters in the old LeBrun store. Two electric heaters and a typewriter requisitioned by Rotarian Seels were quickly proffered.

President Downey read a letter from M. J., Hutchinson expressing thanks for the Peterborough club's congratulation on his election to the presidency of the Toronto Rotary Club. It was intimated that Mr. Hutchinson might address the local club in the near future.

In his address, Mr. Ritchie told of his experiences in Kansas City in regard to the activities of the Commercial Club. At the time of the organization of that institution, he said that Kansas City was not a great deal larger than Peterborough but was much more ugly, with ramshackle buildings and little real architecture. However, the community was lucky in the quality of its citizenship and the Commercial Club was able from its inception to work for the building of the city.

One of the first aims was the development of trade, and Mr. Ritchie told how great strides had been made in that direction by means of

Only 244 Complete Elections —Second Ballot May 8 in 359 Seats.

HERRIOT PLEASED.

PARIS, May 2 (C.P. Cable).—The slight swing towards the Left in yesterday's French general elections, becoming more pronounced with later returns to-day, led former Premier Edouard Herriot to declare: "I counted on victory, and it is ours. It is a strongly-marked swing to the Left."

Herriot is the chief opponent of Premier Andre Tardieu. The latter's party, the Left Republicans, were the chief sufferers losing eight seats and gaining one.

Heavy Vote

But the expected swing to the Left—it was to the Right in the last elections in 1928—was not so much a matter of seats gained or lost, as the proportion of voting. The vote on the first ballot yesterday was very heavy.

The first ballot produced only 244 complete elections. In the remaining 359 seats of the 615, there will be a second ballot next Sunday because a candidate yesterday failed to get a majority over all opponents combined in these seats on the first ballot. Next Sunday, it is only necessary for a candidate to head the poll.

Of the seats which must be contested again in the vitally important run-off election, 190 are normally government supporters and 150 normally supporters of the Opposition, the rest being Independent.

The Standing

Ind. Radicals	24

QUEBEC VILLAGE LOSES 17 HOMES, STORES IN FIRE

$300,000 DAMAGE.

Citizens Who Escaped Loss Aid Homeless Neighbors— No Lives Lost.

ST. FELICIEN, Que., May 2. —(C.P.)— A rapidly spreading fire fanned by a brisk wind destroyed 17 homes and stores here before volunteer fire fighters subdued the flames early to-day. Unconfirmed reports placed damages at $300,000. The fire started in a barber shop and raced unchecked through the frame buildings in the neighborhood.

Volunteer firemen struggled with hoses and pumps and turned several streams of water on the roaring blaze that forced them slowly backward. Householders dragged furniture and household goods to safety as the fire threatened to raze the entire village.

Stops at Church.

A space of clear land about the parish church acted as a stop gap for the flames and the firemen re-organized their battle and stamped out the fire after several hours of hot work.

No lives were lost, and to-day villagers went about the task of raking the ruins for personal belongings they had been unable to rescue.

Other citizens will come to the aid of the homeless and house them until arrangements can be made to rebuild the part of the village destroyed by the fire.

A garage containing several automobiles was in the path of the fire and went up in a puff of black smoke.

MYSTERY MAN IS STILL AT LARGE

Accousted Just Once in a Joking Way on Saturday.

NOT INFORMATION BUREAU

(By Mr. Clean-up.)

Our first day in the role of Mr. Clean-up was uneventful. We were accosted just once by an acquaintance who jokingly said: "You wouldn't be the mystery man, would you?" And we evaded that suggestion with a reply, "No chance," or something like that. You know, smart and witty. This isn't an information bureau we're trying to get away with this week. If you want seven dollars, Tuesday, you must follow the regulation route. "You're Mr. Clean-Up," and produce a sales slip for a purchase of some article that day. We chatted with several farmers on the market, and in the afternoon visited several stores, and watched the motor parade down on Charlotte street. With all that display of smart jobs from the motor factories we simply couldn't decide off hand which one we liked the best. We had a deflated feeling like a dozen eggs on tax day. Then that unfortunate accident up George street made us forget ourselves. It was certainly deplorable, and everybody sympathized with the people who were hurt, especially those who had come in to the city to do their shopping. Well, contrary to instructions there are no tips for to-morrow ,except that if you see some tall important looking gentleman and take him for Mr. Clean-Up, pass him by. We're not in Tom Miller's class and would never get into the Guards. Look them over around five feet eight or nine.

ELECTION SEEN AFTER PARLEY

PARTIES PREPARING.

CALGARY, May 2 (C.P.). — The Calgary Albertan, in its news columns to-day, stated that rumors in political circles forecast a general Dominion election, "following the close of the Imperial Conference at Ottawa in July." It is reported also, the paper adds, that "a national party is in progress of formation in Toronto, and an announcement in regard to it is expected in the course of a week or so."

The Albertan adds:

"While it is generally conceded that the calling of a general election in July or August will depend upon the success of the Ottawa Conference, it is understood that leaders of other political parties are completing all necessary preparations for a campaign.

The mooted National Party is expected to have its inception among members of the League of Social Reconstruction, in the parent body of the organization in Toronto."

FIERCE RIOTING MARS PARADES IN MOST CITIES

FIGHT IN ROUYN.

Citizens Aid Constables in Free-for-all at Sudbury— Many Injured.

(By the Canadian Press).

Many alleged Communists to-day are held under arrest following fierce May Day rioting in three Canadian towns and cities yesterday, while many others as well as police and spectators, are nursing injuries, none of which is serious.

At Hamilton a parade of several hundred persons, said by police to have been organized by Communists, was broken up through the combined efforts of constables and the fire department, whose men turned six lines of hose on the demonstrators. The latter replied by throwing a few rocks and hitting two policemen. Sixteen were arrested. One woman was hurt when a stream of water from a hose struck her. More than 225 policemen were paraded to Woodlands Park armed with tear gas bombs, which they did not find it necessary to use.

Rouyn, Que., saw what for a time threatened to be a serious riot when alleged Communists outside a Ukrainian hall attempted to deliver speeches. Police who had gathered to watch the meeting interfered at once and appeared to have the situation fairly well in hand when an unidentified woman rushed out of the crowd and struck Chief Constable Lapointe a resounding smack in the face.

Police Charge.

As the chief sought to apprehend the woman, a man who subsequently escaped, struck him. The Chief gave the order and his men charged the crowd with drawn batons. The demonstrators retaliated by hurling stones and pieces of wood at the police. They were beaten back, however, carrying several injured comrades while they covered their retreat with a hail of stones.

Shortly afterwards, encouraged by a number of women who began singing The Internationale, they reformed and defied efforts of the police and fire department to disperse them. Firemen turned a hose on them, but a man ran from their ranks with an axe and cut the hose in two. He escaped in the crowd as police chased him. Finally twenty special constables were rushed to the scene, and the mob was broken up.

Four men and one woman were arrested following the disturbance and to-day were lodged in jail awaiting hearing in court. Police last night placed a heavy guard about the jail, fearing attempts might be made to liberate the pris-

Police Plan To Curb Reckless Driving

Motorists who speed across intersections and who carelessly turn corners into pedestrian traffic are going to receive full police attention, and if they persist in such recklessness will find themselves in court, Chief of Police Newhall said to-day in issuing his warning.

Chief Newhall stated: "There has been altogether too much speeding across intersections and its going to stop. Also some motorists have been endangering the lives of pedestrians by the careless way they make left and right turns at corners."

Police were busy Saturday checking up on these infringements of the Motor Vehicle Act, and half a dozen summons will be issued to motorists who were observed flagrantly breaking the law.

"If it persists I shall make a real drive on motorists," threatened Chief Newhall. "Plainclothesmen will be placed at main corners and many more drivers will pay in court for their careless or fast driving."

The appointment is for life and gives the right to sit on the Police Court Bench and try cases, and have affidavits sworn out before him.

Driverless Auto Runs Into Crowd On George Street

Car Stalls at Intersection of Hunter and George Street and While Driver Was Cranking it the Car Shot Forward.

CUT SWATH THROUGH THE CROWD ON CORNER LIKE A REAPER THROUGH A FIELD OF GRAIN

Streets Were Jammed With People Waiting to See the Motor Parade—Of Ten Injured Only Four Were Detained in Nicholls Hospital.

Ten persons were more or less seriously injured, when a driverless automobile plowed a diagonal course through a section of the large crowd which thronged the sidewalk at the northwest corner of George and Hunter streets at 3.20 p.m. Saturday. The accident happening at the peak of the shopping period and while hundreds of sightseers lined the sidewalks to view the big motor parade, stampeded sixty or more people in the immediate vicinity, into a state of wild confusion and disorder.

Operated and owned by Adam H. Cox, city employee of 188 Douro street, the car, a coupe, had stalled at the intersection outside the Royal Bank Building. It is stated the battery was run down, and as Cox commenced to crank his car, it lurched suddenly forward, veered sharply at a right angle, mounted the corner of the sidewalk and continued unchecked for almost fifty feet before coming to rest after impact with the guy wires of a steel hydro pole near the Canada Life Insurance Company office.

First aid was rendered to the injured at nearby drug stores, pending arrival of two ambulances whose screeching sirens added to the clamor and confusion. Six persons were conveyed to Nicholls Hospital, and of these four were detained. They were:

CLAUDE CORNWELL, aged 5 years, 478 Aylmer street, City; cuts about the head and fingers, requiring stitches.

MATTHEW A. JAMIESON, 252 London street, City; cuts and lacerations about the face, shock and bruises.

MRS. ARCHIE BULMER of R.R. 4, Peterborough; slight injuries to shoulder, severe shock and bruises.

MRS. THOMAS JUNKIN, of Lakefield; scratches about the face, severe shock, and bruises.

Others injured who were not detained at hospital included:

ELDA BULMER.

MISS COLLEEN JUNKIN of Lakefield.

F. B. LANSLEY HARTLEY of 507 Stewart street, City.

Miraculous Escapes.

It is considered nothing short of miraculous, by all who saw the car plunge into the crowd that of all the persons who were struck down or scattered in wild disorder not one sustained a fracture of any bones.

Interviewed by The Examiner Mr. Bulmer of Smith Township declared that the wheels of the car actually passed over his body. "I was standing on the corner with my

FATAL STABBING LAID TO WOMAN

Wields 10-inch Carving Knife in Row as Man Objects to Her Singing.

POLICEMAN WITNESS.

TORONTO, April 2.—(CP)—Elsie Brant, 45, common-law wife of James Donald, is under arrest today charged with the murder of Donald. The woman, who will face a murder charge in court today, is alleged to have stabbed Donald when he rushed at her as she pushed the hands of the clock ahead with a 10-inch carving knife as daylight saving time commenced early Sunday.

The fatal row, it is alleged, began when Donald objected to the woman singing while he tried to sleep. Two other men, Ernest Ormerod, 25, and Constable Ivan L. Thomas, off duty at the time, both whom attended a party at Donald's house early in the evening, but who were absent when the stabbing occurred were held as material witnesses.

SLIGHT SHIFT IN TEMPERATURE MEANS END OF GREATEST CITIES

Raise of Few Degrees Will Melt All Glaciers, Raise Ocean 150 Feet.

DROP MEANS ICE AGE.

WASHINGTON, May 2 (C.P.).—Just raise the average temperature of the earth two or three degrees and you can bid goodbye to all the big cities on earth. Glaciers will melt and oceans will rise, and——

But let the weather man get in on this. It took a weather man to think up the idea and a whole audience of weather men to listen to it with composure and without adopting a resolution or staking a demonstration.

Dr. William J. Humphreys of the United States Weather Bureau took a lot of evidence to make up the painstaking case, presented to-day to the American Meteorological Society, that the earth's glaciers if melted would raise the ocean level 150 feet, and that the aforementioned slight increase in warmth would do the melting.

One could still be dry above the 13th floor level in cities with skyscrapers, but all about would be the bounding waves. London, Paris, New York, Philadelphia, Los Angeles, Washington, Shanghai — all gone.

By way of cheer, Dr. Humphreys pictured the world as delicately balanced between this catastrophe and the equally cheerless prospect of another glacial period. It would take but a drop of five or six degrees in the earth to bring back the ice age with Canada and the United States as far south as Kentucky and Iowa one vast skating rink.

But skating enthusiasts needn't cheer Dr. Humphreys said the earth is gradually growing warmer, and the next ice age although forecast is some millions of years off. This probably is the glacier melting period.

Capone in Jail To Stay

WASHINGTON, May 2 (C.P.).—Al Capone to-day was denied a review by the United States Supreme Court of his conviction for evading income taxes.

The ruling meant that this country's most notorious gangster had lost his last legal chance of escaping his 11-year sentence.

Scarface Al is now in jail in Chicago, confined there since his sentence by Judge James H. Wilkerson. He will probably be sent to a Federal prison in a few days.

DELEGATES FROM BRITAIN SAIL FOR OTTAWA JULY 13

LONDON, May 2 (C.P. Cable).—Although one of the most prominent of London newspapers to-day announced the British delegation to the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa would sail on board the Empress of India on July 13, the Canadian Press learned the British delegation has not given any indication of their sailing intentions. There is no such vessel as the Empress of India in trans-Atlantic traffic, but the Empress of Britain, largest of the Canadian Pacific fleet, sails for Canada on July 13, and seems an appropriate fixture. The conference opens July 21.

Give-a-Man-a-Job Campaign

Clean-Up Campaign Off To Good Start

The "Clean-up; Paint-up; Give-a-man a Job" Campaign now in swing for the balance of the present week has already produced results. Up to eleven o'clock this morning half-a-dozen men had secured temporary employment through the local government employment bureau, according to Hugh Robertson, the superintendent.

While the number of men thus placed represents but a small percentage of the registered applicants, Mr. Robertson considered that the public response to the appeal has so far been gratifying. He expected to place a further batch of men during the remainder of to-day, and during the present week.

In some cases the men have a prospect of two or three days' work. Demands came into the employment office for rough carpenters, gardeners and general handymen.

FRENCH AID JAPS SEEKING KOREAN BOMBING RING

Raids in Shanghai Concession Fail to Net Alleged Leaders.

SUSPECTS BEATEN.

Rumor Japanese Would Have Own Police Operate in French Section.

SHANGHAI, April 2—(AP)—Fifty Japanese consular and military police, assisted by forty French detectives, combed the French concession today for alleged Korean revolutionaries.

It was an effort to uncover a ring they believed responsible for the bombing last week which injured a number of high Japanese officials and killed one.

Both French and Japanese officials sought to keep the raids secret, but from French diplomatic quarters it was learned strong pressure was being brought by the Japanese to secure permission for Japanese police to operate in the French concession.

The Japanese indicated further raids on Korean homes were planned and said the instigator of the bombing was not yet captured. The raids sent a wave of apprehension through the Korean colony. Some of the Koreans said they were maltreated. Many of them left for other localities.

No Serious Injuries

None of them was seriously injured, as far as could be learned, although they charged they were beaten in an attempt to secure confessions of intrigue against Japan.

The whereabouts of Koreans arrested could not be learned. It was also reported Japanese were making a roundup of Koreans in the International Settlement, but Settlement authorities declined to confirm or deny it.

A Japanese medical bulletin said the victims of the bombing continued to improve.

It was not expected the peace parleys would be resumed today.

MAY DAY TAKES TOLL OF THREE

Despite Scores in Hospitals, Day Ranked as Most Peaceful Since Great War.

WORST CLASHES IN SPAIN.

Three persons were dead today, scores were in hospitals, and hundreds of heads bore the marks of police clubs as the aftermath of May Day celebrations throughout the world. The disorders were less serious than in other years, however, and the observance was ranked as one of the most peaceful since the world war.

Most large cities saw parades of Socialists, Communists and workers' groups yesterday. The largest of all was a day-long march at Moscow of 2,000,000 men and women, soldiers and civilians, past the tomb of Lenin in Red Square.

New York led the demonstrations in the United States, with a parade of 40,000 Communists in a drizzling rain, carrying a bedraggled dragon branded "Capitalism."

Worst In Spain

Police were busier in Spain than elsewhere, clashing with the demonstrators in many cities, cracking many heads and arresting hundreds. Paris, London, Berlin and other larger European cities also had their clashes, minor and major casualties and hundreds of arrests.

In Mexico City 20,000 paraded past the Presidential palace in an orderly review. In South America the chief tension was at Santiago, Chile, where 18,000 members of the National Guard dashed about with machine guns, on the alert for outbreaks, but none occurred.

Parades were held in many of the larger cities of Argentina without serious trouble.

Trouble In Havana.

Havana olice rushed a group of 1,000 Communists in a downtown street and arrested a score of them after seizing Red banners bearing anti-government slogans.

At Geneva, home of the League of Nations, several thousand paraded and there was much speechmaking. Budapest police jailed 76 agitators.

PEACE PLEDGED BY RED ARMY

Parade of 2,000,000 File Through Red Square Before Stalin.

NEW DYNAMOS START.

MOSCOW, May 2 (C.P.). —The natty legions of Russia's Red Army stood dedicated to peace to-day. They were pledged afresh on May Day yesterday in Red Square while 608 miles to the south, at Dneiperstroy, giant new dynamos hummed an obligato of industry.

V. M. Voroshiloff, Commissar for War and Navy, began yesterday's long celebrations by telling soldiers of the Moscow garrison that theirs was a protectorate of world peace. Decrying the refusal of the World Disarmament Conference to accept Russia's proposal for abolition of arms, he reiterated the non-aggressive aims of the Red Army.

"Our proletarian country was founded on a strong Red Army," he said, "which is an eyesore to the capitalistic world, but we are ready to sign any agreement that will secure peace."

The colorful ceremony in Red Square before the shrine of Lenin's tomb, began at 10 a.m., when Voroshiloff received the Red soldiers' oath of fidelity. It continued until late in the afternoon of a brilliant spring day as, rank after rank, some 2,000,000 men and women, soldiers and workers, marched past the reviewing stand. It took three hours for the military units to go by.

Stalin Looks On.

Joseph Stalin, Russia's man of steel, and other high government officials looked on.

As the parade started, the big motors at Dneiperstroy had begun to hum and the electric current flowed from the huge power plant designed to supply an area of 70,000 square miles and 16,000,000 people.

It was merely a test, however, for actual distribution of power is not to begin until August 1. The first three turbines of the nine separate generating units were turned on while thousands of workers who spent five years on the project cheered.

The opening of the plant ahead of schedule was made possible by a drive which resulted in the completion of the great Dneiper River Dam, also said to be the largest in the world, before the spring thaw.

PILES GO QUICK

Without Salves or Cutting

Itching, bleeding, protuding piles are caused by bad circulation of the blood in the affected parts. The parts become weak, flabby, almost dead. Only an internal remedy can remove the cause—that's why salves, suppositories and cutting fail. Dr Leonhardt's prescription, HEM-ROID succeeds because it removes congestion, restores circulation, heals and strengthens the diseased parts. HEM-ROID has such a wonderful record of quickly ending even piles of long standing, that McDermid & Jury, and Bond's Drug Store say one bottle of HEM-ROID Tablets must end your pile agony or money back.

ASSAULT CASE TO BE RETRIED

Prosecuting Officials Obtain Mrs. Massie's Promise to Testify.

FOUR MEN IMPLICATED.

HONOLULU, May 2 (A.P.)—With a definite promise Mrs. Thalia Massie will testify against the remaining four men accused of assaulting her, prosecuting officials to-day were to lay final plans for re-trial of the case.

Representatives of the Attorney-General and the Public Prosecutor were expected to determine a date for the trial—probably within two weeks. They also were to decide whether Prosecutor John C. Kelley, who obtained a manslaughter conviction last Friday of Mrs. Massie's husband, her mother and two sailors for lynching the young woman's fifth alleged attacked, will handle the territory's case.

The four accused of assaulting Mrs. Massie last September are Horace Ida, Japanese; Henry Chang, Chinese; David Hakai, Japanese, and Ben Ahakeulo, Hawaiian. Their first trial last November ended with a jury deadlocked.

Also a defendant at the September trial was Joseph Kahahawai, Hawaiian, for whose slaying Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, Mrs. Massie's husband; Mrs. Granville Forescue, her mother; and E. J. Lord and Albert O. Jones were convicted of manslaughter.

CURTIS MUM ON RESULTS IN KIDNAP DEALINGS

NORFOLK, May 2.—A silent and evidently weary negotiator for the return of the kidnapped son of Col. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh alloted himself to-day only a brief rest from one trip before arranging for another attempt to recover the baby.

John Hughes Curtis, principal of three Norfolk intermediaries, returning last night from a cruise aboard the yacht Marcon announced he planned to leave again immediately. He refused to reveal what result he may have accomplished on the five-hour trip, and referred further questions to Rear Amiral Guy Burrage, retired, spokesman for the trio. Absolute silence, however, was maintained by Admiral Guy Burrage, retired, H. Dobson-Peacock, former Canadian rector, the third member of the group.

Cagney, Warner Star, Will Quit Movies

HOLLYWOOD, May 2 (C.P.). —James Cagney, red-haired star of the Warner Brothers First National Studios, says he has definitely decided to quit films, take another turn at vaudeville in Europe, and then study medicine.

Cagney recently walked out of the studio because of his failure to get $4,000 weekly, more than double the amount his contract stipulated.

He said he had been promised the raise if his pictures were big box office attractions, and, Cagney said, they were. The studio suspended him.

STREET IMPROVEMENTS

30 Men and 10 Teams Working in Park on Water Street.

Five thousands feet of standard hose from the factories would be placed at the disposal of the Fire Department in any serious emergency of fire threatening the city and requiring more equipment than the department has in stock, Ald Cotton remarked at Friday night's meeting of the Fire, Water and Light Committee.

Ald. McNabb, chairman, told the committee there were 6,800 feet of first class hose on hand, and the entire supply in good condition is 10,000 feet.

"If the situation ever came up when you needed more, you could get 5,000 feet in a few minutes" Ald. Cotton stated, referring to the assistance the factories could give.

Recent street improvement by scarifying and grading by the Board of Works has been done on Aylmer, King, McDonnell from Park Street to Monaghan Road. Park Hill Road, the Downer's Corners road and other streets. Considerable work has already been accomplished by the street department. Ten teams and thirty men under Fred Board, foreman, are at work on the new park on the West side of Water Street and north of the C.N.R. to Lakefield. This is the park project which has been made possible through the co-operation of the Hydro-Electric Commission who own the property. It was proposed by Mayor Denne, and when completed should made an attractive addition to the water front at the extreme north end of the city

MANHUNT STIRS SOUTH CAROLINA

Two Gunmen Kill Officer, Are Arrested, Then Freed by Pals.

ESCAPE IN CAR.

GREENVILLE, S.C., May 2. — A manhunt was on in the Carolinas to-day for five gunmen, two of whom killed a policeman here and were freed by the other three after their arrest.

A. B. Hunt, 27, was the officer killed. He was shot down as he approached a taxi last night to question two passengers who had aroused the suspicions of the driver.

His slayers exchanged shots with Officers John Corea and Cliff Singleton, but were subdued and under arrest when a third man appeared and opened fire upon the officers. During the midst of the shooting, an automobile drove up and two men in it also fired at the officers.

Corea was wounded slightly by a shot which grazed his head. He and Singleton exhausted their ammunition and the five gunmen fled in their automobile.

VICTORIES ARE ONLY WON BY GETHSEMANES

Rev. W. C. Riddiford Preaches Park Street Anniversary.

FIRST PASTOR OF CHURCH.

"It is in the Gethsemanes of life that victories are won." declared Rev. W. C. Riddiford in a sermon of encouragement preached yesterday morning to the congregation of Park Street Baptist Church on the subject, "The Glory of Going On."

First pastor of Park Street Church when the present edifice was opened 24 years ago, Rev. Mr. Riddiford returned yesterday to take his former place in the pulpit and address both inspiring services in connection with the anniversary celebration. Under the leadership of Harry Northrop, organist and choir leader, the splendid choir sang specially prepared anthems. Arnold Spencer, violonist, rendered a solo number at the evening service.

"And He went a little further." Matthew 26-39, was the text of Rev. Mr. Riddiford's challenging message in the morning on "The Glory of Going On." He stated that anniversaries should be times of retrospection and introspection so that one might fully judge one's prospects. Greater opportunities for the individual and for the church lie ahead, he stated in urging the congregation "to forget the dismal past and go on a little further."

He told the story of the old gold prospector who for sixty weary months toiled with axe and shovel in a place where he hoped to find the previous metal. After his months of work without success, he became discouraged and flung away his tools, leaving the mine shaft forever. Some months later, a survey party entered the deserted shaft. A young engineer picked up the old miner's rusty crowbar and with one thrust into the end of the shaft uncovered a vein of gold. One of the richest mines in Northern California grew upon the spot and the old miner missed his reward because he had failed to go a little further, said the speaker. He referred to it as "the tragedy of the last six inches" in again urging his hearers not to lose heart but to go on and the rewards of Christian service will surely come.

Christopher Columbus, he said, had refused to become discouraged and turn back. While his followers emphasized the dangers and threatened mutiny, to all their demands to turn about the great discoverer had replied, "Sail on! Sail on!"

Speaking of education, he said, "You can have all the university education you like if you don't know Christ you are not educated in the true sense of the word." Ethics, he said, will not save you, although you can wrap yourself all about with them.

The forthcoming economic conference to be held in Ottawa would better cure the ills of the world if it were turned into a Bible study class, he said. "What this world needs is great individual application of the Golden Rule and the depression would disappear forever."

"Do not only go a little further, but go all the way with Christ because He went all the way for you," was Rev. Mr. Riddiford's closing message.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

There are many women and men too, who, however busy they are during the day prefer to prepare the evening meal at home.

• • • • • • •

Apparently many bachelors are fond enough of home cooking to take the trouble to conduct their housekeeping upon this basis.

• • • • • • •

The meal suggested is quickly prepared and is the type welcomed by housekeepers who find one job enough on days when the many other tasks which housework demand have been heavy.

• • • • • • •

Steak is a favorite meat for the meal which is to be prepared in a short time. Minute steak can be cooked in a short time. It has the advantage of being the least expensive of the steaks and has practically no waste. When properly cooked nothing can be more delicious.

• • • • • • •

With the steak we are suggesting creamed fried onions on French toast. The toast will take the place of potatoes. "Creamed fried onions" sound deadly, but actually is easily digested.

• • • • • • •

The flour used for the thickening combines with the extra fat and you have a creamed vegetable with the savory flavor which only frying gives.

• • • • • • •

Marshmallow pudding is very quickly prepared as the recipe indicates. Even better results are possible when the marshmallows are put with the fruit the day before using.

• • • • • • •

Have the steak from the round or sirloin cut one quarter inch thick. Sprinkle heavily with pepper and broil over a hot flame about one minute on each side until browned. Sprinkle with salt and dot with butter.

• • • • • • •

For the creamed fried onions, take one dozen medium sized onions, 3 tablespoons fat, 3 tablespoons flour, one teaspoon salt, pepper and two cups milk.

• • • • • • •

Slice and fry in fat. When light brown, dredge with flour, stir well and add milk and seasoning. Cook until thick and serve on French toast made by dipping bread in milk and frying until light brown.

• • • • • • •

For the marshmallow pudding, use half a pound of marshmallows, 1 can crushed pineapple, 1 cup cream and two tablespoons candied orange peel.

• • • • • • •

Cut the marshmallows in quarters, put in a serving dish with the pineapple and place in the refrigerator to chill for several hours, if possible. Whip the cream, pile on top and garnish with the candied peel.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

A PLAN AND THE PLAY

Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the importance of making a definite plan by which you hope to make your contract the moment the bidding has ended, the first lead has been made and the Dummy spread upon the table.

Quite frequently the thoughtless play to the first trick has prevented the making of a contract. The expert player always has a plan in his mind. Once made, he adheres to it unless the play discloses that he must make new disposition of his forces if he is to accomplish the desired end.

There is nothing more annoying to a partner and nothing better calculated to cause frayed nerves and thus result in squabbles at the Bridge table than purposeless play.

I cannot too strongly advise that anyone wishing to become proficient in the play of Contract, prepare his plan—a bad plan is better than none—but practice in the making of plans will soon result in an increasing number of perfect ones.

Today's hand:
South—Dealer.
Neither side vulnerable.

The Bidding:

South	West	North	East
1♠	2♣	2♠	Pass
4♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

West's Opening lead was the King of clubs, and South proceeded to count his losers. It was apparent that he must lose a trick in the club suit. He might lose a trick in trumps, depending on the distribution of the suit and whether the finesse won or lost. He might lose two and possibly three diamonds. His best chance for game lay in the establishment of the heart suit but it would be useless to establish it and then have no card in the Dummy with which to re-enter it and use the hearts to discard losers. This plan indicated that entries in the Dummy were a prime essential to the success of the Declarer's campaign. There was no purpose in refusing to win the first club lead so the Ace was played, a small spade led from Dummy and when the club finesse held, South varied the usual procedure and laid down the King of spades.

Both East and West followed but South did not continue the trumps in order to pick up East's Queen. The Ace of trumps was to play a much more important role than that. South now led the Ace of hearts and continued with the 8 of hearts, which was won with Dummy's King. The heart Ten was then led from Dummy and East played the Knave. Had he refused to cover, South would have discarded a club as his game would have been certain in any event.

South now trumped the heart and led a spade to the Ace in the Dummy hand, using the established hearts to discard two of his losers, thereby making not only his contract but an extra trick as well.

South had formed a sound plan and had carried it out successfully.

TODAY'S POINTER

Question: What are the requirements for an Opening bid of one notrump?

Answer: About 2-½ honor-tricks in three suits—add ½ trick if vulnerable.

Fourteen Building Permits Taken Out During Month.

THREE NEW HOUSES.

Fourteen buildings permits for a total estimated value of $11,360 were issued at the City Engineer's office last month, bringing the building total for the city for the first four months of the year up to $35,265.

Two factory buildings, The Peterborough Card and Paper works and the Sunshine Dairy Company's building made up $13,000 of last April's total, no such large permits being issued last month.

April's total this year was made up as follows: two garages totalling $170; three houses totalling $7,900; nine miscellaneous permits totalling $3,290.

Last year at the end of April, building totalling $54,542 in value hadbeen completed or started in the city.

DO YOUR PART—AND NOW.

It is gratifying to note many evidences that the clean-up, paint-up, give-a-man-a-job campaign is bearing fruit, and that numerous citizens are recognizing the importance of the effort and are doing their part in providing a measure of work.

"Make Peterborough a cleaner and a busier city!" would be an appropriate slogan for this drive, for it is designed to serve the dual purpose of improving the general appearance of the city and at the same time provide jobless men with an opportunity to earn some much-needed money.

Those citizens who have already joined in the movement are deserving of general thanks; there are many others who are in a position to supply similar co-operation, and to them The Examiner appeals now for their assistance in making the campaign a thorough success.

If you have work of any kind that could with advantage be done now you can materially help this worth-while effort by seeing that it is undertaken.

The more men given work, the more money will be put into circulation, and the whole community will feel the benefit.

OSHAWA'S PLAN.

The municipal authorities in Oshawa are evidently of the opinion that relief work on a large scale will have to be carried on indefinitely.

Arrangements are being made in the Motor City to put relief measures on a more economical footing, and with that end in view, a municipal relief depot is being established; while tenders are being asked for the supplying of milk, bread, groceries and meat.

The old method of issuing orders on individual grocers and butchers is being discarded, and when the new scheme is under way those on the relief list will be supplied from the central depot.

It is pointed out that in buying in large quantities by tender a considerable saving will be effected in the purchase of supplies, while the plan will ensure a properly balanced diet for needy families, and equality will also be assured in as much as uniform supplies are to be furnished each family in accordance to size.

St. Catharines has been administering relief under this method for some time, and it is largely on the impressions formed after investigating the results in that city that the Oshawa Council has decided to establish a relief depot which Mayor Hawkes of Oshawa declares will enable the city to give greater assistance to the unemployed at less cost.

BACK TO THE LAND.

The Federal Government, Hon. W. A. Gordon told Parliament the other day, has in mind in connection with unemployment relief plans a proposal to assist people who have had some experience in farming to go back on the land rather than remain in the cities and accept relief there.

It is contended that such people would be much better off and be able to earn at least a living much more readily if established on a piece of land than if they continue to seek work in urban centres in competition with industrial workers who are without jobs, and it is proposed therefore to advance them the money they would otherwise receive in the form of direct relief to be devoted toward locating them in the country.

Many people with farm experience would doubtless be willing to try the experiment, and this is especially true, according to Western members, in the prairie Provinces, while it is worthy of note that in the border district some 800 people have already signified their willingness to go back to the land if it is made possible for them to do so.

The plan has possibilities, and the details of the Government scheme will be awaited with a good deal of interest as a chance for many persons to attain economic independence once again.

At the worst it would give them a chance to work out their own salvation, which is decidedly better than to have them sit down idle and depend upon relief.

THE REGISTER CHANGES HANDS.

The Norwood Register, which for almost 39 years has been carried on by J. G. Keefer and his son, Harland, has been sold to Mark Bailey, of Jasper, Ont., and in last week's edition the editor and his son published their validictory editorial message.

"With joy and sorrow," it reads in part, "we have recorded the happenings of the years, and in our humble way we have endeavored to carry out the mission of the weekly newspaper—to promote the advancement and welfare of town and district; to keep the sons and daughters who have gone abroad in touch with the home folk, and to faithfully mirror the life and interests of the community in general."

The Examiner is sure that the verdict of the Register's readers will be that Mr. Keefer and his son have succeeded admirably throughout the years in attaining the goal at which they were aiming.

The Register has ever been a clean, progressive, well-printed and readable little newspaper, and it has survived and flourished when many other journals have fallen by the wayside.

It is interesting to note that the Register has been in existence since 1870, and that for two-thirds of its career has been under the control of J. G. Keefer, while his son became the junior member of the firm twenty-two years ago.

This combination of father and son has done valiant service for Norwood and the district through the columns of the Register, while Mr. Keefer, Sr., has found time to be useful also in other public capacities, on the School Board and the East Peterborough Agricultural Society.

The name Keefer has been synonomous with that of the Norwood Register for almost four decades, and to older newspaper men and older residents of the district generally it will seem strange that the two have at last been separated.

FEWER M.L.A.'S.

Smaller legislatures appear to be finding favor across the Dominion. During the last few days despatches from Halifax and Regina forecast reductions in the number of provincial members. The Nova Scotia Assembly, it is said, will be 27, instead of 43. At Regina it is reported that the 63-member House will fall to 52. Redistribution bills by the Governments of the respective Provinces will accomplish the cuts.

It is desirable that the number of M.L.A.'s in each of the nine Provinces be lessened. Nowhere is the need of economy in this way more needed than in Ontario, with its 112 representatives at Queen's Park. Nor should movements toward smaller assemblies be judged merely from the viewpoint of local economies. They are stepping stones to amalgamation of groups of the Provinces into one. It has been suggested that all the Maritimes might well be merged; that Quebec and Ontario, because of their already large areas, be left intact; that the three Prairie Provinces join in one; and that British Columbia remain as it is.

But while elimination of a number of seats in each of the present Legislatures is desirable, and would be praiseworthy, it is to be hoped that if Ontario ever moves in this direction, it will refrain from the apparent intention behind the Saskatchewan plan.

Illustrating how some of the 11 Saskatchewan M.L.A.'s may be dropped, the Regina Star—the Saskatchewan Government organ—says Lloydminster and Cutknife, North Qu'Appelle and Pheasant Hills are to be merged; that two unnamed Northern seats are to be extended northward to include the present frontier ridings of Cumberland and Ile a la Crosse, and the entire four made one, to be known as "Northern Saskatchewan."

The joker in the situation is that, with one exception, all the seats named are now held by Liberals. The sole exception is Cutknife, represented by an Independent; and it is traditionally Liberal, was Liberal until the last election, and left the Liberal column by only 342 votes. Lloydminster and North Qu'Appelle are strongly Liberal, the latter being the seat of Mr. James G. Gardiner, Liberal leader and former Premier of Saskatchewan. If the Independent seat of Pheasant Hills is added to the Liberal riding of Mr. Gardiner, anything may happen. The prospects are also speculative in a combination of Lloydminster and Cutknife, since Liberal majorities in Lloydminster, where there is a large traditional Conservative vote, are mainly tributes to the personal popularity of the member, Mr. Robert J. Gordon.

Anyone who knows anything of the political complexion of the Northern Saskatchewan ridings can select several pairs of seats which, if added to Ile a la Crosse and Cumberland, might make a nicely-balanced Conservative riding, at the same time eliminating four Liberal members.

If the situation is as suggested by the Regina paper, this is not redistribution; it is gerrymandering.—Border Cities Star.

"DISHONOR ROLL."

With this indictment, Dr. Frederick Hoffman, consulting statistician of the Spectator, an insurance publication of New York, concludes his analysis of the U. S. national homicide record for 1931.

"The country's mounting homicide record has doubled during the past thirty years.

"The consecutive record for 41 American cities, with a 35,000,000 population in 1931, shows a progressive rise in the homicide death rate from 5.1 per 100,000 in 1900 to 8.5 in 1930, and 10.8 in 1931."

These figures represent all deaths resulting from "wilful actions, representing various degrees of responsibility from involuntary manslaughter to deliberate murder."

This is our national roll-call of dishonor, laments the Philadelphia Evening Public Ledger, admitting that "America still holds the unenviable position at the top of the list of the homicide records of the world." To support this dismal conclusion, the Philadelphia daily compares U. S. records with those of typical foreign cities:

"For the same period, Canada's rate was 1.8.

"London had 0.8 and Liverpool 0.5. In other words, for every 100 homicides in the United States, London had eight, the Canadian cities sixteen, and the cities of the world, averaged, had thirty-five."

Dr. Hoffman's cold, relentless figures shock the press from coast to coast, and no daily doubts their soundness. Many, too, agree with the indignant statistician, when he quotes a French authority to the effect that we "should legislate against the revolver with as much severity as against drugs." For, insists Dr. Hoffman:

"The means to murder, chiefly concealable firearms, are readily obtainable anywhere, for it is a profitable trade.

"Murder by firearms constitutes from two-thirds to three-fourths of all the deaths due to homicide, according to the localities.

"The greatest of all scandals is the facility with which gangsters can obtain machine-guns and employ them in open warfare against each other, and on occasion against the public at large. It also is a profitble trade which Congress apparently is reluctant to interfere with."

The Philadelphia Evening Bulletin concludes that public apathy is the crime behind this homicide "habit."—St. Catharines Standard.

SON OF THE GODS

By REX BEACH

INSTALMENT 7

Doves and peaceful are the Sons of Han. Sam Lee returned to Eastern University that autumn and resumed his college life where he had left it off. His friends welcomed him and they made a rendezvous of his place. If he was not quite the same to them as formerly, if he was a little less different than usual and if there was a cynical flavor to his jests they failed to observe it.

By now his social status had been firmly established and not even those closest to him made any effort to better it. To Sam, however, it was an ever-present dissatisfaction, an inharmonious canker, on which his experience with Alice Hart had merely made more painful. He could not resign himself to his situation. There were times when he rebelled against all things Oriental and gazed at the Chinese flavor; times when a touch from family shrieked that he was a white man in disguise.

There was ample cause for him to wonder what ailed him and to speculate as to the reason for his resentments against both the white and the yellow race; it was not at all strange that he felt as if two civilizations, setting in opposite directions, met and clashed in him, for that is about what was happening. In him raged the conflict not of two human races but of two human forces, heredity and environment.

Inasmuch as this story has to do with the working of those antagonistic influences it will be necessary to go back more than twenty years to a night in San Francisco and to a street in Chinatown; back to Pan Yi, a Chinese woman whose little feet were like two "golden lillies," and to Officer Dunne whose feet were unlike anything in the botanical kingdom. We shall have to translate the meaning of the red paper prayers which the childless Pan Yi pasted on the stone lions of the public library, and make the acquaintance of a sentimental patrolman whose heart was bigger than his feet.

There had been feasting in the house of Lee Ying and now there was music, the sound of which caused a crowd to gather outside of his store.

Lee Ying, proprietor of the Palace of Imperial Bounty, largest and most prosperous of the great San Francisco bazaars, was a rich man and he lived in the luxury befitting a noble.

It was known to all that Lee Ying was a generous man and this being a notable occasion in his life it was considered likely that he would distribute gifts among those who were too lowly actually to sit at his table but who, nevertheless, did him the courtesy to smack their hungry lips outside his door and to wish him a hundred birthdays and to forecast a thousand distinguished honors for his infant son. In this hope the crowd waited.

Their patience was rewarded in due time. Even Officer Dunne, a seasoned member of the local police squad, shared in the importer's generosity for Lee Ying sent a servant out on the streets in search of him, then left his important guests long enough to present the patrolman with a bundle of banknotes and to offer him, with a ceremony that engaged both hands, a bowl of hot rice wine.

The policeman was loath to take the money, but he accepted the wine readily enough. "Here's health to your son," he said, lifting the cup high. "As fine a baby as ever I saw. May he never know bad health, bad luck or bad company and grow up to be even half the man his father is."

The Chinaman bowed and beamed.

"My wife and I are thankful that Heaven sent him to us and we rejoice that the auguries are favorable for his future. The signs and portents point to great riches and much luck."

"You're certainly giving him a grand start. Why, this is like Chiny New Year, all but the firecrackers. Well, every christening ought to be a high-jinks, to my way of thinking."

"Yes. He is our first born, our last, our only son. Our joy is overwhelming."

"Sa-ay!" The policeman stared incredulously. "Ain't you going to adopt him? Why, I'm liable to get in trouble—"

"We shall not adopt him, for he is ours. It would be an affront to the beneficent powers who laid him in our arms."

"But, man dear! Anybody can tell he's not a Chinee kid—I figgered it was a great break for him to be adopted by a rich man like you: a lot better than a foundling's home. Those kids never amount to anything. But—I'm supposed to report such things."

"You look at it through Western eyes, we through eyes of deeper understanding. He is a godling, a boy from the azure sky, but his flesh has been made our flesh, his blood our blood.

"He may be a Chinee at that," Dunne admitted, after consideration. "Babies look pretty much alike. But suppose he ain't? Suppose he grows up to look white?"

"It is of more importance to consider how he will think, how he will act, how he will live. In view of his celestial origin is it reasonable to expect him to look like other boys? No. He shall be reared like the superior being he is."

"That's all right, too," Dunne said, still unconvinced and with misgivings in his mind, "but you can't make a silk purse out of a sow's ear."

"Heredity! A myth of the Occident." Lee Ying dismissed the subject with a wave of his loose sleeve. "We Chinese are old in wisdom. The perfection of a vase lies not in the potter's clay but in the craft of the artist who fashions it and in the skill of the glazer. A son from the clouds has come to me, my life shall be devoted to rearing him in the likeness of a prince. I have meditated; I have no fear."

No doubt there were some residents of San Francisco's Chinatown who considered it strange that a son had come to a couple so old as Lee Ying and his wife and who therefore exchanged gossip on the subject, but, if so, they were too polite or too politic to permit their words to reach the importer's ears.

For that matter sons are not seemingly subject for ojoking among Lee Ying's people; lacking a boy of his own he would have been expected to adopt one out of regard for his family line. Ancestral worship and respect for the family as a social integer has induced the Chinese to carry adoption to extremes, or to what any other people would consider extremes. Sons are adopted to act for their new parents as commercial agents. Children of poor parents are purchased for adoption and, upon occasion, kidnappers make a profit from the sale of stolen children.

So it was that his friends and well-wishers entered heartily into the celebration, before described, when the baby received its "milk name." Lee Sam, and its head was shaved. They expressed themselves as hopeful of joining in the ceremonies attendant upon the commencement of the boy's studies, when he would receive his "book name," and still later, at the time of his marriage, when he would be presented with his "great name." Soon it was forgotten that his arrival had been attended by circumstances in any wise unusual.

Little Sam was a pretty and a beguiling infant, he was plump and dimpled, his limbs were straight, his eyes were black and shiny, he laughed more often than he cried. He developed rapidly, too. Who ever heard of an ordinary mortal with a tooth at three months of age? But Sam had two, as white as rice kernels.

Lee Ying became daily more attached to his son and as for heart-hungry Pan Yi, the years fell away from her and she bloomed into a girl again. She made frequent thank offerings to the various deities, slighting not even the least important, and she gave expensive presents to her friends, assuming a new importance not only in their eyes but also in the eyes of her own servants by reason of her motherhood.

How good that home was became more apparent as time went on. Only the finest foods were given to the child and they were prepared with the highest skill; his garments were of rich materials and they were embroidered with royal insignia, his toys were numerous and expensive, upon his tiny cap was sewn the ruby button of a Mandarin of the first rank.

When the time came for Sam to commence his studies he was not sent to school, a Chinese tutor was engaged for him and his education was begun in the time-honored, orthodox manner, which is to say that a book was put into his chubby hands—an imposing work the introductory statement in which read, "Men at their birth are by nature radically good." This entire volume Sam was forced to memorize.

Hour after hour, day after day, week after week, he repeated, parrot-like, the sentences of his tutor until he could lisp them without an error. Page upon page of characters he listlessly traced in total ignorance of their meaning, book after book he learned by rote. He was taught the names of the thousands of arbitrary Chinese word signs, a four years' labor in itself, and in time their significance was made known to him. Not until then did his studies begin to hold interest.

Sam had his occasional holidays, of course, on the birthdays of the gods or during religious festivals his father took him by the hand and led him out upon the streets where he could stare owl-eyed at all the entrancing sights. New Year was the most glorious time of all for then, among other times, Sam went with Lee Ying to pay his New Year's calls and to receive his presents from their friends.

He had no contact whatever with things American, his mind was trained in the Oriental school. He was thoroughly Chinese.

That Kind of Lecture.

The lecture to the local literary circle came to an end, and the lecturer mingled with the crowd.

"By the way," he said to the secretary of the society, "I saw Mr. Jones walk out of the hall when I was half-way through my lecture. I hope nothing serious was wrong?"

The secretary answered without thinking.

"Oh, no," he explained, "it's nothing very much! He walks in his sleep."—Answers.

Cheerfulness is the best promoter of health. Repinings and murmurings to the heart give imperceptible strokes to those delicate fibres of which the vital parts are composed and wear out the machine. Cheerfulness is as friendly to the mind as to the body.

PICKEREL FISHING AND THE PETERBOROUGH FISH AND GAME ASSOCIATION.

The Editor of The Peterborough Examiner, Peterborough, Ont.

Sir,—Owing to the widespread dissatisfaction and criticism which has been charged to our local Fish and Game Association we would like to make clear that this association had no knowledge of information that the season for pickerel would not open until May 16.

We have just received information that this was recommended by the Ontario Game Fish Committee appointed two years ago, to make a study of game fish conditions in Ontario, their reason being that pickerel are not through spawning on May 1. To verify this the Government is sending to Peterborough within a few days a biologist to look into local conditions, and if they find spawning has ceased recommendation will be made to open the season on May 1 in future; but as the matter now stands, it is illegal to take pickerel until May 16.

We are sorry to know that so much criticism is being made of our local association, which, in face of many obstacles and at considerable expense, have for years endeavored to improve the fishing conditions of this district. Were it not for associations such as ours, all through the Province, the fish and game would soon be depleted.

Yours truly,
Peterborough Fish and Game Association,
S. J. Black, President.

Few of Leaders Under Heavy Pressure With General Price Trend Downward.

ELDORADO STEADY.

TORONTO, May 2 (C.P.).—Light trading interest left the major portion of Standard stock and mining exchange listings unchanged in the forenoon today, but a few of the leaders appeared under heavy pressure, with general price trend downward.

Noranda, showing resistance in the first hour, weakened towards mid-day, price dropping to a new for the year of $14.10 for a 50-cent net loss. International Nickel, off 10 at $6, was hovering around its previous low. Eldorado was steady.

Hollinger, whose annual report shows a 72 per cent. decline in the value of holdings of its investment trust, sold off 20 to $4.55. Teck-Hughes and Wright-Hargreaves were firm. Among cheaper issues Kirkland Lake Gold, Buffalo Canadian and Moss Mines were off a couple each. Oils remained in the discard.

Standard Oil Co. Pays Extra Bonus

NEW YORK, May 2 (C.P.).—Directors of the Standard Oil Co., of New Jersey, today declared the usual extra dividend of 25 cents a share together with the regular quarterly of 25 cents, both payable June 15 to stock of record May 16.

Heavy selling of the stock in recent weeks raised some doubt as to whether the company would declare the usual extra dividend, but the action of directors today was not considered a great surprise in view of the company's extraordinarily strong financial condition.

It is expected that the annual report, due in the new week or two, will show that earnings in 1931 fell well short of the $2 dividends paid during the year.

Cricket Results

LONDON, May 2 (C.P. Cable).—Rain to-day interfered with first-class County cricket matches which started on Saturday.

Play was stopped in the Surrey-Worcestershire match at the Oval shortly before the scheduled close of play this evening, when Worcester had managed to get only 84 runs for 7 wickets in reply to Surrey's first innings total of 339 runs.

There was no play at Lords, where Warwickshire and Middlesex started on Saturday. Middlesex first innings score was 62, and Warwickshire's totals 69 and 20 runs for no wickets in the second innings.

POVERTY-STRICKEN FAMILY TO TREK TO LACHINE.

At dawn April 29, Charles Gray, his wife and four children, the youngest three months old, set out from Toronto for Lachine, Quebec. Gray will pull a home-made vehicle constructed of an upturned kitchen table, two bed slats and a pair of old wagon wheels. The distance is 336 miles on foot. They expect the trip to take them three weeks. "I'm sick of charity," Gray said. They will cook their meals on the roadside, and Gray hopes to work at farms in return for the privilege of allowing his family to sleep in barns.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

MONTREAL EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL, May 2 (C.P.).—Trading on the Montreal Stock Exchange broadened considerably in to-day's session, but brought no improvement in prices. Selling broke out after some early strength at the opening, and continued throughout the day, leaving a long list of losses at the close.

Dominion Bridge was quoted at 13, a new all time official low, but the stock has been changing hands at this level freely on the over-the-counter market. At this figure, Bridge was 14 points below the price at which it has been legged for several months.

Canadian Pacific, eased down to a new low at 12, then recovered to 12¼, where its net loss for the day was ¼.

International Nickel was at a new low of 5 7-8. It was the first time on the Canadian markets that Nickel was below 6. It closed at its low for a net loss of 1-8.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, May 2 (C.P.).—Several new lows were made by pivotal shares as the decline resumed with the new week on Toronto Stock Exchange. Among those stocks which were lower than at any time previous this year were C.P.R. at 12, Nickel at 5⅞, Dominion Stores at 15½, Ford of Canada at 8. Bell Telephone equalled its old low of 85.

The market was some better in the last half hour, though stocks did little better than steady against the decline and closing prices were only small fractions above the extreme lows. Bell Telephone appeared to be meeting with organized support at 85, and Walkers Preferred showed a couple of transactions for 1,000 shares, presumably stock purchased for retirement by the company. The Common, after slipping below 3, firmed to the even figure again.

Oils did better towards the close, mainly on account of New York buying of Imperial Oil which recovered an earlier loss and closed unchanged at 8½.

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, May 2 (C.P.)—Stocks closed moderately lower to-day, with net losses of a point numerous in leading issues. rading was extremely dull through the session, and transactions involved only about 800,000 shares. Rails down one or so included Santa Fe, New York Central, Union Pacific and Norfolk Western, while American Telephone, Eastman and National Biscuit had similar losses. U.S. Steel, American Can, General Electric and Westinghouse were off fractionally. Penney and Hershey each dropped 5.

STANDARD EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, May 2 (C.P.). — Though price action developed a somewhat stronger tone near the close on Standard Exchange, net changes for the session practically all took the form of recessions today. Turnover was light, only the leaders in the various groups receiving attention.

Noranda, after showing early firmness, dipped to a new low for the year of $14.10 and was off about 35 from Saturday on end. International Nickel also established a new low and a small loss for the day. Eldorado displayed a slightly firmer tendency.

Dome and Pioneer of B.C. staged small recoveries in light turnover. Lake Shore reacted $1.00, Granada and Teck-Hughes and Wright-Hargreaves a cent or so apiece.

Among cheaper golds Moss fell 3. Kirkland Lake Gold a couple, and Howey and Bidgood a fraction or so each. Macassa met improved demand and recorded a 4-cent advance. Ajax Oil, off 5, displayed the only change among the lower-priced oils.

FOREIGN EXCHANGE.

NEW YORK, May 2 (C.P.).—Prime commercial paper, 3¼ to 3½ per cent. Foreign exchange steady, demand rates: (Great Britain in dollars, others in cents)—Great Britain, 3.66; France, 3.94 3-16; Italy, 5.15½; Germany, 23.80; Canadian dollars at 10½ per cent. discount.

Exchange Rates

TORONTO, May 2. — (By the Canadian Press.)—Exchange rates at noon to-day were as follows:

Pound sterling in Montreal, 4.09.
Pound sterling in N. York 3.66¾.
Canadian Dollar in New York, 89½.

EARNS 22 CENTS A SHARE.

NEW YORK, May 2 (C.P.).—The Union Carbide Carbon Corp. reports for the quarter ended March 31, net income of $1,981,439, after taxes, depreciation, interest, preferred dividends of subsidiaries and all other charges, equivalent to 22 cents a share. This compared with $1,613,670 or 51 cents a share in the first quarter of 1931.

7 Timmins Paraders To Appear In Court

TIMMINS, Ont., May 2 (C.P.)—Seven men are to appear in court tomorrow on charges of taking part in an unlawful parade as a result of a May Day demonstration here yesterdaq. The parade had been forbidden by police, and when 40 agitators commenced to march through the town, police arrested the seven and confiscated various banners and flags.

Spectators were unsympathetic toward the paraders, and police were forced to stop the crowd from attacking the agitators.

Head-Hunting Dayaks See First Plane; Ask Wandering Pilot If It Lays Eggs

NEW YORK, May 2.—The head-hunting Dayaks of Borneo were so intrigued at the sight of their first aeroplane that they wanted to know whether it laid eggs.

The Tennessee flyer's message said he had arrived at Manila at the end of a 40,000 mile flight and had spent three weeks in Borneo with his plane, the "Flying Carpet," visiting the head hunting Dayaks, who never had seen an aeroplane.

"Took the chief flying in native undress, except for goggles," the cablegram said. Apparently big event in Dayaks' history. War boats were filled with warriors who came 100 miles to see the chief fly. Dayaks asked if aeroplane laid eggs."

FRACTIONAL DECLINES GENERAL IN LIGHT TRADING AT TORONTO

BELL DOWN POINT.

TORONTO, May 2 (C.P.).—C.P.R. was moderately active on Toronto stock exchange this morning in a falling market. The stock made a new low for the present shares at 12 1-8. Fractional declines were general throughout the list but the turnover was very light in all other sections.

Oils were mostly unchanged. Walkers common slipped below 3 but the preferred remained unchanged in comparatively active trading. Ford of Canada, Photo Engravers were unchanged from last week's prices.

CHICAGO WOMAN LEFT FORTUNE

Once Inmate of Orphanage Also Learns She is Grandniece of Von Hindenburg.

RELATIVE, GOLD MINER.

CHICAGO, May 2.—Life for Mrs. Marie Meehl, once inmate of a California orphanage, took on a hapier outlook to-day after she had been told she is a grandniece of President Paul Von Hindenburg of Germany and the heiress to one-half of a $500,000 estate left by an argonaut of the California gold rush of 1849.

A letter from a brother, Seawell Augut Auerswald of Redwood City, Cal., of whom she had not heard for 22 years, brought the news to Mrs. Meehl.

The letter said that Mrs. Meehl, formerly Clarisa Bena Auerswald, was placed in an orphanage in Los Angeles 22 years ago when she was 7 years old. Accompanying the missive was a newspaper clipping which told of the estate left to the brother and sister by their maternal grandmother, whose husband was a forty-niner. It also said that Auerswald's mother met and married in 1900 a young German newspaperman, who was a nephew of Von Hindenburg and a member of the Prussian secret police.

Clarisa was born in Germany and Seawell was born two years later in California.

Police Court

Pleading guilty to being intoxicated on Hunter street on Saturday night, a local young man could not explain to Magistrate Langley how, while out of employment since Christmas, he had been able to purchase between $130 to $140 worth of liquor since that time. He was fined $15 and $4.50 costs.

Two Knights of the Road who had given trouble to police pleaded guilty to vagrancy and were remanded for sentence to allow police time to look up their records.

Napoleon Gravelle, aged 19, was given suspended sentence when he entered a guilty plea to the charge that he had burglarized the store of Leslie Vinnette at the corner of Western Avenue and Lansdowne street. He tore off a shutter covering a window, entered the store and stole about a dozen packages of cigarette.

He stated that he would leave the city and get a job with a rodeo. "Better get a better job than that," advised His Worship.

Banquet Enjoyed By Mark Street Class

Eighty members and visitors enjoyed Friday evening the annual banquet of the U. B. One Bible Class of Mark Street Church in the Sunday School hall. James Ellis, president of the club, presided as chairman. Rev. David Wren, of Trinity Church, gave a short address. Thomas Hendry outlined the work of the class in the past and the program planned for the coming year.

"What Would Christ Do", was the subject of an interesting address by John T. Donaldson. Adding to the entertainment with song and humorous story were: Bob Hendry, Jack Smith, Frank Pratt, William Smith, Clayton Telford, and Walter Binks. George Tremaine and Fred Stephenson expressed the club's thanks to all those who had assisted to make the banquet such a great success.

Blame Low Prices For Export Drop

WASHINGTON, May 2.— (C.P.)—Tariff increases, quotas, exchange restrictions and buy-at-home campaigns by foreign nations are blamed by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States for lessening United States' exports in 1931.

While citing these factors operating against exporters in their increased efforts to maintan existing foreign markets and develop new ones, the Chamber in a statement attributed a larger part of the decline in value of United States' export trade to falling prices. Attention was called to domestic business at a low ebb in virtually every import country, causing purchasing power, and to depreciated currencies toward the end of the year which created further obstacles to our export trade to certain markets.

The Chamber reported that despite a further decline for the year, 27 of the 181 leading commodities exported by the United States showed a gain in quantity over 1930 exports and the 5 year average for 1926-30.

117 DOUKHOBOR NUDE PARADERS LAND IN PRISON

Police, Disliking Ancient Custom, Apply Itching Powder.

BATTLE FOLLOWS.

Paraders Rounded Up in Orchard—One Woman Badly Hurt.

NELSON, B.C., May 2 (C.P.).—Nelson Jail is filled to overflowing with prisoners to-day. Yesterday 117 Sons or Daughters of Freedom cast aside their garments and staged a nude parade. The parade led to a fight with the police and the freedom of the paraders ended when they were loaded in motor trucks and packed in the jail.

Members of the Sons of Freedom faction of the Doukhobor community, the prisoners began their parade at Thrums, 16 miles from here. It was partly a protest against the expulsion of members of the faction from the Doukhobor communities by orthodox leaders. Some of the freedom-loving folk are said to have communist leanings, too, and it is possible May Day struck them as a suitable time for their clothesless celebration.

Ancient Custom.

Expecting something to happen, Provincial Police were in readiness and quickly closed in on the parade. The marchers fought hard and turned streams of water on the police. The latter replied by attacking with lengths of garden hose and liberal quantities of itching powder. When the fight was over the police had 84 men and 33 women cornered in an orchard.

Many of them were completely devoid of clothing and all were in various stages of undress. Application of the itching powder to bare skins caused the unfortunate paraders to scratch and the bodies showed large red blotches. One woman was taken to hospital suffering from injuries. She is believed to have been trampled during the battle.

Sect Blamed

Yesterday's parade followed a series of attacks on property in the neighborhood of Doukhobor settlements, for which members of the Sons of Freedom sect are blamed. Attempts have been made to burn schools. An irrigation pipe was shattered by a bomb. Railways were tampered with and a switch was blown up by a bomb just after a train passed over it.

Canada's fur production statistics for the season of 1930-31 show silver fox as the most valuable fur producer followed by muskrat, white fox, mink and beaver.

THREE PLANES FLY OVER CITY.

ASHBURNHAM UP IN ARMS

Citizens Will Protest to Council Against Opening of Pit.

WHAT IS A PIT?

Protests against the opening of a pit on Dufferin Street near the Nicholls Oval will be made to the Council tonight by a deputation of Ashburnham residents.

Several members of the council told The Examiner that they understood Joseph Frith was simply removing top soil from the Dufferin Street property. A recent amendment to the by-law prohibits the opening of pits within a certain distance of any street, and this regulation is presumed to be sufficiently preventive. However, the Ashburnham people are reported to be apprehensive of Mr. Frith's intentions, and after their experience of the last few years they are apparently taking no chances on any new operations that are likely to leave more deep holes to depreciate the value of property.

The property is said to be owned by T. E. Bradburn, and members of the council feel that the protest should also be made directly to him. Aldermen have been asking themselves the question "what is a gravel pit", and the answer may be forthcoming tonight. The general opinion is that the removal of eight inches of top soil would not be an infringement of the by-law, but it is stated that the present digging has gone to a considerable depth in the vacant field bounded by Ross, Dufferin, Rogers and Hazlett Streets.

It is reported that City Engineer Parsons gave an order on Saturday to discontinue the work, and several loads about to leave the property were turned back on to the property. After a temporary suspension the trucks were put in motion again, and this morning some clay was carted from the site.

France with 7.5 bushels per capita leads the world in the consumption of wheat while Canada ranks thirteenth with 4.5 bushels per capita.

Canada's carry over of wheat when the present crop year ends on July 31 is estimated in advance at 169 million bushels, the smallest since 1928.

STILL OPERATORS HELD BY POLICE.

Coboconk Trio Arrested By R.C.M.P. Patrick O'Connell on Sunday Morning.

(Special to The Examiner)

LINDSAY, Ont., May 2.—In police court this morning James and Albert Weaver and Albert Ferguson of Coboconk were remanded until May 9th on the charge of operating a still. At daybreak Sunday morning Patrick O'Connell, R. C. M. P. arrested the trio five miles north of the village and fully two miles in the heart of the bush. They were at work on a brew of moonshine when the officer swooped down on them. A large coal oil stove, barrels, gallon jars and other equipment were seized. The Weavers have been in trouble in the past, one having served a term in Kingston and the other in Guelph. A large quantity of the finished product as well as mash was destroyed.

KANSAS CITY'S

special trains which carried representative Kansas City men into all parts of the territory it hoped to serve, and brought them into touch with the people of outlying communities. High freight rates from the seaboard were met by the establishment of a steamer service which soon brought rates down. The Commercial Club was instrumental in having the Indian territory opened and other worth-while enterprises.

Most notable, however, was its achievement in bringing about the beautifying and reconstruction of the city, in establishing a wonderful park and boulevard system, until the ugly place of the early days of the Commercial Club's existence, had been selected by Lord Bryce as the most beautiful city in the United States.

Operation On Cobra Allows It to Shed Skin

NEW YORK, May 2 (C.P.).—Dr. Raymond L. Ditmars, who knows about snakes, performed a delicate operation on the eye of a cobra at Bronx Zoo so that the reptile could shed its skin all over.

He coaxed the snake into a small box of wire netting, fastened it in a vice made of felt, and went to work on the right eye cap. Seven layers of skin—one for each of the last seven sheddings—were removed and the difficulty was adjusted. The cobra reared itself to its full height and appeared pleased.

LATEST MODELS DISPLAYED IN MOTOR PARADE

PARADE REAL TRIUMPH.

Close on eighty of the newest passenger and commercial motor vehicles—the aristocrats of motordom, combined on Saturday afternoon to form one of the largest automobile parades ever to be held in this city, and incidentally inaugurated the "Clean-up, Paint-up; Give-a-man-a-job" Campaign which is now in full swing for the balance of this week.

The parade was a triumph of organization and co-operation on the part of local automobile dealers, who were all represented with the wide range of respective models which they handle individually. Resplendent in their newness, pleasing to the eye with their graceful lines and low swung bodies, and glistening despite the absence of sunshine the cars were admired by the large crowds which lined the entire route throughout the business section, and also by the many people in the residential sections who were able to view the parade from the privacy and seclusion of their own homes.

Starting promptly according to schedule, the parade left Confederation Square sharply at three o'clock, headed by Traffic Officer E. A. Hornick who commanded the right of way. R. M. Glover, one of the most enthusiastic promoters of the parade and the campaign which it signalised came second and was followed by Assistant Chief George Smith who led two gleaming red rigs—the ladder truck and pumper of the Peterborough Fire Department. The Band of the Peterborough Rangers, riding in a truck, provided lively music en route. Then followed the long line of sprightly 1932 automobiles, led by the Ford car, fully representative of the most radical reforms in modern automobile design, stressing the changes which have evolved in the comparatively short time since the days of the square brass radiator and angular lines of the 1932 Ford ancestors.

Hood and Cummings Limited, Ford Dealers Tudor sedan, Fordor sedand and Cabriolet and wrecking truck.

Brewer Motor Sales, whose appointment as local agent for Rockne-Studebaert cars was announced on Saturday: Rockne-Studebaker 65 and 75; Essex coupe and coach; Essex town sedan and standard sedan; Hudson standard sedan and Hudson club sedan.

Lillico Motor Sales: 17 cars and 7 trucks representing the entire line of Dodge 8-cylinder and Dodge 6-cylinder passenger cars; Dodge commercial vehicles and also Plymouth T.B. and P.A. models.

Gillespie Sales Rooms: Two new DeSotos; 2 new Chryslers and the service truck.

J. K. Hughes Limited: Chevrolet agents, 8 cars and 1 truck representative of full Chevrolet line and also one Oldsmobile 6-cylinder sedan.

Howson Motors: 7 cars, Willys and Willys-Knight, sedan, sports roadster, coupe and truck. The prices and names of the various models were prominently displayed.

J. J. Duffus Limited, one of the oldest established automobile dealers in the city, 8 cars and 2 trucks representing Cadillac - La Salle; Buick, Pontiac and G.M.C. trucks.

Selkirk Motors: 3 cars, 6-18 Durant sedan; 6-14 Durant roadster and Frontensac special sedan.

T. H. Ruth, Graham dealer: 4 cars, Graham 8 sedans and Graham 8 convertible coupe.

MILLION BARREL OIL THEFT PROBE

Texas Government Official Among Eighteen Facing Charges.

SIX TO BE ARRESTED.

LONGVIEW, Texas, May 2 (C.P.) — The alleged theft of 1,000,000 barrels of oil from the gigantic prorated East Texas oil field is being investigated.

Nearly nine months ago overproduction of this new field was credited with unsettling the price structure of the entire industry, and Governor S. Ross S. Sterling ordered National Guardsmen to enforce a controlled output.

One of the 18 men against whom charges of theft have been filed is E. M. Daniels, a deputy supervisor of the State Railroad Commission, which supervises proration. Another is Paxton Gray, a former deputy supervisor, and a brother-in-law of Fred Church, assistant Attorney-General. Six of the 18 have not yet been arrested.

The oil was said to have been taken by means of by-passes, a pipe passed around a meter in such a way the entire flow of oil was not recorded.

ITALY TO RETRENCH

ROME, May 2—Italy's estimated income for the next fiscal year beginning in July will not exceed $925,000,000, the budget committee reported today, urging the most rigid economy.

Estimated expenditures will exceed that amount by $75,000,000. The parliament was urged to slash and trim wherever possible.

East Emily

The regular weekly meeting of the Young People's Union of Bethel United Church was held in the school room in the church on Thursday evening. Mr. David Metcalf took charge of the scripture reading. Miss Opal James gave a very interesting and inspiring talk on "Our Blessings." After a matter of business was discussed, the offering was received and closing hymn and the league benediction brought the devotional part of the meeting to a close. Mr. Milton Sherin, fourth vice-president then put on a contest which made it very interesting for the young people.

Mr. Victor Fee of Toronto spent the week-end with friends in this district.

MOORE HEADS LOCAL BRANCH

Re-elected President of Peterborough Branch of Ontario Religious Council.

HEAR FINE ADDRESS.

C. E. Moore was re-elected president of the Peterborough County branch of the Ontario Religious Educational Council at a meeting held in the Y.M.C.A. on Thursday, when there was a splendid gathering from different parts of the county.

Mr. Moore was in charge of the meeting and Rev. R. D. Wright, pastor of Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church, conducted the devotional exercises. A duet by Mrs. R. D. Wright and Mrs. J. R. Mann was a pleasing feature of the gathering. Thomas E. Sargent, County Secretary-Treasurer, gave a report of the financial standing of the organization, which was very satisfactory considering the existing conditions.

The reports of the department superintendents were very interesting, showing that Sunday school work in Peterborough County is not lacking in interest.

The session adjourned for lunch in the dining room of Murray Street Baptist Church, where a social hour was spent and business completed.

Gives Fine Address

Rev. Dr. Barr, of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church, gave a very impressive address on "The Aim of Christian Education." "Secular education very largely fits youth for business and vocational guidance. Christian Education takes the mind into the realm of citizenship. One generation is a copy of the past one. If we are going to have a better Canada; we need the broader conception of education in terms of character building which carries us into the world of the future. We want to learn all the possibilities we possess and release them to the betterment of the world. We need a deeper religious experience and not be satisfied with the butterfly life."

Election of Officers

The election of officers resulted as follows: President, C. E. Moore of Smith; vice president, E. N. McDonald, Dummer; sec.-treas., Wm. Paul of Smith; assistant secretary, Walter Thorn, Otonabee; Children's department, Mrs. Thomas Rose of Otonabee; Girls' work, Mrs. Andrew Rennie, of Keene; Boys' work, Rev. R. D. Wright of Gilmour Memorial Baptist Church; Young People's work, Mrs. William Forsythe, Dummer; Home department, Mrs. C. J. Hancock, Smith; Adult department, John Harrison, of Smith; Missionary department, Miss May Thorn, Otonabee; Temperance department, H. A. Thistlewaite, Asphodel, associate members, E. N. McDonald and Thomas E. Sargent; Teacher training, Rev. C. D. Daniel, Mark Street United Church; aditors, Rev. R. D. Wright and William Paul.

Dates for the coming township conventions were fixed for June 7, 8, 9 and 10.

DRIVERLESS AUTO RUNS INTO CROWD

wife and small daughter," he said, "when I heard something behind me. At that moment I was struck down and the car ran right over me." He received lacerations on the head and chin and was badly shaken up.

Mrs. Bulmer and her small daughter, Elda, were also struck by the car, the former receiving injuries to her shoulder and severe bruises and shock resulting in her detention at Nicholls Hospital. The child escaped with a bruised forehead.

Another remarkable escape from possible death or serious injury was the experience of Adam Cox, who despite the fact that he stood with one leg in between the radiator and bumper in the act of cranking his car, was swept to one side out of harm's way.

Naturally unnerved by the accident he was able to walk to his car and a short time later drove to the police office on instructions from Sergeant A. Thomas who took control of the situation. Some hours later Cox, who was not detained in custody, complained of stiffness in his right leg.

In conversation with The Examiner Cox stoutly claimed that his gears were in neutral when he got out to crank the car. "Look," he said as he sat at the driving wheel a few minutes after the accident and swung the gear shift lever in neutral from side to side, "that is just how it was a few moments ago. I have not touched the gears since then."

Charles L. Brewer, motor dealer and an eye witness of the accident, told The Examiner he was standing on the north west corner of Hunter and George streets awaiting the passing of the motor parade of which he was one of the organizers, when he saw the car moving up over the sidewalk into the crowd. "I grabbed someone by the collar without ceremony; I don't know whether it was a man or a woman" he stated, "and threw the person to one side out of danger."

Mr. Brewer advanced the theory that Cox whom he knew as a careful and experienced driver, had put his gears into neutral, but that while getting out of the car he may have unconsciously shifted the gears with his leg. Cox is a bulky man, and Mr. Brewer thought this theory a possible explanation of the accident.

Went Home in Taxi

After being struck down in a successful effort to protect his four-year-old daughter Murrell, F. B. Lansley Hartley of Stewart street was conveyed to his home by Dunford's taxi. A wheel of the car passed over his leg, a member of the family told The Examiner, and Mr. Hartley was seen by Dr. A. Moir after reaching home.

Also accompanying Mr. Hartley in the taxi was Rita O'Toole, 269 Reid street, eleven-year-old pupil at St. Mary's Convent School, who had been down town to watch the parade.

Although suffering from a badly bruised left leg, the girl displayed great fortitude, failing to mention the accident until some five hours later and after the injured leg had commenced to stiffen-up. She was then attended by a doctor.

In Hysterical Condition

Badly unnerved when struck down by the car, Colleen Junkin developed a highly hysterical condition when she learned that her mother, Mrs. Thomas Junkin, was to be conveyed to hospital. After being quietened somewhat, the girl was conveyed to the home of her sister on Park street, by Miss Jennie Batten who was driving down town with other members of her family.

Bleeding from a bad gash in his forehead, which required several stitches to close, Claude the five-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Cornwell of Aylmer street displayed great aversion to going into hospital. It required a lot of patient persuasion before he would consent to being placed in the waiting ambulance.

The child had come down town to watch the motor parade. It is believed he was in the company of some other small boys.

In addition to ambulances, taxicabs and private cars, Dr. H. M. Yelland also used his own car to make several trips to the hospital. In the splendid service he rendered in the emergency, he was not alone. There were many willing hands to care for the injured, and bandages were secured from somewhere—no one knows just where. Each of the neighboring drug stores, Bond's, Moncur's and Kent's, converted their premises into casualty clearing stations, while R. A. Dutton, proprietor of the Nut Shop also rendered invaluable assistance.

Watching for the arrival of the big procession of automobiles which was proceeding north on George street a worker in a nearby office had a bird's eye view of the accident from the office window.

He witnessed the car as it left the pavement and plunged into the crowd, which he stated would be composed of approximately sixty people.

"It was all over in a moment", he stated, "and I saw a woman sitting at the edge of the sidewalk holding her leg and shrieking as though in great pain. There was another younger woman in a hysterical condition and a man with blood streaming down his face who, regardless of his own condition, was picking a child up from the roadway. Another man, also injured was attending to a little girl on the sidewalk."

FIERCE RIOTING

oners, all of whom refused to identify themselves.

Six cases of dynamite, reported stolen from the Aldermac Mine, were found cached in a shack in the town and were confiscated by authorities.

Real Scrap in Sudbury

In the Ontario northern mining town of Sudbury, citizens clashed with a mob of alleged Communists during the most serious May Day disturbance the town has ever known.

Eighteen prisoners, all of foreign origin, were lodged in police cells to-day and authorities said they would seek their deportation. An undetermined number of citizens, among them Mayor Peter Fenton, were injured, none seriously, during the melee. The mayor was struck on the head with a rock and knocked down as he leaped from his automobile in a futile attempt to and Police Sergeant Leo Campeau, who had been knocked semi-conscious and was being belabored by members of the mob. A bystander who attempted to aid the mayor was struck on the arm by a club.

During the evening police raided the Ukrainian Labor Temple and the Finnish Liberty Hall. They said they collected numerous papers, account books and Communist emblems.

Carry Red Flag.

The trouble started when a previously authorized parade declined to carry at its head the Union Jack alongside the Red flag of Communism, as it had been ordered by the police. Mike Elniuk, chairman of a previous meeting, maintained the Union Jack was "the symbol of the bosses," and insisted on carrying the Red flag only.

Five hundred alleged Reds started in the parade and were set upon by a crowd estimated at 2,500, who tore down their banners and generally man-handled the demonstrators. A small group broke away from the rear of the paraders and began throwing stones. In a few moments a general free-for-all was under way. Police ultimately subdued the mob without having recourse to the use of fire hoses which had been brought to quell the disturbance.

Those placed under arrest included Miss Timi Atteken of Port Arthur, said to be the Sudbury organizer for the Young Pioneers, described as a children's Communist society.

13 Arrested In Toronto

In Toronto elaborate police arrangements forestalled an expected demonstration in Queen's Park. Thirteen persons, including three women, were arrested during the day. All but five were released after investigation. Four were held on charges of vagrancy and a fifth for assaulting a policeman. In Western Canada the May Day demonstrations in the various cities were accompanied by little or no disorder. Under police permission in Vancouver about 7,000 people assembled in the Powell Street grounds but dispersed after listening to a number of addresses.

LIBERALS HOLD ROUSING RALLY

ASSAIL HIGH TARIFFS.

MARMORA, May 2 (Examiner Correspondence).—An open meeting was held at the Town Hall, Marmora, on Saturday evening under auspices of the Marmora District Liberal Association. F. A. Bapty, president, was in the chair.

In his introductory remarks, Mr. Bapty welcomed the speakers and enlightened the audience regarding the reorganization of the association which took place last January. He also expressed his regret that W. A. Fraser, M.P., was prevented at the last moment from fulfilling his appointment to address the meeting.

H. P. Holton of Belleville, secretary of the Central Ontario Liberal Association, was called upon as the first speaker. He gave an account of the organization of the Central Ontario Liberal Association, and mentioned the convention of that organization which will be held in Peterborough in June, at which the Rt. Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King and Mitchell Hepburn will be speakers. References to periods of prosperity under Liberal governments made up the remainder of a very apt speech.

J. J. Duffus

J. J. Duffus of Peterborough, president of the Central Ontario Liberal Association, was given an ovation on his first appearance in Marmora in policital role. He was most attentively listened to in an address which lasted almost an hour. He contrasted the different periods of administration Federally and Provincially, dealing particularly with the present depression. He also drew attention to the increase of Provincial debt under the present Ontario Government. Hon. Nelson Parliament, concluding speaker, in a rousing speech, advanced the belief that prosperity depended upon low tariffs and wider markets. He contended that the more prosperous the producers of the country—those connectetd with agriculture, mining, forestry and fisheries—could become, the better for the manufacturers of the country.

Before the meeting closed, the nouncements was made that another meeting of a similar nature would be attempted in May.

Crops best suited for the control of noxious weeds are buckwheat, sweet clover, alfalfa, rape, fall wheat and hoed crops.

MR. AND MRS. W. H. RICHARDSON CELEBRATE GOLDEN WEDDING

Married at Warkworth May 1, 1882, by Late Rev. Chas. McClarey.

PERCY TWP. PIONEERS

CAMPBELLFORD, May 2 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — A large gathering of friends and relatives met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. William H. Richardson, Burnley, Haldimand Township, on Sunday when this venerable couple, descendants of old Irish stock, celebrated their golden wedding. Hale and hearty, and carrying their years very lightly, Mr. and Mrs. Richardson, who were both born in Percy Township, and are real pioneers of the district, are still active in the work of the community and take a keen interest in all the affairs of the day.

Mr. and Mrs. Richardson were married on May 1, 1882, at Warkworth by the Rev. Charles McClarey, Church of England minister of Hastings. Up until 12 years ago they farmed in Percy Township, later removing to Burnley, where they now reside on their son's farm.

Mr. Richardson was born in Percy 83 years ago. It was here he met his future wife, whose parents farmed a nearby settlement. She was then Miss Margaret McVety, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. G McVety, and like her husband's parents, were settlers from the north of Ireland. Mrs. Richardson is one year her husband's junior.

The union was blessed with four sons and one daughter, three sons only now living. The children are: Thomas of Percy, George of Campbellford, Harry at home, and William, who was killed at the Bottle of the Somme in 1916, and Minnie, who died two years ago. George of Campbellford also served with the C.E.F. for four years and ten months during the World War. There are eight grandchildren.

Many congratulations were showered upon these two old-timers, and many wishes bestowed uopn them for many years of health and happiness. The day was spent in recalling memories of the old days Mr. and Mrs. Richardson being extremely happy in having their family together for the occasion.

Japs Are Victorious In Manchurian Scrap

TOKYO, April 2 (A.P.)—Japanese military forces and Chinese rebels battled over a wide area in Northern and Eastern Manchuria to-day.

A Japanese Brigade, under Major General Mural, fought a 24-hour battle with 3,000 rebels near Wukimiho which resulted in a victory for the Japanese. Reports said there were 30 casualties.

A new threat developed at the Tunhua end of the Kirin-Tunhua branch of the railway when rebel bands, numbering several thousand men, most of them followers of General Wang Teh-Lin, threatened to surround the city.

General Jiro Tamon's division returned to the conflict because of this threat, after a few days' rest at Liaoyang, and began to move to Tunhua by train.

Washington Gains Lead in American League

BILL HALLAHAN STOPS CHICAGO WINNING STREAK

Issues Ten Bases on Balls But Allows Only Three Hits to Cub Sluggers.

AND CARDS WIN 7-1.

Senators Regain American League Lead by Defeating Yankees 4 to 2.

(By Herbert W. Barker, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

An altered line-up and a typical pitching performance by Wild Bill Hallahan has given the world champion St. Louis Cardinals their first victory in four games and snapped the Chicago Cubs' winning streak at seven in a row.

Gabby Street, slightly annoyed by an outfit that had succeeded in winning only five games out of its first fifteen, benched First Baseman Jim Bottomley yesterday, shifted Jimmy Collins to that post and inserted Ray Blades into the outfield.

This line-up stopped the Cubs without trouble, 7-1, but the credit perhaps rests chiefly on Hallahan's shoulder. The "wild one" passed ten men but allowed only three singles. Four double plays stopped the Cubs every time Hallahan's generosity put them in a threatening position. George Watkins led a 12-hit attack on Guy Bush, clouting a home run, double and single.

Braves At Top.

In the only other National League struggle of the day, the Cincinnati Reds came from behind to down Pittsburgh, 7-5 after the Pirates had gained a 5-0 lead. Bob Grace, Pirate catcher, suffered a fracture of the index finger of his throwing hand when hit by a foul tip.

The Washington Senators gained the American League lead by beating the New York Yankees, 4-2, as Lloyd Brown outpitched Charley Ruffing in a great duel. Brown witnessed the finish of the game from the clubhouse, Marberry going in with one out in the ninth after the Yankees had two men on base. Triples by Manush and Myer accounted for three Washington runs in the first two innings.

Wes Ferrell won his fifth game in a row as Cleveland pounded out an 11-1 victory over the Chicago White Sox. It was fairly close until the eighth when Cleveland scored seven runs off Poser and McKain. Earl Averill collected four hits, including his fifth home run of the season.

The much-ravelled right hander, Irving Hadley, made his first start for the St. Louis Browns, struck out 11 men, and beat the Detroit Tigers 4-3.

RAIN PREVENTS DOUBLE BILL

Sunday's Card Between Toronto Club and Reading is Washed Out.

WIN ON SATURDAY 7-3.

READING, May 2. — Toronto's hopes of getting home in the .500 class were dashed to pieces yesterday as wet grounds postponed both ends of a doubleheader with the Reading Keys, and terminated the Leafs' first-round jaunt of the 1932 season.

Having swept through three straight games with the Keyes, Tom Daly's rejuvenated youths were confident of maintaining their timely hitting and sensational fielding streak in the bargain encounter, but Old Man Weather put a crimp in their aspirations. A double win to-day would have boosted Toronto's record for the initial invasion of the southern end of the International League wheel to nine victories and nine defeats, a record that any club, reorganized as thoroughly as the Leafs could be proud of.

The Leafs climaxed their Southern trip with a twelve-inning triumph over the Keys on Saturday by the score of 7 to 3. Ralph Michaels' home run smack over the left wall in the twelfth inning was sufficient to break up a long hurling duel between Glenn Liebhardt and Carroll Yerkes, but his mates pounded out three more tallies to definitely sew up the decision. Michael's by the way, was quite the fair-haired boy in the Leafs' overtime conquest.

If you buy out of town, and I buy out of town, and all our neighbors buy out of town, what in thunder will become of our town? Ever think about it?

Canadian Runners Feature In Relay

PHILADELPHIA, May 2. — A world interscholastic record in the two mile relay, along with the interscholastic title in that event, and in the Class "A" one-mile high school relay, fell to the prowess of runners of the Hamilton, Ont., Collegiate Institute at the thirty-eighth annual University of Pennsylvania relay varnical Saturday.

After winning the interscholastic medley on Friday, the Canadians came right back to make a clean-sweep in all events in which they were entered for the two-day meet.

"Bill" McGillivray, Earl Moore, Fred Shaver and Bert Hall raced the two miles Saturday in 8 minutes 10.1 seconds, to clip 6 1/10 seconds from the mark set by Lakewood, Ohio, in 1930. The Canadians spread-eagled the field of 40 rival schools, winning by 100 yards from De Witz Clinton of New York City, with Nott Terrace of Schenectady, N.Y., third.

The Hamilton four in the Class "A" mile was declared winner through disqualification of Altoona Pa., High School. The Pennsylvanians appeared to have won by a yard in a thrilling finish, but the judges at once disqualified the team for fouling on the turn on the anchor leg, in which John Hicks, colored star, cut down 15 yards on the Canadians. Altoona's time of 3.28.2 set a new record, but was voided, of course, by the disqualification. Kearney, N.J., High School was second and West Philadelphia third.

CONACHER THROUGH WITH PRO HOCKEY?

"Big Train" Expects to Devote All His Time to Wrestling.

TORONTO, May 2. — It is likely that Lionel Conacher will spend the remainder of his sports career in wrestling. The former football, hockey and lacrosse star is delighted with the progress he has made in his training for his professional wrestling career, and is confident that he will make good in the monied division of this sport of which he was Canadian amateur heavyweight champion some years ago.

Praising The Powers That Be

Eddie Powers, well-known coach of the Toronto Maple Leafs Lacrosse Team, has been running his charges from a hospital bed. Eddie left his Boston Cub hockey team in the Can.-American League to take over his job with the Leafs, but no sooner arrived than he had to undergo an operation for appendicitis. But he'll be back in harness before long. Eddie is one of the outstanding lacrosse coaches of the time. His Brampton Excelsiors last year won the amateur championship of Canada. It was planned to send the team intact to the exhibition lacrosse games at the 1932 Olympics, but their ranks have been sadly thinned by the call of the pro. game.

ORIOLES SPLIT DOUBLE HEADER WITH RED WINGS

Baltimore Wins First Game 10-3 While Rochester Captures Nightcap 7-3.

ARLETT GETS HOMER.

Montreal and Toronto Tied in Standings, Second From the Bottom.

(By the Associated Press)

The International League's first moving day found little difference between the two divisions of the circuit. The northern half had a slight edge in the number of games won and lost in its first tour of the south, but it was so small that its only significance lay in the fact that it was gained away from the home parks.

Following a rainy windup of the first round of the southern cities yesterday, to-day's schedule was a complete blank as the clubs moved north to open the second part of the league program tomorrow.

Only two games were played yesterday a double-header between Rochester and Baltimore and the bill resulted in no decision. Baltimore's Orioles hammering out 15 hits which included four doubles, a triple and homers by Heffner, Arlett and McGowan, took the first game by 10 to 3 behind some fairly effective pitching by Walter Tauscher. Rochester came back and protected its slim hold on third place in the standing by winning the second game, 7 to 3, as Al Eckert held the Orioles to five hits.

Buzz Arlett hit another homer in this contest to bring Baltimore's total for the 18 games of its home stand to 33.

As the clubs left the south, the Newark Bears held first place by the margin of a single game over the Buffalo Bisons. They took the lead by winning two out of three games in their closing series. Then came Rochester and Baltimore, tied in games in another north-south struggle, but with the Red Wings holding third by seven percentage points.

Royals-Leafs Tied

Montreal and Toronto were tied for the next notch in the standing and Reading and Jersey City were deadlocked at the bottom. The Canadian clubs gained their advantage with clean sweeps in their final series. Montreal took three straight from the Jersey Skeeters and the Toronto Leafs did the same thing to Reading.

The schedule of northern openings to-morrow calls for Newark, which won every series at home, to play at Toronto; Baltimore at Buffalo, Reading at Montreal, and Jersey City at Rochester.

NO ELGIN GAMES

The committee has decided to hold a meeting a year from now to consider whether there will be a gathering in 1933, and its decision then will hinge upon securing public support. The growing deficit of the past three gatherings has exhausted the reserve of the fund.

The average receipts at the games have been £125, but expenses have been £133.

UNITED STATES' TENNIS STARS MAKE CLEAN SWEEP OF SERIES

Wright and Rainville Unable to Score Victory in Davis Cup Play.

MAKE GOOD DISPLAY.

WASHINGTON, May 2.—Dr. Jack Wright of Vancouver and Marcel Rainville of Montreal lost five straight matches to the United States Davis Cup team here when they succumbed to Frank X. Shields and Ellsworth Vines on the courts of the Chevy Chase Club here Saturday afternoon by scores of 8—6 6—1, 10—8, and 6—3, 6—3, 6—4.

The two Canadians, who bore the whole burden of the three days' play, felt rather depressed, but had no complaint to make. Rainville frankly said he was dissatisfied with his performance. "Everything I tried didn't quite come off," he said, adding philosophically: "That's the game."

It was obvious to anyone who had seen the Canadians play in other matches, that neither was in top form on the courts at Chevy Chase during the entire series.

Wright's Fine Display

Wright, the old Canadian master, put up a magnificent battle against Vines on Thursday when he forced the United States champion to five sets, and again Saturday against a regenerated Shields, Wright was the hero of the crowd. Yet it was apparent he was by no means in midseason form. He had difficulty with the easier shots and his annoyance as the ball found the net or slipped over the boundaries by inches was manifest. He changed his racquet and called for new balls. Incidentally, all the matches were played with United States balls, which are slightly different to those used in Canada. But it was no use.

Only in the third set did he hit anything like his accusomed pace. Then two down, the Vancouver doctor staged a truly magnificent come-back. The stands were in an uproar when, within an ace of defeat, Wright found his stroke and with a nice change of pace, playing as cooly as though he were warming up, confused Shields with cross-court placements and drives to the corner. He pulled it out of the fire at 10—8. His work was at this stage of the same kind that nearly downed Vines. It didn't last after the rest period.

Plays Inspired Game

Shields played his whole match much like an inspired panther. He was all over and wherever he happened to be unless it were midcourt, the ball left his racquet with the accuracy and speed of a bullet.

Rainville played a clever game against the greatest smasher since Tilden. To Vines he served them up soft, kept the ball low with plenty of English on it, mixed them up, changed pace and used every dodge to prevent the walloper from setting the pace. It was as pretty a tactic as has been seen here in some time. Vines grinned wryly as he sensed the Canadian strategy and for a time attempted with small success to match Rainville's cunning softness.

But Vines, on whom the United States have set their hearts as the world's champion, must win his points by force and he was accurate enough with his tremendous swings to beat back the gallant little Canadian, driving them like golf balls from corner to corner, scoring aces on his terrific service and occasionally leaping up and extending his racquet a full ten feet to crack down an unplayable smash.

GRADS EARN LEAD OVER BORDER TEAM

Edmonton Quintet Captures First Canadian Play-off Game 60-32.

EDMONTON, May 2.—Two teams in top form clashed with fury here on Saturday night in the first of a three-game series to decide the girls' senior basketball championship of the Dominion, and Edmonton Grads, seeking their eleventh title, outscored the Eastern challengers, Windsor-Walkerville Alumnae, 60 to 32. Three thousand fans packed the gymnasium and watched by far one of the fastest and most fiery battles played on an Edmonton floor.

The visitors were outscored in each quarter. At the end of the first, Grads were leading 20 to 8, and at half-time the score was: Grads, 30; Windsor-Walkerville, 16. The Easterners added another eight points in the third quarter to give them 24, while Grads added 14 for a total of 44. In the final quarter, Grads marked up 16 points, while Windsor-Walkerville was held to half that amount.

Personal fouls on the Windsor-Walkerville players were two on Miss Leishman, two on Miss Allison, alnd one on Miss Fisher, while those on the Grads were, one each on Misses Neale, MacBurney, and E. Stone, with two being imposed on Miss Bennie.

Without a dull minute in the whole game, Grads were given a severe test by the Windsor-Walkerville girls—an even more severe test than the 60-32 score indicated. But the favorites were in fine condition, shooting at the basket with accuracy and balking the fast-passing Easterners on assaults that looked like points.

Australia now has more than 1,000,000 sheep.

Joie Ray Runs Marathon With Death As Grim Reaper Threatens Daughter

NEW YORK, May 2 (C.P.). — Little Joie Ray ran to-day a Marathon with death—with little chance to win.

Once the premier miler of the United States, a lad who stepped into the books with a brave 4.12, a versatile athlete of the cinders, of the Arena, of Canadian snowshoe races, and, lately, of the Marathon dance, Ray dropped from the latter contest early today and started for Chicago.

A telegram told him that his ten-year-old daughter was dying. News of her illness came as a cruel climax to months of tough luck that was hung at his heels, like some determined rival of the track he could not shake off.

Ray has been grinding his way around a Marathon dance floor for four weeks. He wanted the prize money that will go to the couple or the individual who outlasts all others in the wearying round of terpsichore.

Joie said he would sell his medals to raise money for the effort to save his daughter's life.

DANNY McDONALD IN FEATURE BOUT

Takes 185-pound Ontario Mat Title Despite Leg Injury.

TORONTO, May 2.—Spectacular wrestling featured the finals in the Ontario amateur championships conducted at West End Y.M.C.A. on Saturday night. A large and enthusiastic crowd showered acclaim on the newly-crowned champions.

The 158-pound final was the feature, with Danny McDonald in action after his wonderful preliminaries the preceding night. On the night before an old injury to his knee was aggravated and had caused him considerable pain, but despite the fact that his right leg was practically useless, he won. His first fall came in 6.01, and 38 seconds later he took his second to win the bout. The leg injury forced him to default in the final of the 174-pound class, which went to Terry Evans of the West End Y.M.C.A., who had previously defeated Mike Chepesuick of the Argonaut Rowing Club.

The West End Y.M.C.A. Wrestling Club won five championships, the 118-pound, 123-pound, 145-pound, 158-pound, and the 174-pound classes, while Central Y.M.C.A. took the other three classes, 135-pound, 191-pound, and heavyweight.

PEDEN HEADS POINT AVERAGE

Horan of Newark, N.J., and Audy Ranks Second to Leaders.

IN TORONTO RACE.

TORONTO, May 2. (CP)— After a night of wild jams and riding, the French team of Letournier and LePage of Montreal were one complete lap ahead of the rest of the field in the six-day bicycle race which started at one minute after midnight this morning. "Torchy" Peden, Victoria, B.C., and Reg. Fielding, Toronto, were leading in point standing with a total of 37, eight points ahead of Horan, Newark, N.J., and the little blonde Frenchman Audy, who had collected 29 by the sprint method.

Despite the shortness of the track and the unusual high banking only one spill occurred during the night. Parrott, of Winnipeg, was relieving his partner, Gachon, of Montreal, when both piled up at the south turn. The two were turned on the boards but were not seriously injured.

There were thrills aplenty at the start of the race. Within ten minutes Letournier and PePage had thrown the place into an uproar with a mad sprint which seemed to start from nowhere. They had gained nearly a lap before the rest of the field could get over the surprise, but from then on were watched closely. "Torchy" Peden and his local partner were riding in fine form and Peden particularly was giving a fine exhibition.

TROUT FISHING SEASON OPENED

Many Anglers Report Fair Sized Catch on Opening Day.

PICKING MAY FLOWERS.

"The pleasantest angling is to see the fish
Cut with her golden oars the silver stream,
And greedily devour the treacherous bait."

Many anglers had that pleasure yesterday, even though the trout fishing season did happen to open on a Sunday, and it may be taken for granted that few of them were content merely to let the fish greedily devour the bait, but on the contrary exacted the full toll in the shape of a nice trout to grace the frying pan.

One trio of local anglers, and they were not alone in their excursion, left the city before daybreak and journeyed into a remote section of Cavan Township. Before 5 a.m. they had their lines into action and were rewarded with a fair-sized catch at the end of the day.

Another fisherman who sought the same fishing ground however, did not meet with any luck and is reported to have been seen picking Mayflowers, probably as a form of peace-offering for his disappointed spouse.

WHITNEY HORSE IS WITHDRAWN

Top Flight Entry Makes Disappointing Showing on Saturday at Jamaica.

NOT IN CONDITION.

NEW YORK, May 2 (C.P.)—Top Flight, C. V. Whitney's unbeaten two-year-old and until Saturday favorite for the Kentucky Derby, to-day was withdrawn from the three-year-old classic at Churchill Downs Saturday, and will be thrown out of hard training.

The decision to withdraw the filly from the Derby was announced today by Tom Healey, Whitney's trainer, who said her disappointing showing Saturday in the Wood Memorial at Jamaica had convinced them she was not in good condition for the gruelling mile and a quarter test in Kentucky.

Lucky Strikes Win From Garagemen

LAKEFIELD, May 2 Examiner Correspondence).—The first ball game of the season was played on the High School field on Thursday evening, with a good crowd present in spite of the fact that the game was rather hurriedly got up and not advertised. It was a purely exhibition fixture and the result after the smoke of battle had cleared away showed the Lucky Strike the victors over the Central Garage by a score of 13—6. J. E. Charlton at plate and P. Payne at bases handled the game satisfactorily.

The winners are a newly-organized team and won their spurs in their first game; Bill Wingett made the only home run. Five innings were played. The line-up was as follows:

CASUAL COMMENT

This is the month when things happen in the sports world, as all the summer sports swing into action again. The first couple of weeks, practices and organization work and then the schedules open. By the end of May, soccer, softball, baseball, cricket, swimming, golf, lacrosse and a bunch of others will be going strong.

• • • • • • •

There's a meeting to-night at eight in Duffus' for the Men's City Softball League. It's the closing date for entries, with five teams already in: Sugar Bowl, Toronto Star, All Saints, Red & White and The Examiner. Schedule, umpires and other questions will be threshed out at this session, and all teams should have representatives on hand.

• • • • • • •

Tuesday evening at eight bells in Duffus', the Girls' Softball League holds its annual meeting, and everyone interested is invited. Officers will be elected at this time, teams entered, the transfer of players discussed, and other important business cleaned up.

• • • • • • •

Most of the teams in last year are sure to be back along with several others. Auburns are practicing now, Westclox and Choates are getting lined up, Rovers and C.G.E. are expected back, as well as Keene and Sixth Line. Brintons are an unknown quantity just yet. A new outfit, My Valet, will apply for a place, and Lowney's may also. Then we hear a girls' team from Lakefield hope to join this loop. Well, more about the gal softballers after the meeting.

• • • • • • •

Saturday's rain knocked the proposed senior baseball practice at Stevenson Park into a cocked hat, just when a big turnout seemed assured. The players are attending the workouts at the "Y" in satisfactory numbers, and it looks like there'll be two or three good men after each position. Until they get going outdoors, not much of a line can be had on their chances at the different berths.

• • • • • • •

The City League teams are rapidly being rounded up and starting to practice. We'd like to see two or three more teams in both the juvenile and the junior sections, with some of the service clubs backing them.

• • • • • • •

The election of officers at the East Peterborough Baseball League meeting on Saturday was put off for two weeks, until May 14. The reason was because this loop cannot get properly organized until it is known just what players will be taken by the senior club, and this will not be known for at least another week after several outdoor workouts. So, little was done at the E.P.L. gathering.

• • • • • • •

Those present decided to notify the senior executive to this effect, and a letter will be sent requesting the senior club to have a signed team by the 14th of May, consisting of players necessary to start the schedule without carrying too many good extra players. Of course, the best players who are not signed at this time may be drafted later by the senior club, provided, however, that they are replaced satisfactorily.

• • • • • • •

This sounds quite logical to us, and if Art Primeau can line up a strong prospective team in a week, so much the better for all concerned. As it is, the intermediate teams are more or less up in the air, many of their players hesitating to sign until the senior team is picked. Since the managers of the E.P.L. are doing so much to co-operate with the senior club, the latter should try, if possible, to hurry up the team-organizing work. Of course, that isn't always easy, either.

• • • • • • •

The Public School Baseball League gets going rightly this week, with six games slated. There's a double-header after four this evening, Queen Mary at Central, and Queen Alexandra at King George. To-morrow Prince of Wales plays at King Edward. The best of these boys will be seen in the bantam series of the City League later in the summer.

• • • • • • •

Old Jupe Pluvius put a crimp in the box lacrossers' workout at the Exhibition Grounds on Saturday, but from now on they'll be able to practise evenings in the Brock Street Arena. We understand the four city teams are getting strong outfits lined up and the railbirds will be looking 'em over some of these evenings.

• • • • • • •

The Marathon 5-Pin Bowling Competition starts to-morrow night at Duffus', and a flock of entries have been received so far. The contest consists of ten straight games in one evening, with some good prizes going to the strongest pin-toppers, as well as to the most consistent one. Further entries will be taken by Bert Duffus this p.m., and the competition lasts all week. This is a spot for strong-arm men.

ST. JAMES' SUNDAY SCHOOL OBSERVES 24TH ANNIVERSARY

Rev. C. D. Daniel of Mark Street Church is Guest Speaker.

THREE SERVICES.

The 24th anniversary of St. James' United Church Sunday School was observed yesterday at all three church services.

The excellent program of the day was well arranged by the superintendent, so that the three stages in church school life were represented in the splendid addresses of the day.

As guest speaker, Rev. C. D. Daniel, of Mark Street United Church brought a message to the parents in the morning, and to the children in the afternoon, when the church was well filled.

The 23rd chapter of second Samuel was chosen as the morning Scripture lesson, and from this same chapter, the 15th verse, "O that one would give me drink of the water of the well of Bethlehem, which is by the gate," were the words upon which Rev. Mr. Daniel based his sermon.

This story of the homesick King David reaches down to the fundamentals of life. When attacking the Philistines in the Valley of Rephaim, David looked across and saw his old home in Bethlehem, and his longing for home is uttered in the words of the text. This wish was overheard by three of his men, who at once desired to fulfil it. So they made the perilous journey through the enemy camp and returned bringing water from the well "at the gate." But David, who felt that their sacrifice was too great, consecrated the gift as an offering to the Lord.

From this story, the speaker impressed one or two truths. The first was that the home touch lingers throughout life. Parents little know whom they are bringing up. It may be a king or a leader of men.

Greatest Influence

Home is the greatest influence in the life of a child, for a young child is an imitator through and through. By ten years they become idealists and by fifteen years they are deciders. Very few ever change their decisions after reaching thirty.

A child obtains over half its learning before it is six; so the parents' influence is making that child what he is to be. Some parents delegate the regilous education to the church and the Sunday school. While these institution are doing a marvellous work, the real task lies with the parents.

In the complex life of to-day home has become merely a place to eat and to sleep, and we are missing the fine fellowship of home life.

It is the older people in the world who are responsible for the conditions of to-day, and not the youth who are so generally condemned.

In closing, Mr. Daniel made a plea for the building up of the Christian home life, whose influence will live as long as life lasts.

Afternoon Classes

In the afternoon the Sunday School classes assembled in the auditorium of the church, when the children's program was carried out in song and recitation. The Sunday school orchestra, conducted by Clifford Russeau, added greatly to the success of the day. Miss Olive Prest accompanied at the piano.

Mr. Prest, the superintendent, presided at this service when the following selections were presented. The opening hymn, "God Sees the Little Sparrows Fall," was followed by prayer by Rev. Mr. Daniel. A chorus, "If Thou Shalt Confess," by the Junior Choir. Recitation, "A Word and a Smile," Mildred Henthorne. Solo, "Yes, Jesus Loves Me," Audrey Firth. Recitation, in duet, "The Body the Temple of God," Arthur Church and Gerald Vannest. Recitation, in duet, "The Lord is My Shepherd," June Freeman and June Killingbeck. Solo, "Let Not the Founder Be Forgot," Thelma McLaren.

Addresses Children

At this time Rev. Mr. Daniel addressed the children from the words of David's men, when they said to him, "One of you is worth ten thousand of us." To-day the parents and teachers who have almost finished life's task, are saying these same words to those who are starting life's journey. In reply, we hope to hear you say as Divid did, "What seemeth you best, I will do."

By numerous illustrations the speaker made plain to the children that every one had some certain work to do in life, and if you do this, giving God your very best, you will indeed be worth ten thousand of us.

After the closing prayer, the Sunday School choir sang softly the Vesper Hymn.

Rounding out the successful anniversary services, the pastor, in his evening sermon brought a challenging message to his young people from the words of Paul to the Thessalonian's, "Prove all things; hold fast that which is good."

We speak glibly to-day of the changing times, and in the midst of this it is difficult for young people to know what is good. Sin has always been a snare, but to-day temptations are tremendous. The speaker appealed to the young people to give to mother and father their rightful place, and to sweep any existing misunderstanding.

We cannot throw off "the past" without putting something better in its place, and youth must be patient if it would prove all things. How can we know when we have the right things?" There is not a single thing but can be tested by an infallible rule. Over two thousand years ago when men were in doubt and confusion. One came and said to them, "I am the Way, the Truth, and the Life." They found in Him the true light which shone on all problems. So may we find and hold fast to that which is good."

Beautiful flowers banked the altar and platform, making of this anniversary a real gala day in St. James' and a happy memory to carry through life.

The music of the day, given by both Junior and Senior choirs, was all inspiring and the organist, Mr. Stevens, is to be congratulated upon his fine musical program, which was as follows: Morning.—Senior Choir "Praise the Lord" (Tamblyn); Junior Choir, "He Hideth My Soul"; Duet, "Praise Him Too," little Beth Melrose and Arthur Roode. Evening.—Senior Choir, "Take Up Thy Cross" (Grant); Junior Choir, "Is My Name Written There" (Davis); Duett, "Breathe On Me, Breath of Life," Bert Pitchford and Gerald Cuff.

ODD FELLOWS ATTEND CHURCH

Annual Church Parade is Held to George Street United.

REV. MILLYARD PREACHES.

The annual church parade of the Peterborough and Otonabee Lodges of Independent Order of Oddfellows was held last evening. Meeting at their rooms at 6.15 p.m., and led by the Salvation Army Band, approximately two hundred members with members of the sister Rebecca Lodge, each wearing a pink rose, attended service at George Street United Church, where the Rev. J. E. J. Millyard welcomed them on behalf of the church officials and members. Special music was rendered by the choir, who sang two beautiful anthems, "O Worship the King" and "Festival Te Deum." In the latter number Miss Dorothy Sager and Mr. A. V. Lillow rendered the solo parts.

Rev. J. E. J. Millyard preached a very impressive and eloquent sermon, taking as his text from the first epistle of Paul to the Corinthians, the eighth chapter, and part of the sixth verse: "There is but one God the Father."

The speaker said this text occurs in Paul's discourse on the subject as to whether they should eat the meat which had been offered to idols and he asked the congregation to go in imagination to Corinth at that time and hear the arguments for and against, and think in this age what decision we would arrive at under such conditions. "As the Christian Church referred this matter to Paul, so must we refer our problems to God to help us decide the right course. Looking at the text, we shall consider it under three headings: 1st, God is; 2nd, God is one; 3rd, God is the Father. Considering the first, you, as Oddfellows, have admitted your belief in a supreme being as every candidate in the threshold of entering your Order is compelled to assert this belief."

Taking up the third fact of the text, "God is the Father," he said the relationship of Father is ideal as universal. He belongs to everybody. If God is our Father, the proper relationship of man to man is brother. This is a relationship which Oddfellows do emphasize very strongly. The world to-day realizes the desperate need of brotherhood. There are two ways we can live: first, to make our lives free and open so everybody can get something good from us or we can live in a way that makes a private enclosure of our lives. Most of people mix these up, and in most there is something of good. Your craft is doing a needy work, and my brothers and sisters, you can best serve your Order, your community and your country by being a good Christian. Your history is based on the Fatherhood of God, and we wish you well. Nothing will help you so much as being good Christians, and putting your ideas into works as Christ did."

In conclusion, he said: "My brothers, my sisters, I covet for you the name of Christians. You will never understand the meaning of Oddfellow and Rebecca vows in their full significance until you have been taken in the name of Christ. If you accept Christ you will have a richness of life which will make life worth living."

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

Wisdom will her plans arrange
Subject to a sudden change.
—Old Mother Nature.

Plans that cannot be changed on short notice, or no notice at all, are unfortunate. The best plans are those which provide for sudden change to meet unexpected conditions. And it is just as bad to have no plans at all as it is to have plans that are so fixed that they cannot be changed.

Jerry Muskrat, who had been visiting the pond of Paddy the Beaver deep in the Green Forest, having followed up the Laughing Brook after being driven from his home in the Smiling Pool, was now beginning to be a wee bit homesick. He had enjoyed his visit with Paddy and Mrs. Paddy. He had learned a lot. He admired their house and their two dams and he liked their two ponds. Despite all this he was getting homesick. A pond in the Green Forest, surrounded by trees, might suit Paddy the Beaver best, but Jerry had begun to long for the open stretches of the Green Meadows around the Smiling Pool.

The arrival of Honker the Goose and his flock on their way to the Far North had made Jerry more homesick than ever. You see he never had met these big feathered folk before. He was bashful and felt out of place. Honker and Paddy were old friends and were glad to see each other. Paddy and Mrs. Paddy didn't seem to mind the noisy gabbling of the Geese, but it got on Jerry's nerves. He never had known anything like it. So, as he floated in the Black Shadows close to Paddy's house and listened to the gabbling he suddenly decided to go home.

"I've had enough of this," thought he. "The flood must have gone down by this time. If it hasn't I can find a hiding place not too far from the Smiling Pool and wait there until the water has gone down enough. I'll start this very night. I'll wait until all is quiet and then I'll start. I can't get lost. All I have to do is to follow the Laughing Brook, for it flows down through the Green Forest to the Green Meadows and the Smiling Pool. I won't even say goodby to Paddy and Mrs. Paddy. I'll just slip away quietly. No one will miss me."

So Jerry kept out of sight in the Black Shadows by Paddy's house and waited. After a time the gabbling ceased. In the starlight Jerry could just make out the dim form of the big feathered folk floating on the water. There were no long necks to be seen now, for heads were tucked under wings. Jerry waited until he was sure that all were asleep. He was just about to start to swim around them so as to reach the dam when he heard Paddy and Mrs. Paddy climb out on the other side of the roof of their house. Then he heard Paddy speak.

"I just swam along past the dam," said he, "and Buster Bear is over there."

You should have seen Jerry prick up his ears at that. He had a sudden doubt about starting for home right away if Buster Bear was prowling around that dam.

"I've told Honker over and over again how foolish he is to make such a noise when he is traveling and to allow such a gabbling when he and his flock arrive," continued Paddy. "By this time everybody in the Green Forest knows they are here and this pond is going to be too popular for our own comfort. Buster Bear is already here, and I'll venture to say that Old Man Coyote isn't far off, Yowler the Bobcat is sneaking along in the Black Shadows close to the edge of the pond this very minute, and Reddy Fox and probably Mrs. Reddy are hiding somewhere close at hand. I guess we won't do any going ashore until after Honker leaves. By the way, I wonder where Jerry Muskrat is. He ought to be warned to be extra careful."

Right then and there Jerry changed his mind. "I won't start for home yet. No, sir, I won't do anything of that kind now," he decided. "It would be taking too great a chance, and nothing is quite so foolish as taking unnecessary chances."

What To-Day Means To You

"TAURUS"

If May 2nd is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:15 a.m. to 10 a.m., from 2:10 p.m. to 4 p.m., and from 7 p.m. to 8:15 p.m. The danger periods are from noon to 1 p.m. and from 10:30 p.m. to midnight.

The world will begin business on May 2nd with a spirit of industry and optimism, and most plans will be pushed through with unusual ease. A frivolous mood will capture the evening hours, and the gods of happiness promise to make social functions a huge success from the standpoint of fun.

The child born on this May 2nd will know its own mind, and will get its own way if it can. It will grow out of its childish stubbornness and develop into a being of decision and purpose. It will be courageous without being fool-hardy.

Born on May 2nd, you have a brave, optimistic, fighting nature, and you do not easily chuck your hand in. It will be the things over which you seem to have no control that will beat you; not the things wherein yours is the master mind or hand. You never make a statement unless you are sure of your figures, and are known as a man or woman of your word. You have positive opinions, but they are not so set that you need to measure everything with your own yardstick.

There are times when you feel inarticulate, leaving much for translation. This is true about the tender, intimate things which you wish to say to people and cannot. Your hand clasp, or eyes, often reveal more than your words have expressed. There are very few people with whom you really have mental kinship, and these few are of priceless value to you. You are often a very lonely and misunderstood being because of the isolation of your spirits.

You have money sense and keen business acumen, and should enter one of the commercial fields of endeavor. Your pet hobbies and love of reading will keep you from ever becoming a slave to any job. One of your favorite gods is punctuality, which will be a life-long habit with you. You will seldom be merrily happy, but you will know the restful contentment of a philosopher.

Avoid Disillusion and Distress by Putting your Savings into Confederation Life Insurance

MANY Confederation Life Policyholders are increasing their Life Insurance because rapidly changing conditions have shown how impregnable is the security and stability of it.

During the past three years many a policyholder has said to us, in effect:

"I am thankful that I've been able to hold on to my Confederation Life Insurance. If I had let that go . . . my family would have been destitute if anything had happened to me before, financially speaking, I was able to get back on my feet again."

The unassailable security and value of Confederation Life Policies have been so clearly demonstrated that many policyholders have bought additional Insurance to replace, so far as possible, the depreciation in value of securities or the entire disappearance of capital, that they firmly believed was safely invested.

"Security and Stability for Sixty Years" is no mere slogan or figure of speech, as applied to Confederation Life Association policies. It is the simple, comforting truth, as many thousands of policyholders have cause to know.

Hold fast to your Confederation Life Insurance and buy more of it. Your Confederation Life Insurance may be the only thing that you now own that is still worth one hundred cents on the dollar.

We recommend our guaranteed Monthly Income Policies or Pension Bonds to those experienced as well as to those who may be inexperienced in the management of financial affairs. Write for particulars of them. Use this coupon for immediate convenience.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Sores Broke Out All Over Her Body

Mrs. T. E. Cliff, Kelwood, Man., writes:—"My little daughter's hands and arms broke out in sores which spread all over her body.

Nothing I tried gave her any relief until I got a bottle of Burdock Blood Bitters, and I could see an improvement, as the sores began to disappear.

I gave her three bottles and she has had no more trouble."

Examiner's Scrambled Ad. Contest

For the present at least The Examiner has seen fit to discontinue this contest. Each day hundreds of replies were received proving the interest taken and although all could not win guest tickets, we trust those who were fortunate felt repaid for their efforts.

At a later date all being equal we might again conduct it, but we want to take this opportunity of sincerely thanking the Capital Theatre, through its manager Mr. Jack Stewart for the splendid co-operation in making it possible and such a success.

Scout News and Notices

The 8th Peterborough Pack of Wolf Cubs is one of the few units of Peterborough Boy Scout Association which is functioning normally at the present time. The recent Pack meeting included a banquet and social evening held with the assistance of Mr. and Mrs. Ridyard and Mrs. Howard.

St. Andrew's Cubs have also commenced their season's hikes, having already spent an enjoyable afternoon at Green Hill.

The Pack and leaders wish to thank Mrs. H. Howard, Mrs. A. W. McPherson, Miss D. Leal and Miss M. McPherson for their kindness in making and supplying neckerchiefs for the pack. The colors of the neckerchiefs are navy blue with a white St. Andrew's Cross on the back point of the neckerchief.

Recently started, the St. Andrew's Pack (8th Peterborough) report good progress. It is hoped to start a scout troop in the near future.

Among the other units of the Association that are working more or less consistently, are 1st Peterborough (St. John's) Troop and the 6th Peterborough (St. Peter's) Troop.

Others are doing little or nothing. Probably the uncertain weather conditions which have prevailed since the close of the indoor winter program provides a clue to the situation. Still some definite plans should be made with the near expectation of glorious camping and hiking weather.

President H. C. Sootheran of the Boy Scout Association has called a meeting of the executive for Tuesday night next, to review the entire situation and to endeavour to get every troop in the city going ahead as they should be.

But a lot depends on the officers of the individual troops and packs and right down to the greenest tenderfoot or tenderpad. The executive can only offer suggestions and advice, the rest is up to the boys themselves. Let the watchword be "action."

It is probable that one of the other items under discussion at the executive meeting, will relate itself to the forthcoming visit to Peterborough of His Excellency the Governor-General Lord Bessborough.

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION. NO. 85

By Edgar Rice Burroughs
(Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

The ape-man paused and listened, sniffing the air with his sensitive nostrils. Then on noiseless feet he crossed the clearing toward the hut. In the grass outside the palisade lay the dead body of a white man. A single glance told Tarzan it was the fugitive he sought, and even before he searched, he suspected that the sack of diamonds was in possession of whoever had slain the Russian.

Inside the hut and all about were indications of the recent presence of a man and woman. The spoor of the man tallied with that of the creature who had killed Gobu, the great ape, and hunted Bara, the deer, upon the preserves of the ape-man. But the woman, who was she? Swiftly Tarzan traced the footprints into the jungle. Now he saw the woman had been limping painfully and lagging behind her companion.

Esteban forged far ahead of Flora Hawkes, now too weary to keep up with his increasing haste. "Wait for me," she pleaded. "Then hurry up," growled the Spaniard. "With this fortune in my possession, I wait for nobody." "Save me," the girl cried despairingly. "I can go no farther." Esteban laughed mockingly and as a turn in the trail shut him from her sight, she dropped exhausted to the ground.

Tarzan was in no haste, for he knew he would soon overtake the fleeing pair. So he was not surprised when he came suddenly upon the huddled figure of a woman lying in the middle of the trail. Kneeling beside her he laid a hand upon her shoulder. It brought forth a startled scream. "You are in no danger," said the ape-man. Then she looked up at him and exclaimed: "Oh, Esteban, have you really come back to save me?"

Mrs. Beare Thankful for Way in Which Dr. Williams Pink Pills Helped Her Back to Health

Gained Weight and Color

"I can truly recommend Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, for they did wonders for me," writes Mrs. Mabel R. Beare, New Westminster, B.C. "After a long and very trying illness, I was down to 90 lbs. in weight. I could not eat a hearty meal. In fact, I have had to go away from the table hungry, from a dinner I dared not touch. I was also very pale. I had often read about Dr. Williams' Pinks Pills, so thought I would give them a trial. I soon found I was able to eat with any one, and life began to look brighter. My weight came up to 118 lbs. and my lips and cheeks had lots of color. I am more than thankful I ever took Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I only hope others will try them."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually create an abundance of new red blood, which is the reason they have given new vitality and strength to thousands of such nervously exhausted women. Equally helpful for growing girls. Try them. At your druggist's in the new glass container. 50c.

Woman Is In Charge Of Small Children

There is a woman in charge of his children, and when she noticed the child, who is within a few weeks of three years old, was not around she sent the oldest boy about 12 o'clock to the Police Station to make inquiries, but did not get any information; then at a quarter to four she went to the Police Station, was told where the child was, and went for him. When Policeman Wheeler said he knew the child he evidently had in mind the oldest boy, who has strayed from home previously and the police have taken him home. The boy lost on Friday has never been away from home before, and the oldest boy is now of age to go to school and is attending regularly.

The woman taking care of the children was only two days in the position, and naturally upset, but the children have not and will not be neglected, and have the best of care at all times.

Small Baby Boy Is Found in School

BROCKVILLE, May 2 (C.P.) — Helen Quinn, 16, found a 2-weeks-old infant boy when she arrived at the North Channel Schoolhouse in Edwardsburg Township, east of Prescott, to-day. The child was in a suitcase, which also contained a bottle of milk.

Provincial Police, who were notified, brought the baby to the Children's Shelter here.

ODD FELLOWS VISIT TORONTO AND EXEMPLIFY DEGREE WORK

PETERBOROUGH HONORED.

The degree staff of Hiawatha Encampment No. 66 I.O.O.F. visited Toronto on Saturday in acceptance of the invitation extended by the Toronto Encampment district.

On arrival at the Odd Fellows' Temple on College street, Toronto, the visitors were welcomed by the Deputy Grand Patriarch of Toronto district who conducted them immediately to the dining hall to partake of a splendid banquet. This was probably the first occasion that the Peterborough Odd Fellows have been honoured with the presence of so many distinguished Sovereign and Grand officers as witnesses of their degree work.

Grand Sire Joseph Powley was escorted into the lodge room by a canton of officers and chevaliers of the Toronto Patriarchs Militant and received a most enthusiastic ovation from all present.

During the history of Odd Fellowship this is the third time that the Sovereign Grands Lodge has chosen an Ontario member to rule and guide the destinies of this vast brotherhood throughout the whole world and the reeption accorded Grand Sire Powley proved indeed the pride and joy which every member felt. Grand Patriarch Waltham Grand Scribe Parks, Grand Secretary Brooks and many other Grand Officers of the Ontario jurisdiction were present, also the whole of the Toronto District Committee. In addition to which several hundred encampment branch members attended to witness the exemplification of the Golden Rule by the Peterborough members. Three of the Toronto encampments, Toronto No. 8, Excelsior No. 88 and Imperial No. 97 jointly sent a total of 14 candidiate for advancement.

After the chairs had been vacated, Hiawatha degree staff in charge of Bro. R. R. Ford officiated as follows: Chief Patriarch Bro. Wm. J. Bull, Senior Warden Bro. E. Stanley, High Priest Bro. George East, Junior Warden Bro. Fred Tuggey being ably supported in the various positions by Brothers George Benton, Deputy Grand Patriarch of this district; George Noyes, R. J. Murduff, E. Norman, E. H. Bartlett, George E. Johnson, J. W. Boorman, Harry Butler, John Lush, A. Brotherston, Jr., George Lacheur, W. H. Morton and W. Whitaker. Brothers W. F. Green and Reg. Dyer being in charge of the musical arrangements. Amongst the members present were Bros. R. J. Craig, H. Dunford, Stanley Carnwright, Harvey Gordon and H. Stinson.

The Grand Sire in his subsequent remarks complimented the staff on the able manner in which their work had been accomplished. He gave a brief talk on the work of the Order throughout the world, particularly touching upon the jurisdiction of Cuba from whence he has recently returned.

The Grand Patriarch also added his testimony, as also did many others who were privileged to be present.

A very hearty and enthusiastic vote of thanks was accorded the team and their captain, Brother R. R. Ford which was suitably acknowledged by the acting Chief Patriarch Bro. Bull and Bro. Ford.

The evening was much enlivened at this point by the introduction of the well known radio entertained, Bro. Tom Hamilton and his lady accompanist. Brother Hamilton who is a member of the Patriarchal family gave several clever Scottish impersonations commingled with some very witty patter which drew continuous roars of laughter from his much interested audience.

After the singing of the National Anthem everybody adjourned to the dining hall to enjoy further hospitality.

A large number of the visitors decided to stay over night, which was, in the opinion of those that left for home immediately, a very wise decision. The heavy fog which enveloped the highway the whole distance from Toronto to Bewdley imposed a very strenuous task upon those in charge of the taxis and private cars, but with very slow and careful driving all arrived safely in Peterborough about 4 o'clock Sunday morning.

JAMES HUGHES WANTS TO BUILD SERVICE STATION

Application is Made to City Council for Gasoline Station.

REST ROOM SALARY.

Alderman Phelan Declares Living Wage Not Being Paid.

James E. Hughes, 392 Water street, applied to the council last night for permission to build a gasoline service station at the north-east corner of Reid and McDonnel streets. His request was referred to Mayor Denne and City Engineer Parsons with power to grant the application if the plans are satisfactory.

Referring to the salary of $325 a year to the caretaker of the new public rest room on Charlotte street, Ald. Phelan pointed out that this averaged $6.25 a week.

"The city should pay him at least a living wage, $15 a week," Ald. Phelan said. "I don't care if it is never opened as I was opposed to it going there."

Ald. Tuggey—I raised that question of a fair wage when we were making the appointment, but members of the council said that we could let it go for a month or two until we saw how it worked out and what was actually needed. We could then amend the wage. I think there should be a man to look after one part and a woman in charge of the other. And it should be closed at 11 or 11.30 at night and open at 7 in the morning.

Ald. Stocker— We accepted the tender, and we might as well let it go for a time on trial.

Ald. Macdonald—We didn't stipulate what we would pay. My understanding was that after it had got under way and we found out what would be best we could adopt a permanent policy.

Ald. Fitzpatrick—I think an error was made when we called for tenders. We can't penalize all the others who tendered.

Ald. Phelan—We are supposed to set an example in paying a decent wage.

Ald. Holland— Why didn't you bring it up before?

Ald. Phelan—I did.

Ald. Turner—My recollection is that no one opposed it.

Ald. Phelan—I said to Ald. Holland that he ought to show the plans to George Graham before deciding anything, but I don't know whether he did or not.

Mayor Denne—I never heard you or anyone else oppose it.

Ald. Tuggey—Why all the discussion? The building is there.

Ald. Phelan's motion for a $15 a week salary was not seconded.

BENNETT PLANS TO BOLSTER LAW ON STOCK FRAUD

Conference Between Dominion and Provinces Set When Normal Times Appear.

SENATE HOLIDAYS.

Duff and Cantley Attack Huds on Bay Railway—Murphy Defends.

OTTAWA, May 3. (C.P.) — Strengthening of the laws preventing stock frauds and manipulations will be discussed at a conference between the provinces and the Dominion, Premier R. B. Bennett informed the House of Commons yesterday. It will be held when normal times re-appear.

In his statement to the house, the prime minister gave his personal opinion that recasting of the administration of law in Canada might be advisable. Because of a clevage in jurisdiction between the Dominion and Provinces, it was impossible to deal adequately with some breaches of federal statues, he said. It might be advisable for the Dominion, combining some of the features of the law and administrative systems of United States and Great Britain to take over prosecutions laid under its own statues. This is done at present by the provinces.

Public Prosecutor

"If we had a public prosecutor," proceeded Mr. Bennett, "charged with responsibility for the administration of justice as far as federal laws are concerned, we might get over some of the difficulties I now see."

Referring more particularly to security frauds, the Prime Minister said, "Something must be done concerning waterlogged stocks. Steps must be taken to surmount the cleavages between the Dominion and the Provinces' incorporation laws, control over companies and their financial structures."

The Senate had a holiday yesterday while the House set a rapid pace clearing the Order Paper of non-contentious bills. The Upper House will resume to-day debate on the report of the Beauharnois committee, which condemned the relationships between the power project and two Liberal Senators, Andrew Haydon and W. L. McDougald. A vote may take place.

In a brief passage in the House over the Hudson Bay Railway, Col. Thomas Cantley, Cons., Pictou, said, "About all the dividends we get from that road is the enjoyment we derive in discussing it. He suggested the Government turn some of the money it would spend this

RELIEF CONTROL CHANGE HINTED

Henry Proposed Group of Three to Advise Government in Administration.

STORE PLAN CONSIDERED.

TORONTO, May 3.—(CP)— Possibility of drastic changes in methods of administering relief in Ontario was intimated by Premier George S. Henry today. Establishment of a committee of three to advise the government concerning the best method of dealing with unemployment relief problems was proposed by Premier Henry at a conference with Premier R. B. Bennett in Ottawa yesterday, Mr. Henry said today.

No decision has been made as to the personnel of such a committee however.

There is also a possibility that the province will establish stores where people who are getting direct relief would be able to secure their food supplies and other necessaries, he said.

Young Woman Bandit Shot After Hold-Up

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., May 3 (C.P.). — A young woman dressed in black was shot dead here to-day as she fled from a drug store hold-up. The druggist, J. H. Jackson, declared he shot her as she hurried from the place with about $10 of his money. She was identified by L. J. Hilbert, Police Auto Theft Bureau operative, as Lena Hurt, 25. Hilbert said she had been arrested previously on vagrancy and drunkenness charges.

A flock of 18 wild geese are finding it difficult to leave the farm of Willan Bros., Fraserville, and continue their long flight north to their summering place in the muskeg.

With much joyous honking the great birds flew down upon the Willan farm on the evening of April 23. They selected for their sojourn a 10 acre field of fall wheat, near a pond. As yet they have shown no indication of leaving, contentedly eating the wheat and swimming in the pond.

Observers believe that four of the flock are ganders and think all the birds are from Jack Miner's Kingsville sanctuary. They show little fear when anyone approaches and their habits can be closely studied.

COUNCIL INSTRUCTS SOLICITOR TO APPLY FOR AN INJUNCTION RESTRAINING OPENING OF PIT

WANTS NO MORE SCARS.

Possibly Test Case Will Have to be Made of By-law.

Ashburnham's grievance against the city for permitting pits to slash a section of the landscape across the river with ugly scars will soon be removed if the council's action last night produces the expected results.

City Solicitor Corkery was instructed to apply for an injunction restraining Joseph Frith from continuing to remove earth from the vacant field bounded by Dufferin, Rogers, Hazlitt and Ross streets, and as a pledge of good faith it was proposed to close the city's pit at once.

The first resolution sent home a deputation of forty residents from the northern section of the east ward entirely satisfied and convinced that the council intended to comply with their request if authority could be obtained by a judicial order. After the Ashburnham men had gone, the Council proceeded to discuss the other motion to discontinue using the city's pit.

Fifty Men Affected.

It transpired, however, that the Board of Works is just completing preparations to start the crusher in this pit on a run of gravel for reconditioning many of the city's streets. These operations were to begin today or tomorrow, and if the work is suspended until some other site is obtained fifty men who have been waiting months for this employment will be forced to remain idle at the very time when the whole community is co-operating in an effort to make a real success of this week's "Give A Man A Job" campaign.

On this second proposal the council decided to reserve its decision until the special meeting that has been called for Thursday night to consider arrangements for the reception of the Governor-General, the Earl of Bessborough, on May 25. Meanwhile, Ald. Hamilton, chairman of the Board of Works, and City Engineer Parsons will survey the several phases of the gravel supply problem and report to the Council Thursday night.

Four Speakers Heard.

The Ashburnham deputation's appeal for a new deal was presented by James P. McGrath, T. Starr, John O. Seymour and J. S. Mason. The forty residents from the district south of the Nicholls Oval comfortably filled the council chamber's gallery.

"We are not here in a spirit of antagonism," Mr. McGrath said, after Ald. Holland had introduced the visitors from his bailiwick, "but for the mutual benefit of ourselves as ratepayers and the city as a whole. During the last ten or twelve years pits have been opened

ADAMS, Mass., May 3.—Ten years from now, after he has turned over 1,000 dozen eggs to two Adams lawyers, a local farmer will have cleared up a debt of $250 contracted through their having represented him in a recent court case.

As the client lacked funds, he and his lawyers reached an agreement whereby he is to deliver each week two dozen eggs to his debtors. One of the latter, having no taste for eggs, in turn arranged to have his associate turn over to him each week the market price for his share of the eggs.

MYSTERY MAN IS STILL AT LARGE

One Citizen a Real Chance of Getting $6.00 Yesterday.

$8.00 ON WEDNESDAY.

(By Mr. Clean-Up.)

A headline reader missed a chance to collect six dollars yesterday. "You're the mystery man" was his salutation, and quite truthfully we turned aside that approach.

This is "Clean-Up" week to concentrate the city's attention on the "Give a Man a Job" campaign, and also to remind the people of the Spring Clean Up. So the pass word is "You are Mr. Clean-Up" and show a receipt for at least one dollar's purchase in any of the stores. Wednesday the lucky sleuth will collect eight dollars. That's more than a dollar a word. Not many lecturers draw down as high a rate as that. Thursday it will be nine dollars. If you see a handsome looking gentleman like Bob Abbott, and take him for "Mr. Clean-Up" you're wrong. One chap said, "I've got you on the spot for Saturday. No one would guess you were Mr. Clean-Up." And we had a new collar, and a Palmolive shave and out boots were shined last Saturday. One of these days we are going to ask Mayor Denne for an old suit of his. Exact fit. Eaton's corner Wednesday, 3.45 to 4.45. Some time.

Brutal Beating of Five-Year-Old Son Costs Father Two Years in Prison

HAMILTON, May 3. — Sentence of two years in Portsmouth penitentiary was the punishment imposed by Magistrate Burbidge this morning on Patrick McCallian, alias Pete Greener, Wilson street. Greener was found guilty of aggravated assault upon his five-year-old son, Gerald. The case caused widespread comment at the time of the hearing, evidence showing that the boy was beaten till bruised all over his body.

"A reasonably long sentence with the lash would have been the ideal punishment in this case," Magistrate Burbidge remarked "but the criminal code does not permit this so in order to be exemplary the sentence must be longer."

Deportation at the end of the two year term was recommended.

OFFICIAL HOME OF C.N.R. HEAD INQUIRY TOPIC

Tempers Ruffled and Warm Words Passed in R. R. Committee.

END IS NOT YET.

Declarations of "Graft" and Breach of Trust Bandied Around.

OTTAWA, May 3.—(CP) — The thunderclouds which have been lowering over the official residence of the Canadian National Railway president, on Pine Avenue, Montreal, for the past few weeks broke in the House of Commons Railways and Shipping committee today. For an hour and a half a hurricane raged with recriminations and charges flying thick and fast. "Graft," "breach of trust" and other robust expressions were bandied around and the end is not yet.

Ordered To Appear

Tomorrow E. R. Decary of Montreal, former director of the Canadian National Railways will be summoned to give evidence.

It was on Mr. Decary's instructions, according to the testimony of G. H. Sequin today, that Mr. Sequin completed the transaction with the Montreal Trust Co. which ended with the leasing to the C. N. R. of the Pine Avenue house. The official with whom the negotiations were conducted will also appear before the committee.

G. H. Seguin, notary, of Montreal, and employee of the firm of Decary, Barlow and Joron, was summoned to give evidence as the individual who had "put through the purchase deal." Mr. Seguin was grilled by Dr. Peter McGibbon (Cons., Muskoka).

Tells of Transaction

He told how, under instructions from E. R. Decary, at that time a director of the Canadian National Railways, he had borrowed $185,000 from the Montreal Trust Company, in August, 1930, and with that had purchased the Pine Avenue residence, leasing it to the C.N.R. He had borrowed the money at 6½ per cent interest and had charged the C.N.R. 8½ per cent, he said.

He purchased the property and leased it on the same day, the transaction being completed on August 8.

That, according to Dr. McGibbon was the day on which the new government took office. What, he asked, was the hurry? He suggested that Mr. Seguin was "just a tool in the hands of Mr. Decary," an expression to which objection was taken.

Mr. Seguin declared that he did not get the 8½ per cent as interest so much as rent plus two per cent for amortization of the principal.

"So the C.N.R. financed the whole thing and amortized it at 3 per cent," said Dr. McGibbon. "Who owns the house?"

"I am the registered owner," said Mr. Seguin.

"In other words, you got a graft of two per cent," said Dr. McGibbon.

JOBLESS LEADER GETS 3 MONTHS

HAD RUN FOR MAYOR.

OSHAWA, May 3 (C.P.).—Eddie Macdonald, leader of the unemployed, and defeated candidate in the last mayoralty election, was to-day sentenced to a term of three months' determinate and six months' indeterminate for breach of his recognizance, given six months ago when he was placed on suspended sentence on being convicted on a charge of theft.

To-day's charge arose out of an incident at the City Council meeting two weeks ago, when Macdonald took possession of the mayor's chair, and refused to leave it until forcibly ejected by the police, and later returned to the Council meeting and, by disorderliness prevented Mayor Thomas Hawkes, newly elected, from making his inaugural speech.

Bull's Wild Run Ended by Shot

TORONTO, May 3 (C.P.). — Terrified householders peered from the security of their homes to-day, as a bull snorted and dashed hither and thither. The animal, after butting Thomas Lewis, 62, was finally shot by a policeman.

The animal escaped while being unloaded at an abattoir, and for some time averted capture.

SUICIDE NOTES BOTH FORGERIES, FLIER ARRESTED

Action Follows Reported Confession of Capt Lancaster to Writing Messages.

DENIES SHOOTING.

Claims He Wished to Remove Suspicion From Mrs. Keith-Miller and Himself.

MIAMI, May 3. — Capt. W. N. Lancaster, British flyer, has been charged with first degree murder in the strange shooting of Haden Clark, writer and fiance of Mrs. Jessie Keith-Miller, the aviator's flying partner, on his reported confession to forging two suicide notes.

The flyer was detained yesterday on a warrant sworn to by State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne who said he probably would go before the Dade County Grand Jury today to seek an indictment. Hawthorne has exonerated Mrs. Keith-Miller in whose home the two men were guests at the time of the shooting April 21 but said she would be called as a grand jury witness.

Love Triangle

Hawthorne, who described the position of the trio before the shooting as forming a "love triangle," said Lancaster confessed, in the face of statements by a nationally known handwriting expert, that he wrote the two notes, addressed to himself and Mrs. Keith-Miller, as from Clarke, but denied killing the writer. Lancaster, Hawthorne said, explained he wrote the note to remove suspicion from Mrs. Keith-Miller and himself.

Wagon Wheel Passes Over 9-Year-Old Boy

Thornton Brick, aged nine, of Hilliard Street, received injuries to his stomach and right arm yesterday afternoon, when he fell off a farm wagon on which he was stealing a ride, and the right rear wheel of the wagon passed over him.

Albert Armstrong, R.R. 4, Peterborough, driving a team and wagon, was stopped for the red light at the corner of Hunter and Water Streets, when Thornton Brick and his brother, Hector, aged 12, climbed on the rear of the wagon. Armstrong drove south on Water Street. The youngest boy lost his grip on the wagon as it bounced over the pavement, and fell in front of the rear right wheel which passed over him.

Andrew Brown took the injured boy to the Clinic, where he was attended by Dr. J. M. McCulloch, and X-rays were taken of his injuries. No broken bones or serious injuries were shown upon the plates.

Victor Coombes Is Committed For Trial

Victor Coombes, driver of the car which Thursday evening, April 21, knocked down and caused fatal injuries to Miss Adelaide Davidson at the corner of George and Simcoe Streets, was to-day committed for trial on a charge of manslaughter, following a preliminary hearing before Police Magistrate Langley. The evidence of only two witnesses was taken at the hearing, Lawrence Gibson, bus driver, and Constable John Naples stating what they knew of the accident. G. N. Gordon, K.C., consented to committal for trial, but said he would try and have the bail of $6,000 asked reduced by Judge Huycke.

PULPWOOD FIRE MOVES STEADILY ON PORT ALFRED

80,000 CORDS BURNED.

Women Work Frantically Erecting Asbestos Barricades to Save Town.

PORT ALFRED, Que., May 3. — (C.P.).—The stubborn fire eating its way through $3,000,000 worth of pulpwood piled at the edge of Port Alfred, continued to gain ground to-day, despite the efforts of over 1,000 fire-fighters from Quebec City, Chicoutimi, and parishes adjacent to this village.

Topped by billowing clouds of dense smoke, the flames leaped high in the air and moved slowly upon the village. The firemen had charges of explosives ready to blow frame homes out of the path of the fire.

Dredge To Be Used.

The large suction dredge, "General Montcalm," will be brought from Chicoutimi to pump water for the firemen. The automatic pumps of the dredge are capable of throwing thousands of gallons of water a minute to a height of 125 feet. The firemen impatiently waited the arrival of a tug at Chicoutimi to tow the dredge up the Saguenay River to Port Alfred. Meanwhile additional fire engines were being rushed from Quebec City by fast freight.

The rain which has aided the firemen for two days deserted them to-day and a bright sun added to the almost unbearable heat. The brisk wind that has sent the flames roaring through the huge woodlots for the past two days after a slow and smouldering origin, was still blowing to-day. Over 80,000 cords have already been destroyed, and the fire forces despair of saving the remainder.

As the flames relentlessly drew nearer to the Port Alfred Paper Company mill, women constructed high barricades of asbestos boards and rigged hose lines to the roofs.

Heat Forces Fighters Back.

Firemen to-day were pouring water on the blaze at the rate of 600,000 gallons a minute, but it had little apparent effect. Flames shot away into the air and the blistering heat sent the firemen reeling backwards to a distance of 500 feet.

A few hundred feet in advance of the advancing wall of fire, hundreds of workmen hastily loaded the unburned wood on trucks in an effort to remove what they could to a safer place out of the reach of the flames.

The fire started deep in the heart of the pulpwood pile, and smouldered beneath the surface for nearly two days. As a wind sprang up the flames broke out into the open and licked along the top of the pile, spreading outward towards the edge. There were 250,000 cords of wood stored in the one big pile.

The Consolidated Paper Company, of which Port Alfred Paper Company is a subsidiary, said that the wood was insured.

WILL DEVELOP 1,000,000 H. P. AT $12 PER UNIT

Ontario Hydro to Spend $120,000,000 for Seaway Power.

$21 TO $22 AT TORONTO.

Agreement Will Be Reached With Dominion in Two Weeks.

OTTAWA, May 3. — At a capital expenditure of $120,000,000,— to be financed by the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, the Province of Ontario will receive from the international section of the St. Lawrence Waterway approximately 1,000,000 horse-power of electrical energy at a cost of from $21 to $22 a horse-power, delivered in Toronto, equivalent to about $12 at the generating plant.

This is the essence of the agreement now being negotiated between the Province of Ontario and the Dominion Government, Premier Henry explained. The agreement, said Premier Henry, might be concluded, as far as Ontario is concerned, within another fortnight.

"All that remains to be settled," he said, "are mere matters of legal verbiage. The rest of the negotiations will be largely between the solicitors."

Premier Henry was here all day yesterday conferring with Premier Bennett, Hon. W .D. Herridge, Canadian Minister to Washington and Federal engineers. Accompanying Mr. Henry and participating in the conferences were Hon J. R. Cooke, chairman of the Hydro Commission; F. A. Gaby, and Dr. Thomas Hogg, Hydro engineers, and Strachan Johnston, K.C., who is handling the legal end of the negotiations for the Ontario Government and the Hydro.

In this composite picture the first to be given, of the costs of the waterway power development Mr. Henry estimated that on the basis of a $120,000,000 capital expenditure, the power would probably cost about $12 per horse-power at the power plant. It would cost another $2.50 a horse-power he believed, to step it up to the voltage necessary to transmission The difference between this $14.50 cost at the transformers and the $21 or $22 lay-down cost in Toronto was accountable, he said, to the expense of transmitting the power from the transformers to the Queen City.

$9,996,972 Approved For Highway Outlay

OTTAWA, May 3 (C.P.). — The total estimated cost of works to be carried out on the Trans-Canada Highway under the Unemployment and Farm Relief Act, 1931, approved to May 2, amounts to $9,996,972.

This information was laid on the table of the House of Commons today by the Government in answer to a question of Sir Eugenie Fiset (Lib., Rimuski). The Federal Government has paid to date to each Province the following amounts: New Brunswick, $60,376; Ontario, $1,875,000; Manitoba, $251,934; Alberta, $102,429; and British Columbia, $257,427. These grants, made in connection with the Highway, total $2,547,169.

Electric Chair Wants an Owner

PRAIRIE DU CHIEN, Wis., May 3 (C.P.).—What a shocking bargain this item of unclaimed freight would make!

It's a real electric chair like those used in some prisons for executions, and Keeper Jack Fernette of the Milwaukee Railroad's warehouse for unclaimed and damaged freight says it is for sale.

Whence it came and for whom it was intended, Fernette said he didn't know. It was just unloaded and left on the railroad's freight platform the other day Fernette, a 74-year-old French-Canadian, said it was the 'queerest' piece of 'unclaimed freight' he had seen in his 30 years as keeper of the warehouse.

CITY BENEFITS BY CHANGE IN PENSION ACT

City and County Will Each Benefit to the Extent of More Than $2,500.

RETROACTIVE TO NOV. 1

The County and City of Peterborough will each benefit to the extent of more than $2,500 by the fact that the new agreement between the Federal Government and the Province whereby the Dominion assumes 75 percent of the cost of old age pensions is made retroactive to November 1, 1931. This means that the country and city will receive 10 percent of amount paid out in old age pensions during November, December, January and February. This sum will greatly assist in keeping down the expenses for the large credit will almost pay for the city and county's share of pensions for the next four months.

The saving to the city in a complete year will total $7,500 and the county will be but a little less.

By the former ruling the Federal Government paid only 50 percent, the Province paying 30 percent and the municipalities 20 percent. Last year the cost of pensions to the city totalled $15,000. This will be cut in half by the new agreement. The county will be relieved of this financial burden to about the same extent.

It has been recently hinted that the time is fast approaching when the Provincial Government will take over the remaining ten percent of the cost of pensions, which is now paid by municipalities, and this will leave the cities and counties wholly free of Old Age Pension payments.

FARMERS UNITE TO FOIL EFFORTS OF BAILIFF COLLECTING TITHES

OFFICER FORCED TO QUIT.

By Thos. T. Champion, C. P. Staff Writer

LONDON, May 3.—(C. P. Cable)—The war against collection of tithes from the farmers in the eastern counties, sporadically carried on for years, has had a dramatic development at Hadleigh, near Ipswich, where due to the co-operation of hundreds of sympathizers with a farmer who was invaded by bailiffs, all ways of exit for the bailiffs wagons carrying the farmer's stock were effectually blocked and they were forced to withdraw.

The tithes are the ancient dues or rents which accrued to the Church of England from the farmers settled upon lands owned by the church. For many years now the tithes, along with much other of the church's ancient sources of income, have been collected by the body known as the ecclesiastical commissioners, which includes laymen and even non-churchmen, and the proceeds are pooled on behalf of the church as a whole.

Farmers Organize

The eastern counties farmers, maintaining their inability to pay dues, have strongly organized themselves. Yesterday word flew around that distraint was to be made on a stockyard farmer, Charles Western of Elmsett. Bells rung by women who stole into the churches pealed in the tower of every little parish and the surrounding farmers gave their laborers a day off, all of them making their way to the farm where the bailiffs were expected.

The farmer himself offered no resistance to the bailiffs' approach and his hundreds of sympathizers confined themselves at first to mere mutterings. It was remarkable though to find how many wagons and carts had suddenly lost a wheel in narrow lanes, while a group of men suddenly discovered elm trees bordering over byways badly needed felling, and set to work in such a manner the trees happened to fall across the road.

All Exits Blocked

All exits for the bailiffs' wagons were blocked and after some hours the bailiffs' foreman, confessing himself baffled, withdrew.

Both the present government and the former Labor government have stated there is no intention of introducing legislation affecting the liability to pay the tithes.

COBOURG, May 3.—Six bags of mixed grain and between 50 and 60 bushels of oats were stolen from the barn of Walter Harper, Gore's Landing Road, at the week-end. While a concert was in progress at Gore's Landing, thieves robbed several parked cars. Similar thefts were reported at Cold Springs.

$100 and Costs

Pleading guilty to being in possession of liquor in an illegal place, George Thomas, driver of the mail stage between Roseneath and Cobourg, was fined $100 and costs. While driving his car near Alderville, he struck a truck driven by Sid Linton of Baltimore. Constable Marsden and Provincial Constable W. J. Carey allege they found a case of liquor in Thomas's car. The case had not been opened, but it was alleged that he had previously carried half a case, which had been consumed prior to the accident. The driver was not carrying mails at the time, but was on a personal errand.

MAN IS STRICKEN IN WAITING ROOM

Duncan Gaul, 67, Dies Suddenly at Nicholls Hospital.

WAITING FOR MEDICINE.

Duncan Gaul, 67-year-old resident of Anson House, died suddenly last evening in the waiting room at Nicholls Hospital, where he had gone to procure some medicine.

A native of Kirriemuir, Scotland, where he was born August 14, 1865, Mr. Gaul had resided in this city for some years, and was a former employee of the Canadian General Electric Company. He had lived at Anson House since May, 1930

Following his death, some difficulty was experienced in communicating with a son who was known to reside somewhere in Toronto. An address was found in one of the dead man's pockets, while the information wanted was also volunteered by a former landlady of the late Mr. Gaul.

James W. Gaul, the old gentleman's son, replying to a telegraphed message from Miss A. M. Lancaster superintendent of the Home, stated he was prevented from attending his father's funeral as he was at present unemployed. His father had a plot at Little Lake Cemetery.

It is stated that Mr. Gaul also leaves a daughter who lives in England, while it is believed probable that he has another son in Scotland. He was predeceased by his wife some years ago.

The funeral is to be held from Anson House on Wednesday at 2 p.m. Serices will be conducted by the Rev. Dr. A. T Barr, pastor of St. Paul's Presbyterian Church.

Grant Rebates for Amusement Licenses—Appoint Tax Collector—Other Business.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 3 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — Two requests for rebates on amusement licenses came before the Town Council of Campbellford at the regular meeting last evening. G A Kingston for the local Chautauqua asking that some consideration be shown in regard to the license for the hall, which according to by-law must cover at least six months with a fee of $30. It was felt that this amount for four days the length of the Chautauqua visit to Campbellford, was too much Discussing the matter the Council felt that the only solution to the problem, and one that would not set a precedent, was to give the committee a grant to the amount of a rebate. This they did on the motion of Deputy-Reeve N. A MacColl and Councillor J. O'Sullivan, naming the amount $20 00.

Following this grant A. Rappaport, manager of the Hollywood Theatre, asked the same consideration of the Council or the same grounds. He had opened his theatre in December of last year, and for the two months of that season had to pay a $30 00 license fee This he thought was unfair. The Council felt that Mr. Rappaport had been a worthy citizen of the town and had materially assisted with local relief and charitable organizations to a large sum and in consideration of these facts granted him also $20.00, Deputy-Reeve MacColl and Councillor F. F. Long making the motion.

Water Request Refused

A request from Robert Fox representing the Imperial and British American Oil Companies that the town run a water line from a nearby hydrant to the tanks, which are situated near the station, this being for an all year round private fire protection, did not meet with success. It was brought to light that at this point there was ample fire protection from hydrants 250 feet away, and if the town granted the requests of the companies it would have to tax them according to frontage. It was in-

Marshall Hints Gangster Will Spend 11 Years in Leavenworth, Not Atlanta.

STARTS TO-NIGHT.

CHICAGO, May 3.—Jail days for Al Capone appear to be about over, with prison looming ahead, and Capone's not very happy about the prospect.

Government officials were preparing to-day to transfer him to a Federal penitentiary to start him on his 11-year sentence for failing to pay the Government income tax on the enormous profits he is reputed to have made on his gangland activities in Chicago.

United States Marshal H. W. C. Laubenheimer said last night, following news that the United States Supreme Court had refused to intervene in Capone's conviction, that he was practically certain the gang chief would be taken to Leavenworth and not to Atlanta and that it was probably the trip would be started early to-night.

STUDENTS BEAT VICE MINISTER

Chinese Youths Claim He Favored Signing Agreement Unfavorable to China.

PEACE PARLEYS OPEN.

SHANGHAI, May 3. (AP) — A band of 100 Chinese students attacked and painfully injured Quo Tai-Chi, Chinese vice-minister for foreign affairs and principal delegate at the peace parleys, here today. As a result the resumption of the parleys was indefinitely postponed.

The mob attacked Mr. Quo as he was leaving his home in the French concession. As the students pummeled the minister they accused him of intending to sign an agreement unfavorable to China.

French police scattered the students with their clubs.

Chinese authorities announced yesterday the peace parleys with Japan would be resumed to-day and an agreement settling the Shanghai difficulties might be signed to-morrow or Thursday.

See No Obstacle.

TOKYO, May 3 (C.P.).—The Japanese Government saw no obstacle to an early solution of the difficulties at Shanghai to-day, an official spokesman said, and looked for the signing of a peace agreement soon

Because of this assurance, he said the withdrawal of another division of troops from Shanghai was planned, leaving only General Kenkichi Uyeda's Ninth Division there as a semi-permanent Japanese garrison.

Nancy Carroll Joins Ranks Of Insurgents

HOLLYWOOD, May 3. (C.P). — The ranks of insurgent motion picture artists to-day included the red haired Nancy Carroll.

The nature of Miss Carroll's differences with Paramount Studios was not disclosed, although she has been off salary from the studio for several weeks as a result of disagreements.

Miss Carroll is the latest of four film artists at odds with their employers. Marlene Dietrich, James Cagney and Josef von Sternberg previously announced severance of relations with their studios.

Von Sternberg, returning to Hollywood from New York last night, said: "I am quite positive I will not direct again for Paramount and that Miss Dietrich will not appear in another picture for the company.

Lang Capitulates In Revenue Struggle

SYDNEY, N.S.W., May 2 (C.P.).— Premier J. T. Lang capitulated today in his struggle to prevent the Commonwealth Government from seizing tax revenues of New South Wales.

He handed over the income tax documents and other data which he locked up last month when the Commonwealth moved to impound the taxes to cover the State's default of its foreign obligations. The Commonwealth acted under the financial agreement act by which the Federal Government assumed responsibility for the debts of the States.

Gas in the Stomach Is Dangerous

Recommends Daily Use of Bisurated Magnesia to Overcome Trouble Caused by Acid Indigestion

Gas in the stomach accompanied by a full, bloated feeling after eating are almost certain evidence of the presence of excessive hydrochloric acid in the stomach, creating so-called "acid indigestion."

Acid stomachs are dangerous because too much acid irritates the delicate lining of the stomach, often leading to gastritis accompanied by serious stomach ulcers. Food ferments and sours, creating the distressing gas which distends the stomach and hampers the normal functions of the vital internal organs, often affecting the heart

It is the worst of folly to neglect such a serious condition or to treat with ordinary digestive aids which have no neutralizing effect on the stomach acids. Instead get from any druggist a little Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in water right after eating. This will drive the gas, wind, and bloat right out of the body, sweeten the stomach, neutralize the excess acid and prevent its formation and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder or tablet form—never in liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take and the best form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

MAKE AND KEEP YOU WELL

Advertising for the Merchant of To-Day

Conducted by HAROLD S. EDGAR

A series of weekly articles on advertising and merchandising prepared for the merchants of Peterborough District with the co-operation of The Peterborough Examiner.

KNOW THE PRODUCTS YOU SELL

The other day I received the following account of the effort of one merchant, and I am reprinting it here because I feel that it offers a suggestion which other merchants can use to advantage.

"We have seven men besides myself and we eat lunch together every day in my dining-room just back of the store. I have a cook who prepares that lunch entirely out of goods from the store.

"We make a point of using, at one time or another, every article in the store, so the men know from personal experience what is in the package, how to prepare it and what it tastes like."

Not all of us have a staff or store large enough to install an experimental kitchen, but most of you have homes where you can take some of the new lines of goods and try them for yourselves. Get your wife to try some of the recipes printed on the packages, she'll tell you if it is easy to prepare or not. And you will know how your whole family like it. Get your assistants in the store to try them as well.

If you can say to one of your customers,

"I took a package of this new product home last week and Mrs. King tried it, using this recipe they print on the side of the box. It makes a mighty nice dessert. We all went back for second helpings."

you have created a new confidence in your customer, and very likely an additional sale.

While the above relates to grocery and food products, the same policy of knowing your products applies to the merchant in any line and to each person on the store staff.

Manufacturers test the raw materials that go into their products in order that they can give you better service.

Mr. Merchant—your staff—their respective homes, your intimate friends—all furnish a testing laboratory that will enable you all to speak with confidence as to the products you carry. This knowledge will enable you to sell more and better products, as frequently this personal word is all that is needed to turn a "convenience" purchase into a "satisfaction" sale.

If a product is being advertised in your local paper, and you know it is good because you have used it yourself, then you can tie in with the sales message published by the manufacturer by prominently featuring the article in your own ads, in your displays on your counters, and in your talks with your customers, both in the store and over the phone. In other words, make the manufacturer's advertising a part of your own advertising—but the manufacturer's advertising cannot carry all the burden alone. You must do your part, adding to the manufacturer's claim your own tested and proven report.

In a future article we will talk on "Demonstrating Products."

Next Week—"Making Two Sales Instead of One."

Mr. Edgar will be glad to answer questions in this column, if readers will address their communications in care of this paper. Confidential replies can be arranged through the editor.—(Copyright).

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

A May basket luncheon, supper or party is an attractive form of entertainment for this "Merry Month of May."

• • • • • • •

Fortunately the baskets are not hard to make and each course should feature some basket.

• • • • • • •

For the centrepiece, make a basket of a large pineapple, a melon, or even a hubbard squash or pumpkin. Cut either of the last three so that a handle remains attached to the bowl-like portion.

• • • • • • •

A handle will have to be made separately for a pineapple and be attached after the top of the fruit has been cut off and the inside cut and scooped out.

• • • • • • •

This handle can be of two pieces of wire each two ends thrust through opposite sides of the pineapple shell so that a narrow space remains between.

• • • • • • •

Use crepe paper, green or reddish brown of the skin and weave it over and under these wires loosely to cover and ornament them. Conceal a bowl in whichever fruit or vegetable forms the basket and fill with spring flowers and foliage.

• • • • • • •

Serve a fruit punch for the first course. For this, make a basket of grapefruit or oranges. Cut the skin from each side of a narrow strip of the peel which extends no lower than half the fruit.

• • • • • • •

Remove peel and pulp and refill the baskets so formed with a mixture of pulp and any other fruits which agree. Set each basket on a large leaf or surround with smaller green leaves.

• • • • • • •

Stuffed pepper or tomatoes make good edible baskets for the main course. Use a strip of ripe and uncooked green pepper to make a handle for the pepper or a strip of pimento for the tomato basket. Put these handles in position after the stuffed vegetables are baked.

• • • • • • •

A large cabbage scooped out and having a handle, made of pieces of the leaves which have been removed makes an excellent salad bowl. String some of the portions of leaves on a wire for the handle, and fasten the wire in the sides of the cabbage.

• • • • • • •

Fill with any preferred salad and serve portions on lettuce leaves and pass French dressing, on mayonnaise.

• • • • • • •

Serve ice cream in May basket paper containers or cups. And basket shaped cookies can be served with the ices.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson
World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

168

THE LANGUAGE OF BIDS.

Bidding at Contract, when properly done, is a beautiful thing. When bids mean what they say, the partner of the bidder can draw correct inferences and upon the foundation of the bidding already made can erect a superstructure, of which both partners can be proud.

That superstructure in Contract Bridge is known as reaching the best contract in the combined hands. Whenever a bid is used to convey incorrect information to the partner, the bidder has only himself to blame if the best result is not attained. Alert adversaries, anxious to defeat the aims of their opponents by means of "nuisance bids," adroitly interjected, may bring the structure down in ruins or may even prevent its completion.

TODAY'S POINTER.

Question: What is needed to raise one notrump to two notrump?

Answer: Inasmuch as 5 honor-tricks will produce about 8 tricks (Rule of Eight) we raise to two notrump, holding honor-trick strength to total about 5 honor-tricks in the combined hands.

ANSWERS TO QUESTIONS.

The Lure of Slams.

Question: Will you kindly give the correct bidding of the enclosed hand, North and South not bidding.

	WEST
Spades	A J x x
Hearts	A x x x
Diamonds	A Q x
Clubs	K x
	EAST
Spades	K x
Hearts	K 10 x x
Diamonds	9
Clubs	A Q J x x x

Answer: Correct bidding is:
(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

DECLARER	PARTNER
1NT	3 Clubs (1)
4NT (2)	5 Clubs
6 Clubs (3)	Pass

1—A Forcing bid to show about 3 honor-tricks.

2—A three notrump response would show a minimum Opening bid; therefore, Declarer, holding 1½ honor-tricks in addition, should bid four notrump.

3—After partner's Forcing bid and Rebid of the club suit, East should know that they have practically a solid trump suit and about 7 honour-tricks in the combined hand.

Always the Suit.

Question: Is an Opening bid of two notrump the correct bid on the following hand:

Spades	9 8 7
Hearts	A K J
Diamonds	A J 10 6

when playing the Culbertson System, but deciding in advance that partner need not takeout if holding a bust card, would two notrump then be justified.

Answer: In the Culbertson System a four-card minor suit should be bid in preference to notrump. Therefore, the correct Opening bid with the above hand is one diamond. If partner hasn't enough strength to overcall, there is no chance to go game at notrump. The Opening bid of two notrump would show about 5 honor-tricks with all suits stopped and would deny a biddable suit.

OFFICIAL HOME OF C.N.R. HEAD

South) protested it was not fair to "browbeat a witness like that."

To R. B. Hanson (Cons., York-Sunbury), Mr. Seguin declared he had not conducted the negotiations for the purchase of the house. He had been asked to act by Mr. Decary.

Mr. Hanson: "It was Decary's child?"

Witness: "Yes."

Mr. Hanson: "Did you conduct negotiations with the Montreal Trust Company for the money?"

Witness: "No."

Mr. Hanson: "That was Decary's baby also?"

Witness: "Yes, sir."

Mr. Hanson: "So, as far as you are concerned, you carried out your instructions?"

Witness: "Yes, sir."

Mr. Hanson: "And Decary gets the profit?"

Witness: "Yes."

Mr. Hanson: "And at that time, Decary was a Director of the Canadian National Railways?"

Witness did not know; but enquiry elicited that such was the case.

"Then," said Mr. Hanson "Decary in his capacity as a director of the Canadian National Railways bought the house, and leased it to the railways a transaction out of which he got a profit."

Should Call Decary

Major Power declared that if this was to be examined, then Mr. Decary should be requested to appear as a witness.

To a question by a member of the committee, Sir Henry Thornton declared that at the time of this transaction he was not a director of the Montreal Trust Co., although he was one at present. He did not know when negotiations were entered into for the purchase of the house, pursuant to the September, 1929, resolution of the railway directorate. That resolution affirmed it was essential, for the proper conduct of the system, that an official residence be bought for the president.

"You said that about that time the directors offered you a bonus of $100,000," said F. R. MacMillon (Cons., Saskatoon).

"I said, some of them," Sir Henry replied.

"Who were they?"

"Gardiner was one—J. Gill Gardiner. He spoke of some of the other directors with whom he had discussed the matter. "I think, also, Mr. Decary spoke of it," replied Sir Henry.

"So, in lieu of that, you refused the offer of $100,000."

"I gave my reasons in the statement I made," Sir Henry answered. He had no personal knowledge of the negotiations, but understood they were begun before the election of 1930. He had been asked what kind of a house should be provided and had spoken to the owner of the present Pine Avenue residence.

"So, Sir Henry," interposed Mr. Hanson, "you went to work and leased a house from one of your own board of directors who made a profit and who was a trustee. That was a breach of trust on the part of Decary."

Major Power objected. The committee should go into this matter more fully, he said.

"I suggest we get from this witness (Mr. Seguin) what he has to tell us," interjected G. R. Geary, (Cons. Toronto South).

Mr. MacMillan — "Have I the floor?"

Major Power—"I have as much right to talk in this committee, and I propose to exercise that right. And when the chairman talks about Mr. Decary, whom I don't know, in that strain, we ought to go into it. When he talks about a breach of trust, that is a pretty severe statement to make against a man of Mr. Decary's standing.

"We should have a Royal Commission," said Mr. MacMillan.

"There is a Royal Commission," retorted Major Power, "and that's much better than a lot of snooping down in the C.N.R. offices."

"I saw that, too," said Mr. MacMillan. (The reference presumably was to a newspaper cartoon published in a Winnipeg paper recently).

"I was going to bring that up on a matter of privilege," said Major Power.

"You are living in a house costing $185,000, rent free," said Mr. MacMillan to Sir Henry, "and at the end of ten years we have paid for it: but Decary owns it."

No Personal Knowledge.

Sir Henry demurred. He had no personal knowledge of the actual transaction between Decary and the Montreal Trust Co., consequently what he could say was only at second-hand If the committee wanted direct information it would have to go to Mr. Decary. As far as he understood the matter, the Montreal Trust had required the 2 per cent. per annum amortization rate as protection.

"Are you giving evidence on your own knowledge?" asked Mr. Hanson.

"What difference is there between that and Sir Henry's other evidence?" asked Major Power. "Doesn't he have to tell the committee what his officers inform him in matters affecting the railway. Don't you want him to give an explanation of this, or do you just want to get out to the newspapers that there has been something nasty?"

"That is quite uncalled for," said Mr. Hanson.

"Not a bit uncalled for," rejoined Major Power.

The chairman ruled that Sir Henry Thornton would give information and answer questions only on what he knew first hand.

"The chairman is not running this committee" interjected A. L. Beaubien (Lib. Progencher).

Mr. Hanson : "That too is most uncalled for."

Mr. Beaubien: "It's not uncalled for. You are doing more talking than anybody else."

Mr. Hanson: "Well, I have a right to."

Sir Henry said there had been references made to him to which he felt full investigation should be given. He believed he had a right to call witnesses.

Mr. Hanson: "We will call any witnesses you name."

Sir Henry: "Then, call Mr. Decary."

The chairman said efforts would be made to have Mr. Decary here to-morrow, also a responsible officer of the Montreal Trust Company. Hon. J. D. Chaplin, (Cons., Lincoln), asked that Hon. Charles Dunning, former Minister of Railways, also be called, and the chairman agreed.

At the request of Mr. MacMillan Sir Henry was permitted to go on with his story about the house. It was first suggested that a bonus be granted him for living expenses, Sir Henry said. As he recollected it the suggestion had come from Mr. Gardiner. He had objected and then some person, he did not remembers who it was, suggested the house. He was agreeable to that. There were many important people coming to Montreal to whom the railway was under some obligation to take care of socially.

The chief business rival of the Canadian National Railway was better equipped for that purpose in Montreal as the president always had several directors resident in that city who could aid him in that respect, all with suitable homes for such functions. "I stood more or less alone in that respect," said Sir Henry.

He had been willing, for that reason, to go ahead with the house project. Instead of the house being a personal asset to him it had become a liability, Sir Henry said. There had been heavy expenses for furnishing and equipping and, after consulting with the directors, the railway finances being in an unsatisfactory condition, he had shouldered the cost himself.

There was in the resolution adopted by the board of directors, an objection on the part of the company to stand this expense. Sir Henry said, but he had abandoned that right and paid the bill himself. It was some $50,000.

Mr. MacMillan: "Did you not approach the Government—the Minister of Railways—and ask him to take over that responsibility?"

Sir Henry: "I had some personal conversations with the Minister on the subject."

Dr. Manion: "Since my name has been drawn into this, I may say this: Sir Henry spoke to me about permitting the late directorate to furnish the house, and I refused. It was an 'absolutely friendly' discussion," Dr. Manion added.

"Sir Henry told me the facts about the house, substantially as they have been revealed here, as soon as I took office," Dr. Manion continued. "It had been acquired before we took office and I didn't have anything to do with it."

Mr. Hanson: "Why was the resolution of June 16, 1930, not put into the minutes of the meeting on that date, instead of being left over until Aug. 7?"

Sir Henry said he had left for the West immediately after the June 16 meeting and did not return until early in August. He did not know the reason.

"Did you know that Mr. Decary was going to buy this house and lease it to the Canadian National Railways?" asked Mr. Hanson.

Sir Henry: "No, I did not."

Mr. Hanson: "If you had known, would you have let the deal go through?"

Sir Henry: "Now you are asking a legal question."

Mr. Hanson: "No, I am asking you a regular question, and you can answer it or not."

Has Always Been Frank

Sir Henry Thornton suggested that Mr. Hanson's nine years' experience with the Railway Committee should have taught him that he (Sir Henry) had never failed to give frank and straight-forward answers to all questions. He said there would be several considerations in that aspect of the case. He would want to know if Mr. Decary was getting a profit on the deal before he would say whether or not he approved of it.

He had a letter from Mr. Decary, Sir Henry said, which was permission for the railways to buy the house at its amortized value when the lease had expired.

Mr. Chaplin suggested that the letter be placed in evidence.

Mr. Hanson: "It was the intention, then, to buy the house?"

William Duff (Lib., Antigonish-Guysboro): "It was an option—they didn't have to buy if they did not want to."

Sir Henry: "As a matter of fact I was hopeful of some day buying the house myself. But my hopes, like a lot of other people's, went west in the crash of 1929."

Mr. Hanson: "Was the then Minister of Railways consulted—as were the people of Canada told of the deal with this house?"

Sir Henry: "As to the last part of the question—the people were not informed. The Canadian National does a great many things without calling a Soviet meeting of the people to tell them about it."

The original owner of the house was Fred Beardmore, Sir Henry said, and he (Sir Henry) had been living in it at reduced rental while the owner was abroad. It was valued by the owner at around $225,000, he said. He had been thinking of buying it, but the price was too high.

Section three of the agreement between Sir Henry and the Government set forth, said the chairman, that the President would receive a fixed annual salary of $75,000 per annum, payable monthly, but not in advance.

L. G. Bell (Cons., St. Antoine) asked Sir Henry if it was his opinion that the free rental of a house would be regarded as "remuneration."

This was a question for the committee to decide, suggested Col. Geary, and the chairman agreed. With that, the committee's examination of the official residence concluded until tomorrow.

Patrol Boats Crash Chasing Rum-Runner

NEW BEDFORD, Mass., May 3, (CP)—The 75-foot United States coast guard patrol boat 235 was in collision shortly after midnight today with the coast guard speedboat 2296 in Buzzard's Bay between Falmouth and New Bedford. A large hole was torn in the side of the 235 and both boats were escorted to New Bedford by another coast guard boat and placed in drydock for repairs.

Both boats were pursuing an alleged rum-runner when the crash occurred.

TUESDAY, MAY 3, 1932

THOSE TROUBLESOME REDS.

There were May Day demonstrations in a number of Canadian cities on Sunday, and in each case Communist agitators, practically all of foreign extraction, were responsible for more or less serious outbursts, most of these Red leaders refusing to carry the Union Jack at the head of their procession.

For the Canadian of foreign birth who comes here to establish a home for himself and who gives evidence of a willingness to adapt himself to Canadian standards of living and to Canadian methods of government—in short, who wants to become a good Canadian citizen—there cannot be too warm a welcome; in many cases we have fallen short in cordiality toward such well-intentioned newcomers.

Those other foreigners who would set up here a new form of government, who refuse to recognize any flag but the Red flag, whose ambition is to overturn Canadian institutions, are in a quite different category, and The Examiner believes that the simplest, most effective and most desirable method of dealing with them would be to deport every foreign-born Red who takes part in anti-Canadian demonstrations.

There is too much quibbling over freedom of speech in the case of these trouble-makers, whose actions have forfeited any right to consideration; they mean nothing but harm to Canada and should have no place in any Canadian community.

A SPLENDID WORK.

The tree-planting that has been done on a number of city streets within the past few days is an activity that should receive the hearty commendation of the whole community.

In future years these beautiful trees will add materially to the appearance of the streets on which they have been planted, and it is to be hoped that the trees recently put in will be assured of protection until they have a chance to attain substantial growth.

Parents can helpfully co-operate with the authorities in this regard by warning their children to refrain from injuring these trees, for they are a potential asset that will be of the greatest value to the city of to-morrow.

Peterborough is already blessed with a wealth of beautiful shade trees, thanks to the vision and foresight of the citizens of yesterday, who saw to it that residential streets everywhere were endowed with a plentiful supply; the result of their wise planning is seen to-day in tree-lined streets and in the appearance of the city from the air, resembling as it does a large forest.

The authorities in continuing this policy in the case of newer streets are extending the blessing of shade to every section of the city, and doing a work that is of value to Peterborough as a whole.

It is hoped that no residential street will be without its fair allotment of trees.

A FEW SUGGESTIONS.

A special bulletin just issued by the Ontario Safety League is particularly timely for the suggestions it makes in regard to the clean-up and paint-up campaign now in full swing.

"Tell me what you do with your rubbish and I will tell you what sort of citizen you are," is the striking heading of the bulletin, which goes on to stress the desirability of getting rid of accumulations of dirt and rubbish which not only constitute a fire hazard but are often a source of disease as well.

Here are a few suggestions:

Do not allow rubbish to accumulate; burn it, but not on windy days, and so far as Peterborough is concerned, not without securing permission from the fire chief.

If you use oily cloths, keep them in a can with a cover; thus eliminating the danger of a fire caused by spontaneous combustion.

Bury dead leaves, do not burn them.

Tie up old newspapers and sell them.

By keeping your home free of dirt and rubbish you will be preventing fires, accidents and sickness, and at the same time materially improving the appearance of your home and grounds.

These pointers may serve to remind some of our readers that there is work along these lines to be done in their homes; why not telephone the Labor Bureau and give some unemployed man a job, thus making your property clean, attractive and safe, and in so doing giving work to somebody whose income has been cut off?

WHERE PROTECTION IS NEEDED.

It has been suggested to The Examiner that we are inclined to be too severe in our references in these columns to careless and reckless motorists, and that the majority of accidents involving pedestrians are occasioned by the negligence of the victims rather than through any fault on the part of the drivers implicated.

Our answer is simply this, that there were 97 small children killed in Ontario by motorists last year, and that in addition many elderly people were also victims of motor slayings; in other words, that most of those who lost their lives through being run down by motor cars are either too young or too handicapped by old age to save themselves.

It seems to The Examiner that this condition places the onus of protecting little children and aged people squarely upon the motorist.

It is not safe for him to assume that when little folks are playing at the side of the road that they will stay there until his car has passed; he should have his machine under sufficient control to enable him to deal with an emergency.

Nor is it sufficient for him to sound his horn when he sees a pedestrian crossing the road ahead of him and then come gaily ahead, counting on the person on foot to keep out of his path; it may be the pedestrian is deaf, or infirm, or easily rattled, and the careful motorist considers all these possibilities and drives accordingly.

Fortunately, the great bulk of our drivers are careful; they regulate their speed to traffic and general conditions, and are always on the alert to prevent accidents.

It is the reckless minority that cause accidents, and that must be curbed if the slaughter of the innocent is to be averted.

And it must always be remembered in considering this matter of negligence that the carelessness of the pedestrian is deadly only to himself; the power to kill rests with the automobile, and recklessness or lack of care on the part of its owner is fatal to somebody else.

Might should not be regarded as right when human lives are at stake, nor should there be fatal accidents simply because some motorist, not going any place in particular, wants to get there a few seconds faster than he can in safety.

RELIEF SOUGHT.

"Canada," Hon. Robert J. Manion tells an Ottawa audience, "is going to come back; our future is assured." And he added that the world would have to get back to a thrifty method of living and that Canadians would be well advised to regain some of the qualities of heart and mind of their forefathers.

Still another thought left by the Minister of Railways and Canals was there was too much dependence to-day on governments. Mr. Manion is 100 per cent. correct on this point. It is only too true. Lately a good many persons are coming to the conclusion that such dependence is not well founded, that governments are not able to do nearly as much for them as they have been led to expect.

• • • •

One of the reasons that the people look to the governments for so much, of course, is found in the fact that governments concern themselves so closely with the individual lives and actions of the people. Through the income tax, the census, the sales tax, the tax on telephone calls and telegraph messages, the tax on gasoline and in a hundred and one other ways, governments have established a very close, a very personal contact with individual citizens. Perhaps it is only natural, then, that individuals should have fallen into the habit of looking to governments for the satisfying of so many wants.

• • • •

We agree with Mr. Manion that it is time for the people to lean less on governments and more on their own efforts. Paternalism, in one form or another, has been carried to extremes, extremes which are only really appreciated in periods of business depression. There has been too much in the way of experimental social legislation; now we find the public pocketbook running low and the taxpayers, those who really pay the taxes, confronted with a load that is becoming too great for them to bear.

It is easy to say, of course, that this thing and that thing are desirable and that we cannot get along without them. It is much better to cut down now on some of these alleged necessities than it will be to load so much on the taxpayer that he will eventually be unable to pay. The Governments are overmanned, as are the Legislatures and the Federal Houses. There are too many civil servants. There are too many persons feeding at the public trough. Look at the size of the Federal Ministry. Look at the size of the Provincial Cabinet. Why, for instance, should Ontario support a Minister and a Department of Public Welfare? Why should Ontario support an expensive Liquor Control Commission of three men when all three positions could be abolished just as well as not and the business of conducting the liquor stores turned over to the Provincial Secretary or some other Minister?

• • • •

Reform should start from the top. Some Government leader will have to take the first step and make reductions with a more or less ruthless hand. Premier Henry must know that important cuts in governmental expenses can be made in this Province. Why does he not take the bull by the horns and bring the change about? Nothing he could do would be of more real assistance to him politically. The people who pay the bills are shouting for a reduction in Government expenses and some daylight in the tax situation.—Border Cities Star.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

Parliament set a rapid pace yesterday. With home in sight, the members are anxious to make a fast finish.

Red agitators who have no use for the flag of this country are of no use to this country. They should be returned to their native soil.

The police drive on reckless drivers should be vigorous enough to educate the chief offenders to be careful, if not for the sake of other people, at least out of consideration for their own pocket-books.

"K.C.M.G." TRANSLATED

When Sir George Reid, a man prominent in Australian politics, was made knight commander of St. Michael and St. George, he was rather embarrassed by his new dignity, for he liked to be referred to as plain George Reid. At one of his meetings someone called out: "Say, Sir George, what does 'K.C.M.G.' mean?"

Without a moment's hesitation, the new knight answered, "Keep calling me George."—Melbourne Mail.

A THOUGHT.

BLISS

I think there can be few who more truly feel than I, that this is a world of bliss, of beauty; that is, that bliss and beauty are the end, the tendency of creation; and evils are the shadows that are only the conditions of life in the picture.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, May 3. — Greater strength in butter on the Montreal market over week-end resulted in higher asking prices for creamery solids on the local market yesterday. Trading was showing the usual first-of-the-week dullness, but local brokers were quoting choice supplies at higher levels than on Friday, with a general range on No. 1 steady to stronger. Receipts from Ontario points were gradually increasing, and Western butter was offered at prices about even with those quoted on Ontario. The Western product was quoted at around 17c to 17¼c, while Ontario butter was listed at 16½c to 17c for No. 1, and 15½c to 16c for No. 2.

Cream

Cream prices were steady with those of last week-end. Local buyers of butter fat were quoting 18c for special, 17c for No. 1, and 14c for No. 2, f.o.b. country points, and there were prospects that these levels would hold for a little time, at least.

Cheese

Trade in new cheese was not very active, but prices were level with those quoted late last week. Local brokers were offering new makes at 10c to 10¼c for large, 10¼c to 10½c for twins, and 10½c to 10¾ for triplets. Retailers were offered new cheese at the unchanged prices of 11½c for new large, 11¾c for new twins, 12c for new triplets, and 14c for new stiltons.

Eggs

The egg market presented a trifle firmer tone, as receipts were not burdensome, and the demand was fairly good. Brokers were quoting graded eggs, in used cases, at 15c to 15½c for extras, 13c to 13½c for firsts, and 11c to 11½c for seconds, with storage packed eggs at 16½c for extras and 14½c for firsts. Prices to country shippers were slightly better at 13c for extras, 11c for firsts, and 9c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned. Quotations to the retail trade were unchanged at 19c for extras in cartons, 17c for extras loose, 15c for firsts loose, and 13c for seconds loose.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, May 3.—Butter, cheese and egg prices were advanced yesterday on the local produce and dairy market.

Butter jumped ¾c per lb. for carlots or less of No. 1 fresh or regraded, the range being 17½c to 18c per lb., with the most general quotation at the end of the day 17¾c. Light stocks on hand, continued light receipts and an active demand boosted prices. Arrivals were 825 boes.

The cheese market was 9¾c to 10c per lb., for current receipts, compared with a straight 9¾c at last week's close. Summer make was unchanged at 12c to 12½c per lb. Receipts were 284 boxes.

Eggs again showed gains, with spot prices for graded Ontarios and Prairie eggs mostly 18c to 18½c for extras, 15c to 16c for firsts and 13½c to 14c for seconds. Receipts were 3,023.

The potato market was steady.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 3.—Uncertainty over how the monthly unofficial crop reports due tomorrow would be construed led to a late setback in wheat prices yesterday.

Expectance in some quarters that the private estimates of probable yields of domestic winter wheat would show less improvement than had generally been looked for helped to give a transient upturn to wheat prices, but such buying support was absent at the last. A decrease of 4,645,000 bushels in the United States wheat visible supply proved also to have but a temporary bullish effect.

Wheat closed nervous at the same as Saturday's finish to 1c lower, corn unchanged to ¼c down, oats at ¼c decline to ¼c advance, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 2c.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, May 3— Responsive to higher wheat quotations at Liverpool wheat prices scored fractional gains in the grain pit here yesterday. Values at the close were ⅝c to 1⅛c higher than Saturday's final figures.

May gained ⅝c, to close at 60⅝c; July was ¼c higher at 62½c, and October ⅜c to ½c higher at 65¼c.

A fair amount of export trade was worked over the week-end, but no estimate was available.

Trade is Active.

Trade was fairly active throughout. Opening fractionally lower the market advanced steadily to take a spurt with the receipt of the higher closing at Liverpool. The advance at Liverpool was credited to a decline in the pound sterling.

World shipments of wheat for last week were shown at 17,768,000 bushels. Of this amount North America shipped 7,626,000 bushels.

Cash wheat and coarse grains in indifferent trade closed with spreads generally unchanged.

A.Y.P.A. MEETS AT MILLBROOK

Good Program Provided by Members at District Council Meeting.

The Peterborough District Council of the A.Y.P.A. held their regular meeting in Millbrook on Thursday, April 28th, 1932. About 100 members were present, representing the various branches.

After the opening devotions, led by Rev. Wm. Simpson of Millbrook, a short business meeting was held, presided over by the president, Jack Cuff. Mr. Bonneville, the treasurer, gave a verbal report as to the finances; and Miss F. Hutchinson, in the absence of James Price, gave a report on the progress of the Dramatic Committee. The meeting was then turned over to those in charge of the social part of the evening.

A group of games, led by St. Thomas' branch, Millbrook, St. Luke's and St. John's, Peterborough, were played, followed by community singing, with Jack Marshall at the piano.

One of the most interesting features of the evening was an impromptu selection by four young men of St. John's branch, among them a gold medalist, who sang, "Sweet Adeline." This inspired the Millbrook boys to action and they rendered very feelingly, "How Dry I am." By request, St. Luke's branch sang "Love's Old Sweet Song." St. John's branch then sang "Happy Days Are Here Again" apparently in apreciation of the foregoing program.

Refreshments were served by the Millbrook branch. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Millbrook members for their kind hospitality, by Bert Graham of St. John's, Peterborough and seconded by Miss Blanche Graham of Lakefield. Rev. . Bousfield of St. Luke's then closed the meeting with prayer.

The next meeting will be held in St. Luke's Parish Hall on June 9th.

SON OF THE GODS

By REX BEACH

INSTALMENT NO. 8

Pan Yi ascended the dragon when Sam was eleven years old and he mourned for her as sincerely as did his honorable father. The next year Lee Ying moved to New York.

This change was prompted partly by grief and partly in order that the importer might the better attend to his eastern store which was steadily growing in importance. So, at least, Lee Ying declared. In reality there was another reason for his going. Sam was growing to look more and more like a Son of the Gods, that is to say, he was growing to look less and less like a Chinese boy.

To the father this was confirmation of his belief in the lad's celestial origin, not that confirmation of an implicit faith, was necessary but he heard whisperings that disturbed him and one day Officer Dunne came to him in considerable distress of mind. The women engaged in Chinatown settlement work—the white women—were asking questions. They were meddlesome creatures and to them the dignity, the repose of Lee Ying's declining years meant nothing.

Arrived in New York, Lee Ying set himself up in even better style than formerly and the local Chinese welcomed him as if he were a person of national importance. To the Lees is was much like coming from real China into a land of barbarians, for New York's Chinatown was but a pale counterfeit of the Chinese quarters in San Francisco. Nevertheless they adapted themselves to it, the curtains of the past fell together behind them, a new life begun.

Lee Ying procured an English tutor for Sam, a bespectacled Cantonese with a bulging, pear-shaped head. The fellow had graduated from Yale, and in his hands Sam's education took a new turn. In a year he had learned to speak a stilted, pedantic sort of book-English and there were few tricks of pronunciation that bothered him. He had learned also to wear American clothes which he did whenever he and his myopic tutor went out into the streets. At fourteen he had grown into a sallow, spindling, owlish youth crammed to the point of indigestion with learning far beyond his years.

One day Sam and his tutor were sitting in Mulberry Bend Park, that breathing place tucked in between Chinatown and its environs on the east and the crowded Italian neighborhood to the west of it. It was a favorite resting place of theirs, for here the tutor could read while Sam watched the white children at play. Their amusements were rough and meaningless to the boy, the yelling and the quarreling that went with every game struck him as senseless and undignified, nevertheless he felt a timid eagerness to take a hand.

This day he noticed on the bench next to his a little girl, somewhat younger than himself. She was bundled up in more clothes than the weather called for and from her color it was plain that she had been ill. She possessed an impudent nose and a pair of imperious blue eyes the which were contradicted by a wistful mouth. When her glance met Sam's she shyly averted it. This happened two or three times, when the little girl smiled. Sam's lips parted. A moment later he was standing at her side.

"Are you sick, too?" she inquired. Sam shook his head. "I been sick. I most died."

"I am sorry," he managed to say. "Wasn't you ever sick?"

"No. I have been remarkably free from disease."

"Well, why don't you play with the other kids?—You're Chinese, ain't you? Gee, you don't talk like a Chinaman—I bet it's hard to talk Chinese—We had three doctors at our house and my ma's hair turned gray in a single night—Why don't you play? I'd play if I could, but I can't. Don't you like to play? I do. Only I hate it now."

"My father prefers to have me improve my mind. He says those who would win honor in their studies must learn mental discipline."

"My father never went to school. He's an Assemblyman and he goes to Albany and makes laws. Say, everybody jumps through when he tells 'em to!—Gee, it must be funny to be a Chinaman! I'd rather be sick—"

This young person's frankness and impetuosity were embarrassing but she was a friendly soul and her interest in Sam was unaffected. Her rudeness was unintentional and merely the result of an eager curiosity. Her name was Eileen Cassidy and that was her brothef, Jim, yonder. Jim fetched her here every day. They lived down on Oliver street.

"My pa took me in your store one day. Gee! It's big. You live upstairs, don't you? I live in a regular house—I like stores that smell good, like yours. Can you buy anything you want in there?—Pa says you're awful rich—"

When he and his tutor walked home Sam was outwardly sedate, but inwardly he was in upheaval. His notions of white children had entirely altered, there was a strange warm feeling in his breast. He had a friend.

Eileen's brother Jim was a healthy, harum-scarum boy he resented playing the effeminate role of nurse-maid, so in the days that followed he more than willingly surrendered the care of his sister to Sam Lee and proceeded to amuse himself. Daily Sam brought presents to his little friends and in consequence his status with the other children changed. They began to regard him with something besides contempt. Seeing in him a source of possible revenue they assumed a demeanor wholly artificial—it was an experience, by the way, with which he was destined to become all too familiar as time went on.

Eileen Cassidy proved one day that she, at least, was a stout and loyal friend. On this occasion Sam had brought her not ivory, nor agate, nor silk as usual, but his own cherished possession, his fighting crickets. There were three of them, each housed in a gourd elaborately carved and colored to resemble a blooming flower and provided with a perforated ivory cover highly decorated.

These crickets, he explained, were not ordinary insects, they were the reincarnation of famous warriors long dead and they bore honorable Chinese names, the which Eileen did not undertake to repeat. As such they received the most delicate attention; they were fed and watered from tiny porcelain dishes and a little bed was provided for each. They were specially bred and trained champions with records of many victories. Eileen was told, and their food consisted of rice, lettuce, beans and chopped fish. To rouse their fierceness before a battle mosquitoes gorged with human blood were fed to them.

The other children were more excited by the bloodthirsty nature of the diminutive warriors than by Sam's recital of their virtues, and a crowd gathered. There was a pushing and shoving and finally a scream from Eileen, as an unmannerly boy despoiled her of her treasure. Sam promptly fell upon the robber. In an instant they, and not the crickets, were at each other's throats.

It was Sam's first fight and he was astonished to discover that he took to it readily. But alas, other boys piled upon him. The cricket gourds were trampled underfoot, crushed, their warlike occupants met with fates more shocking than they had ever wrought upon their vanquished adversaries. Eileen was in hysterics. Sam was mastered by a terrible indignation; rage boiled up in him so fiercely that he was unconscious of pain. He was pushed and pulled, kicked and struck; he was flung down and his clothes were torn. His nose was bleeding, he heard yells of,

Eileen was in the very middle of the fray—she had by now fully recovered her strength—biting, scratching, kicking, striking.

"I'll kill you," she screamed. "You hurt him and I'll scratch your eyes out—Let him go—I'll tell my pa."

Dan Cassidy was known and feared but gang-spirit was proof against more than the mere threat of his anger. On a ribbon around her neck Eilene wore her father's old police whistle and this at least she blew with all her breath. Now in the neighborhood of The Five Points, police whistles are not sounded in idleness. Having pretty well disposed of Sam, his assailants were becoming frightened at the extent of the havoc they had created, so they separated and scurried away, each in his own direction. They left Eileen stamping her feet, shaking her fists and shrieking threats of vengeance after them.

Sam was a sight. He was skinned and bruised and bloody, his nose pained him terrible. It did not feel like a nose at all; it was much larger than a nose and it bled. There was the taste of blood in his mouth. No doubt he would bleed to death in a very short time. That appalling prospect concerned him less, however, than the amazing phenomena which had occurred inside of him. He had been reared in the dignity and the repose that is Chinese, he had been taught to abhor violence, he had been made to believe that peace is perfection and tranquillity is paradise. What strange and terrifying monster was this that had taken possession of him, soul and body? It rocked and swayed him, it lashed his mind to madness. His hurts were pleasant and he took a savage, drunken joy in them. And his mighty warriors, those honorable heroes of a hundred battles, corpses now! Crushed under the heels of barbarians! He stooped and tried to collect the shattered bits of gourd shell, and ivory and porcelain. He wept for the three brave spirits that were gone.

Eileen was crying, too; she was plucking at him and talking shrilly. She was crying not for the crickets but for him.

"Mercy me! What have you been up to now and who's this with you?" Mrs. Cassidy inquired a few minutes later when her daughter came wailing into the house, hauling Sam by the hand.

Eileen told what happened. Choking, sobbing, she gasped the horrid story and meanwhile Sam tried to compose himself.

But this was a house of understanding and of sympathy. Mrs. Cassidy neither condemned him nor made light of the tragedy; on the contrary she praised his spirit and voiced indignation at the outrage; she made a lot over Sam, in a motherly way. To begin with, she took him into the bathroom and washed his face and hands and put strange smelling salves and liniments upon his cuts and bruises, then she brushed his clothes and pinned up the rents in them. Not once did she call him a Chink nor indicate in any way that he was in the least different from other boys.

"You are too kind," Sam said in a quavering voice. "I have never before engaged in a fight. The lowest order of men are vicious, the higher type of man is firm but not quarrelsome."

"D'you hear that, Eileen? There's sense to the boy. And the nice English he uses! Yes, and you picking up nothing but slang and vulgarity off the streets."

Petition Is Being Circulated In City Asking For Legalizing Of Sweepstakes

More Than 275 Peterborough Citizens Have Already Signed the Large Book—Operated by National Sweepstakes Association.

More than 275 Peterborough citizens have signed a petition to request the Federal Government to legalize the holding of sweepstakes in Canada. The petition, or large book setting forth the plan of the petition, is in a George street store and citizens sign it at will. It has places for 1,000 names and will be in the store until June.

Similar petitions have been placed in practically every city in the Dominion. The petition is being circulated by the National Sweepstakes Petition Association, having been organized by J. Nelson Day, of Toronto, the secretary-treasurer. It points out that millions of dollars leave Canada annually through the purchase of lottery tickets abroad. At the same time the legalized wagering on horse racing is in effect throughout the Dominion.

The association requests the Parliament of Canada to sanction the creation and holding of sweepstakes for raising funds for charity in Canada.

The sweepstakes, according to the petition, would be operated by a body to be known as the National Sweepstakes Association under the direction of a committee composed of one representative from each province to be selected from the ranks of ex-service men in such a manner as may be determined. The petition would also have the profits of the sweepstakes divided among the provinces relative to the populations, for charitable purposes, provided that in all cases 50 per cent of such money would be distributed among the needy ex-service men and dependents in the maintenance of service bureaus.

The petition would finally have the laws of the Dominion amended so as to enable the sale of sweepstakes tickets in Canada. Legislation to authorize the operation of lotteries was passed in the House of Assembly at St. John's, Newfoundland, last week.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

TORONTO EXCHANGE.

TORONTO, May 3.— (C.P.) — Although steadier in the afternoon session, Toronto stock exchange market showed no improvement in tone. Sporadic liquidation forced prices of some of the leaders fractions lower, which viewed in the light of the prolonged reaction was not at all encouraging.

Ford of Canada was one of the weak spots, going down to a new low of 7¾, although the close was up slightly from this figure at 8. Bell Telephone, C.P.R., Dominion Stores encountered minor setbacks and Montreal Power declined almost a point.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL, May 3 (C.P.). — Prices on the Montreal Stock Exchange were slightly easier in another session of listless trading today. Fractional losses predominated, among the limited number of issues which made an appearance on the tape, and these small losses were sufficient to uncover a few more record low levels. The sales volume was light.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, May 3.—Price declines were general among stocks traded on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange market to-day. Several new lows for the year and the bear market appearing among the leaders. Action was again confined to a small portion of the board, general list closing dull and unchanged.

Noranda, establishing a new low bellow $14, and International Nickel were off 30 and 20 cents, respectively, and Pend Oreille and Sheritt Gordon lost ground. Eldorado was firm on the opening, but dropped 5 on the day.

In the gold group Hollinger met further selling and closed down 20, and Pioneer of B.C., McIntyre and Dome Mines lost 10 apiece. Teck-Hughes was steady.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, May 3 (C.P.) — Liquidation again centered in relatively few stocks to-day, but the market closed with a heavy tone. Rails were dull and most pivotal industrials moved narrowly. Lehman, Penney, Safeway, Industrial Rayon and Columbia Carbon lost 2 to 3, while Santa Fe, American Can, Drug, DuPont, General Foods and Proctor & Gamble sagged 1 to 1½. American Telephone and U. S. Steel held up well. Standard Oil of New Jersey was firm. Transactions approximately 900,000 shares.

EX-BROKER ARRESTED

LOS ANGELES.—Julius H. Roth, reported arrested in Winnipeg, is accused here of converting to his own use $20,553 entrusted to him for investment. He formerly was a broker. Roth did not appear when his trial was called in Superior Court last March 4, and his $10,000 bond was ordered forfeited.

SUCCESSFUL SOCIAL HELD IN ZION HALL

Young People of Morganston United Church Present Play, "Safety First."

PETHERICK'S CORNERS, May 3 (Examiner Correspondence)—The annual pie social of the Zion Ladies' Aid was once more a success, when on Friday evening Sentinel Hall was filled to the doors to hear the young people of Morganston United Church present the play, "Safety First."

This three-act comedy was full of mirth-provoking episodes and well-acted by a splendid cast was very pleasing to the large crowd.

Rev. M. L. Hinton, minister on the Morganston charge, spoke before the play commenced expressing his delight at returning to Zion, where he had spent many happy days as minister over twelve years ago. Mr. Van Blairicom, director of the play, introduced the characters as follows: Jack Montgomery, a young husband, Grant Phillips; Jerry Arnold, an unsuccessful fixer, Van Darling; Mr. McNutt, a defective detective, Lorne McComb; Elmer Flannel, awfully shrinking, Don Massey; Abou Ben Mocha, a Turk from Turkey, Harry Darkins; Mabel Montgomery, Jack's wife, pity her, Lena Reid; Virginia Bridger, her younger sister, Mary Morrison; Mrs. Barrington Bridger, their mamma, Mrs. C. W. Massey; Zuleika, a tender Turkish maiden, Helen Darling; Mary Ann O'Finnerty, an Irish cook lady, Mabel Bradley.

It would be impossible to pick a star in the cast as all were exceptionally good. Piano music by Misses Hardy, Darling and Massey and vocal selections by Lorne Darling were much appreciated between acts.

A sumptuous supper of coffee, sandwiches and pie brought the evening to a successful close. Proceeds were about $57.

Zion Sabbath School opened in a very encouraging manner on Sunday, May 1st, with an attendance of seventy-five scholars and officers. Following the morning worship service the Sacrament of the Lord's Supper was observed.

Miss Susie Wright entertained over fifty friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Brunton on Tuesday evening in honor of their recent marriage. A most pleasant time was spent in games and contests with a short program with Mr. MacTavish as chairman. Readings were given by Misses Jessie and Jennie Wright, Miss Amy Anderson, George Brunton, Don Lawrence, Mrs. Hector Arnold and Mrs. Harry Barnum, while accordion music by Mrs. Robt. Irwin and several violin selections by Mr. Alfred Atkinson were well given.

Mr. Alonzo Ellis moved on Thursday from Malone to the old Gillen residence near that of Barney Callery in Marmora Township.

Mr. George Springham of Madoc spent Friday evening in town.

St. Paul's A.Y.P.A. were the guests of Havelock A.Y.P.A. on Friday evening attending a play put on by the latter branch.

Obituary

MRS. MICHAEL CACCAVELLA

The funeral of Mrs. Michael Caccavella was held on Sunday afternoon at 2.30 to St. Peter's Cathedral with interment at St. Peter's cemetery.

The Cathedral was filled almost to capacity with relatives and sympathetic friends from all over the community and many from out of town.

A particularly sad feature of the passing of Mrs. Caccavella, was her irreparable loss to a heartbroken husband and twelve children, the eldest of which is only 18, two less than a month old.

The deceased, whose maiden name was Annie Giardino, was only 35 years of age; one of the most pious members of St. Peter's parish; a loving wife and mother who was unsparing in the interests of her family and her duty as a Christian woman.

The hundreds of friends and neighbors who visited the home of offer sympathy, assistance, flowers and spiritual bouquets, was a tribute to her high esteem as an outstanding citizen.

At the short service in the Cathedral Rev. Dr. Masterson gave Absolution and her pastor, Rev. P. Costello, preached a sermon on the importance of preparation for death, during which he enumerated the many outstanding qualities of Mrs. Caccavella as a wonderful mother who did her duty in a most faithful manner.

As a further tribute the four priests who were in the sanctuary, namely: Rev. P. Costello, Rev. Dr. Masterson, Rev. J. T. Finn and Rev. J. J. O'Brien, who recited the burial ritual, attended at the grave side.

Among the many out of town friends and relatives from a distance were Mrs. Caccevella, Pennsylvania; Nicholas DeCarlo and family, Hamilton; C. Greco and family, Toronto.

The bearers were R. Marrocco, D. Della-Rocchetta, S. Longo, G. Serra, G. Vitarelli and Lewis Cupoli.

Requiem High Mass was celebrated on Monday morning at St. Peter's Cathedral at 8 a.m. by Rev. Paul Costello.

ELIE BRUNELLE IS ELECTED PRESIDENT OF ROTARY CLUB

Heads Campbellford Organization for Coming Season—Captain M. Charlong is Speaker.

DESCRIBES BERMUDA.

..CAMPBELLFORD, May 3. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Elie Brunelle was elected yesterday as president of the Campbellford Rotary Club for the year 1932-33 at the annual election of officers which was featured at the regular luncheon. E. C. Dolman was re-elected secretary treasurer for the third term and C. B. Williams and A. D. Bennett, with the officers, will form the board of directors. S. H. Neale and G. A. Kingston were the remaining two nominees.

An inovation was seen at the luncheon when for the first time in club history a lady addressed a gathering. This was Captain M. Charlong of the local Salvation Army Citadel. Lieutenant C. Morgan was also present.

Captain Charlong gave a very interesting and descriptive address on Bermuda, where she was stationed for two years and two months with the Army. Speaking of this colony which was started in 1612 by Richard Moore and a little band of sixty Englishmen, she called it a "Bright land of lovely lilies." It was the land beautiful as its name implies and the island of rest. Twenty five miles long and 12 miles wide Bermuda possesses 100 miles of good roads, has a population of 30,000, most of whom are colored, and in all there are 365 islands in the group, one for each day of the year.

Green all the year round, with a glorious wealth of foliage, the sea is green surrounding the island caused by the reflection of the deep blue sky through the clear water onto the sandy bottom. At Elbow beach, one of the show places, one can find a peculiarity of nature in pink sand, a sample of which Captain Charlong showed to the club. The Sea Gardens also are a wonderful sight. Situated nine miles from the harbour of Hamilton, one views them through a boat with a glass bottom and sees an amazing variety of different coral formations, and fish life, with many varieties of sea plant life.

Another Show Place

There are 160 varieties of fish in these waters with 12 distinct kinds of rock fish. One of the show places for fish is the Devil's Hole, where without a hook, fish are drawn out of the water by the simple process of fixing bait on the end of a length of string.

The tree life of this island is also wonderful and includes many varieties of palm, the oleander, with its glorious red flower and fine shade, banana, pear, mango and pride of India.

One of the big export trades of Bermuda, the speaker said, was in lilies, there being miles and miles of fields given over to the cultivation of these flowers and present a wonderful sight when in bloom. The products of the country include potatoes, arrowroot, lily bulbs, and garden vegetables. The temperature of the island is splendid, ranging from 50 degrees in the winter to between 70 degrees and 80 degrees in the summer.

One of the very delightful sights of Bermuda, the speaker said was the caves, especially the Crystal Cave. This was some 90 feet deep and water dripping through the roof had made some wonderful sights which included a pipe organ, a cemetery, and a wonderful statue of the Crucifixion.

From the lantern tower of Gibb's Hill lighthouse, which is situated at the end of the harbour, 349 feet above sea level and with a light span of 35 miles, a wonderful view of the sea and Islands can be obtained. Hamilton is the only city of Bermuda, the towns being St. Georges, Somerset, Southampton, and several parishes, which would be equivalent to Canadian villages.

A sight that every visitor sees, Captain Charlong said was the home of the poet, Thomas Moor. Here a tourist can obtain a cup of tea and toast without cost, given in memory of Moor.

President Rev. R. C. Tait introduced the speaker, a vote of thanks being sponsored by G. A. Kingston and S. H. Neale. Mr. Charles Calver was welcomed as a new member to the club.

COUNCIL THANKS

timated, however, that the town would meet any reasonable request.

Councillor Long brought forward a motion that was unanimously adopted by the council. This was a vote of thanks to the Canadian Johnson Motors of Peterborough for their splendid assistance at the recent Pulp Mill fire, and a vote of thanks to the members of the local fire department, who had worked splendidly despite the fact that the fire chief and assistant chief were absent. Councillor Long is chairman of the Fire Committee. The motion was sponsored by Councillor E. C. McKeel.

The transfer of the license of the local dancing pavilion was granted. Elmer Jordan made the application, agreeing to fill the requirements, including the installation of a men's toilet room. The license was transferred from W. Trundy.

Much discussion was featured when a petition was presented by S. F. Bidgood and 34 others asking that the council prohibit dogs from running loose and doing property damage. This only deals with Ward 1. It was felt that the by-law covered this situation and that any property holder could take legal action if molested in any way by dogs; the petition being laid on the table.

Appointed Collector

A by-law appointing J. D. Cummings as tax collector for the town for the year 1932 was passed, the salary being set at $500. Others who tendered for this position were George Whitelaw, R. J. Allan, Bernard Kerr and R. N. Morrison.

Reporting for the Police Committee, Councillor A. D. Bennett presented a bill for acceptance of the legal fees of Chief G. C. Bromley in regard to the Haig-Bromley case. This was for $24, and was accepted. Another matter relative to this committee was the passing of a by-law stating the salary of Constable G. Hardy to be $90 per month. This was presented by Councillor Bennett.

Mr. Bennett also presented a petition from residents of Rear street asking that the council oil the street from Front street to Bridge street as a dust protection. This was referred to the Road and Bridge Committee to obtain prices on this for submission to the next meeting of the council.

An election by-law for the nomination and election of a reeve to fill the vacancy caused by the death of the late J. N. tSone was prepared and passed. Nominations are to-day at 7.30 p.m.

Councillor N. Thompson brought up several matters relative to the Road and Bridge committee. Regarding the road foreman, Robert Scott, who is ill, it was decided to pay his salary only to the end of April. The engineer on the grader, G. Phillips, was retained at the daily rate of $5. Stating that several complaints had been received by him regarding the bad state of affairs at the dump, Councillor Thompson questioned Chief Bromley, who stated that he had recently inspected the dump and had found everything in good order and clean.

On motion of Councillors O'Sullivan and Thompson, Chief Bromley was granted taxi fee for the serving of summons for other cities that perform a free service for this purpose.

It was decided that auditors' reports should be printed, as on a query from the town solicitor, D. J. Lynch, it was declared necessary by statute. On motion of Councillors O'Sullivan and Thompson The Campbellford Herald was given this work. One hundred copies to be run. A motion by Councillor McKeel that The Peterborough Examiner be allowed to tender on this work received no seconder.

Councillor O'Sullivan reported regarding the public toilet for the town and township to the effect that the Seymour Copuncil would look into the matter and advise the town regarding their wishes. Councillor McKeel also reported for the Industrial committee.

Mayor J. M. Bygott presided over the council's deliberations.

year on the northern lines, to railways in Eastern Canada, particularly the Maritimes.

William Duff, Lib., Antigonish-Guysboro, expressed similar convictions.

Trial Shipments.

"Through the grace of God last year," said Col. Cantley, a condition prevailed that has not prevailed for 50 years, and you cannot count on that every year. He was referring to the trial grain shipments which he said were made successfully after the Minister of Railways "went over the country with a fine-toothed comb" looking for cargoes; and, he added, "I think the grace of God is fairly well exhausted as far as the Hudson Bay Railway is concerned.

Hon. T. G. Murphy, Minister of the Interior, took up the cudgels for the Hudson Bay route. Give it a chance was the effect of his argument.

For the entire evening, the House considered estimates of the Department of Indian Affairs.

Work Being Pushed On Highway Bridge

LINDSAY, May 3.—(Examiner Correspondence).—Work on the new concrete bridge on the Peterborough-Lindsay Highway is being pushed with vigor, night and day shifts are now being employed and Sunday saw a staff of men busy at work. Pouring of concrete on the deck will start Wednesday, and it is expected that the structure will be finished by the next month. It has been announced that the bridge will not be open for three or four weeks after its completion in order to allow it to settle properly.

A local C.N.R. official yesterday denied the report that the weevil pest had made its appearance in the Canadian grain stored in the elevators at Midland. The pest had been discovered in the American grain stored at the port, a great deal of which had been reloaded in boats and taken away.

The sudden death took place on Sunday of a well-known resident of Ops township in the person of Donald Fisher, aged sixty-seven years. The deceased was at one time a member of the municipal council and was highly respected throughout the district.

Samuel Botting, late of Orillia, has purchased the local disappearing propellor boat plant. The plant, which is a valuable one, will be operated all summer.

Deposits of volcanic dust found in Saskatchewan are the basis of a growing industry, the material being used for commercial cleansers, in manufacturing cold-water paints, as a clarifying agent and for sound and heat insulating.

Silver fox ranching is still the main branch of fur farming in the Maritime Provinces with 1,967 fox farms in 1930, but there were also 80 mink farms, 13 raccoon farms and 14 muskrat farms.

COUNCIL INSTRUCTS SOLICITOR TO APPLY FOR AN INJUNCTION

in our neighborhood until it has got to be a disgraceful condition. Every spring there has been the same old rigmarole. Some one was going to take off some top soil, and before long they were down fifteen or twenty feet."

Individual effort to stop the wholesale digging had failed, Mr. McGrath said, and the neighbors had come together in a friendly spirit to impress upon the council the injustice which was being done to the people of Ashburnham and the whole city.

"When you pasesd a bylaw preventing pits from being opened within 200 feet of any street we thought we were getting somewhere, but we have been led to believe that if a pit has been started before the by-law was passed that the by-law did not apply in that case. If a man has only a ten foot hole already dug, he can go ahead and dig up a ten acre field. So we have come over to find out whether or not the by-law has any teeth. A pit is anything deeper than eight inches."

John Seymour.

John Seymour reminded the council that the Nicholls Oval section of the city was not lacking in beauty nor in desirability as a residential section. He recalled that last year he had won the Horticultural Society's cup in competition with 172 other residents by the work he had expended on his own home, and he said it seemed strange that top soil to be used in beautifying other parts of the city should be carted away from a district that was just as pleasing and which was depreciated by the pitting operations countenanced by the Council."

Welcomed by the Mayor

"We are glad you have come over to call on us," Mayor Denne replied. "It shows you are taking a real interest in the city. In regard to Mr. McGrath's statement about our by-law having teeth, I may say that it has all the teeth the law can give it. Either individually or collectively, action can be taken against the owner of a property that is being dug. Mr. T. E. Bradburn owns the property you speak of, and perhaps you should have gone farther to his office, and impress on him that something has got to be done. The council will back you to the limit and will do all in our power to stop the pit. A letter will go from City Engineer Parsons and City Solicitor Corkery to the owner and to the man removing the earth."

Ald. Tuggey remarked that the council might have to go to the courts to make its by-law effective.

Would Be A Test Case.

Mr. Corkery reviewed the pertinent sections of the Municipal Act under which the by-law had been recently passed. As to whether pits begun prior to the by-law were comprehended by it, there was no case had yet come before the courts which could be referred to as a precedent. If we want the action was taken in court it would be a test case. If the Judge held that only new pits were prohibited, then recourse would have to be made to the Legislature to clarify the Municipal Act and determine that the statute also applied to pits already opened.

Injunction Proposed.

"The sooner we right things for the residents of that seotion of the city the better," Ald. Turner declared. "It will be better for that locality and, for Peterborough as a whole. We have had a share in what has ben going on over there, and it is time we stopped it."

Ald. Turner moved, seconded by Ald. McNabb, that Mr. Corkery be asked to ascertain at once whether the council had power to obtain an injunction to stop the pit operations, and if so to begin proceedings immediately.

To Set An Example.

Later in the session, Ald. Phelan moved, seconded by Ald. Cotton, that no more gravel pits be permitted in Ashurnham and that the city set the example by "closing up our own pit."

Replying to a query, Ald. Hamilton said there was about a year's supply of gravel left in the pit, in which Mr. McGrath had said with obvious exaggeration the Quaker Oats plant would be almost lost.

Ald. Phelan—We can show we are sincere by getting out of there. The council can start at its own back door.

Ald. Turner—Get out of the city if we have to, but let us remove every semblance of gravel crushing from there.

Ald. Macdonald—I succeeded a year ago in getting a decision in this council that there would be no more pits in Ashburnham, but at the very next meeting the motion was rescinded. If we want the confidence of the Ashburnham people let us close our own pit.

Would Delay Work.

Mayor Dene—The council can do what it likes, but I want to remind you that we expected to start work at noon Tuesday. If you close up the city's pit at once you are going to put a lot of men out of work. It would take three weeks to remove the crusher. The crushing work would be ended by the first of July. You know we expect to bring stone from Nassau to be crushed for the streets. I am not anxious about keeping the crusher there, but I want to remind you of these men who have been looking forward to going to work.

Ald. Tuggey said that everybody was talking about the "give a man a job" campaign, and if fifty men were to be deprived of work it was a serious matter.

Ald. Hamilton—Why not let this stand over until Thursday so Mr. Parsons and I can look into it and see what might be done?

Anticipates Generous View

Ald. McNabb—I think the people of Ashburnham are generous, and if we were to put this matter up to them they would not say "stop work at once" without consideration of anyone else. If we pledge ourselves that there will be no more pits I think they will take a broad view of the situation."

Ald. Phelan—We've been telling them this story for years.

Ald. Holalnd—I think the people in Ashburnham want to be fair. If we used the city's pit for a while just as a yard, it might be all right with them.

Mayor Denne—The crusher gang has had not city work all winter. They have been waiting for this work and we are nearly ready to start. I just want to put their case before you. The roads need gravelling and grading, you know that. Of course you can buy gravel at a dollar a load.

The council finally assented to Ald. Hamilton's proposal to withhold a prospective division until Thursday night.

REV. MR. BEETON IS INDUCTED IN KNOX PRESBYTERIAN CHARGE

Rev. Mr. Graham of Colborne Officiates as Moderator—Rev. Dr. Barr Speaks.

AT HAVELOCK

HAVELOCK, May 3.—(Examiner Correspondence) — At an impressive ceremony held in Knox Presbyterian church here Friday, Rev. Mr. Beeton, formerly of Riverside, Que., was inducted as pastor of the church, Rev. Mr. Graham of Colborne, officiating as Moderator of the Presbytery.

After the usual formalities preceding the induction service, Rev. Dr. Barr of Peterborough addressed the congregation present, reading from the fifth chapter of St. Matthew 1-16th verse. Taking as his text the thirteenth verse, "You are the salt of the earth. But if the salt lose its savour, wherewith shall it be salted?" It is good for nothing any more but to be cast out, and to be trodden on by men," Rev. Dr. Barr said that in the Sermon on the Mount, when our Blessed Lord was looking into the faces of His own people, and into their hearts He thought that the time would come when they might turn against Him.

He stated that it was characteristic of Presbyterians to love their church. He had known of instances where Presbyterian ministers had remained in the one church twenty to thirty years, and there were churches where the same family had ministered to the wants of the same congregation down through generations.

Dr. Barr stated that he could not see why a church should be changing ministers all the time. He said it was not fair to the minister nor to the congregation. No man could work out his plan in two or three years. It takes fourteen years to change a people, a government, the policy of a nation. How can a minister work out a policy in a short pastorate of two or three years? A greater respect for their minister, a greater friendship for him, should be the policy of a Presbyterian congregation.

Dr. Barr believed that the only thing that carried the Presbyterian church in Canada through the crisis of 1925 was the savouriness, the saltiness, the religious life left in the good staunch old Presbyterians, who knew their true citizenship.

He stated that the policy of some is to disregard the other worldliness that should distinguish the life of those who know the real values of material things. Compared to other worlds, to the aeons the life of a man seventy years, is but as the brief of a butterfly. How then can man disregard the importance of the other world. Why should he live and build only for the material things of this life. He must reveal his citizenship, be loyal to Jesus Christ. The true Presbyterian must realize that he is the salt of the earth, he must not lose that savouriness that distinguishes him from others, he must be loyal in the noblest and highest sense, true to his heritage.

Lead to Call.

Rev. Mr. Robinson then addressed the moderator and the assembled congregation, describing the steps which led up to the call of Rev. Mr. Beeton to Havelock. Rev. Dr. Lennox had received a call from Huntsville on Sept. 23rd and had advised him of the call. The Presbytery had dealt with the call and declared the Havelock pulpit vacant on Oct. 1st, after which many clergymen, and embryo ministers had occupied the church pulpit here. On the last Sunday of February the congegation had advised the Presbytery that Rev. Mr. Beeton was their choice, and steps were taken to have the pulpit filled as soon as possible. This was followed by the formal induction of Rev. Dr. Beeton.

Rev. A. C. Reeves of Norwood was then called upon to address the newly inducted minister. He stated that it was rather hard to address one person, and he believed that what he had to say might be addressed to the entire assembly. He would take his advice to Dr. Beeton from the words of St. Paul to Timothy, when he was being set as pastor over the church of Ephesus. St. Paul had said in speaking to this new recruit, "Watch thyself and thy doctrine, and continue in service." He believed that this also applied to the veteran in the ministry. "Watch thyself and thy doctrine and continue in service that thou might war a good warfare, not only defend but be aggressive." He stated that he was not only to flee, but was also to follow after." Be an example. "O Timothy, keep that which is committed to thy trust." Mr. Reeves stated that each one has some special gift. Some ministers excel in the pulpit, but are at a loss in a social gathering. Others are at their best in social life. Some are visitors and delight in visiting their congregation. Others cannot make social calls. He exhorted Mr. Beeton to stir up his special gift, to pray, study, meditate to give himself wholly to his work, to be a good minister, to put the brethren in remembrance of their duties, to be much in prayer, in study of the Word, to be much with his people.

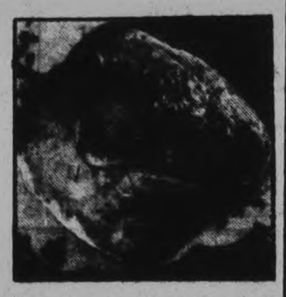
Mr. Dutton as layman of the Presbytery addressed the congregation. He stated that the induction which had just taken place was the culmination of an arrangement made between the minister and the Presbytery of Peterborough. The Presbytery is interested in the congregation and also in the minister. The members act as mediators between the two. It is the duty of the Presbytery to receive the complaints of either party if there be any abuses in the church. He appealed to the members of Knox church to do their duty towards their minister. He stated that there is a tendency to underestimate the value of the Christian church. He said that without the restraint of religion there would be a state of lawlessness. Some eminent writer had stated that the only thing that was holding the United States together was religion. He stated that there was not a lack of understanding of religious matters, but a failure to appreciate Jesus in the world today. The church concerns herself primarily with correct understanding of Jesus Christ. He exhorted those in the congregation to be in the church twice on Sunday. He knew there was a great temptation to-day for people to absent themselves from the church service, with all outdoors calling, but bade them remember their duty to their church. Gladstone was always present at church twice on Sunday. Asked why he was so faithful in his church attendance he stated that there was a little plant in his heart called reverence, and it was to nourish that plant that he went twice on Sunday to church. He said that the minister is human, as other people are. We must not expect him to be perfect. It we must criticize him we should do so kindly. No man in public life can escape criticism, but people try to be tolerant, not carping. A minister or any public man is animated with the highest motives. Give him credit for at least having good intentions. Pray for your minister and help him all you can. He is sensitive, and when he stands in the pulpit he senses whether you are with him or against him. Make him feel that you are with him. Co-operate with him, and help all you can.

Mr. Dutton stated that though you may not be in church the expenses go on just the same. Be generous, not only at times, but consistently. Remember that whether the church be empty or full, expenses go on just the same. Do not try to see how little you can give, but rather how much you can help. Each one should do his or her full duty to the church. No one can tell you how much you should give. Only God and yourself can work that out.

In closing the service Rev. Mr. Graham endorsed the remarks of Mr. Dutton, and asked the congregation to help their minister all they could, and to pray for him.

Visiting clergymen present were: Rev. Mr. Duncan, Warkworth; Dr. Barr, Peterborough; H. R. Williams, Millbrook; J. C. Robinson of Campbellford; C. G. Graham, of Colborne; Rev. Hugh Brown, Havelock; A. C. Reeves, Norwood. Laymen, Messrs. Dutton and Nichol, elders.

After the services the ladies of the congregation served a sumptuous lunch in the church dining room, when speeches of congratulation and thanks were made, by Rev. Mr. Reeves, Robinson, Graham and Duncan, as well as the newly inducted minister.



Miss Jessie Marie De Both makes her delicious

Apple Dumplings with Magic Baking Powder

"WHEN a young housewife asks me what baking powder she should use," says Miss De Both, director of the famous De Both Home Makers' Cooking Schools, "this is my advice: Use the best—one that is pure, uniform and invariably dependable. You can't use second-rate baking powder and expect first-rate results.

"My experience with Magic has been particularly happy. I find that it never varies—that it is consistently reliable. And I know it is pure, and free from harmful ingredients."

Statements by other well-known cookery authorities give wholehearted support to Miss De Both's judgment. . . .

In fact, the majority of dietitians and cookery teachers throughout Canada use and recommend Magic exclusively.

Apple Dumplings

1 quart flour, 1½ cups milk, 3 teaspoons Magic Baking Powder, Sugar, Cinnamon, ½ teaspoon salt, Apples, 2 tablespoons butter

Sift into a bowl flour, baking powder and salt. Rub in the butter. Add cold milk to make soft dough. Turn out on to a floured board and roll into a sheet. Cut in squares. Peel and core the apples. Place an apple on each square of dough. Fill the core with a small piece of butter, sugar and a little cinnamon. Fold the dough over, taking care that there are no openings, as the steam inside dumpling cooks the apple while dough is baking. Brush dumplings with a little cream, and place in greased pans. Bake in moderate oven at 400° F. about 40 minutes. Serve with cream or hard sauce.

Made in Canada

"CONTAINS NO ALUM." This statement on every tin is your guarantee that Magic Baking Powder is free from alum or any harmful ingredient.

Minimum Wage Head

Announcement has been made by Hon. Dr. J. D. Monteith, Minister of Labor, of the appointment of Richard A. Stapells as new chairman of the Minimum Wage Board of Ontario, in succession to the late Prof. J. W. MacMillan.

As vice-president of the J. J. Gibbons Limited advertising agency, and president of Stapells, Fletcher Limited, he is well known in business circles.

Mr. Stapells is a past president of the Toronto Board of Trade, Ontario Motor League and the Empire Club of Canada. He has been prominent for two decades in civic, provincial and dominion affairs, being active in the Canadian Legion, the Naval Veterans' Association, the Poppy Fund, and in musical and church affairs.

The Government is of the opinion that the logical selection for chairman has been made as Mr. Stapells has maintained throughout his business career an attitude of sympathy in connection with the proper and just relationship between the workers of the Province and their employers.

MADRIGALS PLAN RELIEF CONCERT

Concert Will Be Given in Aid of Canadian Legion Relief Fund.

WEDNESDAY, MAY 11

Music lovers will welcome the announcement that Peterborough's famous choir of women's voices, "The Madrigal Singers," conducted by Dorothy Allan Park, intends giving "An Evening of Sacred Music" in Trinity Church, on Wednesday, May 11. The choir will be assisted by the gifted Toronto organist, Charles Peaker, Mus. Bac., F.R.C.O., also Dean Miner and Fred Winfield, well known violinists. In response to special requests Dorothy Allan Park will sing a group of songs.

It will be interesting to hear this virtuoso choir, noted for its brilliant concert repertoire, in an entirely different kind of program. The same beautiful tone and finished style will be apparent, but the style will be changed to one suitable to sacred music of the highest type, and the gay period costumes will give way to sombre choir gowns.

The evening will contain many high lights, and the choir will sing with a reverence and beauty that should inspire and uplift every listener.

A collection will be taken, which will be given to the Canadian Legion Relief Fund. The conductor, choir and assisting artists are very generously donating their services to this concert, and it is the earnest hope of every musician taking part that the war veterans suffering through the depression may receive some substantial help through their efforts.

MILLBROOK LODGE ATTENDS CHURCH

Oddfellows Attend St. Andrew's United Church, Millbrook.

MILLBROOK, May 3 (Examiner Correspondence).—Recognising the one hundred and thirteenth birthday of the Order of Oddfellowship, which occurred within the past week, the Millbrook Lodge, I.O.O.F. No. 308, followed its annual custom of attending divine worship on Sunday, May 1, at 7.30 p.m., representatives of other Lodges within the district joining with them for the service which was held this year at St. Andrew's United Church, the pastor, Rev. W. W. Jones, B.D., who is himself connected with the fraternity, preaching a special sermon for the occasion.

Gathering first at the I.O.O.F. hall over sixty of the members of the Order paraded to the place of worship, where seats had been reserved in the centre pews for their accommodation. Within the altar railing the table was banked with lovely blossoms, and the special selections by the choir included an anthem, "The Lord My Shepherd Is," and a quartette, "The Haven of Thy Breast" (Jerome) sung by Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Johnston and Mr. and Mrs. M. McDowell.

Choosing his text from Luke 10: 25, "Master, what shall I do to inherit eternal life?" the minister spoke of the story of the Good Samaritan as the "true embodiment of the spirit of Oddfellowship, an Order which, at its one hundred and thirteenth anniversary, already encircles the earth with its healing, helpful ministry. Its chief enjoyment lies in soothing another's smart, in brightening another's gloom, and in lifting another's burden."

Mentioning the working tools whereby Oddfellowship seeks to make the world a neighborhood, the speaker listed a compassionate heart, helping hands, and a consecrated pocket-book, "and by putting these into actual practice it seeks to demonstrate and exemplify the life that is eternal.'"

The ushers were four members of the Tuxis Square, Grant Henry, Kenneth Fallis, Gordon Davis and Gerald Todd. Upon return to the Lodge room the usual votes of thanks were passed before the Order was dismissed.

Constant Powdering Bad For Skin Says Specialist

Many women feel that they must be constantly dabbing on powder in order to prevent shiny noses or glistening faces. They never stop to realize what effect this may have upon their skin. A new and clever idea now enables any woman to powder once in the morning and have it last all day. A teaspoonful of mousse of cream added to a favourite face powder makes it so clinging and adherent that it stays on in spite of sun, wind or rain and even in the hottest ballroom.

In Poudre Tokalon, the mousse of cream is scientifically blended with the finest air-floated powder. Thus, Poudre Tokalon is the only genuine mousse of cream face powder. It acts as a splendid skin tonic, stimulating the tissues and never clogging the pores—such as constant powdering may do. Apply Poudre Tokalon to-morrow morning to your face and watch results.

FREE. By special arrangement with the manufacturers, any woman reader of this paper may now obtain a de luxe beauty outfit containing popular shades of Tokalon "Mousse of Cream" Powder so that she may test them on her own face. The outfit also contains Crème Tokalon Skinfoods for both day and night use. Send 10 cents in stamps to cover cost of postage and package, etc., to Depot for Canada: H. R. Madill & Co., (Dept. CHANGE JUNKVILLE INTO BEAUTYVILLE

Apt Comparisons Are Drawn Between the Two (Towns).

"Clean-up" week, which is now being held here, recently had its counterpart in Western Ontario when the Kitchener-Waterloo Kiwanis Club issued a special bulletin containing apt comparisons between Junkville (any slovenly town or city), and Beautyville (any beautiful town or city). It was as follows:

Junktown. — Railroad Station, dirty, cindery, grassless, flowerless, paintless. Lots, overgrow with weeds, cluttered with junk. Streets, never cleaned or repaired. Store fronts, old, worn, flyspecked, littery. Town park, unsightly, neglected vacant lot. Homes, unkempt, littered, flowerless. Churches, broken windows, rickety steps. Ungodly.

Beautyville. — Station, excellent condition, pride of community. Store, attractive, clean, equipped, inviting. Streets give evidence of attention and care. Factories surrounded by gardens. School buildings modern, a fitting environment. Parks, well-kept lawns, flowers, a community beauty. Churches, condition consistent with messages given.

CANADIAN DEPARTMENT STORES

UNEMPLOYMENT COMMITTEE IS FORMED BY CANADIAN LEGION

Capt. Rev. Cocks of Paris is Chairman—Will Comprise All Classes.

STUDY VETS' PROBLEMS

CAMPBELLFORD, May 3 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent) — To study the problem of unemployment among the ex-servicemen of the province and to find if possible some solution to the problem, whereby work can be found for these men, the Ontario Provincial Command of the Canadian Legion has appointed a special Provincial Unemployment Committee, over which Captain, the Rev. H. F. Cocks, M.C., of Paris, Ont. will preside.

The duty of this committee will be to go into every phase of the question and if possible bring about a state of affairs where every ex-serviceman can obtain employment. A thorough analysis of the situation will be made, followed speedily by suggestions which it is hoped will result in the finding of jobs for returned men.

Captain Cocks will be assisted in this investigation by very responsible members of the Legion representing unemployed, employers, employed, the Federal and Provincial Civil Service, the railways, the press, the farm, the factory and the mine. The question of unemployment is one that has given concern to ex-service men since the end of the war and since the Legion came into being, the problem has received the attention of all officers, and many members. Much has been done to help, but the fact remains that many of the Comrades in this time of emergency and distress are in desperate circumstances through their inability to obtain employment.

In order to be in readiness for any action this committee will take, the different branches of the Legion are being called upon to take the following action: 1. Where not already done a special officer or committee should be appointed to act for the branch; 2. Send the provincial office, at the earliest moment, the following information. A. The number of unemployed in the branch; B. The proportion of the membership which this number represents; C. Statement as to the number of pensioners among the unemployed members.

The committee will also consider such matters as relate to the employment of ex-servicemen as the employment of alien labor, government employment, preference, duplication of employment in families not needing it; railway employment and contributory unemployment insurance. It will be readily understood that individual problems cannot be dealt with but that the greatest food for the greatest number must be sought.

BLAZE THREATENS LIFFORD LINE BARN

Efforts of 30 Neighbors Required Before Straw Blaze is Controlled.

LIFFORD LINE, May 3 (Examiner Correspondence)—Fire of unknown origin broke out in the farm yard of James Strachan on Thursday afternoon causing considerable excitement in this neighborhood. It was thought possible that a spark might have been carried from the chimney of the dwelling by the extremely high wind.

The majority of neighboring men were busily engaged on the fields making it difficult to secure assistance. By the use of the telephone about thirty men soon assembled and applied water from well and cistern.

The blaze was first seen running along straw and refuse in the yard and from there caught on the eastern side of the barn. A large implement shed near by as well as the farm home were in grave danger being in line with a wind that drove fear of fire into the heart of many a neighboring farmer.

Tests of Western Canada spring wheat recently made by the National Research Council again demonstrated the high milling and baking qualities of both the Reward and Marquis varieties.

Senators Increase Lead in American League

YANK HURLERS ALLOW THIRTEEN HITS AS SENATORS TAKE 10-3 VICTORY ON WASHINGTON FIELD

Indians Defeat St. Louis Browns 6-5 for Ninth Straight Win.

FOXX STARS AT BOSTON.

Steve Swetonic Holds Chicago to Three Hits as Pirates Win 2-0.

(By Gayle Talbot, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

With the year's first intersectional warfare only two days away, the Cleveland Indians again shape up as the West's best bet to break into the Eastern clubs' monopoly on American League laurels.

Roger Peckinpaugh's tribe was running a strong second to-day, only one game behind the Washington Senators, after winning nine straight against Western opposition. Detroit, in fourth place also will invade the seaboard in an excellent position, but Eastern managers are prone to regard the Indians as the greater menace.

The Indians, who have been winning largely on sheer offensive power, will make their Eastern debut against the Athletics on Thursday at Philadelphia. Wes Ferrell, who has won his first five starts, likely will get the nomination against the Mackmen.

Two big innings that netted all their runs gave the tribe a 6-5 victory over the St. Louis Browns yesterday. Johnny Burnett drove in three runs with a brace of singles.

Gomez Takes Setback.

The leading Senators handed Vernon (Lefty) Gomez his first setback of the year in slugging out a 10-3 decision over the Yankees. Joe Cronin led the way with a home run, a double, and a triple. Henry Johnson, an appendicitis victim in the spring, made his first appearance this season when he relieved Gomez in the fifth. He was hit solidly.

Jimmy Foxx's home run in the eleventh inning broke up a mound duel and gave the Athletics a 3 to2 triumph over the Boston Red Sox. The winning punch was made off Cy Moore, who relieved Durham in the eighth. Lefty Grove, third Athletic hurler, was credited with the win.

Sam Jones collapsed after allowing only four hits in eight innings, the Detroit Tigers score five runs in the ninth and beat out Chicago, 5 to 3.

National League fans were treated to a pair of superb pitching performances by Sylvester Johnson of St. Louis and Steve Swetonic of Pittsburgh. Swetonic allowed only three hits in blanking the aspiring Chicago Cubs, 2 to 0, while Johnson let the Cincinnati Reds down with four to win, 2 to 1.

Jimmy Collins' sixth home run of the year, in the fourth inning, with Sparky Adams on base, enabled Johnson to get the better of a tight slab duel with Si Johnson of the Reds, who allowed only five hits, himself.

Dazzy Vance's tight pitching and Glenn Wright's timely hitting gave the Brooklyn Dodgers a 3 to 1 victory over the Giants. Wright tripled with two on in the eighth to break a deadlock.

The Phillies went on another hitting rampage behind Ed Holley's seven-hit pitching to subdue the league leading Boston Braves, 7 to 2.

TERRY GOING STRONG

NEW YORK, May 3 (C.P.)—The New York Giants may be down in the basement of the National League, but "Memphis Bill" Terry hardly can be blamed. The big first baseman has hit safely at least once in every one of the fourteeen games the Giants have played.

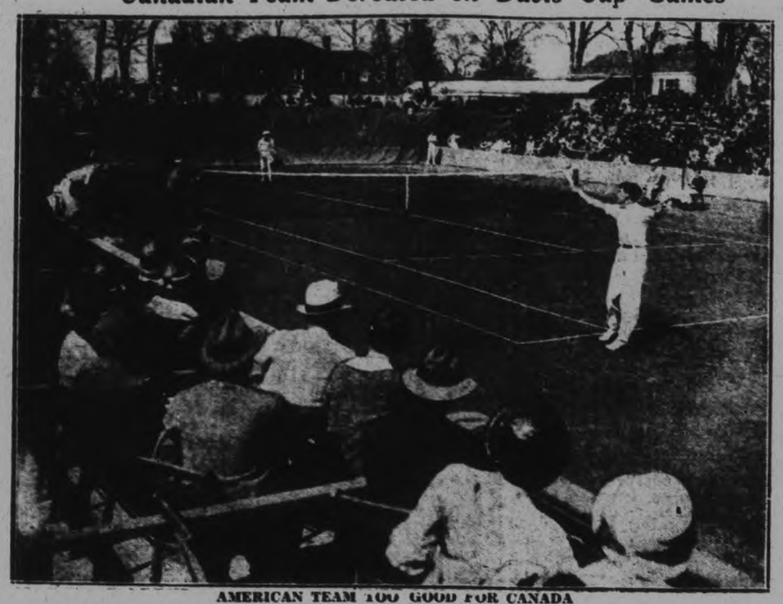
Canadian Team Defeated In Davis Cup Games



AMERICAN TEAM TOO GOOD FOR CANADA

EIGHT TEAMS WILL LIKELY MAKE UP SOFTBALL LEAGUE

C.N.R., Bert Deck's and C.G.E. Are Newcomers to the City Loop.

ADVERTISE FOR UMPS.

Eight teams are expected to make up the Men's City Softball League this year, it was disclosed at last night's meeting in Duffus'. C.N.R., Bert Deck's and C.G.E. were the three names submitted last night, with previous entries being Sugar Bowl, Red & White Stores, All Saints, The Stars and The Examiner.

There was another good turnout and the business was pushed through rapidly. Following the reading of the minutes, those present were informed that the league's application for Central School grounds to the Property Committee would be decided at the Council meeting last night. The matter of final entries then came up. C.N.R. and Deck's were both entered, while the C.G.E. representatives requested a week's time before definitely joining. This was granted.

Since there was to be eight teams in this year, the question of grounds came in for much discussion. Some of those present favored having two diamonds, with both Chemong and the Oval being mentioned. But it was finally decided that games would be played only on one diamond, five nights a week, with some games being arranged for Saturday nights, and some doubleheaders being run off during July and August. This, it was felt, would give the teams more than one game a week as they desired, and give fans all the entertainment they could want.

Following various suggestions for obtaining a good umpire-in-chief, who would in turn be responsible for a base-umpire, it was voted to advertise for such a man in line with the "Give-a-Man-a-Job" campaign. The applications must be sent to the secretary, through The Examiner Office, or to his address, and the executive will decide upon a satisfactory applicant.

The teams chosen to open the schedule, May 23rd, were Sugar Bowl and Red & White Stores. Entrance fees must be in by the second game of each team. It was moved that the secretary write away for one hundred and fifty amateur forms, and this was adopted. Concluding the business on hand, those present voted to leave any further league business, before the opening of the schedule, in the hands of the executive. The session then adjourned.

Yesterday's Stars

Joe Cronin, Senators—Collected home run, triple and double against Yankees, figuring in scoring of five runs.

Jimmy Foxx, Athletics—Broke up tight pitching duel against Redsox with homer in 11th.

East Meets West For Cage Honors

SAINT JOHN, May 3. —(CP)— East meets west here this week and the twain will make Canadian basketball history tonight when Winnipeg Toilers test their strength against Saint John Trojans in the opening match of a series for the senior basketball supremacy of Canada. The second game will be played Thursday night and if a third is necessary the title will be decided on Saturday night.

Both teams are in fine shape. Trojans took no chance and had their final workout last Saturday. Toilers worked out yesterday afternoon for the last time prior to the series. The tactics of both teams are somewhat similar in that both play a hard-driving game and both are adept in the five-man defence system.

ANDY COHEN IS SLUGGING STAR AS BEARS WIN

International Leaders Drive Two Buffalo Pitchers From the Mound.

BISONS LOSE OUT 7-3.

Backed by New York Yankees, Newark Looms as Championship Club.

(By The Associated Press)

Out in front of the International League parade by two games, Al Mamaux's Newark Bears confidently faced their first competition on the road to-day.

The Bears, along with the other three southern clubs, moved into the north where victories may be harder to achieve. Newark was playing at Toronto; Baltimore at Buffalo; Jersey City at Rochester, and Reading at Montreal.

Backed by the sources of the New York Yankees, Newark looks like a much more powerful club than the outfit that came so close to winning the 1931 pennant. If there is an outstanding weakness it lies in the pitching. Batting strength has been the chief factor in Newark's feat of winning 13 of its first 17 games. In only six of these has the Newark hit column failed to touch double figures. On the other hand, in only five has the Bears' starting pitcher been able to travel the full route.

Yesterday the Bears had to call upon Milt Shoffner and Don Brennan to check the Buffalo Bisons in the final game of a four-game series, Newark winning handily, 7-3. Shoffner held a 7-2 lead after five innings, but was relieved by Brennan with one out in the sixth after Buffalo had scored one run and had put two men on base. Brennan, in another great relief performance, held the Bisons to two hits and scoreless over the last three and two-thirds innings.

Newark pounded Joe Bartulis, Bill Gould and Nick Harrison for 12 hits of which Andy Cohen contributed three, a triple and two singles.

Despite their defeat the Bisons remained in second place, a game and a half ahead of Rochester and Baltimore who are in a virtual tie for third place.

CANTRELL WILL PITCH OPENER

Big Right-hander is Manager Daly's Choice for To-day's Game.

AT TORONTO.

TORONTO, May 3. — Arriving early yesterday morning from Reading, Manager Tom Daly and the Maple Leafs held a practice at the Stadium in preparation for to-day's opener at the Fleet Street baseball emporium.

The players were in fine fettle as they went through a snappy workout in the brisk, cool breeze. The weather was just a trifle cooler than they expected to find here, but the weatherman has promised fair and warmer conditions for to-day, and there is every prospect that a bumper crowd of fans and fanettees will greet the Bears and Leafs as they lift the curtain on International League baseball here this afternoon.

The Bears will not reach Toronto until some time this morning. They engaged the Buffalo Bisons in a game at Newark yesterday, and they are coming here with a fairly substantial lead in the pennant race. They have been in top place from the opening day of the season, but it may be a different story before they depart from here.

Guy Dewey Cantrell, the Leafs big right-hander, who had the Bears beaten all the way until the ninth inning in the opening game at Newark, will be Manager Daly's pitching selection this afternoon. Pete Stack will be behind the plate. Cantrell hopes to even up with the Bears for the ten-inning defeat they handed him at Newark. He had them beaten 5 to 1 going into the ninth inning on that occasion, but a home run by Andy Cohen with the bases filled tied the score and the Bears put over the winning counter in the tenth.

The Man who needs Life Insurance most

Ask any of the 400,000 men who last year were "turned down" by the life insurance companies when they wanted insurance.

An accident, or a few days of illness often convert a good risk into a rejected applicant.

The policy you can buy to-day may not be obtainable next year.

Wise men are buying all the life insurance they can while they are still insurable.

"THE MIRACLE MAN."

This is a picture that goes with a smooth tempo. It seems to be hardly acted at all, so surely and silently does the action progress. There is not much conversation in it, and the action is fraught at all times with strong sentiment.

What a change it is from the sex dramas and jazz-music conglomerations that haunt the talking screen. And what a different appeal from the ordinary type of picture. An old, silent, weary man dominates it, the figure of Hobart Bosworth with his marvellously-tuned voice, the Patriarch of Meadville, the Miracle Man of the theme.

When Thomas Meighan and Betty Compson and Lon Chaney first made the "Miracle Man" for the silent screen, the result was hailed as one of the epochal attainments of the time. But this "Miracle Man," although of a differing type of production on the same basic story, is fully as good.

Sylvia Sidney, although she does not always appeal, is at her best in this picture. Oddly enough, the spell of other-world affairs that seems to haunt the story, and grows stronger as the picture unfolds itself, casts its glamor over her and over Chester Morris and even Ned Sparks, that rigid-faced gentleman who shines with such splendor in recent comedies, so that they do not seem to be acting at all, but are merely puppets in the hands of an unseen director. The "Miracle Man" has this potent magic, something quite unlike anything formerly screened.

It is the same story—the tale of crooked minds and lives made straight, the story of weak people who set out to steal from a good man, and who stayed to do his will, rather than their own.

With its splendid cast, its outstanding theme, and a very strong direction, the "Miracle Man" is one of the high lights of modern screening. It is in a class by itself. —Jeanette.

CONSERVING VALUES

This is no time to let down in gifts to character-building agencies. Peterborough's philanthrophies have been well supported by citizens. But, boys and young men require more than having their immediate physical needs met. They need FRIENDSHIP, COUNSEL, MORAL, SOCIAL AND SPIRITUAL SUPPORT to offset the hazard of a breakdown in character.

The Y.M.C.A. is at work 365 days of the year among boys and young men, building up these character reserves that will meet any adversity.

LOCAL SOCCER SEASON OPENS SATURDAY, KING EDWARD PARK

Caledonians and Packers in Opening Encounter at 3 O'clock.

USE SUBSTITUTES.

The official date of the soccer season was settled by the Peterborough and District Football Association, last evening, when a full attendance of the teams were represented. Port Hope had a delegation with them and received all the necessary information in regard to the substitute question and the details relative to league games and cup tie competitions. Saturday, May 7th was settled as the opening date of the league schedule.

The Packers and Caledonians meet in the opening game on King Edward Park, at three o'clock prompt. The official referee will be appointed by the president and secretary.

No cup tie competitions could be played until the players had been registered the full seven days. Only one day registration is necessary in the league matches.

A recommendation from the Port Hope representative finally brought forth the suggestion that Deloro and them play a home game each, if possible on a holiday, and the remaining two games to be played in Peterborough, so that they would eliminate the cost of transportation. Of course, this question is subject to confirmation from the Deloro aggregation. Port Hope registered their colors as red and black with white pants.

A substitute cannot be placed on the field during the last fifteen minutes of play. Three players are the allotted quota. They must be specified when the rest of the team are selected and handed over to the referee.

The new ruling in regard to the "throw-in" and the "goal-keeper carrying the ball "will become effective this season.

Sixteen Forms Each

The five clubs were given sixteen registration forms each and the scramble for players will take place immediately. James Sherrett, represented the C.G.E., Wm. Downer Canadian Packers, David Anderson Caledonians, David Nelson Port Hope, Deloro representative will be appointed next week.

Wide Choice of Players

No less than one hundred and fifty players were registered last season and they are all available this season. It is a well-known fact that some of the local talent will be registered with Port Hope who will have a wide field to choose from—namely Cobourg and Bowmanville. They will have some junior talent that will be stabilized with the experienced Roy Black who is expected to occupy the pivot position. Then on the extreme wings he will have excellent support of two well-known players.

Deloro will again rely upon their old players with an infusion of talent that have been settling around the district.

In the Canadian General camp, they have appointed an excellent committee to handle the team during the season with Jack Clark, the president and James Sherrett acting in the capacity of manager and representative to the association. They have been very active in getting together the old players which includes the McMaster brothers and Joe Daynes.

The Caledonians are taking things easy and are not anxious to push the registration of players but are co-operating with the player who desires to play the game in a sportsmanlike manner, irrespective of whether they win or lose, but keeping one objective in view, viz: relaxation of the highest calibre. Last week, an old Caledonian favorite, Andy Coyle, blew into the office and made his acquaintance after a sojourn in Vancouver playing with Saint Andrews in the district league. He claims that he is as fit as he ever was and is anxious to occupy his old place on the outside left of the Scots' eleven.

The Canadian Packers never made any move until the last minute and it is expected that the committee appointed will put before the public a team that will uphold the previous excellent traditions of the Packers of the past.

CENTRALS LOSE TO QUEEN MARY

Neat Double Play in Ninth With One On Gives Queensters 16-15 Victory.

HIGH-SCORING AFFAIR.

Central School suffered defeat at the hands of the visiting Queen Mary nine in a Public School League fixture yesterday evening by the close count of 16-15. It was an exciting, if not a well-played contest, with the issue in doubt until a neat double-play with one on in the last half inning gave the Queensters the nod.

Up to the fifth it was a good game, with the west-enders leading, 4-3. They shoved across one more in this frame, and then one outfit broke loose to tally four times. In the hectic sixth session Queen Mary players crossed the platter eight times to six for the others to tie it up. The visitors had enough punch left in the last frame to count three more runs, and nip a Central rally after it had brought in two runs coming within one of again sewing it up.

Both Wright and Clark were very unsteady during the last half of the game, and their support defensively was not the best. Some hard, extra-base hitting contributed to the heavy scoring, with Central having more hits and fewer errors. The teams:

Central—Copperthwaite, lf.; Turner, ss.; Wright, p.; White, cf.; Currie, rf.; Herrwon, c.; Ferguson, 3b.; Anderson, 1b.; McClelland, 2b; Umpire, R. J. Bolton.

CASUAL COMMENT

The second annual meeting of the Girls' Softball League starts at eight o'clock this evening in the Duffus' Board Room, and everyone interested in this loop is urged to attend. The election of officers, entry of teams, both last year's and newcomers, and various other important matters point to a busy evening. We would like to see four or five girls attend to every one fellow, as it is a girls' league.

• • • • • • •

It looks like there'll be eight teams in the Men's Softball League, with the entry of two more last night and the practical assurance of a third. Bert Deck is running one from Ashburnham, and he has a nifty outfit in the making now. C.N.R. is a dark horse as far as we're concerned, and the same is partially true of the C.G.E. The stronger they are, the better for this circuit and its followers.

• • • • • • •

At last night's meeting, the softballers decided to obtain a good umpire-in-chief through the "Give-a-Man-a-Job Campaign" idea, so they're calling for applications. It means umpiring five, and sometimes six, nights a week at Central, and appointing his own base-umps. While there isn't a fortune in it, still there was a pretty fair split last year, and if a man is out of work, or just working a couple of days a week, he can use dough.

Applicants may get an estimate upon what their pay is likely to be when they apply to the secretary, Dave Leether. They may write to him in care of The Examiner. Naturally, only capable umpires need apply. Several good names were suggested last night, before it was agreed that to advertise would be better. Names of those applying, and not chosen, will not be published.

The Inter-Alley Bowling League play-offs are billed for Thursday night, starting at eight at the Knights. Just two games are to be run off, first at K. of C. and then back at Duffus' the same evening, total pinnage counting for the title and the Bradburn Trophy. Why not make it three games and ring the "Y" in on it? They were in the loop, and shouldn't be left out, unless they want to be, themselves.

• • • • • • •

A bunch of Marathoners swing into action to-night on the Duffus Alleys, each one hitting off ten straight games in one evening in this new type of bowling competition. It continues every evening this week, first three high scores drawing down cash prizes, with one being given also for the most consistent wood-knocker in the tourney.

But returning to softball, the executive of the South-end Softball League meets to-morrow evening at 7.30 down at 538 Sherbrooke Street. As important business will come up at this session, every team should have a representative there.

• • • • • • •

An exciting ball game at Central yesterday afternoon went to Queen Mary School over the Centralers, 16-15. Heavy hitting erratic pitching and misplays ran the count up rapidly the last few innings. Over in East City, King George boys dumped a couple of buckets of whitewash over the Queen Alexandra invaders, which is no way to treat visitors. Prince of Wales plays at King Edward in the only school game billed for to-day.

• • • • • • •

Both Art Wood and Paul Amato, who won their bouts here last week, lost last night in the Toronto Lions Club show—Art by a kayo in the third to Keller, Montreal champ; and Amato on points to Lane, middleweight titleholder from Montreal also. Genovese won the lightweight bout from the French Club, but Brian McLarnon lost his scrap in four rounds. Lanky Cliff Rhamey, who was here last week, too, dropped a decision to the Ontario lightheavy champ, Ted Phillips.

• • • • • • •

Local boys who took part in the Belleville boxing bouts last night didn't do so well. Two won and two lost, and yet they all lost—strange as it may seem. Ned Minicola had to quit when a bad cut over his eye was re-opened, so he lost. George Spanis didn't have enough condition to keep up his early winning ways, so he lost. But Jack Gardner and Art Hunter both won decisions by city blocks, but were so badly robbed by the judges, that the crowd booed the decisions in a big way, and thundered applause on the local boxers as they left the ring.

KEEN RACE IS EXPECTED IN BRITISH AIR CLASSIC

Wide Variety of Machines and Many Noted Pilots in King's Cup.

ON JULY 8 AND 9TH

LONDON, May 3 (C.P.)—The Prince of Wales and Prince George have both entered machines for the King's Cup Air Race, around Britain on July 8 and 9. The Prince of Wales has entered a Comper-Swift, one of the smallest airplanes made, and it will be piloted by Flight Lieut. F. H. Fielden. Prince George has entered a Puss Moth, and the pilot will be Flight Lieut. J. G. D. Armour.

Though the number of entries for the King's Cup received at the Royal Aero Club up to the present is less than in some earlier years, new regulations have succeeded in attracting a competition that promises to be exceptionally interesting. The fastest machine ever entered for the race—a high speed mail-plane capable of 175 miles an hour—service type training airplanes, twin-engined craft built for the private owner, a fast and powerful air transport monoplane and several new-type small machines are included in the first list.

Liner Goes Aground During Heavy Fog

HALIFAX, May 3 (C.P.)—Straying from her course in a heavy fog, the Furness-Red Cross liner Nerissa struck George's Island, in Halifax Harbor, early to-day and remained hard and fast until hauled off by tugs at high tide.

She landed passengers from New York and was outward bound for St. John's, Newfoundland, when the mishap occurred; there was no confusion on board.

Apparently she was little damaged but her sailing will be delayed while a thorough survey is made.

LOCAL BOXERS ARE ROBBED IN BELLEVILLE FIGHT SHOW

Fans Boo Judges' Decision When Quinte Scrappers Are Handed "Dukes."

MINICOLA FORCED TO QUIT.

Six hundred fans took in the Nationals Baseball Club boxing show in Belleville last night, in which four Peterborough boys were featured. Two of the local boys lost out and the other two were gyped so badly by the judges' decisions that the crowd swunk right over to boo the verdicts loudly and give the Peterborough boxers a bigger hand than the home towners as they left the ring.

Despite a bad foot and a weight handicap, Art Hunter, of the Foster A.C., blasted away with a left smash to the head to easily outpoint Art Angell, Belleville. He had a decided edge in the first two rounds with his experience and uncanny left, but the other put up a fine finish to slug on even terms to the third round. When Angell's hand was lifted, the crowd handed out the old Bronx cheer, while Hunter got most of the applause as they climbed through the ropes.

Too Good for Spanis

Gordie Morris, Belleville, was too strong for George Spanis, Alpha Club. The latter took the first round with a shifty southpaw attack that bothered Gord, but Morris boxed on even terms in the second and outlasted and outpunched Spanis in the third to win a fair decision.

Gardner Robbed

The semi-final bout saw Jack Gardner, Foster A.C., robbed of the duke over Scotty Kline. It was a thrilling fight and Jack took the first round by stretching Kline in the resin for eight seconds with a hard one-two to the chin. The second also went to Jack, who pounded the other hard at infighting and kept a jolting left in his face. Kline did plenty of posing and was shifty but did little real work until the last, when he outboxed Jack at long range. The decision was quite unpopular with the crowd.

The hard final bout was stopped at the end of the second round when George Semark was given the win over Ned Minicola, Pioneer Club. Ned had pounded the other hard to lead by points, but during the second round, Semark slashed open the bad cut over Ned's eye, and the blood poured from it the rest of the session. In between rounds, Dr. Flynn examined the cut and advised against going on, and Ned retired to give the other the bout.

There were six boxing bouts and four wrestling matches on the card, with the following results:

Ridley beat Hinton, at 118 pounds, decision.

Argell beat Hunter, at 120 pounds, decision.

Morris beat Sapis, at 120 pounds, decision.

O'Neill beat Semain, at 118 pounds, decision.

Kline beat Gardner, at 147 pounds, decision.

Wrestling

Ridley and Kennedy drew, at 90 pounds.

Trovinen lost to Townsend, at 135 pounds.

Sharland threw Forster, at 145 pounds.

Ruttan and Redquist, heavies, drew.

Eight Teams Enter C.G.E. Softball Loop

Eight well balanced men's teams have entered the C.G.E. Interdepartment Softball League and the line-ups of these entries indicate that competition will be very keen in the race for the Works' championship.

The league will be divided into two sections of four teams each and the play-offs will be conducted on the same plan as the final series in the National Hockey League.

Efforts are being made to put a team representing the C.G.E. in the City Softball League but several doubtful points of vital importance to the success of this venture has kept the executive from making a decision. One of the important issues in connection with the idea is whether or not the sanction of the Social and Athletic Club can be secured but the officials are optimistic and all of the team delegates were heartily in favor of entering the team.

The teams entered in the Shop League are as follows: Two from the Office; Engineers, Tool Room, Test, Induction Motors, Machine Shop and Armature Winding.

Aga Khan's Entry Wins Chester Vase

CHESTER, Eng., May 3. (Canadian Press Cable). The Aga Khan's three-year-old Bulandshar, by Blandford out of Dousiriere, this afternoon won the Chester Vase by four lengths from Lord Astor's four-year-old Creme Bulee, with Sir L. Philips' three-year-old Wyvern third, another two lengths back.

Five ran over the mile and a half course. Bulandshar started at odds of 5 to 2, Creme Bulee at 2 to 1 and Wyvern at 9 to 4. Bulandshar and Wyvern are candidates for the Derby to be run June 1.

The Chester vase was worth about $10,000 and featured the opening day of the Chester meeting. The Chester cup will be run to-morrow. Sandwich, who won the classic St. Leger last autumn was winner of the Chester vase a year ago.

Miniature Kentucky Derby Is Run To-Day

LOUISVILLE, May 3 (C.P.)—A miniature Kentucky Derby was up for decision at Churchill Downs to-day, with eleven eligibles for the $50,000 stake entered in the $1,200 preparation purse at one mile.

The field included several well-backed Western candidates for the derby, which will be raced Saturday. The winner undoubtedly will increase his derby following, in addition to receiving the "tightening" necessary to his pre-derby training.

The late Joseph Leiter's Prince Hotspur; A. B. Letellier's Sazerac; J. M. Parrish's Gold Check; Norman W. Church's Gallant Sir, and Charles T. Fisher's Cee Tee were expected to be in the thick of the running. Sazerac was especially favored because of his running second Saturday to Burning Blaze in the race in which the latter was crippled.

Other entries, all with considerable following, were: Knebelkamp and Morris's Adobe Post; Mrs. W. T. Anderson's Cabeao; J. B. Respess's Our Fancy; E. R. Plunkett's I Pass; H. P. Headley's Indian Runner, and Raymond White's Crystal Prince.

Stalls were in readiness to-day for the expected arrival of Lucky Tom, J. J. Robinson's Louisiana derby winner, and Robert W. Daniels' Brandon Mint, shipped here from the east for the derby.

CRICKET

LONDON, May 3. — (Canadian Press Cable.)—Rain to-day forced abandonment of play in both the first class county cricket matches that started on Saturday.

At the Oval Surrey had rolled up a score of 339 in their first innings Saturday, while Worcester's first inning was finally completed to-day with a total of only 86 runs. Robert Gregory, great Surrey bowler, took six wickets for 21 runs.

The match between Warwickshire and Middlesex was abandoned to-day when rain made resumption of play impossible. Rain had also stopped play yesterday in this match at the Oval. The scores were: Middlesex 62, Warwickshire 69 runs and 20 runs for no wickets.

EDMONTON COMMERCIAL GRADS RETAIN DOMINION CAGE TITLE

Westerners Have Been Rulers of Girls' Basketball Realm Since 1922.

BEAT WINDSOR 106-50.

EDMONTON, May 2 (C.P.)—Once again the world-famed Edmonton Commercial Grads, rulers of the girls' basketball realm since 1922, are Dominion champions. They retained the title for 1932 by a win over the Windsor - Walkerville Alumnae, Eastern titlists, last night.

In the opening match of the series the Grads turn in a 60-32 victory, and last night the Alberta girls finished the best two-out-of-three series on top of a 46-18 tally. The third game, billed for tonight, will not be played.

Starting out with an early lead, the Grads had piled up a score of 44 to the Windsor visitors' 14 at half time, and outscored the Eastern champions in three of the four quarters. The girls from the East got their final four points in the fourth quarter.

It was a stirring game, and much rougher than the first encounter, a total of 17 penalties being marked up last night for both teams compared with 5 in the opening match.

High Scores for Visitors.

Clarke was the high scored for the visitors, netting six points, Leishman counted four and Blondell four, while Churchill, towering guard of the alumnae, was watched so closely, she was unable to count a single point.

MacBurney added six points in the second half to count a game total of 20, and the highest for the Grad outfit, a big improvement over the game Saturday. Fry counted ten for the home team, and McCormack had nine.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

JERRY MUSKRAT MAKES A FRIEND.

Who wins a friend doth thus attain
To riches gold can never gain.
—Old Mother Nature.

Jerry Muskrat had a queer feeling. Yes sir, he had a queer feeling. Never had he felt quite as he did now. Danger was nothing new to Jerry. Ever since he had first ventured out into the Great World he had known danger almost constantly. When he was a little fellow he had had more than one narrow escape from Hooty the Owl, and all his life he had had to keep watch for Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy. Since Old Man Coyote had come to these parts to live it had been necessary to watch out for him. And then at certain seasons there had been hunters with terrible guns and trappers with still more terrible steel traps to be on guard against.

So the feeling of danger was nothing new or strange to Jerry. It was merely that it was different tonight. Never before had he had this feeling of being surrounded by enemies. It wasn't that he wasn't safe. He was. So long as he did not go ashore he was wholly safe. At home in the Smiling Pool or when swimming in the Laughing Brook there had seldom been more than one enemy at a time trying to get him, but up here at Paddy's pond there were enemies all around if Paddy was to be believed, and Jerry had a feeling that he was. And it was all on account of Honker the Goose and his flock, who had arrived late that afternoon and were stopping over in Paddy's pond on their way to the Far North.

Paddy had said that he had seen Buster Bear over by the dam, and that he hadn't a doubt that Yowler the Bobcat, Reddy Fox and Mrs. Reddy and Old Man Coyote were prowling around the pond. Perhaps Puma the Panther was there, and Jerry felt sure that Hooty the Great Horned Owl was not far away.

"It is those Geese they want; they won't be looking for me, and that is some comfort," thought Jerry. "To begin with they don't know I am up here. These silly Geese told every one within hearing of their arrival. Such a silly thing to do. They deserve to be caught. Yes, sir, they deserve to be caught. They have not only made it dangerous for themselves but for the rest of us. I don't dare start for home and Mr. and Mrs. Paddy don't dare go ashore for food. And all on account of those silly birds."

He swam around the flock and over to the dam. His heart beat fast with excitement. He was watching the Black Shadows for a glimpse of Buster Bear. Never had he seen Buster Bear. He wondered if Buster really was as big as he had heard. He doubted it. Gentle Mistress Moon had begun to pour her soft light over the Green Forest. It fell full on one end of the dam. It made a great white patch there. Suddenly what Jerry had taken for a tall stump moved. It fell over and moved away on four legs and Jerry gasped and got some water up his nose. He knew that he had seen Buster Bear, and Buster was bigger than he had dreamed he could be.

Jerry swam back to Paddy's house. On this he could sit quite safely. Paddy and Mrs. Paddy had gone inside so that Jerry was quite alone. Some of those Geese were drifting in quite close. Now and then one would arouse and paddle out farther from the shore. One, Jerry noticed, had drifted in farther than the others. It was a young gander. He was between Paddy's house and the shore now and if he didn't wake up pretty soon and swim out he would drift ashore.

Suddenly Jerry saw two glowing spots of light just beyond that sleeping, drifting young gander. He knew what they were. There were eyes, the fierce eyes of some one waiting for that young gander to drift just a little nearer. Almost without thinking what he was doing Jerry slid into the water, brought his tail down with a sharp slap and then plunged under with a noise that wakened every Goose in the flock. As Jerry came to the surface the young gander came hurriedly swimming out from the shore. He had heard Yowler the Bobcat snarl with rage and disappointment.

"You saved my life," said the young gander to Jerry. "I'll never forget it."

So Jerry unexpectedly made a friend.

What To-Day Means To You

"TAURUS"

If May 3rd is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 11 .m. to 12:15 p.m., from 5:30 p.m. to 7 p.m., and from 9 p.m. to 10:20 p.m. The danger periods are from 6:45 a.m. to 8 a.m., and from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m.

Astrological indications for May 3rd: To the worldly ambitious, it will be a flat, uninteresting time. To the scholar and student, it should be a time of inspiration and revelation. To sweethearts, it will be a time of probable quarrels and misunderstanding.

Children born on this May 3rd will have thoughtful, studious natures, and will be old for their age. The customary diversions of boys and girls will leave them cold, and they will have little tolerance for any make-believe games. They will be faithful to their duties, and loyal to their friends.

The innate possibilities revealed in your horoscopical character analysis are far beyond the realities which will be recorded in your life history. There is a wide mark between what you could be and what you are. Indifference is a retarding factor to your growth in both a mental and spiritual way. You catch fleeting visions of beautiful heights to which your mind and soul could give you access, if you would only give them free rein. You could care desperately about many things if you allowed yourself to really think and to feel. Your better self is often disgusted at the things you allow yourself to do, and the other things which you never do. You are full of intentions in a world which credits only that which is done, and as Tennyson has said, is cold to all that which might have been.

You often find yourself in despondent moods, and at such times you wish to be alone. You are not naturally churlish, but there are times when you become completely "fed up" with everything and everybody. You are naturally witty and possess real intellect. You can present a very attractive and engaging personality. If necessary, you can pull the wool over other people's eyes without their knowing it, but it is difficult for them to do the same to you. Love in a cottage would not satisfy one of your temperament.

(Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

After deserting Flora, Esteban camped beside a tiny rivulet. The obsession that he was indeed Tarzan of the Apes gave him a false courage. He foraged for food, built a fire and ate and drank his fill. Then he drew forth the pouch of diamonds, opened it and spilled a handful of the gems into his palm. The flickering firelight playing on them, sent scintillating gleams shooting into the jungle night.

In the pretty play of light the Spaniard saw visions of future power, luxury, beautiful women—all that great wealth might purchase for a man. With half-closed eyes he thought of the dream woman for whom he had always longed. Presently he seemed to see before him a vague materialization of the figure of his dreams. It appeared to hover just above him, at the firelight's outer rim upon the summit of the ancient river bank.

Strange how the vision persisted! With staring eyes he slowly rose to his feet to confront the apparition, when in soft, gentle tones, it spoke. "Beloved!" it said, "it is really you!" Esteban wondered if he had lost his wits. But no, the figure came toward him smiling, with outstretched arms. Who was this vision of beauty, alone in the savage African wilderness? "Do not tell me that you do not know me!" it cried.

Esteban first returned the diamonds to their pouch and replaced it inside his loin cloth. Then he took a step forward. The spell of the woman's beauty and mystery surged through his veins. She was quite close now, her face uplifted. A sudden wave of madness swept over the Spaniard as with outstretched arms he sprang forward to meet her. But just as he was about to clasp the vision, he stopped frozen in his tracks, wide-eyed with fear.

FRENCH PARTIES ARE PREPARING FOR FINAL VOTE

Arrange Candidates to Make Strongest Showing at Second Ballot, Sunday.

TIME ENDS WEDNESDAY.

Initial Results Show Communist Candidates Lost Ground Everywhere.

(By George Hambleton, C.P. Staff Writer.)

PARIS, May 3.—The retirement of opposing Radicals-Socialist and Socialist candidates for the second ballot of the French general elections has begun. In other words, the saw-offs of the Left parties which they hope will place united Leftist support behind one candidate, as opposed to the candidates of the Right, is proceeding merrily until midnight tomorrow, when no more candidates may be withdrawn from the ballot in the 357 constituencies which will take a second ballot Sunday.

Following the rules adopted by the Socialist Party Congress, a number of local Socialist federations have withdrawn their candidates in favor of the candidate who in the second ballot is considered most likely to beat what they call the "forces of reaction." Similarly a number of Radical-Socialist in Gaillac and in the first district of Castres. In both cases a Radical-Socialist headed the poll on the first ballot last Sunday. One of the retiring Socialist candidates was member in the last Chamber. In the Department of the Garf, three Radical-Socialists have withdrawn in favor of Socialists.

The electors of St. Etienne and the Maritime Alps showed their sympathies for Antoine Durafour and Jean Ossola, members of the last chamber, by placing each at the head of the poll, although neither had a sufficient vote for the necessary clear majority on the first ballot. Durafour died after nomination and Ossola was killed in automobile accident while driving to his last meeting on Saturday. New candidates are being nominated in both these constituencies and also in the 2nd district of Bordeaux, where Henri Lorin, last member, died suddenly just after the polls closed.

129 Favour Tardieu.

The French press generally agrees that the first ballot, on which 248 deputies were elected, while showing a swing towards the Left, indicated the electors sought moderation. Le Journal observes that of the total, 129 deputies are favorable to the present Tardieu ministry, 117 are hostile, and two remain doubtful. Le Matin points out that Communists everywhere lost votes; that if owing to the economic crisis they were able to defend their position in the industrial centres they were swept under almost everywhere else. The Socialists, Le Matin adds, benefitted from the votes of "repentant Bolshevists."

Le Populaire, organ of the Socialist party, said Communists dropped 350,000 votes.

ENGLISH FLOODS CLAIMING LIVES

Four Lads Drown When Bridge Collapses—Waters Spreading.

LIFEBOATS BEING USED.

LONDON, May 3.—(C.P. Cable.)—Stories of floods are being received from areas as far removed as Somerset, Worcestershire, Yorkshire and Wiltshire. Four boys were drowned at Somerset when a bridge from which they were watching the spread of the flood collapsed.

The market town of Chippenham, Wiltshire, has been divided into half by an inrush of water, people in the lower part of the town being marooned in the upper stores. The national hunt meeting at Pershore, Worcestershire, was abandoned through the course being under water and at Whitby, Yorkshire, a lifeboat was taken overland to rescue marooned householders.

DRIVE OPENS FOR 'Y' FUNDS

85 Workers Set Out This Morning to Raise $7,500 For Y.M.C.A.

TEAMS APPOINTED.

The opening gun in the four days campaign to collect the four required by the local Y.M.C.A. was fired last evening when 85 workers sat at luncheon in the "Y" dining hall and prepared the organization for the big drive.

E. D. Otter, of the National Council of the Y.M.C.A., who is working with the local organization during the financial campaign, addressed the meeting and emphasized the need of the amount set out. In order that the work of the "Y" and its activities may not suffer during the coming year, the full amount is required he said.

The so-called business depression had not held back other cities from supporting the "Y" which carries on such a necessary work among the youth, and young men. Similar campaigns for finances, he said, had been held successfully in Windsor, Hamilton, Toronto and Lethbridge and other centres throughout Canada.

He outlined thep lan of the organization. He stated that he expected each worker to obtain a minimum of $75 and each team of five men to be responsible for $375. The special names committee, of which W. A. Richardson is chief, will be responsible for $1,500.

It was pointed out by Mr. Otter that the $7,500 objective is the operating reuirement of the organization for the present year. This amount is but 30 percent of the operating costs of the "Y" the balance being raised from memberships and activities.

The first report on the drive will be made by the four divisions at noon to-day, and noon meetings will be held also on Wednesday and Thursday at the Y.M.C.A. at which reports on progress will be made. The campaign will close Friday evening.

W. A. Richardson was chairman of last evening's luncheon. He is general chairman of the campaign and is covering personally the special names' list.

Jack Marshall and George Nicholls supplied the musical entertainment with a splendid piano duet and they also led the singing.

The complete organization is as follows:

Division A—Commander, C. S. Cummer; team captains, C. M. Rishor, R. J. Goring, J. A. Bell and H. Tudhope.

Division B—Commander, Charles Lagheur; team captains, D. M. Bissell, S. O. Shields, R. B. White and Rev. C. D. Daniel.

Division C.—Commander, C. F. Cumming; team captains, A. R. Brown, L. N. Plunket, A. B. Rhodes and J. Matthews.

Division D.—Commander, D. F. Hills; team captains, S. G. Payne, W. H. Kidd, W. A. Fitzgerald, and L. S. Killaly.

Board Of Bishops Favors Prohibition

ATLANTIC CITY, May 3.—The Board of Bishops of the Methodist Episcopal Church, in their episcopal letter to the general conference met the movement for the return of liquor control to the States to-day with a declaration in favor of prohibition.

The letter also sounded opposition to militarism and unjust war, a plea for a Christian standard in industry and a receptive spirit toward unification with other kindred denominations.

OLD DRAWINGS ARE PRESENTED TO THE LIBRARY

Drawing of Miss Annie Langton Presented to Public Library.

CONDUCTED CHOIR.

The Library has just had presented to it two drawings made by the late Miss Anne Langton, who was a resident of Peterborough as far back as the year 1852.

One of these drawings represents the Stewart Homestead and was sketched from the hill overlooking the old Blythe Mills, opposite the present Auburn Mills buildings. The other is a sketch of the Blythe Mills, apparently taken from the same spot. The pictures are beautifully tinted and framed and are a gift to the Library from the nephews and nieces of the late Miss Langton, of whom Mr. W. A. Langton of Toronto, the well-known architect, is one.

Two other pictures have been presented to St. John's Church by the same donors, one of these being a portrait of Miss Langton at a time when she was conductor of the church choir. Enclosed in the same frame is the gold watch presented to Miss Langton by the choristers.

The remaining picture is of the church itself, sketched from a point somewhere between the Peterborough Canoe Company plant and the C.P.R. Bridge.

Readers will be interested in knowing that the nephews and nieces referred to above are the grandchildren of the late John Langton, whose Letters, under the title of "Early Days in Upper Canada," were edited by Mr. W. A. Langton, and published two or three years ago. This book is intensely interesting and should be especially so to residents of this district as it recites very vividly many features of pioneer life in the Counties of Victoria and Peterborough.

NEW OPERATION FOR MACDONALD

British Premier's Right Eye to Undergo Surgical Treatment Thursday.

MEANS 6 WEEKS' REST.

LONDON, May 3 (A.P.)—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald will undergo a second operation on his eyes Thursday afternoon, it was decided after a consultation of his physicians to-day.

Thursday's operation will be upon his right eye, to prevent a threat to his sight from glauroma, the disease which was the cause of the former operation on his left eye four months ago.

He will preside over tomorrow's Cabinet meeting, see King George in the afternoon and enter a nursing home in London's West End tomorrow evening to prepare for the operation next day.

Cannot Be Delayed

A bulletin issued by his physicians this morning said the condition of his left eye is now satisfactory and his general health excellent.

"In spite of precautions which were taken before the Prime Minister's visit to Geneva," the bulletin added, "and of the care taken during his work there, the examinations made upon his return lead us to the definite opinion that an operation should not be further delayed."

Two specialists, in addition to his regular physicians, were called in for the consultation to-day, at which the second operation was decided upon. The Prime Minister is expected to be incapacitated for six weeks after the operation, but it was said he would be fit again before the Lausanne Conference on reparations and war debts in June.

His determination to attend this conference was said to be the principal reason for performing the operation immediately.

SEEK EXTENSION OF CITY BY-LAW

Cigarette License By-law is Discussed by City Council.

Two Requests Presented.

Extension of the city's cigarette licensing by-law to include fine cut tobacco, because of the increasing popularity of the new technic of rolling your own, was one of two conflicting requests to the council last night by local retail interests.

A group of barbers for whom Bruce Patterson was the speaker petitioned for the remission or reduction of the license to sell cigarettes.

Peter Gosselin approached the trade difficulty from another angle. He urged the council to spread the license over all tobaccos, but especially over the fine cut goods.

"And Sunday selling is a joke" Mr. Gosselin added. "You can buy cigarettes and tobacco from the resturants and service stations, anywhere but at the tobacco stores, because we are not open. I think the Council should stop these sales. We are not open on Sundays, but these other places are, and we certainly get less business on Monday than we should. This license of the fine cut tobacco is going to spread all over Canada, and I'd like to see Peterborough make a start."

Mr. Gosselin said that there is not only the old practice of rolling cigarettes by hand, but machines can be bought for fifteen cents and the tubes are sold by the thousand.

Mr. Patterson said that the cigarette license was adopted about thirty years ago to prevent small boys from getting the tobacco.

"That's a thing of the past, for you can buy fine cut and papers and roll your own, and all the stores have this tobacco. In some groceries they put on two packages for a quarter as a leader."

"The whole family is smoking now" Mayor Denne commented.

"We pay $20 for a lincense on cigarettes" Mr. Patterson continued, "but these others can sell the fine cut without paying any license.

M. H. Gainey said he subscribed to both petitions because "anything is better than the way it is."

"If things go on as they are you will force us out of business. There is a heavy sale on Sunday."

Mr. Gainey suggested that two representatives from each of the two deputations meet the Legal committee of the council.

"See if the committee can please all hands" Ald. Phelan proposed.

"Can't be done" was Ald. Cotton's observation, as he seconded the motion.

TRUCK DRIVER HAS NEAR CALL

Flier is Flagged in Nick of Time as Vehicle Stands on Tracks After One Crash.

HIT BY FREIGHT.

HAMILTON, May 4 (C.P.)—Arthur H. Moort of this city, narrowly escaped death to-day when his truck was struck by a Toronto-Hamilton-Buffalo freight train at the Ottawa street crossing. Moore, approaching the tracks in his truck, failed to notice the oncoming locomotive until it was too late. After applying the brakes, the front of the vehicle was left projecting over the rails and was struck a heavy blow by the freight, which pulled up sharply.

Moore, while unhurt, had still further danger to contend with. The Buffalo - Toronto fast passenger train was rapidly approaching, and with the truck and a group of spectators in the middle of the track, a second accident appeared imminent. But some person dashed down the right-of-way, flagged the engine, and was thus able to avert a second crash.

ACTION DROPPED AGAINST HAYDON IN THE SENATE

Senator Meighen Announces No Further Action Against Haydon.

BECAUSE OF HEALTH.

Announcement Comes When Senate Assembled This Afternoon.

OTTAWA, May 4.— (C.P.)—Because of his indifferent health, no further action will be taken against Senator Andrew Haydon, it was announced to-day in the Upper Chamber by Senator Arthur Meighen, Government leader.

Senator Haydon was censured by a committee of the Upper House for his association with the promotion of the Beauharnois power and navigation project. Linked with him was Senator W. L. McDougald who resigned last night, thus removing himself from further action. Referring to the third Senator mentioned in the committee report, Donat Raymond — a mild rebuke was issued to him—Senator Meighen said the findings of the committee would not warrant further action against him.

"In view of the resignation submitted to this house last night," said Mr. Meighen, in making his announcement, "I think it is due to all the Senators that I should make a statement indicative, and indeed completely so, of the position which I, as government leader in this house, think should be taken.

The resignation of Senator McDougald naturally and necessarily dispenses of the necessity of further consideration of that phase of the subject having to do with him. I expressed last night my appreciation of his action. I think the terms of the letter were unfortunate; but that was his concern.

Conservatives Mum Following Caucus

OTTAWA, May 4. (C.P.)—Conservative senators and members gathered in caucus to-day. With Prime Minister R. B. Bennett presiding, there was a general discussion of the remainder of the sessional programme. At the close of the meeting, there was no announcement to make.

who has resigned as member of the Canadian Senate, following the adoption of the Beauharnois Committee report in the Upper House.

REBELS GIVE TROUBLE IN MANCHURIA

Elusiveness Of The Chinese Makes Invaders' Task Difficult.

HEAVY CASUALTIES.

Reward Of $125,000 Offered For Jap Commander-in-Chief.

HARBIN, May 4 (C.P.).—General Hirose's three Japanese brigades continued their drive against the Chinese rebels north and north-east of here to-day, with heavy fighting in which many on both sides were killed or wounded.

The elusiveness and resourcefulness of the rebels was reported to be making the work of putting down the rebellion difficult for the Japanese, whose heavily armed columns equipped with the most modern war weapons were making little headway in spite of constant fighting.

Revolt Spreads.

The revolt broke out again along the Hulan-Hailun Railway north of here, where the former followers of General Mah Chan-Shan went into action and dynamited a bridge. General Murai's Japanese brigade, just returned from the eastern section of the Chinese Eastern Railway, set out northward from Hulan in armored trains to put down this new rebellion.

General Nakamura's forces, continuing its cautious way down the Sungari River on a fleet of gunboats, clashed with the rebels near Mulan, 100 miles east of here. The rebels fled after a sharp battle in which 30 Chinese were killed. The Japanese lost one killed and 16 wounded.

General Nakamura's men clashed with the rebels again further eastward, killing 50.

General Yoda's brigade, after participating in a battle at Wukimiho on May 2, joined with part of General Murai's force and advanced eastward along the Chinese Eastern Railway, occupying Hialin and then continuing in the direction of Mutankiang, 15 miles farther east. There they engaged a force of 4,000 rebels and the battle was continuing to-day.

Casualties Mount

The Japanese lost 16 killed and 18 wounded in Monday's battle at Wukimiho, Japanese reports said, while the Chinese lost 300 killed.

General Ting Chao, original leader of the Chinese rebellion, appeared to-day to be still co-operating with General Li Tu in the Sungari Valley. The two Chinese Generals have offered a reward of 500,000 Mexican dollars (about $125,000) for the head of General Hirose, Japanese Commander-in-Chief.

FAVORS SENDING HOME ALL FOREIGN DOMESTICS

WASHINGTON, May 4.—(AP)—Notice was given today by Representative Cable (R. Ohio) that he would attempt to solve part of the unemployment problem of United States by pressing for passage of his bill to compel persons who enter this country as servants of diplomats to leave when their term of service expires.

Cable complained to newspapermen that approximately 14,000 had come into this country in the last seven years for this purpose. He said no record was kept of how many of the cooks, maids and butlers returned to their homes, but that he felt sure it was a negligible number.

GEORGE A. PAYNE DIES SUDDENLY AT HIS HOME

Deceased Was Magistrate of Campbellford for 27 Years.

46 YEARS A LAWYER.

20 Years Solicitor for the Town and Township of Seymour.

(By Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, May 4. —Police Magistrate George A. Payne died suddenly at his home here last night shortly after nine o'clock of heart failure.

Returning from his office at four o'clock Tuesday afternoon apparently in normal health he raked the lawn at his home and did other minor work of Spring cleaning. After supper he listened to a radio program including the Amos and Andy feature and went upstairs. A few minutes later Mrs. Payne heard a noise in the bathroom that sounded to her as if her husband had fallen. Going upstairs immediately she found Mr. Payne raising himself from the floor. Dr. H. B. Longmore was called and treated Mr. Payne for a weak spell which at that time did not seem dangerous. About nine o'clock a fatal heart attack occurred, and death followed swiftly before Dr. Longmore arrived in response to the second call.

Born In Cobourg

Police Magistrate Payne was in his 73rd year. He was born at Cobourg and received his education at Victoria College, subsequently taking the law course at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, graduating about forty-six years ago. He came to Campbellford forty years ago, and built up an extensive law practice in this town and throughout the section of the northeastern part of Northumberland county. For twenty years he was town solicitor for Campbellford, and was also solicitor for Seymour township twenty years. Twenty-seven years ago he was appointed police magistrate, and was one of the most prominent citizens of Campbellford. As a young man he was actively interested in sports, especially in baseball, and in his athletic prime was an outstanding player on local teams.

Mr. Payne is survived by his widow, and one daughter, Miss Grace Payne, at home, and one son, Mr. Charles A. Payne, K.C., of Belleville. He was a member of the United Church.

The funeral will take place Friday at 2.30 p.m. from the family residence, Frank Street, with interment at Mount Pleasant cemetery. Rev. R. C. Tait will officiate.

CLEAN-UP MAN NOT CAUGHT YET

Mr. Clean-Up Will Visit Several Stores Thursday Afternoon.

WEARS BROWN HAT.

(By Mr. Clean-Up).

Well, another day, another dollar! You collect nine dollars Thursday if you properly identify Mr. Clean-Up. Easy picking for somebody. One of the amusing aspects of this little experience is to hear from others their accounts of the number of times they have been hailed as Mr. Clean-Up.

Thursday afternoon's program includes a round of a dozen stores, including the basement of Eatons, A. & P., Loblaw's, Mason's, F. & G., Haboco, several of the men's wear stores; but we'll be broke if we have to make purchases in this round. However, it might as well be Thursday for the pay-off.

Don't forget the "give-a-man a job" campaign of this week. Results have been satisfactory, but the odd jobs that have been started still leave a large number of men on the list of those who are being overlooked. The community perhaps can't in any case take care of them all, but your co-operation will be a big help.

Here's the dope — "You are Mr. Clean-Up," or words to that effect, and produce a receipt for at least a dollar's purchase on that day at any of the stores. Can you make nine dollars any easier? So, get out and nail them. Just like picking the money off the street. But, once more, think of the men out of work, and finally if you want the nine dollars, don't say, "Hello Mr. Mystery Man," for that won't bring any recognition. As a tip we might suggest the Al. Smith phrase "Brown Derby" except that it isn't a Derby, but in the hat line, it is brown, though somewhat faded.

McDougald Resigs After Adoption Of Committee Report

Startling Climax To Power Scandal Is Enacted In Senate Following Adoption of Committee Report.

McDOUGALD'S LETTER BLAMES POLITICS NO DESIRE TO SIT WITH TORY MEMBERS

OTTAWA, May 4.—(CP)—Flinging a last taunt at his "political enemies," Senator Wilfrid Laurier McDougald resigned from the Upper House last night. His action climaxed a straight party division which adopted 34 to 27 a committee report condemning his relations with the Beauharnois power project.

As soon as the vote was recorded, amid an ominous stillness, Senator Raoul Dandurand, Liberal leader, read Senator McDougald's resignation. Political partisanship alone accounted for the censure passed on him, the Montreal senator charged. Then he added: "With those members of the Conservative party in the Senate who have not hesitated to do all in their power to destroy me, both politically and personally, I have no desire to have any further association."

What To Do With Haydon?

Coupled with Senator McDougald in the censuring report was another Liberal member of the Upper House, Andrew Haydon. A third, Donat Raymond, received a mild rebuke from the committee. None of the three was present when the vote was taken. It had been understood that adoption of the report would be preliminary to a direct attempt to expel Senators Haydon and McDougald. The resignation of the latter would absolve him from further censure and there was no indication last night what action, if any, would be taken against Senator Haydon.

It was the first time in Canadian parliamentary history that a Senator had been censured by his fellow members. It also marked one of the closing chapters in the long chain of repercussions that followed the original charges concerning Beauharnois levelled in the House of Commons before the last election by Robert Gardiner, leader of the United Farmers.

Attacks against Senators Haydon and McDougald focused on their relationships with the promotion of the power project. They were charged with prostituting their public trusts and placing their personal financial interests above their responsibilities as Senators. Among other things, Senator Haydon was censured for accepting a legal retainer with Beauharnois which, it was inferred, was contingent on the passing of an Order-in-Council by the Dominion Government ratifying power plans.

He was condemned also for collecting about $700,000 in campaign funds from R. O. Sweezey, then president of Beauharnois. The committee took the stand it was no, becoming to any one—and more so a Senator—to accept political contributions from a company which was dependent on the Government for franchises and concessions.

Senator McDougald was censured for his direct financial relations with Beauharnois. It was charged also that he sat on a parliamentary committee which investigated power possibilities on the St. Lawrence at the time he was interested in Beauharnois and other developments in that vicinity. And, it was charged, he failed to disclose these facts to the committee. At other times, it was alleged, his evidence—as characterized during the debate by Senator Arthur Meighen Government Leader—was "not in the line of candour and truth."

Committee Drew Distinction.

The committee drew a distinction between Senator Raymond and the other two. He was rebuked, however, for collecting campaign funds from a company dependent on Government concessions.

Crowded galleries waited until after midnight when the vote was reached. It was the third full day of debate. The major contribution

STATIONS GUARDED.

Believes U.S. Be Much Better Off Without Prohibition.

(A. P. Staff Writer)

On Board Capone Train, at Danville, Ill., en Route to Atlanta, May 4. — Al Capone, disillusioned and dejected gang chief, approached the United States Federal Penitentiary at Atlanta, Ga., to-day with the assertion he was "through with the rackets."

To-night he will start serving an 11 year sentence for evading income taxes and Capone, giving up hope at last, said there was "nothing to do but make the best of it."

Jests With Guards

As his train cut down toward the southland, the gangster jested and kept up a rapid fire conversation with guards, but did not try to hide his disappointment.

"How would you feel if you had 11 years staring you in the face?" He parried when newspapermen questioned him.

Although his long exile has been expected to rob him of his rule over Chicago's underworld, it was still Capone the big boss of gangland that was being taken to prison.

At every stop from Chicago to Atlanta provisions were made for local police or railway detectives to watch his car.

United States Marshal H. C. W. Laubenheimer took charge of the party himself with the assertion, his main object in life right now was to get Capone off his hands.

It was not a special car bearing Capone to prison, but it amounted almost to that, since it was occupied only by Capone, one other prisoner, the guards and newspapermen.

BABY MISSING IN MOUNTAINS

Rain Hampers Search in Wilds Infested With Snakes and Lions.

WENT PICKING FLOWERS.

LOS ANGELES, May 4.—Hampered by gusty rain, driven by cold winds, deputy sheriffs and ranchers continued a search to-day in the wild, mountainous area around Quail Lake for 3-year-old Cecilia Mitchell.

Lured by hillsides of flaming wild flowers the youngster wandered away Monday noon from the home of her mother, Mrs. Geneva Mitchell, ranch housekeeper, and disappeared.

She was lost in a section in which there are known to be rattlesnakes, coyotes, half wild dogs and mountain lions. Assuming she escaped harm from animals, it was feared that rains through the night might cause her to succumb to exposure.

JAPS, CHINESE TO SIGN TRUCE ON THURSDAY

Armistice Will End Conflict in Area Around Shanghai.

TEXT NOT REVEALED.

British, French, U. S. and Italian Representatives to Play Part.

SHANGHAI, May 4(A.P.)—Information from official circles tonight said that an armistice officially terminating the conflict between China and Japan in this area will be signed at 10 o'clock tomorrow morning.

Mamoru Shigemitsu, the Japanese Minister, and General Kenkichi Uyeda, will sign for Japan, although they still are in the hospital with serious wounds inflicted by an assassin last week. General Tai Chi, the Chinese defence commission for Shanghai will sign for his country. Other signatories will be British, United States, French and Italian representatives who participated in the armistice negotiations.

Text Kept Secret

The text of the armistic had not been revealed to-night, but it was understood that it specifies withdrawal of Japanese troops to the Settlement and the roads nearby, but outside the Settlement, adjacent to Honghew and Woosung. This was made necessary because of the impossibility of billeting the entire Japanese armed force within the settlement.

It was understood that the withdrawal would begin within the week following the signing of the armistice and would be completed within the following month.

The Chinese army, this version of the arrangement said, will remain in its present position, with Chinese police taking over the area evacuated by the Japanese. A commission comprised of Chinese, Japanese and representatives of powers friendly to both would be set up to supervise the execution of the armistice.

FAST RUM SHIP IN POLICE HANDS

Seizure is Second in Seven Months — Captain, 9 Crew Held.

SURPRISED UNLOADING.

NEW YORK, May 4 (C.P.). — Seized for the second time in seven months, the speedy ship Whichone of St. John's, Nfld., was brought into the harbor to-day.

The capture of the $25,000 Diesel motored craft was accomplished by the U.S. coastguard destroyer Pushur, and the captain and nine members of the crew were arrested.

The Whichone was in use under bond on an appeal from its seizure last October 27. Coastguard officials charged that it usually remained well beyond the 12-mile limit and supplied liquor to small speed boats to bring ashore.

The seizure last October was accomplished when the coastguard boat Cahoone fired two shots across its bow. Whisky malt valued at $100,000 was alleged to have been found.

The cabin cruiser K-15235 which was moored alongside the Whichone, was captured at the same time, and also was brought into the harbor to-day.

In an announcement to-day Mr. Alderdice declares that if he is elected to form a government he will hold an enquiry to determin the feasibility of governing the country by commission, and should the report favor the project he will hold a referendum to decide the matter.

1,600 C.G.E. REFRIGERATORS ORDERED FOR GREAT BRITAIN

First Shipment of 189 Has Already Been Made.

EMPLOYEES ARE BUSY.

The first consignment of a total order of more than 1,600 Made-in-Peterborough C.G.E. electric refrigerators for the British market will be shipped from Montreal on May 13. It comprises 140 of the large S-67 cabinets and 49 of the S-44 type.

This order was received by the Canadian General Electric Company on the day the British Government adopted its new fiscal policy, and naturally has contributed largely to the activity of the new department in the local plant. Employees have been working night and day in the manufacture of refrigerators, this branch of the factory being one of the busiest industrial spots in the city.

Great Britain had been previously supplied by the international General Electric Company from the United States, but this business has been diverted to Canada with production from the Peterborough factory. The initial British order has been a decided help and encouragement to the company, and has given employment to some sixty men in the tool room, punch press, refrigerator, painting, office and allied departments.

The C.G.E. refrigerator cabinets are almost entirely made in Canada, the exact percentage being estimated at 97. The only imported parts are hinges and other hardware from the United States, and special steel lining from England.

The British shipments under the present order will be forwarded at

Dairy Employes Have Close Call

TORONTO, May 4 (C.P.)— Trapped by choking, blinding fumes which poured into the building from a broken refrigeration pipe, employees of the City Dairy Company here groped to the street to-day. Twenty men, trapped on the second floor, were brought to safety by means of aerial ladders. All were slightly affected by the fumes, but only one man was completely overcome. Firemen, protected by gas masks, managed to shut off the flow of gas.

HUNTER'S KILL BARES GOLD REVIVES A ROMANTIC STORY

Bonanza Discovered at Scurvy Creek Near Where Capt. Burke Lost Life.

RICHES CONFIRMED

ATLIN, B.C., May 4.—(Special to The Examiner).—Disturbing the soil while dressing a moose which he had shot, a Teslin halfbreed Indian named Smith found himself standing on a gold mine when the glint of the sun showed up the yellow metal.

Hastily shovelling some of the dirt into a pan, he washed it and confirmed his first auspicions.

The scene of the strike is near the summit in the vicinity of Scurvy Creek, between Wolf Lake and the Upper Liard river, in the Lower Yukon. He and other Indians with him staked claims and reported to the gold commissioner here.

Walter Sweet, Paul Tingley, Fred O'Neill, Tom Harper and Fred McLennan, Atlin prospectors, left for the scene of the strike by aeroplane. They have returned confirming the strike and stating that the prospects were good.

Other prospectors are going in.

News of the gold strike near Scurvy Creek in the Lower Yukon between Wolf Lake and the Liard River revives a romantic story of a lost gold mine in that vicinity in the aerial search for which Capt. Paddy Burke lost his life in November, 1930.

The strike apparently is very close to the supposed vicinity of the lost mine, and the name Scurvy Creek would appear to indicate that the newly found gold-bearing ground is either the same property or contiguous ground.

The lost mine was originally discovered in 1874 by John Hamilton of Victoria, and five comrades who made their way into the country overland by way of Dease Lake.

$6,000 In Two Weeks.

Coming one day to a creek which emptied into the Liard, they panned the gravels for colors and found their dreams come true. They had struck it rich.

They built a cabin and settled down to work their claims. In two weeks they cleaned up nearly $6,000 better than $70 a day per man, by the primitve panning methods.

But grub ran low.

They had no green foods with them and scurvy made its appearance.

Hamilton's five comrades, one who was a brother of General Stonewall Jackson of American civil war fame, succumbed to the ravages of the disease.

Hamilton buried his last comrade beside his companinos on the claims and erected a rude cairn of stones to mark the spot, and set out for civilization.

Retracing his steps, after a long and arduous trip, in which he lived off the country, he reached Wrangell by way of the Dease and Stikine rivers.

In the spring of 1930 Hamilton succeeded in interesting Sam Clerf, a Seattle prospector, who chartered Captain Burke's plane, which was stationed at Atlin.

Later, in October, Burke, his mechanic, Emil Kading, and Bob Marten were forced down on the Liard, near the claims. Winter set in and Burke died from exposure before the party was rescued.

Found Lost Creek

Kading, the strongest of the party, had been deputed as huntsman. One day while hunting for moose, he actually stumbled on a lost creek and was the first man to stand there in 56 years.

He was too weak from hunger and exposure to bother much about gold.

He never went back after the rescue, but still hopes fortune will favor him and bring him back to the chance of riches which those gravels hold.

Considerable interest has been aroused in the north by the new strike, acording to Major D. R. MacLaren, manager Pacific Division Canadian Airways Ltd., whose plane, piloted by Stan McMillan, ferried in Sweet, Tingly and other Atlin prospectors who have staked.

McMillan has made two trips to the strike, and reports that the strike appears to be bona fide and to have good prospects.

Coarse nuggets of gold, were brought out by the prospectors similar to that discovered by Hamilton and his party 58 years ago.

WARM SESSION FOR CONGRESS

Will Recess or Adjourn on June 10, But Must Re-assemble for Torrid Month of July.

HEAVY SCHEDULE.

(By Ken Clark, C.P. Staff Writer)

WASHINGTON, May 4.—It looks like a hot summer for the representatives and Senators of the United States Congress.

Scheduled to adjourn or recess on June 10 in order to enable the legislators to put in an appearance at the national convention in Chicago—incidentally all the representatives and a third of the Senate are up for re-election in November—Congress will probably reassemble for the torrid month of July.

From the Canadian point of view it appears to be six of one and half a dozen of the other whether the legislators adjourn or recess. If they adjourn there will be time for the Senate to act upon St. Lawrence treaty, always providing there should be a St. Lawrence treaty. On the other hand proposed changes in shipping legislation which have been the subject of protest by the United Kingdom and Canada would have to go over. Proposals to limit Canadian immigration would fall by the wayside. A general revision of the Radio Act, which only indirectly interests Canada, would also be left out.

At the moment Congress struggles to save money without cutting salaries, by paring appropriations and refusing to permit slashes in pay or proposed furloughs. The situation is causing alarm since such a course might result in the dismissal of employes estimated to number as many as 80,000. It is also attempting to enact a billion dollar tax without endangering the seats of the legislators.

3-CORNERED REEVE FIGHT

Three Nominated To Fill Vacancy Caused By Death Of Late J. N. Stone.

CAMPBELLFORD POST.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 4. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — A three cornered fight looms in the offing in Campbellford for the office of Reeve, caused by the death of the late J. Nelson Stone, when nominations last evening brought out three candidates for the chair, two of whom were present and signified their intentions of standing for election if one was held, the third nominee being absent. The slate is: James A. Anderson, nominated by J. Blue and T. J. Horkins; C. H. Davidson, nominated by D. A. Owen and Wm. Hume; W. S. Wiggins, nominated by G. W. Hammond and Cecil McConnell.

C. H. Davidson, who was absent is staging a comeback after a year's lapse in municipal politics, has served the public as councillor, deputy-reeve, mayor and warden of the United Counties, having to his credit in all 27 years of public service.

J. A. Anderson and W. S. Wiggins are both old members of the council and are well acquainted with public affairs and both signified their intention of standing for election.

Speaking at the meeting which was staged at the close of the nomregretted the circumstances that regreted the circumstances that made an election possible, paying tribute to the civic ability of the late Reeve Stone. He consented to stand for election taking for his ticket a rigid municipal economy which he declared was necessary in these straightened times. He wanted, he declared, to refute the idea that many people had of him, that he was opposed to the laboring man of the town. He was not, he said, but he was opposed to high salaried men. This was a time when the taxpayer must not be burdened by over-taxation, he declared.

Mr. Wiggins, in declaring his intention of standing for election if there was one, regretted the small attendance at the meeting. "It did not speak well for the interest people took in public affairs" he said.

Clerk J. F. McGregor acted as chairman for the evening, the meeting being held in the Public Library.

RELIEF PLAN UP IN HOUSE

Dominion Will Contribute To Provinces For Direct Relief.

NO MORE BIG WORKS.

OTTAWA, May 4. —(CP)— The debate on the government's unemployment relief resolution will continue the centre of interest in the House of Commons today. It was considered in the House on Tuesday and an explanation of some of the plans of the government was given by Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Labor.

Rt. Hon. Mackenzie King, opposition leader, and Hon. Ernest Lapointe, (Lib. Quebec East) both sought information from the Minister of Labor.

Mr. Gordon told the House the Dominion will contribute and where necessary loan also to the provinces in the matter of direct relief. He also stated a percentage of relief costs yet to be determined will be paid to the provinces; if a province is unable at the moment to pay its share the Dominion exchequer will loan this amount taking in security treasury bills.

No Big Works

Public works that are under construction, of a kind that can not be stopped without great loss, will be complete and work on the trans-Canada highway, subject to an agreement with the provinces, will likely be continued, the Minister said.

Col. James Arthur, (Cons. Parry Sound) urged the establishment of a fund from $50,000,000 to $60,000,000 to revive building and supply work. Such a fund, he declared, would provide work for many workers in the various provinces of the Dominion.

The House gave third reading to a bill amending the Royal Canadian Police Act. It authorises the R. C. M. P. to take over the provincial police of the prairie provinces and the Maritime provinces. It was also announced in the House by Hon. Hugh Guthrie, Minister of Justice, who sponsored the bill, that a deputy commissioner, to assist Commissioner MacBrien, would be appointed. The deputy will be the present assistant chief commissioner, P. S. Belcher, of Ottawa.

CULTURE-FOR-MASSES SYSTEM ADDS CIRCULATING ART GALLERY

Fee of $10 Permits Borrowing Eight Original Paintings, One at a Time.

"IMPRESS YOUR FRIENDS."

PHILADELPHIA, May 4.—Add the circulating art gallery to the 20th century culture-for-masses system which includes trips abroad on the installment plan, French in ten easy lessons and the book-of-the-month clubs.

You pay $10 a year and borrow eight original paintings, one every month or so, with which to impress your friends or to gratify the aesthetic taste which sponsors of the plan say their subscribers naturally develop.

The Philadelphia Art Alliance, a philanthropic organization, announced yesterday it has purchased 11 paintings as the nucleus for the country's first permanent circulation picture club.

The canvases will be added to some 1,500 others, loaned by 450 artists who want to sell them, with which the alliance has conducted a circulating gallery since 1925.

Many clubs and schools, as well as individuals, are among the subscribers.

C.N. TIE FIGURES STIR UP STORM

Hanson, Dr. Manion Clash Over Part Taken By Road Officials.

INFORMATION DIFFERS.

OTTAWA. May 4 (C.P.). — The question of supplying ties to the Canadian National Railways resulted in another display of temper in the railway committee of the House of Commons yesterday. The matter was brought before the committee by Hon. R. J. Manion, Minister of Railways and Canals. For a few minutes the air grew hot, while the minister, the chairman, R.B. Hanson, and a number of members of the committee engaged in a wordy battle, what looked for a few moments like a storm, proved however, a passing squall, and the committee adjourned quietly to meet this afternoon at four o'clock.

Dr. Manion said that he wished to correct some figures given to the committee by R. C. Vaughan purchasing agent of the Canadian National in regard to purchase of ties. Later figures furnished by S W. Fairweather, economist of the Canadian National to his depot showed that the first information was incorrect, Dr. Manion said, he proceeded to quote the figures.

Whispered Explanation

Mr. Fairweather, who was present, crossed to Dr. Manion and made a whispered explanation, and Mr. Vaughan also stood up and supported his previous statements.

Finally Dr. Manion explained that Mr. Fairweather said that the statement did not and was not intended to cover all the ties purchased for use of the system. He gave it as his opinion that Mr. Vaughan had been trying "to make a good picture."

"The evidence given to the minister was faulty," said Mr. Hanson.

This brought an indignant rejoinder from Mr. Fairweather. "The information was not faulty," he declared.

Mr. Hanson jumped to his feet.

"I object to any officer of the Canadian National coming here and taking charge of the committee," he asserted loudly.

Heated protests came from certain members of the committee. Major C. G. Power (Lib. Quebec-south) declared that Mr. Fairweather had a perfect right to be heard.

"You are not going to put words in the mouth of the witness," he insisted.

Denies Assertion

Mr. Hanson replied that he was not trying to put words into anybody's mouth. No official of the Canadian National was going to take charge of the committee he repeated.

Dr. Manion said that he accepted the statement of Mr. Fairweather, but the figures had been given to him as complete by his deputy minister, and he had accepted them as such.

The deputy minister was then summoned to give his view on the matter, and he supported the statement of the minister. He had been under the impression that the figures were complete.

Finally, after some further discussion, the committee passed to other business, and then adjourned.

Death Hits Twice At Same Crossing

BUCHAREST, May 4 (C.P.).—Death struck twice in 24 hours at the same grade crossing near here to-day.

The first tragedy occurred when a train crashed into an automobile, killing one person and injuring six. A few hours later another trann tore into a funeral procession, killing the mother of the dead child. The mother still clutched the child's coffin in her arms when she was extricated from the wreckage.

LEAD IS RETAINED BY GOV. ROOSEVELT

Returns From California Hint At Third Place For Smith

WASHINGTON, May 4.—Mounting returns in California's vital United States Democratic Presidential Primary gave Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt to-day a precarious lead and hinted at third place and defeat for Alfred E. Smith.

But whether the New York Governor's campaign band-wagon would hurdle the "chock" put under its wheel by Smith's Massachusetts' victory and go rolling on to an almost certain nomination, rested with the tremendous vote for John N. Garner piled up in the southern part of the State, particularly Los Angeles.

The Garner candidacy was exceeding the vote of both opponents in that section, with an enormous number of precincts still to report. This left the speaker an excellent chance of winning the State's 44 votes.

At the half-way mark, Roosevelt had 81,065, Garner following with 67,509, and Smith winding up the procession a scant two thousand behind. His managers conceded nothing, however, insisting Smith was still in, although San Francisco's big majority for him had all been counted.

Garner Going Strong

Garner's conspicuous running divided attention with a tremendous Republican "confidence" vote for President Hoover. Though he was unopposed, the vote was running away ahead of the combined Democratic count.

Out of other primamy contests yesterday, Roosevelt appeared assured of all 24 Alabama convention votes as well as the ten from South Dakota which he took unopposed. These brought his total instructed, pledged and claimed to 303.

President Hoover's "regular" slate of delegates in South Dakota was running ahead of the "Progressive" anti-Hoover candidates, indicating a likelihood he would add the State's 11 to the 720 instructed, pledged and claimed total he already holds. A Mississippi convention of administration—recognized Republicans confirmed the eleven votes counted for him after a rival faction had pledged the President its support if seated.

NO RACKETS FOR CAPONE

to about seven and one-half years. When he gets out, he said, he intends to "stay out of politics and all the other rackets." If he had any plans for the future, he failed to reveal them.

A few minutes later, however, he indicated he had not lost all interest in the liquor-gambling syndicate that is reported to have built him a fortune.

"Anybody that says I'm for prohibition is all wet," asserted the gang czar. "It would be better if prohibition was out of the way and we could handle beer legitimately. There would be more profit, no payoffs, no loss of trucks and a cheaper price for the stuff."

Taking No Chances

Capone spent the night in the upper berth of a drawing room shackled hand and foot to the other prisoner, Vito Morici, a young Chicagoan who is being taken to Jacksonville, Fla., to stand trial on charges of transporting a stolen automobile from Tampa, Fla., to Chicago.

The gang chief objected to the leg irons which were clamped onto him as he prepared for bed. He said he would rather sit up all night than have "those things on my legs."

But Marshal Laubenheimer said, "I'm sorry, good night," and turned out the light.

ATLANTA, Ga., May 4—The 30-year-old Atlanta Federal prison extended a blase and non-committal open house to Al Capone to-day.

Through its gates, so many guests, distinguished for one reason or another, have passed that the arrival of the pudgy, scarface gangster meant nothing in its routine.

There were no elaborate preparations for admission and no excitement.

Al Capone will be just another number on the roster and another grey-clad figure in a time-tried punitive program. Once inside the iron bars and stone wall that surround the businesslike prison plant at the outskirts of South Atlanta, the gangster will be swallowed in silence as far as the outside world is concerned. The prison does not give information of its individual inmates.

There was no official comment, but it was reported Capone's job would be something at which he could be kept under close guard... the laundry or tailor shop, perhaps.

Old Water Tank Is Destroyed By Fire

LAKEFIELD, May 4 (Examiner Correspondence). — Fire, believed of incendiary origin, destroyed the large overhead water tank on the property of Fred Brown, in the east-end of the town here last night. While the tank itself was of little value, much excitement was caused in the village, in so far as much valuable property is in this neighborhood, and several residences were threatened by flying sparks.

The tank was used in connection with the "Old Harbor" residence, one of the old landmarks of the village which was destroyed by fire in 1917. During the fire, the new underground tank system installed for fire protection in the East-end was used for the first time.

The police are investigating.

"And that's why I Stopped Worrying about the Mortgage"

The speaker admitted his home was mortgaged. Properly so, he said, because he could not have bought it otherwise.

Then, he added, he realized the danger to his wife and children should he die before the mortgage was paid off.

However, he found there was an insurance policy with special features and with attractively low premiums specially designed to take care of such cases as his. He took out an Imperial Mortgage Protection Policy to match the amount of his mortgage dollar for dollar—and now he sleeps quietly at night. No more worry about what would happen to the home if he died prematurely.

And the outlay was very moderate, merely like adding another 2 per cent or so to the interest rate on the mortgage.

This Policy can also include a total disability provision which is mighty comforting.

A mortgage is a poor legacy to leave one's family. Let us send you particulars today of the very attractive and easy-to-pay-for protection of this Imperial Policy

HAVELOCK COUNCIL DECIDES VILLAGE REQUIRES POLICEMAN

Action is Result of Recent Attempts at Burglary, and "Curb Cruising."

RELIEF REPORT GIVEN.

HAVELOCK, May 4 (Examiner Correspondence). — Rowdyism in this village may be a thing of the past or at least an expensive pastime if the Council is able to procure an efficient policeman. Recent happenings have resulted in the matter being taken up by various local organizations, and a most emphatic letter to the Council from the Women's Institute brought matters to a head at the regular meeting of the Council on Monday evening. On motion of Spencer and Gordon, the clerk was instructed to advertise for an efficient, out-of-town policeman.

All the members, with the exception of Councillor E. W. Sweeney were present, and Reeve Ernest Leeson presided.

Under the reading of correspondence, the first was from the local L O.L. 326, in connection with the misconduct of some persons on the night of the Albion Club dance. This was followed by a most impressive letter in the form of a petition from the local branch of the Women's Institute signed by a large number of the ladies. A letter was received from the Provincial Treasurer enclosing a cheque for $454.48, being grant for direct relief expenditure until the end of March.

Many Delegations.

Delegations, probably more than there have been for a number of years, waited on the Council for various reasons. Representing the Albion Club, Messrs. George Abeud, George Kennedy, and Maynard Bullied asked for a rebate on the rental of the Town Hall for the relief dance. This was granted on the motion of Spencer and Gordon, providing that proceeds be turned into the Village Relief Committee.

Eleazor Youmans waited on the Council and asked what could be done about the damage caused by water in his cellar. He blamed the town for not having provided adequate drainage. On motion of Spencer and Gordon, the Council as a whole will inspect the cellar and decide what is to be done.

Mrs. T. P. Lancaster was present as president of the Women's Institute in support of the petition for a constable.

Robert Bonney, president of the Havelock and Belmont Horticultural Societ asked the members to have a clean-up week. Mrs. Lancaster and Mr. Gould were supporting Mr. Bonne and asked that the ground on the east side of the Town Hall be filled in with loam and made ready for the planting of trees and shrubs by the society. They asked that a day be set for a real clean-up, the village to supply teams to cart away the refuse. It was decided to have these things done. The day for the real clean-up will be Wednesday, May 11, and the teams will call on Thursday following.

Frank Parcels asked that the drain on Concession Street be repaired. He was bothered with the water in his cellar. This will require about twenty-five feet of tile. On motion of Spencer and Gordon this will be done as soon as the weather permits the making of tile. Mr. Parcels will help to make these.

Mrs. A. Anderson was present and thanked the Council for supporting her in the relief work. She was greatly pleased if she had helped any and enjoyed the work. On motion of Howe and Spencer, Mrs. Anderson, together with the other members of the Relief Committee, were tendered a hearty vote of thanks for the splendid way in which they carried on the relief work.

Mr. W. S. Davidson addressed the Council in connection with a troublesome drain that had been blocked on the property to the west of his residence. He said it was up to the Council to have it attended to immediately. After much discussion, it was decided on motion by Spencer and Gordon that the whole Council inspect the drain and arrange for the work to be done if the village is responsible. Mr. Prentice, representing the firm of Prentice & Nobes, was present in connection with the purchase of Lots Numbers 13 and 35 on the north side of No. 7 Highway, at the intersection on Concession Street. They require a depth of at least forty-five feet. It is not yet definitely known what course the Highway will take at this point. So the Council cannot close the deal until they know. It is understood that a service station will be constructed at this very advantageous spot. It is thought this will be the intersection of the proposed highway from Brighton and No. 7 Highway from Sarnia.

On the motion of Spencer and Gordon the Reeve was given power to deal with the matter should the conditions permit. He will have power to close the deal. These lots were acquired by the village a couple of years ago from Michael McNichol for a nominal sum, and have since become very valuable.

Police Question

When the question of appointing a competent policeman had been brought up on other occasions the council always seemed to be rather reluctant. Reeve Leeson has been advocating for such an appointment since he assumed office in January and last night stressed the great need. He cited several incidents that had taken place. Some of them very startling such as curb cruising and the like, by boys from other towns. Attempts have been made to break into some of the local business places recently and it is high time something was done. The members were of the same opinion as the reeve and did not hesitate in making a motion to hire a man from out of town to keep law and order.

On motion of Spencer and Howe, Silas Green and Wm. Welsh will be engaged to clean the road to the dump. On motion of Gordon and Spencer, Mr. Howe will supervise the laying of a cement floor in the fire engine rooms and having the rubbish removed. Mr. Allan had asked the reeve about the fence between his property and that of the town hall. On motion of Gordon and Howe Mr. Allan will be allowed to build a new fence and the council will pay half.

Tax collector G. W. Chiles reported $3,068.24 as outstanding taxes. This being the total made up of $1,081.29 for 1931 and $1,986.95 as the amount of all other arrears. On motion of Spencer and Gordon the roll was accepted from Mr. Chiles and the treasurer will accept taxes until another appointment. On motion of Gordon and Spencer the reeve was authorized to look after the renewing of a $2,000 policy that expires on the 11th of May.

On motion of Spencer and Howe a notice concerning the pre payment of taxes for a discount will be put in two issues of the local paper. The assessor's roll was accepted on motion of Gordon and Spencer and he will receive a hundred dollars on his salary.

Under unfinished business, the question of a light in front of the town hall on Mathison street was brought up. The Institute had taken the trouble to level and plant the grounds on the west side of the hall but whenever there is anything going on at the hall, some people had the habit of tramping on the grass in the dark. After every possible way to stop this was gone over, they decided to ask the Hydro Commission to have a light placed there.

Relief Report

April 30 being the last day of any direct relief in the village, the secretary, Mr. Fennell made the following report. The startling thing about the whole thing is that it will cost the village less than $130.00 for all the relief from December 1931 until April 30. There were about twelve families on relief from time to time. They supplied 340 beds and 874 meals to transients. These figures speak admirably for the most efficient work of the relief committee and on motion of Howe and Spencer their service were dispensed with and thanked for their splendid work. The contributions by individuals helped in a big way to keep the cost to the village down. On motion of Gordon and Spencer the clerk was instructed to send in the requisition for the governments share of the relief for April.

On motion of Gordon and Spencer the reeve is to get in touch with Reeve Montgomery of Norwood and arrange to purchase the calcium chloride for the village streets.

The following accounts were than ordered paid: Mrs. Hogan, grant re Foley estate, $5; D. McAdam, work on dump, $6.60; Belmont township, 8 hours work with grader, $16.00; Chas. Dewey, caretaking and fire engines, $10.00; Bert Wannamaker, $5.25; Howard Dafoe, fire engine to Chard fire, $5.00; Robert. Vansickle, work on grader, $31.90; Wm. Kelsh, work on streets, 90c; Frank Parcels, work on streets, $1.20; Chas. Dewey, work, etc., $16.30; A. Rupert, work on streets, $4.50; Alnion Club, rebate on hall rental, $12.00; W. J. Holecombe, part assessor's salary, $100.00; G. W. Chiles, balance salary as tax collector, $25.00; E. Leeson, expenses re indigent conveyance, etc. $8.80.

The meeting then adjourned to meet on June 6th or at the call of the reeve. It was after one o'clock on Tuesday morning when this happened. It was one of the longest sessions yet. There will be a court of revision at the next meeting.

BOYS CONTINUE PIG CLUB PLAN

Weanling Pigs Distributed Among Durham and Peterborough Clubs.

Weanling pigs sold to the members of the Boys' Pig Clubs of Durham and Peterborough counties have declined from $18 a pair in 1930 to $4.75 a pair this year. The corresponding price in 1931 was $10.

In spite of this slump in the industry the Clubs are resuming their activities with an almost entirely new membership. They met here Monday afternoon in the yard of the plant of Canada Packers Limited for the distribution of the pigs which had been specially selected from stock in this district.

A. E. Summers of Port Hope, representative of the Ontario Department of Agriculture in Durham, was present with fifteen members, mostly from the Burketon section, and J. B. Nelson's Peterborough group was practically at full strength although it is hoped that several other boys will join up. Dr. L. Stevenson of the Ontario Agricultural College, spoke to the boys on the care and management of swine with a practical demonstration of how to combat intestinal parasites. Don McKinnon of Toronto, who introduced this Club project four years ago, was also present, with his successor at Canada Packers, Mr. H. J. Ford, who assisted in the distribution.

The boys are entering upon this year's work with more emphasis than ever on the information and experience they will gain. Their young pigs are regarded in a sense as text books for the study of hog management, and for the present the immediate economic returns are given a secondary consideration. It was recognized that the existing conditions in the industry are not encouraging, but the Pig Club objective is directed to the future of the members as breeders and practical farmers. The year's program, Mr. Nelson said, would include three local conferences, and each member will be visited four times to assist him in the project which will conclude with the judging and display at the Peterborough Exhibition.

Victoria County Club wil hold its distribution next Saturday, but apparently the Northumberland Club is not operating this year. The Peterborough boys included Stewart Dawson of Otonabee, Donald Moore of Smith and eight boys from Belmont township, Norris Whitney, Alvin Vansickle, Stewart Barrons, Wesley Steenburg, Reg. McQuigge, M. Barrons, and two Hay brothers.

CAMPBELLFORD

BRIEF AND INTERESTING NEWS ITEMS FROM THE TRENT TOWN.

With the opening of the fishing season many local anglers have commenced their daily jaunts to the nearby rivers and creeks, and report general good luck, although catches have not included extra large fish. Chas. Nadoo reports a good catch of speckled trout, many of which ranged from 10 to 13 inches while the largest catch of F. C. Bonnycastle was a 1¾ pound speckled trout.

Potatoes seem to be very low in price in this section of the country, one farmer offering a resident of town four bags for one dollar.

RESIGNATION IS GIVEN TO SENATE

yesterday came from one of the senior parliamentarians, Sir Allen Aylesworth, who was Laurier's Minister of Justice. In presenting his opinion the Senate did not possess the power to expel a member, he said the independence of the Upper House would be shaken to the roots, if a seat were held at the sufferance of the majority.

It was a coincidence that Senator McDougald's main defender yesterday—Sir Allen Aylesworth — had voted several times before the Senator's birth. Senator McDougald, born in 1881 at Alexandria, Ont., and trained as a doctor, entered the financial life of Montreal at an early age. In 1922 he became chairman of the Montreal Harbor Commission and was called to the Senate four years later.

In the Commons inquiry last year, which followed the Gardiner charges in the House, Senator McDougald's name figured prominently in the evidence. Being a Senator, the Lower House could not censure him. This led to the Senate investigation held this year and a trial by his "peers" for Dr. McDougald.

Debate on the report opened a week ago to-day when Senator Charles Tanner of Pictou, N.S., chairman of the committee, moved it s adoption. Senator Arthur Meighen, Government Leader in the Upper House, and a former Prime Minister, signallized his return to parliamentary life by taking part in the discussion.

RURAL DEANERIES MEET AT ST. JOHN'S

Rev. Dean Craig, Kingston, Addresses Evensong Service.

Members of the three rural deaneries of the Archdeaconry of Peterborough held joint meetings in St. John's parish hall Tuesday afternoon with an evensong service at night addressed by Very Rev. Dean W. W. Craig of Kingston.

Rev. J. G. Bousfield presided at the session of the Peterborough deanery; Rev. R. J. Shires was in charge of the Haliburton deanery; and Rev. A. T. Weir of Omemee, Rural Dean of Victoria, presided at the third meeting.

Dean Craig in an address dealing with the importance of the work of the world emphasized the dignity of the work of the ordinary man when it was actuated by a sense of its consecration to the divine plan of God. In that high purpose a man endeavored to elevate the work in which he was engaged and in the practical realm to make it an art. To its every day ends was added a redemptive feature that placed it on the loftier plane for which it was intended. And according to divine injunction rest was a necessary acompaniment of work, Dean Craig said, with special reference to the observance of the Lord's day.

The three Rural Deaneries were well represented at Tuesday's meetings which are continuing today.

Are you ever
"TALKED INTO BUYING"
things you DON'T want?

OVER the counter, you know, extravagant claims are so easily made. But remember this—it takes a lot more than a clerk's promise to put quality into any product! » » Then why should you or any other woman ever listen to a clerk who offers you something "just as good" as the thing you ask for? Surely your knowledge of the dependability of widely-used products is worth more to you than all the claims any clerk can make for products of which you know absolutely nothing! » » Whenever you find any store that continually urges you to buy unfamiliar products instead of the reliable brands you ask for, look out! All too often, that merchant reaps an extra profit, or his clerks a commission, by switching you to the unknown, often inferior merchandise. » » Many of the best stores everywhere forbid this practise. When you buy from them you are always sure of getting exactly what you ask for, with full value in the merchandise you want for every penny you spend. » » But if you are urged to buy something "just as good" as what you ask for, be firm! Insist on products you know by experience, by their brand-names, or by the reputations of their makers. You will often read about such products in the advertising columns of this newspaper. » » Think of this whenever you shop. Then you will always get your money's worth in both merchandise and satisfaction.

THE ELECTION RUMOR.

A Calgary newspaper is responsible for the humor that a new national party is to be organized in Canada, and that there will be a general federal election next autumn following the close of the Imperial Conference.

There may be something in the first part of this story, for there are many people who are "fed up" with the manoeuvring of the two old parties and who might be inclined to ally themselves with a new political organization founded on national lines, but The Examiner is decidedly dubious about the accuracy of the second section of this forecast.

In the first place, there does not seem to be any general demand for an election, and the business world in particular will be quick to point out that business is sufficiently disturbed now without the upsetting influences of a political campaign.

Secondly, there is no necessity of a general election; the present Government has no need—and it may be taken for granted no desire—to go to the country at this time, and the administration will unquestionably prefer to take a chance on economic conditions improving than to face the electorate with unemployment still a most pressing problem and agriculture disheartened by a terrific slump in the price of farm commodities.

THE Y.M.C.A. ASKS HELP.

Although there are heavy demands on everyone these days, we believe that the special appeal being made by the Peterborough Young Men's Christian Association for funds to enable them to carry on their work will be received with a sympathetic and a generous response by Peterborough citizens.

The Y.M.C.A. has been so long established in this city and its work is so well known and so widely appreciated that it is scarcely necessary to refer to its value in urging that contributions—of whatever size can be afforded—will serve a worth-while purpose. During the year—to quote only a few figures—the Y.M.C.A. had 810 members, men and boys. The total attendance for six months at the building was 34,400. In the free swimming campaign 195 took part, while 170 were taught to swim. There was an attendance of 4,280 at Sunday evening song services and the Church League drew 105 boys. These figures serve only as a tangible indication of the scope of the Y.M.C.A. activities; they fail to give the measure of its salutary influence upon youth for the upbuilding of well-based human character and the best of citizenship.

This year's appeal is for $7,500. As will be seen from the figures of the proposed budget, this amount is due to the requirements of work among boys. In order that this work may have the greatest scope possible fees charged are below the cost of such activities. This is a policy to which no exception may be taken. It is in line with the aims of prevention, education and conservation of life's greatest values. The total demand it makes on Peterborough's citizens is not heavy and should be easily met. Indeed, this call for funds may well be regarded as a privilege.

DOING A GREAT WORK.

The Peterborough Horticultural Society, for many years a most important factor in the promotion of city beautification, is once more to the fore with a progressive program for this summer's activities.

A new feature is the offering of a trophy to be competed for annually among citizens whose property is on the route of the Horticultural Drive inaugurated by the society last year, and to be awarded to the resident who brings about the greatest improvement to his home grounds or vacant lot as the case may be.

The drive leads through the most beautiful portions of the city, and as a result of the competition now announced, it can safely be said that this summer will see a marked improvement along the route.

In this as well as its many other activities the Horticultural Society is giving leadership that should be recognized and appreciated by the whole community; more than that, the organization should have the active support of a good many more citizens in its membership than has been the case up to the present time.

Local support is this year most essential, inasmuch as the Government grant has been reduced by 50 per cent., and it will be necessary to make up the difference by increased financial assistance from Peterborough citizens.

Membership in the society should be esteemed a duty by all those who love beautiful homes and a beautiful city; in addition, it offers a number of advantages, notably the choice of a list of 22 options, including shrubs, flowers, flowering vines, lillies and roses, an opportunity that should decidedly attract and lead to many new enrolments this year.

CHIEF NEWHALL'S WARNING.

Chief of Police Newhall's emphatic warning to careless and reckless motorists that if there is not an immediate improvement in driving methods he intends to stage a real campaign against the offenders, is timely and necessary.

As the chief constable points out, there has been too much fast driving over intersections and too much careless turning round corners, and in declaring warfare on those guilty of such conduct the police department is turning its guns on a condition that must in the interest of public safety be corrected.

As to speeding over intersections, it is done by so many drivers that pedestrians in the safety zone are constantly being menaced, but that threat is not so serious as the danger represented by the careless turning of protected corners.

Common sense, if nothing else, would seem to make it imperative for drivers making a right turn at such points to bring their car to a stop before swinging round the corner, but a large number of motorists make the turn at a speed that is dangerous to the pedestrian traffic, for people crossing with the lights are liable to be cut down by cars unexpectedly swinging into them from behind.

Appeals for safer driving have apparently fallen on deaf ears, and it would seem that the education of these careless drivers will have to be left to the Police Court.

NO ROOM FOR MISTAKES.

Because he did not work out a correct course, a court of inquiry has declared that the captain of the Canadian liner, "Prince David," which ran on a reef near Bermuda, is "incompetent," and to blame for the accident. Other officers share the blame. The captain may lose his certificate—his "driving license."

One can easy be wise after an event, and it is easy to find cause of blame for an accident at sea. The law of the sea is inexorable. It does not allow a margin for human error. A captain must do exactly the right thing, or he is held guilty.

Perhaps it is right that this should be so. The consequences of an accident at sea may be too terrible to admit of laxity on the part of the man responsible, and for leniency on the part of the men who investigate the affair. Censure must be so severe that it will serve as a warning to others to make sure that the safety of several hundred people and of a ship costing millions of dollars, is as certain as human agency can make it.

There is no room for mistakes at sea. Yet people on land are allowed to drive cars on the highway, they can make mistakes that land their cars in the ditch, or knock somebody down, and a court seldom finds a motor driver to blame.

If the law were as strict, and a driver's license taken away from him after an accident, to the cause of which he had contributed, there would be very few automobile accidents at all.

There were 29 people killed on the Ontario highways last month. There will be many more killed during the motoring months of April to October. But just make the laws of the land as strict as the laws of the sea, and there will scarcely be a fatality anywhere.—St. Thomas Times-Journal.

BACK TO THE LAND.

An address by Mr. Robert J. C. Stead before the Montreal Rotary Club deserves a wider publicity. Mr. Stead, who in addition to his work as an author, is the very capable director of publicity for the Department of Immigration and Colonization, was dealing with the Back-to-the-Land movement. He showed how, within the last year and a half, the Dominion Government and the two principal Canadian railways have taken 45,000 Canadians from the cities, placed them on the land.

The story of this achievement, as given by Mr. Stead, is simply this:

Shortly after assuming control of the Department of Immigration and Colonization, Mr. Wesley Gordon decided that the time had come for Canada to concern herself with the settlement of persons inside the borders of the Dominion rather than with the encouragement of immigration. His decision made, he got into touch with the premiers of the provinces and the presidents of the railways, worked out a plan under which the Department of Colonization and Immigration, the Canadian Pacific Railway and the Canadian National carried out a co-ordinated effort for the placement on the land of families and individuals from the cities.

Some of the provinces co-operated closely in this movement; others utilized their own colonization organizations. The policy was based on the belief that there were in Canadian cities many families of farm experience who, possessed of a little capital, yet without employment or threatened by unemployment, would be glad to go back to the land.

There was nothing of paternalism in the scheme; no offer of financial assistance; no suggestion of money to be made by farming. But Mr. Gordon's organization, backed by the local offices of the two railways in all parts of Canada, offered to place families in touch with farms which might be handled with their own resources, and also to place single unemployed men from the cities in contact with possible farm employers.

The plan succeeded from the first. In 18 months more than 13,000 families have been placed on farms, and more than 13,000 single men have been found employment with farmers.

Mr. Stead told his audience that the Government and the railways have decided to continue this work during the present spring and summer, that their colonization offices in all parts of Canada stood ready to give advice and direction to families desiring farms or to individuals seeking farm employment.

This should be good news for thousands. It is not an offer of easy money; but it is an opportunity for food and shelter and independence, for decent self-reliance. With the cities overcrowded with the unemployed, and millions being spent for relief, it should come as a godsend to many.—Ottawa Journal.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL, May 4.—Yesterday's advances were maintained yesterday on the Montreal produce and dairy markets. A slightly firmer undertone developed, but no actual price changes were recorded.

The butter market was quoted mostly 17¾c to 18c per pound for No. 1 regraded or fresh in carlots or less. Receipts remained light, at 70 boxes. Shipments to the Maritime Provinces and Northern Ontario were reported, further reducing stocks here, with a consequent firming of the undertone. Shipments to Newfoundland and the West Indies were reported as greater than at the same date last year, 354 boxes, compared with 7, but export to the continent has not yet started.

Cheese Shipments

Cheese shipments overseas and to Newfoundland and East Indies to date totalled 7,218 boxes, against 5,206 a year ago. The market ruled 9¾c to 10c per pound for current receipts, with summer make at 12c to 12½c. Receipts were 738 boxes.

The egg market ruled at 18c to 18½c per dozen for extras, 15½c to 16c for firsts, and 13½c to 14c for seconds, these prices being for graded Ontario and prairie eggs. Receipts were 3,514 cases.

The potato market held steady.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, May 4. — Mid-session weakness at Chicago, presumably on other private crop report estimates, was reflected in setbacks in all three wheat futures in the grain pit here yesterday. Wheat closed unsettled, ⅛c to 1⅛c lower than Saturday's close.

May declined 1c at 59⅝c. July, 1c to 1⅛c, at 61⅛c to 61⅝c; and October eased 1⅛c, to close at 63⅜c.

Chicago advanced rather sharply at the start, but there was no response here, and the market to the south declined. There appeared to have been some expectation that prices would advance on the private crop estimate, but when this failed to materialize there was a general feeling of letting go. The average estimate of experts put the yield at 462,000,000 bushels, or 5,000,000 bushels higher than the Government report.

A little improvement was noted in cash wheat demand at slightly higher spreads. Coarse grains were dull, and actual sales confined to barley and rye for export.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, May 4.—Evidence that bullish unofficial crop estimates had been largely discounted beforehand whirled the wheat market downward yesterday after an early advance.

Breaks in prices tumbled wheat to the lowest level in over a month, and to more than 9 cents a bushel under the recent top. The crop estimates were bullish enough to satisfy any one, but they brought in so little new buying that owners turned wholesale to the selling side.

Wheat closed shaky, 1c to 1⅜c under Monday's finish. Corn ¾c to 1⅝c down; oats, ¼c to ⅝c up, and provisions unchanged to 12c decline.

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, May 4.—Sales of butter on the local market yesterday were made on a basis somewhat better than on Monday. Firmness at Montreal was reflected in Toronto, as receipts from Ontario points were not too heavy, and supplies from the West were quoted higher than previously. Sales were made on the local market at 17¼c for No. 1 creamery solids and 16¼c for No. 2, with the general asking prices for the day being from 17c to 17½c for No. 1, and 16c to 16½c for No. 2. Western shippers were asking 16c for supplies delivered Toronto. Quotations to retailers were steady with those of the week-end at 20c for No. 1, creamery prints, and 19c for No. 2.

Cream

Prices for cream were steady with previous quotations. Local buyers were offering 18c for special, 17c for No. 1, and 14c for No. 2, f.o.b. country points.

Cheese

Trade in new cheese was slow at unchanged levels. Local brokers were quoting new makes at 10c to 10¼c for large, 10¼c to 10½c for twins, and 10½c to 10¾c for triplets. Retailers were quoted new makes at 11¼c for large, 11¾c for twins, 12c for triplets and 14c for Stilkons.

Eggs

The egg market showed greater strength, graded supplies being quoted at ½c per dozen better, both ordinary and storage packed. Brokers were selling graded eggs, in free used cases, at 16c for extras, 14c for firsts and 12c for seconds, with the latter grade scarce and in demand, while storage packed eggs were 17c for extras and 15c for firsts. Prices to country shippers and retailers were steady. Country shippers were offered 13c for extras, 11c for firsts and 9c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned. Retailers were able to secure supplies at 18c for extras in cartons, 17c for extras loose, 15c for firsts loose, and 13c for seconds loose.

ORGANIZATION NEEDED

Editor of The Examiner:—

Mr. Ryerson Ritchie in his address to the Rotary Club yesterday, said that Kansas City owed its growth to merchandising, for "Square Dealing" and they started their commercial club to hold to that standard. He also said that the club was built on "integrity of character" and "conservation." Pretty good thing for us to hold to and build on.

Peterborough was and is the best buying and selling market in this large district covering a vast area, north, south, east and west. And most of its customers are engaged in the industry of farming, within an hour's run from the centre of the city. If organization was good for Kansas City, it is also good for this city, and the merchants must have it. That western city has always been one of the greatest merchandising markets in the West, and its that to-day with a population of more than a half-million people.

For my part I would rather have the trade of our near-by farmer friends than that of the tourists from the States. The farmer will always be with us, as long as we are for him; not for a fortnight but for twelve months of the year. It is time we got together to be as one man in the most important job ahead of this city.

SON OF THE GODS

By REX BEACH

There was a lump in the boy's throat as he walked home. Mrs. Cassidy had the same tender touch as little old Pan Yi, of blessed memory, and there was the same comfort in her robust voice as in the bird-like cooing of Sam's Chinese mother. He wondered why he had felt like crying every time this white woman's firm and capable hands touched his flesh. Why had he yearned so desperately to feel her sheltering arms around his body? Other Chinese children shrank from contact with people of white skins, but he liked it. He had the queer feeling that Mrs. Cassidy and Eileen were flesh and blood with him.

On the next Sunday afternoon Lee Ying and Lee Sam, each clad in his finest native dress, called at the Cassidy home. The entire family were there and the old merchant bowed deeply in turn to the Assemblyman, to his wife, to Jim and to little Eileen; he raised his clapsed hands to the level of his forehead and lowered them repeatedly. Sam did likewise. Then Lee Ying made a graceful speech of thanks for the courtesy his son had received.

To Mrs. Cassidy he said: "Sam brings you an unworthy remembrance of his gratitude for your kindness and I beg that you will accept it." As he spoke he unwrapped a package the boy had carried exposing a beautiful porcelain vase of delicate and unusual coloring.

Mrs. Cassidy admired it, she thought it would look well on the plush-draped mantel between the marble clock and the gilt easel with the photograph of Dan Cassidy in his silk hat and frock coat of office. The good woman was unaware that she held in her careless hand a relic of a famous dynasty which would have drawn a crowd in any museum, but she was frank to say it was pretty.

That was the beginning of a sincere friendship between the Cassidys and the Lees, a friendship that had endured for several years. Eileen was a young woman now and she was attending business colege. Jim had a position with a trucking firm.

Eileen's friends sometimes twitted her about her Mott street boy friend and although she was ready to joke on most subjects here was one in which she could see no humor. Once when her brother teased her too persistently and called Sam her Chinese sweetheart, she flew into a range and scratched his face.

INSTALMENT No. 9.

Lee Ying was a man of sedate and regular habits. His life flowed smoothly and seldom did he permit an interruption to its even current. None but real philosophers can attain that perfect mental tranquillity which is the ideal state, but he had pretty nearly done so. He was a busy and an active man, to be sure, for his interests were far-reaching and his business was alive and profitable but he conducted his affairs with a prudence and a sagacity which minimized effort and obviated worries and discouragements.

Today, warmly buttoned into an ulster of soft llama wool, he went for a walk. Mulberry Bend Park, when he came to it, was practically deserted, for the schools were in session and the autumn chill had driven grown people indoors. A gusty wind roused dancing dust devils from the bare playgrounds; doubtless they were whirled upward by the feet of wicked ghose children capering in the cold.

One figure was seated upon a bench and Lee Ying paused when he approached it. It was that of a girl who sat huddled forward, her knees drawn together, her hands tucked inside the sleeves of her cheap imitation fur coat. She was staring fixedly ahead of her and the old man recognized Eileen Cassidy.

"Little jasmine flower!" he exclaimed in real concern. "Why do I find you bent before the wind?"

The girl looked up with a start, then she smiled. "Oh, Mr. Lee! I didn't see you. Isn't it a fierce day? Gee! It makes the tears come." She blinked her blue eyes, which were like two enormous violets, and Lee Ying saw that their lashes were wet.

"Yes. It's what we call 'two-jacket' weather in China," he told her. "The poor must plaster their limbs with paper, on such a day, and—I see that even the hot blood of youth isn't proof against it. Your veins are blue, your cheek is like the white chrysanthemum of grief. Has something gone wrong, my child?"

Eileen shook her head. "Oh, no! only when I have any heavy thinking to do I come out here to do it. I was raised in this park, you know."

"True. It's here that Lee Sam met you."

"On this very bench. It was spring then. I was thinking of Sam a few minutes ago."

"I think of him always," smiled the old man. "Come, walk with me, for my blood is thin, and when winter approaches I become a restless and despondent wraith."

Eileen rose quickly and together they moved on. Mention of his son's name had brought a brightness to the merchant's eyes and had stirred yearnings in this famished heart; for a while he talked about the boy, telling Eileen at some length about Sam's progress in college. He checked himself finally and apologized.

"Your interest has set me going. Why do I run on about things you know?"

"But I don't know. I don't know much of anything about Sam. He never writes to us."

"Indeed? Then he is remiss—"

"Why should he bother with the likes of us? He's a rich young man, he's taking honors in his classes and playing on the lawn tennis team, and everybody is making a great fuss over him. He's meeting lots of girls his own age and I'm only a kid."

"You are a young woman, even by Western standards," Lee Ying declared. "And a beautiful young woman, too, if you will permit me to say so, without boldness."

Eileen's face broke into a sunny smile. "Lordy! As if compliments were as common as all that. Of course I'll permit it. I'm panting for more. Why, I haven't heard a nice thing said about myself since Sam went away. You see Jim calls me 'Skinny' and Ma's always after me with the cod-liver bottle. But—you can't expect a girl to be a raving beauty in a place like this." She waved a thin hand at the tenements fronting the drab, inhospitable square. "That needn't keep you from piling it on, Mr. Lee. I know what I look like but I love to be flattered.

"At seventeen one sees beauty in the full-blown rose, but to older eyes a solitary wild flower is even lovelier. You are like that, Miss Cassidy."

"The blarney of you! Don't tell me you're a Chinaman. But Sam doesn't think I'm good looking. He says we Americans all look funny to you; he says we're a ghastly, white-faced people and we speak an outlandish jargon. Our eyes lie in queer, straight lines; our women are bold and our men look like monkeys, with tufts of red and yellow hair on their faces. Is it true?"

Lee Ying smiled, but refused to commit himself. "At home some of our people maintain that you white devils have ears as long as your arms—I taught Sam to ignore prejudice and to revere the good and the beautiful in your race as deeply as he honors the virtues in his own." After a moment the speaker shook his head at his own presumption and repeated, "I have taught him! As if I could teach him!"

Eileen inquired, in some curiosity, "What do you mean by that? Why do you always treat him as if—well, as if he was the important person and you were—"

"Because he is important."

"You'd think he was the father and you were the son."

"Not that exactly. But—we believe that living men are on a journey and that it is the dead who have returned home. Sam is an illustrious traveler who passes through and I have been selected as his venerable guide, for a little way. I entertain him briefly on his journey to the Nine Springs. He is not an ordinary person, like you and me, my child; he is a Prince from the Colored Clouds."

"I don't know what that means but it has a pretty sound and I suppose it's part of some Chinese fairy story."

Lee Ying did not explain. Meditatively he murmured: "Sometimes I wonder if I did wisely in leading him here and in keeping him in this foreign land, instead of turning his feet back towards the country of the Rising Sun. Who knows? Probably I am homesick. You see I grow old and I dream of lotus blooms and the warm rustle of bamboo branches. One who was born in China can never forget her, Miss Cassidy; she is an ecstasy and a pain. I hear flocks of temple pigeons, with silver whistles fastened to their wings, whirling in the sky and giving off the notes of a thousand tuning forks but—I listen more closely and it is the autumn wind from the East River. It is all strange and I never get used to it. More than a thousand years ago a countryman of mine went on a journey into foreign lands and there he beheld many extraordinary sights. The people of one nation had dogs' heads; those of another flew about like birds; those of still another had enormously long arms with which they groped in the sea for fish. Strangest of all, however, was a race with large holes through the middles of their bodies. The rich men were carried about by servants who pushed long sticks through the holes."

At the silvery tinkle of Eileen's laughter Le Ying's benevolent face relaxed and he said: "I see things almost as strange as that, right here in New York. But I tire you with my melancholies. That is because winter comes and my illustrious visitor does not warm my house with his presence."

"You don't tire me, Mr. Lee; I adore stories. I wonder if Sam thinks we're as queer as all that, and have dogs' heads and go riding around on poles, like big doughnuts."

"No. His wisdom and his understanding is greater than mine. He is the exalted traveler and I am his contemptible guide. But tell me, little poppy seed, why do I find you alone and crying? I suspect it was something more than the wind that brought tears to your eyes."

"I'm awful blue, Mr. Lee. I've got to quit school."

"Indeed?"

"The Cassidy clan is in a bad way. Father hasn't made a dollar since he got out of the Assembly—politics either makes or breaks the Irish, you know—and Jim's a total loss. Mother isn't strong and—Well, I've had to start hunting a job. Gee, it's hard on the feet!"

"Are you sufficiently trained—?"

"I can burn out the bearings on a typewriter, and I can make a pencil smoke; the trouble is nobody can read my notes. My shorthand is too long. It looks like a nest of angle worms—One man liked blue-eyed babies with wind-blown bobs and he didn't care much how slow they were in the office if they'd speed up after hours. He deals in cold storage poultry, but he's a torch. I had to hit him, finally, with a boyish-form chicken. And me the daughter of Irish kings! Throwing frozen poultry!—What I'd like is to be secretary to some-priced executive who plays golf three days a week. You don't happen to know such a man?"

WOULD LIMIT BIRTHS TO CURE DISTRESS

NEW YORK, May 4. (CP)—Solution of the world's economic distress lies in "some wise and judicious means of limiting the number of births," Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborn, president of the American Museum of National History, said to-day, after a 23,000-mile trip around the globe.

Whether his cruising ships stopped in Tahiti, Samoa, Fiji, New Guinea or Ceylon, he found the same overpopulation, he said, and although the problem was balanced in part by overproduction, nevertheless widespread unemployment can be diminished only by regulating births.

"I return more impressed than ever" he said, "with the principle of 'not more but better and finer representatives of every race'."

HEAVY SELLING MINE LEADERS

Interlisted Stocks Bear Brunt of Liquidation on Standard Exchange.

NORANDA IS WEAK.

TORONTO, May 4 (C.P.). — Higher-priced stocks were again subjected to heavy selling pressure on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange market to-day, with interlisted stocks bearing the brunt of liquidation. The general list gave a dull performance.

Noranda again displayed weakness, price dropping through $13 and standing at that level for a loss of nearly $1 when taken at noon. International Nickel, off 15 to $5.60, set another new low for the bear market. Eldorado was steady around $1.07.

Golds were unusually soft in the first hour and despite a midday rally were practically all below last night's finals. Dome was accorded support after touching $9.50, and when taken was up 25 on the day at $9.95. Teck-Hughes recovered from a low of $3.37 to $3.45, off 11. Lake Shore was down 50 at $26, and Hollinger another 10 at $4.30.

Among lower-priced stocks Ventures, Macassa, and Kirkland Lake Gold lost a cent apiece to 24, 39, and 31 respectively. Cheaper oils were quiet, with Acme Gas fractionally lower at 11.

Four-Cent Flat Rate On Each $100 Bond

WASHINGTON, May 4 (C.P.) — A flat rate of four cents on the sale of each $100 bond was voted to-day by the U.S. Senate Finance committee.

The rate was the same as set yesterday for stock sales. The House of Representatives had its bond sales tax at two cents on each bond or not less than one-eighth of one per cent of the selling prices.

The committee disposed of this problem before plunging into another dispute which appeared impending putting tariff rates into the new revenue bill.

OATH BILL AMENDMENT IS DEFEATED IN DAIL

DUBLIN, May 4. —(AP)— By a vote of 76 to 53 the Dail today defeated an opposition amendment to the bill abolishing the Oath of Allegiance to the Crown. The amendment would have left the text of the oath in the Free State constitution but would have removed the necessity for Free State officials to take it.

President de Valera wanted to push the bill through the three remaining stages tonight, but he acceded to the wish of the opposition and let it go through only the committee stage, leaving final action until next Wednesday.

TROUBLE OVER NURSE'S CASE.

TORONTO.— The local welfare department to-day was asked by the Board of Health to report by whose authority and why Miss Delphine M. Hickey, aged ex-nurse, was removed from the General Hospital to the Psychiatric Hospital here. Miss Hickey stated she had been informed at the Psychiatric Hospital she had been committed to that institution on an order from a magistrate, but had never appeared in court.

NICKEL AND FORD OF CANADA SUFFER SETBACKS IN MORNING

Bell Telephone, Loblaw, Walkers Common and Canada Malting Slid Back Fractions.

OILS ARE ACTIVE.

TORONTO, May 4 (C.P.)—Losses outnumbered gains on Toronto Stock Exchange again to-day and some of the leaders made new record lows on fractional declines. Prominent among this latter number were International Nickel and Ford of Canada, the former down to 5⅛ and the latter to 7½.

C.P.R. equalled its former low of 12, and Montreal Power, Bell Telephone, Loblaw, Walkers Common, Canada Malting slid back fractions. Page-Hersey Tubes went down a point to 43.

Oils as a group continued to give the best display, with the active leaders such as B.A. Oil, Imperial Oil and International Petroleum unchanged at mid-day, and Canadian Oil firmer at 9.

Gypsum was firmer above 3, and there were gains also shown by Consumers' Gas, and Brazilian Traction.

GENEVA, May 4—(AP)—Sir Bolton M. Eyres-Monsell, British member of the naval commission of the world disarmament conference, advocating abolition of submarines today as aggressive weapons, agreed to a reduction of submarine tonnage to 250 tons surface displacement.

This, he said, would make them purely coast defence vessels. He said he regarded aircraft carriers as defensive weapons. The Japanese member again attacked aircraft carriers, however claiming them as dangerous weapons of offense.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

MONTREAL EXCHANGE.

MONTREAL, May 4. — (By the Canadian Press.)—Montreal Stock Exchange listings passed through another session of easier price movements with to-day's session. The sales volume increased as the liquidation continued and a late rally carried prices up somewhat but left them well below yesterday's closing levels. A long list of losses ranging from minor fractions were showing at the close.

The decline was sufficient to uncover a few more new low levels. Lindsay, Massey-Harris, Steel of Canada Preferred and Building Products eased into new low ground, while an even larger number were scraping along at the bottom levels for the year.

Canadian Pacific, an active issue of the day, sold at 12.

WALL STREET

Santa Fe Union Pacific and Standard Oil of New Jersey were fractionally higher while Safeway, Auburn, Westinghouse, Lambert and International Shoe rose a point or more. Will Dispel Gloom With Sunny Lyrics

NEW YORK, May 4.—The one-time popular "prosperity song" having got lost around some corner, Grenville Kleiser has decided to put the country into a bright frame of mind with poems.

The trouble, he feels, is a "psychological gloom," which he intends to dissipate with "sunny lyrics."

"Gossip and gloom" is the title of one opus which he hopes will jar some sense into the public head. It has the following for a finale:

"Gossip and gloom
Are not good for you;
With such busybodies
Have nothing to do."

HON. LAPOINTE BLAMES TARIFFS FOR DEPRESSION

Tory Policies Bitterly Flayed By Hon. Ernest Lapointe.

LIBERAL WOMEN MEET.

Economic Disarmament Has Become Necessity Speaker Says.

OTTAWA, May 4 (C. P.)—With the declaration that "'economic disarmament has become a necessity in the world," and that the "Tory 'Canada first' policy is one of destruction, of extinction, or starvation and of real madness," Hon. Ernest Lapointe, former Minister of Justice and Federal member for Quebec East, to-day addressed Liberal women of Canada. Condemnation of the tariff and trade policies of the present Government, charges that the administration has no policy on unemployment, and an assertion that the present Prime Minister will go down in history as "the ten per cent. Prime Minister," featured the speech of Mr. Lapointe. He was listened to by about 400 delegates of the National Federation of Liberal Women of Canada, in session here.

Tariffs Main Cause.

Mr. Lapointe dealt with domestic conditions, the coming Imperial Conference, the unemployment situation, and the attitude which Liberalism should assume toward the various problems confronting Canada and the world. He declared his belief that tariffs are the main cause of the present depression.

He blamed the "Canada first" policy of the Government for much of the economic trouble besetting the Dominion. It was "a narrow Nationalist Tory doctrine," inflicting injury, not only on other countries, but on the Dominion itself.

"What a change, what a far cry it is from Bennett gathering the white buttons at his meetings two years ago, and the same gentleman surrounding himself in Parliament with police and armed forces to keep the unemployed men away," proceeded Mr. Lapointe in dealing with present-day conditions in Canada. The number of unemployed had swollen from 117,000 in 1930 to half a million to-day.

Smelters dropped ½ point and there were fractional losses in Montreal Power, Loblaw "A" and "B", Walkers Common, Canada Malting, Supertest and a scattering of industrials. Page-Hersey Tubes dropped 1½ points to 42½.

CROP PROSPECTS IN THE WEST MUCH BETTER AT THIS SEASON THAN ANY OF PAST THREE YEARS

Wheat Crop of 400,000,000 to 500,000,000 Might be Anticipated, Says E W. Beatty.

C.P.R. ANNUAL MEETING.

Drastic Economies Made in Operations in Conformity of Reduced Earnings.

MONTREAL May 4 (C.P.)—Crop prospects in Western Canada are better at this season than at the same time in any of the past three years, and a wheat crop of from 400,000,000 to 500,000,000 bushels might reasonably be anticipated, E. W. Beatty, president and chairman of the board of the Canadian Pacific Railway Company told the shareholders at the annual meeting here to-day.

The president reported drastic economies in the operation of the railroad and steamships services in conformity with reduced earnings, but pointed out that the condition of the company's property had been maintained unimpaired.

The annual meeting was well attended and optimistic. Officers and directors were re-elected and all reports adopted. John W. Hobbs of Toronto, president of the Consolidated Plate Glass Company, was elected to the directorate to fill the vacancy left by the death of Sir Vincent Meredith.

Lower Than U.S. Rates.

"It will be within your knowledge that the mileage freight rates on grain, the principal produce handled on your Western lines, are substantially less than those which United States railroads are permitted to charge," Mr. Beatty said. "Over corresponding distances the rate charges in the United States range from 30 per cent. to 100 per cent. greater than those charged in Canada. Climatic conditions, which have a material bearing on operating costs, are more severe in Canada than south of the line. Wage scales in this country are relative to those of the United States; fuel costs are higher, and traffic density of railways in the United States is about 84 per cent. greater than that of your company's. It is a tribute to the operating efficiency and to the financial policies of your company that the operating ratio reveals that these handicaps have been overcome.

Operations Lower

"The extraordinary decline of $67,393,000 in gross earnings since 1929 was offset by a reduction in operating expenses of $49,931,000, with the result that the operating ratio has only increased from 79.43 per cent in 1929 to 81.96 per cent. in 1931. The company in 1931 earned its fixed charges. Its preference divided and 63 cents per share on its ordinary stock. Working assets at the close of the year were $63,897,835 and current liabilities $14,090,896, an excess of $49,788,968, or a ratio of 4.5 times. The anticipated capital expenditures of approximately $4,000,000 for the year are materially less than those of previous years.

"The company's balance sheet shows the following principal changes from 1930: on the assets side, the increase in railway rolling stock, lake and river steamers and hotels amounts to $30,894,072, made up of branch line construction, additions and improvements to main and branch lines, expenditures on leased and acquired lines and on rolling stock equipment. Your investment in ocean and steamships increased by $2,362,730, representing mainly the final payment on the Empress of Britain of $3,194,896. Acquired securities increased $12,191,916. Of this amount $5,512,000 is due to the capitalisation of advances to controlled properties decreased $12,162,255 due to the capitalization of advances above stated, and the transfer to property investment of amounts advanced in excess of securities issued. Assets in lands and properties decreased $3,462,797, due mainly to the practice of writing down the value of unsold lands. Materials and supplies on hand decreased $3,963,710. Traffic balances decreased $1,521,094, largely due to the adjustment made in the Canadian Pacific express accounts by the writing off of outstanding balances accrued against that company. Cash in hand decreased $14,906,748.

Earnings for Year.

"The earnings and expenses during the first quarter of the year 1932 indicate that the reduction in gross earnings has not been substantially checked, though the percentage decreases for the months of February and March are less than for the month of January. Gross earnings during the three months decreased $6,508,000, and the economies effected throughout the system resulted in a decrease in working expenses of $6,000,000, leaving a moderate decrease in net earnings for the quarter of $468,000, or, in other words, it absorbed 93.1 per cent. of the decrease in gross earnings.

"The operations of your steamships have, of course, been seriously affected, due to decreased travel and interchange of commodities between Great Britain and Canada and between Canada and the Orient. The situation has not been made easier by the national character of the competition which has developed since the war, many lines having been assisted by Governments and States in the construction and operation of vessels."

"The company's rail revenues were derived in the following percentages: from products of agriculture, 21.26 per cent; from manufacturing and miscellaneous commodities, 22.64 per cent; from passengers, 15.92 per cent; from products of mines, 9.59 per cent; from products of forests, 5.50 per cent; from products of animals, 3.77 per cent; from merchandise, 4.36 per cent; from special income, 7.15 per cent; from mail and express, 4.45 per cent, and from various small miscellaneous items, 5 per cent. Freight, therefore, contributed 67.48 per cent, and passenger, mail and express 20.37 per cent.

"An analysis of expenditures indicates that salaries and wages account for 65.66 per cent; materials and supplies, 19.31 per cent; fuel, 10.35 per cent; taxes, 3.4 per cent and loss and damage, injuries and insurance, 1.28 per cent.

A list is to be submitted daily until further notice.

AVIATOR WOULD DEFEND HIMSELF

Lancaster Admits He Will Likely Be Indicted For Murder.

MIAMI, May 4.—Capt. W. N. Lancaster, British war flier, framed his own defence in the county jail to-day and admitted his position in the case was such that Dade Grand Jury may indict him for murder of Haden Clarke, writer and fiance of his flying partner, Mrs. J. M. Keith-Miller.

"I should like to act as my own attorney, if I am brought to trial," Lancaster said, "I know that is not possible, but I know I can convince twelve reasonable men that I am innocent of shooting that boy."

As Lancaster laid his defence, State Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne prepared for the Grand Jury further evidence bearing on the first degree murder charge he placed against the flier Monday night. The Grand Jury is expected to report Saturday.

Two Have Testified

Mrs. Keith-Miller, at whose home the two men were roommates when Clarke was mysteriously shot April 21, appeared before the jury late yesterday. Preceding her was J. V. Haring, New York handwriting expert, who had previously branded as forgeries two suicide notes purportedly written by Clarke.

Lancaster, the State Attorney said, admitted writing and signing the notes when he was confronted with Haring's statement, but maintained he was innocent of the shooting and explained he wrote the notes to remove suspicion from Mrs. Keith-Miller and himself.

GRAND MASTER GUEST SPEAKER

Harold Shipman of Ottawa, Addresses Orange Rally in City.

PRINCIPLES OF ORANGEISM

The principles of Orangeism, its work, standards and benefits not only to its members but also to the Protestant people of Canada generally were recounted at the county Orange rally held last evening in the Salvation Army Temple.

The meeting was addressed by Grand Master Harold Shipman, of Ottawa, and Grand Mistress E. W. Gillespie, of the L.O.B.A. of Ontario East, and other leaders of the Loyal Orange Order, including Grand Master Creighton Devitt, of the R.B.P., and Grand Master Robert Kelso, of the O.Y.B.

Rev. C. D. Daniel was chairman of the meeting, which represented in large numbers the Loyal Orange lodges of the county. Deputy-Grand Master Ernie Reid and Deputy-Grand Mistress Wright, both of this city, welcomed the Grand Loage officials here.

H. A. Graham, organizer for Ontario East, stressed the importance of members attending lodge meetings and the importance of the work carried on by the Loyal Orange Lodge.

Grand Master Shipman stated that he was visiting the twenty-five counties composing Ontario East. He traced the history of the Loyal Orange Lodge of British America since its founding in Brockville 102 years ago.

Dealing upon the comments in the press upon some of the matters dealt with at the Grand Lodge convention held here some weeks ago, Grand Master Shipman said: "If the Roman Catholic hierarchy have anything to say concerning public schools why don't they take a test case to the courts?" He charged that underhand methods were being used in carrying on a propaganda among the Catholic children on the question, reading from two letters which he said clearly proved this.

Dealing with the question of divorce, he declared the Grand Orange Lodge decried the number of unhappy marriages, but considered legal divorce a far better method of dealing with the problem than an illegal annulment as, he charged, is practiced by the Roman Catholic Church.

He called upon all Orangemen to stand together to uphold British principles in their communities and to take an active part in leadership.

Grand Mistress Gillespie in telling of the work of the Loyal Orange Benevolent Association stated that their were 35,000 women in the organization. Grand Master Creighton Devitt explained the benefits from the lodge insurance and the work carried on through the money secured from this source. R. G Nokes urged all Orangemen to subscribe to the Orange Sentinel, the voice of the Loyal Orange Order.

Adjutant E. M. Fall, of the Salvation Army, received the thanks of the meeting for permitting the temple to be used for the rally.

Seymour Pay Sheet Lowest In 8 Years

Ontario Bridge Company Gets Bridge Contract At Menie For $2,150.

(By Examiner Staff Correspondent)

CAMPBELLFORD, May 4. — A very interesting fact was noted at the regular meeting of the Seymour township council held yesterday in the clerks office, Campbellford, when with the presentation of the pay sheet, which totaled $835 it was noted that the money spent this season to date was less than any corresponding period for the past eight years. This reveals the attitude of the council in their endeavor to curtail expenditures. Reeve Robert Innes presided over the meeting.

Councillor John O'Sullivan appeared on behalf of the town council asking the township to co-operate in the matter of building a public toilet in Campbellford for the convenience of visitors. On motion of Councillors Thos. Fry and Frank Lee no action was taken in this matter.

Harry Button of Toronto appeared before the council representing the Ontario Bridge Company, for the purpose of contracting with the township for the building of a 54 foot bridge known as the Johns' Bridge south of Menie. The price the company asked for this was $2,483, but this offer was not considered, the council setting their figure at $2,150 which was accepted for the company by Mr. Button.

Miss Josephine Terry applied for a license to operate a dancing hall at Trent River. This was granted and issued. The application of Harry Seaborn of Trent River for the position of township constable received no action.

The school report was submitted by the attendance officer, George Anderson and accepted.

Court of Revision for the assessment roll of the township was set for June 6 at 10 a.m.

CHIEF SCOUT CAUSTIC OVER GIRLS' PAINTINGS

LONDON, May 4.—(C. P. Cable.)—Lord Baden-Powell, Chief Scout, who is a painter himself, is caustic to-day concerning this year's exhibition of the Royal Academy which opened on Monday.

"I was told there was a notable picture by a girl aged 15, but I thought a large number of the pictures must have been by girls of five," Lord Baden-Powell said. "I was glad to learn that at least one was by a girl of 15."

Pays $27 for Drink He Never Got: Two "Friends" Are Jailed for Fraud

TORONTO, May 4.—(CP)—One drink—that he didn't get—cost Bosal Nesteofs $27.

Asked by two men who accosted him a week yesterday if he would like a drink, Nesteofs explained that he had no money to spend on liquor and accepted an invitation to the strangers' apartment. Once there his "friends" produced a $27 cheque payable to cash and threatened his life if he refused to sign. He signed and was forcibly marched to the bank where one of the men endorsed and cashed his cheque.

Nesteofs told his story to the police who yesterday arrested John Byers and John McMillen, Toronto, on charges of fraud. Byers, the man who endorsed the cheque, told police Nesteofs owed $27 to a friend of their. The money was turned over to the friend, Byers claimed, as soon as the "experiment" had proved successful. He refused to name the friend.

The choir will be assisted by the noted Canadian organist, Charles Peaker, Mus.Bac., F.R.C.O., who will be remembered by many Peterborough people for his remarkable playing a few years ago. Mr. Peaker will play two groups of organ solos, and will accompany some of the choral numbers.

Deane Miner and Fred Winfield, both well known violinists, will play the Largo from the Concerto for two violins by Bach, with Mr. Peaker at the organ. This has never been heard in Peterborough, and will prove a unique feature of a beautiful program.

Dorothy Allan Park will sing a group of songs, by special request, including the brilliant "How Shall I Sing That Majesty" by John Pointer.

The choir is singing a program of the highest kind of church music and the evening will afford the public an interesting opportunity of hearing this renowned chorus in an entirely different field. The style and finish of the singing will be as apparent in the sacred work as in the usual delightful concert work.

The entire proceeds from the collection taken at the concert will be given to the Canadian Legion Relief Fund, and the citizens of Peterborough know that their support can be given to no worthier object. The conductor, choir, organist, and violinists are donating their services and it is felt that Trinity Church will be crowded.

"The Madrigal Singers" chorus has become famous all over Canada and this will mark its last public appearance this season.

Police Court

Charges have been laid against eight motorists who parked their cars on No. 7 highway while attending an auction sale being held at a farm just north of the city on April 25. Pleas of guilty had been returned by six of the men, all of whom live in the immediate neighborhood, but Magistrate Langley refused to take these pleas and levy fines this morning, when one, an Ennismore man, appeared and pleaded not guilty. All the cases were adjourned for a week. "Next week we'll investigate the whole affair," said His Worship.

Highway Patrol Officer Hornick said that the cars were blocking the highway and that he went to the scene in response to complaints from passing motorists.

William Gordon, of Cobourg, pleaded guilty to reckless driving on Highway 28 and was fined $10 and $7.50 costs. His license was cancelled for two days.

Five Men Hunted In Kidnapping Case

CHICAGO, May 4. (C.P.)—Five men were sought in Chicago today on request of the Joliet, Ill., authorities and in the belief their capture may throw some light on the kidnapping of 22-year-old Gustave Miller, son of a wealthy Joliet wholesale grocer

A private investigation was being pushed at the same time from Joliet, by the father, Max Miller, but little was known of its progress as he kept his counsel, apparently in the hope this course would assist in establishing contact with the abductors. The missing young man disappeared last Thursday and it was said $50,000 ransom was demanded.

FAMOUS TRIAL PACKS THEATRE

Popular Veterans of Stage Appear in Bardell Vs. Pickwick Scene.

DUCHESS YORK ATTENDS.

(By Thos. T. Champion C.P. Staff Writer)

LONDON, May 4 (C. P. Cable)—The famous trial scene of Bardell vs. Pickwick certainly was never presented by a more distinguished caste than to-day, when it was given at a special matinee at Drury Lane Theatre in aid of the Royal General Theatrical Fund. The Duchess of York attended.

Theatrical depression is rampant just now and it was doubly agreeable to record to-day's event was received in an enthusiastic fashion. The veteran, Henry Ainly appeared as Mr. Pickwick. Mary Brough as Mrs. Bardell, Connie Ediss as Mrs. Cluppins, Sir Gerald Du Maurier as the judge and Bobby Howes as Sam Weller.

Bransy Williams, whose impersonation of Charles Dickens' famous characters are as well known in Canada as here, took what is from the dramatic viewpoint the most important role, that of Sergt. Buzfuz. The whole thing went with a great swing from start to finish.

The club decided on sweaters of an old gold color with the name "Orde's Athletic Club" across the front. A price on sticks will be obtained by the secretary. Prospective players for this team who were present at last night's meeting included: Dallin, Orde, Weir, Howe, McLeish, Mahood, Ellis, Jarvis, Hutchinson, Begley, Brady, Gardner, W. Calladine, Magee, Francis, E. LeBarr, P. Calladine, Sturgeon and Dundas.

Prospector Found; Victim Of Blizzard

STEWART, B.C., May 4.—Lying under a tree 17 miles north of the Bib Missouri mine, the body of Robert Law was found by Tim Williams, local prospector, and Peter Morrison, Indian trapper, after a 10-day search. A note dated Feb. 19, found in Law's trapping cabin at the head of Bowser's Lake, March 8, said he left for Stewart with a frozen foot. Law had travelled 34 miles in one of the severest snowstorms ever experienced in this district, and apparently had lost the trail.

ORGAN RECITAL MUCH ENJOYED

David R. Howat Gives Organ Recital in George Street Church.

PROGRAM OF HIGH ORDER.

Those who were present Monday evening at the organ recital given in George Street Church by David R. Howat, enjoyed a varied and interesting program.

Representing German composers were the immortal Johann Sebastian Bach and Max Reger. The French School of organ work was represented by Bonnet, Vilone and Widor; and the Russian by Mussorgsky and Tschaikowsky. As an encore Mr. Howart played the "Earl of Salisbury's Pavan" by William Byrd.

The program was of a high order musically, and showed to good advantage the beautiful tone of the church organ.

The program bespeaks for Mr. Howat a much larger audience at his musical effort, May 16, when he and his choir will present Mendelsshon's 42nd Psalm, with accompanying smaller numbers.

Following is the program rendered Monday night:—

"Introduction and Passacaglai," Reger. "Elves," Bonnet;. "The Great Gate of Kiev," Moussorgsky, (from pictures from an exhibition: ten musical sketches, subjects taken from pictures by the celebrated Russian architect Hartmann). "Prelude and Fugue in D Major," Bach. Danse des Mirlitons, Tschaikowsky. ("Dance of the Reed Flues" from the "Nut Cracker Suite for Orchestra"). "Menuetto," from 4th Organ Symphonie, Vienne. "Finale" from 2nd Organ Symphonie, Widor.

KREUGER FAVORED DEATH TO PROBE

Suicided Three Days Before He Was To Give Accounting.

STOCKHOLM, May 4. (A.P.)—Ivar Kreuger, Swedish match king, had been summoned to appear before representatives of the National Bank of Sweden, and other banks, in Berlin on March 15 when he committed suicide in Paris, on March 12, the banking committee of Riksdag reported today.

The report, which was approved by a majority of the committee, censured the management of the National Bank, the Riksbank, for what it said were enormous credits granted Kreuger.

Six business associates of Kreuger who have been arrested in connection with the investigation into his world-wide affairs, will be given their first hearings next Friday on charges of assisting him in financial irregularities.

Police investigators have been working day and night for nearly a month to assemble evidence against the men.

Newspapers said to-day a number of further arrests in connection with the Kreuger difficulties were expected soon.

It was disclosed to-day that foreign minister Hellner, who was sent to Rome to clear up the Italian end of the Kreuger tangle, had been informed by Premier Mussolini that Kreuger had forged the name of the Italian Finance Minister Mosconi, to an Italian match monopoly which never was granted.

Fear Several Dead In Tenement Blast

MANSFIELD, O., May 4 (C.P.).—Four persons were injured seriously and possible loss of life was feared in a mysterious explosion which wrecked and set fire to a two-storey tenement building here early to-day.

A belief that Joseph Letezia, a tenant, and six members of his family perished in the blast was dispelled when they were found alive in Cleveland. Firemen said, however, they believed other occupants of the tenement may have perished.

CONTINUES TO WORK.

LONDON.—Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald, who undergoes a second operation to-morrow for glaucoma, an ailment which possibly results in blindness, to-day presided over a Cabinet meeting and then paid a visit to His Majesty.

Later in the day Mr. MacDonald enters a West-End nursing home.

Rose Plants Must Be Well Fed

Roses require a good supply of available plant food and plenty of water. A heavy soil is desirable since it holds moisture. The area chosen for roses should be well drained. Heavy soils do not drain as well as lighter soils. For that reason it is best to choose a site that drains well naturally or else to provide artificial drainage.

Prepare the soil for the rose bed to a depth of at least twelve inches. Better results will follow preparation to a depth of two feet. Unless the soil contains good quantities of organic matter as evidenced by its friable condition, decomposed organice matter such as composted material or leaf mold, should be incorperated in it.

At the time the rose plants are set mix a complete plantfood with the soil which is placed about them at the rate of one heaping tablespoonful per gallon of soil.

For established roses a spring application of plantfood should be made at the rate of four pounds per hundred square feet, or one rounded tablespoonful per square foot, covering the area occupied by the roots of the plants. Six to eight weeks later a two-pound application should be made. Do not apply plant food after August 1st. As an aid in retaining soil moisture a mulch of rotted leaves or peat moss should be maintained.

Care of Trees at Planting Time

There is a great deal of sentiment attached to planting trees, and this is as it should be, because some of the most interesting points of history revolve around an old tree which has been standing for hundreds of years.

There are a few principles that must be followed in planting a tree if it is to grow strong and develop luxuriantly in its new home.

As the hole for the tree is being dug, place the top soil to one side, apart from the subsoil. Dig the hole large enough so that the roots won't be cramped, and deep enough so that the tree will be set the same depth as it stood in the nursery, as indicated by the mark on the trunk.

Place the tree in the hole, spread the roots so that they point outward toward the edge of the hole, and then fill in with the top soil in which one-half pint of complete plantfood has been mixed with each bushel of soil. Pack this soil tightly about the roots, then fill the hole with the subsoil that remains.

When the hole is about full, a large amount of water should be poured in, in order to saturate the soil about the roots. As soon as the water has completely soaked into the soil, the hole should be filled with soil to the surface of the ground.

Keep trees supplied with water and fed regularly. Results will fully compensate for your work.

Transplanted Shrubs Need Special Care

When shrubs are transplanted the effect upon them may be compared to an operation performed on a human being. A shock is administered to the plant; and it needs special care during the period of recovery and adjustment.

If this care is denied it, even though the plant lives, it may never recover its full vigor. But if the shrub is helped through the critical first year, until its roots have become well established in the soil and growth has become normal, then the shock of the transplanting operation will be forgotten.

Because of the sacrifice of roots which always takes place when shrubs are moved, the plant is obliged to find its food and water in a relatively small area of soil; and this soil should be enriched and prevented from drying out too much. When a hole has been dug large enough to contain the roots without cramping, mix a quarter pint of complete plantfood with the soil at the bottom of the hole. To each gallon of soil used in filling the hole add a quarter pint of plantfood, mixing well. When the soil is filled in it should be tamped thoroughly, and all air spaces among the roots should be filled. The roots must come in direct contact with the soil or they cannot absorb food.

During the first year after transplanting, especial care must be taken to see that the soil does not dry out. A dry spell which would not affect well established shrubs may be felt seriously by transplanted shrubs whose roots are confined to a relatively small and shallow feeding. A well-fed shrub quickly corrects this condition by making new roots.

Preparing the Seed Bed

Careful preparation of the top soil after the garden has been well spaded is the next important operation in gardening. The soil must be made fine to receive the seeds, the fine quality being necessary to establish close contact with the seed and give a medium for the tiny root to penetrate and in which to take hold.

The largest lumps should be broken with the spade or spading fork during the process of digging. A garden rake is the time-honored instrument for reducing the soil to a fine and smooth surface and the most effective one. The garden should be raked level and the soil made as fine as possible before the rows for the seeds are made.

Before starting in to sow the seed the distances should bestaked or marked off in the garden, the rows located at proper distances apart so that getting the seeds into the ground may proceed expeditiously once it is started. If the soil has been brought to fine tilth, marking off the rows with a triangular bladed hoe or even with a wooden plant label or any convenient instrument is a simple matter with the aid of cord and a plank.

The breaking up of the soil should not be undertaken if the soil is wet. If, when turned over, it seems too wet to work easily, it is best to leave it a day or two to dry out when it will break up much more easily. In heavy clay soils the task of reducing the surface to a fine tilth is often difficult. In such cases it is best to plant seed in boxes or in a seed bed with better soil for the purpose and transplant into the clayey medium. Torpedo sand is often used to mix with clay to break up the sticky texture. It is a matter of constant working of several seasons, adding humus, an occasional dressing of lime, and sand or crushed limestone to bring clay soil into a condition for seed sowing.

Another device sometimes employed to assist the germination of seeds in soil of very heavy texture is to make rows a little deeper than the seeds require and fill in with silver sand upon which the seed is sown and then covered lightly. But, in any case, work the surface soil and reduce it as close to powder fineness as may be before seed sowing. Germination in coarse, lumpy soil will result in the loss of many plants because the tiny rootlet will often find no lodgement.

AVOID LATE CUTTING.

L. E. Kirk, Dominion Agrostologist, Ottawa, observes in connection with alfalfa that winter-killing due to improper management of the crop can be prevented by avoiding late cutting. During the first season the crop should not be cut at all. If it is very weedy it may be advisable to go over the field with a mower and cut off the weeds to prevent them from maturing seed, in which case the clipping should be done early in the fall and with the cutter bar of the mower set high. In succeeding years the crop may be cut for hay once or twice according to circumstances, but if a second cutting is taken it should be made quite early in the season so that there will be sufficient time for a strong fall growth.—Dominion Department of Agriculture.

BULLETIN BOARD AT STOCK YARDS ASSISTS TRADE

H. P. Kennedy Establishes New Service Linking East and West.

BUSY SPOT

By R. F. CHOATE
(Staff Writer of The Globe.)

Looking in at the Union Stock Yards in West Toronto one of these sunny May mornings, the visitor will quickly be impressed with the fact that here is the centre of an industry with a singularly healthy pulse-beat; an industry that is not merely spending its days lamenting the unconscionable length of time taken by business in turning the corner; and, above all, an industry that will be found alert and prepared to press forward along such new avenues of intra-Imperial trade as may be opened by the parleys to be held in Ottawa.

Canada live stock industry is accustomed to the turning of sharp corners—sometimes for the better, sometimes for the worse. Shut out abruptly from the United States market by the tariff of 1928, it quickly trimmed for action by effecting such internal readjustments as were necessary—then set itself resolutely to the task of creating new trade channels. The surplus live stock of Western Canada now must find its way largely to the farmers of Ontario and Quebec, and the large packing centres of Eastern Canada.

Service Established.

Fresh evidence of the buoyancy and resourcefulness of the industry is disclosed in arrangements just completed by H. P. Kennedy, long prominent in Canadian live stock circles, and President of the Edmonton and Saskatoon Stock Yards, which promise to exert an important unifying influence on the trade throughout the Dominion. Co-operating with the Western yards, Mr. Kennedy has established a service which is proving widely helpful to Toronto traders. In his office at the Union Stock Yards he has installed a bulletin board which makes available to the public detailed daily information regarding receipts, prices and trading conditions in the Edmonton and Saskatoon markets.

The form of the newly posted bulletin makes it possible to ascertain at a glance the current volume of trading in cattle, hogs and sheep in Saskatoon, Calgary, Edmonton, Winnipeg, Toronto and the two Montreal yards. With these figures are the comparative totals of the corresponding period of the preceding year, tabled month by month. Supplementary remarks indicate notable features of the market situation; such, for instance, as the fact that in January, February and March the volume of hog-marketing in Saskatoon was double that of the corresponding three months of last year.

Evidences of Initiative.

"We hope;" Mr. Kennedy explained, "that in assembling the official data from all over Canada in this convenient form we will be rendering a service that will be broadly helpful. We believe it will facilitate direct trading from Toronto with the Provincial centres of the West. Commission firms which are operating in the Western centres are listed and they are prepared to fill orders for any class of live stock."

But particular instances might be multiplied in illustrating the spirit of self-help and the vigorous initiative which seem to underlie the day-to-day operations at the Union Yards, even in the midst of a trying period. Here, as trucks come and go, carrying their live freight from Ontario centres within a radius of 150 miles, is a scene which can scarcely fail to have a tonic effect on the beholder. As a downtown business man remarked the other day: "It looks like the busiest spot in Toronto." When one is reminded by Frank Fletcher, General Manager of the Union Yards, that the hustle and bustle sum up in a year as a turnover of Canadian live stock into $20,000,000 cash, even at the present low prices, it comes apparent that there is little need to look further for proof of the resiliency and recuperative power of this basic Canadian industry.

Transportation Changes.

Operations at the yards illustrate strikingly the evolution of transportation methods in recent years. Trucks unloaded in the three months of this year numbered 8,800; while on April 18 a new all-time high mark for cattle deliveries by truck was established with a total of 838.

Ontario's new regulation requiring the issuance of bills of lading by commercial vehicles will be of especial importance at the stock yards, and its effect will be studied there with marked interest. With convenient trackage at either side of the yard, the railways maintain excellent facilities for taking care of their end of the transportation demands.

Competitive Prices Rule.

Some 80 per cent. of the cattle marketed in Ontario pass through the Union Stock Yards. Officials of the yards point out that live stock producers, like all other primary producers in the Province, are turning their attention increasingly to problems of marketing; and they emphasize their contention that the best interests of producers and dealers are served by the marketing of their live stock at public stock yards, where competitive buying rules.

Neither the General Manager, Mr. Fletcher, nor the operators are disposed to express an opinion as to the outcome of the Imperial Conference, but it is not hazardous to predict that the vigorous and well-organized Canadian live stock industry will not be found unprepared and lagging if a way is opened to wider opportunities in the export field.

CROSS-BREDS VS. PURE-BREDS IN PRODUCING MARKET HOGS

Five - Year Average Test Shows Increase of 11 P.C. in Favor of Cross-breeding.

FEED COST IS LOWER

(Experimental Farms Note.

With the object in view of determining the comparative economy of pork production between pure-bred hogs of the Yorkshire, Tamworth, Berkshire and Duroc-Jersey breeds and the respective crosses of the same breeds, six tests have been conducted, over a period of five years, at the Dominion Experimental Station, Lacombe, Alberta. For this purpose the following hogs were used in the trials: 68 pure-bred Yorkshires, 44 pure-bred Berkshires, 28 pure-bred Tamworths, 20 pure-bred Duroc-Jerseys, 17 Yorkshire-Tamworth cross-breds, 12 Yorkshire-Duroc-Jersey cross-breds, 11 Berkshire-Duroc-Jersey cross-breds, 9 Berkshire-Tamworth cross-breds, and 9 Tamworth-Berkshire cross-breds, making a total of 160 pure-breds and 58 cross-breds fed. The comparison of breeds as economic producers was studied at the same time, which accounted for there being only a comparatively small number of cross-bred pigs used.

Uniform Size Needed.

In selecting hogs for the experiment an endeavor was made to obtain hogs of fairly uniform size and at the same time obtain lots of as nearly the same blood lines as possible. There was some variation in the age of the respective lots, which was unavoidable.

Based on the five year average, the results of this test show the cross-bred pigs to make an average daily gain per head of 1.113 pounds as contrasted with 1.023 pounds on the part of the pure-breds, or an increase of over 11 per cent. in favor of cross-breeding.

In "meal required to produce 100 pounds of gain" there is a marked difference in favor of the cross-bred pigs, the average showing a saving of 34 pounds of meal on the cross-bred lots over the pure-bred for every 100 pounds of gain produced.

Coming to the cost per hundred pounds gain, here again the cross-bred lots make the better showing, with an average for all lots of 55 cents per hundred pounds again in favor of the cross-bred lots.

Pure-breds Both Sides.

While the cross-bred pigs clearly excelled those of pure breeding it must be kept in mind that it takes pure-breds on both sides of the pedigree in order to gain whatever benefits may accrue from the cross-breeding process. In order to obtain the best results in cross-breeding, outstanding individuals must be secured for foundation stock of the breeds it is proposed to cross. The progeny of cross-bred litters should be for market purposes only, and should never under any circumstances be retained for breeding purposes.

4 POINTS IN BEE KEEPING.

"The object of all spring manipulations," writes the Dominion Apiarist in the current issue of Seasonable Hints, "is to encourage brood production to its maximum and there are four factors necessary to secure it, and for which the beekeeper alone is responsible: (1) Each colony must be headed by a prolific queen; (2) There must be enough food within the hive to not only supply the bees themselves, but to feed the oncoming generation of bees; (3) Sufficient room for the normal expansion of the brood nest and for the storage of any surplus nectar and pollen which the early flowers may yield; and (4) Ample protection from the cold and changeable weather of spring."

IT'S ALWAYS HARVEST TIME—

We are so used to thinking of world events in relation to east or west that it is really refreshing to consider the swing of harvest time the year round from north to south. Here's how it swings:

January: Argentine, Uruguay, Chile and Australia.
February: Upper Egypt and Southern India (end of harvest in Southern Hemisphere and beginning of harvest in northern).
March: Egypt, Tripoli, Morocco and India.
April: Persia, Mesopotamia, Arabia, Asia Minor, Syria, Cyprus and Mexico.
May: Algeria, Tunis, Central and Southern Asia, South Carolina, Georgia, Alabama and Louisiana.
June: Italy, Spain, Portugal, Greece, Turkey, South of France, North Carolina, Georgia, Arkansas, Texas, Virginia, Indiana, Illinois, Kentucky, Tennessee, Oklahoma, Missouri and Kansas.
July: France, Austria, Hungary, Roumania, Bulgaria, Ser-Croat-Slovene State, Switzerland, Southern Russia, Southern Germany, South of England, New York, Pennsylvania, Ohio, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan, Missouri, Nebraska, Kansas and Oregon.
August: Southern Canada, Russia, the United Kingdom, Germany, Belgium, Holland, Denmark, Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Montana and Washington.
September: Sweden, Norway, Siberia, Northern Russia, Canada, North Dakota and Montana.
October: Sweden, Finland, Northern Russia, Northern Canada, Norway, Alaska (end of harvest in northern Hemisphere and beginning of harvest in southern).
November: Peru and South Africa.
December: Burma and Argentina.

BEANS MAKE GOOD CROP

The Dominion Experimental Station at Lethbridge, Alta., reports a decided increase in interest in the growing of field beans in western Canada, particularly in irrigated areas. Heretofore practically all the beans used in cities and towns of western Canada have been imported from Japan, the United States and Eastern Canada. A point like Lethbridge, for example, uses about six carloads of 30,000 pounds each annually. Beans require a long season to mature and should be planted sufficiently early to ensure against loss from fall frosts. The small white varieties are best suited to market demand, and it is also pointed out that too rich land, too heavy irrigating, too thin seeding, and too wide spacing of rows all tend to prolong the period of growth.

CELERY NEEDS GOOD RICH SOIL

Plants Also Require Plenty of Moisture or Stalks Do Not Develop.

GROWS BEST FALL, SPRING

LIFFORD LINE, May 4 (Examiner Correspondence).—A farm garden is not complete without its row of celery. Any good rich soil will grow good celery. It must have an abundance of fertility to draw upon if tender, well-developed stalks are to be obtained.

If the soil becomes dried out, even with an abundance of plant food present, succulent stalks are not likely to develop. These two things, plant food and moisture, are essential in order that growth may go on interruptedly.

Celery grows best in fall and early spring because the soil is damper and cooler at these times. Consequently, in growing it the aim should be to furnish these conditions as far as possible. Hot dry soil can be made cool and moist by watering. It is not a very great task to keep a small area of celery watered during the dry periods.

Manure Necessary.

When preparing for your vegetable garden set aside some good well-rotted manure for a row of celery. Dig or plough out a space about eighteen inches wide and six inches deep, and into this scatter the manure about four inches deep. On this place good surface garden soil and mix thoroughly with the manure. Manure in a measure cuts off the flow of soil water from below, hence the importance of mixing manure and soil in order that a fair movement of subsoil water to the growing plant may take place and the plants not suffer for want of water should watering by hand be neglected. A high-grade commercial fertilizer applied at the rate of five ounces per square yard may be thoroughly dug into the soil. To this should be added ground limestone at the rate of one to two pounds per square yard. On many soils it is difficult to grow celery without adding lime in some form.

Rows Three Feet Apart.

The plants should be set in rows 3½ feet apart and 6 inches apart in the rows. Do not set the plants on ridges. It is not necessary to set in a trench but it facilitates watering if the ground along the row is slightly below the soil-level. After planting see that the ground between the rows is kept loose with the hoe or cultivator, and the surface soil around the plants kept stirred so that less watering will be necessary. Watering tends to compact the surface soil around the plants; this upper soil, as soon as it is dry enough, should be broken by very shallow hoeing. Deep hoeing close to the plant should be avoided as the roots are shallow feeders and should not be disturbed.

Celery rust, which sometimes is troublesome, is overcome by using Bordeaux mixture, the plants being kept covered with the mixture by spraying about every ten days. In come cases this is first used right after the plants are established in flats.

DAIRYMEN ORGANIZE

Dairymen producing milk for the manufacture of cheese held a meeting in Belleville, Ontario, on February 12 and organized a new association with the object of (1) Working for the consolidation and amalgamation of present manufacturing plants and having these operated throughout the year instead of during the summer months (2) the establishment of storage facilities for cheese and to arrange for "a more equitable and up-to-date system of marketing"; (3) to work for the elimination of duplication of milk and cream transportation costs; (4) to improve the quality of the raw material supplied to cheese factories. Four other "alms" are listed but those stated seem to be the most important.—The Economic Annalist.

Canadian Bacon Leads

The current issue of the Live Stock Market Report, published by the Market Intelligence Service of the Dominion Live Stock Branch, contains a particularly interesting item with respect to the comparative prices of bacon in the British market. This report shows Canadian bacon selling at a price of 44 to 60 shillings per long cwt. for the week ending March 24 as compared with a price of 43 to 56 shillings per long cwt. for the Danish product. It also shows that during the previous week the price range on Canadian bacon was from 2 to 4 shillings per long cwt. over the Danish product. It should be noted in passing that the Canadian product is now selling second only to the finest Irish bacon, which is holding steady at a price of from 64 to 82 shillings per long cwt. of 112 lbs.

VIRUS DISEASE IN POTATOES

Tests Show Whole Tubers Produce Larger Plants Than Cut Sets.

CULLS AS LAST RESORT

(Experimental Farms Note.

During the past eight years experiments have been conducted by the Division of Botany of the Dominion Experimental Farms to determine whether or not the size of seed-piece affect the percentage of virus diseases in potatoes. The sizes used were whole tubers weighing 3, 2, 1½, 1 and ½ ounces and cut sets weighing 1½, 1 and ½ ounces. The results clearly demonstrated that whole tubers consistently produced larger and stronger plants than cut sets and the size of the plant increased in direct proportion to the weight of the set.

Small Yields.

Yields were comparatively small from seed-pieces weighing one ounce and less, a disadvantage not consistent with economy nor good farming practice. In the case of Irish Cobblers virus diseases did not increase with the use of small seed-pieces. With Green Mountains, however, mosaic increased very slightly, but only after three successive years of experimenting with seed from the same source.

In considering the use of culls for seed purposes it must be regarded as an expedient to follow when certified seed is not available.

Besides the question of freedom from disease, the farmer must be sure that the seed represents a good yielding strain. These qualities of course are certain to be found in certified seed.

HOW TO HANDLE WEAK COLONIES

Reduce Entrance to Half Inch To Prevent Entrance of Robbers.

ADD CAPPED BROOD

(Experimental Farms Note.)

Is it quite often noticed that some colonies are very weak when taken out of the cellar, through the loss of many bees during the winter. If these colonies are not looked after in the spring, their development will be greatly impeded and it is only after the flow has begun that they will reach their maximum strength. Lacking a large number of workers at the time when they should be fully developed, these colonies will give only a light surplus. Some times even they are barely fit to winter, without yielding any profit. Therefore, such colonies must be helped if a good yield is to be expected.

Reduce Entrance.

At the first spring visit, reduce the size of the brood chamber by means of a partition board, after moving the bee-laden frames over to one side of the hive in order to conserve the heat as much as possible. Reduce the entrance to one-half inch just enough to prevent robbing.

As the groups of bees become stronger, displace the partition board and add one or two combs as needed until the hive is full of bees about the end of May, according to the district. From strong colonies, take frames of capped brood in which the bees are ready to emerge within three or four days. After shaking off all the bees, place two frames of brood in each weak hive close to its own brood nest.

Queen Will Get Busy.

After four or five days the hives will be considerably strengthened by most of these young bees, the queen will begin to lay more eggs, the colonies will develop and reach their maximum strength at the beginning of the flow. Be sure also to see that these colonies have always lots of stores available.

FIVE PETERBORO' COWS GET R.O.P. CERTIFICATES

A group of five Holstein cows, two mature, one four, and two two-year-olds, owned by J. T. Tully, Peterborough, Ont., have just been granted R.O.P. certificates, their combined production in lactation periods varying from 279 to 365 days, averaging 12,737 pounds milk containing 551.75 pounds butter. The highest producing mature cow, Dedikkert Segis Posch, in her year of 365 days, yielded 17,168 pounds milk containing 723.75 pounds butter. The four-year-old heifer, Echo Alcartra Pride, bred by Sandy Matchett, Peterborough, in milk 288 days produced 12,935 pounds milk containing 561.25 pounds butter. One of the two-year-olds, Tressa May Pietertje, bred by James A. Brady, Campbellford, Ont., in her lactation of 365 days finished with a production of 10,135 pounds milk containing 472.50 pounds butter, her test averaging 3.73 per cent fat. All five records were made on twice-a-day milking.

MARMORA GUIDES ENJOY GATHERING

Entertained by Havelock Associates at Jolly Social Evening.

MARMORA, May 3 (Examiner Correspondence). – The 1st Marmora Company of Girl Guides had a most enjoyable outing to Havelock on Saturday evening to be royally entertained by their associates in that town. Arriving at the Orange Hall headquarters of the Havelock company, the visitors received a rousing reception, after which they were conducted to the basement for a delicious repast, which was served under the direction of the Havelock Council of Girl Guides.

The ladies of the Council present were Mrs. T. P. Lancaster, president, and Mesdames M. E. Wilson, H. Mathison, J. Armstrong, J. Bedford, and L. A. Gould. Other ladies also gave appreciated assistance. Prior to the singing of the Guides' grace, Captain Mrs. Moore cordially welcomed the guests, on whose behalf Captain Mrs. Pearce of Marmora suitably replied. At the conclusion of the supper Captain Mrs. Moore voiced the thanks of the assembly to the Havelock Council.

Adjournment was then made to the hall above, where the Guides impressively recited the Guides' Prayer, which recalled to many of the adults its usage by the Army in the days of the Great War. Then came a program remarkable for its variety and speed in rendition.

The Program.

The Guides seated in circle formation listened first as the Havelock leader described the use of the compass. Interest centred in the next number, Captain Pearce retired at the request of Captain Moore and came back to undergo an intelligence test which she passed with ease. A stalking game and a ball game followed in quick succession, in both of which discipline was tactfully emphasized. Then somebody whispered "Grand Old Duke of York," and this hot favorite was soon in motion. After a pianoforte duet by Winnifred Charles and Margaret Gould of Havelock, Betty Mathison, junior member of the same company, won much applause for her dancing number. This brought forth a request for a step dance by Edith Gray of Marmora, which was also well received. Next came a splendid presentation of the dialogue, "The Train to Maurio," by three Havelock Guides, Helen Pearce, Marjorie Leng, and Irene Pollock. This was followed by a well acted playlet delineating the 8th Guide Law, in which Marie Bedford and Isabel Mathison took part. Dainty little speeches were then made by Theresa Burridge and Ida Kown of Marmora, and Betty Mathison. The 5th Guide Law in charade form having been well portrayed by Winnifred Charles, Phyllis Bush, and Viola McGowan of the Havelock Company, the Camp Fire commenced. Captain Moore opened with a short address in which she stressed the fact that from great people come great actions, and from inferior people inferior actions.

Letter from Scout Chief.

An exchange of songs between the two companies followed, after which Captain Moore spoke briefly on the 9th Guide Law, and then read the story, "Robert of Sicily." She also read a letter of thanks received from Lord Baden-Powell some time ago that the Marmora Guides might be interested in hearing. Speaking at the request of Captain Moore, W. J. Cottrell of Marmora touched upon some words addressed to him recently, "Girls didn't gad about in those (pioneer) days," and suggested that adherence to Girl Guide principles would check gadding about which there might be in the present day. Lieut. Ina Morrison of Havelock was next called upon for an admirable talk on "Geneva." Commissioner Mrs. H. R. Haacke of Deloro, who was also a guest of the evening, on being called upon for a speech, spoke in appreciation of the general appearance and prestige of both companies. The Marmora Guides sounded the grand finale by giving their own distinctive yell. It was the unanimous feeling that under their energetic captain the Havelock Guides had excelled themselves as hostesses of the evening.

Delicious...for toasted through and through in huge electric ovens

Plump, whole grains are cooked, drawn to a ribbon of open texture, and rolled to Muffets size and shape. Then baked and toasted in huge electric ovens.

MUFFETS could not be better for you than they are. For they give you the nourishment, the energy value, the mineral and the bran of the whole wheat. And in addition, Muffets is the only whole wheat biscuit which contains the sunshine Vitamin D, rarest of all the vitamins.

On Friday evening about eighty-five friends and neighoors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill in Smith for a social evening in honor of Mr. and Mrs. James Freebora (nee Violet Bullock), who were married recently.

The first part of the evening was spent in dancing, which commenced about 9.30, with music provided by Messrs. K. Lane, Gordon and Percy Northey, with Mrs. Gordon Northey at the piano.

At 11.30 Mr. Roy Bullock asked Mr. and Mrs. Freeborn to take seats in the centre of the dining-room, while Mrs. Roy Bullock read an address expressing the felicitations and kindly wishes of many friends to the young couple who so lately embarked on the sea of matrimony. Misses Viola Davis and Thelma Duggan carried in a very prettily decorated basket filled to capacity with gifts in a great variety, and Messrs. Roy Bullock and John Armstrong carried in a second basket, also filled with gifts, each accompanied by a personal message of good wishes. Misses Davis and Duggan assisted the bride in unwrapping the gifts. Mr. Freeborn responded gracefully on behalf of himself and his wife, and the company joined in singing "For They Are Jolly Good Fellows."

Refreshments were served and a social hour spent, afterwards dancing was resumed and continued till the "wee sma' hours."

Before the party broke up a hearty vote of thanks was given to Mr. and Mrs. Hill for their hospitality, on motion of Messrs. Roy Bullock and John Armstrong, and heartily endorsed by all present.

Illustrated Lecture to be Given in Collegiate Auditorium on Friday Night.

HUMANE WEEK

On Friday evening of this week, in the auditorium of the Collegiate Institute, Miss Marshall Saunders of Toronto will give an illustrated address, on "How Birds and Animals Resemble Human Beings."

The appearance here of one of the best known women writers of the Dominion, author of "Beautiful Joe," that classic story of animal and dog life, coincides with the holding of Humane Week, which begins here on May 22nd, recognized for the first time in Peterborough and to be marked by a comprehensive and impressive program designed to enlist public support in the work of the Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals.

Miss Saunders, whose book, "Beautiful Joe," has attained a circulation of over half a million copies and has been translated into many foreign languages, was born in Nova Scotia. She was educated there, in Scotland and in France, is an honory M.A. of Acadia University, Nova Scotia, and holds a medal and diploma from the Societe Protectrice des Animaux of Paris. After extensive travelling in Europe and America, she settled in Lawrence Park, Toronto, where, in her pleasant home, she is surrounded by her furred and feathered friends. She is the author of twenty-five books.

The following are some of the press notices which have followed Miss Saunders' addresses in other cities:—

"In an informal and engaging manner Miss Marshall Saunders told of her book, "Beautiful Joe." Her ingenuous manner and running fire of humor were greatly enjoyed by the Convocation Hall audience."—The Globe, Toronto.

"At the annual banquet of the Canadian Authors' convention, Miss Saunders' address was witty, and most of the time she was on her feet was spent by her waiting for laughter and applause to subside."—The Gazette, Montreal.

"At the joint banquet of District No. 5, of the Ontario Public School Men and Women's Federation, Miss Marshall Saunders thoroughly delighted the large gathering with humorous quips taken from her vast field of experience in various corners of the earth."—The Standard, St. Catharines.

The hip yoke of the circular skirt is the smartest depth to give the matronly figure slenderness.

There are many lovely materials that adapt themselves admirably to this model as flat crepe silk in plain or print, crinkle crepe silk and sheer woolens.

Plans were made for the June meeting when the departmental speaker will be present. It was moved by Mrs. J. R. Brown and seconded by Mrs. A. Haslett that the federation fees be paid. It was suggested that any contributions of clothing which anyone should wish to give to the Children's Shelter, be brought in to the May meeting. Community singing was enjoyed by all.

The following program was then given: Mrs. Allan McComb gave an interesting paper on "Education." A well prepared paper on "The League of Nations" was given by Mrs. H. A. Bunt. Mrs. I. Brown gave a comic reading on "Mother's Day." This part of the program was followed by community singing.

A menu contest is put on by Mrs J. S. McKeown. The meeting was closed with the singing of "The National Anthem." A tasty lunch was then served and a social half hour enjoyed by all.

OUR MAIL

Dear Anne:

Do the neighbors feel they should not write you, for fear of taking up space? I have felt that way and again I feel you need us, just as we need you.

It is busy I have been, these last few weeks. I do not think I ever had over fifteen minutes without an interruption of some kind. Home-kepeing and home-making are difficult under these circumstances.

Oh, is not this Spring lovely? When cash is a bit scarce, what pleasures there are that money cannot buy? Barring the fact that if work must be done I like to get it done, I am no lover of dish washing, but the table faces a window and the view is most interesting Black squirrels scamper around and it is fun to watch them crossing an open space.

The phoebes are busy repairing their nests under the eave; song sparrows, English sparrows, chipping sparrows—all come along. Yesterday I had a glimpse of my little humming bird, so on the window sill must go a little jar of sweetened water—they like it. Today several times I noticed when robin-red breast appeared the smaller birds all took to their wings. It is great fun, too, to see the birds pick out suitable pieces of grass. It is a constant joy to watch them.

Did you ever see birds play games? I have seen a well-ordered game of pussy-wants-a-corner, played by six robins, five corners, equi-distant.

Some man from Lifford wrote some rhymes about waste of maple sap. He may not read this page, but his wife may. Why Anne, the sap may be sweet that runs now, or last week after the spiles were removed, but it does not make good syrup, nor will it make any but a poor quality of soft sugar. Many boil it down three-fourths and make vinegar. When the sap begins to deteriorate, it is waste of time for a farmer to fuss with it. The product could not be sold and he is not particularly fond of it himself. Sometimes he does let someone who would care for it, who knows how and who has time, boil down the darkened sap and generally aid in or do the washing up, for what he gets, but the outfit at best is expensive and it would not do to let everyone tackle it, nor would you care to offer everyone, even if you did think they needed it—they might be insulted to be offered an inferior product. Most bush owners do give away a lot, but I fear the man from Lifford Line did not know all about a bush.

Then this was a strange season. Hot weather came, then rain and a few other things that mean poor sap and several people planned to take in buckets. Cold, clear days came and some had the buckets in, and if such were the case, it was not worthwhile to put them out again. I notice in many things there are people who think there is waste when there is none, also to think there is no waste where there is any amount of it.

What a splendid talk you gave us today on household and homemakers' planning! Thanks to all your helps and best wishes to you.

Sincerely,
QUID EST.

I must confess I do not know why the neighbors do not write unless they feel they cannot afford the time at this busy season, and I am indeed grateful to you for your letter, Quid Est. Yes, indeed, this is a lovely season, but I have never seen birds play games, that I can recall, now. Thank you, Quid Est, for your explanation about the sap. With kind regards.

Sincerely,
Anne Wilcox

Start This Autumn To Raise Lusitania

NEW YORK, May 4.—Capt. Hilton H. Railey, who, with Simon Lake, the inventor of the submarine, hopes to raise the liner Lusitania which one of them sunk during the war, states actual work on the project will begin early this fall.

Capt. Railey, who has just arrived from Europe, said he hoped to locate the sunken vessel within 48 hours after the salvage party arrives on the scene.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox.

I wonder if it sometimes seems to you parents, that your children are very heedless of instructions given them?

* * * * * * *

If you, yourselves look back, however, you will find that there still remain vivid impressions of certain special rules laid down by your parents which, even to this day, remain important enough to be followed even after the many years since your childhood.

* * * * * * *

Some of these rules affected little habits, things which did not seem worthwhile, until in later times you came to appreciate that attention to small things is important to the good order of a house and to the forming of habits that will make life easier for yourselves and others as the days go by.

* * * * * * *

Are you particular not to slam doors, but to close them quietly and securely? If you shut them softly, it is not because when you were little, mother made you come back, if you slammed the door, and you were made to shut it properly?

* * * * * * *

Sometime ago when reading an item which had to do with this same subject, I read of a grown woman who said, "I can remember so well how it was impressed upon me as a child that I must never leave bureau drawers partially shut. Even to this day, I will go upstairs and shut them, if I remember they have not been closed properly."

* * * * * * *

Perhaps you will remember distinctly that when father's pencil was borrowed and he was always willing to lend it, it just had to be returned. It was unthinkable not to give it back to him.

* * * * * * *

There lingers, no doubt, no memory of reproof or punishment if it were not returned—but then, somehow it always was. It becomes a habit to return pencils, or other writing accessories, such as pens, etc., from whomsoever they were borrowed. To return whatever was borrowed became a habit.

* * * * * * *

Little incidents, these, you will say, but they go to prove that impressions which last down through the years are often made on children by parents who are helping them to form good habits.

* * * * * * *

This is a cheering thought when progress and improvement seem slow.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

169

THE CHOICE OF A DECLARATION

By correct use of the Approach principle, partners are assured of reaching the best eventual declaration in the combined hands, whether that declaration is notrump or a suit.

The Opening bid of a notrump implies the same minimum of honor-tricks, but denies the possession of a biddable suit. Thus the Responding Hand is immediately able to draw the inference that when notrump is the opening declaration, the Opening Hand did not contain a biddable suit for the reason that those who use the Culbertson (Approach-Forcing) System of bidding always declare a biddable suit, even a four-card minor, in preference to the less illuminating notrump declaration.

The Approach principle does not decrease the number of safe notrump contracts eventually reached. However, it is an insurance against playing a hand at notrump, which should be played at a suit, as today's hand aptly illustrates.

Neither side vulnerable.

South—Dealer.

	♠ A K 8 4 ♡ A ◇ J 7 5 3 ♣ A 8 5 2
♠ Q 9 2 ♡ 8 6 5 ◇ 9 8 4 ♣ K J 10 3	N W E S	♠ 10 6 ♡ J 10 9 3 2 ◇ Q 10 6 2 ♣ 6 4
	♠ J 7 5 3 ♡ K Q 7 4 ◇ A K ♣ Q 9 7

The Bidding:

(Figures after bids in table refer to numbered explanatory paragraphs.)

South	West	North	East
1NT(1)	Pass	3♠(2)	Pass
5♠(3)	Pass	6♠(4)	Pass
Pass	Pass

1—No biddable suit here.
2—A Forcing Takeout, justified by the 4 honor-tricks, as well as the 4-4-4-1 distribution.
3—The Opening Hand, holding one full honor-trick above the requirements for his Opening bid and adequate support for the spade suit, somewhat optimistically asks his partner to bid for Slam if his hand contains anything more than required for his Forcing Takeout.
4—North does hold one additional honor-trick, although his decision to bid for Slam is questionable.

Before entering into a detailed discussion of the play, it might be well to point out how much better the hand plays at spades than at notrump. If South played a notrump contract, West would open from either his worthless heart or diamond holding, and while South would score game, a Slam would be impossible against even mediocre defense.

When Dummy went down North saw that he had undertaken a contract which would require the most precise play to fulfill. He knew nothing of the distribution of the adverse trumps, of which there were five outstanding with one probable winner. The club situation also was far from satisfactory as only two of his losing clubs could be discarded on Dummy's hearts. North, however, made the only play to give him a chance to make his contract and that was by the elimination of the two red suits from his own and the Dummy hand and then the use of a small trump as an exit card.

The Opening lead was the Knave of hearts, which was won by the Declarer with the Ace. Two rounds of diamonds were then taken, and the Declarer returned to his own hand with the King of spades. A diamond was then ruffed in Dummy and the King and Queen of hearts led, upon which the Declarer discarded two losing clubs. He returned to his own hand with the Ace of spades to lead the last diamond to the Dummy. Both opponents had followed to both rounds of spades, so the only trump outstanding was the Queen. Now Dummy's last heart was led and trumped by the Declarer, who used his last trump to throw West in the lead on the eleventh trick.

West had nothing left in his hand except clubs, North's careful play having accomplished the desired end. The last two tricks were won by the Ace and Queen of clubs.

Failure to eliminate the red suits from both the closed and Dummy hands and the use of the last trump to throw the lead would have resulted in the defeat of the contract. Accurate bidding determines the best eventual contract; accurate play is frequently necessary to the fulfillment of that contract.

TODAY'S POINTER

Question: What is needed to score three notrump?

Answer: Honor-trick strength in the combined hands to total 5-½ honor-tricks.

MUSCULAR RHEUMATISM
Could Not Raise Arms

Haversville, Ont., —"I was troubled so with muscular rheumatism in my arms that I could not raise them above my shoulders, not even to comb my hair. I had no strength at all and was unable to do my own housework," said Mrs. Walter Forsyth, R.R. 1, "I suffered severely all the time. I could not walk any farther than about fifty yards. Taking Dr. Pierce's advice I used the 'Anuric Tablets' and the 'Golden Medical Discovery' for six months and the effect was wonderful. I had taken many other medicines before to no avail. I am now able to do anything, and walk with pleasure." Druggists.

Numbers Are Drawn For Refrigerator

The prize drawing for a Canadian General Electric refrigerator, given by Fitzpatrick and Geraghty, grocers, was conducted at the end of the first show at the Capitol Theatre last evening in the presence of a large audience. Three numbers were drawn by His Worship Mayor R. Denne, in the following rotation: 76150; 20072; 14459. The first number has prior claim to the prize, the other two numbers having been also drawn in case that ticket happened to be lost or missing.

LAMB WITH VEGETABLES.

Two and one-half pounds lamb shoulder; 1 pound green peas; 10 small onions; 8 small carrots; salt and pepper.

Cut the lamb into three-inch pieces Place in a kettle, cover with just enough boiling water to cover and cook slowly until tender (about two hours). After the first hour of cooking add the whole carrots, onions, salt and pepper. Cook the peas separately in just enough water to prevent burning. When finished cooking thicken the gravy and lay the dumplings on top of the meat and vegetables. Cover closely and steam ten minutes. Serve immediately with the peas scattered over the top.

APRICOT RICE PUDDING.

One cup rice; ½ pound dried apricots; ½ cup sugar; 2 tablespoons butter; 4 cups cold water.

Wash the rice well and put in a casserole. Then cut the apricots in small pieces after they have been washed and add them and the other ingredients to the rice. Cover and bake in moderate oven (350 degrees Fahrenheit) one and one-half hours. Serve with heavy cream or with apricot sauce.

APRICOT SAUCE.

Half pound dried apricots; 1-3 cup sugar; 6 tablespoons water; 1 tablespoon lemon juice.

Soak the apricots and cook slowly until tender. Put through a strainer. This amount of dried fruit will yield about three-fourths cup of strained pulp. Add sugar and water and cook about five minutes. Add the lemon juice and serve either hot or cold. If the sauce thickens when cold and is desired thinner add a tablespoon more water and mix thoroughly.

Skeeters Defeat Red Wings 6-5 in 16 Innings

BIRDS BEAT BUFFALO 7–2

George Puccinelli Clouts His Ninth Homer Of Year In Rochester Game.

ROYALS BEAT KEYS.

(By The Associated Press)

Jersey City, perenial tail enders in the International League, may do some tall climbing this season with the assistance of the Brooklyn Dodgers.

The Dodger management took out an option on the Skeeters last week and already has sent there pitchers Phil Gallivan and Earl Mattingly and infielders Jackie Warner and Bobby Reis.

Mattingly, in his first start in a Jersey City uniform, beat the champion Rochester Red Wings, 6-5 in 16 innings, longest game of the season. He was pounded for eight hits and five runs in the first six innings but blanked the Redwings with five hits over the last ten innings. Jersey City won the ball game in the 16th on a single by Hunnefield, Clancy's double and Clyde Barnhart's single, his fourth hit of the game. George Puccinelli clouted his ninth homer of the year, a wallop over the centrefield fence cleared only once before. A crowd of 15,000 saw the battle.

Trounce Bisons 7-2

Baltimore gave the "south" an even break in the first four games in the north by walloping the Buffalo Bisons, 7-2. The Orioles pounded Joe Bloomer for four runs in the fourth and added three more off Slim Brewer in the ninth when Frank Packard belted a homer with two on. A crowd of 19,835 looked on in dismay as Ken Holloway held the slugging Bisons to six hits.

An opening-day crowd of 8,000 watched Montreal outpoint the Reading Keys in a wild slugging affair, 12-6. Walters, with a home run, two doubles and a single, led a 16-hit Montreal assault on three Reading marksmen. Gowell Claset was reached for only seven hits and two earned runs but his support left something to be desired.

HUNGARY BEATS FINLAND

BUDAPEST, Hungary, May 4.—Hungary yesterday defeated Finland in the first two matches of their first round of Davis Cup series. Baron Von Kehrling won from Bloudet 6—1, 6—2, 6—2 and E. Gabrowitz defeated Grotenfeld 6—0, 6—2, 6—1.

The winner of the series, which continues to-day and Thursday, will meet Ireland in the second round of European zone play.

Yesterday's Stars

Oscar Melillo, Browns—Drubbed Indian pitching for four singles and scored three runs.

George Earnshaw, Athletics—Held Red Sox to four hits.

Sam Rice, Senators — His double in eighth drove in two runs that beat Yankees.

Bill Herman, Cubs—Led Cub attack on Pirates with four hits.

Tom Zachary, Braves—His relief pitching stopped Phils with two hits in five innings.

Johnny Frederick, Dodgers — Hit home run and four singles, driving in four runs, against Giants.

Dizzy Dean, Cardinals—Won first game of year, scattering Reds' eight hits in 9-0 victory.

BRAVES GAIN 1-GAME LEAD

Boston Defeats Phillies 9-4 While Cubs Win From Pirates 8-6.

MACKS COP ANOTHER.

(By Gayle Talbot, Associated Press Sports Writer.)

The Brooklyn Dodgers, who have had neither pitching nor hitting to speak of since they completed their course in calisthenics this spring, at last show symptoms of recovering their batting eyes.

The latent power in the bats of the Flatbush Fusiliers burst forth all of a sudden yesterday against the Giants. Trailing by five runs going into the ninth, they fell on three of McGraw's curvers for eight runs to win 11-7, and leave the Giants in complete possession of the National League cellar.

Johnny Frederick's opening home run was the spark that touched off the rally. It likewise crowded a big day for the Dodger outfielder, who had five hits in six trips and ran his average up to .348, which is high for the club's regulars.

Their timely hitting the last two days has been very heartening to Professor Max Carey's pupils. All along they've been rated a great hitting team on paper, but they haven't been able to collect at the bank.

Braves Retain Lead.

The Boston Braves and Chicago Cubs maintained their fight for first place in the senior league, the Braves clinging to their one-game advantage by beating the Phillies, 9-4, while the Cubs were coming from behind to trim the Pirates 8-6. Barbee, recruit Pittsburgh outfielder, hit a home run.

"Dizzy" Dean, the Cardinals' much publicized rookie, finally came through with a shutout victory over the Cincinnati Reds, 9-0. He struck out four, issued six passes and alowed eight hits, but he had the Reds puzzled in the pinches.

Cards in Old Form

The Cards incidentally, rapidly are beginning to resemble their robust old selves. In winning their last three games, Hallahan, Johnson and Dean have granted the opposition just two runs.

Although three Washington pitchers issued sixteen passes, only two shy of the major league record, the Senators staggered through to a 5-4 win over the Yankees, it was the leaders' third straight over the Yanks and their sixth win in a row. Sam Rice's double knocked in the winning runs in the last of the eighth after walks had put the Yankees ahead in their half.

Cleveland's winning streak was snapped at nine straight when the St. Louis Browns outslugged the Indians, 11-8, Oscar Melillo featured the Browns attack with four singles and scored three times.

Macks Win Another

George Earnshaw was in rare form, yielding only four hits as the Athletics won another from the Boston Red Sox, 6-1. The A's pecked away at Danny MacFayden for three runs in the first eight innings and then fell on Pete Donohue for three more in the ninth. Al Simmons knocked in three runs with a home run and a single.

Detroit and Chicago were rained out.

FRITZ'S SINGLE SCORES CANTRELL IN ONLY RUN

League Leaders Humbled As Daly Men Pound Holsclaw From Box.

AN ERRORLESS GAME.

TORONTO, May 4. — Toronto Leafs gladdened the hearts of some eight thousand ball fans this afternoon by handing a 1 to 0 defeat to the leading Newark Bears. Guy Cantrell, mindful of the defeat the Bears handed him in the opener at Newark on a home run with the bases crowded in the closing innings, bore down yesterday afternoon and tamed the aspiring champions. He allowed them only six hits and though he walked six he was never in trouble and except for those six hits not a hard chance was made off him.

His support was faultless and when danger threatened the big fellow burned them across. He also scored the one run of the game. His single with one out in the third blazed the way and Morehart's double and Fritz's single completed the job. Every man on the Toronto team except Owen had one hit and walker made his a triple and Morehart's was a double.

The Leafs looked very impressive behind pitching like that.

The opening ceremonies were simple. The City Hall contingent, directors of the club and the two teams marched behind the band to centre field where the flags were raised. Mayor Stewart then tossed the ball to Guy Cantrell and the game was on.

"Vic" Gianelli was the marshal and master of ceremonies.

Mayor Stewart with five cameras focused on him tossed the ball from the plate to pitcher Cantrell and the game was on.

THURSDAY REVIVAL NIGHT FEATURE "GOOD NEWS"

FLYING TACKLES ARE FEATURE OF CONACHER'S INITIAL WIN

"Big Train" Looms as Canada's Hope for Heavyweight Wrestling Champ.

GOOD DEFENSIVE WORK.

TORONTO, May 4 (C.P.)—Canada's hope for a wrestling heavyweight champion of the world is Lionel Conacher, the "large locomotive" and one of the greatest athletes this country has ever known. With a reputation gained on rugby and lacrosse fields, on hockey rinks and boxing rings, the "Big Train" last night made his debut in the professional wrestling ranks and looked like the proverbial million dollars.

Carl Popspeshil of Boston, was "Conny's" first opponent, and he never had a chance. The "Big Train" swung onto the main line and flopped Carl for two straight falls in somewhat less than 15 minutes. And the powerful leg drive which carried Conacher through so many rugby lines was partly responsible. The terrific flying tackle, one of the most punishing phases of wrestling, landed on Pospeshil's midriff time after time, and was followed by Conacher's entire weight for the pinning-down process.

Conacher was trained down to the finest. He possesses unusual speed, unusual strength. Also he is clever, Pospeshil tried desperately to pin his flying opponent with punishing holds, only to have Conacher spin out of them and turn the tables. Several times Conacher twisted out of his opponent's grip to retaliate with a body scissors which made Carl grunt heavily. Lionel looked and acted the part of a real wrestler.

YOUNG SPORTS WOMAN EARNS PLAUDITS OF TENNIS WORLD

Eighteen Year Od Kathleen Stammers is Sensation in British Net Circles.

SHOULD GO FAR.

LONDON, May 4.— (Special to The Examiner)—British lawn tennis enthusiasts are rejoicing over a new "find"—18-year-old Kathleen Stammers, who has cleaned up the feminine court field in winning the Surrey championship.

Here are some of her victims: Mrs. Wheatcroft, who ranks about eighth; Mrs. Michel, former covered court champion; Miss Joan Ridley, who did so well in America last year; Miss Mary Heeley, one of the strongest British players, and Miss D. E. Round, a Wightman Cup player last year.

Just as Miss Round jumped into the limelight unexpectedly last season, so has Miss Stammers come into prominence this year. She has the courage of youth, a fine selection of strokes, good strength, good head and a remarkable temperament. She won her championship in the fouler; sort of English weather.

Is Hard Hitter

Her chief asset is sustained hard hitting—"cover blasting," they call it here. She has lasting qualities, too. She was stronger at the end than at the start of her two-hour match with Miss Heeley. She has no mannerisms of the court and her expression would not alter were she to serve three double-faults running—which she has done.

In demeanor on and off the court, Kathleen somewhat resembles Mrs. Helen Wills Moody. She is slightly above medium height, quiet and attractive. Her mother watches her in every game and helps to analyze her faults.

Has International Aspirations

D. Maskell, British professional champion, and Mrs. Larcombe are coaching Miss Stammers, who intends to play in the big tournaments this season, at Bournemouth as well as Wimbledon. Kathleen says: "Up to the present I have played only in my spare time. Now that I've left school, I shall devote myself to it seriously. I should, of course, like to play on the Wightman Cup team this year. Perhaps an invitation will come later—the trials are not over until June."

All four of the players beaten by Miss Stammers in the Surrey championships played in the Queen's Club trials recently, but she was not included.

FAVORS U. S. TO WIN

CHERBOURG, France, May 4.—(A.P.) Mrs. Helen Wills Moody arrived here to-day with the prediction the United States would win the Davis Cup this year unless Rene Lacoste returned to the French team with much of his old time wizardry.

Mrs. Moody is here to play in the French hard court championships before proceeding to Wimbledon for the Wightman cup matches and the Wimbledon tournament.

CASUAL COMMENT

Prospects are bright for another big year in the Girls' Softball League. Their second annual meeting was held last night in Duffus', and a good turnout of those interested entered teams and elected officers. Russ Kitchen got the duke again as president, showing the gals appreciated the efficient manner in which he piloted their ship last year, the organization-year of this loop.

• • • • • •

The rest of the officers and executive members are good bets, too. There are three girls included, Kay Ashmore as secretary, and Helen Nelson and Olive Prest on the executive. More girls would be running the league but most of them prefer to let their more experienced brothers do the work, just so long as they have a say and can participate in the games. And that's sensible.

• • • • • •

Nine teams expect to be in this year: Maple Leafs, Rovers, Sixth Line, Keene, Brintons, C.G.E., Westclox, My Valet and Choates. There may be a tenth as both Auburns and Lakefield were mentioned. Any other girls' teams anxious to join should apply at the next meeting, May 9th.

• • • • • •

A number of the outfits are pretty well organized already and getting in some early practices, the Oval being the popular spot just now. There'll be a few changes on the Keene and Sixth Line teams from last year, but both expect to be strong as ever. The smiling red-headed Sixth Line shortstop will be absent, matrimony having scored a shutout. All in all, we expect to see a bunch of evenly-matched squads battling hard throughout the schedule for the silverware.

• • • • • •

Merchants and citizens generally are advised to check up before coughing up any money when young boys request it to aid a team or league. Some of them may be legitimate, but some are certainly not. Deserving kids' teams are okay and ought to be helped along, but it doesn't do any harm to ask a few questions before reaching for the roll.

• • • • • •

The senior prospects will practise outdoors this evening at Stevenson Park if it doesn't rain, otherwise it will be at the "Y" again. All those players who have been attending the workouts and any others with hopes of catching places should be over there at six bells—or if it's the "Y", then seven as usual.

• • • • • •

At the Board of Education meeting last night, the Property Committee brought up the Men's Softball League's request for Central School grounds for the summer, the league to take care of the grounds and be responsible for any damage occurring during games. There was no dissenting voice and this loop will be back there again.

• • • • • •

Things in the City Lacrosse League are shaping up well. The C. G. E. club has organized, some twenty enthusiasts attending the meeting. Bud Fisher was elected president, while Eddie Foley is manager and coach. Grant Palmer will act as secretary for the club. With some of the players already lined up, the outfit will be ready and working out shortly.

• • • • • •

The Inter-Alley League schedule closed last night at K. of C. with Duffus No. 3 team making a clean sweep of the points, finishing the season with just two losses. Some of the bowlers were going strong, Tommy Cupoli smacking 'em hard for 797, Fred Scates getting 746 and Vince Anthony counting 690. Playoffs are tomorrow night.

• • • • • •

There was some pretty fair pin-dumping seen at the Duffus Alleys last night as the first contingent of marathoners did their stuff. Some of them found ten straight games was just about all they cared for in an evening while others didn't seem to mind the grind so much. They drew considerable attention, bowling fans evidently getting a kick out of seeing the topnotchers of the city having to really work up a sweat—and we don't mean perspiration! The marathon competition continues every evening this week with more signing for it.

NINE TEAMS GIRLS' LOOP

Maple Leafs And My Valet Are Newcomers To Mush Ball Game.

ELECT OFFICERS.

Nine teams will make up the Girls' Softball League this year, according to the various representatives present at the annual meeting in Duffus' last night. About thirty were present, half of them girls, and the election of officers and entry of teams was about the only business handled. Russ Kitchen was re-elected president by acclamation.

The teams which have signified their intentions of entering the league this year are: Keene, Sixth Line, Brintons, Rovers, C.G.E., Westclox, Choates, Maple Leafs and My Valet. The last two are newcovers. Auburns had no representative on hand, nor did they send any word of their plans for this summer. Lakefield was spoken of as a possible entry.

Elect Officers,

Roy Parnell occupied the chair during the election of officers, which followed the reading of the minutes and the financial report. It was voted to return the three honorary presidents of last year, G. N. Gordon, J. J. Duffus and J. P. Bond. Three were nominated for the office of president, Russ Kitchen, Leo Martyn and Roy Parnell. The last two declined to stand the Mr. Kitchen was returned by acclamation.

Nominees for the office of vice-president were Jim Hall, Leo Martyn and H. G. E. Choate, with Mr. Hall elected. Kay Ashmore was returned as secretary and Leo Martyn as treasurer, both unanimously. The executive, in addition to the officers, is composed of Helen Nelson, Olive Prest, H. G. E. Choate, Fred. Scates and Mike Latimer.

President Kitchen then took over the chair and called for entries. Nine teams were assured, two of them being newcomers. There was some discussion on a tenth team, but this was left over till the next meeting. A deputation, made up of Roy Parnell and Mr. Choate, will request the Council to fix the grounds at the East City Bowl again.

There was some talk on the matter of raising the entrance fee, five dollars last year, or leaving it the same. Teams in last summer have their fees paid from then. It was finally decided to settle this question at the next league meeting, which will be held at eight o'clock in Duffus' next Monday night, May 9th. The executive will appoint the umpire-in-chief for the year. Following some further discussion, the meeting adjourned.

Practices

ROTARY BANTAMS

The Rotary Bantams, of the City League, will workodt at six tomorrow evening at Stevenson Park. All players are invited to try out for the various positions, still open.

FOSTER JUNIORS

Foster Athletic Club juniors will hold a practise to-morrow night (Thursday) at 6 o'clock in Exhibition park. Some positions still open.

TROJANS BEATEN IN INITIAL GAME

Winnipeg Toilers Score 39-37 Victory in Canadian Cage Play-off.

SAINT JOHN, May 4. (CP) — Striving to win their first Dominion basketball championship, Saint John Trojans lost out by only two points last night in the first match of the series with Winnipeg Toilers for the Canadian title. The Toilers won by 39-37. Whether or not they can repeat their victory at the second game to-morrow night was the big question to-day. If not, a third game Saturday will be necessary.

Toilers were conceded to have the smoothest playing machine. As the game opened last night their combination work seemed to leave the Trojans flat-footed. But the local players soon stepped into their fighting form and at the end of the first half the teams were deadlocked with 19 points each. The play proceeded at a furious rate, both sides running neck and neck. With the score tied, 37-37, Silverthorne tossed the decisive basket for Winnipeg.

TECUMSEHS BEATEN IN OPENING MATCH

Maple Leafs Capture International Lacrosse League Opener 12-5.

TORONTO, May 4.—Maple Leafs gave their intra-city rivals, Tecumsehs, a 12 to 5 beating in the local opening of the International Lacrosse League at the Maple Leaf Gardens last night. The game, considering that it was the first contest of the season, was a good exhibition of the Canadian pastime and gave the crowd of about 4,000 fans a real chance to sum up the strength of the two teams. "King" Clancy, popular defense player of the Maple Leafs hockey team, faced the ball off to start the teams on their way, and from then until the last period it was quite a problem to figure out who would come out on top.

Tecumsehs took an early lead, scoring two goals in little less than a minute, only to have Teddy Reeves' team come back and tie the score. The tally see-sawed back and forth and th.. Maple Leafs enjoyed a two-goal lead at the end of the second period. The final period was all Leafs and they scored five times to make the game somewhat of a runaway.

Frenchy Belanger Attempts Comeback

TORONTO, May 4 (C.P.)—Albert (Frenchy) Belanger, play-boy of local boxing rings and former flyweight champion of the world, is to attempt a comeback; this time as a bantamweight. Within two weeks, the beady-eyed little Frenchman, once one of the greatest fighters in the world, will meet an opponent in a Toronto ring.

In the land where the wind whistles through the pines, he toiled mightily. For six months he had chopped wood, help build roads and labored hard.

Now a little heavier, but this time with muscle; his face burned to bronze with the sun and snow and wind, Frenchy is back in town. He haunts a local gymnasium day after day, and works. It is serious business now with Frenchy, for the comeback trail is a long one.

Kaufman's Tick-On Is Derby Favorite

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 4. (CP) A Whitney horse may win the Kentucky derby after all, in the opinion of scores of railbirds who thronged Churchill Downs to watch the first gallops by Stepenfetchit and overtime, Mrs. John Hay Whitney's eligibles for Saturday's $50,000 classic.

Withdrawal of C. V. Whitney's crack filly Top Flight and Mrs. Payne Whitney's Curacao from the derby field left Mrs. John Hay Whitney the only member of that prominent turf family to have representation in the historic race.

Mrs. L. G. Kaufman's Tick On is the pre-derby favorite and the leading eastern candidate. Col. E. R. Bradley's entry of Brother Joe and Burgoo King bear the hopes of the west. Thomas M. Cassidy's Universe, winner of the Wood Memorial, is another highly favored eastern candidate along with the Whitney pair.

Bonny Bright Eyes Is Chester Winner

CHESTER, Eng., May 4. (CP)—Bonny Bright Eyes finished the two miles and a quarter only a half length ahead of Blue Vision, with Ut Majeur three lengths further back.

The winner was 20 to one in the betting with Blue Vision 13-2 and Ut Majeur 9-2.

The stakes were £2,560 with extras.

The race was first run in 1824 and brings out the best of the long distance handicap racers. Athford, good Irish horse who won the cup in 1929, the next year trounced Reigh Count, United States champion of 1929, in the Newbury spring cup and the Kempton Park great jubilee handicap, although Reigh Count later rounded into shape to take the Coronation stakes at Epsom and run second to Invershin in the famous Ascot gold cup.

Australians Lose One Match Tuesday

LOS ANGELES, May 14.—(C.P.)—Davis Cup tennis stars of Australia were prepared to renew their assault on Southern California players to-day after taking the edge in yesterday's exhibitions.

The invaders lost only one match Lester Stoefen, city champion by virtue of his triumph over Ellsworth Vines, Jr., United States' singles titleholder, won from Harry Hopman, 3-6, 6-3, 6-2.

Jack Crawford defeated Alan Harrington, formerly of Stanford, 12-10, 12-10, while the Australian doubles team of Cliff Sproule and Jon Clemenger defeated Gerald Bartosh and Jack Tidball, 1-6, 7-5, 6-2.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

REDDY LOSES HIS APPETITE.

Some appetites so much may cost
Your gain is greatest when they're lost.
—Reddy Fox.

Reddy Fox couldn't keep away from the pond of Paddy the Beaver. He had seen Honker the Goose and his flock pass high over the Old Pasture, honking as they flew, and had watched them slant down and down until they disappeared among the trees of the Green Forest.

"They have gone down to the pond of Paddy the Beaver," said he to Mrs. Reddy. "Hurry, my dear. We must get over there as soon as possible. They will spend the night there, and while I do not expect we will have a chance to catch one of them there is always a possibility that one may be careless. My, my, what wouldn't I give for a dinner of Goose!"

So Reddy and Mrs. Reddy had hurried over to the Green Forest and trotted through it to the pond of Paddy the Beaver, just as they had done every spring and fall for several years when the Geese rested there on their long journey either way. They simply couldn't stay away. As usual they found that there were others on hand, others who like themselves had an appetite for goose. And as usual they found that wise old Honker was in charge of the flock and quite aware of the hungry folk prowling or hiding around the edge of the pond.

Mrs. Reddy didn't remain long. "What is the use?" she demanded. "It will only be wasting time. I am going hunting where there are not so many hunters. A couple of fat Mice in my stomach will be far more satisfying than an eyeful of Geese that I cannot catch."

But Reddy would not give up so easily and Mrs. Reddy finally left him lying hidden where he could watch those Geese. All that night he remained there without once having a shadow of a chance of catching one of those big birds.

"I suppose that they will leave as usual at daylight," thought he disconsolately. So you can guess how delighted he was when, after much gabbling, the flock settled down to stay for that day and another night. Every time he looked at one of those great birds Reddy's mouth watered, which meant that it was watering most of the time, for there were few moments that he didn't have his eyes on one or more of those Geese. The more his mouth watered the greater became his appetite. He was ready to take almost any chance to try to catch one. But he didn't have much hope that a chance would come. In the first place there was wise old Honker at the head of the flock and on guard most of the time. Then, too, most of the flock were old, with the wisdom of long experience.

However, there was the young gander whom Jerry Muskrat had warned just in time the night before, and two or three others of about his age. One of them might, just might, happen to make a mistake or be a bit careless. So Reddy waited and watched and watched and waited and his mouth watered and his appetite grew. And at last the very thing happened that he had hoped for but not expected: a young Goose came ashore right in front of the place where Reddy was hiding and squatted down, with her back to him.

Reddy quivered all over. He quivered so with eagerness that it was a wonder he did not make some of the leaves rustle. He waited until he was sure that she intended to remain there. Then he began to creep slowly carefully, an inch at a time, pausing and holding his breath every time that Goose moved the least bit. Now his mouth watered more than ever. It was too good to be true. Yes, sir, it was too good to be true. That dinner of goose was already as good as his. Anyway that is the way he felt about it.

And then for no apparent reason that Goose got to her feet, turned and looked straight at him. It was now or never. Reddy leaped for that long neck and—was knocked sprawling by a blow from a great wing! Instantly he was on his feet, leaping for that long snaky neck and getting only a mouthful of stiff wing feathers. By this time old Honker was coming, half running, half flying, his long neck outstretched and hissing angrily. It was right then that Reddy lost his appetite.

What To-Day Means To You

"TAURUS"

If May 4th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 8:10 a.m. to 10 a.m., from 3:45 p.m. to 5 p.m., and from 10 p.m. to 11:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m., and from 7 p.m. to 8:40 p.m.

The astrological promises for May 4th are abundant, and the prizes pleasing in nature. Financial and social positions will be strengthened. The postman will be a welcome visitor, as well as the bearer of many a person's fate. A time of preparation for future turnovers.

The child born on this May 4th will have a robust, enterprising nature, and will begin early in life to do things on its own initiative. Although affectionate and fond of home and home people, it will always resent any attempt to tie it to another's apron strings. It will be full of spontaneous smiles and laughter.

Born on May 4th your character is a compound of contradictions and inconsistencies, and you often envy those other people who are made up of a more harmonious blend. Even when outwardly aloof and contained, you are often a seething volcano within, your outward and inner self at war with each other. Your air of superiority is a mask to conceal ever present qualms of inferiority and uncertainty. Your bold front is a clever trick to distract the eyes of the world from your weaknesses. Your weaknesses are sins of the spirit, not of the flesh; the uncontrolled demands of temperament. Your loves, hatreds, sympathies, prejudices, passions and on through the unlimited score of human emotions are all as transitory as your moods.

You do not mean to be disloyal, but you cannot help being a contradictory companion. You take a bit of understanding, but are worthy of the effort. You can generally be depended upon in the big issues of life. That part of you which is artist appears in everything which you do. Your touch is firm, but dainty. You care little about details, but with the finished job pictured in the back of your mind, work towards the end by whatever means comes to you at the moment. Matrimony is not essential to your happiness.

Hastings

On Tuesday evening friends and neighbors gathered at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Carr of Godolphin to present Mr. and Mrs. Rae Seeney with a miscellaneous shower. Mr. and Mrs. Seeney were married on Wednesday, April 20, and had just returned from their honeymoon. Mrs. Seeney was formerly Miss Zella Carr, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Carr. On Thursday evening a second shower was held at the home of the bridegroom's mother, in Percy. The young couple, who are popular in the community, received many useful and beautiful gifts.

A most successful and pleasant afternoon tea was held on Thursday at the beautiful home of Mrs. Walter Fowlds, under the auspices of the Ladies' Aid of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church. The tables were arranged in the spacious sunroom and the house was tastefully decorated with cut flowers. The guests were received by Mrs. W. Fowlds, Mrs. H. Wilson and Mrs. W. E. Wilson. Tea was poured by Mrs. P. Fife, Mrs. Findly and Mrs. H. McMillan. During the afternoon a very pleasing musical program enhanced the interest of the entertainment: Piano selection by Mrs. Perrin Rork of Norwood; vocal solos by Mrs. E. Birdsall of Birdsall; vocal solo by Miss Margaret Battersby; duet by Sandy and Margaret McDonald.

The merchants of Hastings met in Lynch's Hall on Wednesday evening and presented James McCarthy with a club bag previous to his departure to Port Stanley where he has accepted a position with the steamship company. Alex Wilson, village clerk, read the address on behalf of the merchants.

Mrs. Don Kier of Campbellford spent Thursday with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. Cruickshank.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Ball have been recent visitors with the latter's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. Montgomery.

Mr. Walter Thompson spent Wednesday at the "Manse," the home of Dr. and Mrs. Thompson.

Mr. and Mrs. S. Beamish were recent visitors in Warkworth.

Misses Dorothy Johnston and Peggy Willis, nurses-in-training in Peterborough, spent Thursday evening with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Johnston.

Mrs. E. P. Cuffe and Mrs. Perrin Rork of Norwood spent Thursday afternoon with friends in the village.

Miss Evelyn Graham was a guest of Miss Alice Whitred on Friday.

Mr. Frank Davis is visiting at his home here.

Miss Irene Oliver spent Friday with Mrs. Fred Morrow.

Mr. W. Gillespie and Mr. George Brown motored to Newmarket, Wednesday.

I get a real kick out of watching how my customers act after they've used Marvelube for a while... It's great to see their smiles ... especially the hard-boiled ones who think what I say about Marvelube is just another sales talk ... shucks, I'm no salesman ... I don't have to be ... Marvelube sells itself... it can't help but give better results because it's carbon, gum and sludge free ... it's all oil.

WHITEHALL SEES NUMEROUS SHIFTS

Combing Out Of Departments Comes With Fiscal Policy Change.

(By Thomas T. Champion, C.P. Staff Writer.)

LONDON, May 4.—Great Britain's change of fiscal system has caused a big combing-out and a lot of shifts amongst the government departments in Whitehall. The customs and excise department has been strengthened by 600 civil servants drawn from other offices. Many of these are not at all pleased at being pressed into this new service, and M.P.'s hot-foot on the track of economy are curious to know why it is possible for civil servants to be transferred to new duties if they were putting in a full day's work at their old jobs. The Treasury goes so far as to admit that "many of the posts thus vacated will not need to be continued."

The largest number of recruits comes from the Ministry of Pensions, which has provided 200. Even the exclusive Foreign Office found one person for transfer to the customs, and another solitary recruit is provided from the staff of Broadmoor Criminal Lunatic Asylum.

The present government is barely six months old, and yet it has already appointed six royal commissions or committees. Of committees and commissions appointed by the previous two governments, 20 are still sitting.

REPORT QUOTES JAPANESE DATA

League Group Makes No Recommendations For Fixing Manchurian Blame.

GENEVA, May 4. (A.P.) — The first report of the League of Nations Manchurian enquiry commission, published here to-day, makes no recommendations for fixing responsibility for the situation in Manchuria.

It cites data given by the Japanese authorities setting out that "the Chinese government does not now exercise authority in any part of Manchuria."

It also quotes reports of the Japanese military authorities saying "bandit forces appear to have increased in numbers since the Japanese occupation of Mukden in September."

The Japanese, it said, considered that withdrawal of their troops from Manchuria, as provided in the resolutions of the League of Nations council, depends on the progress of the organization of the the Manchoukuo army, which is estimated now to number 85,000 men.

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION. NO. 87

By Edgar Rice Burroughs
(Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

As Flora Hawkes cried out, the ape-man looked his astonishment. "Esteban?" he exclaimed, "that is not my name." Then the girl recognized him. "Lord Greystoke," she cried, "is it really you?" "Yes," he replied, "and who are you?" "I am Flora Hawkes, once your wife's maid." "Now I remember you," said Tarzan, "but what are YOU doing here, alone in the heart of Africa?" "I dare not tell you," moaned the girl. "Speak," said the ape-man, "Tarzan would not harm a woman."

Haltingly, Flora told him how she and her confederates had come to get gold from the treasure vaults of Opar. How after they had it, he came with his Waziri and took it from them. "Do you mean you were with those Europeans," said Tarzan, "who drugged me and left me in their camp?" "Yes," replied the girl, hanging her head. But Tarzan seemed to forget that affair. "I came with no Waziri and took nothing from you," he said; "I do not understand."

Flora looked her unbelief, yet she knew that Tarzan of the Apes never lied. So she told how Esteban had stolen her from the others. "And then," she said, "Carl came with the diamonds and Esteban killed him, taking the jewels himself." It was now Tarzan's turn to betray surprise. "Come," he said, "we shall find him." "But I cannot walk," Flora replied. "That is a small matter," laughed Tarzan, and stooping, lighted the girl to his shoulder and bore her through the trees.

They stopped once for food and water, which revived the girl. "Why have you saved me?" she asked. "You are a woman," answered Tarzan. "I could not leave you to perish, no matter what you have done." And Flora Hawkes could only sob out a plea for forgiveness for the wrong she had done him. It grew quite dark when, as they moved along the silent trail, the ape-man caught the reflection of firelight. "I think we shall soon find our man," he whispered; "make no noise!"

DEATH HITS MUSICIAN

Carlton Coons Succumbs To Blood Poisoning.

Orchestra To Continue.

CHICAGO, May 4.—Death came to-day to Carlton Coon, 38, and ended a 13-year partnership with Joe Sanders, in the famous Coon-Sanders orchestra—a partnership born of a music store meeting of two World War soldiers and never broken in a rapid climb to fame.

Coon died this morning in Henrotin Hospital of blood poisoning caused by an abscess in the jaw which developed mysteriously last month while he was directing the orchestra jointly with Sanders in a Loop hotel. His admirers will be given an opportunity to view his body as it lays in state in the Loop tomorrow before being moved to Kansas City for burial there Friday.

Meantime, in keeping with all traditions of the show world, his friend and associate, Sanders, announced the orchestra would continue with its engagement here under the name of Coon-Sanders.

"Coonie would want it that way," he said.

NEW BY-LAW FOR HIGHWAY BUSSES

Must Stay Clear of Travelled Portion When Taking or Discharging Passengers.

LINDSAY, May 4.— (Special to The Examiner.)— The local Citizens' Relief Association has decided to continue its relief work during the month of May, notwithstanding the announcement that its activities ceased on the last day of April. The council has promised to back the Association to the extent of $800.00. The council was informed by T. H. Stinson, K.C., M.P., that the Provincial and Federal Governments would continue their contributions to direct relief during May.

At the town council meeting last night, Ald. Martin urged the members to action in an attempt to secure industries for the town. Peterborough and other centres, he pointed out, were able to secure concerns, while no effort was made by Lindsay in that direction. The by-law was introduced by Ald. Morrison, which aimed to prevent transportation busses from using the main highway of the town, taking on and discharging passengers was withdrawn. A new by-law will be introduced to the effect that busses shall drive clear of the travelled portion of the highway when taking on or discharging passengers. The council also went on record as being opposed to the curtailment of the train service on the Haliburton and Coboconk lines of the C.N.R.

Harry Shoniker, who has been forty-five years' service as a railroader on the old Grand Trunk and C.N.R., retired on pension Sunday at the age of 65 years. For the past seventeen years he was attached to the Madoc-Midland mixed.

DAMAGE VERDICT ROUSES JUDGE

Claims Sum Allowed Woman is "Manifestly Unfair and Inadequate."

FAVORS NEW TRIAL.

TORONTO, May 4. — "On the question of damage, there has been in my opinion, a gross miscarriage of justice, and had I the power—which I have not—to direct a new trial, I would do so," declared Mr. Justice Fisher, commenting upon the verdict of the jury in the action of Charles and Gertrude Hazelhurst, Trafalgar township, against Bert Featherstone, Trafalgar township farmer.

In the case, before Mr. Justice Fisher at Milton, Mr. and Mrs. Hazelhurst, claimed damages from Featherstone for injuries suffered by Mrs. Hazelhurst when she was struck down by Featherstone's motor car on Main street, Milton, on June 16, 1931.

Evidence given at the trial says Mr. Justice Fisher in a judgment delivered at Osgoode Hall, was to the effect that Featherstone's car had defective brakes. Mrs. Hazelhurst, according to the medical testimony, had six ribs and one of her legs broken in the accident. The jury at Milton allowed her only $100 damages and her husband $391.

Mr. Justice Fisher confirms the verdict of the jury, but he says that verdict, in so far as it dealt with the female plaintiff, was "manifestly unfair and inadequate" even if she was guilty, in the opinion of the jury, of contributory negligence.

3 Accident Patients Have Left Hospital

Of the four persons admitted to Nicholls Hospital following the driverless car accident at Hunter and George streets Saturday afternoon, only one is still being detained. She is Mrs. Archie Bulmer of R.R. 4 Peterborough who sustained severe abrasions, a badly cut knee and extensive bruises on both legs. Authorities state, Mrs. Bulmer will be sufficiently recovered to leave hospital in a day or two.

Claude Cornwell aged 5 years of Aylmer street and Mrs. Thomas Junkin of Lakefield left hospital on Monday, while Matthew A. Jamieson of London street went home yesterday. It is believed that they are all still under the care of the doctor.

Cardinal Bourne Honored At Dinner

LONDON, May 4. (C. P. Cable)—Francis Cardinal Bourne, is being entertained at a dinner in the House of Commons this evening by Catholic members of the House of Lords and the House of Commons.

It might be incorrect to say that no Cardinal of modern times has had a similar tribute, but the incident is sufficiently rare to be notable.

Cardinal Bourne a few years ago was invited to dinner by Their Majesties at Buckingham Palace, being the first Archbishop of Westminster to be so honored.

100 NEW YORK THEATRES OPERATE MINUS LICENSE

NEW YORK, May 4 (CP)—Approximately 100 theatres in New York have no license to operate, it was disclosed to-day when newspapermen attempted to learn why police prevented the uptown premiere of "The Merry-Go-Round" at the Avon Theatre last night. The play is based on civic corruption.

Edward Culleton, assistant chief clerk of the department of licenses, intimated that many of the theatres without licenses were housing shows, but said that the department had nothing to do with the closing of such shows, that being a police order.

Meat purchased for the British army and air forces in England in the last year weighed 29,5000,000 pounds.

Sales And Service Expand In Business

Radio Sales and Service are now settled in their new quarters, next to Weber's Drug Store, on the north side of Charlotte street, which are larger and more attractive than those in the Greene Building vacated last week. These new premises have been re-decorated and present a bright and cheerful atmosphere admirably adapted to advantageously displaying the several household products for which Radio Sales and Service are sales representatives.

In many ways the move is a desirable one, especially so as the new location is "on the right side of the street" according to business conception of best location, and both Mr. Ernie Lillico and his assistants seem justified in their optimism that early trade expansion will result.

Established in the Greene Building, Charlotte street, in August of 1929, with but one line of merchandise—the DeForest Crosley Radios—Radio Sales and Service may be said to have enjoyed an era of periodical progress, despite adverse trade conditions generally the past two years and a half. To be brief, since their inception, they have added the following products to their sales and servicing business: Frigidaire refrigerators in the spring of 1930; McCleary Electric Ranges in the Spring of 1931; Rogers Radios in the Fall of 1931; the famous Acremeter Tube Tester in January, 1932; and last, but not least, the Norge refrigerator, just recently installed.

RUMOR RUSSIA IN WORLD MART AS WHEAT BUYER

Reports Show Short 1931 Crop With Rationing in Force for New Planting.

FOR SIBERIAN ARMY?

Purchase of American Stock Bound to Favor Canada More Than U.S.

WASHINGTON, May 5.—(AP)—While having no authentic reports, agriculture department grain officials said today it is quite likely that Russia has entered the world wheat market as a buyer and may take quantities of North American stocks.

They said the Soviet had a short crop last year and that rationing has been resorted to, to provide seed for new planting and some wheat for export.

May Be For Army

From press despatches, officials have been wondering if the Russian purchases are not for its army in Siberia. It might be cheaper to buy wheat in Canada and ship it across the Pacific than to bring it up from Russian points.

It was held probable that Russia is buying Western Canadian wheat because it is cheaper, and that may be the means of removing a large part of the North American wheat surplus.

Canada would benefit more than the United States from any wholesale Russian buying inasmuch as it would prove too costly for mid-western United States growers to compete with Vancouver shipments. The exchange rates favor Canada.

CANADIAN GRAIN BOUGHT.

WINNIPEG, May 5 (C.P.). — It was confirmed on the highest authority here to-day that five shipments of Canadian wheat have been sold to Russia. Delivery of grain, about 1,500,000 bushels, will be made to Vladivostok.

"CLEAN UP" MAN FEELS END NEAR

That Brown Hat Tip Warmed Up the Chase.

$10 FOR FRIDAY.

(By Mr. Clean-Up)

We have a hunch that to-day will see the end of this Clean-Up week diversion. Three friends who favor brown hats of the snap brim shape told us this morning that they had been greeted by eager sleuths on the trail of those nine dollars. However, if we get by this afternoon the prize is automatically boosted to ten dollars for Friday. And to win it all you have to do is first arm yourself with a receipt for a dollar purchase at any of the stores then don't forget the prescribed salutation: "You are Mr. Clean-Up." That will net you about two dollars a word on Friday.

Wednesday we hovered around the block from Hunter Street down to Simcoe and then moved our beat to the next block south around four o'clock. In two stores a clerk spotted us as something of a stranger to be suspected, but we didn't consider them as eligible unless they bought something from themselves. Incidentally we want to use this column to-day for a little "plug" for "Viennese Nights", Sigmund Romberg's enduring operetta of the screen which the Nurses' Association have brought back to Peterborough for three nights ending Friday. Its tender charm, wholesomness, and tuneful music is just as fresh and captivating as ever. This Romber work will be classed with "The Merry Widow", "Chocolate Soldier" and "Blossom Time" with a vitality and viability that will give it unfading beauty when most of the other modern productions are forgotten.

Don't miss "Viennese Nights" if you want something really worth while to place to Hollywood's credit. And buy your tickets at Bond's or Kent's and give the Nurses a break.

Well, this looks like the end of our news-writing but possibly we may escape until Friday. If so, it will be the last chance, for on Saturday we may walk down George Street with a set of sandwich-man's boards bearing the words: "I am Mr. Clean-Up," and it might be a safe bet and good psychology that we could get by; like the man who tried to sell dollar bills for a dime and couldn't do an businessy Look for the Brown Hat.

HONOR SLAYERS GET FREEDOM; GOVERNOR COMMUTES TERMS FROM TEN YEARS TO ONE HOUR

Darrow Hints at Federal Action to Restore Civil Rights.

STIRRING TRIAL.

Move for Retrial of Mrs. Massie's Attackers to be Dropped.

HONOLULU, May 5 (C. P.). — Mrs. Granville Fortescue and three Navy men convicted of manslaughter in the lynching of Joseph Kahahawai went free here yesterday after being sentenced to 10 years' imprisonment each, and having their terms commuted to one hour by Governor Lawrence M. Judd.

By spending 60 minutes in the custody of territorial high sheriff, the society matron, her son-in-law, Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, and the two enlisted men, Albert O. Jones and E. J. Lord, satisfied the law and brought an end to the case which had shaken Hawaii politically and socially.

Kahahawai allegedly had confessed participation in a criminal attack on Mrs. Thallia Massie, wife of the lieutenant. The native was abducted and slain early in January.

The commutation also saved the Navy men from having their service records marred by imprisonment. Captain Ward Wortman, Massie's commander, said Federal action would have been necessary to clear their records had they actually been committed to prison, even for an hour.

Not a Pardon.

Harry Hewitt, Attorney-General, said the commutation did not constitute a pardon and did not restore to the four their civil rights Clarence Darrow, veteran chief of defence counsel, said he thought "Federal action might be taken to restore them," adding, "We are satisfied."

Hewitt said he had not determined whether they could be pardoned by the president but added that such action would be "an extraordinary procedure." A move for an outright pardon was begun by a group of citizens.

In commuting the sentence, Governor Judd announced he had acted upon the petition of the four defendants and their counsel asking executive clemency. The Governor also made public a petition bearing the names of 104 members of Congress asking an unconditional pardon for the four.

The four were convicted last Friday after a long trial climaxed by Massie's testimony he shot Kahahawai last January 8 upon hearing the native confess participating with four other men in a criminal assault upon his wife.

No Retrial of Attackers.

Mrs. Fortescue, mother of the attack victim, and the three Navy men will probably leave Hawaii and the four men awaiting retrial on Mrs. Massie's charges probably will not be retried as a result of the commutation.

Darrow announced he would advise Mrs. Massie not to proceed in the retrial and an authoritative source disclosed that the territory probably would not bring up the case again. Without Mrs. Massie, the complaining witness, the prosecution could not proceed.

EYE OPERATION IS SUCCESSFUL

Physicians State Premier McDonald Will be Incapacitated Only Six Weeks.

BLINDNESS AVERTED.

LONDON, May 5 (C.P.)—The operation on Prime Minister Ramsay MacDonald's right eye was successfully carried out this afternoon, it was officially stated by his physician.

The operation, which almost duplicated a previous operation on Mr. MacDonald's left eye, was performed at 4 p.m.

The previous operation, carried out four months ago, was for glaucoma, an ailment which results in painful tension and diminution of vision and, unless properly treated, in blindness. Throughout, however, the Prime Minister's physicians have stated he is not threatened with blindness, and in addition his general health remains excellent.

Mr. MacDonald entered a nursing home preparatory to the operation, last evening, and he will remain incapacitated for about six weeks.

LACK OF CO-OPERATION IN TARIFF RELATIONS BARRIER TO BUSINESS

Sir Wilmott Lewis, Washington Correspondent of London Times, Says United States Is Uneasy About Empire Trade Conference.

INCREASE IN U. S. TARIFF SCHEDULE SHOULD CEMENT EMPIRE SENTIMENT

Nobody Will Be Protected in Actual Results if Present World Policy of Individualism is Pursued.

TORONTO, May 5. —(CP)— British Empire's preparations to arrange reciprocal tariffs at the coming Imperial Conference in Ottawa and the probability of its success are regarded with "considerable anxiety" in United States, Sir Wilmott Lewis said in an interview here today.

Sir Wilmott, who is Washington correspondent for the London Times, said present attempts to turn the United States tax bill into a tariff bill would further aid the success of the Conference.

"If they do raise the Hawley-Smoot tariff schedule," he said, "as they appear to be trying to do, it will be a very considerable signal to the member nations of the British Empire that a beginning of co-operation must be made somewhere and where better could it be arranged than within the British Empire.

"The world is sick for want of co-operation between nations; it is sick from excessive protectionism. We are reaching the paradoxical position where, because everybody is protected, nobody will actually be protected," he continued.

MONEY IN TRUNK LOST IN FLAMES

Gull Lake Resident is Left Destitute by Fire.

HOME DESTROYED.

Dave Bennett, well-known hermit of Gull Lake, was rendered homeless Friday evening when fire swept through his cottage, destroying everything he possessed. The old woodsman, who is counted a friend by all cottagers in the Gull Lake district, was absent from his home when the flames broke out. He returned late in the evening to find a heap of smouldering ruins.

The fire leaves him destitute. The little money he had was locked up in a trunk in the cottage and was burned with his other valuables. Even the seed which he had stored to plant in his little clearing was destroyed in the flames.

Some men in Peterborough, who each summer have come in contact with the old recluse of Bear Lake and have appreciated his many kindnesses and his gentle philosophy, have started a movement already which is aimed at re-establishing him in another little house beside the lake. Anyone desiring to assist by donating bedding or some seed grain should phone 396 or 3090J.

U.S. Arms Delegate Attacks Submarines

GENEVA, May 5 (C.P.).— Claude A. Swanson, of the United States, branding the submarine as "the assassin of the sea," renewed his attack on those craft as aggressive weapons of warfare in to-day's meeting of the Disarmament Conference Naval Commission.

Mr. Swanson would abolish the submarine, but this thesis was opposed again to-day by the Japanese representative.

In the course of the morning the Commission completed its discussion of offensive arms and the conflicting viewpoints were referred to the secretary, who will attempt to conciliate them before filing this report with the Commission.

TROUBLE BREWS AT COAL MINES

Mounties Alert to Halt Further Clashes Between Pickets and Strike Breakers.

2,000 STAGE PARADE.

BELLEVUE, Alta., May 5. (CP)—Militant striking coal miners early to-day had not abandoned their determination to prevent the operation of Crow's Nest Pass coal mines by strike breakers. Following a battle between police and strike breakers on the one side and strikers on the other yesterday and a parade of 2,000 men, women and children last night Royal Canadian Mounted Police are to-day on the alert to nip any disturbance in the bud.

For two months now 1,400 men have been out on strike and concentration of the strikers in the vicinity of the Bellevue mine of the West Canadian Collieries, Ltd., which is attempting to resume operation, is causing apprehension.

Some 75 men reported for work at the mine yesterday only to be threatened by picketers who drove some of them away before police closed in and dispersed the strikers. Two men were injured, in yesterday's melee and one man, John Bezille, was arrested and charged with assault.

TRUCE IS SIGNED BY ORIENTALS RESTORING PEACE TO SHANGHAI AFTER FIVE MONTHS' HOSTILITIES

No Pomp of Celebration to Official Armistice Agreement.

JAPANESE TO RETIRE.

Withdrawal of Troops to Begin Within a Week.

SHANGHAI, May 5 (A.P.) — A truce agreement was signed by representatives of China and Japan to-day officially ending the hostilities which began here last January. The text of the armistice agreement was not immediately available, but it was understood to specify that Japanese troops be withdrawn to the International Settlement and the roads nearby, adjacent to Hongkew.

It was said also that some Japanese troops would be left in specified areas between Hongkew and Woosung because of the impossibility of billeting the entire Japanese armed force within the Settlement.

The withdrawal, it was understood, would begin within a week and would be completed within the following month.

Delegates in Hospital

Mamoru Shigemitsu and Kenkichi Uyeda, Japanese delegates to peace parleys at which the agreement was reached, were still confined to the hospital to-day as a result of injuries they suffered in a bomb attack last week.

The signing of the treaty had none of the pomp usual on such occasions. The document was taken successively to the Foreign Settlement, the French Concession, and to Chinese territory.

Sir Miles W. Lampson, British Minister, who sponsored the negotiations which led up to the agreement, signed it first. The signatures of the representatives of the other friendly powers also were affixed at the British Consulate, except that of the French Minister, who was ill. He signed it at his home in the French concession.

Signed in Hospital

Quo Tai Chai, chief Chinese delegate, signed at his home and finally the treaty was taken to the hospital where the Japanese Minister, Mamoru Shigemitsu, signed for Japan.

Japanese surgeons to-day amputated the right leg of Shigemitsu.

Japanese military authorities announced to-night that they had ordered their troops to begin a withdrawal from the positions they now occupy into the international settlement and the adjacent areas.

It was the first step in carrying out an armistice signed this morning to put an end to the hostilities between China and Japan which have been going on in the Shanghai sector since January.

Fatal Dramatics

DETROIT, May 5.—Miss Nora Daniels, 18, thought it but a dramatic gesture and nothing more when Burton Roberts, her 20-year-old suitor, drained a bottle of what he said was poison after she had refused to marry him.

They walked on together for five blocks in suburban Lincoln Park. Then Roberts fell to the sidewalk.

Police took the youth to the home of a physician, who pronounced him dead.

Philadelphia Police Get Run of Lives As 21 Wild Steers Go Amok on Streets

PHILADELPHIA, May 5.—Police and early morning workers took part in a "wild west" drama of real life today when 21 terrified steers charged through city streets near the river front, crashed through bulk windows, bumped automobiles, chased pedestrians and damaged the graveyard of St. Mary's church.

The animals were being led from a freight car to a slaughter house by Harry Mauss when a freight train's whistle startled them into mad flight. Mauss narrowly escaped injury as they surged past him.

After two hours of chasing by police and shopkeepers of the vicinity, only seven had been accounted for.

Police of every precinct have been ordered to watch for the animals.

OPEN CITY HALL OFFICES AT 8.30 SUGGESTION OF ALD. MEL TURNER

Says "More Efficiency" Would Result—Council is Divided.

DECISION TO-NIGHT.

Whether the city offices should open at 8.30 in the morning or 9 will be one of the matters decided this evening at the meeting of the City Council.

The suggestion was made at Monday night's meeting of the City Fathers by Alderman Mel Turner that to give service to the public and increase the efficiency of the city offices they should be opened at 8.30 rather than at 9 as now. He declared that many business offices opened as early at 7.30, and that it would only be proper to have the city offices open earlier. Early calls to the Board of Works Department did not get attention because the City Engineer's office was not open until 9 o'clock, he said.

Few of the aldermen supported the suggestion. Alderman Phelan said, "I can't see what is going to be gained," but Alderman Turner urged that the earlier opening be at least tried.

Alderman Macdonald pointed out that the office is open until after 5 o'clock and on Saturday afternoons. The 9 o'clock opening has been the practice for years, stated Alderman Fitzpatrick, and even when the offices had more to do than now, the work was all efficiently accomplished without the necessity of opening earlier. He stated that recently the staff at the city offices had its salaries reduced, and "there's no use rubbing it in."

With little more discussion it was decided to withhold decision on the matter until this evening, when the Council again goes into session.

Lad Leaves Home; Dies Under Train

OTTAWA, May 5 (C.P.).—Unable to find employment in Ottawa, John Reilly, 17, left his home Tuesday night. On Wednesday his body was found beside the Canadian National Railway tracks, near here. He had been killed by a train, Charles Reilly, the father, identified the body when it was brought here last night.

THREE-CORNER FIGHT UNCERTAIN

Three Candidates for Campbellford Reeveship Qualify —Have All Served in Council.

FIGHT WILL BE HARD.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 5 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent).—A three-cornered fight for the Reeveship of Campbellford was assured last night when the three candidates nominated on Tuesday evening qualified for election. These are J. A. Anderson, C. H. Davidson, W. S. Wiggins. The election will be held on Tuesday, May 10.

Much speculation is rife as to the result of this contest, for it was felt that an acclamation would be accorded C. H. Davidson if he qualified. However, the other two candidates are going to run for the office, and a warm contest while it lasts is the result.

Both W. S. Wiggins and J. A. Anderson are men who have served before on the council and are well versed in municipal affairs. Both take a platform of rigid municipal economy and are out for the relief of the working man and the decrease of taxation.

"Charlie" Davidson had much pressure brought to bear on him to stand for office if nominated, and it was not until the day of nomination that he consented to do this. He is a man who has served the municipality for the past 26 years, having been in every chair in the council, from councillor to mayor, and gained the higher civic honor when he was elected warden of the United Counties of Northumberland and Durham. One of his main reasons for seeking the reeveship for the balance of this year is to continue the work he started before resigning as mayor two years ago, when he was bringing pressure to bear on the government for increased road expenditures on the Campbellford - Brighton highway. This is a work which, if the government would undertake at this time, would do much to assist with the unemployment conditions existing in Campbellford and the district.

Polling booths, deputy returning officers and poll clerks for the election are as follows:—

Clash Over Nudes In Famous Painting

GHENT, Belgium, May 5.— A quarrel over what to do with the unveiled nude figures in the famous painting, "Adoration of the Lamb," prevented its reproduction in "living tableau" during the celebration of the 500th anniversary of its hanging here to-day.

The picture, painted by the Brothers Jean and Hubert Van Eyck, hangs in the Cathedral of St. Bavons. Its fifth centenary is to be celebrated with ceremonies that will continue until next Tuesday.

Originally it was planned to stage a reproduction with living figures as a climax to the ceremonies, but this was finally vetoed by authorities because some of the nudes, particularly Adam and Eve, are entirely unveiled. A sharp clash of opinion preceded the final decision.

BULLETS HALT FAST RUM BOAT

Unidentified Member of Craft's Crew is Critically Wounded in Chase.

WARNING SHOTS IGNORED

NEW LONDON, Conn., May 5 (C.P.). — An unidentified man, critically wounded by a machine gun bullet from a coastguard boat, was brought here early to-day after the 60-foot speed boat Scipio of Bridgeport had been captured near Fisher's Island as an alleged rum-runner.

The man, engineer aboard the Scipio and known to his shipmates only as Charlie, was shot in the head shortly before midnight while the speed boat sought to escape capture.

Coastguardsmen said the servine vessel resorted to machine gun fire when the alleged rum-runner ignored several warning shots from a one-pounder.

Powered by three motors, the speed boat carried 400 cases of liquor.

Doukhobor Camp Quiet at Thrums

NELSON, B.C., May 5 (C.P.). —All is quiet at the camp of Doukhobors at Thrums, where they have concentrated since police dispersed an organized parade in the nude Sunday and arrested 118 of the offenders. Three or four of the sect created a little excitement yesterday when they appeared in the nude as the Rossland train passed. Police continue to patrol the district. Last night a truckload of Doukhobors left the camp for Krestova.

At the jail here additional houses have been erected to accommodate some of the prisoners and to eliminate crowding.

ARGENTINA IS REQUESTED TO RESUME SOVIET TRADE

BUENOS AIRES, May 5 (C.P.).—Argentina, which last fall raided and expelled the Iuyamtorg, South American trade organization of Soviet Russia, was asked to-day to resume trade relations with the Soviets for the benefit of its own trade.

Augusto Bunge, Independent Socialist member of the Chamber of Deputies, introduced a Bill last night calling for a renewal of trade relations. The discontinuation of commerce with Russia, he said, had had "deplorable effects" on Argentine economy.

The Iuyamtorg was expelled under the former provisional government of the late Jose F. Uriburu.

The Bill was sent to committee.

JUDGE HUYCKE AND BARRISTERS PAY TRIBUTE TO GEORGE PAYNE

Were Friends From Student Days, His Honor Recalled in Court.

AT CAMPBELLFORD.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 5. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — "I am grateful to the members of the Campbellford bar for their references to my late friend, George Payne," stated His Honor Judge E. C. S. Huycke in Division Court, Campbellford, yesterday, when reference was made by D. J. Lynch and N. Alex MacColl to the death of the late Magistrate G. A. Payne.

"It came as a shock to me when I drove into the town and saw the flags at half-mast and later learned that Mr. Payne had passed away" His Honor said. "The late Mr. Payne, he stated, was an honorable and careful man at his practice, and although as a magistrate for many years he dealt out justice evenly and fairly he will be remembered longer as a practitioner of law. He was a man of many friends, I have known him since his student days at Toronto, before he located in Campbellford, and I wish with the members of the Campbellford bar to tender my deepest sympathy to the bereaved family.

"We must remember" Judge Huycke said "that Mr. Payne did his work well. Life's task was well done and then came rest and it was our duty to carry on the principles he endeavoured to impress upon us."

Mr. Lynch drew the attention of the court to the loss in the ranks of the Campbellford bar in the death of the late Mr. Payne, addressing the court before cases were heard. He wished, he said, to express the bar's deepest sympathy and regret at the departure by death of one of their members, a man who had served the town many years as magistrate and carried on his profession to the satisfaction of the community and with efficiency and loyalty. The widow and family, he stated, would receive the condolence of the community, who all held the late Mr. Payne in the deepest respect."

Mr. MacColl associated with Mr. Lynch his sorrow at the loss the community has sustained with the death of Mr. Payne and the loss to the community his death brings. He had come here as a student he said, and had always worked for the welfare of the town. "It impresses me that his life was so woven with the town that it was a part of it," he declared.

"He had played a great part in the growth and development of Campbellford and had always taken an active part in its welfare. Always a faithful minded magistrate, Mr. Payne had been always willing to help and anxious to be of service" declared Mr. MacColl and the family would have the deepest sympathy of the town and district in their loss."

ANCIENT ASCENSION DAY CUSTOM IS UNIQUE EVENT FOR LONDONERS

Boatloads of Clergy and Choristers "Beat the Bounds" in Middle of Thames.

CARRY WILLOW WANDS.

(By Thomas T. Champion, C.P. Staff Writer.)

LONDON, May 5 (C.P. Cable).—Passers-by on the Thames Embankment to-day rubbed their eyes on beholding in mid-river three boatloads of clergy, choirmen and choristers in full canonica's and apparently bobbing aimlessly on the slow-moving water.

The party, representing the historic Church of St. Clement Danes which stands like an island in the centre of traffic on the Strand was engaged in the ancient Ascension Day custom of "beating the bounds."

Once Every Year.

In bygone days it was usual for officers of every parish to sally forth once yearly with sundry hapless youngsters who were soundly beaten at the parish boundary marks, thus ensuring the exact locations of the bounds were impressed on the memory of the rising generation. Nowadays more scientific methods of land registration are utilized, but the old custom is maintained in part at several places.

Boys of St. Clement Danes started more willingly to-day than did those former choristers who could look upon Dr. Johnston sitting in his pew, which may still be seen in the gallery of the church. Carrying long willow wands with which to beat the boundary marks (not the boys) the procession went along through the crowded Strand through several blocks of modern view was over a part of the bounlonged to a Roman villa 1 000 years ago and finally to the extreme limit of the parish which lies in mid-Thames.

The most interesting part of the journey from the boys' point of vie wwas over a part of the boundary line running through a large hotel, where the management invited them to stay for lunch.

Angry Farmers Unite to Foil Bailiff Bent Upon Seizing Sheep for Tithes

RYE, England, May 5 (C.P. Cable). — Ringing of parish church bells at Iden, near here, to-day summoned angry farmers when an attempt was made to distrain sheep belonging to a farmer who had failed to meet the tithes payments long collected on behalf of the Church of England on account of lands formerly owned by the Church.

The tires of the bailiff's car were punctured and a dead sheep was placed in the driving seat. When the bailiff had driven off the sheep was buried on the village green with a wooden cross over the plot.

Earlier this week attempts of bailiffs to attach the live stock of a farmer near Ipswich were frustrated when sympathetic neighbors blocked all means of exit from the farm by dismantling wagons and felling trees in the lanes and byways.

GATES CLANG SHUT AT ATLANTA, CONVICT NO. 40886, AL. CAPONE, DISAPPEARS FOR ELEVEN YEARS

Gangster's New Daily Life Begins at 4.45 a.m. and Ends at 9 p.m., Lights Out.

Says He Is Ready to Work.

Trades Fashy Clothes for Cotton Suit and "Short" Hair Cut.

By Victor Hackler, A. P. Staff Writer

ATLANTA, Ga. May 5. — "Scarface Al" Capone began a new life today as convict No. 40886 in the Atlanta Federal Penitentiary.

The big Chicago gang leader was just another prisoner, one of 3100, as he was put through examinations to see where he would fit in as a cog in the prison machinery.

Capone stepped into the prison office last night and as far as the public was concerned he might have been stepping temporarily from the face of the earth. The Atlanta penitentiary has the reputation of being the hardnest news nut to crack of any prison in the country.

Warden A. C. Aderhold has an answer to every query about the convicts in his care and invariably the answer is this: "I am not allowed to give out information concerning individual prisoners."

Such lack of information for a period of about seven and a half years was expected to deflate even the notoriety Capone has achieved in his years of rule over Chicago's gangland.

Gets No Favors

As Capone began serving his 11 year sentence for income tax evasion he was treated strictly on accordance with prison regulations and penitentiary officials indicated he would never be given any special privileges. His story thus became the story of all the other prisoners.

It starts with first call at 4.45 in the morning and ends with "lights out" at 9 p.m. It includes meals at about 22 cents per prisoner per day, and work in the various prison shops.

Capone checked in his flashy and expensive clothing for a period that is sure to make it out of style when he gets it back. He was given a uniform of cotton shirt, trousers and jacket, all grayish blue. He must submit to a prison haircut and remain in a detention ward for three or four weeks to see whether he has any contagious diseases.

Laundry or Tailor Shop.

He can expect an assignment at the end of that period to either the laundry or the tailor shop. If he behaves himself and shows ability, he can anticipate later a clerical job or work in the library with opportunities for study and extensive reading.

The gangster resolved before he went into the penitentiary to be a model prisoner and extend himself to win time off for good behaviour, whittling his 11 year term down to about seven and a half years. He said he was in good shape and ready to do any work.

Capone said he was starting life over again and that the change would continue after he got out of prison. He insisted he was through with "the rackets."

Bare Plot to Kill Spain's President

MADRID, May 5. (AP) Police to-day said they believed they had uncovered a plot to assassinate President Alcala Zamora, Premier Manuel Azana and other members of the cabinet of the republic.

The announcement was made following the arrest of a man named Ontenio Rodriguez who, the officials said, visited Valencia recently at the same time President Alcala Zamora and Premier Azana visited there.

LONDON, May 5 (C.P.). — Sir James M. Barrie, noted author, advanced his birthday celebration five days, it was learned to-day, so Ramsay MacDonald, Prime Minister, could attend the party before undergoing a second operation on his eyes.

The 72nd birthday of the creator of Peter Pan falls on next Monday, but he celebrated it yesterday with a luncheon at his London home, overlooking the Thames.

Besides the Prime Minister, other guests at the birthday party were Stanley Baldwin, Conservative leader; Sir Herbert Samuel, leader of the Liberals; Sir Austen and Neville Chamberlain, Viscount Snowden of Ickornshaw, Winston Churchill, G. K. Chesterton, and the French Ambassador, A. De Fleuriau.

German Parties Win In Memel Elections

MEMEL, Memelland, May 5 (C.P.). — The German parties won yesterday's hotly contested elections in this little country, whose bitter racial controversies have wide ramifications in the politics of Europe.

Almost complete returns to-day showed the Germans had polled a tremendous majority over the Lithuanians, who sought strenuously to capture control. Approximately 9,000 Lithuanians had been reported "planted" in the territory for the election.

MEN'S BANQUET JOLLY OCCASION

Rev. A. J. Wilson of Napanee, Gives Fine Talk on China and Japan in Marmora.

SPLENDID PROGRAM.

MARMORA, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence)—A most successful men's banquet was served in the dining room of the Royal Hotel, Marmora on Friday evening by the men of St. Andrew's United Church with an attendance of over seventy.

Dinner was served at 7 o'clock, and when all had well partaken of the good things, the chairman G. B. Airhart announced some community singing. This was followed by the Royal toast and the reciting of "God send us men" by Rev. F. H. Howard.

The chairman then made a short speech in which he outlined details in connection with the banquet. The next item on the program was the able rendition of "In the Gloaming" by a male quartet consisting of Messrs. W. Sanderson, W. L. Rigg, G. Woodhouse and J. Baker. Next came a beautiful duet "Watchman, what of the night," by W. L. Rigg and J. Baker.

Guest Speaker

The guest speaker of the evening was Rev. A. J. Wilson of Napanee, ex-president of the Bay of Quinte Conference whose talk illustrated by slides made from his own pictures, dealt with his personal observations of conditions in China and Japan. He was fittingly introduced by Rev. W. P. Woodger of Napanee, who mentioned that the speaker had not only visited the Orient with a study group but that he had bee . privileged to visit European countries also in like manner. At the commencement of his address Rev. Mr. Wilson advanced the view that the destiny of the world for the next hundred years will be settled in the East. He mentioned that he had gone to China and Japan to find out first hand the way in which these peoples lived. He had chosen to live as nearly as possible to the Oriental way of living as a European could live. He had discovered that the struggle in the East was largely between Russia and Japan for Manchuria. Manchuria was more like Canada than any other country he had visited. It was a mistake to say that the Japanese wanted Manchuria for emigration purposes. Japan is not an emigrating race but rather a home loving people. Japan needed Manchuria solely for her natural resources. The speaker after giving some of the history of the two railways crossing China, answered in interesting manner a variety of questions addressed to him. A very cordial vote of thanks was extended Rev. Mr. Wilson at the conclusion of his address.

Special Vote of Thanks

A duet "One fleeting hour" by Messrs. A. E. Smith, B.A. and A. M. Sanderson came in for good applause. A departure from the printed program was then made to permit a hearty vote of thanks to Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Potts and son Gerald for their kind hospitality and assistance given, Mr. and Mrs. Potts also receiving a small token from the church board as a mark of their appreciation of their ever ready support of church undertakings. Mr. Potts made reply in a choice speech. The male quartet having sung "The backsliding brudder" were requested as an encore to sing "Rufus Rastus." The pleasurable evening closed with "Auld Lang Syne" and benediction by Rev. F. H. Howard.

$15,000 GRANT GIVEN TOWN BY CAMPBELLFORD COMMISSION

Agree to Install New Boiler in Residence of J. I. Adams.

DAMAGED BY HYDRANT.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 5 (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — Acting in a legal capacity for R. Scott, recent manager of the Campbellford Water and Light Commission Board, N. Alex MacColl appeared before the Board at their regular meeting last evening, requesting to see and be allowed to copy letters that it was stated at the last meeting by Commissioner J. O. Benor were on the manager's files, relative to a proposed power contract with the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, and had not come before the board at the time of receipt. The date of the letter was September, 1929. The request was not allowed, however, as it was felt at this time, when the town was negotiating with the Hydro for another power contract, it would be inadvisable to make the content public.

Mr. MacColl pointed out that in the report of the meeting published in The Herald, it stated "There was a letter on file of September, 1929, from the Hydro asking for a new contract." Commissioner Benor stated, however, that this should have read "regarding a new contract," and pointed out that at this time it would be bad policy to make the contents of the letter public. When a new contract was obtained, he stated, he had no objection to the letter being read to the board and copies made by Mr. MacColl. Commissioner J. Blue was also of this opinion.

Mr. MacColl was of the opinion that this statement as it stood was a libel on Mr. Scott, as it gave the impression throughout the town that Mr. Scott was not doing his duty. "It was easily to be seen," he said, "that Mr. Scott's name was not allowed to be cleared."

J. I. Adams appeared before the board, stating that his water boiler at the house had been split when Arthur Redden, the water engineer, was flushing out the water hydrant on Rannie street. A quantity of leather in the cellar had also been spoiled by the water.

Install New Boiler

The boiler had been inspected, he stated, and found to be useless. It was four years old and of extra heavy quality. Mr. Redden explained the accident to the board, stating that there was always a lot of play in the valves when closing them down. On motion of Commissioners Blue and Benor, it was decided to install a new boiler for Mr. Adams, as Mr. Redden had admitted it was his fault.

Correspondence, which was all received and filed, included a communition from the Lombard Governor Company a letter from the Woodward Governor Company; and a request for membership fees from the Ontario Municipal Electric Commission.

Manager P. C. Denyes submitted the estimate of $2 a day for power service to serve the crusher, which was to be operated by Mr. Redden. It is understood that it will only run two weeks, but as the town will use the gravel from the same pit, the power would also serve the town.

The manager was requested to bring in a report regarding the alteration of motor power on the light service meters. This was for the town service only. The suggestion was made by Commissioner Benor that up to 3 h.p. single phase motors should be allowed on the lighting service rate. At present only 1 h.p. are allowed.

On motion of Commissioners Benor and Blue, the Commissioners granted the town the sum of $15,000. No action was taken regarding the request of Commissioner Benor that older light users be allowed to pay their accounts into the bank.

A vote of thanks was tendered Commissioner Blue for the time and service he had rendered the board in the alterations of the old Town Hall into a central office and store for the Commission, and the good job and very low rate he had charged.

Mayor J. M. Bygott presided.

PLAY PRESENTED FLEETWOOD HALL

"The Road Back" Staged Under Auspices of Women's Association.

(Examiner Correspondence.)

FLEETWOOD, May 5. — The comedy drama in three acts, under the auspices of the Fleetwood Women's Association, was presented in the Fleetwood United Church on Friday evening, delighting a large audience of appreciative spectators.

The cast of characters, including six men and five women, was particularly well chosen. The entire action of the play took place in the living room of the Fowler home in a small eastern city, and the time represented was the present.

Mrs. Clare Staples was entrusted with the part of "Ma" Fowler, a complaining, whining, shallow,easy-to-cry type, while Percy Hamilton, represented "Pa" Fowler, a little discouraged man of 50, whose discouragement disappeared in the last act as the family find "The Road Back." Miss Ida Shea (Jenny Fowler), and Miss Thelma Davidson (Milly Fowler), played the roles of daughters, the elder Jenny, being a quiet forceful girl of 23, a distinct contrast to her parents, and the main support of the Fowler family. Milly, her sister, was a loud slangy girl of 21, who merely paid her board, and was a manicurist.

Douglas Breeze (George Fowler) the son, was a shifty n'er-do-well boy of 19, who his sister Jenny saved from imprisonment by sacrificing herself.

Miss Margaret Hart (Mrs. Blinders) was a gossipy neighbor, and a close friend of "Ma" Fowler, who was constantly on the look out for news or scandal. Edmund Staples (Arthur McLeod), and Cairns Lee (Blake Chester), were friends of Jenny and Milly respectively, being average young men. Chris Cummiskey played the part of Harrison, (Jenny's employer), the usual business man of 50.

Harold Thwaite portrayed Uncle Ben, "Pa's" brother from Arizona, who appeared poverty-stricken, but eventually proved himself a millionaire, and saved the Fowler family.

Mrs. Albert Finney played the part of Mrs. Chester, Blake's mother, an aristocratic, well-dressed woman, whose love of money was very evident.

The play was brought to a happy conclusion by Uncle Ben assuming the financial responsibilities of the Fowlers, and taking them to Arizona to a life of ease.

Rev. Scott of Bethany, pastor of the church was the able chairman. An orchestra, consisting of Mrs. Cummiskey, Margaret Hart, Ida Shea, Percy Hamilton and George Tims, delighted the audience between acts.

Six pupils of Mr. Hamilton furnished an appreciated mouth organ selection.

The evening's activities increased the funds of the association to the amount of twenty dollars.

Reichers Hopes to Cut Lindbergh's Time to Paris in Half.

USING FAST PLANE.

HAVANA, May 5 (A.P.) — Lou Reichers, pilot of the blunt-nosed, low-winged Lockheed Altair monoplane "Golden Eagle," hopes to cut in half Col. Charles A. Lindberg's flying time from New York to Paris when he hops off from Newark airport about May 10 for his scheduled two-stop flight to the French capital.

Before leaving here this week after a test flight from Montreal, Reichers told of his hopes to fly the route in half of Lindbergh's 33 hours, 24 minutes time.

The Montreal-Havana non-stop jump Reichers made Thursday satisfied him the 65-horsepower "Golden Eagle," one of the world's fastest commercial aircrift, is shipshape for the trans-Atlantic crossing, which promises to be the season's first. His Montreal-Havana time was nine hours—an average of better than 196 miles an hour for the 1,768 miles—and two hours supply of gasoline remained.

Carries 470 Gallons

Extra gas tanks give his two-place ship a total capacity of 470 gallons, and Reichers was elated at the ease with which he took off in Montreal. "I got off at 86 miles per hour," he said, "only about ten miles faster than normal, and that with more weight per foot of wing surface than any single-motored ship has ever lifted."

Hopping from Newark at midnight the first day after May 10 he has favoring winds, Reichers expects to set down at Harbor Grace, Newfoundland, about daybreak for refueling. An hour afterward, he'll be away for Europe, expecting to land at Baldonnell Field, Dublin, in eight hours.

Announced purpose of the fast trans-Atlantic crossing, sponsored by Benarr McFadden, publisher, is to establish as feasible an American to Europe air service.

NO FURTHER ACTION.

The announcement from Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, Government leader in the Senate, that owing to the condition of health of Senator Andrew Haydon no further action in his case is proposed, will be satisfactory to the majority of people, who will feel that the vote of censure passed by the Senate will be sufficient punishment and who have no desire to see a bed-ridden public man further chastised.

As has been pointed out by an Ottawa contemporary, the public has been unable to decide that the conduct of Senator Haydon in connection with the Beauharnois transaction was on all fours with that of Dr. W. L. McDougald.

The latter has solved the problem of his own case by resigning, and while that action would have come with better grace and would have saved his friends and colleagues a great deal of embarrassment if it had been taken many months ago, it is nevertheless the best way out, although the ex-Senator remained defiant even in his final message, and went out of office snarling at those who condemned him.

It is unfortunate that McDougald's connection with the Beauharnois enterprise was not investigated by a judical commission; as it is with the Senate dividing on party lines, he is provided with the defence that he is the victim of political persecution, an alibi that would have been denied him if his condemnation come at the hands of a royal commission.

A PLEA FOR CONSIDERATION.

The case of the small postmasters throughout the country who are paid on a revenue basis and receive no regular salaries is being stressed by Eccles Gott, M.P. for Essex South, who is urging upon the Government the justice of greater consideration being given this class of civil servants.

Undoubtedly these postmasters have a grievance.

Under the system by which they are paid their remuneration is based on the revenue taken in by their offices, and they are given an allowance for rent, heat, light, etc., and, on the other hand, they must pay for any help they may need.

The recent slash in the civil service remuneration has made a flat reduction all round in their case; that is their pay is fixed at ten per cent. less than they received last year and at the same time the allowance they received for office and other expenses are similarly slashed.

They never at any time were overpaid; in fact, the smaller postmasters have been the subject of frequent discussion in the House, and this reduction, both in pay and allowances, leaves many of them with a sadly inadequate return for their services.

The necessity of economy in the postal department as well as in other branches of the civil service will have to be admitted, but there is always the danger that too general use of the pruning knife may inflict hardship on some people, and that seems to be true of the class now championed by the well-known member for Essex South.

MAKING RASH STATEMENTS.

In a recent speech at Chatham, M. F. Hepburn, M.P., Ontario Liberal leader, is reported to have said:

"We would cut the cost of administration in Ontario in half."

Frankly Mr. Hepburn must have been indulging in poetic license when he gave utterance to such a fantastic statement, which might be expected from some layman who had given no thought whatever to problems of government, but from the lips of a parliamentarian with no little experience was certainly a surprising remark.

The Liberal chieftain must surely know that it would be impossible for him or for any other leader to reduce the cost of government to the extent he stated without disrupting the departments, starving essential services and causing a breakdown in governmental efficiency—in short, he was promising to do something that he must have realized was, on the face of it, impossible.

Mr. Hepburn's too great readiness to make extravagant statements is a weakness that as the leader of a great party he should seek to overcome; he should leave the rough-and-tumble oratory to some of the lesser lights and cultivate the poise and dignity that are associated with those in supreme command.

When he says such things as the promise quoted above he is merely paving the way for his political enemies to remark, as the Ottawa Journal has anent this particular quotation, that "all that Mr. Hepburn reveals by this is that he has risen to a position for which nature never intended him."

A SHOCKING CASE.

If the Board of Pensions Commissioners were deliberately seeking to injure the reputation of that body and to cast suspicion on the whole administration of pensions in this country, it could have found no more powerful weapon than its own action in appealing the case of the late Gunner Clarence W. Hewitt.

The country had already been stirred to indignation by the tragic story of this man's fight for justice at the hands of the country for whom he had fought and by the fact that his pension was finally granted on the day after his death.

There was, however, some satisfaction in the feeling that his widow and family would at least be looked after as a result of the belated favorable decision.

But even that comfort is now being snatched away from the bereaved family, for notice has been received that the commission has appealed against the decision of the Pension Tribunal, and the battle for fair treatment has to be waged once again.

Nobody can say when the appeal will be heard; but in the meanwhile Mrs. Hewitt and her children will be deprived of the assistance that the Tribunal has said is rightly their's.

This case in all its details, to use a Meighenism, "fairly screams" against Canada's pension administration, and the facts are so shocking that the Minister of Pensions should personally investigate the matter and make a statement to the public.

61 DAYS IN A YEAR.

As near as can be estimated a man works 61 days in order to find the money to support national, state and municipal governments. That statement was made by President Hoover when speaking to a group of state governors in Richmond, Va., this week.

Of the national income of United States, virtually 20 per cent goes for the cost of government.

President Hoover went further. He said that such a levy was one of the forces which were retarding a return of anything like normal business. Government was taking money which belonged elsewhere; men needed it to run their business, to pay their debts and to go ahead with new plans for development.

* * * *

What the comparative number of days' work in Canada would be we do not know. It would be difficult to find out because the average man does not know how much he is paying in taxation. He knows his municipal tax bill because he sees it in plain figures; he knows municipal and federal income tax levy for similar reason, and he can recognize the tax on gas and amusements. But there are many invisible tax bills which he cannot compute for the good reason that he does not see them labelled as such. The sales tax, the amount added by reason of the tariff, etc., are things which he cannot put down in a row and add up at the end of a year or a month. They are worked into the selling price of articles which he purchases. The merchant from whom he buys becomes for the time being the collector of taxation.

Of this we are certain—we have too many people attending to the business of governing us, and of inspecting us, and of checking up on everything that is done. There is a growing feeling that we are not getting our money's worth for all the service which abounds in an official way.

Perhaps in a year like this when money is harder to get, we begin to pay more attention to these matters. Our Provincial Government is asking for more money; our Federal Government is doing the same thing, and each in turn seems to be able to advance good reasons for the course followed. Is it not possible to have less government and less expense connected with it? We are told at times by apologists for these increases that the people demand this and that, but we have never been convinced that such is the case. Each new department added by a Government seems to possess within it the germ of expansion. It adds to its staff; it adds to its power of inspection or supervision, and it is generally found that all these additions are permanent affairs. We are informed that when the natural resources were handed back to the Western Provinces the department at Ottawa which formerly handled such matters had a problem in seeking to place the employees who had previously been on duty. The work had ceased; it had dried up, and yet the staff was not dismissed. That is not the policy which is being followed by the C.N.R. shops where men are being laid off because there is no work to be done.

As long as there is this increasing demand for money to pay for all the government which surrounds us it is not going to be possible to have available capital for expansion or maintenance of business. This is not intended to be a "common scold" article about costs in general, but it is a protest against the idea that we can continue to keep on increasing the costs of governing the people of Canada without such a policy having an adverse effect upon the business of the Dominion. We are certain we could be governed very well for a great deal less than it is costing us to-day.—Stratford Beacon-Herald.

A THOUGHT.

TREE AS A COMPASS

On a tree the moss is heaviest on the north side, but it is not scientifically correct to say that this is nature's way of protecting the tree from the cold of the north. The truth is that the "moss" grows thicker on the north side because the sun's rays and the warm south winds seldom or never strike that side, and consequently there is more moisture there which is indispensable to the life of the organism. This growth is not usually moss at all but a primitive form of algae.

GRAIN AND PRODUCE REVIEWS

TORONTO PRODUCE

TORONTO, May 5.—A good demand and not burdensome receipts forced prices for eggs to higher levels yesterday on the local market. Brokers found trading fairly good, with the possible exception of extras, and increased their prices on ordinary and storage packed supplies. Montreal prices were stronger than those offered in this city and higher grades were moving to that city. Local traders were able to secure 17c for extras and 15c for firsts, storage packed, and 12½c for extras; 13½c to 14 for firsts and 12c for seconds, graded and in used cases. Prices to county shippers were steady at 13c for extras, 11c for firsts and 9c for seconds, delivered, ungraded, cases returned. Quotations to retailers were about steady, seconds being slightly higher, at 19c for extras in cartons, 17c for extras loose, 15c for firsts loose and 13c to 14c for seconds loose.

Butter

There was greater strength in prices on the butter market also. Receipts were not too heavy, and, though buying was slow, brokers were asking fractionally better prices for all offerings. Western butter was quoted at 18c, delivered Toronto, while the prices for the Ontario product was 17¼c to 17½c for No. 1 solids and 16¼c to 16½c for No. 2.

Cream

Cream prices were unchanged at 18c for special, 17c for No. 1 and 14c for No. 2, f.o.b. country points. In some districts the quotations were 1c to 2c below these levels, however.

Cheese

Trade in cheese was slow, but at steady prices on new makes. Brokers were quoting new large at 10c to 10¼c, twins at 10¼c to 10½c, and triplets at 10½c to 10¾c. Prices to retailers were steady.

MONTREAL PRODUCE.

MONTREAL, May 5. — Slightly easier price levels were witnessed yesterday on butter, cheese, eggs and potatoes on the Montreal produce and dairy markets.

The butter market was ¼c lower, becoming 17½c to 17¾c per lb. for No. 1 butter, fresh or regraded. Receipts were 309 boxes. The truck receipts, to be reported next Saturday, are expected to be larger than recently, and this fact made the market sensitive, especially as production is ddue to jump shortly. Jobbers quoted retailers 19c for solids and 20c for prints.

Cheese receipts continued to mount, totalling 755 boxes yesterday. The market was ¼c easier, being 9½c to 9¾c per lb. for current receipts, dealers attributing the decline to increasing supplies. Summer-made cheese remained unchanged at 12c to 12½c per lb.

The Egg Market.

The egg market on spot was mostly 18c for extras, 15c to 15½c for firsts and 13½c to 14c for seconds, for Ontario and Prairie eggs. These levels were steady to ½c lower compared with Tuesday.

Potatoes, already at very low levels for some months, eased again yesterday, with supplies liberal and demand only moderate. New Brunswick and Quebec Green Mountains, 80 pounds, No. 1 quality, sold at 40c to 42c. P.E.I. Green Mountains, 90 lbs., No. 1, were 55c. Local whites, 80 pounds, No. 1, 30c to 40c.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, May 5.—Export purchasing of 1,500,000 bushels of North American wheat, not counting cargoes taken for Russia, helped put new backbone into grain values yesterday.

Additional to wheat export business were earmarks that some corn had been bought for overseas, and also that rye and oats were finding an outlet to Europe. Temporarily, corn dipped to below the season's bottom price record, as well as cutting under quotations at Buenos Aires.

Wheat closed firm, ⅛ to ¼ cents above Tuesday's finish, corn unchanged to ⅝c higher, oats unchanged to ⅜c up, and provisions unchanged to a rise of 5 cents.

LIVERPOOL QUOTATIONS.

LIVERPOOL, May 5. — (C.P.) — The following are the closing quotations:

Wheat spot, unquoted.
Hams, long cut, 12-16 lbs., 82s.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, May 5. — Cheered by the return of the prodigal European wheat purchaser, traders stepped to the buying side of the wheat market yesterday and watched the grain prices advance to wipe out Tuesday's decline. Values at the close were ⅝c to 1¼c higher than Tuesday's close.

May closed 1c higher at 60¾c, and July 1c to ⅝c higher at 62¼c, and October 1¼c higher at 64¾c.

The session was quite active, opening ⅛c to ⅜c higher. On reports of export worked from the Pacific Coast, the market averaged higher on good export bids from both the United Kingdom and the Continent. At the close it was estimated 1,000,000 bushels had been taken care of, exclusive of the Pacific shipments.

Top grades of cash wheat were in good demand, and a fair export trade was worked overnight. Inquiry for oats and rye for export featured coarse grains. Prices, however, showed little change. Flax broke 2½c in early stop-loss selling, but came back to close unchanged to 3c higher.

ASHBURNHAM PIT.

To the Editor of The Examiner.
Dear sir:

Just as we were beginning to consider adopting the well known "O gee there ain't no justice" for our theme song in the north of Ashburnham, it is refreshing to see we were wrong and all will soon be quiet on the eastern front.

We have been a long-suffering community and our protests have been ignored up to now. We had almost commenced to doubt if we had any right as taxpayers and law-abiding citizens or if there was some penalty attached to living in this neighborhood.

After all there are people who enjoy good surroundings and appreciate the beautiful. A man who takes pride in keeping his home up is not encouraged by the yawning chasms that greet his eye once it leaves his own premises—not to mention all the accessories that are a necessary part of this modern art of "gravel pitting."

Thank you for benefits to come.
Mr. Mayor and Council.

Yours sincerely,
HOPEFUL.

SON OF THE GODS

By REX BEACH

When her listener shook his head, Ellen sighed: "I suppose I'll wind up back of the ribbons and carry my lunch. But you've no idea how French heels hurt during the holiday rush. The shop-girls' Christmas yell is, 'Oh Gawd, my arch!'"

"Will you permit me to assist—?"

"No. That would be cheating. The Cassidys are a fine old American family. 'E pluribus Erin, Unum go Bragh!' They may be poor but they're honorable and there isn't a grafter among them. I'll fight my way out, somehow."

Lee Ying's mind turned to that other girl, that other friend of his son's, and he murmured: "What a difference in travelers! The undeserving tarry and drink over long at the fountain and those who are truly thirsty push on to arrive the sooner at their journey's end. My child, you do me an injustice, for my thirteen hundred tasks are scarcely begun, but—so be it. It is, then, your ambition to become a secretary of consequence?"

"Well, at least a secretary to some man of consequence. It takes more than a shop-girl's salary to support angina pectoris and political grandeur in the same family. And a girl simply has to see a movie, once in a while."

"Turn your back to the wind and it will put no more tears in your eyes, said Lee Ying. "I shall tell Sam to write you, and I shall chide him with neglecting the obligations of friendship."

When the importer returned to his home he telephoned to his lawyers and the senior member of the firm listened attentively to what he had to say.

"If she's as inexperienced as all that I don't see what we can do with her," the attorney told him.

"The lighter her duties, the more time she will have in which to pursue her studies."

"Good Heavens! Is this another 'art student'?"

Briefly Lee Ying explained who Eileen was. "She can open and close doors with exquisite grace. She is ambitious and I believe she will earn advancement."

"All right. Send her along."

So it came about that Eileen Cassidy took a position in the office of Carter and Pelz. Her duties were indefinite and her work was light, but her pay was good. She did not dream that Lee Ying was footing it.

INSTALMENT No. 10

The time was when an expert card player could make a good living by working the transatlantic liners, especially if aided by an accomplice or two and perhaps a cold deck. That was in the days when draw poker was a national institution the rules of which were piously obeyed, and before irreverent fingers had tampered with its orthodoxy; before the introduction of deuces wild, dealer's choice, seven-card peeks and similar destructive customs and practices had degraded a scientific pastime into a mere game of chance. The metamorphosis of this noble recreation into an undignified amusement for morons is a melancholy aftermath of the World War, so its devotees declare. They assert that the appetite for swift action, variety, excitment germinating during a period of high nervous tension is responsible for the outrage and they resent it.

Mr. Everett Himes, who for several years had commuted pretty regularly to Europe at the expense of his fellow-travellers, complained bitterly that the meddling of neurotic amateurs had forced him to adopt a new profession, several new professions, as a matter of fact. He hated bridge, competition in the liquor business was keen, so therefore he had taken to traveling in the interests of a Maiden Lane diamond broker who consistently undersold the market. When the customs authorities became too deeply interested in Mr. Himes' comings and goings—more particularly in his comings—he fell back upon still other lines of endeavor in which he was skilled, such as bookmaking, stock promotions, blackmailing, pool playing. He played a very good game of pool, left-handed, did Mr Himes; so good, in fact, that he knew exactly how many cue experts there were who could beat him. Right-handed, he was almost, but not quite, as skillful, and this unique gift of ambidexterity had stood him in good stead on more than one occasion. In Brussels, for instance, he had challenged the local champion and had practiced assiduously in a public hall, wielding his cue in the ordinary manner and covering all wagers laid against him. On the evening of the match he had dismayed his opponent, and his audience as well, by playing left-handed. For them it had been a disagreeable experience and had resulted in strong feelings of anti-Americanism.

At the time of our introduction Mr. Himes was in New York and for reasons best known to himself he had interrupted his regular trans-Atlantic trips and for the moment he was avoiding Maiden Lane as if it were under quarantine. On this day he was entertaining a lady for luncheon at his hotel; she was a middle-aged florid, flamboyant woman who showed traces of considerable good looks. She went by the name of Stevens but Himes addressed her familiarly as Esther.

When they had finished their luncheon and the nearby tables were deserted Mrs. Stevens said:

"Thanks for the whoopee, Everett, now let's get down to the dirty work. You didn't ask me here out of politeness, so what's on your mind, if such there be?"

Himes grinned amiably. "All business, as usual, eh? Tell me, first, how things are breaking?"

"They might be better and they might be worse. I manage to get by."

"Would you be interested in a quick-money proposition?"

"Would a duck swim?" Mrs. Stevens retorted, then she added cautiously: "But no diamonds. Everett: I never get anything out of an iceman but ice. I'll wear 'em but I won't smuggle 'em."

"I'll put you so you can buy some and pay the duty. How's that so-called niece of yours?"

"Who? Mona?"

"Have you got more than one?"

"She's all right. Why?"

"Doing anything?"

"Oh, a little chiseling here and there. She was posing for a while, then tried to get her in pictures—"

"Pretty as ever, is she?"

"She's got it on a lot of those picture girls, but—Lord, you can't get a toehold in the studios. Most of them have moved out to Hollywood, anyhow. If Mona was lighted right she'd screen fine."

"Can she act?"

Mrs. Stevens smiled. "She can cry. She's cried us into room and board for two years now. The art racket started off good, and it seemed to be made to order—the undressing and everything—but illustrators are a cheap gang. One fellow fell for her but when I put the bee to him he lit a flare. He squawked from here to Frisco and that killed it."

"Funny I never got into the moving-picture game." Himes murmured meditatively. "I'd have mopped up. Same with the liquor business. Now the foreigners have got 'em both concerned."

After a moment the woman inquired: "Well, what's the new deadfall, and where do I head in?"

"I don't know until I give Mona the double-o. She's got to look pretty."

"Say! She doesn't look a day over fifteen."

"Too young!"

"Well, eighteen." Mrs. Stevens said in an effort at compromise.

"I've got a set-up," Himes declared. "Honest, Esther, it's soft."

"Hm-m! I suppose it's so soft you'll want the big end."

"Well, it's coming to me."

"Yes? I've heard of these soft set-ups. Nothing doing, Himey. If you need us to close your deal the money will have to bet cut three ways."

"There you go, before you know what it's all about."

"Business is business."

"All right, greedy. There's enough in it for everybody if it's handled right. I got the idea on my last trip over and I worked it out later in Paris. On the way across I met a jane from the corn belt, a terrible sap but out to see the world, understand? A born bilked and I didn't know it. Well, she tried to make me," the speaker smiled bleakly, "and she spilled about all she knew. It didn't take long. She's a painter, or something, and she's taking a ride at the expense of an old man who loves art."

"Ah-h! I see the dawn."

"She met his son at Eastern—that's a big college or something—and they were so agreeable to each other that the old man sent her abroad to do over the Loove. She intends to take two years at it."

"Is that all she came out with?"

"I saw something of her in Paris—helped her get set—and again on my way back from Holland. We were buddies by that time. Now then, here's the punch; papa is a Chinaman!"

"That's new slang to me," confessed Himes' listener. "What's a 'Chinaman'?"

"I'm taking pure English. He's a Chink, a yockaman! And he's lousy with coin."

"Who? Which papa? The boy?"

"Both of 'em."

"Snap out of it, Himey. You've been sleeping on your hip in some laundry."

"Yeah? Well, I'm telling you. Here's a proposition, as wide open as a gate. It's Lee Ying."

"Lee Ying?"

"Nobody else. He's the richest Orienttal in the country and his boy is wild about white girls."

"They're all wild about white girls," Mrs. Stevens declared with a curl of her lip. "But what ails you, Himey? Do you think Mona and I are out to lay China boys? When we get that low we'll work the Oriental dance halls. And we won't cut you in on it, either. Now I know you've been cooking on a peanut lamp."

"Listen, sister, you've got a peanut mind. You always were a dumb ox."

"I don't see—"

"Of course, you don't see."

"—and I can't take a chance with Mona.—Why, I'm the only mother she's got and she's as dear to me as—"

"Don't get throaty, Esther, or you'll have me bawling, too. Mona will be safer than wheat. If you'll get off the air for a minute and stand by for station announcements I'll tell you what it's all about."

The motherly Mrs. Stevens agreed to this. "All right. I never lost anything by listening. Spread your hand."

For fully an hour the two talked with their heads together and it was plain that the woman was deeply interested.

Climbs Six Miles At Amazing Speed

Night Bomber Goes Almost Straight Up at 200 Miles Per Hour

London.—A new high-altitude biplane, capable of flying at more than 200 miles an hour at a height of three miles, and claimed to be the fastest night-fighting aircraft in the world, has successfully passed flying trials.

The new fighter, which is constructed entirely of strip steel, is armed with two machine-guns, firing automatically, carrying, in addition, a load of bombs.

Electrically-heated clothing and oxygen breathing apparatus are provided for use by the pilots in the rarefied air at high altitudes, while a complete electrical installation for both lighting and heating is installed.

A supercharged engine, developing over 500 h.p., enables it to climb almost vertically to a height of four miles in less than fifteen minutes, while it is actually capable of climbing more than six miles.

PLAN GREAT EXHIBIT OF BRITISH PICTURES

Would Gather Them From All Over the World

London.—British art through the ages will be represented at an exhibition, plans of which are being discussed by the council of the Royal Academy.

This exhibition, if the scheme materializes, will bring together the greatest collection of important British paintings ever housed under one roof. The year 1934 has been suggested.

"Many of our own great masterpieces are scattered over the world," Sir William Llewellyn, president of the Royal Academy, said to the Universal Service, "but if the owners respond to our invitation to loan the picture to the academy I am confident that the exhibition will astonish the world."

Sir William, discussing the exhibition of French art, said that it has been seen by more than 300,000 people.

"To my mind," he said, "one of the most striking features of the exhibition has been the appeal it has made to the general public as distinct from artists and connoisseurs of art. I think this is because the exhibition so vividly epitomizes the history of the French nation."

PAYS 75 CENTS DIVIDEND.

NEW YORK, May 5 (C.P.). — The Homestake Mining Company has cleared a monthly dividend of 75 cents, placing the stock on a $9.00 annual basis, compared with $7.80 previously. The dividend is payable May 25 to stock on record May 20.

Married In Secret Ceremony

CANADIAN K.C. WEDS NEW YORK GIRL

Many friends of the groom will be interested in the news of the marriage of Frederick Barnard Fetherstonhaugh, K.C. (LEFT) of Toronto and descendant of a prominent Irish family, to Miss Audrey Victoria Emaygh (RIGHT), daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Emaygh of New York City. Only two New York City friends witnessed the secret ceremony, which was conducted by the Rev. H. Merrill of Stanwich Congregational church in Greenwich, Conn. The groom was appointed a king's counsel in 1910, and his first wife, who died, was Miss Marion Arabelle Rutledge of New York city. The bride, who gave her age as 34, while Mr. Fetherstonhaugh gave his as 67, was divorced and this is her third marriage. Mr. and Mrs. Fetherstonhaugh will spend their honeymoon in England.

NO INJUNCTION AGAINST FRITH

But Only Top Soil Operations Continue in Ashburnham.

McGRATH SATISFIED.

All is quiet on the Ashburnham "gravel pit front" to-day, and indications promise that the situation will be cleared up satisfactorily following to-night's meeting of the City Council.

So far as it can be learned the Council's threat to seek an injunction restraining Joseph Frith from continuing to remove earth from the vacant field bounded by Dufferin, Rogers, Hazlitt, and Ross Streets has not been carried into effect.

Mr. Frith told The Examiner this afternoon, however, that as recently as yesterday he removed five loads of soil from the field up to Peterborough Golf Links, after which W. H. Bradburn, the owner of the land, issued orders that he must discontinue operations pending the outcome of to-night's meeting when a report will be presented to the Council by City Engineer Roy H. Parsons and Alderman James Hamilton, chairman of the Board of Works.

Alderman Hamilton told The Examiner to-day that the crusher was also at work yesterday in the city's gravel pit in Ashburnham although the work was only undertaken with a view to keeping men employed and to try out the crusher. No new gravel was dug, only the loose gravel which lay around being dumped into the crusher.

James McGrath of Ashburnham, who was one of the leaders of the deputation that protested to the Council this week concerning the defacement of Ashburnham by unsightly pits, expressed himself as being satisfied at the way the matter was developing. He believed that the pending meeting of the Council would result in a clearing up of the situation to the satisfaction of all concerned.

MONTREAL POWER GAINS 1-4 POINT

Prices Irregular at Montreal —Trading Continues Fairly Active.

MONTREAL, May 5. (CP) — Prices remained irregular during this morning's session of the Montreal stock exchange. Trading continued fairly active.

Montreal Power, the active leader, advanced ¼ at 37¼ while International Nickel which was next to Montreal Power in activity lost ¼ at 5⅜. Brazilian Traction after rising to 9⅜ at the opening, eased back to 9¼ where it was unchanged from yesterday's closing quotation. Canadian Pacific Railway stock, following the annual meeting yesterday when President E. M. Beatty told shareholders that rigid economy must be enforced to preserve the financial condition of the company, remained steady at its low for the year of 12.

Canadian Bronze gained ½ at 10 while Canadian Car preferred lost a similar amount at 12. Canada Cement at 3½, Massey Harris at 2¾ and Winnipeg Electric at 2 were unchanged from their previous closing prices.

PROSPECTS BETTER.

NEW YORK, May 5 (C.P.).—Leslie S. Gordon, president of De Forest Radio Company, informed stockholders in a statement to-day that the company had "concrete assurance" its business was "stepping up."

The corporation's sales for the first quarter increased month by month, and its unfilled orders at present are "larger than at any time during the past eight months."

Market Closing On All Exchanges

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, May 5. —(CP)— Toronto Stock Exchange market today followed much the same trend as yesterday, declining irregularly during the morning and early afternoon and firming somewhat before the close. With only one or two unimportant exceptions, stocks did not break through their previous lows, though some of the leaders tested resistance at those levels. Volume was about the same as that of Wednesday.

Closing prices showed Bell Telephone, Nickel, Smelters, Brabilian, C. P. R., Montreal Power, B. C. Power, Ford of Canada, Page-Hersey Tubes, Service Stations, Walkers common, Goodyear preferred and some of the oils slightly above their previous close. Loblaw "A" and "B" both finished with fractional losses and Canadian Dredge closed at a record low of 10.

The oils again were the steadiest group on the board, holding practically unchanged when the market sagged and firming slightly on end.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, May 5.—(CP)—Irregular price movements, with a stronger tendency in evidence among interlisted stocks towards the close, marked action on the Standard Stock and Mining Exchange market today.

Publication of Dome Mines' production figures for April, showing output of $354,254 against $295,680 a year ago and $319,052 in March was followed by an advance above $10 for a 45-cent gain in that issue. Noranda, despite inclusion of a copper duty in the U. S. Tax bill, recovered 40 cents and International Nickel was slightly higher.

Hollinger - Teck Hughes, and Wright - Hargreaves were steady throughout, but McIntyre reached 40, Pioneer of B. C. slumped 15 and Granada was off a few cents. Losses ranging up to two cents appeared in Premier, Buffalo, Barry-Hollinger and Kirkland Townsite. Siscoe and Brett-Trethewey closed a cent or so up on the day.

Eldorado dropped a cent in the silver group and Homestead was somewhat lower in the oil section.

WALL STREET

NEW YORK, May 5.—(CP)—After recovering most of a 1 to 3 point decline, stocks sagged again today and the close was easy. Rails were heavy, Santa Fe, New York Central and Union Pacific lost 1 to 2, Allied Chemical, Woolworth, Coca Cola and Western Union were off about a point net. Losses in U. S. Steel, American Can and American Telephone were moderate. Transaction approximated 1,000,000 shares.

MONTREAL EXCHANGE

MONTREAL, May 5. — (CP) — Stronger tendencies were in evidence with today's session of the Montreal Stock Exchange. Some irregularity continued in scattered sections of the list, but pivotal issues were inclined to fractionally higher prices. The sales volume indicated a moderately active trade. Over the five-hour period the trading was slightly irregular with the improvement coming in the afternoon.

GRAF IN BRAZIL.

PERNAMBUCO, Brazil. — The Graf Zeppelin landed here at 12.20 a.m. to-day, in bad weather, ending its fourth trip this year from Friedrichshafen, Germany.

SUDBURY FINNS AMONG MISSING

Both Royal Mounted and Provincial Police Deny Knowledge of Whereabouts.

DISAPPEARED IN CAR.

TORONTO, May 5.—(CP)—Mystery surrounds the whereabouts of Arva Vaara, editor of the Finnish Daily Vapaus at Sudbury, and Martin Parker, translator. The two men were arrested when police raided the newspaper office yesterday, bundled into a large automobile with five plainclothesmen, and the car left immediately, heading south.

Today the Royal Canadian Mounted Police at Ottawa said the raid was carried out by the provincial police while the Ontario provincial police headquarters here said they "had no report."

"Have you any idea where the men were taken?" Inspector Alfred Cuddy, of the provincial police, was asked by the Canadian Press today.

"Not the slightest. We have no report on them," he replied.

Will Get Fair Trial

The two Communists arrested in Sudbury will be given a fair trial, declared Hon. W. A. Gordon, Minister of Labor and Immigration today, when asked as to the verity of the report that they might be deported.

Mr. Gordon said he had no official report of the arrests in Sudbury, and his knowledge of the affair was therefore confined to what had appeared in the press, but he was confident that the Act would be carried out as it had been "all along," and the Act did not contemplate deportation without a hearing.

DISPUTE FLARES ON IRISH ACTION

Thomas Claims Matter Solely Treaty Between Two Parties.

NO COURT SUBJECT.

LONDON, May 5.— (C.P. Cable) —Uproar ensued in the House of Commons this afternoon when Geoffrey Mander, Liberal, repeatedly questioned J. H. Thomas, Dominions' Secretary, urging the Anglo-Irish dispute to be submitted either to the specially contituted imperial court of appeal or the permanent court of international justice at The Hague.

The Ministetr at first gave no direct answer, but after some excitement with a number of Opposition members joining in, Mr. Thomas declared the matter in dispute was a treaty between two parties. It was customary when there was a difference of opinion for one of them to consult with the other, but President Eamon de Valera had not done so.

It was not for the British Government to do other than draw the Irish Free State's attention to the "breach of the treaty" implied in the Free State Government's intention to abolish the oath of allegiance and withhold payment of the land annuities, the Minister concluded.

LADS HIKE 400 MILES AND CAPTURE LONDON

Young Glasgow Salesman and Tinsmith Make Hit as Dancing Hoboes

Glasgow, Scotland.—Roy Lawson and Frank Young, the "dancing hoboes," have just walked 400 miles to find success waiting for them at the end of their long tramp.

They are Glasgow lads, who a short time ago found their respective occupations of corset salesman and tinsmith monotonous, so they decided to go on the stage and chance their luck in London. They walked or begged rides all the way.

They are good eccentric dancers, and that they have succeeded beyond their wildest dream is proved by the fact that they are topping the bill at a variety theatre close to Piccadilly, and are booked for a six months' tour of Britain, during which time they will re-visit Glasgow.

Roy Lawson, the former salesman, whose home is in Rozier St., Bridgeton, and whose father, Joe Lawson, is referred to as "champion cornet player of Scotland" with the S.C.W.S. band, is tall and dark. Frank Young, one-time tinsmith in Glasgow, who comes from Springfield Rd., Dalmarnock, is shorter and fair.

London Night Club Queen's Three Daughters Marry Into the Peerage

London. — A London paper says that an engagement will shortly be announced between Miss Nancy Meyrick, daughter of Mrs. Kate Meyrick, the "night club queen," and the Hon. Charles Fitzroy, Lord Southampton's son and heir, whose engagement to Miss Sheila Seely was broken off recently.

Miss Meyrick, who is a pretty brunette, will be the third daughter of Mrs. Meyrick to marry into the peerage. Two of her sisters are Lady de Clifford and the Countessa of Kinnoull.

Mr. Fitzroy, who was formerly a lieutenant in the Royal Horse Guards, married Miss Margaret Drake in 1927. She died last year. There is one son.

He is a keen horseman, and after holding the mastership of the South Durham Hunt for some years he is now joint master of the Grove Hunt.

Miss Meyrick's engagement was celebrated with festivities at the club in Gerrard St. (known as "The 43"), with which her mother has been associated for some years.

Evangelist Here

REV. J. H. BOSTROM,
Conducting revival services in the Grand Opera House.

REVIVAL CAMPAIGN BY REV. J. BOSTROM

Interdenominational Meetings at Grand Opera House.

The Rev. John H. Bostrom, of California, has opened a city-wide revival campaign in the Grand Opera House, under the auspices of the Pentecostal Assembly, this city, of which the Rev. George A. Chambers, is pastor.

Mr. Bostrom is a dynamic and fearless speaker, and large audiences of Peterborough residents, as well as out-of-town visitors, are hearing his addresses. He is an inter-denominational evangelist, of the fundamentalist type, who refutes evolution and all other forms of modernistic teaching.

The evangelist is being assisted in these special services by Curtis M. Saulsbury, noted negro tenor, of New Haven, Conn., whose unique renditions of the good old negro spirituals are thoroughly enjoyed by all who hear him.

Last night Mr. Bostrom spoke on the subject, "Working in God's Vineyard," and to-night the sermon topic will be "The Prodigal's Brother."

The services are held nightly at 7.45, except Monday.

ECONOMY URGED BY FINLAYSON

Suggests Rigid "House-cleaning" of Public Bodies in Northern Towns.

LITTLE HIGHWAY WORK.

KENORA, Ont., May 5 (C.P.).—Municipal councils of North-Western Ontario are advised to mind their pennies by Hon. William Finlayson, Minister of Lands and Forests in the Ontario Government. He urged a rigid "house-cleaning" of councils, boards of education and other municipal organizations in speaking to the representatives of Kenora, Keewatin, Sioux Lookout and other communities last night.

The present extensive work on the Trans-Canada Highway could not be continued in future, Mr. Finlayson said, and the municipalities would have to make plans to care for their own unemployed during next winter.

Returning from an inspection of the highway as far as the Manitoba border, Mr. Finlayson said the formal opening of the Kenora-Winnipeg road scheduled for July 1 could take place earlier.

BOMBERS MISS THEIR VICTIM

Car Owner Steps on Starter —Car, Garage Blow Up —Neighborhood Rocks.

DRIVER UNHURT.

ROCHESTER, May 5. — Sam Spitale, 35, went to his garage here to-day, jumped into his automobile and stepped on the starter. The next thing he knew he was sitting dazed amid the smoking ruins of car and garage. He had touched off a bomb when his foot pressed the starter, police said. They found evidence of dynamite about the premises.

But Spitale was unhurt except for minor bruises, for which he was treated at a hospital, although the explosion shook the entire neighborhood. The bomb blew the engine apart, shot part of the automobile through the garage roof, demolished another car in the garage and broke windows in the Bethlehem Lutheran Church next door. Spitale found himself holding a steering wheel bereft of any connection with the steering shaft.

"I guess I'm lucky," was all Spitale said.

Police are investigating.

MRS. S.D. CARVER GIVES ADDRESS ON SPRINGTIME

Season of Opportunity and Courage Unfolding Perennial Glory.

CHURCH WOMEN MEET.

Women's Association of George Street Church Review Their Work.

The May meeting of the Women's Association of George Street United Church was held in the board room of the Sunday school hall yesterday afternoon, with forty members attending.

The meeting was opened by the president, Mrs. W. P. Hetherington, who led in prayer, after which Mrs. C. W. Coon had charge of the devotional period. Mrs. C. E. Smith led in prayer, and the scripture lesson was read by Mrs. Coon.

A very fine and seasonable address on Springtime was given by Mrs. S. D. Carver, president of the W.M.S. of Trinity United Church. She described a Canadian Spring as the most glorious season of the year and brought out the point that at this time mankind is filled with a new courage and hopefulness, just because Spring is in the air. A time of glorious opportunity which the Psalmist must have thought of when he said, "Behold I make all things new." Concluding her talk with a short review of Canadian birds which she illustrated by passing pictures nearly the life-size of the different common varieties to the audience.

A hearty vote of thanks was tendered Mrs. Carver for her interesting and educative talk.

After the routine reports the corresponding secretary, Miss Mary Elliott read eight letters of thanks for flowers recently received and reported ten letters of sympathy sent out.

Mrs. P. Hagerman, for the sick and visiting committee, reported 77 calls made during the month, and Mrs. Latimer for the Strangers' committee reported ten calls made.

A report of the Flower committee was given by Miss Lillian Morton and Mrs. C. E. Smith gave her report regarding the pedestals recently purchased for the church auditorium.

Delegates appointed to represent the association for making arrangements for the annual community picnic were Mrs. C. E. Smith and Miss Mary Elliot. A resolution was passed that a donation of $10.00 be granted to help defray expenses.

Reports of group leaders and their progress were given by Mrs. H. M. Yelland, Mrs. C. E. Smith and Miss Elizabeth Higgins.

A request from Mrs. Foote, regarding the camp shower at the Y.M.C.A. was announced by the president, and the members asked to give liberally.

A delightful solo, "Down the Vale" was rendered by Miss Eleanor Brown, accompanied by Mrs. D. Howat. After singing a hymn the meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

Twilight Mission Circle

The girls of the Twilight Mission Circle of George Street United Church assembled for their monthly supper meeting last evening, with Miss Florence Glenny and her group in charge of arrangements. Following the supper the regular meeting was held with Miss Margaret Taylor in charge of the program. The president, Miss Evelyn Miller, presided, and after singing the opening hymn, Miss Ethel Mills led in prayer followed by the Lord's Prayer in unison.

The scripture lesson was read by Miss Taylor, after which the roll was called by Miss Helen Burn, and reports given. A report of the supper served to the teachers and officers of the Sunday school was given by Miss Florence Glenny (convenor) showing a very satisfactory amount to augment the funds of the Circle.

Papers on the study book, Korea, the Land of the Dawn, were given by Mrs. H. Dulmage, Miss Ethel Mills, Miss Helen Cole and Miss Myrtle Burns. Mrs. H. Dulmage, superintendent, extended to the girls an invitation to spend the week-end of June 3rd, at her cottages at Catchecoma Lake. This invitation was enthusiastically accepted. The meeting closed with the Mizpah Benediction.

St. Andrew's W.A.

The Women's Association of St. Andrew's United Church met yesterday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the church parlor, with the president, Mrs. F. W. Robinson, presiding. The meeting was entirely of a business nature and plans were discussed for future activities. At 6.30 p.m. a very enjoyable dinner was partaken of by 150 people, served in the dining room of the Sunday school hall by Mr. Anderson of the Associate Advertisers and his helpers. The tables were prettily arranged with crepe paper runners and decorations of ferns.

CLEANER YARDS URGED BY M.O.H.

Health Department Co-operating in Spring Drive, Dr. Young Says.

A HEALTH SAFEGUARD.

Cleanliness inside the home as well as on the premises surrounding a house is essential to public health, Dr. T. W. H. Young, City Medical Officer of Health, emphasized to-day in assuring that his department would co-operate to the fullest extent during the Clean-up Campaign.

Backyards should not only be kept free of garbage and other matter which decays, but should not be cluttered with debris, Dr. Young points out.

"Piles of packing cases in backyards are fire dangers—and more than that, they are likely to become breeding grounds for rats and other rodents," he stated. "Our department likes to see backyards in orderly condition, because it shows that the householders are taking preventive measures against the spread of disease."

Also, many accidents to children are caused by debris being allowed to gather in yards, Dr. Young cautioned.

One of the chief concerns in a home should be proper disposal of garbage, the M.O.H. declared. One of the best methods of taking care of garbage, he said, was to drain all the water from it, wrap it in plenty of paper, and place it in clean, metal containers which have covers.

"If garbage is properly drained and wrapped in adequate covering, then the garbage can may be kept almost as clean as any kitchen utensil," he asserted.

"If garbage wrappings become wet, it spreads decay of the matter—and induces flies to breed, especially in warm weather," it was pointed out.

Waste material should not be allowed to gather either in cellars or in yards, but should be burned, Dr. Young warned.

Children On Streets After Curfew Hour

Citizens Complain of Methods in Selling Papers.

Unless parents show more control in keeping small children from wandering about the streets selling papers late at night, police threaten to enforce the curfew bylaw. Police said to-day that they have been flooded with complaints concerning the salesmanship practises of these little penny suckers, who waylay citizens and coax them to buy papers.

"Their favorite approach is to shove out a dirty paper and in a whining voice tell the embarassed citizen that if they don't sell all their papers they'll be whipped when they get home," police reported. Usually after selling the papers the urchins skip off to the nearest candy store, they added.

"We'll round them all up one of these night and take them to the children's shelter unless than are kept off the streets," police suggested as their next move unless parents take the warning.

It required eight days to transport by auto truck a fifty-five ton rudder for an ocean liner 316 miles from Southampton to Darlington, England, recently.

ASKS FOR FILM.

W. T. Brownscombe of McKeesport, Pa., writes to the local Chamber of Commerce for information respecting the Government film "In the Wake of Champlain" depicting scenes along the Trent Waterway taken last summer. The film which is at present in the United States will be forwarded to Mr. Brownscombe in due course.

The inquirer spent his vacation in this district last year, and was at Gloucester Pool at the time the pictures were being "shot" on that section of the Trent.

RUG WINNER

The drawing for the rug in connection with the Ladies' Auxiliary to the Canadian Legion was drawn for at their regular meeting last Monday night. The winner was Mrs. Condon, 182 Adeline Ave. Ticket No. 2.

SETTING INTO ACTION

Workers in the Y.M.C.A. financial campaign to secure $7,500 required by the local association to carry on its year's work are beginning to get down to action. The most encouraging report was given at noon to-day, when $920 worth of subscriptions since yesterday noon were turned in. This brings the total up to $1,535 or 20 percent of the objective.

D. F. Hill's division led to-day with a total of $214, L. S. Kilsby's team reporting the greatest amount for any single team. Charlie Lacheur's division was a close second to Hill's division with $188. In all 284 subscriptions have been secured in the campaign to date.

NOT THE POSTMEN

Pity the postman who is being unjustly blamed for treading down lawns and flower beds. Postmaster Charles Lacheur spoke in defence of the posties to-day maintaining that the footprints on citizens' lawns were not made by them.

"We issued instructions weeks ago that letter carriers were not to walk across lawns," said Mr. Lacheur. And they have obeyed strictly this order."

NASHUA PAPER ON FAST TIME

Manager Claims Four Hours Saved Daily in Outside Contracts.

OFFICIAL VIEWS VARY.

In working according to Daylight Saving Time, the Canadian Nashua Paper Company here is putting into effect a measure which it is claimed by the management will mean a saving of four hours a day in the company's contracts with other larger centres—Montreal, in particular, who went off Eastern Standard Time at the beginning of the present week. Incidentally the company stands practically alone in the change which it has adopted this year for the first time, all other factories in the city being operated to Standard Time until Peterborough changes on June 1f.

John R. Marshall, general manager, told The Examiner this morning that the factory is now working from 7 a.m. to 4.30 p.m., and the office from 7.30 a.m. to 4 p.m., E.S.T. The change was made, he stated, after the staff had been consulted, and everyone was apparently well satisfied.

Mr. Marshall claimed that from experience of other years when the factory had worked according to local time arrangements, it had been found that a great deal of confusion had resulted in the firm's business contact with other larger centres which were on Daylight Saving Time, with a resultant loss of trade.

An Hour Lost.

For instance, he related, a Montreal office would perhaps call Peterborough first thing in the morning upon opening for business, and owing to disparity in time schedules, would be unable to get a connection. An hour could be counted as lost under such circumstances. Again at noon he contended a further two hours would be lost under the same principle, while a fourth hour was practically wasted in the afternoon.

That the firm was justified in going on Daylight Saving Time, said Mr. Marshall, was well illustrated on Monday morning last when, a few minutes after the office opened at 7.30 E.S.T., two long distance telephone messages were received. They were important calls which would, under the old conditions, have been lost to the firm.

In sounding out the opinion of some of the executives of other manufacturing plants in the city, the general opinion was gained that factories and offices in Peterborough are opened before similar places of business in Toronto or Montreal.

No Disadvantage.

So far as the manufacturers The Examiner interviewed are concerned, they were not feeling any disadvantage by reason of the fact that Peterborough is still working to Standard Time. On the contrary, W. A. Richardson, president of the Peterborough Canoe Company, claimed there was a slight advantage to his firm under the existing time schedules.

He gave as an instance the fact that sometimes an order will be received at 3 p.m. E.S.T. here from Toronto, which is operating on D.S.T. A customer requires a boat to be shipped out that night; a request that can be complied with only due to the difference in time which at present exists.

So far as time lost in the noon hour was concerned, Mr. Richardson remarked that there had always been different times at which various factories closed down for lunch anyway. Most firms of to-day, he added, did not close their offices down entirely throughout the day, having at least one person on duty in the lunch hour to attend to telephone calls or business of an urgent nature.

RETIREMENT AT SEVENTY FAVORED BY PRESBYTERY

COBOURG, May 5.—At a meeting of Cobourg Presbytery in Carleton Tuesday, Rev. Dr. Richard Roberts, Toronto, was unanimously nominated for Moderator of the United Church. Rev. W. W. Jones of Millbrook and A. M. Martin, Brighton, were elected Commissioners to the General Assembly. Rev. C. W. Barrett and M. H. Hopper, Cobourg, were elected to the 1933 Settlement Committee of Bay of Quinte Conference. The Presbytery's nomination for head of the United Church Publishing House was Rev. R. T. Richards of Port Perry. It was decided to memorialize the General Council to make provision in the Constitution of the Church for the retirement of all General Conference officers and department officers upon reaching the age of 70 years.

GLADIOLUS

By ALAN G. DUSTAN
In Charge of Vegetable Insect Investigations, Ottawa

The following recommendations for the control of the gladiolus thrips are issued, through the courtesy of Peterborough Horticultural Society, for the use of growers during the spring and summer of 1932. It is felt that if the methods suggested are followed that more perfect bloom will be produced this year than in that of the last two seasons. Of the different methods suggested by far the most important are those dealing with the treatment of the corms in the spring. Summer treatments give some relief, but are as yet far from perfect and for this reason emphasis should be placed on freeing the corms of thrips prior to planting. Every corm set out should be absolutely free of insects before being placed in the ground and it is felt that if any one of the remedies suggested in this paper are carefully carried out that this object can be attained.

Care should be taken after treatment to see that the clean corms are not again brought into contact with untreated ones, since the danger of reinfestation under such circumstances would be great. Where possible, perhaps the best plan would be to delay treatment until just before planting time and after fumigating or dipping to immediately place the corms in the soil. This is only advised, however, in cases where the corms are being held in cool storage. If the temperature in the storage room is above 50 degrees F. the corms should be treated as soon as practical after being brought in from the field in the autumn. The effect on the corms of the remedies suggested in this circular have been tested either in Canada or the United States, or both, and can be used with confidence.

TREATMENT OF CORMS

Fumigation

For commercial producers, with a large number of corms to treat, fumigation of the corms, rather than dipping, would probably be the most suitable in that it is quicker, saves handling and eliminates the necessity of peeling off the husks. Three fumigants have given good results, namely, a mixture of ethylene dichloride and carbon tetrachloride, calcium cyanide, and naphthalene flakes. Each will be discussed briefly for the guidance of growers.

Ethylene Dichloride and Carbon Tetrachloride

A mixture of ethylene dichloride (75 per cent) and carbon tetrachloride (25 per cent) has given excellent results both in Canada and in the United States. Besides being most effective this mixture is non-poisonous to humans, non-inflammable and consequently will not explode. It is used at the rate of 14 pounds per 1000 cubic feet of space, exposing the corms for a period of 24 hours at a temperature around 70 degree F. After the corms are placed in a wooden, air-tight container or room, rolls of blotting paper, newspaper or cloth are placed on top and the correct amount of the liquid poured over these. The material could be placed in shallow pans but as it evaporates slowly the blotting paper method speeds up this process. After the fumigant is applied the container should be closed immediately and not opened until 24 hours later. It is most important not to let the temperature drop below 70 degrees F. since the fumigant is not nearly so effective at a lower point. This work can be done with safety in the cellar or in an unused room in any dwelling house. This fumigant kills all stages of the insects including eggs.

Calcium Cyanide.

Tests with calcium cyanide carried on in the United States by Messrs. Weigel, Smith and Richardson, have given control of all stages of thrips with the exception of the eggs. These workers recommend using this material at the rate of 2½ ounces per 1000 cubic feet of space. Fumigation should be carried on in a tight container or room, exposing the corms for 3 hours at a temperature of 60 degrees F. or higher. Care should be taken to see that the calcium cyanide, which is a gray powder, does not come into contact with the corms, or some damage may result. At this method does not kill the eggs a second fumigation is necessary in order that the thrips hatching from eggs in the corms at the time when the first treatment was given may be killed. The timing of the second fumigation is important and depends upon the temperature of the room in which the corms have ben stored. If this temperature is about 70 degrees F. the second fumigation should be given in 10 days; if the temperature in the storage chamber is in the vicinity of 60 degrees F. the second treatment should be delayed 14 days and if the corms are kept at a temperature below 60 degrees F. and even longer interval between fumigations should be allowed to elapse. After each treatment the corms and the chamber should be thoroughly aired and where a large number of trays of corms are stacked in a chamber an electric fan should be run during the treatment to increase the circulation of air. The gas from calcium cyanide, as well as the material itself, is a deadly poison and in its use the utmost care should be exercised. All fumigations should be carried on in outbuildings not in dwelling houses, and signs placed on the door to indicate that fumigation with a poisonous gas is in progress.

Naphthalene Flakes.

According to Weigel, Smith and Richardson, of the United States Bureau of Entomology, this material when intermixed with corms in a paper bag, box or barrel at the rate of 1 ounce to every 100 corms will give complete control of gladiolus thrips, including the eggs. The corms should be exposed to the fumes of the naphthalene for a period of 2 or 3 weeks at a temperature of around 60 degrees F. No injury to the corms took place even after an exposure of 6 weeks at this concentration. Care must be exercised to avoid placing the corms in too tight a container, such as a tin can, since over such a long period of time the moisture collecting in the container will induce sprouting. This method, although it has not been tested by the writer, shows decided promise, and should be cheap and very easy to apply.

Dips or Baths.

The grower, with only a few corms to treat, will probably find one of the following dips more simple and easier to adopt than any of the fumigation methods mentioned above. They are just as effective in so far as the control of thrips is concerned and are, in general, equally cheap or cheaper.

Corrosive Sublimate

Since the last circular was issued, additional work with this material has been carried on and good results secured where the corms, after peeling, were dipped for 3 hours in a solution made up of 1 ounce of corrosive sublimate dissolved in 6 gallons of water, at a temperature of 70 degrees F. All stages of the thrips, including the eggs, were killed by this treatment. In our experiments it was found that the peeling of the corms was essential if perfect control was to result. Corrosive sublimate should be mixed and placed only in wooden, eathernware, enamel or glass vessels, since it quickly corrodes metals. The material should be dissolved in a small amount of hot water and then diluted to the correct strength. As this is a deadly poison the greatest care should be exercised in its use.

Hot Water.

In tests carried on at Ottawa and elsewhere it has been found that all stages of the thrips, including the eggs, are killed by dipping the corms in hot water at a temperature of 120 degrees F. for a period of 10 minutes. With this method it appears to be immaterial whether the corms are peeled or not, since excellent results were secured with both peeled and unpeeled corms. The temperature of the bath should be kept up to 120 degrees F. for the entire period. This can be done by adding small quantities of hot water to the bath from time to time. Care must be taken not to allow the temperature to go over 120 degrees F. as injury to the corms may result.

Whale Oil Soap.

A bath composed of whale oil soap, using 1 pound to 4 gallons of water kills all stages of thrips, except the eggs. It is recommended that where possible the corms should first be peeled and then soaked in the liquid for a period of 3 hours at a temperature of 70 degrees F. Since the eggs are not killed by the dip a second treatment will be necessary to kill the young thrips which will hatch later. In computing the time for the second treatment, the directions given under the calcium cyanide method should be followed. Whale oil soap can be purchased through all seed houses and is sometimes carried by the larger hardware stores.

Spraying, Dusting In the Field

Extensive spraying and dusting experiments were conducted at Vineland and Ottawa during the past summer by Mr. P. I. Bryce and the writer with a view to finding an effective control in the field. Such sprays as lime sulphur, nicotine sulphate, pyrethrum extracts, ferric extracts and Paris green and brown sugar, etc., were tried. Applications of nicotine sulphate, pyrethrum, and hydrated lime, in dust form were also made. The results in most cases were disappointing as it was found that although the thrips which were present on the outside of the plants were killed those concealed in the inaccessible parts were uninjured. The best control was secured where the plants were sprayed with a mixture made up of Paris green 2 tablespoonfuls, brown sugar 2 pounds and water 3 gallons. Spraying should commence as soon as the thrips are found inside the leaves and should be continued weekly while the insects are present. Washing off the plants from time to time with a spray of cold water is beneficial as it removes the residue left by the brown sugar. The spray should be stirred continually when being applied as the Paris green sinks to the bottom of the pail quickly, due to its weight. Spray thoroughly at a good pressure, using plenty of material at each application.

Fumigation in the Field.

Fumigation of small numbers of gladioli (with calcium cyanide) under oilcloth or brown paper tents gave excellent control in experiments carried on in the field last summer. The method, of course, would be suitable for small gardens only or for growers having a few prized blooms which they particularly wished to protect. The work was carried on in a long A-shaped tent, having a light wooden framework covered with brown paper which was made tight at joints by means of mucilage. The tent was built sufficiently large to completely cover a section of row, without rubbing the tops of the plants. The best grade of calcium cyanide was used and at the rate of six ounces per 1000 cubic feet of space. Fumigation tests were made on a bright, warm day when the temperature inside the tent registered about 75 degrees F. and were commenced as soon as the first thrips were seen. Exposures of one hour gave best results.

Care of Corms at Harvest

In the autumn when the corms are being harvested they should be given special attention to safeguard them from the invasion of thrips. The tops should be cut off as near the corm as possible, since many thrips are present on the leaves and stems and will migrate on to the corms if the opportunity is given. When pulled, the corms should be removed immediately from the field to a place where there is no danger of infestation by the thrips moving to them from the tops. They can be dried there and then placed in storage. If at all possible the corms should be stored in a cellar or building where the temperature can be kept down as low as 40 degrees F. This is most important if the thrips are to be kept in a dormant condition. If the temperature is much higher, feeding and development will continue through the winter and injury to the corms result.

All tops should be burned as soon as cut. This step is most important as many thrips will be destroyed if this is carefully done. Plough or dig up the bed in the late fall, thus exposing any thrips which may be overwintering there.

Summary of Control Recommendations

(1) Cut tops low and remove corms imediately from bed for drying;

(2) Store corms in cellar at a temperature as low as possible, with safety;

(3) Clean up and burn all tops as soon as cut and plough soil in late autumn;

(4) Fumigate or dip corms in spring to kill all thrips prior to planting;

(5) Set out corms on land as far removed from last year's bed as possible;

(6) Spray plants in early summer, just as soon as the thrips appear with the Paris Green—brown mixture. Spray at weekly intervals, using plenty of material applied at good pressure.

Experiments with these insects are being continued with a view to perfecting control methods on corms and growing plants and also for the purpose of studying in greater detail the effect of these and other remedies of corms, plants and blooms.

Farmers of the Moray district of Scotland have declared war on crows, and relays of gunmen underneath the rookeries will try to keep the old birds off the nest long enough to allow the eggs to become chilled and sterile.

Chintz Cottage

ROSLIN, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence) — "Chintz Cottage" was presented in Roslin under the direction of Rev. E. N. Grant, the three-act comedy drama "Chintz Cottage," was performed in the Chosen Friends' Hall, Roslin, Friday evening. The play was sponsored by the Anglican Young People's Association. The proceeds which amounted to $16.50 being devoted for church repairs.

The play held the interest of the audience throughout.

Miss Minty (Hazel Wilson) journeys to her cottage "Chintz Cottage" to spend the summer months. Her aunt, Miss Tillingtop (Miss Agnes Grant) believing that she has eloped with a Texan follows her. Fanny (Miss Letitia Wilson) Miss Minty's maid, notices a man lying on the lawn. Fanny and Miss Minty manage to drag him into the house and cover him with a robe on the window seat. When smelling salts fail to revive him Miss Minty sends Fanny for a doctor. Fanny thinks there has been foul play and that the man will die comes in saying she was afraid to leave Miss Minty alone so they both go after the doctor.

While they are out the man being only stunned by a blow on the head revives but doesn't remember so finding himself in a strange place he hides in a chest there.

Mr. Kent (Mr. John Hart) a neighbor comes to call on the cottagers and becomes real friendly with Miss Tillington. He tells her of his dead wife and a son and a daughter, his wife having left the most of her money to her children.

After her caller leaves Miss Tillington discovers the man in the chest and believes him to be Miss Minty's Texan husband so she commanded him to stay in the chest thinking she can trap Miss Minty.

Miss Minty returns and finds the man has disappeared from the window seat and thinks he must have been Mr. Kent's son and that his father has attempted the murder him for his money.

Grace, (Miss Ena Kerr) sister of Peter Kent, (Mr. William Bates) comes in looking for her brother and finds him trying to get out of the chest and helps him out. They hear someone coming and Grace gets into the chest and Peter hides, behind the window seat. Miss Minty, Fanny and Miss Tillington come into the room at the same time and Miss Tillingtop opens the chest to see if it will surprise Miss Minty and they all get a surprise to find a girl there.

Mr. Kent and his housekeeper, Mrs. Dean (Miss Mary Gray) come in at this time and Mr. Kent identifies his son and daughter and when Miss Minty accuses him of murder he says he was playing golf at the time they found his son. Finally they discover that Peter had been stunned by a golf ball which his father had drove that morning.

Mr. Kent proposes to Miss Tillington and Peter and Miss Minty plan a wedding and it all ends quite happily.

Between acts one and two Rev. Mr. Hill gave a reading and between acts two and three Mr. Willis Wilson sang.

Adopts Abandoned Baby

MOTHER FIGHTS PROSECUTOR FOR BABY

When Assistant City Prosecutor Samuel E. Epstein of Chicago had his attention called to an "abandoned" year-old baby girl, he took the child to his home while efforts were being made to locate the mother. A bachelor, he became attached to the child and a month ago adopted it. Now the mother, Agnes McConnell, 23, has filed a suit for the custody of the child and Epstein says he will fight it because he doesn't believe she is a proper person to have custody of the child. Prosecutor Epstein is shown (ABOVE) with the centre of the dispute, 14-months-old Joan McConnell Epstein.

PLYMOUTH CAR IS OFFERED IN 9 BODY STYLES

Appearance of New Car Extremely Pleasing and Distinctly Stylish.

AUTOMATIC CLUTCH.

What its maker, Walter P. Chrysler, describes as America's "more-for-the-dollar car"—the new, finer 1932 Plymouth, is announced.

With a longer wheelbase of 112 inches, 65-horsepower engine and a distinctive appearance new to the lowest-price field, the new Plymouth retains the features which distinguished its predecessor — namely Floating Power engine mountings, Free Wheeling, easy-shift silent-second transmission, hydraulic brakes and Safety-Steel body—and adds full automatic clutch, Rigid-X-double-drop frame and a new brilliance of performance which makes it definitely outstanding.

Combining the most important mechanical advantages and style features developed by the industry to date, the new Plymouth strengthens its advantageous position as one of the world's lowest-priced cars.

The new Plymouth is offered in nine body styles: Business Roadster, Business Coupe, Sport Roadster, Two-Door Sedan, Coupe with rumble seat, four-door three-window Sedan, Convertible Coupe, Seven-Passenger Sedan, and Convertible Sedan.

Distinctive Appearance

The appearance of the new car is extremely pleasing and distinctively stylish. The front view presents two genuinely smart innovations—new-type modern motif radiator and beautifully shaped one-piece front fenders. The latter are supported at the front by a bracket to which the headlamp bracket is attached and a second bracket at the mid-fender section adds rigidity and strength to the assembly. Fenders as well as all sheet metal parts and wire wheels are bonderized to prevent rust.

The long 44-inch hood sweeps gracefully back from radiator to windshield without a break—a 1932 custom car feature that Plymouth alone introduces to the lowest-price field. This attractive hood has two cowl ventilators controlled from the driver's seat and a concealed, single handle lock anchors the hood securely.

The front body contour is streamlined to carry out the sweep of the hood.

Contributing to the fleet, stylish appearance of the new car are smart molding treatments; graceful arched roof line and small 18-inch wheels with large tires. Five wire wheels are standard with six wire wheels offered as optional at extra cost.

Steel Body.

Differing from the previous bodies only in styling, and with considerable more roominess, the same type of strong, rigid Safety-Steel body is used. Doors are unusually wide; belt molding is higher and all bodies are thoroughly sound-proofed and weather-proofed.

The front compartment of the new Plymouth is attractive, convenient and presents many improvements. The metal instrument board is finished in walnut grain and the instrument panel itself in chromium, containing 80-mile speedometer, electric gasoline gauge, oil pressure gauge, temperature indicator and ammeter, is lighted indirectly. Choke, throttle and free-wheeling control buttons are located immediately above the instrument panel. Front seats of the new, finer Plymouth are adjustable.

Heavily padded rubber floor mat, rubber clutch, brake and starting pedal covers with treadle-type rubber foot accelerator also are included as standard equipment.

The rear compartment has been made roomier and presents the maximum in comfort, convenience and attractiveness.

Duplate safety plate glass is furnished in coupes and sedans at slight extra cost.

Floating Power.

Floating Power, the new type engine mounting which removes power shock, continues, unchanged in general design or location just as introduced on the Plymouth car last year, as an outstanding feature of the new Plymouth.

65-Horsepower Engine.

The engine of the new 1932 Plymouth, with a bore of 3⅛ inches and a stroke of 4¼ inches, has a S.A.E. horsepower rating of 21.03, and develops 65 horsepower at 3,000 revolutions per minute. The torque rating is 136 pounds at 1,800 revolutions per minute. Compression ratio of 4.9 to 1 is standard.

Back pressure has been greatly reduced by an entirely new muffler design which effectively muffles power roar. Reduced back pressure lengthens valve life and protects valve seats.

The same efficient method of full pressure engine lubrication is used. Harmful crankcase gases are expelled by the flow of 10 cubic feet of cleaned air per minute through the crankcase ventilator. To further protect the engine, an oil filter has been added. Particles of carbon, metal and other foreign matter are removed by passing the oil through a removable cartridge in the filter.

Intake roar caused by the pulsation of the air at the carburetor air inlet is effectively muffled by a new intake silencer on which an efficient air cleaner is mounted. A shield surrounds the air cleaner with an opening toward the dash. The location of the cleaner and the position of the shield was determined by wind tunnel and actual field experiments.

A feature of the new Plymouth that is exclusive among lowest-priced cars is the new 14 m.m. size spark plugs. These spark plugs reach an efficient operating temperature very quickly, thus preventing fouling, yet due to rapid heat dissipation, maintain temperatures within a desirable range.

Automatic Clutch.

A full automatic clutch is available in the new Plymouth. When in operation, it is not necessary to depress the clutch pedal when shifting gears, whether the car is standing still or in motion. Automatic release of the clutch disconnects the engine from the transmission. The free-wheeling unit disconnects the rear wheels from the transmission. Therefore, since no power is applied to the transmission from engine or car, selection of gears may be made noiselessly at any speed.

"When shifting into reverse, Free Wheeling ceases until the gear shift lever is returned to neutral or forward speed.

A convenient control button on the instrument board when pulled out, locks out Free Wheeling.

Plymouth's splendid easy-shift transmission now features silent second gear, of the helical type.

Rigid-X Double-Drop Frame

One of the outstanding and distinctive features of the new 1932 Plymouth is the double-drop, Rigid-X frame, a feature formerly found only on cars selling in a much higher price range.

The Rigid-X frame offers many times the resistance to torsional strains with a very slight increase in weight. An "X" member between the "6" side channel sections is so located that stresses due to road conditions or other causes have little effect on the side channels.

Hydraulic Brakes

Plymouth continues as the only car in the lowest-price range with four-wheel, internal-expanding hydraulic brakes. The already efficient Plymouth brake has been improved by incorporating the industry's most recent contribution to safety—centrifuse brake drums.

Steering gear design includes a steering shock eliminator at the front end of the left front spring. This absorbs shocks that would be transmitted otherwise to the steering wheel.

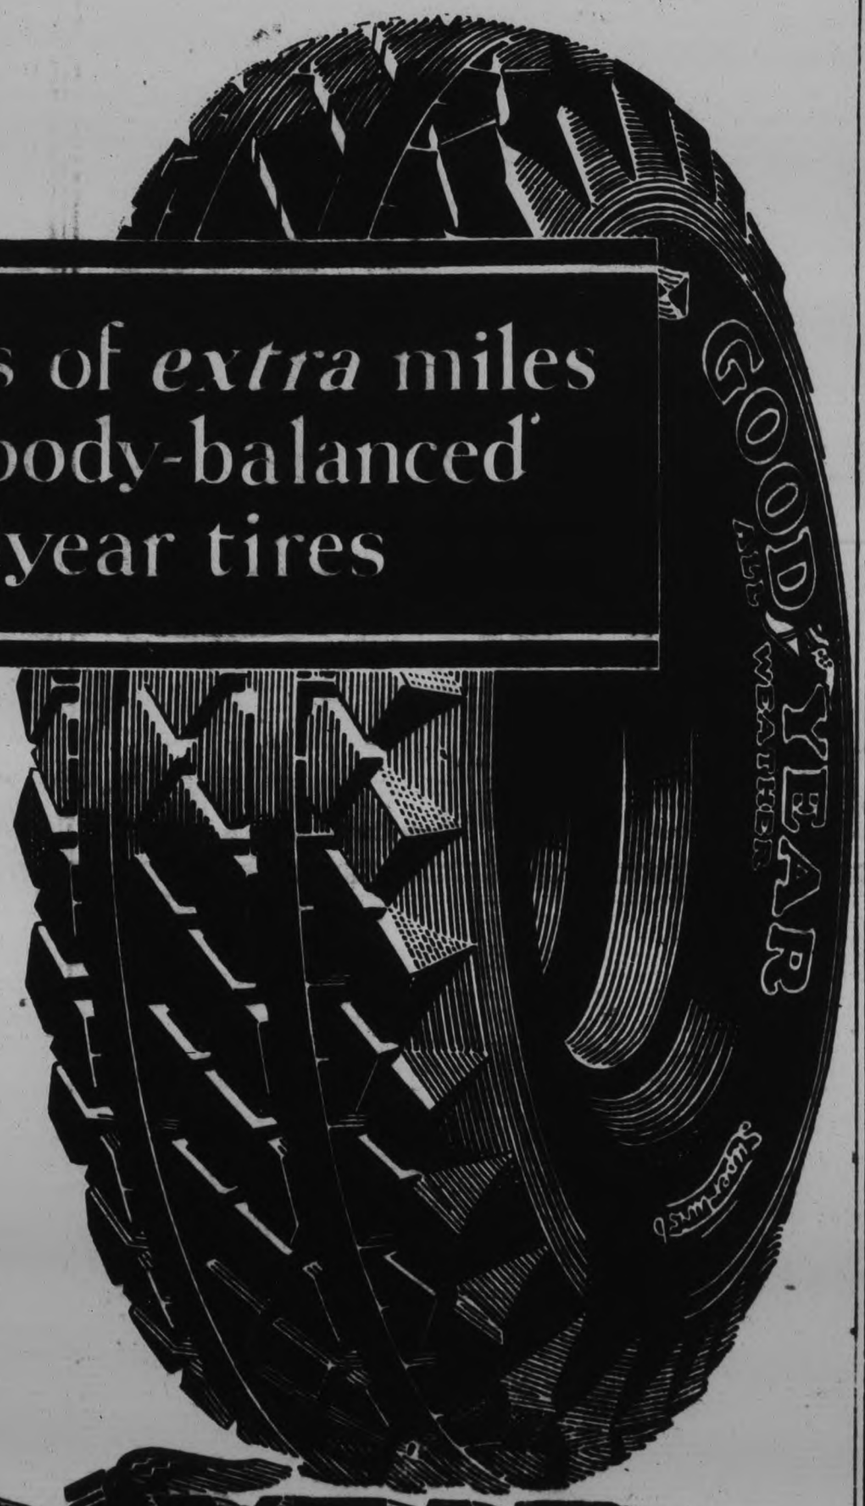
WHY GAMBLE WITH A SECOND-CHOICE TIRE WHEN GOODYEARS COST NO MORE?

Goodyear Tires are the first choice of nearly half the motorists in Canada, which means that in Canada—as elsewhere—more people ride on Goodyear Tires than on any other kind.

In every industry there must be a leader. In the tire industry the leader is Goodyear—the greatest name in rubber. A simple enquiry of your Goodyear dealer will convince you that the leading tire costs no more than second-choice tires.

Thousands of extra miles in these body-balanced Goodyear tires



You can get out of a tire only those miles that are built into it. Mileage is not a matter only of weight, size or tread design. It is a matter of construction—the fabrication of correct materials and their proper mating. Unbalanced tires will not stand the shock and speed of modern driving.

Goodyear tires are balanced. The same tire engineers and workmen who gave you the famous elastic-like Supertwist Cord and the All-Weather tread, build tires in which every part is moulded into one complete unit. In tires as Goodyear builds them, carcass and tread are one. Strong Supertwist Cords, protected by Goodyear-processed rubber, are built up layer by layer—evenly—uniformly—defying separation and friction.

The man who drives on Goodyears is free from the troubles he has had with unbalanced tires. All risks are lessened. Most risks are eliminated. Goodyear Tires are safe at higher speeds. They are non-skid. Their balanced construction defeats the attacks of modern brakes. The cause of the dreaded and dangerous blowout—inner friction-heat—is conquered.

Goodyear Tires give thousands of miles of extra service because these miles are built into them—by Goodyear—the greatest name in rubber.

MORE PEOPLE RIDE ON GOODYEAR TIRES THAN ON ANY OTHER KIND

THOUSANDS ENTER GOODYEAR CONTEST ALL OVER CANADA

Keen Rivalry Is Shown in Estimating Number of Supertwist Cords

CASH PRIZES OFFERED

Thousands of people in all parts of Canada are busily engaged in estimating the number of Supertwist Cords in the average Goodyear tire. This novel contest, announced on April 26th by the Goodyear Company has aroused nation-wide interest. The challenge to skill and ingenuity, and the lure of $3,000 in prize money, have brought men and women in every walk of life to Goodyear dealers to obtain entry blanks and information about Supertwist Cords.

The fact that there are no conditions attached to the contest requiring purchase of tires, no entry fee and no obligation of any kind, has placed everyone on an equal footing. All tire dealers, all employees of rubber companies and the families of both are debarred.

Testing Supertwist Cords

Much interest is being shown in the ingenious Bills device with which Goodyear dealers are demonstrating the strength and resilience of Supertwist Cords. This mechanism stretches a length of Supertwist along with a length of ordinary tire cord, and indicates clearly the respective elasticity and toughness of the two. The sections of tire fabric showing the Supertwist Cords are assisting contestants in arriving at their estimate.

It is stated that not even the employees of the Goodyear Company are aware of the actual figures representing the number of cords in the six types of Goodyear tires selected for the contest. These figures, secretly ascertained by the development division of the Goodyear factory, have been placed under seal with a Toronto trust company, and will not be revealed until the contest closes on June 9th.

Learning About Tires

One thing the contest is certainly doing—it is teaching people a lot about tires. Even those who were previously unaware that there were such things as "cords" in tires are entering the contest, and finding out what an important part Supertwist Cords play in the construction of Goodyear tires. Thousands of people are getting a new conception of the measures taken to make the modern automobile tire safer, more comfortable and longer-wearing. They will do their touring this summer with new confidence in their Goodyears, because they know more about Supertwist Cords.

COL. SNYDER DISCUSSES SUBJECT OF TEACHING MUSIC IN SCHOOL

East Durham Women's Institute Learns Many Points From Inspector.

A. E. SUMMERS, CHAIRMAN.

MILLBROOK, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence).—A public meeting sponsored by the East Durham Woman's Institute, and with a fairly representative number of the school trustees of the various school sections of Cavan in attendance, was held in the Town Hall on Tuesday at 3.30 p.m., to discuss the subject of teaching music in the schools. Colonel E. E. Snyder, School Inspector for West Durham, was the special speaker, and A. E. Summers, Agricultural Representative for Durham, taking the chair.

Colonel J. W. Odell, whose inspectorate is East Durham, spoke briefly in favor of the project, and introduced Colonel Snyder, explaining that the latter has music taught by a qualified instructor in every school within the bounds of his inspectorate, while Cobourg is the only point in East Durham so served, adding "we are delighted to have Colonel Snyder with us this afternoon, and we want him to tell us how he did it, and the results obtained."

"It all began through chorus singing at the rural school fairs," declared Colonel Snyder, in beginning his address; "with the co-operation of the Agricultural Representative, this plan of having schools sing at the fairs in competition was tried out for one year, the teachers themselves preparing the children, and it proved so popular and successful the school boards thought a special teacher of music should be engaged for the individual schools. This was done in one or two cases, and gradually others followed suit, and now all the schools in my territory are so instructed.'

Some of the advantages accruing were listed by the speaker, including the fact that faculties are developed through musical instruction, the education is rounded out, the soul nature of the child is cultivated, "and after some years of experience I am satisfied there is no child of normal mentality who cannot be taught music."

Some Instances

Concrete instances which had come under the speaker's personal observation were listed, one telling of a pupil who in the first instance was a "monotone," and so developed by the personal interest and care of the supervisor" that he is now a capable soloist, carrying off prizes in singing competitions."

"The start has to be made in the primer of music, and little by little the pupils learn to read music, and sing by note." By the teaching of the tonic sol-fa system, combined with the staff, Colonel Snyder could describe, from a very recent experience, two pupils who, never having taken a lesson in music in their lives, yet were able to sit down at the school organ and accompany the pupils in two different songs in which the musical supervisor was giving them instruction. "Once you begin teaching music in the schools I am certain it will run itself and you will never give it up."

The expense being the chief thought, particularly in the present days, the speaker used a blackboard to illustrate by figures how the percentage involving on the local ratepayers might work out, the government giving a grant of thirty dollars on the definite understanding that sixty dollars must be spent on musical instruction. The government grant to the supervisor is sixty dollars, and his or her pay from the board is usually two dollars an hour—the time alloted for instruction in the individual schools each week. The sixty dollars, however, may be added to the salary paid the regular teacher, meaning an increase in the legislative grant, and hence lessening the amount to be raised locally to meet the obligatory thirty dollars of the sixty that must be spent if music is included in the curriculum of the school.

"You will see the effect in the improvement in your rural church choirs, for instance, and in other phases of rural social life. The people really did it in my own inspectorate; we started music instruction in the sixteen schools in Manvers township in one week, and they have never once thought of giving it up since. Rote singing is, of course, compulsory in the public schools at the present time, and as a beginning I had the teachers instruct their scholars in one song a month, which meant ten songs a year; this meant something, even though they were not particularly well taught in some cases, but at least the pupils go out from the public school with a fund of songs which they are able to sing in some way, and to recite the words. An instrument is not actually necessary, but as a rule it soon follows, and in many cases concerts are held to procure the money. "The children love it, they learn better time and expression, and generally the teachers love it also."

In closing, Colonel Snyder urged those interested to go to Bowmanville the following week and hear the school children's competition at the Durham County Musical Festival, which will be held on Wednesday, Thursday and Friday. "When you hear the children sing, you will find out what your own boys and girls can do in four or five years, and as I said before, once begun it will never be dropped; it is an asset of untold value in the cultural development of the child."

Makes Points Clear

By means of the blackboard, Colonel Odell made some points clear so far as the Cavan schools are concerned, should musical instruction be adopted; the idea of one capable supervisor for the whole eighteen schools being favored. Discussion brought out the information that, for the first year, a well qualified music teacher of the community might give the instruction, but the special summer course at the University would be a necessity after that to secure the government approval and grant.

As an impetus in the matter, Mr. Summers announced that Colonel Snyder had consented to secure one or two schools from his inspectorate to sing at the rural school fairs next fall, "as a good way to convert any opponents"; and for the school fair of North Cavan, held at Ida, the Ladies' Association of the Ebenezer Church has promised $5.00 in prizes for school chorus singing, divided into three parts: $2.50, $1.50 and $1; the teacher to have the choice of songs. "A demonstration may be all that is required to start the matter which, I see, is already favorably received in several sections."

The branch of the Women's Institute at Cavan apparently deserves the credit for taking the initiative in agitating for music instruction in the schools of this inspectorate, others falling in line, and the meeting on Tuesday crystalizing the matter nicely. Hearty applause, on motion of Mr. Summers, told the appreciation of Colonel Snyder's taking time from his many duties to come to the village and give such abundance of definite information on the subject.

As is well known, schools from the West Durham inspectorate have sung in competition at the Canadian National, Toronto, winning widespread commendation, and carrying off several prizes.

To Be Hung In Paris

"Portrait of a Bellerine" which is to be hung in the Paris salon, is the work of Henri Fabien, Ottawa artist employed as a translator in the Department of Indian Affairs. Mr. Fabien achieves the unusual distinction of being the only Canadian to ever have pictures hung two years in succession at the Paris Salon, goal of many celebrated artists. The potrait is of Betty Low, daughter of Ald. W. R. Low of Ottawa.

A.Y.P.A. COMEDY IS WELL STAGED

"The Littlest Bridesmaid" at Havelock Draws Appreciative Audience.

SHOWERS HELD.

(Examiner Correspondence)

HAVELOCK, May 5.—A capacity house greeted the A.Y.P.A. Friday evening in the town hall here, when they made their bow in a delightful presentation "The Littlest Bridesmaid" a comedy in three acts. To the majority of the players it was the first appearance behind the footlights, but they might have been seasoned veterans, so well did they acquit themselves.

Judith Prices is to be married. Carold Gray is the youngest of the bridesmaids. She is really quite a young girl, who at the last moment had to substitute for her sister, who wrenched her ankle and was unable to attend the wedding of her girl friend. She feels that she is quite grown up, and so ignores the attentions of Peter Stafford, the boy next door. The night before the wedding a strange man in gray, enters the living-room of the house where Carol is alone, all others having gone for a straw-ride or to a dance at the lakeshore pavilion.

Carol takes him to be a burglar who has come to steal the wedding presents and attempts to reform him. Complications occur due to the arrival of Miss Flossie, who sees the stranger in gray, also takes him to be a burglar and wishes to save him from the police because he is good looking. The next day at the church, the minister who is a friend of the groom's has not arrived. Peter taking the part of an amateur detective, is out searching for the burglar and the lost clergyman, and when the minister does arrive he turns out to be Carol's burglar. The characters were all well chosen and showed much training.

Marguerite Roche as the leading lady in the role of Carol Gray the "Littlest Bridesmaid" together with Evlyne Lang as Masie the Irish maid were exceptionally good. Kenneth Barltrop as Jason the gardner and Jesse Anderson as Peter Stafford were all that could be desired. Mary Davies as the bride, Laurence Sanderson as the groom, Madge Curtis, as Mrs. Price, mother of the bride, and Mrs. Holderoft as her sister who has not given up hope, Irene Anderson as Anne, engaged to the best man, and Gerald Anderson as the minister were all very good in their several parts.

Will Post as the policeman was a scream. Mr. Covert as Mr. Price, and Helen Covert as Mar'Beth the observant small sister were also very good, in small parts.

The scenery was very attractive, and the make-up of the players exceptionally good. The costumes were lovely. Altogether it was a very nice play, exceedingly well done, and duly appreciated by those present. Rev. Mr. Worrall was the efficient coach.

Miscellaneous Shower

A jolly crowd of young and old assembled at the home of Mr. Frank Toms, Thursday evening, to honor Mr. and Mrs. Donald Plunkett by a miscellaneous shower in honor of their recent marriage. About one hundred friends were present and many beautiful and costly gifts showered on the happy young couple. A pleasant evening was spent in cards and dancing, and a sumptuous lunch served at midnight.

The regular meeting of Knox Church Christian Endeavour was held in the school room of the church on Thursday evening, April 28 when a splendid program was given. Mr. Beeton and Mrs. Beeton. Everyone in the community is invited to attend, and there is no admission fee. It is expected there will be a good program, as all societies have been asked to contribute a couple of numbers

SEVERAL MATTERS DISCUSSED AT THE HAVELOCK MEETING

Women's Institute to Discontinue Relief for Summer Months.

ELECT OFFICERS.

HAVELOCK, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence) — Many matters of local interest were dealt with by the Women's Institute at their annual meeting held in the Council Chamber on Monday afternoon, May 2nd. Election of officers was most important from the Institute members' viewpoint and resulted as follows: president, Mrs. Lancaster; 1st vice-president, Mrs. J. Hoffman; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. R. Scott; corresponding secretary, Mrs. E. Cross; financial secretary, Mrs. Bullied; treasurer, Mrs. L. A. Gould; directors, Miss L. Morrison, Miss E. Wright, Mrs. Bedford, Mrs. R. McCutcheon, Mrs. J. Toms; district director, Mrs. Wesley Johnston; reporter, Mrs. C. Huble.

In her address to the members the retiring president Mrs. Huble thanked officers and members for the splendid support given during the last year and all three years of office. She stated that it had been a pleasure to work with the other members who had co-operated so well all during her terms.

It was decided to apply to the department for material for the June and September meetings, as set forth in a circular letter from Mr. Putnam. Ten members will arrange for the other programs. Mrs. Lancaster, Mrs. Bonney, Mrs. Jamieson, Mrs. Scott, Mrs. Hoffmann, Mrs. Reynolds, Mrs. Bullied, Mrs. Hubel, Miss Morrison, Mrs. Bedford and Mrs. Johnston will together arrange for Grandmother's Day. A meeting of program convenors will be held at the home of the president, May 13th, to prepare programs for the hands of the printer. No word was received from the department as to the date of the dressmaking course. When word is received a meeting of the executive will be held to complete arrangements for the same.

Five dollars was donated to the Village Relief Fund, and no more relief will be done for the present.

A beautifully embroidered pair of pillow slips, made and donated by Mrs. Easterbrook, will be disposed of by drawing, when all tickets have been sold.

It was decided to ask the students of the Continuation School to give their play "Safety First" in the Town Hall on May 27th.

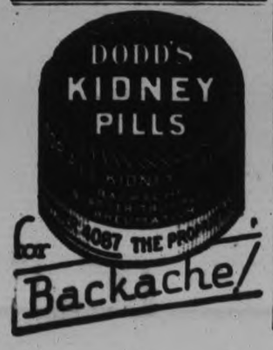
One of the members drew the attention of the meeting to the many acts of rowdyism within the municipality recently, and a very thorough discussion by all present led to a petition being sent to the Village Council to secure the services of a capable man to police the village, and maintain law and order. Many instances of curb cruising were cited, and young girls being accosted and followed by strangers and an instance of a bunch of rowdies from another village who tried to drag two girls into a car and engaged in a fist fight with one of the local boys who prevented them was told at the meeting, and aroused the indignation of all present.

The treasurer's report was read, and showed a balance of twenty dollars on hand. The total receipts for the year were $364.11 and expenditures $336.53. There was a membership of fifty-one.

It was decided to turn the plot at the Town Hall over to the Horticultural Society, who will look after it in future.

Mrs. Bonney will see some of the former members of the I.O.D.E. regarding the flag for the Council Chamber. The I.O.D.E. is no longer active here, and it was thought that their flag might be turned over to the Institute to place on the wall of the Council Chamber.

The matter of appointing someone to prepare the rooms for the meetings, to draw water, light the fire and wash dishes afterwards was left over until the next meeting.



Cavan

The quarterly official board of Cavan Circuit, met in Mount Pleasant United Church on Monday evening; thirty-one members being present. Mr. R. S. Staples was elected representative to the conference and presbytery for the coming conference year.

PAINFUL PILES

Go Quick—No Cutting—No Salve

It takes only one bottle of Dr. J. S. Leonhardt's prescription—HEM-ROID—to end itching, bleeding protruding piles. This internal remedy acts quickly even in old stubborn cases. HEM-ROID succeeds because it heals and restores the affected parts and relieves blood congestion in the lower bowel—the cause of piles. Only 60 internal medicine can do this. That's why salves and cutting fail. Mellmid & Jury Bond's Drug Store say HEM-ROID tablets must end your Pile misery or money back.

Dairy Notes

CAMPBELLFORD, May 5 (Examiner Staff Correspondence). — The stock yards at the Campbellford Station on Tuesday seemed to be filled to capacity, calves and hogs predominating. Hogs were officially graded and paid for on that basis by Messrs. Scott & Nelson.

Cheese sold on the Delta Board on Thursday for 9⅛ cents and on Friday at Iroquois and Lansdowne Boards for 9 3-16 cents.

A large shipment of nice grade Holstein cows left town recently for delivery in the United States.

The cheese factories of the district are all looking spick and span preparatory to opening the season's making. This signifies much expense on the part of the patrons and much labor on the part of the makers, and it is to be hoped the season's business will repay them.

Stocks of cheese in Montreal at the end of April were reported as 32,127 boxes, as compared with the same time last year, which registered 62,426 boxes.

MILLBROOK PRESBYTERIAN Y.P.S. WIND UP YEAR WITH BANQUET

Feature of Evening is Debate, "Resolved, Life To-day Better Than 150 Years Ago."

LADIES' AID MEETS.

MILLBROOK, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence) — One hundred and twenty-five young people attended the banquet and final meeting of the year of the Y.P.S. Grace Presbyterian Church, Millbrook and the Centreville Presbyterian Church, held on Monday, May 2, in the South Monaghan Sunday School Hall.

The gathering opened with a hymn and the Lord's Prayer in unison, after which Mr. McIntosh Bradshaw, president of the Centreville Y.P.S., invited J. Thompson, president of the Grace Church Y.P.S., to take the chair. Dick Williams read the Scripture lesson and the main feature of the evening, a debate, "Resolved that life to-day is better than one hundred and fifty years ago," took up the attention of the meeting.

Upholding the affirmative were Archie Deyell and Dickson Hutchison, of Centreville, while equally able arguments for the negative were advanced by Misses Ruth Thorndyke and Vanita Ingram, of Millbrook. While the judges, Miss Dorothy Hall, of Centreville, and George McKnight, of Millbrook were considering their decision, the Grace Church Y.P.S. quartet, Misses Thorndyke and Ingram and J. Thorndyke and D. Williams, entertained the audience with a selection.

Decision in the debate was given in favor of the affirmative, the judges expressing pleasure with the exceptionally able manner in which the young participants had handled their respective sides of the argument, and the meeting closed with a hymn, and prayer by the minister Rev. H. R. Williams, B.A.

Games and contests filled out the remainder of the evening happily until all were invited to sit down to a bountiful supper provided with the well known hospitality and service for which the young people of Centreville are noted.

Rev. Mr. Williams was warmly congratulated on having organized two such flourishing and successful organizations among the young people on his charge in the comparatively brief period since his coming to Millbrook as the pastor of the joint circuit.

Announcement of the Y.P.S. entertainment to be held in Grace S.S. Hall, Millbrook, on May 11, at 8 p.m., when the young people will present the play, "An Irish Stew," was made before the guests dispersed after passing the usual vote of thanks to the hosts and hostesses of the evening.

St. Andrew's L.A.

Mrs. I. E. and Miss May Needham were hostesses for the May meeting of the Ladies' Association of St. Andrew's Church, held at their home, King street, east, on Tuesday at 3 p.m., the president, Mrs. Offa Williamson, taking the chair. Approximately thirty members and visitors were in attendance.

Mrs. W. A. O'Brian read the lesson, and the president led in the opening prayer. Discussion, in the business period centred around a project for raising funds in connection with which Mrs. Williamson and Mrs. J. McKnight were appointed to go to Peterborough the same evening, and observe the event under consideration. An invitation from one of the officials of the company had been extended to these two ladies to be present and make personal observation, thus being fully qualified to pass on the information first-hand to their own society.

A reading by Mrs. W. W. Kennedy was much enjoyed, and at the close Miss Needham invited her guests to the dining room where a dainty tea was served. Mrs. G. E. Burnham poured tea, the table being lovely with cover of Cluny lace, centred with spring blossoms, and with tall tapers lighted in silver holders.

Assisting the hostess in serving her guests were Mrs. H. R. Edmunds, Mrs. Williamson and Mrs. J. McKnight. Those present were glad to greet Mrs. Needham and Mrs. (Dr.) E. L. Burnham who had been enjoying a cosy chat while the meeting was in progress. Mrs. Williamson's decision to retain the presidency of the association was greeted with warm applause, and many took opportunity of expressing their personal pleasure during the social hour at the close of the gathering.

DURHAM COUNTY ORANGE RALLY IS HELD IN MILLBROOK HALL

Grand Master of Ontario East is Guest Speaker for Occasion.

SPLENDID MEETING.

MILLBROOK, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence) — The claims of the Orange Order on the loyalty of its members, as well as the public confidence and esteem, were presented at a largely attended gathering held in the Town Hall on Monday evening, the guests of honor including Right Worshipful Brother Harold Shipman, Grand Master L.O.G.L. of Ontario East, and members of his staff, and Right Worshipful Sister E. M. Gillespie, Grand Mistress L.O.B.A. of Ontario East; the County Master, Brother Fred Lewers, occupying the chair.

The meeting was opened with prayer by the County Chaplain, Brother W. W. Jones, who is also Deputy Grand Chaplain of Ontario East, others on the platform including Right Worshipful Brother H. A. Graham, Grand Organizer and P.G.M., of Ontario East; Right Worshipful Brother Robert H. Whyte, P.G.M. of Alberta, and special representative of the Orange Insurance Department; Most Worshipful Brother R. Noakes, Grand Master of the Orange Britons of British America, and representative of the Orange Sentinel; County Master Brother Robert Ritchie, of Peterborough; and Right Worshipful Brother Ernest Reid, of Peterborough, Deputy Grand Master of the Orange Grand Lodge of Ontario East.

The Grand Lodge officers were introduced by the Grand Orangizer, Brother H. A. GGraham, Sister E. M. Gillespie, Grand Mistress of the Ladies' Orange Benevolent Association, who was received with warm applause, bringing the first message to the audience, and stressing the importance and usefulness of the ladies' Orange organizations, which now have a membership of thirty-five thousand in Canada, nine thousand of these being in Ontario, regret being expressed that only one such lodge exists in Durham County, with another in a dormant condition at Garden Hill.

H. Shipman

The Grand Master, Right Worshipful Brother H. Shipman, was given an ovation as he rose to speak, his open remarks telling the 'why' of the holding of such public gatherings as the one he was addressing, the idea being to bring the Grand Lodge officials into personal contact with the individual members of the primary Orange lodges in the twenty-five counties of the eastern part of the province. "You and I are the two parties in the Orange Association, but let us say rather 'We' for the sake of more intimate and understanding activity," declared the speaker, urging the formation of ladies' lodges as a helpful undertaking of the immediate future. "If the ladies are good enough to be taken into your own homes, they are certainly equally needful in your Orange home; their activity and brightening influence will accomplish wonders and I hope on July twelfth next we will find them taking a real part in this county's demonstration."

A word was also passed on to the mothers and fathers to enlist their children in the Orange Young Britons as an asset to the formation of good character and associates, "becoming better Protestants and joining the Orange Association eventually."

Urging that discreditable conduct on the part of the individual member meant discredit on the whole Orange Order, the Grand Master emphasized the need of taking an interest in local affairs, also a part in church activities since one of the obligations assumed in Orange membership included a promise to attend worship at least once a Sunday, preferably of course in the church where the candidate belonged.

"The word church has six letters, 'ch' meaning Christ the beginning and the end, and in the centre 'u' and 'r', the significance being just what you are, or the church is just what you make it. It is the same way in the primary lodges—what you are makes them better or worse. Which way is our influence to be thrown? The closer you come to the Holy Bible, on which our Order is founded, the better man you will be."

Prolonged applause followed the Grand Master's remarks, and the claims of the Orange Sentinel on the members of the Order were well presented by its special representative, Most Worshipful Brother R. Noakes, who had placed copies of the paper in all the seats, and declared it to be a great cohesive force keeping the individual members in touch with the central body, keeping together a legion of men and women interested in national welfare, and keeping them informed on the questions of the day and the part Orangeism is playing in events of wide significance, suggesting an ideal for their own advancement in broader citizenship.

Concrete cases were cited where the public well being had been served, and the members were remined that they are shareholders in the paper since it had passed from private ownership some three years ago, when it was purchased by the Grand Orange Lodge of British America.

"Service is not only the motto of the Orange Association, but it is also our business," declared the Past Grand Master of Alberta, Right Worshipful Brother R. H. Whyte, in opening his address, and proceeding presently to 'talk insurance', decrying the unfair criticism that had been levelled at this department of the Order, and insisting that "it supplies the legal status, whereby we may bring the wrongdoer before the courts of justice."

Quoting facts and figures to prove the sound financial position of the insurance department, the speaker told of almost two million dollars paid in benefits to widows and orphan children; of $1,005,327 net cash gain after twelve years of operation, the initial capital being but $144,000; of not one dollar invested in stocks of any kind whatever, but offering an opportunity of keeping money in Canada and for Canadian citizens. In 1931 Orange insurance has earned and paid every cent of the death losses, put $10,000 in the general fund, and yet not touched one cent of the premiums collected. "Policy holders are share holders, and to you as shareholders belongs the $102,000 invested in government bonds. This insurance is not open to the public but only to members of the Orange Order, and it is able to save you a lot of good dollars because we have no agents, no salaried officials, but one office only, with six persons in the whole Dominion, for the handling of our business."

Public Service

Rev. Brother Maurice Kingsford, rector of the Gore's Landing parish, who had a seat on the platform announced a public service to be held at Bewdley on Sunday, June 2, with Captain Casey, Field Secretary of the Canadian Church Army, as the speaker, and urged attendance, over one thousand people having been present at a similar service last year.

The Deputy Grand Chaplain for Ontario East, Right Worshipful Brother W. W. Jones, also had an announcement of interest regarding a county Orange picnic to take place at the Agricultural Park, Millbrook, on June 8, with a full program of sports, fun and fellowship. Brother Ernest Reid spoke briefly inviting all present to the public meeting to be held in the Salvation Army Temple, Peterborough, the following evening, the guests of honor on the platform to again be the speakers.

Brother Hilden Johnston, P.C.M., of Janetville, voiced the vote of thanks to the visiting Grand Lodge officers, Brother A. V. Thorne, P.M. seconding same, the audience endorsing it by prolonged applause. The Grand Master, and Grand Mistress, held an informal reception, following the singing of the National Anthem, coming to the floor of the hall and personally shaking hands with everyone present before the gathering dispersed.

On Tuesday, beginning at 8.30 a.m., the Grand Master with members of the local organizations, visited suspended members and prospective members throughout the district until four o'clock, when departure was made for Peterborough in readiness for the gathering in that city in the evening.

GOOD AND BAD FOOD HABITS.

If you were to ask an English physician what was the 'natural' complaint in Great Britain he would tell you that it was rheumatism.

If you were to ask a physician in the United States or Canada what was the national complaint he would say that it was constipation. And the cause of this condition is that the diet is so soft that very little chewing is done; foods are so highly 'refined' that much of the vitamins and minerals are removed before they are placed on sale in the stores, too much concentrated food is eaten, and not enough of the foods with fibres in them such as fruit and vegetables.

Now what are good food habits, and what food habits would be classed as bad?

Dr. L. Jean Bogart gives a list of good and bad habits that is worth considering and for most of us, also, well worth fololwing.

The good habits are: (a), eating a light breakfast; (b), making lunch or supper from simple easily digested foods; (c), using plenty of fruits, especially for breakfast; (d), using light desserts, such as dried or fresh fruits, nuts, cheese, simple puddings; (e), more of the soups made with milk and vegetables; (f), using more salads; (g), using more leafy vegetables; (h), using some of the meat of the organs of animals—liver, kidney; (i), taking more foods that need chewing.

What about the bad habits of eating?

These are: (a), eating too much; (b), eating too highly flavored foods; (c), not using enough fish or sea food; (d), using too little milk, cheese and leafy vegetables; (e), excess fondness for hot breads, rich desserts, cold foods, soft drinks; (f), drinking too much of the stimulants, tea and coffee; (g), not eating enough breakfast or lunch; (h), eating too fast.

Of course these are just general rules. A man working hard outdoors all day, must have a real breakfast and a good lunch if he is to do this heavy manual work. Similarly with one engaged in play or athletics.

However, if we will keep in mind in a general way the above mentioned good and bad habits, we are not likely to suffer with constipation or the "national complaint" as it is called.

If we will also remember Dr. McCollum's advice, as mentioned before, that is the addition of some protective foods—raw fruit, vegetables, and milk to our daily diet, it will protect us from some of the above mentioned bad habits of eating.

Brazil will extend three of its government railway lines.

HOME AND SCHOOL ASSOCIATION NEWS

QUEEN ALEXANDRA

The Queen Alexandra Home and School Association met on Monday evening in the kindergarten with a splendid attendance of members and friends, the president, Mrs. Graham, in the chair.

Robert Flitton favored the audience with a well rendered piano solo after which Mr. L. J. Pettit gave a most interesting talk on "Vocational Guidance", a subject of much interest to all parents. He stressed the difference between vocational guidance and vocational training and the importance of impressing upon the juvenile mind the dignity of all labor of whatever nature.

Bert McFadden gave a pleasing violin solo, accompanied by Mr. Jack Telford.

The evening's business was transacted, bills passed and a committee reports received. A bowling tea to mark the completion of a very successful season was held in the kindergarten on April 11.

The date for the ice cream treat for the children was set for June 1 and the annual picnic date for June 17.

Mr. Munro's room won the attendance picture.

Mr. R. S. Staples was appointed representative to the conference and presbytery for the coming conference year.

Handy Recipes

By Edith Barber

PASTRY.

One and one-half cups flour; ½ teaspoon salt; ½ cup fat; cold water.

Sift together the flour and salt. Cut in the fat with two case knives. For a large quantity a wooden bowl and chopping knife may be used. When fine, add at one side of the bowl one tablespoon of cold water and stir in as much of the flour and fat as the water will take up. Continue this until you have four or five balls of dough and some dry flour left in the bowl. Press together with your fingers. If all the dry flour is not taken up, add a little more water. Chill and roll.

HOT WATER PASTRY.

Three-quarter cup shortening; ¾ cup boiling water; 3 cups flour; 1 teaspoon baking powder; 1 teaspoon salt

Pour boiling water over shortening and beat with a fork until smooth. Sift the dry ingredients together, stir the two mixtures. Chill and roll out on board sprinkled generously with flour. This makes one double-crust pie or two one-crust pies. For pastry shell bake at 450 degrees ten minutes.

APPLE PIE.

Six medium-sized apples; 1 cup sugar; 1 teaspoon cinnamon; ¼ teaspoon salt; 1 tablespoon butter.

Wash apples and slices fine, add sugar, salt and mix well together. Pour into pie pan lined with crust. Dot with small pieces of butter and put on top crust. Press edges together well and pierce crust to allow steam to escape. Brush top crust with milk or egg yolk diluted with water. Bake in hot oven (425 degrees) thirty-five minutes. Lower heat after fifteen minutes.

LEMON MERINGUE PIE.

Half cup flour; 1 cup sugar; 1½ cups boiling water; 2 eggs; grated rind of 1 lemon; 1 tablespoon butter; 3 tablespoons lemon juice; 4 tablespoons powdered sugar.

Mix the flour and sugar, add the boiling water slowly, and boil five minutes, stirring constantly. Cook over boiling water ten minutes, stirring occasionally. Beat the yolks of the egg and add to them the cooked mixture. Return to boiler and add the butter, lemon juice and rind, and cook until the mixture thickens. Cool and fill the baked crust. Cover with a meringue made by beating the whites of eggs and adding the powdered sugar. Brown in a slow oven, 325 degrees Fahrenheit, from ten to fifteen minutes.

FRUIT CREAM PIE—CREAM FILLING

Three-quarter cup sugar; 1-3 cup flour; ½ teaspoon salt; 2 eggs; 2 cups scalded milk; 1 teaspoon vanilla or ½ teaspoon lemon extract.

Mix the dry ingredients, add the eggs slightly beaten, and pour on gradually the scalded milk. Cook fifteen minutes in a double boiler, stirring constantly until thickened, afterward occasionally. Cool and flavor.

Bake the crust and fill the shell with cream filling. Whip one cup of cream, add one-half cup or more of strained fruit pulp and pile on top of the cream filling. Fresh strawberries, raspberries or peaches may be used, or stewed apricots or prunes may take the place of the fresh fruit.

Typical Mother

RECEIVES TRIBUTE OF THE WORLD

Enthroned in the hearts of sons and daughters, no matter how far they may be from the home fireside, this typical mother is among the millions who will be honored on Mother's Day (Sunday, May 8) in a nation-wide tribute. Sons and daughters throughout the land will proudly wear the red flower for the mother who is living, and the white flower for the mother who is gone—but never forgotten. For no matter how much times may change, it is true that, as the poet Samual Taylor Coleridge has said, "A mother is a mother still, the holiest thing alive."

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

With the month of May, motoring gets a new impetus.

• • • • • • •

Days are warm and the sun shines most of the time. The call of spring is more incessant than in the earlier part of the season when spring rains are more prevalent.

• • • • • • •

Those who have automombiles plan pleasant trips and outings and those who haven't cars look forward with eagerness to invitations from those of their friends who have cars.

• • • • • • •

So perhaps, this would be a good time to mention certain little things which add to comfort and pleasure.

• • • • • • •

Be sure you take extra wraps. The day may turn cooler and unless one is prepared to be comfortably clad the enjoyment goes out of the expedition.

• • • • • • •

It is difficult to feel chilly and be agreeable without extra effort, so be prepared against such an emergency.

• • • • • • •

It might be a good idea to take along something to eat. If one goes motoring nowadays it is true that there are scattered along every highway, plenty of eating stands, but it is unfortunate to be too dependent upon them.

• • • • • • •

It may so happen that the ride takes the company on less frequented roads where such places are not easily found. Or what is just likely, something has to be done to the car along some portion of the road where no inviting eating stand is ready to welcome the group.

• • • • • • •

So be prepared with a few cookies, some sandwiches, fruit or some easily prepared bite.

• • • • • • •

Not only is this wise, but is also economical. Since no stop has to be made, the journey is not delayed during the enjoyment of these refreshments.

• • • • • • •

And if your car is a closed one, open the windows, just as much as comfort will allow. Get the most good out of the drive by breathing in lungfuls of pure, fragrant, fresh air.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

by Ely Culbertson

World's Champion Player and Greatest Card Analyst

170

STRATEGY VERSUS STRENGTH

"They say God is always for the big battalions," the witty Voltaire cynically remarked shortly before the outbreak of the French Revolution, a century and a half ago. Big battalions have a habit of winning at Contract, also, but it would be a weak Contract strategist indeed who would conceded victory unchallenged to the Declarer because the defensive forces at his command were weak and inadequate to guard the entire battle-front. Military strategy does not require that in order to win a victory you must chase the entire opposing army from their positions. A break through at a vital point is sufficient. So in Bridge, good defense consists in utilizing every ounce of strength you have. An attempt to deceive the Declarer as to the disposition of the sometimes puny forces arrayed against him, is the basis of sound defensive strategy. Take today's hand:

The Bidding:

(Figure after the bid in table refers to numbered explanatory paragraph.)

South	West	North	East
1♠	1♡	Pass	2♠(1)
Pass	4♠	Pass	Pass
Pass

1—Even although the bidding was opened by an opponent, East holds a strong two-suiter and wishes to give his partner a picture of something more than a possible weak effort to reach a better contract; hence, his jump bid.

In the play, South led two rounds of clubs, exhausting East and West. He could see one more probable trick in his own hand. This would hold East to his contract of four spades. But that was not enough. Where was the needed setting trick to be found? The player holding the South hand realized that ordinary methods would not produce the trick. It could not be won by force, if East had the strength to justify his bid. Force failing, there remained a ruse to confuse the Declarer as to the situation in the trump suit if North's holding was such as to give color to the attempt. In any event, nothing could be lost, but a possible extra trick, so South led the five of trumps. The nine was played from Dummy, North played the Knave and East won with the Ace. Winning this trick, East began a restudy of the hand. He had a Singleton heart. It seemed quite reasonable in accord with the law of symmetry, that another hand around the table might also have a Singleton. Apparently, South held a Singleton spade; otherwise, East reasoned, he would not lead a low card from such holding as Queen five. In any event, if he held two spades it seemed clear to East that they must both be small ones. East, convinced by his own reasoning, decided against playing for a drop in the trump suit, but led a heart to enter the Dummy and lead a spade through North. When North played the six, East was confirmed in his judgment as to the distribution of the trumps. He finessed and South cashed the Queen. Later in the game he won a trick with the King of diamonds as East held too many diamonds to dispose of them through discarding on the hearts. The setting trick had been developed through strategy. The frontal attempt to resist the Declarer's attack must have failed.

TODAY'S POINTER

Question: What is the negative one notrump?

Answer: When lacking adequate support for our partner's suit bid, and having 1-½ honor-tricks in the hand, take out with any biddable suit, or with one notrump.

HONOR MEMORY OF LATE RECTOR

Archdeaconry of Peterborough Pay Tribute to Rev. J. C. Davidson.

SESSIONS CONCLUDE.

An important conference of the clergy of the Archdeaconry of Peterborough concluded a two-day session here last night with a banquet at St. Luke's Church.

The first day's business took the form of a Rural Deanry meeting of Haliburton, Victoria and Peterborough presided over by Reverends R. J. Shires, M.A., A. T. Weir, L.S.T. and George J. Bousfield, B.A. In the evening a well-attended service was held at St. John's Church. The preacher was the Rev. Dean Craig, D.D., of St. George's Cathedral, Kingston. He preached an inspiring and helpful sermon to a very attentive congregation on the theme of "work".

The conference resumed on Wednesday morning. After Holy Communion at St. Luke's Church breakfast was served by the ladies of the congregation at the Parish Hall.

At ten o'clock a "Quiet Hour" was conducted by Dean Craig, following which the Greek Testament was taken by the Rev. T. J. O'Connor-Fenton.

Luncheon was served at St. John's at one o'clock.

A paper on "Problems of the Primacy" was read by the Rev. R. J. Shires, following which Rev. A. J. Jackson of Cobourg gave a review of a recently published book "The Natural and the Supernatural."

During the business session it was decided to forward two resolutions to the Synod; the one asking that meetings of the Synod be not called on the first or last days of the month. The other that Mission Board reports be presented at a fixed hour at the Synod meetings.

The affairs of the Church Messenger were discussed. The Committee in charge was enlarged by the addition of Rev. W. Simpson and F. H. Mason.

The reports received from the various deaneries were all satisfactory and showed that progress was being made in many directions, and that the people were making a better response to the calls of the church.

By a standing vote a resolution of sympathy in the death of the late Archdeacon J. C. Davidson was carried the same to be forwarded to his widow.

A motion congratulating the Venerable R. C. Blagrave on his appointment as Archdeacon of Peterborough was carried by acclamation.

It was decided that the Archdeaconry should meet annually or when deemed necessary by the Archdeacon.

A special church service for families who live on barges in canals was held on a towpath near London recently.

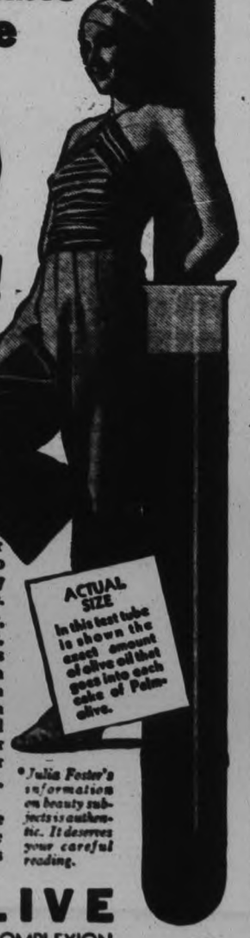
Simply adorable ...her figure

But her skin, Tragic!

By Julia Foster*

What a marvelous figure! But her skin—what a shame! To think—a few words from me could have done so much for her.



BE thankful your own skin need never be "tragic". The right care is so easy! Beauty experts will tell you any skin can be kept soft, youthful, exquisite.

More than that, they gladly, freely, tell you how: Morning and evening, apply to face and throat a generous lather of Palmolive Soap and warm water. Work well into the pores with your hands. Then rinse thoroughly with warm water, and finish with a cold rinse. Hot water should never touch your face. After this, in the morning, your make-up. At night, if your skin is dry, follow with oil or tissue cream.

For years, more than 20,000 of the world's leading beauty specialists have advised Palmolive above all other soaps for this foundation cleansing.

*Julia Foster's information on beauty subjects is authentic. It deserves your careful reading.

BURIED BY CITY LEAVES $14,000

Hamilton Miser Lived for Years on Charity of Friends.

$600 OLD AGE PENSION.

HAMILTON, May 5.—Obadiah Markle, an old man who lived on the charity of friends for many years and was buried in a pauper's grave here, was a miser and left $14,000 in a local bank.

He died on April 1 at his rooming-house, 36 Park Street South, as police were preparing to remove him in the ambulance to the General Hospital. He was believed not to have any friends, and the city bore the expense of his funeral.

For years Obadiah Markle had eked out a precarious existence selling writing paper and other trifles. A few friends pitied him and kept him in food and lodging. The Y.M.C.A. frequently gave him meals in its cafeteria without charge. He also had received $600 from the Government in old-age pension.

Mrs. Hess, who conducts the house where Markle roomed, was the first to discover that the old man had any money. After his funeral, she was renovating the room in preparation for a new lodger, when she found Markle's bankbook hidden in the mattress. It showed a balance of $14,000. Mrs. Hess could scarcely believe her eyes, and took the bankbook to her lawyers. They confirmed the bank account. Mrs. Hess had let the old man get in arrears, as she believed he was penniless.

A niece of the deceased is thought to be living in Toronto. No other relatives are known of. Several claims have already been entered against the estate by those who befriended him.

OMEMEE RESIDENT WILL STAND TRIAL

Faces Charge of Arson Following Burning Shack on Pigeon River.

(Examiner Correspondent)

LINDSAY, May 5. — William V. Mitchell, Omemee, was Wednesday afternoon committed for trial at the next court of competent jurisdiction by Police Magistrate Jordan on a charge of arson. This charge was laid in connection with the destruction by fire on April 22 of a hunting shack on the bank of Pigeon River at Omemee, the property of Albert Brooks of that village. No plea was taken from Mitchell who was represented by L. M. Frost. The matter of bail will have to come before the county judge.

Orville Toole, who lives near the burned shack, told of seeing the blaze when coming into the village and also seeing a canoe pulling into shore 25 yards west of the fire. Albert Brooks, owner of the shack, in his evidence stated that he was in the building the evening of the fire, and later arrived in the village before it was dusk. A little girl notified him of the fire at the shack, which was practically destroyed by the time he reached it. There had been no fire in the stove for two days. The day of the fire he had cooked his dinner outside on a little camp stove. When Orville Toole had informed him about see the canoe, witness decided to stay and wait for the boat. He saw a canoe starting to make the turn into the bridge. He saw the face of the man in the boat by the light of the fire. He recognized Mitchell as the man in the canoe.

He next informed Provincial Constable Nelson of the fire. Constable Nelson in his evidence told of the investigation he had made and of looking from 10.30 o'clock the night of the fire until 11.30 o'clock the next morning for Mitchell, and of his arrest. He also told the court of statements made by the accused.

Ernest Butterworth, employed in the McLachlan foundry at Cannington, had a narrow escape from serious injury while operating a new machine for the first time. His right hand was caught, the first finger being cut off and the other fingers badly lacerated. The machine was stopped in the nick of time as the unfortunate man would undoubtedly suffered the loss of his hand.

Alfred Bostock, who was brought from Belleville by Constable Hodgson, where he was arrested for vagrancy, appeared before Police Magistrate Jordan yesterday. He pleaded guilty to the charge of the theft of a sum of money at the Elsmure Hotel and was remanded for a week. The girl, Vera Graham, who ran away with Bostock, was remanded for a week on the charge of vagrancy.

FARM HORSES COME BACK

The present low price of oats and other feeds in contrast with the higher costs of gas and oil required in tractor operation combine, as the Dominion Animal Husbandman suggests, to indicate that the horse is rapidly regaining favor as a medium of farm power. He predicts that the next few years will see a revival in horse breeding and the use of heavy draft horses on the farms of Canada, both east and west. As he points out, under present conditions horses can be bred and reared cheaply and when they have reached working age, the charge for depreciation, fuel and repairs are surprisingly low, for the self-oiling engine has nothing whatever on the self-repairing heavy draft horse.

Annual Flowers.

Wonderful results can be achieved with annuals alone, which is a boon to the person who expects to move in the near future. Borders of mixed annual flowers, arranged in clumps of one color, with the taller sorts generally towards the rear are very attractive and from the latter end of July are really more colorful than a bed of perennials. For solid beds, such things as petunias, zinnias, gladiolus, portulaca, dahlias, calliopsis and nasturtiums may be used. Hedges, upright screens or backgrounds can be created by the use of the taller growing annuals such as the cosmos, four o'clock, marigolds, Mexican sunflowers, castor beans, and similar high, bushy plants. For climbers there are hops, trailing nasturtiums, sweet peas, scarlet runner beans and several other things which shoot ahead and soon make a splendid screen.

Great Variety in Vegetables.

The average Canadian does not realize the really wonderful variety in vegetables which this climate allows. As a matter of fact, with a little planning, the utilization of early, medium and late varieties, and, above all, successional plantings, that is, a portion of the seed planted at intervals of ten days or two weeks instead of all sown at once, it is quite possible to have a supply of salad material and more substantial vegetables coming on all summer and fall, and of having these things at the height of their freshness, too. For instance, one should not confine himself to simply a short row of leaf lettuce. This must be eaten while it is young and tender and then just as a taste has been developed is all done.

The crop can be strung out over the whole season if there are, say, three plantings of three different types. There will be the leaf lettuce first, then the head, and later on during the hot weather the Cos, which comes up to a conical head and is practically self-bleaching. One can supplement salad material with cress, it grows quickly on any land and comes on early; green onions, sown at ten-day intervals until the first of July, so that they will be ready in succession; endives and mustard. By using three types of spinach the season for this crop is lengthened by several weeks. Include in the cabbage group both the red and white, and also cauliflower, Brussel sprouts and broccoli.

Using an early, medium and late pea feasts of this, one of the best of all things, will last for at least a month. In the same way corn, beans, young beets and carrots may be extended in season. Something out of the ordinary will be added by planting broad beans, egg plants, melons, leeks, small table squash and a host of other things passed over in previous years simply because it was never considered that there was the same scope and variety in growing vegetables as there was in the more decorative end of the business.

Nursery Stock.

There is no object to be gained and often losses result where one sends half way across the continent for plants, shrubbery and trees. Purchasing from the nearest reliable source is best as then one is sure of getting something adapted to his own section of the country. When this stock arrives, if not ready to plant immediately, open the parcel, spread out the roots in a shallow trench and cover firmly with damp soil. Above all things, do not let the roots be exposed to sun or wind, and, if the plants are very dry on arrival, bury stems and all for a day or two.

Peonies.

Most people consider the wonderful peony a flower of a very short blooming period. Such, however, is not necessarily the case. With literally scores of varieties from which to choose, one can, by selecting early-, medium- and late-blooming types, prolong the flowering season easily for a full month. In the white varieties alone there is a period of almost a fortnight between the blooming of the earliest and the latest, and there is practically a different date of opening for all well-known types. One is well advised to study these various varieties in the catalogue, noting particularly dates of blooming, as well as color, and make selections accordingly. In a few weeks, when these flowers will be at their best, it is also a good plan to visit gardens and jot down the names of favorites.

Output Of Tomatoes Steadily Decreasing

Cobourg Canning Factory Will Not Pack Them.

COBOURG, May 5. — Cobourg Canning factory will not handle tomatoes this year but will take peas and corn only, beginning operations toward the latter part of June. The price offered for peas this year will be around $30 a ton and they will be supplied through the threshing outfits at Port Hope, Grafton and Wicklow. Brighton canning factories are distributed over the present tomato outlook in the district. Many of the farmers have found it unprofitable to grow tomatoes for 25 cents a bushel and signs indicate that the crop for 1932 will be only half what it was last year. Figures show a considerable decrease in Northumberland during the past few years. In 1930 there were 3,000 bushels of tomatoes under cultivation, in 1931 it had dropped to 2,000 bushels and this year it promises to be near 1,000. Peas and corn show a corresponding decrease.

AVIATRIX PLANS TO AID FRIEND

Mrs. Keith-Miller Points to Capt. Lancaster's War Record.

SUSPECTED IN SHOOTING.

MIAMI, May 5. (CP) Mrs. Jessie M. Keith-Miller, Australian aviatrix has joined in planning a defense for Capt. W. N. Lancaster, her British flying partner, in the event he is indicted for murder of her young fiance, Haden Clarke.

"Everything brought out in the case has made Bill (Lancaster) look badly" the woman flyer said yesterday as she worked with Lancaster's attorney on preliminary defense plans. "There are a thousand things to be brought out in fairness to him that are yet undisclosed" she added.

She cited her partner's war record and expressed the view that statements she previously had made in an attempt to establish that Clarke took his own life had been interpreted in a manner to reflect on Lancaster. She said she feared a grand jury indictment for this reason.

Report Likely Saturday

The grand jurors concluded their inquiry into Clarke's shooting yesterday but probably will make no report before Saturday or Monday. Lancaster has been in jail three days since state Attorney N. Vernon Hawthorne swore to a warrant for his arrest on a murder charge.

Clarke, who was collaborating with Mrs. Keith Miller on a story of her life, was fatally wounded in her home where both he and Lancaster were guests a short time after the couple had disclosed to the captain their plans to marry.

Both Lancaster and Mrs. Keith-Miller maintain Clarke shot himself, although Lancaster admitted writing two suicide notes attributed to Clarke to divert suspicion. Mrs. Keith-Miller has been exonerated by the state attorney.

NEW FIRE ESCAPES COST $15,000 ERECTED ON PUBLIC BUILDINGS UNDER FIRE MARSHALL'S ORDERS

Expenditures Borne by the Owners of Local Properties.

ADEQUATE PROTECTION.

Lodge Rooms Singled Out Especially for Upstairs Exits.

Erection of adequate fire escapes on numerous buildings, mainly those accommodating stores, offices and apartments in the down town section of this city has been undertaken on a large scale during the past year on the orders of the Provincial Fire Marshal.

According to Fire Chief George Gimblett the work undertaken up to the present has cost approximately $15,000.00, which was borne by the respective owners of the property on which orders were made. There is still further work of this nature anticipated, all with the idea of preventing loss of human life and of lessening fire hazards.

Increase in work of this nature was explained by the Fire Chief as being due to recent consolidation of fire prevention laws which have invested the Fire Marshal with greater authority.

Although some of the iron fire escapes of the stair type, came from Toronto and Hamilton many of them were made in this city by the William Hamilton Company.

The City Fire Department works in direct co-operation with the Fire Marshal's Department, and an inspector is sent out daily by Chief Gimblett, whose duty it is to report on all buildings in which fire hazards exist or of any cases where adequate fire protection is not provided.

During the past year the following orders were issued by the Fire Marshal respecting local property, all of which have now practically been compiled with: Toronto Savings and Loan Company, 3-storey brick building situated at 397 George street, occupied on ground floor by stores, on second floor by offices and third floor by I.O.O.F. lodge rooms; 3-storey brick building at 160½-166 Simcoe street, stores and apartments; 4-storey brick building at 433-439 George street, stores and apartments and lodge rooms of Knights of Pythias Order; 3-storey brick building at 134½ Hunter street occupied on third floor by Moose Lodge; 323 George street, stores and apartments; 325 George street, stores and apartments; 329 Geore street, stores and apartments; 321 Georg street stores and apartments; Crystal Apartments 410-412 George street, stores and apartments, Grand Central apartments; 120½ Hunter street, offices, apartments and Masonic Hall; 381-395 Water street, apartments; 384½ George street occupied on third floor as lodge room; 374 George street, apartments top floor. In each of the above instances either new fire escapes of the stair type were ordered or addition to fire escapes already existing.

Other property included the Y.W.C.A., improvements to former fire escapes; 168¼ Charlotte street, owned by William Harper, and occupied as stores and apartments, improvements to former fire escapes; B. Chesler owner of 3-storey building known as Lundy apartments, improvements and alterations to former escapes; William Stanley, 613 Union street, owner of wooden shed at 413 Bethune street, ordered to tear down building; Mrs. A. Swartz 553 Homewood avenue, owner of 3-storey brick building at 344-6, Aylmer street, N., metal fire escapes, stair type; Mrs. Alice C. Hubbs, Armour road, owner of east portion of frame shed at rear of 176-180 Brock street, ordered to tear down the building and remove debris; W. H. Bradburn, owner of frame stable at rear of 431 Chambers street, ordered to tear down building and remove debris; William Langford, 392 Water street, owner of summer kitchen, wood shed, frame shed used as garage and an old barn all adjoining and connected to rear of 326 Water street; order to tear down barn and adjoining shed and remove debris, also to alter or repair wooden shed and kitchen to conform to city building by-laws. George Porter, 21 Bethune street, owner of west portion of frame shed at rear of 184 Brock street; ordered to tear down building and remove debris; H. S. Rogers, 147 Hunter street, E., owner of wooden verandah in dilapidated condition, ordered to tear down verandah and remove debris; Percy H. Dunford, 389 Queen street, owner of vacant frame house and barn located at 501 Cross street, all windows in house broken, frame shed at rear in dilapidated condition, ordered to board up all windows and doors in house and barn and to tear down sheds at rear of house and remove debris; Mrs. Louisa Buckley, 482 Elm street, owner of collection of old frame sheds situated to the rear of 482 Elm street, ordered to tear down certain portions of the sheds and remove debris; Herbert Kilgour, 633 George street, owner of frame barn located to the east of his stables on Dublin street, ordered to take down the barn and remove the debris.

Million Dollars Damages Caused By Blaze

PULP WOOD FIRES RAGE AT PORT ALFRED AND DETROIT

Fire roaring through a 250,000-cord pile of pulpwood is supplying a real problem for officials of the Port Alfred Paper Co. The dredge, General Moncalm, capable of throwing thousands of gallons of water a minute to a height of 125 feet, will be pressed into service. Some idea of the Quebec blaze can be gained from this photo from Detroit, where seventeen fire companies have been fighting in vain for 24 hours to quench the blaze, which is burning 30,000 cords of pulpwood, worth $370,000, and $200,000 conveyor at the Detroit Pulp and Paper Co. The fire will probably burn for a week. The city fireboats are aiding the fight on the fire, which is located on the Detroit river front. Favorable winds are keeping the flying sparks away from a nearby hospital.

SYNOD FACES BUSY SESSION

Group Named to Complete Union of Congregations at Port Perry, Ashburn Utica.

SAVE $600 ON GRANTS.

TORONTO, May 5 (CP)—"Many of our people have no reaction to religion at all. Prayer bores them and the Bible is a dry book to a great mass of people," said Rev. Patterson Hall, Galt, reporting for the committee on evangelism and the state of religion at the synod of Toronto and Kingston meeting here yesterday. "We must revive in the Presbyterian church the real spirit of religion and vital faith," he said.

A commission of synod was appointed to deal with the matter of completing the union into one charge of the three congregations of Port Pery, Utica and Ashburn. Rev. A. G. Scott, Lindsay, said the union would save two grants totalling $600 of home missions funds now given these churches to carry on. The synod decided to discuss further possible unions of small rural congregations.

Mrs. A. J. Hilts presented the report of the Women's Missionary Society, which had a membership of 34,9[illegible] she said. Total receipts were $131,194.

A committee is deliberating on the question of whether the general assembly might be dispensed with and the membership of synod increased. Rev. A. J. MacNamara clerk of assembly, declared a meeting of the assembly in Ontario cost the church $10,000.

PREMIER LANG RAPS PURCHASE OF ARGENTINE WHEAT BY BRITAIN

Claims Great Empire Cannot Endure on Sentiment Alone.

MUST WORK TOGETHER.

SYDNEY, Australia, May 5 (C.P. Cable)—"An empire in which empire wheat goes to China while foreign wheat floods the British market is a sham that cannot endure," declared Premier J. T. Lang of New South Wales in an advance speech in connection with the celebration of Empire Day, May 24.

Premier Lang's speech was a direct assault on the use of Argentine wheat in the British market, the Argentine wheat imports to Britain coming at the same season as the Australian wheat shipments.

The empire must become something more than a collection of nations which can be called to Britain's aid in the time of war, Premier Lang continued. "It is the peace achievements which will hold the British commonwealth of nations together."

The Ottawa Parley

At Ottawa in July, when the Imperial Economic Conference meets, an effort would be made to see if the empire could function to benefit its people in an economic manner, the state premier said. "The representatives of the empire will meet and assert they believe there is more virtue in trading among themselves than giving preference to non-members of the federation.

"They will ask to demonstrate the six million British descendants in Australia are of more concern than £500,000,000 of British money invested in the Argentine," the Premier concluded. "The empire cannot continue on sentiment. Its future life depends on the practical good it is able to do for its members."

SUDBURY EDITOR SPIRITED AWAY

Arvo Vaara and Aide, Arrested in Raid, Depart in Auto.

MAY BE DEPORTED.

SUDBURY, May 5.—Arvo Vaara editor of the Finnish Daily Vapaus and Martin Parker, translator, arrested in a Royal Canadian Mounted Police raid yesterday on the newspaper's offices, were loaded into an automobile last night and rushed out of town in a southerly direction. Five plainclothes detectives guarded them.

The men were taken from the Northern Ontario Building here, where they had been under guard of Mounted Police, following the raid on Vapaus, described as a Communist newspaper.

Mounted Police refused to divulge the destination of the car bearing their prisoners, and declined to discuss the case.

Arrest of the two men followed Sunday's riot in which alleged Communists numbering about 500 were attacked by citizens after they refused to carry the Union Jack alongside the Red flag at the head of a parade as ordered by local police. Eighteen persons were arrested on Sunday.

Vaara has been editor of Vapaus for some years. In 1928 he was arrested for publishing an editorial which expressed the hope that King George, then ill of pneumonia might not recover and that a Communistic government might be established in Great Britain. He was convicted of sedition and sentenced to six months in jail with a fine of $1,000.

MASSIE TO HEAR SENTENCE FRIDAY

Will Not Go To Prison While Fighting Conviction.

HONOLULU, May 5 (A.P.)—Definite assurances that Lieut. Thomas H. Massie and three others convicted with him of manslaughter will not go to prison as long as their fight against conviction is in progress, were forthcoming yesterday.

Both prosecution and defence counsel said the four would probably remain in custody of the United States Navy at Pearl Harbor and it was authoritatively understood Judge Charles S. Davis would commit them to the custody of naval officers when they appear before him for sentences Friday.

Meanwhile, pressure was brought upon Gov. Lawrence M. Judd by official Washington and civilian circles to pardon the quartet convicted of slaying Joseph Kahahawai, who allegedly had confessed a criminal attack on the wife of the naval officer.

Petition Circulated

A petition is being circulated in the United States Congress asking Gov. Judd to pardon the defendants and he is about to receive a similar appeal from the citizens of the territory.

The citizens' organization for good government, a body composed mostly of women, announced a mass meeting would be held to-day to circulate petitions asking that the defendants be freed.

The defendants besides Massie are his mother-in-law Mrs. Granville Fortescue; E. J. Lord and Albert O. Jones, navy enlisted men.

Major Pnnall, governor of Dartmoor Prison, England, where rioting recently occurred, has banned the taking of photographs near the prison without special permission.

CRAGG ENQUIRY TO BE PRESSED

Appeal to Bay of Quinte Conference Reported at Oshawa.

PRESBYTERY MEETS.

OSHAWA, May 5.—Charges against the Rev. C. E. Cragg, self-confessed anonymous and slanderous letter writer, will be pressed at the next meeting of the Bay of Quinte conference of the United Church early in June, it was announced Tuesday after the Oshawa Presbytery failed to consider action or charges against him. Presbytery, for the second time, declared "no further action necessary."

Refusal of the Presbytery to consider the charge against the Oshawa minister was bitterly opposed by a minority group who declared that "white wash" was being applied and that the special committee appointed to consider the procedure had been "packed."

Lay member of Presbytery, Allin F. Annis, of Oshawa, warned his fellow-members that action was being watched by the world outside the church and refusal of the Presbytery to proceed with the matter would lower the prestige of the church in the eyes of the public.

Appoint Committee.

Charge against Rev. C. E. Cragg was laid by Rev. A. R. Sanderson, of Whitby, and sent to the secretary, Rev. Percy Jull, of Brooklyn, on the day before the meeting. The charge, laid under section 143 of the United Church manual, was not read to the Presbytery, but was referred to by the secretary as "reflecting on the character of the Rev. C. E. Cragg." He moved that a committee be appointed to advise procedure.

Committee appointed by the chairman comprised Rev. Thomas Wallace, of Newtonville; Rev. R. S. Carscallen, Whitby; Rev. J. M. White, Enniskillen; Rev. Kerr and Rev. R. T. Richards, of Port Perry; Ross Strike, of Bowmanville, and Dr. J. Stevenson, of Whitby. Committee was out for nearly three hours with Rev. R. T. Richards, of Port Perry, vainly opposed to the rest of his brethren on the report.

Report was adopted by the Presbytery by a vote of 26 to 8 with a large number of delegates not voting. It read:—

"Whereas certain charges have been made against the Rev. C. E. Cragg, of Oshawa, under section 143 of the manual, and whereas these charges have been admitted and full confession made, and whereas Presbytery, at a special meeting on April 15, has condemned the action of our brother, your committee is therefore of the opinion that no good purpose can be served by further action in the case."

Attempt at "Whitewash."

Protesting that the committee had been merely appointed to advise procedure and not to squelch the charge opponents of the resolution declared that the charge should be given full airing in Presbytery.

"It is a sad and regrettable thing if such a charge can be made against a member of Presbytery without it being heard," declared Allin F. Annis, of Oshawa, who vigorously opposed what he termed the attempt to "whitewash" the affair. Other members of the Presbytery declared that the situation has been "stacked."

"The dice were loaded," declared Rev. R. T. Richards, of Port Perry, who alone of the committee opposed the report. "The other members of that committee had the resolution ready when they retired from the Presbytery."

That an appeal to the conference would be made was immediately announced by Rev. A. R. Anderson, sponsor of the charges against Mr. Cragg.

Advises Study Of Russian Methods

URGES NATIONAL GOVERNMENT

Rev. Peter Bryce, who in a recent address declared that Canada, to survive the present economic crisis, needs a national government similar to that in power in England. He also advised Canada to study Russian industrial methods, and urged that a Dominion-wide hour of intercession for Divine guidance be observed.

MOUNT JULIAN COUPLE HONORED

Mr. and Mrs. C. Cooper Spend Jolly Evening With Friends at Home of Mr. and Mrs. Thompson.

MANY BEAUTIFUL GIFTS.

MOUNT JULIAN, May 5 (Examiner Correspondent). — On Friday a very jolly evening was spent at Mount Julian when Mr. and Mrs. William Thompson opened their house for a miscellaneous shower in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Carrol Cooper (Luella Bronson).

The gifts were hidden around the house, providing very interesting entertainment while the bride was having her treasure hunt, and, when all were found, proved a lovely and very useful assortment of gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Cooper expressed their thanks and appreciation in a few well-chosen words, Mr. Cooper expressing his desire to become better acquainted with the people of this vicinity.

All joined in singing 'For They are Jolly Good Fellows."

The Rev. E. C. Moore, who conducted the nuptial ceremony at Young's Point a short time ago addressed the bridal couple in a very pleasing manner.

Cards and other games were played, and community singing of old-time favorites was lead by Mr. Moore with piano accompaniment by Miss Matilda Moore. Miss Jean Myers and Mrs. Bruce Reid also favored the crowd with some fine music.

After a bountiful lunch, Mr. Moore, on behalf of the guests and the bridal couple, thanked Mr. and Mrs. Thompson for their generosity in giving their house and for their kind hospitality.

Among those who attended the shower from a distance were: Misses Jean Myers, Hilda and Patricia Thompson, of Peterborough; Hazel Crawford and Viola Redpath, of Lakefield; Rev. and Mrs. E. C. Moore and family, Matilda, Godfrey, and Edgar, of Young's Point; Mr. and Mrs. William Shewin and family, Evelyn, Ruth, and Victor, of Burleigh Falls; Mr. Walter Hamilton, of Dummer; Col. C. H. Ackerman, and Mr. H. Eakins, of Peterborough; Major Oxley and son, of Toronto.

MARMORA CLUB VISITS TRENTON

St. Paul's Group Hears Fine Address by H. H. MacKay, of Fisheries Department.

GUESTS OF ST. GEORGE'S.

MARMORA, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence).—A large number of the members of the Men's Club of St. Paul's Church visited Trenton on Monday evening at the invitation of St. George's Trenton Men's Club. John North, president of the Trenton Club, presided at the large gathering which was held at the Canterbury Hall.

O. M. Newton, president of King Street United Church Men's Club, Trenton, opened the program with speech, expressing thanks for the invitation to his club to be present. T. L. Jones, of Marmora, was accorded much applause for two choice violin selections for which the Rev. M. J. C. Levason, rector of Rawdon, acted as pianist.

The Rev. A. B. Caldwell, of Marmora, and the Rev. P. Heywood, of Trenton, having spoken, the Marmora male quartette gave two pleasing selections. Next came some clever guitar selections by Billy Bird, of Trenton.

Speeches by C. H. Buskard and W. R. Reynolds, of the Marmora Club, were interspersed with a good song by S. B. Cheeseman, another visiting member. The Hon. Charles Macrae was to have been the guest speaker but illness in his home created a disappointment at the last moment. He, however, sent H. H. MacKay, of the Department of Game and Fisheries, who spoke on "Fish Hatcheries and Fish Culture," and showed some interesting slides. He was introduced by W. H. Ireland, M.P.P., in an excellent speech.

H. H. MacKay.

In speaking of the different bodies of water in which fish spawn, Mr. MacKay said that the Bay of Quinte was the most prolific spawning grounds on the North American Continent. Thanks to the lecturer, having been moved by Mr. Eben Jones, of Trenton, the clubs repaired to the basement for a social hour and bountiful refreshments before dispersing.

Safety Committee.

The monthly meeting of the Deloro Safety Committee took place at Deloro Hall on Monday evening, R. A. Elliott presiding over a good attendance. Though not so lengthy as usual, the meeting was nevertheless interesting. Only one suggestion was received during April for which a prize was awarded. The Silver Plant received the star. All departments had a good record for last month and there were no accidents. The report of the Inspection Committee was presented by J. Judge. H. A. McNally was appointed floating member for May. T. Cousins mentioned the holding of prone method practises, and G. Brooks was assigned similar duties for the current month.

After C. H. Buskard had dealt with Benevolent Relief Funds, Messrs. G. Brooks and H. O. Loveless gave interesting reports of the recent Safety Convention at Toronto which they attended as delegates. W. R. Reynolds reported for the Publicity Committee, after which the meeting adjourned.

Girl Guides.

The weekly meeting of the First Marmora Company of Girl Guides took place at the Parish Hall on Monday evening. The meeting was opened with the Lord's Prayer, after which Capt. Mrs. Pearce took the inspection, finding all girls in their usual neatness. Many new girls tried their tenderfoot test. After some of their favorite games had been played, the Guides were dismissed with the singing of "Taps."

E. P. Nair, a student at Cardiff, Wales, proposes to fly solo to his home in India, taking only a copy of the New Testament, which, he says, is "all the real wealth I possess."

VETERAN KAWARTHA CAPTAIN RECALLS DAYS NOW GONE BY OF SIDE-WHEELING STEAMERS

John Kinnear Tells Interesting Tale of Years Between 1880-1910.

DAYS OF REAL WORK.

Port Perry and Lindsay in Hey-day of Lumber Boom —Big Passenger Traffic.

(Lindsay Daily Post.)

Memories of the days when men worked on side-wheeling lumber steamers plying on the Kawarthas for $12 a month and board and glad to get it, of the days when the railroad had not come to Bobcaygeon or Fenelon, when navigation on the lakes opened around the last of April and ran full blast right through until the first of November were detailed to a reporter yesterday.

And it was Mr. John Kinnear, who will be 72 years old this fall, a captain on the Crandall-owned Commodore around 1880, and the first man to bring a load of logs, towed by the Marie Louise, through the cut at Snug Harbor, who recalled those days when Lindsay was in the midst of the lumber boom.

There were lots of boats running in the river when he started in, Mr. Kinnear said, around 1875, it is believed. They towed lumber from the north down through to Port Perry, which was the shipping point for lumber for a long time.

Lindsay's Break.

It was not until Mossom Boyd of Bobcaygeon, refused to take the great quantities of lumber he was bringing out down to Port Perry, that Lindsay became a rail shipping centre.

"The Commodore," owned by Captain Crandall, was the first boat Mr. Kinnear had charge of. Crews in those days were usually composed of four or five or six men. The cook, engineer and fireman, the captain and three or four deck hands, looked after things. At that early period captains did not have to have papers he said—that came later.

Power was furnished by wood-burning engines and the fuel was just picked from the piles along the river. "Didn't you have to pay for it then?" he was asked. "Well, nobody ever said anything. Why, that wood wasn't worth much then. Fifty to seventy-five cents for a cord of soft wood and a dollar to a dollar and a half for hardwood.

Loading was Ticklish Job.

Cargoes coming down from the north were mostly cordwood, cribs of logs or lumber, he said. The cordwood or lumber was loaded in scows about 10 feet long and nearly as wide as the locks. These great barges would hold about 40 cords, he estimated, and as for lumber, he said he had seen Boyd's scows come down loaded so heavily that the top of the scow was not more than eight inches from the surface of the water.

"How about prices for the haul to Port Perry?" was the next question. "Well, it averaged around 60 to 75 cents a cord. A dollar was high in those times. The steamer crew's part was to load the wood and get it down to where it was going. The man receiving it usually unloaded it."

When barges were loaded from woodpiles at the river bank, he said, they had to be kept out where they wouldn't get stranded on logs, because, if that wasn't watched, when the loading was all finished they sometimes had to be partially unloaded before they could float off the obstruction.

Walks were built out from the shore as far as 60 feet sometimes, consisting of 15 inch planks, and it was over these somewhat shaky walks that men had not only to walk but wheel full wheelbarrows of cord wood. Many's the time a mistake in judgment caused man, wheelbarrow and cordwood to take a header, Mr. Kinnear said.

"Then sometimes that wood had to be fished out but more often it was left there because it didn't have any particular value," he said. It usually took about two days for three men to load one of the scows up.

All the boats then were side-wheelers as the shallow water and the hidden logs made it dangerous to have a stern-wheeler. Even when the stern-wheelers did come in, he said, they were always giving trouble at first because they drew more water than the other boats.

In the winter the boats were just snubbed up at the wharf, he said, and they froze in, and when the ice went out they were ready to go again. Some idea of how crowded the waters were then can be gained by the fact that he said the locks here were going all the time locking boats through.

Locks were Busy Then

There was no confusion as would be expected because if two boats approached a lock from different ends the one coming "up" had the right to go in first, and steamers coming in always blew before starting to lock through and if the other fellow had the start on them they kept back. If they didn't it was too bad because when they met with those huge cribs of logs or those big scows one load had to be backed up and the "backing" always had to be done by hand.

There were lots of disagreeable things about steamboating, he said. The hours were long but the food was good and men then were glad to be working. One year he said he got lots to eat, did plenty of work, and at the end of the year got no pay. That was steamboating on the Kawarthas, or one phase of it.

Sometimes a load of cordwood was brought in here and as soon as it was here the boat itself was loaded with a couple of hundred bags of flour and feed for Bobcaygeon, three scows trailed on the back and the boat left for 'Caygeon dropping the scows off wherever more wood was to be loaded.

And the crews loaded all of the flour and feed themselves. Usually it was done at night by lantern light and a start made in the early morning. It was extra work for which there was no extra pay. You either did it or you didn't have a job, but the men of those days did not complain.

Before the cut was put through at Snug Harbor by Mr. Alexander Ross of town, the boats used to get stuck when they were towing the ungainly scows around the bends. "There was lots of traffic on the river in those days though and if you couldn't get her off under her own power you just had to wait and and get a tow from some boat passing"

Boats that he had worked on had never been interested in the passenger traffic, Mr. Kinnear said. The boom for passenger trade did not come until after he had gone to work in Flavelle's Mill, at that time known as the Needler-Sadler Mill. That was around 1880 or 1891 and it was necessary shortly after to have master's papers to run on the lakes.

Change Noted in 1920.

Along with the other captains of his time Mr. Kinnear got his papers and afterwards, when he was working in the mill and a boat was hung up because of sickness on the part of the captain and no other licensed man could be gotten, the rules of navigation required that he should take the ship out wherever it was going.

So he did not sever his connections with steamboating when he went into the mill and at different times was required to take charge again. One interesting feature of that was that just about 12 years ago a boat running excursions from Peterboro' could not get a licensed mate.

According to regulations they had to have one with papers and when they couldn't get one in Peterboro' they signed on Mr. Kinnear and, as a mate on an excursion steamer, where he didn't have nearly as much to do he got $50 a month and board, yet back in the heydey of the river traffic on these lakes as a captain taking the leading part in all the work he got $12 a month and board and worked plenty to get it. Some change.

Still, from what he said, those were the good times when every person had to work and knew what it was to earn his money. Some of the other captains of the period which he mentioned were Bill Fee and Maurice Lane, and when he was read a list of the boats registered here around that time he picked them out and had a little to say about each of them.

Sturgeon Point or Pleasant Point were not thought of when he quit the business, he said, and the passenger and excursion traffic had not rightly started.

And that traffic too had a picturesque history in its heydey which was from 1880 till 1910, during which time the two major companies were Trent Valley Navigation Company and the Kawartha Lakes Excursion Company, although there were many other boats.

Among three of the boats that are well remembered here are, The Esturion, which was run from Bobcaygeon to Lindsay twice daily in the summer until the railroad came into Bobcaygeon; The Eva, which ran from here to Pleasant Point and The Greyhound, which ran from Fenelon Falls to Lindsay twice a day. The Esturion was a Boyd-owned boat. The Eva was the property of Captain Crandall and Mr. Sadler owned The Greyhound, later called The Kathleen.

Many Excursion Stories.

Docks up until 1900 were below Wellington Street bridge and then they were moved up to the present location. Excursions particularly were gala events as the boats carried, in addition to the passengers, which could be accommodated on board ship, a great number on what were know as palace scows.

Among the best stories of the excursions is of the time that The Crandalla took a moonlight excursion down Sturgeon Lake. The night was perfect, and all on board were having a great time until the old side-wheeler hit a log and disabled one wheel. The other one turned all right, but the boat could only move in circles and it was a relieved crowd that finally saw another steamer answering the distress signals.

Then there was the Esturion, about which another story is told. It seems that it docked in graceful style at Sturgeon Point. The boat used to be run full speed right at the dock, and then, when it was about six lengths away the captain would sound the bell, one side-wheel would be stopped from the engine room, the boat would veer, back up and make an extremely graceful docking.

However, one day startled holidayers heard the boat's whistle and looked up to see it rushing straight at the wharf. The captain was shouting, but the ship came on and drove into the dock. It was a case of crossed signals between the engine-room and the top deck. The reversing was not done quickly enough as the crew could not understand the excited captain who had just broken the bell.

Other tales of the time tell of when there was a licensed bar aboard the Lintonia and there was a huge barrel, in which passengers who were carrying too much were locked where they could not endanger themselves or other passengers. The big race between The Esturion, The Alice-Ethel and The Greyhound from McConnell's Island to Sturgeon Point, which was won by the Alice-Ethel was another highlight of the early navigation memoirs. In that memorable race the skippers were racing for prospective passengers, as well as glory and in the phraseology of today, they gave their ships "the gun."

Fees for excursions were usually 25 cents in the passenger traffic boom and round trip rates to Bobcaygeon and Fenelon were very reasonable. But the coming of the steam launch and good roads and the advent of the railroad killed off the passenger traffic just as surely as the old river tow boats, a necessary part of the boom days of the lumber trade, were killed off.

Not as Picturesque Now.

Now the waters are frequented by nothing but small pleasure boats, in fact, with the channel in the condition it has been in some times in some places it would be a hard job for a steamer to make its way up.

And while there is no disputing that the methods of transportation of today are more economical, more comfortable and a lot faster, somehow they will never be able to capture the picturesqueness of those steamboats days from 1800 till 1910.

Blast Kills Three

THREE KILLED NEAR WELLAND BY EXPLOSION

When one of their number tried to kindle a fire in a small section house of the Michigan Central railway, in which gasoline was stored, three men were blown to atoms near Welland, Ont. The casualties are Sam Bill, John Nukoulk and Peter Hodowen. Frank Sakai, the fourth in the party which had just returned from work on the section, escaped by reason of having just left the cabin when the explosion took place. Officials of the railway state that the men had just come in on a jigger. They entered the shack which is one-quarter of a mile from the Michigan Central railway station here. So terrible was the blast that the house was completely destroyed and the jigger was smashed to bits and thrown 100 yards across the adjoining field.

HOOVER PLAN TO BALANCE BUDGET MENACED BY HOUSE INSURGENTS WITH EYES ON YEAR'S ELECTIONS

May Pass Two Billion Grant to Great War Veterans.

HOUSE "GONE HAYWIRE."

American Dollar Unsettled by Inflation Measure—Situation Confused.

(By Ken Clark, Canadian Press Staff Writer.)

WASHINGTON, May 5.—A predicament into which a Canadian government because of its unified form could not fall, has caught the government of the United States, threatening to destroy administration plans for balancing the budget in a year of economic uncertainty with the presidential elections six months away.

A house divided against itself, a confused and leaderless body, has emasculated the economy programme, hashed the revenue bill, passed a measure to inflate the American dollar and will probably pass a bill to present $2,000,000,000 to veterans of the Great War.

Under Speaker John Nance Garner and his Democrats, the House, in an American slang phrase, has "gone haywire." It appears not only to have completely disrupted the schemes of a Republican government to insure the solidity of the government's financial position, but to have seriously impaired the position of the Democrats in the forthcoming elections.

Sales Tax Withdrawn.

The shrill, high-pitched tones of Representative Fiorella Laguardia, of New York, inveighing against the original proposal for a sales tax in the billion dollar revenue bill, were effective. A stampede eliminated the sales tax and the bill was badly repaired with the addition of import taxes, since removed by the Senate finance committee.

On Tuesday the House passed an economy bill which will save $42,000,000 instead of $200,000,000.

On Monday it passed the Goldsborough bill to restore the purchasing power of the dollar by control of currency and credit, with the result of a loss of confidence in the American dollar abroad.

Shadow of Election.

The panicky behavior of the representatives may be attributed to the fact that in November they are all up for re-election. They cannot cut government expenses without damaging their prospects, they cannot pass increased taxes without a similar result. The situation is such as to cause considerable alarm in administration circles.

BOGUS STOCKS SEIZED IN RAID

Police Claim Plot Aimed to Flood Markets of World—$2,000,000 Worth.

5 MEN ARRESTED.

NEW YORK, May 5.—After seizing counterfeit copies of $2,000,000 worth of E. I. Dupon de Nemours stock in a surprise raid, police announced to-day they had nipped a plot to flood the financial marts of the country with the bogus securities.

The seizure was made in a loft. Five men were taken into custody and after a night of questioning four of them were booked on charges of forgery. They were Jack Cohen, 36, a salesman; Anthony Pitalla, 32, a manufacturer, and Daniel DeKoven, 31, an artist, all of New York, and Willard Richman, 23, of Philadelphia.

The fifth man, John Fitzgerald, 40, an engraver of New York was held for further questioning.

New South Wales Labor Conference held recently at Sydney, Australia, demanded the abolition of Empire Day and the ceremony of saluting the flag in schools.

DREDGE'S LINES GO INTO ACTION

Powerful Pumps Give Firemen at Port Alfred Hopes of Victory.

HALF PILE BURNED.

PORT ALFRED, Que., May 5.—Capable of throwing a stream of water 125 feet in the air, the powerful pumps of the dredge, General Montcalm, were at work to-day battling the blaze in the $3,000,000 pile of pulpwood here. The 1,000 firemen and volunteers who had despaired of saving any of the enormous stack of cut wood were given fresh hope as the pumps roared and water was sent into the centre of the fire through a 32-inch pipe.

The dredge was towed here from Chicoutimi and put into operation at an early hour to-day. Special cables were laid to convey current to the electric motors that drive the pumps. Other pumpers had been sending 600,000 gallons of water a minute into the fire, but had made little impression on the advancing flames. The loss so far is estimated at $1,500,000.

Mysterious Cause.

Fire from an unknown cause broke out last Friday and threatened to spread to the Port Alfred mill and near-by houses. The wood is owned by the Consolidated Paper Corp., and is insured. Fortunately the direction of the wind has been such that the blazing embers were blown away from surrounding structures and out into the bay. Sheets of asbestos have been placed over windows in the mill and a wall of asbestos about the wood pile has been partly constructed.

Flames shot 100 feet into the air last night as the peak of the burning pipe fell in. Sparks and embers flew about and the blaze sprang up with renewed vigor.

COUNTY COUNCIL SPECIAL MEETING

New Bridge at Norwood on Fridays Agenda.

Recent collapse of the bridge at the Big Pond situated on Highway No. 7 outside of Norwood, which has created an urgent need for a new structure, will be one of the important items under discussion at a special meeting of Peterborough County Council which has been called by Warden W. H. Montgomery for Friday at 10 a.m.

While definite assurance could not be obtained on inquiry at the County Buildings this morning, it is probable that R. M. Smith, the Deputy Minister of Highways, will be present at the session, along with T. P. Lancaster, M.P.P.

The bridge was recently inspected following collapse by the Hon. Leopold Macauley, Minister of Highways, and by the Deputy Minister; also by A. A. Smith, chief engineer, and W. Saunders and W. A. Anderson, district engineer from Port Hope.

It is learned that the Minister was impressed with the seriousness of the situation and had his engineers look over the problem with a view of building the proposed overhead bridge or a subway under the railway tracks.

In the interim a temporary footbridge has been constructed for pedestrian traffic, but since the the Minister's visit more of the embankment on both sides gave way, causing a gab of appreciable dimensions.

One of the other important items on the agenda, it is understood, will be the ratification of the appointment of A. E. Chalmers as County Road Superintendent.

Howard Shackleton Heads Association

Howard Shackleton was elected president of the St. Paul's Young People's Association at the meeting held on Tuesday, when other officers presented by Clara Patterson, chairman of the nominating committee were:

Honorary President, Dr. A. T. Barr; vice-preidents, Mary Greer, Harry Marsh, Harry Chenhall; treasurer, Arleigh Comstock; secretary, Edna Morrow; group leaders: Devotional, Mary White; Musical, Literary, Russell Rowan; Missionary, Marion Armstrong; social, Dorothy Finnie; pianist, Harry Chenhall; assistant pianist, Keith McIlroy.

The year 1932-33 should prove a very successful one under the leadership of the above officers. During the meeting several items of business were discussed and arrangements made for a picnic to be held at Chemong, on May 21.

Orioles Gain Second Place in International League

ARLETT HITS TWO HOME RUNS AS BIRDS DEFEAT BISONS 10-6

Also Connects for Double and a Single to Drive in Four Runs.

SKEETERS BEAT WINGS.

(By the Associated Press)

The Baltimore Orioles appear in a fair way to overshadow all the sensational early season work of the Buffalo Bisons, whom they have supplanted in second place in the International League.

Buffalo rose to the top by winning 10 of its first 13 games but has skidded back just as rapidly in the past week by losing five out of six. Baltimore, hitting hard from the start, got off badly by losing its first series to the Bisons and did not hit its winning stride until the season was 10 days old.

Since then, the Orioles have slugged their way up at a terrific pace, winning eight out of their last 10 games, and yesterday they displaced Buffalo from second place in the standings by trouncing the Bisons for the second straight time, 10-6.

Buzz Arlett did the day's job of home run hitting for the Orioles, who have missed homers in only three games, by clouting his ninth and tenth of the season, and he hit a double and a single, drove in four runs, stole a base and fielded remarkably.

Hold Streak Intact

The Montreal Royals and Jersey City Skeeters, who also have been playing some dazzling ball in the past few days, turned in victories in yesterday's other two games. The league leading Newark Bears were kept idle by cold weather at Toronto.

Montreal, which gets its results through pitching, turned back Reading 8-4 for its fifth straight victory and tied the defeated Rochester Red Wings for fourth place in the standing. Walter Brown was the sixth successive Royal pitcher to go the full route. He gave 10 hits but kept them scattered while Montreal bunched its eight blows with as many passes. It was the Keys' ninth straight defeat.

Jersey City, recently come to life with the addition of new players and with the old ones scrapping for their jobs, put in its second afternoon of heavy hitting against Rochester and won 11-9. The Skeets collected 16 hits off four pitchers and scored in every inning after the first. Joe Moore and Bud Clancy set the pace, accounting for five doubles and two singles between them.

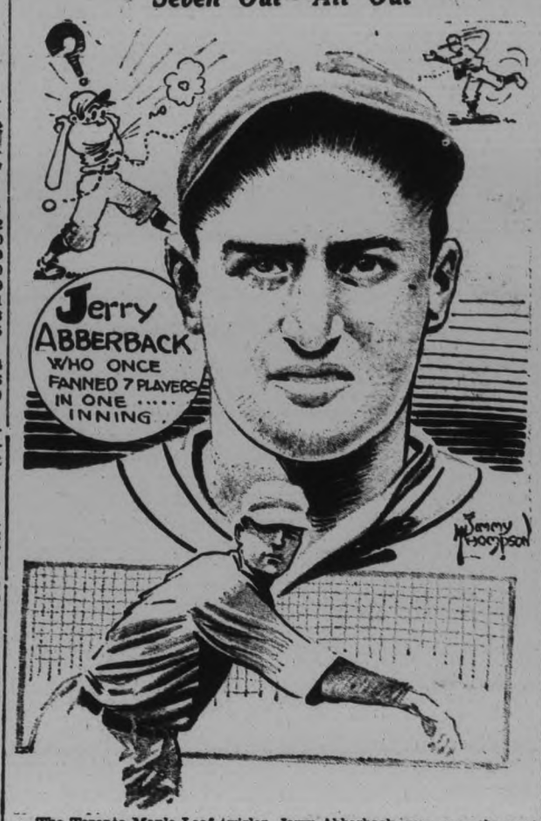
Leafs Meet Bears In Double To-Day

TORONTO, May 5. — Threatening weather conditions and a slim attendance influenced officials of the Toronto Baseball Club to call off yesterday's scheduled game with the Newark Bears, and play a doubleheader to-day instead. The first game this afternoon will start at 2 o'clock.

The Leafs are anxious to follow up their opening-day triumph with a double victory over the Bears to-day and two good ball games should result. Pitcher Art Smith has chalked up three victories to date and when he last faced the Bears he held them to five hits and gave a masterly mound display.

Despite the unsettled conditions in China, the Sino-American air mail and passenger service in the Yangtze Valley to Chungking is continuing on regular schedules.

Seven Out—All Out



The Toronto Maple Leaf twirler, Jerry Abberback, was once the goat of one of baseball's most freakish incidents.

He struck out seven men in one inning, believe it or not!

The young pitcher, who is now one of the apples in Manager Tom Daly's eye, was toiling on the mound in a high school game. His catcher was not "on" to his slants and resembled a sieve trying to catch a handful of split peas as third strikes bounced crazily off his glove.

VICTORY FOR U.S. CERTAIN IF NUMBERS ANY CRITERION

Can Hardly Be Expected to Come Close to Losing.

WIN NINE TITLES.

(By Maxwell Stiles, Special to The Examiner.)

LOS ANGELES, May 5. — Victory for the United States in the International Olympic Games is assured, under any and all unofficial scoring systems that may be devised. This statement goes not only for the track and field events, but for the entire Olympic program inclusive of all sports.

Competing at home, with numbers in our favor as foreign lands cut their teams to minimum participation, the United States can hardly be expected to come close to losing. This country will compete in every form of Olympic competition, where other lands must of necessity drop out of numerous sports. The landslide of unofficial points must go toward the sons of the Stars and Stripes.

This country expects to win the following championships:

Athletics (track and field), both men and women.

Swimming, with the chief competition coming from Japan.

Rowing, with Great Britain the chief threat.

Yachting, no other country being strongly represented.

Boxing, our men this time being assured of no less than an even break.

The United States stands an even chance with other countries in cycling, equestrian sports, gymnastics, shooting, and both forms of wrestling.

We do not look for victories in the modern Pentathlon, which should go to Sweden; field hockey, with India being favored water polo, which should rest between Hungary and Germany; fencing, with France and Italy being favored, or weight lifting, in which the Germans are believed to be outstanding.

The United States hopes to win the following 12 championships in men's track and field:

The 100 meters, with Frank Wykoff or Eddie Tolan; the 200 meters, with Eddie Tolan, George Simpson or Bob Kiesel; the 400 meters, with Bob Eastman or Vic Williams; the 800 meters, with Ben Eastman or Edwin Genung; the 1,500 meters, with Gene Venske; the 110 meters high hurdles, with Percy Beard or Jack Keller; the pole vault, with Bill Graber, Fred Sturdy, or Tom Warne; the high jump, with George Spitz; the shot put, with Herman Brix or Leo Sexton; the discus, with Paul Jessup; the 400 and 1,600 meters relays.

This is an ambitious program which hardly can be achieved successfully unless foreign athletes fail to do their best after their long trip to Los Angeles. The writer, more conservative, estimates that America should win nine championships as follows:

Either the 100 or 200 meters, our best bet in each race being Eddie Tolan. Wykoff can beat Tolan, but will he?

Either the 400 or 800 meters, Ben Eastman winning one championship and taking second in another.

The high hurdles, with Keller our best bet; the pole vault, with Graber outstanding; the high jump, with Anton Burg our best competitive jumper; the shot put with Herman Brix our best; the discus, only if Jessup returns to his 1930 form; the two relay races, with Germany pressing us in the 400 meters and Great Britain looming dangerous at 1,600 meters.

In women's track and field, we expect to win the 100 meters with Stella Walsh; Babe Didrickson has a chance in the 80 meters hurdles and javelin throw; Lillian Copeland may take the discus and one relay team with Walsh running anchor lap appears to be as good as any.

Our probable swimming victories are:

The 100 meters back stroke, with George Kojac; the 100 meters free style for women, with Helene Madison; the 400 meters free style for women, with Helene Madison; the women's diving, with Georgia Coleman; the men's diving, with Mickey Riley or "Dutch" Smith.

BRAVES BLANK PHILLIES 3-0

Cardinals Climb Into First Division by Defeating Cincinnati 7 to 0.

RALLY WINS FOR TIGERS.

BY GAYLE TALBOT
(Associated Press Sports Writer)

Having won their spurs in the east Bill McKechnie's Boston Braves invaded the western strongholds of the National League today for a whirlwind two-weeks campaign that will prove pretty definitely whether they can "take it."

In that time the current leaders will meet all four western members, including their closest rivals, the Chicago Cubs, and the champion St. Louis Cardinals, who at last have righted themselves and are looking for trouble. If the Braves manage to hold their own in such company, somebody will have to take them very seriously.

Recent history is all against the Bostons, however. They made a similarly impressive start last season, only to falter while rounding second.

They open their fight for vindication to-day against the Cincinnati Reds, while the Phillies engage Pittsburgh, the Giants move into St. Louis and the Brooklyn Dodgers hope for the best at Chicago.

In their parting shot at sectional neighbors yesterday, the Braves flattened the Phillies, 3-0. Huck Betts, the veteran, turned in his third consecutive victory as he held the slugging Phils to four hits. "Red" Worthington knocked across all three Boston runs with a home run and two singles.

The Cardinals shoved up into first division with their second straight shutout over Cincinnati, 7-0. Flint Rhem became the fourth Card hurler to pitch brilliant ball in as many days when he limited the Reds to six hits, three of them by George Grantham.

The youngster, Lonnie Warneke, recorded his fourth victory as the Chicago Cubs defeated Pittsburgh, 4-1. He scattered six hits and received noble support, while the Pirate defense cracked at crucial moments behind Larry French.

The Cleveland Indians, sharing second place and the leadership of the American League's western division with the Detroit Tigers, defeated the Browns, 8-3, on the eve of their first visit to the seaboard.

They make their first eastern stand against the Athletics to-day at Shibe Park.

John Stone's home run in the seventh inning with two aboard enabled the Detroit Tigers to come from behind and take their final from the White Sox, 8-7. Stanley Harris' troupe opens against the Yankees to-morrow.

The four eastern clubs were unscheduled, but the Yanks sharpened up their batting eyes in a 5-3 exhibition over Bridgeport of the Eastern League.

Barton Benched

Another change in the Chicago Cubs' line-up has been announced by Manager Rogers Hornsby as part of his campaign to instill more batting vigor into his charges. Danny Taylor is to be sent into the right field pasture to substitute for Vince Barton, whose hitting of late has been something not to write home about. What's more, declares the Rajah, if Danny doesn't deliver before the week's out, he too, will find himself warming the bench in favor of the utility outfielder, Lance Richbourg.

DISCUSS REGATTA PLANS.

COBOURG, May 5.—(Special.)—Representatives of the Lake Yacht Racing Association were in town to discuss plans for the yacht races and regatta to be held here next August. Commodore World, Mr. Moore and Mr. Van Winckle, secretary of the Lake Yacht Racing Association, met members of the local Chamber of Commerce and members of the committee in charge of the arrangements.

The chief item of discussion was the meeting of the council of the association at Cobourg on May 14, which will be attended by representatives of the eleven yacht clubs, as well as officers of the association. Preliminary details with regard to the regatta were discussed and several minor items of routine cleared up.

1932 RULINGS FOR SOFTBALL

Ontario Association Having Rule Book Printed for First Time This Year.

SOME CHANGES.

The Ontario Amateur Softball Association is having a softball rule book printed this year for the first time, and league secretaries have been sent proofs of these rulings already. While the majority of the rules of this game are similar to, or patterned after, the baseball rulings, yet a number of them are peculiar to softball only. Hence, some of the rules most likely to be confusing to local players this season will be published here, so many each night. Finished rule books should be on sale within a short time.

The following rules or sections of them are picked more or less at random, and any doubtful points not covered may be cleared up if the person interested will inform the Sports Department here. First a few parts of the Membership By-law might be of interest to managers: Rule 1, Section D: No player shall sign a certificate in any league after July 15th, nor sign another certificate unless properly released, and must have taken part in at least three games for the championship club in order to be eligible to play in the Ontario Championships. Rule 1, Section E: No player will be eligible to play for any team, or in any league affiliated with the O.A.S.A. except bankers and scholars, who has not been a continuous resident of the city, town or district in which he is registered, from February 1st, current year. The Executive has the power to determine what constitutes a continuous resident. Rule 1, Section G: Teams are restricted to 15 signed players at one time, excluding a manager unless he is a player, and a coach.

Regarding protests, Rule 4 states: All protests arising out of playoff, semi-final or final games must be made within 48 hours in the form of an affidavit sworn to before a notary public or justice of the peace and must be accompanied by a fee of $25. The club protested must file a similar defense accompanied by the fee of $25 within 48 hours after being notified of the protest. Losing club shall forfeit the expenses of the protest meeting of the sub-committee.

Most of the playing rules of the game are the same as those of baseball, except for the difference in the sizes of the diamonds. One noteworthy change is that of Rule 22, Section 3: It is a regulation game if it is called by the umpire on account of darkness, rain, fire, panic or for other cause which puts patrons or players in peril, provided 7 or more equal innings have been played; or if the team second at bat shall have made more runs at the end of the 6th inning, or before the completion of the 7th inning, than the team first at bat made in 6 completed innings.

Along the same line, but somewhat complicated and therefore likely to be overlooked by the average player is Section 5 of the same rule: A regulation drawn game shall be declared by the umpire if the score is equal on the last even inning played, when he terminates play in accordance with Section 3 of this rule after each team has played 7 or more equal innings. If the side that went second to bat is at bat when the game is terminated, and has scored in the incompleted inning the same number of runs as the other side, the umpire shall declare the game drawn without regard to the score of the last equal inning. If the side last at bat shall, before the completion of its 7th inning, equal the score made by the opposing side in 7 complete innings, the game shall be declared legally drawn, and all individual and team averages shall be incorporated in the official playing records.

Rule 23 deals with forfeited games, and one or two points might be mentioned regarding that here. Section 3 states: If, after play has been suspended by the umpire, one side fails to resume playing in one minutes after the umpire has called "play." And Section 4 points out that a game may be forfeited" if a team employ tactics palpably design to delay the game." Or, as in Section 5: If, after warning by the umpire, any one of the rules of the game be wilfully and persistently violated. Rule 7 says: A game must be forfeited if, because of the removal of the players from the game by the umpire, or for any cause, there be less than 9 players on either team.

(A number of further rulings will be published in The Examiner to-morrow).

FOUR BOXERS ARE SUSPENDED

Demand Increase Over Prices Contracted for Ottawa Show Alleged.

WANT U. S. FUNDS.

OTTAWA, May 5 (C.P.)—After taking it on the chin in the ring four Northern New York boxers were counted out by the Ontario Athletic Commission last night. Defeats in a boxing card here were followed by suspension of the four ringmen for allegedly demanding payment of their purses in United States funds, and an increase over the prices for which they had contrasted to come here.

The boxers (Joe Marsh, Auburn; "Spider" Ryan, Utica; Johnny Evens, Syracuse, and Jimmy Westcott, Auburn, were suspended by T. A. Murphy, M.L.A., of Toronto, chairman of the Commission, after their actions were reported by Promoter Vic Wagner. The latter told Mr. Murphy that when he refused their demands, they left town and returned only when he had Kemptville, Ont., police intercept them. They were paid their demands.

Joe Marsh was licked in ten rounds by Ronnie Headley, popular local fighter; Ryan, bowed to Ernie Booth of Cornwall, in eight rounds; Evens was knocked out by Harry Leibovitz, of Montreal in the third, and Westcott lost to Eddied Edwards of tOtawa in six.

Suspension by the provincial body will be followed, it is expected by similar action by the National Boxing Association which controls the game in most States of the union.

Gerard May Return To Manage Maroons

Former Pilot of Montreal N. H. L. to Succeed Cleghorn.

MONTREAL, May 5.—Though no papers have been signed, Eddie Gerard will probably manage the Montreal Maroons in the National Hockey League next season. Gerard was pilot of the Maroons when they won the Stanley Cup and the world's title in 1926, but for the past two years has been directing the campaign of the New York Americans.

Gerard will replace Sprague Cleghorn as mentor of the big red team. Cleghorn, who coached and managed the Maroons this past season, was a teammate of Gerard when they formed one of the most formidable hockey defenses ever known, playing for the Ottawa Senators.

Gerard was in communication with Maroons' business officers by long distance telephone yesterday, and will likely come here for negotiations in regard to terms some time within then next week or so. Cleghorn may manage another National Hocey League team next season, it was reported.

SOCCER PLAYERS DECLINE OFFERS

Threatened With Disqualification if They Negotiate With Continental Clubs.

LONDON, May 5.—(Canadian Press Cable.)—The ultimatum recently delivered by the English Football Association threatening registered soccer players who accepted offers to play with continental clubs principally French, with disqualification has had its effect.

It was announced to-day that H. Gallagher and T. Law, Chelsea stars, who were negotiating with the Nimes, France, club to play for them next season have decided not to accept their offers. Not only did the Football Association threaten to take action against individual players but rupture of official international relations was promised if English players were taken by continental organizations.

Only two of the 200 women air pilots licensed in England have been killed in crashes.

Makes Good With Toronto Leafs

One thing took the keen edge off the recent lacing the Leafs received from the Newark Bears, and that is the fact that one recruit made good. Earl Cook, the Stouffville, Ont., farmer, a recruit of the Toronto sandlots, was ejected into the fray at a hopeless time after Abberbock and Butzberger had both failed to check the thundering of Bear bats, and he came through with colors flying. He stopped the Bear splurge of hits confining them to one measley bingle in three innings; he struck out one and didn't pass a man. This is quite a feat considering that Cook is only a red raw rookie who has never pitched professional ball. The Toronto Pit League product has plenty of confidence, and Manager Daly is really enthusiastic over his showing to date.

CASUAL COMMENT

Some fifteen or sixteen ball players attended the senior workout at Stevenson Park last night under the eye of Art Primeau. The boys can knock off this evening, and they go back there at six tomorrow night and again Saturday afternoon at 2.30. After Saturday's practice, Art should have a pretty fair idea of his probable lineup.

• • • • • • •

Not much in the way of infield practice could be held last night as the grass is too long at the Park. The players warmed up by tossing the ball around for awhile with the outfielders chasing fungos. Then everyone took a few turns at the plate to get their batting eyes in shape and they finished strong. Most of the prospects are in good condition from constant drills at the "Y" and in a week or so will be wocking together as a unit on the outdoor diamond.

• • • • • • •

In passing we'd like to check up the Kingston scribe who claims Mickey Compeau is the classiest shortstop to ever grace the C.O.B.L. Without even stopping to think we can name two players, who wore Peterborough uniforms, who ranked far ahead of Compeau—good as he undoubtedly is. They were the incomparable Roy Cherrett now dead, and Charlie Ansaldo.

• • • • • • •

We have no hesitancy in saying in our opinion Cherrett was far the best shortstop in this loop, but that was back in the early days of the league and perhaps the Kingston writer had forgotten him. It must have been about '23 when Charlie Ansaldo cavorted between second and third for the Petes and robbed visiting hitters on everything that came within a block of him. And he could hit anywhere from .050 to .100 per cent better in a season than the present Pony infielder.

• • • • • • •

We've been at senior workouts when Ansaldo would bet Jake Solomon two bits he could bunt a fast-thrown ball within one foot of the spot Jake would designate. He generally won, and it's a cinch Jake wasn't giving him any breaks with two bits at stake! And the way that boy Comolli could hit that same year, after a slow start. But there, we're delving in the past now, and there's no percentage in that.

A meeting of the O.B.A.A. executive has been called for tomorrow night in Toronto, at 7.45 (Daylight Saving) in the Carls-Rite Hotel. Important business, including reports from the members regarding affiliations, is on the books for this pow-wow.

• • • • • • •

A new softball ruling which is a distinct departure from the baseball rule used by the O.A.S.A. in past years has come into effect. It is that a softball game this year must consist of at least seven innings (six and a half under certain circumstances) instead of being five. No matter for what reason the game is stopped before the seventh inning, it must be counted no contest. Hence, local men's games here, before Daylight Saving comes in, had better be started in plenty of time for seven frames to be run off.

• • • • • • •

We will run several of the more complicated or least understood rulings daily for those interested in softball. The girls' league is not affiliated with any Ontario body, but will most likely adopt the O.A.S.A. by-laws. Just as soon as the box lacrosse rules are available, we will run them also for the benefit of both players and fans.

• • • • • • •

The Orde Lacrosse Club, representing the North-end, has lined up quite a few good hockey players and they may turn out to be a strong lacrosse outfit. Some of the pucksters who will be working out with them are: Dundas, Dallin, Ellis, Howe, Jarvis, Pat Calladine, Ted LeBarr, Archie Weir, Mahood, Begley, Gardner, and Bill Calladine. Jack Orde is manager and Ira Dundas will take care of the coaching.

• • • • • • •

Smart money is riding on Duffus No. 3 team in the Inter-Alley Bowling League play-offs to-night, but the Knights No. 2 looks pretty good to us, while Duffus No. 1 will be no cinch. They play three games instead of two to settle the title, total pinnage counting. First game is at eight in the K. of C. alleys, going from there to the "Y," and then to Duffus to win it up.

OLYMPIC MILERS MUST STEP IF INDIAN CHOSES TO RUN

Recruit Was Timed in 4 Minutes, 8 4-10 Seconds for Mile.

SWISS TO COMPETE

(By Maxwell Stiles, Special to The Examiner)

LOS ANGELES, May 5.—British India's world champion field hockey team will compete in the Olympic Games at Los Angeles this summer.

This definite announcement is made by Lalchand Mehra, speaking in the absence of Maurice H. H. Joachim, Indian Olympic attache, who has left Los Angeles and taken up at least temporary residence in Chicago.

Mehra states that India's Olympic plans are very indefinite except that he has been notified that the field hockey team is certain to defend the championship which it won at Amsterdam in 1928. On that occasion India was undefeated and scored 29 goals in five games. Holland was second Germany third and Belgium fourth.

Some runners and probably some swimmers may accompany the hockey team Mehra believes. Details are not available at this time.

Mehra is now trying to secure some authentic information concerning Gulzar Ahmed a recruit in the Baluch Regiment at Karachi India, who on March 4 was credited with shattering all world records for the one-mile run.

According to a recent dispatch, Ahmed, described by the dispatch as "a prospective Olympic Games competitor," was credited with having unofficially established a world record for one mile when he was timed in 4 minutes 8 4-10 seconds. This would be two full seconds under the present official world record of Paavo Uurmi, and under the new mark of 4.09.2 established by Jules Ladoumegue of France.

Mehra, as well as local Olympic headquarters, have as yet been unable to learn whether Ahmed's race was properly timed or whether he ran a full mile. They are keeping this soldier-athlete well in mind, however, for it is remembered that an unknown Algerian Arab named El Ouafi won the Olympic marathon at Amsterdam. If Ahmed, another unknown from the outposts, is as good as his record indicates, he may upset all advance notions concerning the Olympic 1,500 metres.

Even such tried performers as Ladoumergue, Gene Vanzke, and Harry Larva would have a hard time staying with a man who can run a mile in 4.08.4.

Switzerland will send between twelve and fifteen athletes here, according to information received by Hans Bohneider, Olympic attache for Switzerland. Outstanding among these is the veteran middle-distance runner Paul Martin, who can run well at 400, 800 or 1,500 metres. It is understood that Martin, who placed second in the Olympic 800 metres of 1924, is now thinking seriously of entering the 3,000 metres steeplechase.

The Swiss gymnasts won the 1928 Olympic championships, and Schneider understands that an attempt will be made to defend this title. G. Meir, horizontal bar champion, and E. Mack, first in the jumps, are expected to come to Los Angeles. It is thought probable that Switzerland will compete in fencing, shooting and Greco-Roman wrestling.

Portugal's plans have not been announced and no attache has been appointed. It is understood here that Portugal may compete in fencing and in men's track and field, possibly in other sports.

CUBA SENDING 13 ATHLETES TO COMPETE AT OLYMPICS

Will Defy Jinx—Do Not Anticipate Bad Luck at Los Angeles.

FINE PISTOL TEAM

(By Maxwell Stiles)

LOS ANGELES, May 5 (Special to The Examiner)—Winners of the Central America games held at Havana in 1930 with 203 points against 122 scored by Mexico, the second of nine nations competing, Cuba is looking forward to participation in the Olympic games at Los Angeles this summer.

Felipe Ponco of this city, writer for an important newspaper in Havana, has been appointed Olympic attache and is doing all that he can to bring the Cubans to Los Angeles.

"It is our present plan to bring 13 athletes, a bad luck number," said Ponce. "We do not, however, anticipate bad luck. Quite on the contrary, we hope to do exceedingly well in some events.

A Great Fencer

"The best fencer in Cuba is the well-known Comandante Ramon Fonst of the Cuban army. Winner of the Olympic games fencing events at St. Louis in 1904. Fonst is still a great fencer. This fact was proven at the Central American games in 1930, when he won the individual championships in foils and epee.

"We have a fine pistol and rifle team, the best shot of which is Senor Pedroso of the pistol team. There are some army sharpshooters who will probably come to the games.

"We believe that he have two fine swimmers in L. Smith and De La Rosa. We shall probably have two track athletes, both sprinters. Conrado Rodriguez, Cuban's best sprinter, is now a student at Georgia Tech university. He will come to Los Angeles, along with Torriente, winner of the 100 metres at the Central America games."

Rodriquez ran 100 metres in 10 3-5 seconds to win the Cuban national championship of 1930. He took the 200 meters in 21 3-5 seconds. These marks equalled the Olympic record in each event, a fact which proves that the speedy Cuban cannot be overlooked on the coming events at Los Angeles.

The records of Cuban athletes fail to disclose any others on the track or field who may be considered as being of Olympic timber, but De La Rosa in the 100 meters free style swim is a strong contender.

Plans for participation of the Balkan states are very indefinite at this time, although Nicolas P. Gadjeff, Olympic attache for Bulgaria, states that Bulgaria will send between 30 and 40 athletes.

Bulgaria's Chances

Gadjeff believes that Bulgaria will compete in track and field for men, boxing, cycling, equestrian sports, fencing for men, gymnastics, modern pentathlon, rowing, shooting, swimming for men, weight lifting and fine arts.

Bulgaria's outstanding hope appears to be Lieut.-Col. Stoycheff, who stands out in equestrian events and who may compete in the modern pentathlon. This great horseman has won many prizes in Paris and other cities in Europe and will lead a strong team of Bulgarian army riders in the equestrian events.

A Bulgarian citizen living in Los Angeles is training for the weight lifting contests, and Gadjeff states that he believes there is a Bulgarian heavyweight boxer in training here.

Jugoslavia has already been covered in this series. Plans for Greece, Turkey and Roumania have not been announced.

Teams Broken Up In Bicycle Grind

TORONTO, May 5. (CP) — Injuries and exhaustion forced the breaking up of two teams in the six-day bicycle race to-day. Tony Schaller suffering from knee injuries was forced to desert his partner Bernardi Stubecke, thus breaking up the German team, while Maurits Declerck, Belgium, became exhausted and gave up the race.

Stubecke with Frank Bartelle, Declerk's partner, formed a new team, Bartelle, however, is suffering from a bad attack of boils.

TICK ON NOW HEAD FAVORITE

To Capture Fifty-eighth Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday.

UNIVERSE MAY WITHDRAW.

LOUISVILLE, Ky., May 5 (C.P.)—Disastrous pre-Derby training campaigns of three leading eligibles have resulted in Mrs. L. O. Kaufman's Tick On becoming almost a standout favorite to capture the 58th Kentucky Derby at Churchill Downs Saturday.

The latest Derby nominee overtaken by misfortune is T. M. Cassidy's universe, which was slightly lame to-day after wrenching a joint in his left foreleg in a workout yesterday. Universe, winner of the Wood Memorial at Jamaica, is secondary favorite to Tick On in the future book odds.

If Universe is withdrawn from the Derby, he will be the third ranking contender eliminated in the strenuous training campaigns for this year's renewal of the historic $50,000 stake. The Shandon Farm's Burning Blaze, principal hope of the West, was crippled while racing at the Downs Saturday, and Top Flight, C. V. Whitney's leading juvenile of last year, was withdrawn from the Derby after running fourth in the Wood Memorial, which Universe won.

Tick On, though beaten in his only start of the year, is favorite on the basis of his two-year-old winnings of $57,350, and as a result of his demonstrating top form in workouts at the Downs.

MOVE IS STARTED FOR GIRLS' LEAGUE

Hope Four-team Loop Will Be Organized in Lakefield This Year.

An organization meeting was held recently to get a definite start toward the Girls' Softball League. Miss Grace Watson has signed up a A.Y.P.A. team with F. A. Payne as manager, and Miss Phyllis Charlton was appointed to get up a team and arrange for a team manager. After some practices are held an exhibition game will be played, and it is hoped that other girls will join up and a league of four teams may be formed for local competition. It is hoped to revive the sport among girls this year, as it has been allowed to lapse for several seasons. A few games were played last year, but the idea is for regular games.

Toronto Badminton Pros Win In Series

TORONTO, May 5.—Jack Purcell and C. W. Aikman of the local Carlton club made a clean sweep of the local series of three matches at the Maple Leaf Gardens last evening in the challenge match against J. Frank Devlin, of the Winnipeg Winter Club, and W. B. Jones, of the Montreal Winter Club, and as the result of their three victories at home, they took the series by 5 to 2, as they won three out of five matches in Montreal on Saturday. The program of five matches, four singles and a double, in Montreal, was found to be too long, and as a result last evening's program was curtailed to two singles and a three-out-of-five set doubles match, and it proved to be just about the right quantity, and there was no question as to quality.

BURGESS BEDTIME STORIES

REDDY KNOWS WHEN HE HAS ENOUGH.

Of anything to have too much
Is worse than not enough of such.
—Old Mother Nature.

Reddy Fox lost his appetite and lost it suddenly and completely. For a night and part of a day he had been watching Honker the Goose and his flock in the pond of Paddy the Beaver and all that time his mouth had been watering. He had grown hungrier and hungrier as he watched those big birds, all the time taking the greatest care to keep out of their sight. At last he had been rewarded by having one of the younger members of the flock, who had not yet attained wisdom through experience, come ashore and squat down right in front of his hiding place.

That he was going to have that goose dinner he was sure then. Alas! Just as he sprang that Goose turned and saw him. Instead of seizing that long neck as he had expected to do, he was himself knocked sprawling by a blow from a stout wing. Surprised, upset, but not discouraged, Reddy was on his feet in an instant and leaped again This time his teeth closed on nothing more than a mouthful of stiff wing feathers. Reddy was beside himself with rage. This young Goose had had the best of it so far, but he knew that in the end he would win and have that dinner he so wanted. Then, as he once more leaped in, he saw old Honker coming, half running, half flying, and hissing as only he could hiss. Right then and there Reddy lost his appetite.

Before he could turn to run Honker arrived. He shoved the young Goose out of the way and struck Reddy a blow that made him see stars, as the saying is. Before Reddy could get his wits together, Honker was on him again, pounding him with those great stout wings and striking with his bill driven by that long neck.

Now Reddy Fox is not a coward. No, sir, he is not a coward. For a few minutes he fought his best, snapping and slashing at that long snaky neck that darted in and out and never was where he thought it was. All the Geese had gathered around by this time and such gabbling and honking you never heard. It was bad enough to have to take such a pounding and lose the fight, bnt it was worse to have so many see it.

Reddy knew when he had had enough. He knew that while he might in the end have won from that young Goose, big old Honker was too much for him. So now the one thing he wanted most was to escape. But this was not so easy. You see whenever he did get a chance to dodge Honker's blows and try to take to his heels there was always another Goose in his way ready to beat him back.

Oh, how he wished then that he had heeded Mrs. Reddy's advice and gone Mouse hunting instead of trying to get one of those Geese. Feathers were flying, for now and then he would get a mouthful. Some fur was flying, too. Those great wings of Honker's were like shields. They were always in the way when Reddy leaped for that long neck. And such blows as they struck! Time and again they knocked Reddy off his feet. Reddy snarled and Honker hissed and the onlookers gabbled and honked. It was all tremendously exciting.

And then it ended as suddenly as it had begun. Despite the excitement, one of those Geese was all the time on guard. Suddenly he sounded the alarm. Instantly Honker stopped fighting and with a sharp command sent all those Geese into the water. He followed last, and in stately fashion the great birds sailed out a little way. Then they turned to stare back. Reddy Fox had disappeared, but there was some one else there. It was Yowler the Bobcat. He had heard the noise of that fight and had hurriedly but stealthily come over there to see what was going on. But for the watchfulness of that Goose who stood guard he would have succeeded where Reddy had failed.

Disappointed though he was, Yowler grinned as he looked the ground over. "Reddy Fox got more than he bargained for that time, I guess. I wish I had been in his place," he muttered.

Hunger Marches On Way To Boston

TAKE PART IN ANNUAL MAY DAY CELEBRATION

Hunger marchers travelled in "columns" from Clinton to Boston, Mass., to stage their annual May Day meeting on Boston common, May 1. Column 2 is shown as it entered Hudson, Mass., carrying signs and posters demanding work and food. The band is being led by Miss Doretta Tarman, a young Worcester girl.

What To-Day Means To You

"TAURUS"

If May 5th is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:30 a.m. to 11 a.m., from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m. and from 8:15 p.m. to 10 p.m. The danger periods are from 7 a.m. to 8:30 a.m. and from 6 p.m. to 7:40 p.m.

Astrological influences on May 5th will help to prepare the way for the reception of new ideas or the launching of new enterprises. Initative and nerve will go a long way on this date for most battles will be won before they are begun. Hesitating lovers will find themselves engaged to the idol of their hearts.

Although not uncomfortably restless, children born on this May 5th will be full of chatter, movement and dancing. They will give out a great deal of love and friendliness, and will receive a great deal in return. They may want their jam before their bread, but the bread and butter side of their character will always be in evidence.

You, if born on May 5th, and your immediate horoscopial predecessor are not peas out of the same pot. You are stolid, matter of fact being with a great sense of duty and possess a conscience that never takes a vacation. You are not too much the vegetable to experience emotions, but yours never exhaust you. You ask very little of life, but that little you intend to get. You do not believe much in chopping and changing, and the blue prints of your life show few erasures and changes.

You are not a speed artist, but your lumbering gait gets you further and faster in the long run than many of your associates who travel on a higher gear. You have fewer and less sevee breakdowns, and you have time to take eveything in which is of interest or of use. You like to do things in your own way and your own time, and are unfriendly toward meddlers. You are unduly sensitive to criticism which you take very much to heart.

If you be a woman, you frown on any taint of unconventionality, and are rather stiff in your social contacts. You can be very happy alone, and at times feel that you must escape from human contacts and demands. You will agree with Shakespeare that love pricks like a thorn.

BURDOCK BLOOD BITTERS

Had Thirteen Boils On His Neck

Mrs. H. V. Duncombe, Grassy Lake, Alta., writes:—"My husband was covered with boils, having as many as thirteen on his neck at once. He tried everything possible, but nothing did any good until he took Burdock Blood Bitters, and before he had used one bottle the boils were all gone, and he has not been bothered with them since."

TARZAN AND THE GOLDEN LION. NO. 88

By Edgar Rice Burroughs

(Metropolitan Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.)

Tarzan lowered Flora to the ground, whispering: "Wait—he must not escape." But she followed slowly after him. Tarzan heard a low whine to his right "Jad-bal-ja!" he murmured, "Heel!" and the great black-maned lion crept close to him. An instant later the three came to the river's bank and through the tall grasses growing there looked down upon the little camp beneath.

Tarzan, to his consternation, saw a counterpart of himself standing before a little fire while, slowly approaching the man with outstreached arms, was a woman. The ape-man even heard her endearing words, addressed to her huge companion, and at the sound a strange complex of emotion suddenly overwhelmed him. He saw the man at the fireside stepping forward with open arms to embrace the eager woman. Rage dominated his mood.

Then Tarzan separated the grasses and stepped to the very edge of the embankment, his voice shattering the jungle with a single word. "JANE!" he cried. Instantly the man and the woman turned and looked up at him where his figure was dimly revealed in the flickering light of the camp-fire. At sight of him the man wheeled and raced for the jungle. Tarzan leaped the rivulet below and ran toward the woman. "Jane," he cried, "it is you!"

The bewildered woman looked first at the retreating figure of the man she had been about to embrace and then turned her eyes toward Tarzan. She drew her fingers across her brow, then took a faltering step toward her husband. "Heaven help me," she cried, "what does this mean? Who are you? And if you are Tarzan, who was he?" Tarzan's laugh reassured her. "I am Tarzan, believe me," he said, "the true Tarzan of the Apes."

Obituary

MRS. WILLIAM DAVIS

BETHANY, May 5 (Examiner Correspondence).—The death occurred this morning of a highly-respected resident of Bethany in the person of Mrs. William Davis, Glengarry road, aged 79 years. The late Mrs. Davis had been ill only a short time with pneumonia.

Left to mourn her loss besides her sorrowing husband are: one son, Byron, and four daughters, Mrs. Harry Rogers of Lindsay; Miss Lila Davis of Toronto; Mrs. Harold Thompson and Mrs. J. Boggs of Manvers Station.

The funeral will be held on Saturday from St. Paul's Church, at 2 o'clock; the Rev. G. Fierheller officiating.

MRS. GEORGE SIDEY.

Mrs. George Sidey of Smith Township died at Nicholls Hospital on Wednesday, aged 67 years.

A native of Colbourne Township, Mrs. Sidey was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lyman Williams. Besides her husband, she leaves one brother, Isom Williams of Colbourne and one sister, Harriet Williams of this city.

The funeral is to be held on Friday at 2 p.m. from Comstock's Funeral Home to Bridgenorth Cemetery. The Rev. J. H. Sutcliffe, pastor of Murray Street Baptist Church, will conduct the services.

MRS. PATRICK HEFFERNAN

The funeral of the late Mary E. Heffernan, widow of the late Patrick Heffernan, took place from her late residence, 377 Reid Street, to St. Peter's Cathedral and St. Peter's cemetery, on Thursday, the 21st April.

The Solemn Requiem Mass was celebrated by the Rev. Father J. T. Finn, the Rev. Father C. J. Carroll and the Rev. V. J. Masterson, D.D. The Rev. Fathers J. J. O'Brien, J. V. McAuley and V. Corery were present in the Sanctuary. The music was furnished by the choir of St. Mary's Convent.

After the Mass the Rev. Father Finn referred in most eloquent terms to the Christian life led by the late Mrs. Heffernan and the consolation which had always been hers in the life of the Church.

A very large congregation attended the Mass, many of whom came from great distances, and followed the remains to the cemetery. The Rev. Fathers Carroll and McAuley conducted the services at the grave. The pallbearers were her six grandsons, Francis Carroll, John Carroll and James Carroll, of 507 Bolivar street, Herbert Heffernan, Joseph Heffernan and John Heffernan, of Rochester, N.Y., and John O'Connell, of Braintree, Mass. Many gifts of flowers and spiritual bouquets were tendered by many friends of Mrs. Heffernan and her family.

COUNTY COUNCIL HOLDS SESSION TO PASS BY-LAW

Appointment of Road Superintendent Chalmers is Approved.

VISIT NORWOOD.

Bridge Recently Washed Out to be Inspected by Council.

The appointment of A. E. Chalmers as County Road Superintendent was this morning ratified with the passing of a bylaw, at a special session of the County Council, with Warden W. H. Montgomery in the chair.

Following readings of the minutes of the last special session of the Council by the County Clerk and Treasurer, Reeve. E. H. McDonald, who was unavoidably absent on that occasion, asked for an explanation of the procedure which had aroused county-wide interest.

"It was a mixed-up affair, Mr. McDonald," the Clerk replied.

"Well. I am not objecting to the superintendent or to what the members of the Suburban Area Commission did, or anything else," Reeve McDonald said. "But I take it from those minutes that two superintendents were appointed." He insisted on having a full explanation before he voted on the questions facing the council this morning.

After some discussion in which Reeves McIntosh and McIntyre were heard, E. A. Peck, M.P., County Solicitor, was asked to throw some light on the matter. Mr. McDonald thought that was a good suggestion stating, "so far as the public is concerned they should be told that this thing is on the square."

Mr. Peck's Advice

Mr. Peck remarked that the matter was a little out of the ordinary. For the appointment of a public school trustee, for instance, he said a majority vote of the Council would carry. But in the appointment of a road superintendent, he reminded them there were only fourteen members of the Council eligible to vote on the question, the reeves of the northern townships not having any active interest in the County Roads system. Then again the superintendent had to be a qualified engineer who was approved of by the Government, and furthermore he had to be a man who was acceptable to the Suburban Area Commission.

His advice to the Council was to pass a bylaw ratifying the appointment.

Following the first reading of the bylaw Reeve McDonald asked if the council was not faced with the question as to which man they desired to appoint. He still maintained that two men had been appointed.

It was not necessary, Mr. Peck stated. If the bylaw was passed, Mr.

King George Ascended British Throne 22 Years Ago—21 Gun Salute is Fired

LONDON, May 6.—(C. P. Cable)—Today was the 22nd anniversary of the King's accession to the throne and a salute of 21 guns was fired by the court Bombardier at Windsor Castle, while the bells of St. George's Chapel pealed merrily.

The court removed to Buckingham Palace on Wednesday and will remain in London until Whitsuntide, the end of next week, when their Majesties go to Sandringham, Norfolk.

On Sunday Their Majesties and other members of the Royal family will privately inspect the new exhibition of the Royal academy.

On May 30 the King and Queen will pay their annual visit to the music hall, The Palladium having been selected for this year's command performance. The performers, largely comedians, will be all British and the dresses, scenery and stage fittings will be of British make, while the orchestra will confine its program to music by British composers.

VERIGIN HANDED 3 YEARS IN JAIL

Leader Over 15,000 Doukhobors is Sentenced After Conviction for Perjury.

COURT PACKED.

YORKTON, Sask., May 6 (C.P.).—Peter Verigin, Doukhobor leader, this morning was sentenced to three years in Prince Albert Penitentiary for perjury. He was convicted on one charge of perjury by a jury here yesterday. Mr. Justice Maclean passed sentence.

Rules 15,000 Doukhobors.

Verigin, holding virtually supreme power over the 16,000 Doukhobors of British Columbia, Saskatchewan, and Manitoba, was the 119th of his sect to be given a three-year prison term within 24 hours.

Yesterday 118 Doukhobors were sentenced at Nelson, B.C., after pleading guilty to taking part in nude parades. While Verigin languishes in the Northern Saskatchewan Penitentiary at Prince Albert, his British Columbia followers will be behind bars of two other Federal prisons. The 84 male nudists sentenced yesterday will be taken to New Westminster, B.C., Penitentiary, and the 34 women to Portsmouth, Ont., Penitentiary.

Followers Attend Trial.

A large crowd of his followers heard Verigin sentenced here. The court room was packed with Doukhobors who came from all parts of the province for the trial, which started on Wednesday morning and ended with Verigin's conviction yesterday afternoon.

More than 1,000 members of the sect are in this town. A strong police guard has been standing in readiness for disturbances, which so far have failed to materialize.

"REVOLT" ENDS OVER BEER TAX

Chamberlain Virtually Delivers Second Budget Speech to Get Peace.

CONSERVATIVE MOVE.

(By Thos. T. Champion, C. P. Staff Writer.)

LONDON, May 6.—(C. P. Cable.)—The "revolt" among a section of the Government's supopрters in the House of Commons over the failure of to remove the tax on beer in the recent budget is definitely over. The protest was organized by Conservatives representing agricultural areas, for the most part, and assumed wide dimensions. Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, in private yesterday gathered these members and delivered virtually a second budget speech to them.

Those attending admitted later the Chancellor's arguments impressed them and took what consolation was possible from assurances the reduction in the beer duties would be considered at the "proper time." It is unlikely, however, this will arrive during the present year.

The protesting commoners were presided over by Sir Douglas Newton, whose selection as agricultural adviser to the British delegation to the Imperial Economic Conference was announced yesterday. His appointment has met with some criticism from various agricultural bodies who have submitted their own nominees, but Sir John Gilmour, Minister of Agriculture, proposes to ask such organizations to form an advisory committee for Sir Douglas in this country.

"IF CANADA IS TO GET BUSINESS SHE MUST HAVE NEW OUTLOOK"

Stevens, Minister of Trade, Emphasizes Point Before University Students.

SLUMP TEACHING LESSON.

VANCOUVER, May 6 (C.P.). — "There is a new type of thought and outlook taking possession of the world, and this will find its expression through you," Hon. H. H. Stevens, Minister of Trade and Commerce, said in addressing the Convocation of the University of British Columbia here last night. He was addressing youth, represented before him by those who had just received their degrees. He himself had received the honorary degree of Doctor of Laws.

"I have learned, particularly in the past two years, that in the realms of trade, science, art and education, new principles, ideas and concepts are going to take hold," Dr. Stevens said. The elder generation now bearing the burdens of affairs, would carry on, but would find it difficult to seize upon what was valuable in the new thought and it was through those who would succeed that it would find its expression.

Old Principles Must Go.

"In the realm of international trade," said the speaker, "principles which have been in vogue for centuries will have to be discarded and new ones be adopted.

Many leaders of commerce were

Gangsters Rush To Pay Taxes

CHICAGO, May 6. (C.P.)—Chicago's gangland is rushing to the federal building these days to pay taxes on its income, apparently to escape the fate of "Scareface" Al Capone and others of its leaders.

United States District Attorney George E. Q. Johnson revealed yesterday that since the big government drive more than $1,000,000 has been more than 1,000,000 has been remitted in income taxes by gamblers, racketeers, liquor dealers and other hoodlums.

'CLEAN-UP' MAN NEARLY CAUGHT

Saturday Winds Up the Wanderings of Mr. Clean-Up in Peterborough.

$11 FOR SOME PERSON.

(By Mr. Clean-Up).

If you don't want the eleven dollars on Saturday, don't ask for it. A well-known young man who has a beat about town almost qualified Thursday afternoon. His salute was "Are you Mr. Clean-Up," and apparently he had a receipt in his hand, but he didn't open, and in fact he sliced the approach badly.

Have you noticed the number of appeals for work through the want ads of The Examiner this week?

PIT EQUIPMENT IS TO BE MOVED COUNCIL ORDERS

Gravel Pit Machinery Will Be Moved Out of Ashburnham.

TO BE SET UP AT NASSAU.

City Has Been Given Three Years' Supply of Stone.

Under the impulsion of the protest by Monday night's deputation, the city will move its gravel pit equipment, lock, stock, and barrel, out of Ashburnham, and set it up at Nassau where it will be used to crush about three years' supply of stone which the municipality has received as a gift from the Canadian General Electric Company.

This decision by the council last night, on Ald. Turner's motion seconded by Ald. McNabb, was unanimously adopted.

It will be recalled that Ald. Hamilton and City Engineer Parsons were appointed at Monday night's meeting to investigate the prospects of this retreat, and to report at the special meeting called for general business the most important of which was the arrangement of preparations for the forthcoming visit of the Governor-General, the Earl of Bessborough.

Alderman Hamilton said last night that the change of scenery seemed to be quite practical.

"Mr. Salmonsen told us we could have the stone, and the Utilities Commission will connect us with power at only a little more cost. Of course it will be farther for the men to go to work. If we take the crusher up there we will have enough stone for two or three years. So there is no reason why we shouldn't go on with it."

Ald. Cotton said that it was four miles from Fair's store to the middle of the Nassau bridge.

The estimated cost of the crushed stone from Nassau is $1.25 a yard, and the first output will be used on Burnham street.

BLAST TRAGEDY BEING PROBED

Coroner, Hydro and Fire Departments Seek Cause of London Explosion.

ONE LIFE LOST.

LONDON, Ont., May 6 (C.P.).—Three separate investigations were launched to-day into last night's blast which tore C. Catalano & Sons' Warehouse, Bathurst Street, into a splintered mass of wreckage, killing one 17-year-old youth, and injuring ten other persons.

The dead boy is Joe Mocznliski, of 563 Hill Street, while seriously injured and likely to die are A. Piskun, 26, of William Street, Alexander Polinski, of 511 Ottawa Avenue, and John Moore, 19, of Mount Pleasant Avenue, bookkeeper of the firm. Seven others are less badly hurt. Piskun is considered the most seriously injured.

Inquest Ordered.

The three investigations are by the Coroner's Department, the Fire Department, and the Hydro Department. Dr. J. C. Wilson, city coroner, will open an inquest at noon, but after a preliminary hearing is held, it is expected the inquiry will be laid over to permit the attendance of certain of the injured parties.

Early to-day Fire Chief Charles S Scott and W. E. Rider, district inspector of the Hydro-Electric Power Commission, went to Bathurst Street, scene of the blast. The two of them probed the ruins in an effort to establish what bearing electric wires, if any, had on the blaze.

The loss is estimated at $15,000.

Doctors Hold Hope Venerable Doumer May Pull Through

Fascist Fires Twice Point Blank As Head Of Republic Steps Upon Platform To Open Ex-Soldiers' Book Exhibition.

POLICE DIRECTOR, NOVELIST BRAVING DEATH RUSH TO AID—BOTH ARE WOUNDED IN ARMS.

Entire Cabinet Watches Tragedy—Attack Rouses Whole Of France—Streets Crowded With Angry Citizens As News Leaks Out.

PARIS, May 6.—(AP)—President Paul Doumer, 74-year-old head of the French republic, was critically wounded today by an assassin identified as a "white" Russian.

Two blood transfusions and trepanning operation were performed immediately and the doctors held out some hope that the president might recover.

The police hammered at the assassin until they learned that his name is Paul Gouguloff, that he had come here from Monaco especially to committ this crime and that his motive was revenge for the French refusal to intervene in Russia against the Bolsheviki.

The shooting occurred while the president was attending an exhibition of books by ex-soldiers.

The noted novelist, Claude Farrere, and Paul Guichard, director of the Parish police, were slightly wounded.

PAUL DOUMER

All the members of the cabinet were waiting in the home of Baron de Rothschild, near the Elysee Palace for the arrival of the president, who was to have opened the exhibition.

M. Doumer was escorted to the official suite and entered the exhibition room. With Joseph Germaine he walked to a platform at the end of the room. M. Germaine handed him a book to sign.

Five Shots Ring Out

As he prepared to do so five shots were fired.

The president crumpled up and sank to the floor with bullets in the head and in the shoulder.

Farrere, the novelist, who stood nearby, sprang forward and seized the assassin.

The man raised his smoking pistol and fired point blank. One bullet struck Farrere in the arm. Guichard, the policeman, was running forward also. Another bullet struck him in the arm. Police seized the man and in a moment found the revolver where he had flung it after firing the last shot.

FINNISH EDITOR TO BE DEPORTED

Price States Sudbury Red Has Gone Too Far—In Trouble Before.

MUST PROTECT CANADIANS

MONTREAL, May 6.—(CP)—Arvo Vaara, Communist editor of the Finnish Daily Vapaus of Sudbury, who was arrested in a police raid on the newspaper, will be deported, Col. W. H. Price, Ontario Attorney-General, said here before sailing aboard the Canadian National liner Lady Somers for a vacation in the West Indies.

A Toronto despatch received yesterday indicated that the movements of Vaara were surrounded by mystery after he had been bundled into a large automobile with five plainclothes policemen and headed south.

"Do you intend to deport Vaara?" Mr Price was asked.

He replied in the affirmative.

"Will he be sent from Montreal by any of the liners leaving today?"

Mr. Price said that he did not think so, as it would likely take several days to have the deportation papers arranged.

"If they don't like our country let them go somewhere else where they will be content" he declared. "We are not going to have them here."

He added that two other men arrested recently would be deported.

Mr. Price is leaving for a three-weeks' vacation in Kingston Jamaica, for his health.

POLICE PLACE TWO YOUNG MEN UNDER ARREST

Held Responsible for Series of Thefts Wednesday Night in Havelock.

THEFT OF TIRES.

Appeared Before Magistrate Langley in Police Court.

Held responsible for the series of thefts that occurred Wednesday night in Havelock, George Wallbridge, aged 26, married, of Belmont Township, and Roland Miles, aged 19, of Dummer Township, were arrested late last night at Wallbridge's home by Provincial Constables D. Silvester and W. Warren.

They were charged before Police Magistrate Langley here this morning on two theft charges, including breaking and entering the garage of G. E. Childs and stealing the tires and rims from the rear wheels of his truck; also the theft of 20 feet of air hose and a quantity of gasoline from R. J. Covert's service station.

Wallbridge pleaded guilty to the theft of tires, but said not guilty to the second charge. Miles pleaded not guilty to both charges. Both were remanded until May 10, bail being fixed at $1,000.

The two Provincial constables were not informed of the robberies until 10 o'clock yesterday morning. Being informed in Havelock that Wallbridge and Miles had been acting suspiciously about the village streets previous to the thefts, they immediately instituted a search for the pair, and returned to Peterborough with them under arrest at 1 o'clock this morning.

UNEMPLOYED STORM YARDS

200 Angry Men Cause Trouble in Sorel Shipyards.

REDS' PARADE BLOCKED.

SOREL, Que. May 6.—(CP)— An angry crowd of 200 unemployed men stormed the shipyards here today, put departmental heads and foremen off the premises, blew the factory whistles and cut off the electrical power, all in protest at the employment of shipyard labor from out of town.

The leaders of the crowd then conferred with M. J. Groulx, yard superintendent and told him that if the strangers were not replaced with local labor they would not be responsible for their actions.

Local police were called but were unable to do anything with the crowd, so greatly were they outnumbered. There was no violence offered to police, but the foremen and department heads of the shipyards were threatened by the angry crowd.

Parade Fails

SUDBURY, May 6. —(CP)— A Communist demonstration called for this afternoon to protest against the arrest Wednesday of Martin Parker and Arvo Vaara, editors of Vapaus, and their threatened deportation, and to demand the release of the 15 Communists arrested on May Day, failed to materialize when Sudbury police, augmented by a detachment from Copper Cliff, refused to let the crowd congregate in Memorial Park, and kept them moving on the streets.

None of the leaders who are still at liberty put in an appearance.

CHICAGO, May 6.—(CP)— Five Communists were shot and 25 others arrested when Melrose Park police turned a machine gun on them in a meeting hall in the west side suburb this afternoon.

$10,000 BAIL DEMANDED FOR BRANTFORD WOMAN

BRANTFORD, May 6.—(C.P.) — Despite a strong plea by the woman's counsel, for the minimum sum, Magistrate Blake to-day committed Mrs. Louise English to $10,000 bail. The woman is charged with performing an illegal operation, following the death at Stratford of Miss Dorothy Lee. Crown Attorney Charlton intimated a more serious charge may be laid after the inquest into the death of Miss Lee to be held at Stratford on Monday next.

The accused is the mother of three small children, but inability to raise bail will prevent her from returning home.

THREE LIKELY TO DIE; 6 OTHERS IN HOSPITAL; WAREHOUSE WRECKED

Explosion Occurs Without Warning, Trapping Late Workers In Fruit Plant.

POLICE CHECKING UP.

Sabotage Rumors Numerous—Officials Suspect Gas Fumes In Furnace Room.

LONDON, Ont. May 5. — (CP) — One man is dead today, three are probably fatally injured and six others are receiving hospital care as the result of a terrific blast which last night made flaming ruins of the wholesale fruit plant of C. Catalano and sons. The dead man is John Moczuloki, 17-year-old plant employee, who succumbed to severe injuries three hours after the explosion. The condition of John Moore, 19, Andro Piskum, 25, and Alex Polimski, 16, all Catalano employes, is still serious, it was stated by hospital authorities early this morning.

Cause of the blast—which shattered windows for several blocks in the vicinity of the warehouse and caused approximately $5,000 damages—has not yet been ascertained although theories are numerous. A theory that the place had been deliberately destroyed was characterized as unlikely by the police. It was believed possible, however, that either the furnaces in the banana ripening room or the ether used to spray storage tomatoes might have caused the fire which spread quickly through the crumpled edifice and brought all available police and firemen to the scene.

Passer-by Hurt

The explosion occurred at 7.40 o'clock while several employes were still in the building. Richard Catalano, the manager, who was in his office, sustained a neck wound and facial lacerations. He was released from hospital after treatment. A passerby, Pete Leneham is in hospital suffering from minor injuries caused by flying bricks. All other casualties were employes of the Catalano company.

Campbellford Will Petition New Time

CAMPBELLFORD, May 6. (By Examiner Staff Correspondent). — In an effort to force Campbellford to fall in line with other cities and towns of Ontario to work in the summer months on Daylight Saving Time, a petition is being circulated among the tradesmen and citizens of town which, when complete, will be presented to the town council for their approval and action. Many citizens, and especially the business men of town, feel the handicap of being one hour behind the rest of the country in the summer months and are making every effort to ensure the success of this petition.

Plot Laid in Room Under Royal Apartment in New York Hotel.

DURING 1919 VISIT.

NEW YORK, May 6.—(C.P.) —A startling story of what was described as a plot to blow up the apartment occupied by the Prince of Wales at the Waldorf-Astoria hotel during his visit to New York in 1919 is now related by Lieutenant-Colonel Norman G. Thwiates, who was then acting as the Prince's bodyguard, according to a London despatch to the New York Times.

Col. Thwiates in his book of reminiscenses, "Velvet and Vinegar," published last night, says an Irish conference was being held at the hotel and open house was kept. Every species of Irishman, honorable and otherwise, he explains, was besieging the place and much money must have been expended in providing refreshments.

Plot Reported.

"The sensation came, however," he writes, "when it was reported that some rooms allotted to the Irish conference were actually immediately below those occupied by the Prince.

It was said a desperate fellow was in possession of them and contemplated blowing up the Prince's quarters.

"I paid a visit to these premises and asked for a drink while burning literature was pressed on me. Bill Nye (a secret service man who was guarding the Prince) laughed at the suggestion of danger but made an investigation. The report was found to have a foundation of truth. A man of the name given was actually in possession of the room under the Prince's quarters. He could give no satisfactory reason for his presence and was firmly told to get out."

Dietician Is Victim Of Maniac's Attack

TOLEDO, O., May 6.—Strangled to death and criminally assaulted by an unidentified man, the body of Miss Winifred Rafferty, 22, dietician at the Robinwood Hospital, was found to-day in an exclusive Toledo residential section.

Police blamed a maniac for the attack, and said the young woman was killed after a terrific struggle. Almost all of her clothing was torn fro mher body, the buttons were off her coat, and her shoes had been hurled several feet away.

The body was found by Richard Carr, son of W. C. Carr, prominent Toledo banker, on the front lawn of his father's home, only a short distance from the hospital. Carr observed the young woman's body when the headlights of his automobile shone upon it as he drove into the driveway, returning home from Detroit.

118 DOUKHOBOR NUDE PARADERS GIVEN 3 YEARS

Men Serve Terms in West—34 Women Being Brought to Portsmouth.

SPEEDY JUSTICE.

Leader, Peter Verigin, Awaits Sentence To-day on Charge of Perjury.

NELSON, B.C., May 6. (CP) — Grim warning that further breaches of the law will not be tolerated in British Columbia has been served on the Doukhobors of Nelson district and Provincial Police are patrolling the area to-day to prevent further nude parades.

Perhaps the speediest justice ever meted out in a Canadian court was meted out here yesterday when 118 members of the Sons of Freedom Doukhobor sect were sentenced to a total of 354 years in penitentiary within a space of 120 minutes. They are now awaiting removal to federal prisons and the 84 men will be confined at New Westminister while the 34 women will be taken across the continent to Portsmouth, Ont.

Undaunted by the action against their fellows half a dozen Doukhobor women disrobed last night in front of Hon. R. H. Pooley, Attorney-General of British Columbia, who came here to warn that the law would be strictly enforced. No arrests were made and the incident was allowed to pass.

Meanwhile at Yorkton, Sask., Peter Verigin, titular head of the Christian Community of Universal Brotherhood, the Orthodox Doukhobor group was found guilty of perjury. He will be sentenced today. The charge arose out of a civil action between Verigin and another Doukhobor who had broken away from the Orthodox group.

The 118 men and women sentenced yesterday were arrested Sunday when poice clashed with them as they were staging a nude parade. Rounded up after a brisk fight they were lodged in Nelson jail. Each received the maximum penalty of three years.

JAPANESE ARMY LEAVING CHINA

Withdrawal Being Supervised by Mixed Commission From Six Powers.

SMALL ARSENAL FOUND.

SHANGHAI, May 6 (C.P.).—The vanguard of what remains of the powerful Japanese Army at Shanghai, estimated at 30,000 men, to-day began evacuating the area about the city from which it drove the Chinese in the last battle of the "war."

The evacuation, which is in accordance with the truce agreement signed yesterday by Japanese and Chinese officials, is slated to continue increasingly each day until the entire Japanese force has retired to the areas assigned to it under the truce. The movement is expected to be completed within one month.

A mixed commission, consisting of two representatives each of China, Japan, Great Britain, the United States, France, and Italy, will supervise the withdrawal and also see to it that the Chinese forces remain in their present positions pending further Sino-Japanese conferences.

Special Policing.

The Chinese emphasized, when signing the treaty, that it restricts in no way the movement of their troops in Chinese territory.

The Nanking Government announced that a special force of Chinese constabulary would take over the area now occupied by the Japanese and police it.

Reports emanating from Japanese sources said the Japanese Government probably would move for a round table conference here to settle all Sino-Japanese issues, including the problem of Manchuria and the anti-Japanese boycott in China.

What the Chinese attitude toward such a conference would be was not known, although the belief prevailed that such a parley would be held eventually.

Seek Bombers

In the meantime the Japanese Consular police continued to scour the Korean community hunting for those whom they suspect of having been responsible for the bombing here last week. They looked especially for persons believed to be connected with the independence movement in Korea.

ST. PIERRE DIES FOR HIS SHARE IN MURDER CASE

Convicted as Author of Plot to Lure Vermont Man to Death.

LIQUOR RUNNING DRAMA.

Man Who Fired Fatal Shot in Jail Pending Appeal of 5-Year Term.

SHERBROOKE, Que., May 6. — (C.P.) A drama of international liquor running that had its inception at Hereford, Que., 18 months ago passed through one of its final episodes here to-day when Albert St. Pierre was hanged for the murder of Rene Malloy, Norton Mills. St. Pierre ascended the scaffold at 6.05 a.m. and was pronounced dead 15 minutes later.

The case is one where the hand of justice has fallen more heavily on the man who conceived the crime than on the one who was the agent in carrying it out. Rene Malloy was shot through the heart on the night of Nov. 11, 1930, when he with his brother and another man was discovered seeking a cache of St. Pierre's liquor on a farm at Hereford.

Author of Plot

It was conceded by the prosecution during the trial that St. Pierre had not fired the bullet that killed Malloy. The crown's theory was, however, that St. Pierre was the author of a plot to lure the young Vermont man across the border so that he might be killed. The prosecution maintained St. Pierre had deliberately sought to give Malloy the appearance of being a thief so that he could be shot in apparent defence of property.

During November, 1930, Malloy had entered into a liquor deal with Napleon Deveau, described during the trial as an employee of St. Pierre. On the night of the 11th, Malloy crossed the international border with his brother Phillip and a third Norton Mills man, Joseph Langlois. They reached the farm of Vezina and Adelard Dube at Hereford, and in the darkness made their way to the barn. There, according to Deveau, they would find the liquor.

No sooner were they in the barn than the building was surrounded by St. Pierre and the Dubes. Malloy and his companions were directed to come out. The Vermont men attempted to escape. Shots rang out and Rene Malloy fell dead. His brother Phillip was severely wounded. Joseph Langlois walked into the glare of a flashlight with his hands up and was not injured.

No Defence Evidence.

During St. Pierre's trial, no evidence was presented for the defence. His counsel contended the Hereford man had merely acted in self defence and to protect their property. The jury thought otherwise, and St. Pierre was convicted of murder. Vezina Dube, whose gun, according to expert testimony, was

CROWN PRINCE 'NO GENTLEMAN'

Celebrates 50th Birthday Amid Storm of Criticism for Political Stand.

Favors Hitler's Program.

POTSDAM, Germany, May 6.—(AP). Former Crown Prince Friedrich Wilhelm von Hohenzollern was 50 years old to-day and his birthday was ushered in with a storm of criticism in the German press in which he was called "no gentleman."

The criticism charged that by lending his support to Adolf Hitler, National Socialist leader, in the recent presidential election campaign, he violated the promise he made, when he was permitted to return to Germany in 1923, that he would not take part in politics.

Up to that time he and his family had been in exile on the Island of Wieringen, Holland.

The Monarchist newspaper De Aufrechte, however, has defended the Crown Prince by insisting that all the late Chancellor Stresmann asked, when he permitted the return from exile, was that the Prince "submit to a certain political reserve after his return."

Hundreds of the old imperial army officers, determined the Prince shall celebrate his birthday amid surroundings reminding him of the pomp and glory of imperial days, arranged a celebration tonight in the "Cfour" a popular Berlin meeting hall.

NOTED JOURNALIST SEES EMPIRE COOPERATION, DEPRESSION CURE

States Civilization's Fate Rests on Shrewd Sense of Men to Meet at Ottawa.

AT PRESS DINNER.

TORONTO, May 6. —(CP)— Sir Willmott Lewis, noted Journalist who is Washington correspondent of the London Times, today stood as a firm advocate of British Empire co-operation as a means of curing economic ills of the world.

In an address last night before the annual dinner of the Canadian Press and the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association, Sir Willmott said the fate of civilization rested upon the cold, shrewd political sense of the British peoples who will be gathered together at the Imperial Economic Conference at Ottawa next July.

The Ottawa Conference, he said, must seek a middle road between economic idealism of unattainable world-wide free trade and the present nationalistic trade systems which are leading to complete collapse.

FLOATING POWER

"THE RIDE of Your Life!

I invite you to take it tomorrow"

"That's the Floating Power Ride," says W. P. Chrysler. "The biggest thrill in motoring today."

I WANT you to ride in a Floating Power car.

I want you to know the amazing things that Floating Power does to an automobile.

That's why I join with every Plymouth, DeSoto, Dodge and Chrysler dealer in Canada in inviting you to take a Floating Power Ride tomorrow or any day next week.

I can't describe a Floating Power Ride to you. Nobody can. It's something you have to feel and experience.

But I promise you a surprise and a thrill.

Imagine, if you can, a car without vibration. Think of the smoothest car you've ever driven. Multiply that smoothness by two or more. Then you'll have some idea of Floating Power smoothness. The flexibility of Floating Power. A handling ease beyond your dreams.

A Nationwide Demonstration of
FLOATING POWER

Starting tomorrow and continuing throughout next week, thousands upon thousands of Canadian motorists will participate in the greatest and most spectacular of all automobile demonstrations—the Floating Power Ride.

Of course, you're invited. Cordially invited. You and your family and your friends.

Merely ask any Plymouth, DeSoto, Dodge or Chrysler dealer for a Floating Power Ride. Or, if you prefer, ride with a friend who owns a Floating Power car.

You can enjoy performance like this in only four cars—the Plymouth, the DeSoto, the Dodge and the Chrysler. Because Floating Power is exclusive.

Of course, competition is making lots of claims about riding smoothness. But can they prove their claims? Find out for yourself.

Ride in a Floating Power car. Then ride in any car without it. You'll find there's a world of difference.

I've said repeatedly that any car that hasn't Floating Power is out-of-date. I mean just that. I know you'll agree with me after you've ridden in one of our Floating Power automobiles.

So I urge you to take a Floating Power Ride during Floating Power Demonstration Week in Canada. Take the wheel of any Floating Power car as my guest. Ride for fifteen minutes and you'll want to ride for an hour. For a day. That's how Floating Power gets you. Just take a Floating Power Ride. You'll see.

• • • • •

"I agree with Mr. Chrysler 100 per cent. And every Plymouth, DeSoto, Dodge and Chrysler dealer in Canada is ready to prove the truth of his statements. Take a Floating Power Ride—and discover things!"

UNITED CHURCH CONGREGATIONS AT LAKEFIELD TO AMALGAMATE

Regent Street and Knox Churches to Form Union on June 26th, 1932.

Sixteen Recommendations.

LAKEFIELD, May 6. (Examiner Correspondence). — The basis of Church Union was adopted at congregational meetings held on a recent evening at 7.30 in Regent St. Church and Knox United Church, Lakefield by unanimous vote. This meeting ratified the work of the joint committee which has been working on the matter for several weeks and which has given much time and earnest thought to the matter.

This union will be consummated on June 26th of this year and will provide an interesting chapter of church history in Lakefield. The Regent Street church (formerly Methodist) congregation built their first church about 1862; this church was a frame building on the site of the present church and was added to at the time of the union, with the Bible Christian church in 1884 to accommodate the two congregations. The present handsome cement block church was built in 1908 during the time of the late Rev. John Bedford's pastorate.

Knox United Church (former Presbyterian church) was built on the corner of Caroline and Katherine streets about 1863, replacing a small frame Presbyterian church on the 9th concession of Smith. At the time of the consummation of church union the majority of the congregation voted for Union but retained the separate identity and kept the church, but it has been felt that two United Churches in the community were superfluous, and at a meeting of Knox congregation held recently a resolution presented by the board of managers strongly recommending the amalgamation of the two congregations was unanimously adopted. The reply from the Board of Regent Street was received warmly and received a hearty welcome and the unanimous support of that congregation accorded the sister body. A joint committee was formed which drafted the sixteen points on which the Union is based and which has been adopted unanimously by both congregations. The committee was as follows: Regent Street United Church—Rev. W. R. Archer, B.A., A. B. Burrows, John W. Botterill, T. Crawford, A. Darling, W. Garbutt, A. E. Higgins, George Harrison, E J. Millage, W. Madill, T. T. Milburn, W. J. Northey, J Reid, J. H. Sherin, G. H. Spence. Knox United Church—Rev. T. M. Wesley, F. J. Burgess, T. Braden, J. Blakely, W J. Charlton, C H Hunter, H. Kidd, G. E. Mullen, J. A. Porter, Dr. Renwick, C. S. Tanner E. A. Tanner, W. W. Yates, A. J. Young. Rev. T. M. Wesley was elected chairman and Rev. W. R. Archer secretary.

The following are the sixteen points which are the basis of this Church Union which affects the two largest congregations in the village and the surrounding district:

It was therefore moved by J. H. Sherin and seconded by W. Madill that Union be affected as stated above only if at meetings of the said congregations regularly called and both held at the hour of 7.30 p.m. on Monday, May 2nd, 1932, a majority of those present being members or paid adherents in each congregation vote in favor of the agreement and the terms of the Union. Recommendation No. 12 — Re seats. Moved by A. B. Burrows, seconded by J. H. Sherin, that all seats be declared free and open til the annual congregational meeting when the question of seat allocation shall be discussed. (Carried).

Recommendation No. 13 — Re ushers. Moved by T. Crawford, seconded by A. B. Burrows, that the ushers of the two churches be amalgamated.

Recommendation No. 14 — Re minister. In the first meeting of the committee Rev. T. M. Wesley vacated the chair and asked J. A. Porter to preside. It was then moved by Rev. Wesley and seconded by F. J. Burgess that the minister of the new congregation be Rev. W. R. Archer, B.A. (Carried). This motion was confirmed by the second meeting of the committee.

ACIDS IN STOMACH CAUSE INDIGESTION

Create Sourness, Gas and Pain. How To Treat.

Medical authorities state that nearly nine-tenths of the cases of stomach trouble, indigestion, sourness burning, gas, bloating, nausea, etc. are due to an excess of hydrochloric acid in the stomach. The delicate stomach lining is irritated, digestion is delayed and food sours causing the disagreeable symptoms which every stomach sufferer knows so well.

Artificial digestants are not needed in such cases and may do real harm. Try laying aside all digestive aids and instead get from any druggist some Bisurated Magnesia and take a teaspoonful in water right after eating. This sweetens the stomach, prevents the formation of excess acid and there is no sourness, gas or pain. Bisurated Magnesia (in powder form — never liquid or milk) is harmless to the stomach, inexpensive to take, and is the most efficient form of magnesia for stomach purposes. It is used by thousands of people who enjoy their meals with no more fear of indigestion.

WAIVER IS SOUGHT FOR TRENT POWER

Bondholders to Pass on Interest and Sinking Fund.

MONTREAL, May 6.—Bondholders of Quinte and Trent Valley Power Co. will meet on May 28 next to approve various by-laws relieving the company of obligations under the trust deed.

It is proposed to waive interest payments from July 1, 1932, to July 1, 1934. This is in addition to the past 18 months, during which time no interest was paid.

The bondholders will also be asked to approve of a by-law passing the sinking fund payment for 1932 and 1933.

Power Sales Reduced

Quinte and Trent Valley Power is controlled by Canadian Paperboard Co. and its troubles are a reflection of those of the parent company which went into receivership in the early part of 1930. It supplied power and steam to the plants of the Canadian Paperboard and at Frankford, Campbellford and Toronto.

With the lessening of demand for these items, earnings of the company fell off and on July 1, 1930, Quinte and Trent Valley passed its preferred stock dividend. Toward the end of that year the bondholders met to protect their interests and on January 14, 1931, agreed to the passing of interest for a period of 18 months from Jan. 1, 1931, to July 1, 1932.

Efforts have been made by the management to dispose of the surplus power formerly supplied to the Frankford and Campbellford mills of the parent company but to date have met with little success.

the one that fired the fatal shot, was later convicted of manslaughter and was sentenced to five years in penitentiary. His appeal is now pending. A charge of murder against Adelard Dube is still to be tried.

St. Pierre appealed from the conviction. The Appeal Court found he had received a fair trial and sustained the verdict. In their judgment, the court drew particular attention to St. Pierre's expression of satisfaction when, in the light of an electric torch, he had kicked the dead body of Malloy and said: "Well, there you are. You are dead—I'm glad."

CITY COUNCIL PLANS TO MOVE

thing. All the teamsters who would have drawing from the Ashburnham pit will be out of a job because the stone will have to be trucked from Nassau. The fact remains you want the gravel pit out of East City, and that will mean a longer haul.

Ald. Cotton—If we hadn't the Ashurnham pit so handy we would have to face a longer haul anyway.

No Injunction Issued

City Engineer Parsons explained to the council that no application had been made for an injunction to prevent the digging of any pits in Ashburnham. City Solicitor Corkery had advised him to lay an information in police court against Mr. Frith if any action had to be taken, and he had followed that course.

A sign will be posted on the street right of way through the Dufferin street field forbidding any further attempt to dig a pit.

Thanks From the Council

Ald. Turner moved, seconded by Ald. Tuggey, a resolution accepting Mr. C. A. Salmonsen's offer to the city of the stone excavated from the C.G.E. tail race, together with a vote of thanks for this supply.

Keeping Paving Bricks

Ald. Turner started a brief discussion about the pile of paving bricks that had been taken up from the street railway last year. He asked whether the price of three cents each was too much.

Ald. Tuggey said he thought more could be sold at two cents. He estimated the quantity at around 100,000.

Mayor Denne expressed the opinion that the city might need them this summer when from all present signs some work would have to be undertaken.

Ald. McNabb recalled a suggestion that they might be used to pave Louis street, but some objection was raised to that project.

Mayor Denne—I have been all over the city, and we will soon have all our work completed. The job on Water street north will be finished in five or six weeks. I'd rather give work than charity, and we might need those bricks before we are through.

Ald. Fitzpatrick said the council did not know how soon some real need for the bricks might arise.

"It doesn't hurt to have them in stock," he added. "We might have some call for them in a few weeks."

Mayor Denne remarked that when new they were worth $60 a thousand, and he pointed out that they had supplied a need in laying the gutters on the east side of Hunter street extending toward the Lift Lock.

On Ald. Turner's suggestion the paving of the intersection of MacFarlane avenue and Armour road will be completed to prevent the present wear and tear on the road by cars continually stopping there.

perience in capitals of many countries said the present trend to higher tariff barriers was leading civilization to "a situation no lighter than the darkest that man has ever known in history." he described the whole vast trade of the world as "shrinking like a squeezed fruit." The world was denying the law of inter-dependence among nations and floating the banner of national self-sufficiency.

No one man could solve a world crisis, he said. He thought the world had too many experts and that it needed now a common, garden variety of good management which it was not getting. "The whole world needs some good all-round men. It needs some solid, dispassionate good management, and it cannot find it in the British commonwealth. I do not know where it can can find it."

Sir Willmott dealt enthusiastically with the prospects of success in the Ottawa Imperial Conference. "A great deal depends on the people of the British commonwealth, for without us the present sorry mess will be sorrier. Let us hope we will find some way to do something about it." He suggested conferees should approach the Ottawa meeting determined to find what their countries could buy from others in the commonwealth and not only with an idea of what they could sell.

Praises Movement.

The distinguished journalist praised a movement on foot in Canada to find what types of merchandise the country could buy advantageously from other members of the British Empire. It would be well, he declared, if other members of the commonwealth or "competent groups within their borders" should also engage in inquiries as to "what they could buy, primarily, rather than what they could sell."

He spoke of an "enlightened selfishness" which prompted a man to cast his bread upon the waters in the conviction it would return to him some day a hundredfold. His conduct differed from that of the philanthropist who merely cast his bread recklessly upon the waters. "But both, mark you," he said, "cast their bread upon the waters."

Appeal Necessary.

To the enlightened selfishness of the members of the British Commonwealth an appeal must presently be made. There is no need or requisition of generosity one to another when they are faced by a situation, the darkest ever known, and any selfishness will be excusable as long as it is enlightened."

Sir Wilmott was introduced to his audience by M. E. Nichols, president of the Canadian Press, who sketched briefly an outline of the distinguished guest's career as a war correspondent, leader writer, and interpreter of foreign news for the London Times.

B. C. Nicholas, editor of the Victoria Times, expressed the thanks of the meeting to Sir Wilmott, and continued to say that talked-of dissolution of the Canadian Press would prove a national disaster for Canada. Disappearance of the co-operative news gathering and distributing organization, he said, would threaten the unity of the Dominion. I can conceive of no greater disaster," he declared.

dynamite cap, together with five that had been discharged. Residents of Cordova had heard what they thought to be rifle shots on Tuesday night about ten o'clock, but apparently they were the caps. Mr. Fitzpatrick went to the school nearby and warned the teacher, Miss Giles, of the great danger of throwing them in the stove if she should chance to come across any, as he had.

The discovery was reported to Provincial Constable Percy Gray of Marmora, who investigated in the afternoon and on questioning some of the Cordova lads, found that a quantity of caps had been stolen from the mine property. Eight boys are held, ranging in age from 10 to 20 years.

The province of Saskatchewan, which prior to 1912 was free of rats is making a determined effort to stop the spread of these pests and in the 1930-31 survey period over four hundred thousand were destroyed.

BAY STATE HAS NUDIST COLONY

Group Practice Cult in Secluded Wooded Estate Near Hanover.

BOSTON, Mass., May 5. — Bostonians, who believed nudist devotees were obliged to journey to Klingbert, Germany, for their Nacktkultur, recently learned about a flourishing nudist colony in the vicinity of Hanover, Mass., where men and women live in the open, bathe, play volley ball, tennis, converse and rest in the sunlight without the impediments of clothing.

It has existed for a year, according to Frances and Mason Merrill, authorities on "Nudism," in a park known as "The Hill," which was formerly the country home of a wealthy portrait painter.

Last summer was the first formal season of the New England nudists and it was stated every Sunday would see thirty to forty men and women on the secluded hill, which is overtopped and overlooked by nothing in the vicinity.

There is no law against nudism in Massachusetts, providing that the exposure of a person does not take place in a public place. The Massachusetts nudist colony is said to be a restricted group, and the public is not admitted.

CAMPBELLFORD'S LOSS.

No finer tribute could be paid to any citizen than that voiced in regard to the late George A. Payne, police magistrate at Campbellford, in the words of a member of the town bar, "It impresses me that his life was so woven with the town that it was a part of it."

Of few people can anything so worth while be said, but Magistrate Payne had earned that encomium, not only because of his impartial and well-considered judgments in his capacity as magistrate, but because of the great interest he invariably displayed in movements that had as their origin the desire to help and upbuild Campbellford and in his concern for the welfare of its citizens.

For many years he had presided over proceedings in the Campbellford police court where his reputation as an administrator of even-handed justice was as fully recognized as were his qualities of citizenship acknowledged by the community in general.

Campbellford is the poorer by the passing of such a citizen whose loss leaves a gap in many circles that will be filled only with the greatest difficulty; the eulogies voiced by members of the bar the other day are echoed by all who had come into contact with and learned to like and admire the late magistrate.

WHAT ARE THE PLANS?

There is a great deal of uncertainty at the present time as to the measure of assistance municipalities are to expect in their efforts to take care of unemployment victims.

Apparently municipal councils must look to the Provincial Government for aid, and the Province in turn, if the burden becomes too heavy, will seek help from Ottawa.

That is a bald statement of the situation, but in the absence of any definite announcement from Queen's Park as to Ontario's plans for assisting in the care of the unemployed, the outlook is causing relief organizations and municipal governments a great deal of concern.

There is a great deal of unemployment, and the difficulty is aggravated by the fact that many families who could take care of themselves a year ago because they had a savings bank account to fall back upon have long since exhausted their reserve and must now seek relief.

It is obvious that many municipalities will not out of their own resources be able to take care of the situation, and Government assistance will have to be forthcoming.

A definite statement from Premier Henry as to what form that assistance will take would materially clear the air and relieve the minds of a great many people, who are at present very much worried over the lack of reliable information on a matter of great urgency.

A TONIC SPECIAL EDITION.

The 1932 industrial edition of that progressive newspaper, the Vancouver Sun, is a tonic in the spirit of optimism that permeates its every page.

You can search all through this comprehensive and informative survey of conditions on the Pacific Coast without finding a note of dejection or despair; as a matter of fact, the edition is exactly what it claims to be, "a message of hope and confidence" in the future of the Province of British Columbia and the city of Vancouver.

The city, we find, has weathered the storm of depression, and "has emerged with a record that is not bettered by any port in the universe."

In January and February, the Sun points out, the volume of foreign cargo loaded and discharged in British Columbia ports showed an increase of 33,-369 tons over the same period last year, surely, as the edition puts it, providing no grounds for pessimism in regard to the volume of traffic to and from British Columbia ports.

The mining industry, it is shown, has never been more active, the lumber industry is showing a marked recovery, and export trade in lumber is evidencing an upward trend.

British Columbia's share of the national wealth amounts to $2,644,000,000, being 8.56 per cent. of the total for Canada, but on a per capita basis British Columbia ranks the highest of all the Provinces, $4,474 for every man, woman and child in the Province.

The Sun is to be congratulated upon the cheeriness of its special edition; it makes good reading in these days when too many people can only see the clouds and not the silver lining.

SELENIUM IN CANADA.

Selenium is the latest addition to the numerous refined metal products now being produced in Canada. It is obtained as a by-product in copper refining and was produced for the first time in Canada early in 1931 at the plant of the Ontario Refining Company, Limited, Copper Cliff. When market conditions improve it will likely also be recovered at the new refinery of Canadian Copper Refiners, Limited, at Montreal East.

Canada is now in a position to produce selenium in large quantities, but the market for any output is at present restricted, according to Arthur Bulsson of the Dominion Department of Mines, Ottawa. Further researches to develop new uses will undoubtedly create a wider market for this relatively new commercial product.

Selenium is not very abundant in nature, although fairly widely distributed. It is found associated with sulphur compounds and often accompanies the sulphides of heavy metals in the form of selenides. In the electrolytic refining of copper it remains in the slime or residue from which it is afterwards extracted. In its metallic form it is characterized by a unique action toward light, which has made possible the development of the photo-electric cell or "electric eye."

Selenium finds its present chief market in the glass industry where it is used as a colorizer and for neutralizing other colors; it is also used in the pottery industry for the same purpose. In the manufacture of rubber products it serves as a vulcanizing and accelerating agent, and because of its reputed properties of increasing the resistance to abrasion of rubber up to as much as 80 per cent., it may have a large potential market in this industry. One of the most important potential uses is in the production of selenium cells for television transmission and reception. The normal price of selenium during 1931 was $1.80 to $2.00 a pound. It is generally sold either in the form of an amorphous powder or as small rods and buttons.

KEEPING THEIR HEADS.

The great masses of unemployed workers in Canada are to be complimented on the manner in which they have kept their heads during the long period of economic stress. In New Zealand, at Detroit and at St. John's, Newfoundland, in recent weeks, there have been serious riots and fighting, arising, either directly or indirectly, out of the plight of the unemployed men and women. So far, Canada has had no such incidents, although in many communities conditions are very serious.

A striking example of this is to be found at home here in Oshawa. Hundreds of men are feeling the pinch of want, and tramping the streets in a fruitless search for work. Conditions have been such as to try the patience and the will-power of even the strongest of men, yet there has been nothing even remotely resembling trouble from the unemployed. They have kept their heads, have borne their sufferings manfully, and have shown themselves worthy of the respect of the entire community.

This faculty of Canadians of keeping their heads is one of the saving factors of the situation in this country. Times are admittedly bad, but they will not always be so, and this country is in a splendid position to rebound back to prosperity as soon as the corner is turned. By keeping level heads, the workers are preserving the fundamental things in the national life of the country, so that there will be no impediment in the way of the recovery that is bound to come.

Canada is to be congratulated on having such citizens. They may be nearly down and out so far as financial resources are concerned, but they are showing that they belong to the true British breed which faces difficulties manfully and fights hardest when its back is to the wall.—Oshawa Times.

WEBB ON THE WAR PATH AGAIN.

Mayor Webb of Winnipeg has a new "five-year" plan guaranteed to do something or other not specified—presumably bring back prosperity or keep him in his office in perpetuity. Briefly, this is his scheme:

Put all newspapers out of operation for five years;

Put a tax of five cents on every newspaper issued, whether as an alternative proposition or when they resume publication five years hence he does not state;

Starve (1) proprietors of newspapers, (2) "some" editorial writers, (3) "some" reporters.

"I wish," he said the other day, "the proprietors of newspapers had to go hungry. I wish some editorial writers had to go hungry. I would like to see some reporters hungry, starving, not knowing where their next meal is coming from. Then they would probably report the news correctly."

One is bound to infer that his amiably worship is annoyed with the newspapers. As a matter of fact he is usually in a state of extreme annoyance with somebody, or extreme concern over something. If he isn't making a raging Red out of every peaceful Pole in Winnipeg's North End, he is propounding a new panacea for the ills of the world or telling governments just what they should do to save the people from what ails them.

So we shall not take too seriously Col. Webb's outburst against mild and inoffensive reporters, editorial writers, publishers. A gallant soldier and a big-hearted Canadian, Col. Webb, if he met a hungry reporter, would be the first to buy him a meal—although he would follow that hospitality by permitting himself to be interviewed at length on his current thoughts and theories.

Probably his hostility is based on nothing more serious than a two-inch report of a speech which Mayor Webb thought should rate two columns, or the human liability to err may have misplaced his initials. We imagine also that on second thought his worship would not insist upon the abolition of newspapers. He might accept the starvation of owners and writers as sufficient punishment, because if there were no newspapers there would be no Ralph H. Webbs rising in their greatness to push over the ladder of publicity up which they climbed to such fame as they know.—Ottawa Journal.

EDITORIAL NOTES AND COMMENT.

The gasoline price inquiry conducted by a parliamentary committee indicates that one big company makes a profit of only 1.01 cents per gallon. It's the turnover evidently that counts.

A THOUGHT.

SERVICE

Not gain, but service, is the true object in life. If gain is made the object in one's life, one must inevitably fail, for the simple reason that the best things of life are not to be gained by striving for them; they are of a texture that cannot be grasped. One may strive for bread and win it, but one may strain every nerve to breaking in the pursuit of happiness, and he will never overtake it. On the other hand, if service is made the object in one's life, that life cannot be a failure, for the reason that one has chosen the only path above which the windows of heaven are always open. The happiness that eludes the grasp of every man who strives for its descends, like the gentle dew of heaven, upon him who is striving in service. He also gains what he strives for, and more.

General prices on this market were 17½c for No. 1, and 16½c for No. 2.

Brokers quoted graded eggs in used cases at 16c for extras, 14c for firsts and 12c for seconds, with storage packed 1c higher at 17c for extras and 15c for firsts.

MONTREAL PRODUCE

MONTREAL May 6.—There was a semi-holiday tone on the Montreal dairy and produce markets yesterday, French houses being closed for Ascension Day. Prices ruled nominally unchanged, with trading on the quiet side.

Receipts of eggs were lighter—1,976 cases, against 2,530 on the same day of last week. Graded Ontarios and Prairie on spot in car-lots or less were unchanged at 16c for extras, 15½c for firsts and 13½c for seconds. Some sales for shipment were made ½c under these figures.

The cheese market was steady at 9½c to 9¾c per pound for current receipts and 12c to 12½c for summers. Receipts were 1,067 boxes.

The potato market was dull and steady.

CHICAGO GRAIN.

CHICAGO, May 6.— Corn came suddenly to the front yesterday as grain trade leader and finished at an advance in price, whereas wheat and other cereals were laggard.

Rebounding after a fall to the lowest quotations since 1897, corn attracted unusual speculative attention owing to curtailment of receipts and improvement of cash demand. Some pit authorities said that, although stocks, wheat and "what have you?" had been persistently sold against corn, the market for corn was now showing a better foundation than had been seen for months.

Corn closed firm, ¼c to ⅝c above Wednesday's finish; wheat unchanged to ¼c lower; oats unchanged to ¼c higher, and provisions 2c to 5c down.

WINNIPEG GRAIN.

WINNIPEG, May 6. — A slump in the movement of grain for export and lack of encouragement in Liverpool cables turned wheat prices downward in the grain pit yesterday. After displaying a weak tone at the opening, prices see-sawed through a dull session to close unchanged to ⅜c lower for the day.

May remained unchanged at 60¾c, July dropped ¼c to 63⅝c, and October ⅜c to ½c to 64½c to 64¾c.

The principal Continental markets remained closed yesterday in observance of Ascension Day, and this undoubtedly was the main factor behind lower price levels here and at Liverpool. At the low points the market was down 1½c to 1¾c. The pause in export trade robbed the market of much support, and buyers of Wednesday were inclined to relinquish their holdings yesterday.

Cash wheat idled through a dull session at spreads generally unchanged. Future prices in coarse grains dipped ½c to 1c in indifferent trade.

SON OF THE GODS

By REX BEACH

INSTALMENT 11.

A lady was calling upon Mr. Lee, so Moy announced.

No women either visited Sam's apartment or telephoned him nowadays so he rose, went into the hall and took the instrument. An immature, uncultivated voice answered him, it stammered a breathless explanation of her insistence. She was a friend of Alice Hart's, she was downstairs and wished to see Sam on a matter of importance. Would he speak to her if she came up?

"Why, of course," Sam told her.

A young girl, a very pretty young girl, stood upon the threshold. She smiled at Sam, edged her way inside and set down a suitcase.

Sam bowed politely, he led the way to the living-room and stood aside inviting his visitor to enter and be seated.

"Did you say you are a friend of Miss Hart's?"

The stranger nodded, then shook her head. "Well, not a friend exactly. But she gave me your name—I got it from her. I used to know her. She was awful nice to me. She's an awful nice young lady."

"Charming."

"Well, I'll tell you how it is," the visitor explained. "There's just mother and I and she's kind of an invalid so I have to work. I'm selling lace things. They give 'em to me to sell, you know, and I get folks to buy them."

"But, Miss ——"

"Stevens. Mona Stevens."

"I have no use for lace things."

"You just wait and see. You don't have to buy anything but please don't turn me down till you look. They're such nice things it's fun to show them, honest. I sold some to Miss Hart but — you have to tell fibs and everything to see people. I guess you'd fib if you had a sick mother."

One thing sure, his visitor certainly did know Alice Hart for she spoke of her again, she referred to Sam's car and to the fact that Alice was in Paris by reason of his assistance. Sam selected the two finest breakfast sets the girl had and offered to write a cheque for them.

But she refused to take payment at the moment. She did not have the complete sets with her and how did he know that she wouldn't disappear with the money? She made it a practise, so she declared, to accept settlement only upon delivery of the entire orders.

Miss Stevens appeared willing to talk all the morning and Sam had a time getting rid of her.

On the second evening thereafter his doorbell rang and to his annoyance he found that the forward little person was back again with his two breakfast sets.

Presuming upon their acquaintance she had brought with her a costly evening wrap which she insisted upon showing. He didn't have to buy it, of course, but she proposed to leave it with him overnight.

When at last she had gone Sam directed Moy to replace the wrap in its box and to hand it back to the girl when she returned for it.

But the package remained in his possession for several days. Then late one rainy afternoon Mona rang up. She explained that she had been ill and expressed the hope that Sam liked the lace evening wrap because already she had kept it longer than she had promised to keep it; she was allowed to retain articles of real value only for a limited time. Sam told her that he could not buy the garment.

There was a pause, then the girl asked him, feebly, to return it. She was too ill to venture out in such weather or to argue the matter; she and her mother lived near by, it would be a great accommodation ——

He promised to bring it within the hour.

He had no difficulty in finding the address, the Stevens women were living in a somewhat better house than he had expected and when he rang their apartment bell Mona herself opened the door for him.

She was in a pretty disorder but appeared unconscious of it, she welcomed him gratefully and insisted that he remove his overcoat and sit down near the gas grate. She sat down beside him on the couch and immediately plunged into an explanation of her difficulty.

She began by admitting that she had deceived him and her mother, too, about that wrap. She had not taken it on commission but she had bought it. She would have no difficulty in selling it, as soon as she could get out and around, but to-morrow the rent on the apartment was due and there was no money in the house. If Sam would consent to hold the wrap as security and advance the amount of the rent—just for a few days —— she'd be able to dispose of the wrap in no time. Well, the rent was eighty dollars.

Inwardly Sam smiled. He took eight ten-dollar bills from his wallet, folded them and laid them on a sewing basket at his elbow, then moved to go. To his surprise, Mona bowed her face in her hands and began to sob convulsively. He tried to quiet her.

"Mona!" came a stern and disapproving exclamation. Sam had not heard the door open but open it had and in it stood a woman. She looked to be anything except an invalid. "What are you crying about? And who is this—young man?" the mother demanded.

Sam rose, he felt his cheeks tingle; he stood silently while Mona tried to make him known.

"Oh, that's who you are!" Mrs. Stevens cried. "What are you doing here? Why did you sneak in while I was away? Mona told me ——" The speaker's eyes fell upon the banknotes and they dilated, she started, flung out an accusing hand. With a histrionic change of tone she cried hoarsely: "My God! What's the meaning of this?"

"Your daughter will explain," Sam told her stiffly. He took his coat and hat, but the mother planted herself before him crying:

"Just a minute! I understand now why she's been acting so queer. She's been like this ever since you had her up in your apartment. She told me about meeting you, being in your place and —I suspected something. Now, the minute my back is turned you slip in here and—and give her money!" Mrs. Stevens seized the handful of bills and brandished them: a look of loathing and of scorn distorted her features. "If you think money can square ——"

"Madame!" Sam interrupted, his face slowly whitening with anger. "You're insulting."

Is that so? Well, I propose to have the truth before you get out of here. Mona's a good girl—or she was until you met her."

"Oh, mother!" The words came from Mona in a quavering cry eloquent with meaning: they were a confession and a plea that would have moved the hardest heart. "I didn't know! I—he—he was so good and so kind to me. And he promised ——" A convulsive sob racked the speaker and interrupted the penitent recital of Sam's dastardly promises.

Her horrified parent smothered a scream, her eyes rolled, she tottered, she clutched her throat, her ample bosom heaved.

Sam slipped an arm into the sleeve of his overcoat, whereupon the mother faced him theatrically:

"Oh, you wicked, wicked man! She's only an innocent child and she's all I've got. What are you going to do about it?"

"I'm going to leave you to your deep breathing," Sam told her. "But first I'm going to relieve you of my eighty dollars." With a swift movement he seized the mother's wrist.

Mrs. Stevens resisted, she struck at him but he tore the money out of her fingers. She raised her voice in a storm of abuse but he cautioned her:

"If you make a disturbance, I'll call the police."

"You rat!"

Sam dropped the crumpled bills into the blue flames of the gas grate and they promptly ignited, then he wiped his fingers as if they had been soiled.

She was still reviling him, still breathing vengeance, her injured daughter was still weeping torrents of tears when Sam passed out of the door and closed it behind him.

INSTALMENT 12.

It was not easy for a stranger to gain access to Lee Ying without first making known the nature of his business, but Everett Himes managed it. Having succeeded, he took up in roundabout fashion a matter which caused the old importer to listen attentively. For a while the latter made no comment but finally he inquired:

"In what way does this concern you, Mr. Himes? I don't understand why I hear of this misfortune through your lips instead of through the mother's."

"I'm just an old friend of the family and she confided in me—came to me for advice. I'm an ordinary, common-sense business man and I said to her, 'Mr. Lee is a business man and a fine citizen. What's the sense of raving over something that can't be helped and talking about lawyers until ——'"

"Is it proposed to place this in the hands of an attorney?"

Mr. Himes gestured apologetically. "The poor woman doesn't know what to do. She's not responsible for what she does or says. And can you blame her? You know, a woman always yells for a lawyer. But I hate them, Mr. Lee. I don't trust them, either; all they do is tangle things up and tell you this can't be done or that can't be done. When I have a business matter to iron out I always go right to the other fellow, get it straight and then call in a lawyer to put his OK on it."

"This is hardly a 'business matter' and I'm afraid I cannot fully credit your story for my son has told me nothing ——"

"Naturally. I'm the only outsider that knows a thing about it. And it's nothing to broadcast. Why, I've known Mona since she was a child; she's almost like my own kid. Believe me, it came as a shock. I said ——"

"Pardon! How did this happen?"

"Just like I told you: she's an ambitious youngster, always trying to get ahead. She was picking up a few pennies by selling lace things and—she's only a child, Mr. Lee. That's what makes it so rotten, see? A minor! If she was of legal age ——"

"Selling lace, you say?"

"He got her up to his apartment and ——" Mr. Himes shrugged, turned up his palms. "That's the worst of a young fellow having his own apartment. I talked to the elevator man and he verified what she said. She wasn't the first girl, either, but that's the boy's affair. I suppose he and Mona had a drink or two. It's pretty fierce around the colleges —— Anyhow she broke down and told her mother the whole story: said she didn't know right from wrong."

Thus far Lee Ying had sat as motionless as an idol, his face had been expressionless, his hands had rested in his lap. Now he stirred.

"You are a stranger to me," he announced. "This charge is easy to bring and as hard to prove as to disprove."

"No trouble about that," Himes declared. "It will prove itself in time. That's the unfortunate part."

"Before speaking with my son I would like to talk with the girl and her mother."

"I assumed you would. I think you should do so, right away."

"If he is guilty of indiscretion I shall make suitable and satisfactory arrangements to ——"

Mr. Himes furrowed his brow, he hesitated. "Frankly, sir, I'm afraid it involves something more than what your suggest."

"Indeed?"

"You see when a kid like Mona falls for a guy, she falls, head over heels. Money doesn't mean a thing to her. She's crazy about him. There's something mighty sacred about an innocent girl's love and trust: it gets you, and I don't mean maybe. Of course all her mother cares about is her daughter's happiness. She's broad-minded that way, and ——"

"So? It is, then, a question of marriage?" Through the narrow apertures between their lids Lee Ying's watchful eyes blazed.

"Good Lord, what else? I hope you don't think I came here to —— Why, Mr. Lee! This isn't anything that money can square!"

"Bring them here at once," Lee Ying ordered.

He was still seated in his big carved chair when, an hour later, Himes returned with Mrs. Stevens and Mona. Then he rose and bowed gravely to them. When he saw the girl his heart sank.

Followed a trying half hour for the father. When it was over and he was again alone he felt old and feeble and exhausted, for his world had crashed. His son, the Favorite of Heaven, a common man, a deity with feet of clay!

TWO LUMBER OFFICIALS HELD ON FRAUD COUNTS

PINE BLUFF, Ark., May 6.—Ray McIntyre, lumber operator, and his bookkeeper, Elbert English, have been indicted on charges of using the mails to defraud through misrepresentation of grade lumber shipments to London, England.

The two have been placed under $5,000 bond. Federal officers charged McIntyre and his business associates obtained about $100,000 through allegedly fraudulent bills of lading and invoices from London (Eng.) buyers.

Both lumbermen made bond promptly after warrants were served on them yesterday. They were indicted in Mobile on a bank's declaration there it had on its hands about $50,000 of McIntyre's drafts which were turned down in England.

Market Closing On All Exchanges

WALL STREET.

NEW YORK, May 6 (C.P.).—The Stock Market surged upward in its best rally in three weeks to-day, reflecting progress toward fresh economies in government and industry. U.S. Steel Preferred rose more than 9 points, and the Common more than 3, on the 15 per cent. wage reduction, and net gains of 2 to 5 points were sprinkled throughout the list. American Can and Allied Chemical rose 5 points, and issues up 2 to 4 included Standard of N.J., Consolidated Gas, American Tobacco "B," Union Pacific, Santa Fe, Dupont, Drug and others. The closing tone was strong. Transfers approximated 1,500,000 shares.

STANDARD EXCHANGE

TORONTO, May 6 (C.P.)—Standard Stock and Mining Exchange listings to-day enjoyed the most pronounced rally of the week, interlisted stocks providing leadership for a stronger movement in practically all groups. Volume showed some improvement, but failed to assume important proportions.

Noranda established the trend from the opening, with price up 65 cents on end. International Nickel moved above 26 for a 40-cent gain. Eldorado advanced 6.

The gold section received some favorable attention. Dome and McIntyre finished up 35 apiece. Hollinger regained another 10 and Teck Hughes and Wright Hargreaves a few cents. Among cheaper golds, gains of a cent or two appeared in Macassa, Moss, Sylvanite and Brett.

Peninsular Pete and Acme Gas both firmed fractions in the lower-priced oil group.

TORONTO EXCHANGE

TORONTO, May 6. (CP)—Toronto stock exchange market did better in afternoon trading today. Morning trading was characterized by small volume and narrow price range, but towards the close trading was more active, price movements broadened.

Bell Telephone and Consumers' Gas scored gains of about two points each, but these were not fully held. Montreal Power and C.P.R. had small advances.

Page Hersey featured the industrials adding two points. Ford was firmer, but others in the group were fractionally unchanged.

Liquor stocks changed little. In the foods, Dominion Stores added about half a point.

International Pete lead a uniformly higher oil group, more than a point up.

PAGE-HERSEY DROPS 2 POINTS AT MID-DAY ON TORONTO MART

OILS HOLD FIRM.

TORONTO, May 6 (CP).—Toronto stock exchange market was absolutely lifeless this morning. Stocks were lightly and spasmodically traded, price of individual stocks fluctuating scarcely at all during the morning. Variations of an eight and quarter of a point marked the limit of the range for most of the leaders.

Page-Hersey Tubes was an exception, coming out two points higher at 45. On the next sale the stock dropped back to its former close of 43, however.

Oils were still well supported, with Imperial at 8¾ about the best trader in the group. Ford of Canada, C. P. R., Bell Telephone, Brazilian, Photo-engravers, Cockshutt Plow, Massey-Harris were all unchanged. Nickel eased slightly. Walkers preferred was unchanged, the common firm at 3.

NORANDA GAINS THIS MORNING

Dome, McIntyre and Hollinger Also Among Issues to Advance.

ELDORADO REGAINS 4.

TORONTO, May 6 (CP).—Higher-priced stocks showed a stronger tendency and balance of the list was steady on the Standard stock and mining exchange market in the forenoon to-day.

Noranda accounted for a good part of the turnover, price moving up another 25 to $14. Dome made a similar advance to $10.50. McIntyre was 40 at $15.40 and Hollinger gained 10 to $4.50. Teck-Hughes and Wright-Hargreaves were steady.

Among the cheaper issues, Eldorado regained 4 to $1.09, Macassa was up a couple at 30, but Buffalo-Canadian declined another cent to 20. Peninsular Pete, fractionally higher at 3, showed the only change in a dull oil section.

Dominion Bridge Breaks To New Low

MONTREAL, May 6 (CP).—With Dominion Bridge breaking to a new all-time low, prices on the Montreal stock exchange were easier during this morning's session. Quiet trading prevailed.

Dominion Bridge, which was recently released from its minimium price level, opened at 10⅞ and then broke to 10½ where it was ⅜ below yesterday's closing quotation. Brazilian Traction eased ⅛ at 9⅝, while Canadian Pacific held unchanged at 12¼. International Nickel came out in broken lots only at 57⅛. Montreal Power advanced ¼ at 27½.

20 RICK FIRES LIGHT KENT-SURREY BORDERS

Police and Firemen Feel Sure They Are the Work of Incendiaries

London.—One night recently 20 haystack fires blazed at the same time along the borders of Kent and Surrey and were fought by 12 fire brigades.

Thousands of people were attracted by the fires, which lit up the countryside. Nobody was injured.

Fire brigade chiefs say there is no doubt the fires, which included five at Broom Lodge farm, Chelsham, East Surrey, and others at Betsom's farm, on the main Bromley-Westerham road, were the work of incendiaries.

Among the brigades called out during Saturday night were those of Caterham, Warlingham, Bromley Rural, Biggin Hill and Westerham.

Fires were reported in the Keston and West Wickham districts, and the firemen were working all the following day to protect buildings.

The fires at Betsom's farm, a famous landmark, were discovered early in the morning, and all day long the Westerham fire brigade was busy on the ricks and managed to save farm buildings.

"It is impossible," said one of the fire chiefs, who had been out with the brigades, "for five fires to be alight at the same time and place, evidently started at once, without coming to the conclusion that they were deliberately lighted."

This is the third occasion on which numerous fires of ricks have been started in this district on the same night.

MASTER DIES WHILE TEACHING A CLASS

James Foote Drinks Acid in Mistake for Water

Liverpool, England.—A schoolmaster's tragic mistake cost him his life at the Walton junior technical school here.

He drank what he thought was water from a beaker, but it was hydrochloric acid, and he died in terrible agony before his class of boys, many of whom were under the age of twelve.

The dead man is James Foote, D.Sc., aged forty-eight. The boys in his science class saw him pick up the beaker and take a long draught. He turned to the blackboard and was describing a diagram when he threw up his arms and fell to the floor.

5 Dollar Pound Rumor is Denied

OTTAWA, May 6 (C.P.). — Official denial was made to-day of a report published in Toronto this morning that Premier R. B. Bennett was considering a proposal for the pound sterling to contain five dollars worth of gold as an Empire Conference move for stabilized currency. No such proposal is under consideration in connection with the question of stabilization of currency, it was stated definitely.

ADMIRAL BYRD PURCHASES SHIP

Gets Cutter Used in Arctic Trips, After Mix-up an Auction Sale.

PLANS NEW ADVENTURE.

OAKLAND, Cal., May 6.—Outbid in a public auction, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd to-day owned the former coast guard cutter, Bear, noted for many Arctic adventures. The explorer plans to sail in it next autumn for the Antarctic.

The city had been preserving the craft for a marine museum but decided to give it to Admiral Byrd. The law prevented the gift. So officials determined on an auction yesterday, expecting no other bids than Byrd's $1,000, made through Arthur Raymond, his representative.

"I bid $1,050," said William Rosenthal, member of a shipwrecking firm.

With that the bidding ended. The city officials were upset. City Manager Carr declared "No shipwrecker will get the 'Bear'." He contended the city reserved the right to reject any and all bids.

The dispute was finally settled when the shipwrecker withdrew his bid in favor of Admiral Byrd. Immediately the city council declared the cutter sold.

CANADA MUST HAVE OUTLOOK

unable to realize the necessity of changing their methods of business. He instanced rubber and attempts to establish trade with the Malay States. Canada bought all her rubber in the United States, a country which did not produce it. When people of the Malay States were asked, why should we? the United States is our big customer."

Yet, the Minister said, "we buy from them some fifteen to twenty million dollars worth of rubber annually," but through the United States.

When the business man was approached about the situation and asked to buy his rubber direct, he would reply, "We have bought in New York for the last 10 or 20 years. We don't want to change."

"If Canada is to get business, we have to get a new outlook," Mr. Stevens declared.

The speaker believed the world would come out of the depression after having learned a much-needed lesson. The present difficult times had revived only virtues which had seemed lost.

"Nothing contributed more," he said. "To destroy men's loyalty to the old virtues than the years of exaggerated prosperity." As an instance men were turning their eyes back to the farm, not only because they were forced to do so, but that they realized there was something more in life than easy money and bright lights . . . . . .

New Kinship Appearing

There was growing up a new kinship among men, and on this common ground they would study problems which were previously approached in a spirit of hostility.

In every system of society there were two conflicting principles: one, that "right lies in might"; the other ,that "ultimately right must prevail."

There were many to-day who adopted the theory that the only cure for social ills was in the first, a course which might be adopted either by an autocratic despot or a group acting under power of a so-called proletariat. This course was "brutal, destructive of personal liberty and inimical to the best social system." The general result invariably reacted most harshly on those for whom it was invoked.

The success of any social system, Mr. Stevens said, depended on the individuals of which it was composed.

CASE LASTS A MONTH

Edinburgh.—All records for a criminal case in Scotland were broken when the evidence was completed in the high court trial of the directors of Scottish Amalgamated Silks, Ltd., who are arraigned before three judges on charges of fraud and misappropriation.

It was the twenty-eighth day, and the case was expected to last at least another five days.

It is estimated to have cost more than £100,000. Nearly 2,500,000 words have been heard in the case.

RED CITIZENS ARE TORTURED

Soviet Consul Claims 'Whites' Act Planned to Strain Eastern Relations.

HELD AT HARBIN.

MOSCOW, May 6 (AP).—A tale of tortures inflicted on 100 Soviet citizens by Russian "whites" after their arrest by Japanese gendarmes at Harbin, Manchuria, was told to-day in a despatch from Khabarovsk, Siberia.

Among the prisoners, the dispatch said, was a Russian official of the Chinese eastern railway and his wife. The prisoners were kept in chains, it said, and tortured by pouring a tobacco solution into their noses.

Most of them were examined in the cellar of the Japanese consulate at Harbin after their arrest, the despatches said, and then turned over to Chinese police.

M. Slavutsky, Soviet consul at Harbin, protested the arrests and torture treatment as "unprecedented impudence" which, he said, apparently was intended to strain relations between Soviet Russia and Manchuria and menace peace in the far east.

Bobcaygeon Couple Arrested For Arson

LINDSAY, Ont., May 6.—(Special to Examiner.)— Residents of Bobcaygeon were given a real sensation on Thursday in the arrest by Provincial Constable Nelson of Frank Forest and his wife Dorothy on the charge of arson. The arrests followed an investigation conducted by F. Bass, of the Fire Underwriters' Investigation Dept., into the circumstances surrounding the cause of the fire in that village on the morning of April 27th which destroyed the Forest home, a frame house occupied by a man named Peters and the Presbyterian church sheds.

The accused were brought before Police Magistrate Jordan last night. Forest was remanded in custody for a week, while his wife was released on $10,000 bail. It is stated by the authorities that Mrs. Forest had the insurance policy on her person and that a portion of the household effects had been removed from the house prior to the fire.

Suspect Aviator Flew On Death Trip

BOSTON, May 6.—W. Hamilton Lillie, World War flyer and a salesman out of work was missing in his monoplane to-day many hours after he started on a "short flight" and a relative feared he had flown into the mists to a new kind of premeditated death.

Lillie, who lived in Newton, hired a monoplane yesterday morning and said he was going to take a half-hour flight over the city. He headed down the coast in his plane that carried little fuel.

Lillie's uncle, W. H. Reynolds, expressed the opinion that Lillie had flown his plane over the ocean until the fuel was exhausted, with suicidal intent.

Three National Guard planes were sent out to search for him early to-day.

Postal Department Always Gets Its Man

Mark up another triumph for the letter delivery service of the Canadian postal authorities. At least E. Bradbury, of 280 Park steet, considers now that the letter carriers always "get their man."

A letter was mailed to Mr. Bradbury in London, England, on April 16, 1932. While the letter carried his street address, and Ontario, Canada, it did not furnish the postal authorities with the fact that Mr. Bradbury lived in Peterborough.

Yet despite this major act of carelessness on the part of the sender, the letter was delivered to Mr. Bradbury last Wednesday morning. The letter had had several side trips before arriving at its proper destination, however, being in Toronto on April 30, and in Ottawa on May 3, as shown by the postmarks.

DOCTORS HOLD

In his pocket was another gun, fully loaded.

He was identified as Paul Gouguloff, a Russian and a doctor of medicine.

The President was carried immediately to Beaujon Hospital on the Rue du Faubourg, St. Honore.

An operation was performed immediately, but the doctors said the 74-year-old President was in extremely critical condition.

Premier Andre Tardieu was the first to call on him.

Meantime the police were having considerable difficulty in the exhibition hall to protect the assassin from an infuriated crowd.

Condition Fair

This evening the senior surgeons attending President Doumer left the hospital after pronouncing his condition "very satisfactory."

The President's nephew said the patient's chances now were largely a matter of his advanced age, since no vital spot had been struck. He said his uncle had shown some improvement in the past two hours.

The attack on President Paul Doumer to-day swept France with a thrill like a declaration of war. The shooting of the venerable President of the Republic by a so-called Russian "Fascist," which left the President in a critical condition, stilled all thoughts of politics, although the vital second ballot of the generals elections will be held Sunday.

Crowds, stunned and almost incredulous, were gathered in the streets this evening discussing the latest reports from the hospital where the President has already undergone a trephanning operation for his head wounds, and two blood transfusions. The newstands were besieged with demands for rapidly succeeding editions which never sufficed. Stores selling radio apparatus were jammed to the doors with people listening to the latest medical bulletins.

On the streets of Paris pictures of "Doumer, Paul," placing his vote in the ballot box in the first ballot last Sunday were still being sold.

Paul Gouguloff, who fired the shots, could only stammer a few phrases when taken before Commissioner Mangaud for preliminary hearing, after repeated questioning by police officers. He declared he had lived for four years in France and was a native of Braviscala.

"Where did you get the money with which you live in Paris?" demanded the Commissioner.

"I saved up something." Gouguloff replied. He declined to go any further beyond muttering "France helps Bolshevism." In earlier questioning police officers elicited the information Gouguloff's action resulted from his belief France helped the Bolshevists by withholding armed intervention after the revolution. Government officials intimated he was not entirely responsible for his actions.

Braviscala is in the Caucasus.

Doctors of Medicine

Gouguloff said he was a doctor of medicine, holding a diploma from Prague. "My wife is Swiss," he said slowly. "She lives in Monaco and knows nothing of this."

"But why did you shoot the President of the republic," Mangaud demanded.

He repeated the question again before he could get an answer.

Gouguloff seemed to be in a stupor and repeated in a dull fashion words he had apparently learned by heart:

"I am the President of the National Fascist Party of Russia" he said. "I founded this association in 1930. I have always been against Bolshevism."

"But why did you shoot at the President of the republic" Commissioner Mangaud pressed again. "Can't you explain?"

"France always helped Bolshevism; all Europe is against my mother country" was the only reply.

Thirteenth President.

M. Doumer at 74, became the thirteenth President of France. It was the second time he had been a candidate. In 1906 he ran against Armand Fallieres, President of the Senate, and lost.

He is a man of humble beginnings. His father was a section boss of a railroad. He died when the president was a boy and it was a struggle to attain an education, for he had to leave grammar school at 14 to help support his widowed mother.

He laid the foundations for his political career in newspaper work. When he became interested in politics he specialized in finance and became Minister of Finance in 1895.

Subsequently for seven strenuous years, he was Governor-General of Indo-China and on his return from that faraway post was re-elected to the Chamber of Deputies. Three years later he became President of the Lower House. He held that office when Fallieres, then President of the Senate, defeated him for the Presidency of the Republic.

Lost Four of Five Sons.

M. Doumer's heaviest sorrow came in the war. Three of his five sons were killed in battle and a fourth died of his wounds soon after the armistice.

During the war M. Doumer was a busy man in several minor government posts, although in 1927 he was minister without portfolio in the Painleve Cabinet, which was overthrown by Clemenceau.

In 1921 Aristide Briand, then Premier, made him Minister of Finance. Six years later he became President of the Senate.

GOOD MAN CAN BE SPEEDILY HAD BY CALLING EMPLOYMENT BUREAU

Clean-Up Campaign Has Been Producing Results in City.

MANY MEN GET JOBS.

That the "Clean-up, Paint-up, Give-a-Man-a-Job" Campaign really is producing results is obvious from the large number of homes and business premises all over the city which have this week received a visit from the painter and decorator, general handyman or gardener.

Hugh Robertson, superintendent of the Government Employment Bureau here, has placed an average of twelve men per day in temporary employment since the campaign opened on Saturday last, although he ruefully admits that applications for work have far exceeded the demand. Even so, he was not unmindful of the fact that the citizens generally have responded nobly to the appeal, and also that many men have been canvassing from house to house seeking their own work and in many cases finding it.

To the many people who have not yet quite made up their minds to go ahead with some little job that could perhaps wait awhile longer, it may be pointed out that a coat of paint to the outside of a house this spring may prove to be insurance against large repair bills later on.

It is realised by the committee that many householders and home-owners can not really afford to do much improving this season. Many are finding it difficult to pay their taxes, let alone painting floors and verandahs and papering rooms.

But then there are many more who can afford to have some work done now, but who have been afraid to spend money.

"More persons should realise that painting and renovating the home is the best assurance against deterioration and decreasing value," it was pointed out by a member of the committee. "For instance, if a verandah is left in a shabby condition where money is available to fix it up, a few years will mean a heavy repair bill. Whereas, if it were painted and repaired when it was needed, all that expense would be saved."

There are many unemployed men in this territory. Men of every trade, with years of experience in papering, plastering, general carpentry, decorating, landscape architecture, and sundry other work.

"I want some work done, but I don't know where to get a good man." That remark might often be heard. Well, a good man can be speedily obtained by just phoning the Employment Bureau of Canada under the supervision of Mr. Robertson, who has arranged with the "Clean-up" Committee to handle all calls for labor.

Six Teams Tied For First Place

TORONTO, May 6 (C.P.). — After some of the most sensational riding of the meet, six teams were tied for first place in actual mileage in the six-day bike race to-day. A mad series of jams, led by Torchy Peden and Reg. Fielding of Toronto, resulted in 36 laps being gained.

As things stand at present, Reg. McNamara and Al. Crossley, of the United States, are leading the field technically for they have scored a total of 567 points in the sprints.

W. W. STAPLES IS GUEST SPEAKER

Plea Made at Kiwanis Luncheon for Greater Thought of Little Things.

HELPFULNESS IS NEEDED.

A plea for greater thought and consideration of the little things in life was made to the Kiwanis Club at noon to-day by Wesley W. Staples, M.L.A., for Lindsay, in addressing the weekly club luncheon on the subject, "Rags, Bones and Bottles."

"The value of the seemingly valueless" stated the speaker could serve as another title for his address. He counted the seemingly valueless, but which are truly of inestimable worth, smiles, courtesy, cheerfulness, helpfulness and encouraging words.

Seemingly Valueless By-products

He showed that the seemingly valueless by-products of industry had been turned into commodities of worth, mentioning delicate perfumes as gained by a synthetic process from refuse. Recalling the Biblical story of the hungry throng and the loaves and fishes, he drew attention to Christ's injunction: "Gather up the fragments that remain that nothing may be lost."

"We are but small men and we can not accomplish the great works that we would like to" stated Mr. Staples, "but the sum total of our little deeds may aggregate more than the big accmplishment of some great man. To be true and to strive truly is to succeed."

The question, he emphasized, is "not hast thou won but only hast thou striven." A kindly smile, he listed, as a little thing but something above price. Also among the priceless little things he included cheerful greetings and encouraging words.

"If there is anytime when we should strive to be more cheerful, give words of encouragement and be less disposed to criticize it is to-day" he declared, in pointing out that helpfulness was needed in this time of depression. Courtesy and respect for the other fellow's opinion, were listed among the priceless little things. He also pleaded for greater consideration for youth.

Art Claxton, of Lindsay, Lieutenant governor of this district of Kiwanis, honored the club with a visit, urging that all Kiwanians retain an optimistic outlook on things and not allow themselves to become discouraged by the depression and current pessimism.

The attention of the club was drawn to the recent death in California of Lloyd Hamilton, a former staunch member of the Peterborough Kiwanis Club, by Rev. Douglas Paterson. The sympathy of the club was extended to Mrs. Lloyd Hamilton, who has been spending a few days in the city but who leaves for Montreal to-night.

J. J. Turner was booster of the day for John Stewart, manager of the Capitol Theatre, and the prize winners were, Rev. Douglas Paterson, J. B. Nelson and J. A. McKone.

WRECKERS BUSY AT WORK.

TORONTO.—William Wilson of Midland happened to drop into town. He walked past a vacant house he owned and saw a gang of wreckers at work. They had taken out the plumbing and were making good headway when police persuaded them to stop. Wilson is trying to find the man who gave the order to the wrecking company.

'CLEAN-UP' MAN NEARLY CAUGHT

Those columns of type, the paper's contribution to this campaign, are a measure of the present need to "Give a Man a Job." Try to keep that in mind when you are hesitating about turning loose a little cash to pay some man's wages for an odd job.

We could make this campaign a real success, just as New York did with its "man a block" idea, if we put our hearts into it. But there may be some persons who find irritation in the appeal, and in the painting of the sidewalks with the slogan, "Give a Man a Job." They would be of the same stripe and kidney as those "supertest" citizens who have complained to Chief Newhall about the persistence of the children who sell newspapers in the late afternoons and evenings. If that is the only aspect of reality of the present stringency that is brought home to them they can count themselves lucky.

If they were in the bread line, and the probability is that they are not, if they had empty purses and cupboards in addition to their empty, hard-shelled hearts, they might have some reason to seek out the police with a real grievance against conditions that force some children to annoy with their importunities whose response at such a time as this is to start the police after them.

Rain or shine Saturday winds up our wandering about the centre of the city. If it rains look for a man in a gabardine coat and brown hat; about five feet nine, and 146 pounds. And have the right procedure: "You are Mr. Clean-Up," then show a receipt for at least a dollar spent in any of the stores.

All Saints' Club Meeting To-Night

A meeting of the All Saints' Athletic Club will be held to-night in the Club Room to discuss important questions dealing with the entry of baseball teams. The number of players available for these teams will have a vital effect on the final decisions of the club. Last Fall, the club entered a team in the 10-mile relay race, but had to scratch their entry when one member withdrew. To-night, the advisability of fostering a relay team and also a few track and field events this summer will be discussed.

MEDICINE MEN RETAIN POWER

Mounted Police Note Their Influence Over the Aborigines.

WEIRD CEREMONIES.

OTTAWA, May 6.—(CP).—Natives still gather in age-old witchcraft ceremonies and witch-doctors and medicine men still hold sway among superstitious aborigines, the recently released annual report of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police reveals.

Among British Columbia Indians and Eskimos of the Arctic officers of the famous force have found evidence of the pernicious influence of the medicine men and of the extraordinary power he wields over his tribe. Instances have occurred, it is stated, "where a witch doctor has actually caused the death of a man by suggesting it to him." These instances, however, are rare and as a rule the witch doctor simply takes advantage of some natural death claiming to be responsible for it and thereby enhancing his position as a worker of miracles.

Young members of British Columbia Indian tribes resent the medicine man's power and R.C.M.P. officers on one occasion last year found three young men armed with rifles lying in wait for a witch-doctor who was on his way to perform a dance on the grave of his "victim."

Corporal M. T. Berger, of the Haselton detachment, reports a weird ceremony performed in a cabin near Moricetown in which the witch-doctor purported to take a bear out of a sick man's body and "blow it away," thereby curing him of an illness. Believed to be the first white men to see the ceremony, Berger and Constable A. T. Rivett watched it from a window. Tyee David, Moricetown chief, a neurasthenic, was chanting on his hands and knees in the middle of the cabin while members of the tribe were grouped around. Covered by a bear skin, the chief held in his hand a red stick with a small mirror sunk in the edge of the handle. As his chanting gained strength he would gradually raise himself with the stick, then collapse on the floor and the performance would be repeated. Tribal members joined in the chanting, the women uttering a peculiar wail.

This continued for 20 minutes until the chief appeared exhausted. Then Alex Tyee, the medicine man, bent over David's stomach and pretended to take something in his hands. Standing up, he raised his hands, still cupped, above his head and blew into them. This was the "blowing away" of the bear.

Tyee David, the chief, claimed the ceremony did his sickness much good, which would have been increased had not the police interrupted the ceremony. Alex Tyee and another medicine man were given suspended sentences of one year.

An odd incident illustrative of the clash between modern science and ancient beliefs in the north occurred at Coppermine. Dr. R. D. Martin complained to the police that Comiak, a native medicine man, was interfering with his patients, having induced one man to leave the hospital and submit to the ancient form of treatment. Death followed. Dr. Martin said the patient was beyond saving but he wished to protect his other patients and the native medicine man was warned not to interfere.

An outbreak of religious fanaticism of a different sort brought officers of the force to Leaf River in the southwestern corner of Ungava Bay. White inhabitants of the post became alarmed when a native named Miller, his mind affected by study of the testament, took it upon himself to play religious leader of the settlement. Making vestment for himself, Miller led the Eskimos on parade and was beginnig to be rude to the white people when the police arrived. The leader and his flock were lectured and the matter was closed, a report that the Eskimo leader had ordered two women to be stoned to death because of their barrenness being denied by all the natives.

University To Find Work For Graduates

MONTREAL, May 6.—(CP)—Perturbed by the difficulty that students and graduates are having in securing positions, McGill University officials will shortly undertake a survey in both Canada and the United States in regard to unemployment among University graduates. Employment of local graduates reached a low point during March, and April had not witnessed any improvement.

The engineering undergraduates are also having their difficulties due to the fact that before they can obtain degrees they must have some nine months' practical experience. Only two or three in the graduating class of this year experienced difficulty, but for students in other years the problem is so acute that different undergraduates have approached faculty officials to see if the requirement could not be allowed to lapse until conditions improve. The faculty has the matter under study.

One faculty only reports that it is unable to supply enough graduates to meet the demand and that is the faculty of dentistry. There are more requests for English-speaking dentists in the province than can be readily filled, the university authorities state.

"Tight buttoned"

Have You, The "Can't Afford It" Habit ?

THE use of that phrase does not suggest the inability to buy so much as the desire to practice rigid economy . . . to save . . . to deny yourself needed and necessary commodities.

But Man, oh Man, and you, too, Madam, how better and more effectively can you practice economy and thrift than to buy when prices are at their lowest ebb in years? How more certainly can you insure economy than to replace worn or out-of-date furniture than when new is selling for one-third of what it sold for 15 years ago? Or to stock up on food products when they are 40% less than at any time since the war? Or clothing when $53 to-day will buy you what you paid $100 for in 1912?

What you really cannot afford to do is not buy because you cannot afford to miss to-day's low levels . . . prices that are an actual boon to reduced incomes . . . to the practice of sensible, far-sighted economy.

"HELL DIVERS"

Screen lovers come and go. Handsome heroes have their day. And then—there is Wallace Beery—big, porcine, rough—stealing the picture, as he does with every picture in which he appears.

This is one of the talkies that sends the watchers away quietly. They don't comment much as they go out after watching "Hell Divers," any more than they did after the last fadeout of "Min and Bill," with the big old "sea cow," Marie Dressler, in one of her magic roles.

It is a thrilling epic of the air and the men who go aloft in the air in bird ships—and come down to crack up. It has Clarke Gable, who is just as good a he-man as he is with a lover's role, as Steve Nelson, and his shipmate, "Windy" Riker (Wallace Beery), fighting all the way to the last, when they come together in that queer way in which the two enemies foregathered in "What Price Glory?" "Windy" has the same habit as McLaglen in that immortal picture of the silent screen, when he expressed his feelings in ribald, silent words.

Then there is Conral Nagel, as the "skipper" of the last hard episodes, and the three women, who don't mean much in this talkie that has to do with men and their work and their ways.

Dorothy Jordan is the pretty Ann, heroine of the piece, and Marjorie Rabeau is Mamie Kelsey, "Windy's" sweetheart, and Marie Prevost is Lulu, the mischief maker. Cliff Edwards is "Baldy," buddy of "Windy."

The S.S. "Saratoga," Flight Squadron mother ship of the U.S. Navy, is the scene of many of the thrilling episodes that picture, among them, the return of the huge air birds to a precarious landing on the deck of the flight ship. Beery and Gable are Petty Officers aboard the ship, and struggle for place and supremacy through to the last heroic bit. Beery, in the fashion that has made him the idol of many a fan, does his stuff in the old way and gets into constant trouble. Gable is the "strong man" of the earlier episodes. Beery apologizes and then the two men wreck the bar in an attempt to be friendly. But even that has nothing on "Windy's" idea of a good anaesthetic and the way to put a man out of pain. It is a great talkie, and a long one.—Jeanette.

AT THE REGENT

"VIENNESE NIGHTS"

"Other times—other manners." The mellow romance of another day, the tunes of a more melodious age, the ways and customs of a period when women were without the vote, and acted to match—these are screened for the audience of "Viennese Nights," the musical romance which is having a three-day run at the Regent Theatre, with many appreciative eyes and ears for the lilyrics which run so sweetly through the thread of the narrative.

The Vienna of 1880 forms the setting for the opening, when Otto and Franz and Adolf form a quartette of friends. Franz is the Baron of the regiment, its commandant, and Otto is the drummer, with Adolf another member of the band. Otto and Franz both fall in love with the golden-haired Elsa Hoffner, daughter of a Viennese cobbler of some standing as cobbler to royalty.

Here are the beer gardens of the period, with their inevitable table cloths of checked gingham, their romantic music and their unromantic food; sausage and beer. Here are the lovely tunes which thread the scenes with golden melody. And here are the gowns of a gentler age, with gentle feminine manners to match.

A scheming papa sets love's bells jangling out of tune and Otto comes to America, where a musical comedy of 1890 has its sway on the stage, while he fiddles in the ranks of the seconds of the orchestra. Elsa is the great lady in the box. Delmonico's reveals itself for a glimpse here, and there are coachmen and high-stepping horses at the opera entrance.

The finale is like the unfolding of the tale—romantic, sweet, set to melodious music, with a beautiful symphony ringing out.

"Viennese Nights" is in technicolor throughout, the softly tinted scenes and costumes adding an attractive touch to the sweet music and romantic theme.—Jeanette.

HISTORIC DUEL IS RECALLED BY NAMES OF TWO VILLAGES

Canning and Castlereigh in Nova Scotia—British Statesmen.

TWO GREAT RIVALS.

(Special to The Examiner)

HALIFAX, May 6. — Men who strode the political stage in England during the seventeenth and eighteenth centuries left their names attached to Nova Scotia soil.

Tracing back the name of any one of the hundreds of villages and towns in the province, the Nova Scotia department of education has unearthed dozens of interesting facts, many of which connect life in Nova Scotia in a past century with that great world of politics and international affairs now largely forgotten but, nevertheless, the cradle out of which present politics and international situation have come.

A number of place names were noted in a recent issue of the Journal of Education:

"Let us look at some of them. Two great rivals, Canning and Castlereagh, of the period when England was fighting against Napoleon and re-establishing herself after the Napoleonic wars, have given their names to Canning, Kings Co., and Castlereagh, Colchester Co.

"George Canning was minister of foreign affairs and Robert Stewart, Viscount Castlereagh, was minister of war in 1809. They quarrelled over Castlereagh's diversion of troops from the Peninsula, where Wellington was facing Napoleon's marshals, to the ill-fated Walcheron campaign. A duel followed and both resigned from the government.

Monroe Doctrine

"Canning was a fervent believer in Catholic emancipation and was also responsible for the Monroe doctrine, insofar as he suggested it to the president of the United States. He was prime minister at the time of his death in 1827. In 1830 a group of citizens of Habitant Corner, formerly Apple-Tree Landing, held a public meeting and decided that henceforth their village should bear the name of Canning.

Castlereagh returned to the cabinet in 1812 and held various cabinet posts until his death in 1822. He helped to negotiate the Treaty of Vienna at the close of the Napoleonic war and arranged treaties with Spain and Belgium for the suppression of the slave trade. He became very unpopular, particularly in Ireland, where he helped to put down the rising in 1798, and was instrumental in bringing about the union in 1800, his mind failed and he died by his own hand. He was, however, one of the greatest foreign ministers in British history, and it is natural that his name should be chosen by settlers of Colchester country who, like Castlereagh came from the north of Ireland, as the name for one of their villages.

Other Place Names

The village of Bedford, Halifax Co., was named either directly or indirectly after John Russell, fourth Duke of Bedford. This nobleman was, from 1748 to 1751, a secretary of state in the ministry headed by Pelham. The governor of Nova Scotia, Lord Cornwallis, during the winter of 1749-50, was sent supplies in a ship called the Duke of Bedford, and this ship lay, during the winter, in what is now called Bedford Basin, and great anxiety was felt lest she be raided by Indians. At the same time Lord Cornwallis was in correspondence with the Duke of Bedford, and some of their letters to one another can be seen in Nova Scotia Archives, Vol. 1.

Granville, Annapolis Co., was undoubtedly named after the brilliant John Carteret, Earl Branville. Carteret spoke German and was consequently in high favor with both George I and George II, who found the ability to converse in German all to rare among their English advisers. Earl Granville was Lord President of the Council from 1751 to 1763. The land upon which the villages of Granville Centre, Granville Ferry and Lower Granville now stand was granted to a body of settlers in 1759. The first French settlements and Sir William Alexander's Scottish plantation were both on the Granville side of the Annapolis river.

Barrington Township

Barrington, Shelburne County, was possibly named after another member of the British government, William Wildman Shute, second Viscount Barrington, who was secretary for war from 1755 to 1760. Arrangements were made by Governor Lawrence in September 1759,

To insure funds for launching her motion picture career, Vienna Gresham, newcomer to Hollywood, has incorporated herself for $20,000 under the name of Velma, Incorporated. Miss Gresham, who is from Memphis, Tenn., conceived the idea of selling shares of stock in herself from the play, "Polly Preferred."

to grant lands in what is now Shelburne county to a body of prospective settle from Massachusetts. These lands were erected "into a township by the name of the Township of Barrington". There are two other possibilities, namely, that the name of Admiral Samuel Barrington, who was the brother of the viscount, or that it was named afterter Barrington in Massachusetts. The former of these two possibilities is unlikely since Barrington township received its name in 1759 and Admiral Barrington, so far as is known, did not visit Nova Scotia until the following year, when he sailed with Admiral John Byron, grandfather of the poet, to destroy the Louisbourg fortifications."

MOB RUNS WILD 25 ARRESTED

Score of Persons Suffer Minor Injuries in Course of Three Riots.

ONE MAN STABBED

MAHONE BAY, N.S., 6 (Special to The Examiner). — Religious feeling which has been smouldering for some time with occasional minor outbreaks were responsible for three riots in the hitherto quiet community about Martin's River; stabbing of one man, the partial demolition of two houses; the stoning of a group of members of the Pentecostal faith, locally known as the Holy Rollers; minor injuries to a score of persons; and the apprehension of 25 young men on various charges.

While a service was being held at the home of Albert Langville, a mob rapidly growing until it numbered more than one hundred persons, stoned the house, forcing the service to an abrupt end, and did not cease until the Bridgewater detachment of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police arrived on the scene, arrested four men and dispersed the mob. Sergeant Kehoe, assisted by Constables Snow and Willet made the arrests.

Dynamite Was Removed.

Frank Vaughan, Lester Refuse, Carl Mosher were arrested on charges of escape from the police. Wallace Swinehammer was arrested on a charge of drunkenness and, with the first three, was taken to Mahone Bay and arraigned before Stipendiary Magistrate Holloway. All were released on bail. Summons were issued for twelve other men on charges of causing mischief.

The rioting lasted from eight o'clock until two the following morning when the mob was finally broken up and the village settled down to quietness again.

Patrols of the Bridgewater detachment, R.C.M.P., were in Martin's River to prevent further trouble and to round up other young men against whom information had been laid.

The trouble occurred between members of the Pentecostal Society and a group of men who do not agree with their religious views.

It is stated a charge of dynamite was placed under the residence of B. Shupe, who acts as leader of the Pentecostal group. Before the charge was set off, however, it was alleged, the man responsible went to Mr. Shupe, confessed the plot, and the charge was removed. Mr. Shupe refused to divulge the identity of his informant.

Attacked on Highway.

While a group of men and women were on their way to the home of Mrs. Sawler, at Western Shore, four nights after the first rioting, it is alleged they were followed along the road and pelted with mud and stones.

On the following evening a fight occurred between the two groups, and in the general melee, Wilbert Zwicker was seriously injured in the arm by knife wounds. He was, however, unable to recognize the man who wielded the knife!

The Pentecostal Society has no church building, and service is held at the homes of the members. Mrs. Shupe was conducting the service at the home of Albert Langille and a large number were present. A crowd assembled outside, and after shouting and using abusive language stoned the house, smashing windows, damaging the structure, and causing the service to come to an abrupt end.

Storm Another House.

Stones damaged the furniture, and overturned a lamp. The mob outside increased in number as the night wore on; and more than one hundred people were milling and struggling in the semi-darkness when the police arrived and broke up the gang.

While the Langille house was being stoned, a section of the group of dissenters, it is stated, went on to the Shupe house, stoned it, broke windows, and damaged furniture.

The Pentecostal Society was established about two years ago at Martin's River, and has a number of adherents in nearby districts. From the first, there was some opposition to the establishment of the sect, but this is the first serious trouble of a religious nature in the district. All of the men charged are under 21 years of age.

GEORGE A. PAYNE IS LAID TO REST

Hundreds Attend Funeral Service of Campbellford's Police Magistrate.

FLAGS AT HALF-MAST.

CAMPBELLFORD, May 6. (Staff Correspondent)—With all business suspended and flags at halfmast, the late George Alfred Payne, prominent Campbellford lawyer and Police Magistrate, was laid to rest this afternoon in Mount Pleasant cemetery, here. The funeral services were conducted in the family residence, Frank Street, by the Rev. R. C. Tait, assisted by Rev. A. L. Sanderson, Whitby, and Rev. H. B. Kenny, Conseeon, former pastor of St. John's Church.

That the whole district knew and loved the deceased, who was one of the pioneers of the countryside, was evident by the large number that attended the funeral. Many legal dignitaries from all over the province were there as well as members of the Campbellford Bar, the Town Council, the Seymour Township Council and other civic bodies. The number of floral tributes also testified to the esteem held for the deceased.

The casket was borne by six officers of the Ontario Provincial Police Department, the honorary pall-bearers being Dr. H. O. Richardson, G. A. Kingston, C. H. Davidson, A. Saunders, Free, R. McKelvie, T. L. Diamond and John Frederick, all friends and neighbors of Mr. Payne.

The death occurred suddenly on Tuesday at his Campbellford home, through a heart attack. The deceased had been at his office all day, and arrived home about four. He raked the lawn, carried in some wood and listened to the radio awhile. A little later, Mr. Payne had a heart seizure and was treated by Dr. H. B. Longmore, but about nine o'clock the fatal attack took him.

Police Magistrate Payne was in his 73rd year. He was born in Cobourg, July 3, 1859, the son of the late Mr. and Mrs. L. Payne, Old Country pioneers. He was educated in Victoria College, later taking a law course at Osgoode Hall, Toronto, where he graduated. He came to Campbellford in 1888 and built up an extensive law practise throughout the town and northern section of Northumberland County. He was for twenty years Solicitor for the Town of Cambellford and for Selymour Township. Twenty-seven years ago, he was appointed Police Magistrate, which office he held to the time of his death.

The late Mr. Payne was a staunch member of the Methodist and later the United Church, being at one time a member of the Officials' Board of St. John's, and a's. church treasurer. In politics he was a Conservative. As a young man, he was interested in many sports, particulary baseball, being an outstanding player on local teams.

Surviving him are his widow, one son, Charles A. Payne, K.C., Belleville, and one daughter, Grace, at home.

BOYS AND GIRLS WILL PILOT YACHTS IN INTERNATIONAL RACE

Fifteen Clubs Expected to Compete for Prince of Wales Trophy.

KEEN RIVALRY.

HALIFAX, N.S., May 6.— Nova Scotia is to see an international yachting contest again this summer when juniors from Canadian and United States' clubs compete on the lively waters of Mile Lakes, Yarmouth, for the Prince of Wales trophy.

Three Nova Scotian and six American crews battled for this trophy last summer, the first year of the racing, the Pleon Yacht Club of Marblehead, Mass., represented by Stanton Deland and James F. Hunnewell, taking the tankard after a keen contest in the final round with the Royal Yacht Squadron, Halifax, represented by Evatt Merchant and Paul Rowlings.

This year it is expected that at least fifteen crews will participate. Invitations are being extended by the Lakeside Yacht Club, Yarmouth, to the leading yacht clubs of Canada, Newfoundland and the United States. The yachting dates are July 6 to July 9 inclusive, and the series will be conducted by the Lakeside Yacht Club, according to the racing rules of the Royal Nova Scotia Yacht Squadron.

The races are restricted to junyachtsmen, either boys or girls between the ages of 12 years and 18 years. A replica of the trophy is awarded to the winning crew each year and the large cup, a handsome silver bowl, is to become the permanent possession of any yacht club which may be represented by three winning crews, not necessarily in succession.

Yachts of the Acadian class, dinky little 17 footers, fast and seaworthy, with Marconi mainsail and jib and plenty of outside ballast, will be used in the series of races, which will be on a match basis, boat for boat, the winning crew of each series to proceed to the following round the losing crew to be eliminated from competition. Four yachts of the Acadian class are now available for the races.

So far as is known, this is the only international contest of its kind in North American yachting and many senior yachtsmen regard it as of exceptional value to the sport. The initial competition last year was conducted throughout with the best of feeling and the spirit of good sportsmanship that then obtained will be renewed this year. The young sailors, both boys and girls are keen helmsmen and sail-trimmers, well-posted in the rules and appear to know almost as much about the game as their sentors. The Nova Scotian crews that competed last year were at a disadvantage in that they had little previous experience in match-racing, but their cousins from across the border taught them many times in the series and indications are that this year, at pretty Mileo Lakes, the racing for the trophy donated by His Royal Highness, will be rare sport.

COUNTY COUNCIL

Chalmers' appointment was ratified.

Clerical Work

After the third reading of the bylaw, Reeve McDonald again arose and expressed himself as being in favor of Mr. Chalmers undertaking to look after all the county road accounts and other clerical work in connection with the county road system. If that were done, he claimed a grant of 50 per cent. could be obtained from the Government towards the cost of such clerical work. Under the existing arrangement, that money was lost to the county.

"As far as I am concerned," he said, "I have nothing against Mr. Chalmers. His work so far has been most satisfactory. But there has been quite a lot of howling through the county about the appointment. I believe I did nothing more than was right," he declared, "when I asked Mr. Warden to take steps to see that the appointment was in order before Mr. Chalmers came. I know the Government has a part in it; I know the Suburban Area Commission has a part in it; but I also know that the County Council has a part in it. The statutes say so."

At a later juncture Reeve McDonald said it seemed a sad thing in these difficult times that there should be such a large difference in the salary being received by the present superintendent and the salary asked by Mr. McIntyre. "But it is no more than right that Mr. Chalmers should get the job. My experience is that he is a fine man. Still I think the whole thing has been very unfair to the people of this county." He suggested that in future when such important questions were before the council for discussion, a motion that has not been carried should be rescinded before another motion was put.

He then asked what duties Mr. Chalmers was to undertake. "Is he to look after the books, or is he not?" he demanded.

"Personally I think the Road Superintendent should look after the books. I am of the opinion that it would be a good thing for him, and would acquaint him of the entire situation, making it easier for him to work according to the appropriations for road work. If there are any amendments to be made to the by-law now is the time to make them," he argued.

County Clerk—Do you insinuate that the books are not properly kept?

Reeve McDonald—I insinuate nothing.

County Clerk—Mr. Chalmers is road superintendent, not a bookkeeper.

Reeve McDonald then entered upon a lengthy argument with the County Clerk, contending that under the existing arrangement by which Mr. Elliott was engaging a stenographer to look after the road accounts, the county was losing money, for if the books were kept by the superintendent, the Government would bear fifty per cent. of the cost of such clerical work.

Reeve Rork Ferguson, chairman County Roads Commission, speaking to the question of Mr. Chalmers' salary of $3,000.00 per annum, stated that while Mr. McIntyre only asked for $2,000.00 and could have been assured of the full backing of the Council, his appointment was not favored by the Government representative.

Before the noon adjournment the members decided to journey to Norwood this afternoon to inspect the scene of the recent bridge collapse on Highway No. 7 at the Big Pond, and which was the subject of discussion and the big item of business when the special session resumed at four o'clock this afternoon.

Want Peas And Corn Pass Up Tomatoes

COBOURG, May 6.—The local canning factory will not handle tomatoes this year, but peas and corn, and will not be operating until the latter part of June. The price for peas will be around $30 a ton, coming into the factory from threshing outfits at Port Hope, Grafton and Wicklow.

Canning factory managements in Brighton are understood to be a little concerned over the present tomato acreage outlook in the district. Many of the farmers have not found it profitable to grow tomatoes for 25 cents a bushel as they would operate at a loss, and the signs indicate that the crop for 1932 will be about 30 per cent. less than in 1931. A comparison of figures in the County of Northumberland show that there has been a considerable decrease in the past few years. In 1930 there were 3,000 acres of tomatoes under cultivation; in 1931 there were 2,000, and this year it looks like 1,000. Peas and corn show a corresponding marked decrease.

Boycott activities are being continued in Central and South China.

HOUSE PROMISED TIME TO DISCUSS DEBT QUESTION

Chamberlain Assures Opportunity Before Next Interest Payment Due U. S.

DATE IS DEC. 15.

Lloyd George Wonders if Leaders Have Courage to Face Remedy.

LONDON, May 6 (A.P.)—The House of Commons yesterday was promised an opportunity to discuss Great Britain's policy on reparations and war debts before another payment of interest is made on the British war debt to the United States.

This was the answer of Neville Chamberlain, Chancellor of the Exchequer, to a question, but Mr. Chamberlain made it plain that the sanction of parliament will not be requested before any further payment was made to the United States.

Mr. Chamberlain said the next payment of interest was due in the United States on June 15, but had been postponed under the Hoover moratorium. The next payment thereafter will be due on Dec. 15.

"There will no doubt," he said, "be an opportunity of discussing the government's policy regarding reparations and war debts before the last named date."

Meanwhile, Lloyd George touched upon the same subject in one of his now rare speeches.

Address Foreign Press

Speaking before the members of the foreign press at their luncheon, the Welsh Liberal declared that Great Britain's unilateral war debt settlement with the United States had more to do with the postponement of consideration of war debts than anything that had happened.

"And this postponement," he added, "at the present moment constitutes the greatest obstacle in the way of settlement."

Mr. Lloyd George noted that the postponement came soon after rejection of the principles propounded in the famous Balfour note calling for a clean slate on all war debts and reparations.

"Ten years ago it was too soon for common sense to prevail," he said. "I wonder whether now, ten years after, it is not too late. I wonder whether there is enough courage in the statesmanship of the world even now to propose the only remedies that would put the world right?

"But until you find some remedy; until there is enough courage and daring among the leadership of the world to face these problems, you will have no recovery."

LONDON AWAITS FEATURE SHOWS

Galsworthy Plays Will Be Shown—Keen Interest in Van Druten's Production.

By Thos. T. Champion, C. P. Staff Writer.

LONDON, May 6.—(CP)—Interesting features are promised for the summer theatrical season in London. A series of the plays of John Galsworthy is to be produced at the Garrick Theatre. This playwright is perhaps the "safest" amongst modern men of stage craft for reproduction purposes, for "Justice," "Loyalties," and "The Silver Box", to give only three examples, have withstood many presentations.

A new play by John van Druten, whose famous study of schoolboy life in "Young Woodley" created so much comment, is promised this month. The new piece will be concerned with the psychology of an unsolved crime, and the leading character will be played by Frank Lawton.

J. B. Priestley, whose novels, "The Good Companions" and "Angel Pavement" have become world-famous, has written his first play direct for the stage, which is due for production almost at once. "Dangerous Corner" will be concerned with a group of people who listen to a "thriller" over the wireless. The version of "The Good Companions", which Mr. Priestley adapted for the stage with Edward Knoblock, was recently taken off after a run of no less than nine months.

Collin's music hall on Islington Green, one of the oldest houses of entertainment in London, which has recently endured a spell of hard times, has been reopened with every prospect of a renewal of its one-time successful career. Collins's goes back to the infancy of the music hall entertainment, when there used to be a "Chairman," who sat at a table with his back to the stage, and announced the "turns." The Chairman at such places of entertainment was always remarkable for a stentorian voice and an unlimited capacity for imbibing strong waters. It used to be a great privilege to be invited to a seat at the Chairman's table.

In later years Collins's gave the first opening to many a man and woman who became famous on the vaudeville stage. Arthur Roberts, one of the more important veterans of the old-time variety show, first came into fame on Islington Green. He once applied in face for the position of Chairman. Lottie Collins, who sang "Ta-ra-ra-boom-de-ay" was also a famous figure at this theatre. The theatre was crammed the other night for the reopening. Instead of the old-time Chairman there was the Mayor of Islington, wearing his robe and chain, who recalled how he himself in his young days used to frequent the "top shelf" of "this dear old music hall," and there listened to George Chirgwin and other famous folk, little thinking that he would one day be giving the theatre his blessing as chief municipal officer.

Untrained Indian Is a Good Jumper

OTTAWA. — (C.P.) — Canadian Olympic committee officials seeking point winners for the Los Angeles games, might well turn to latent material among the Indian tribes in the Northwest Territories, if an athletic record in the Royal Canadian Mounted Police annual report is accurate.

According to Inspector H. Royal-Gagnon, a young Indian, whom he does not name, jumped six feet one inch at a field meet held at Fort Chipewyan. Knowing nothing of the high jumping art, the Indian, the inspector relates, "just jumps over."

Few highly trained Canadian athletes have ever jumped more than six feet and the world's record is only 6 feet 8¼ inches, and the feat of the unknown young Indian in his first attempt is considered most remarkable.

ENGLISH CAPITAL HAS COME OUT OF HIDING

Enormous Amounts of Money Offered in Recent Bond Flotations

By WILLIAM HILLMAN

Lond.—English capital is rushing out of hiding to invest heavily in government bonds and public utility issued.

In three weeks more than $1,350,000,000 was offered in response to issues for a total of $44,500,000. This means they were oversubscribed thirty times, showing strong evidence of revived confidence in investment and of the plentiful money available for sound development.

Some of the issues which have been heavily oversubscribed are:

Nyasaland Government, $10,000,000 four and a half per cent. loan for which $300,000,000 was offered.

Metropolitan District (one of the subway divisions), $7,500,000 debenture stocks, for which about $375,000,000 was offered.

Port of London Authority, $10,000,000 capital stock, for which $250,000,000 was offered.

All these now stand on the Stock Exchange at a substantial premium over the issue price.

To some extent, the oversubscription is, of course, represented by the applications of professional speculators with no intentions of taking up stock, but who hope to sell out at a profit as soon as allotments are made and Stock Exchange dealings begin.

Even then, however, it is clear that there is an enormous amount of money available for investment.

Slight earthquakes have been shaking Scotland.

PARDON REQUEST MAY BE DROPPED

Four in Honolulu Honor Slaying to Follow Darrow's Advice.

LEAVING ISLAND.

HONOLULU, May 6. — (AP) — Lieut. Thomas H. Massie, his rescue and two navy men, may not escue and two navy men, may not seek a pardon for their conviction of manslaughter in the slaying of an Hawaiian.

The sentence of each, 10 years at hard labor, was commuted to one hour by Gov. Lawrence M. Judd of Hawaii. They served that in custody of the territorial high sheriff and were not at any time confined in prison. Then came the announcement a full pardon would be sought for the four who were tried for lynching a native who allegedly had confessed participation in a criminal attack on the naval officer's wife, Mrs. Thalia Massie.

Darrow's Advice

Indications were today that upon the advice of Clarence Darrow their adviser and defender, they would discontinue their efforts to obtain a pardon.

Darrow denied he had ever asked Gov. Judd to pardon the convicted quartette, explaining that newspapermen had "misunderstood" a statement in which he said "they ought to have a full pardon."

Minimizing the importance of a pardon, Darrow advised them late last night to let the matter drop. He told them to accept Gov. Judd's commutation of sentence, without seeking further relief at this time. He suggested the restoration of their citizenship rights — rights which they did not regain by the commutation—be taken up later.

Although indicating that Massie, Mrs. Fortescue and the two navy enlisted men, L. J. Lord and Albert O. Jones, were anxious to be pardoned, he also indicated that they would be guided by what he said.

Lost Right To Vote

As the matter now stands, Massie and his associates have lost their right to vote and to hold office in Hawaii. Their status outside the islands, territorial Attorney General H. R. Hewitt said, depends upon local laws.

The citizens' organization for good government, made up largely of white women, has circulated petitions "demanding" a pardon.

It became practically an accepted fact today that the four men accused of attacking Mrs. Massie would not be brought to trial again. With her husband ordered transferred to another assignment, Mrs. Massie and her mother, Mrs. Fortescue, have booked passage on the Malolo, which sails Sunday.

FREAK CRICKET STOPPED

First Innings in County Games Must Last at Least an Hour

London.—The fate of the "freak" declaration that caused controversy during last season's county cricket championship was sealed at the meeting of the advisory county cricket committee at Lord's.

The following resolution was passed: "If in a three days' match there is no play on the first two days the match shall be played under the laws for one-day matches. For the purpose of this competition, however, law 54, which gives the right of declaration in a one-day match at any time, shall not apply, and no side shall declare its first innings closed until it has batted for at least 60 minutes."

ANCIENT BEASTS TO BE EXHIBITED

Huge Animated Monsters Will Eat, Breathe, Fight at Chicago Fair.

SUMMER OF 1933.

A mammoth metal globe as an eight-story building, will represent the earth and house one of the most spectacular exhibits at the Chicago World's Fair in the summer of 1933. Within it, mechanical monsters in a strange prehistoric zoo will reproduce scenes which took place millions of years before man appeared on earth.

The exterior of the ball will be covered with a map of the world. The oceans will appear in gleaming, silver-colored stainless steel and the continents in metal painted turquoise blue. At five-minute intervals, from vents around the base puffs of live steam will be released to float upward like clouds. At night, colored lights will play upon the billowing white vapor. The impression, when viewed from the ground, will be that the huge globe is floating in space among the clouds.

Inside, four elevators will carry spectators to the main floor, fifty feet above the ground. Here they will follow winding walks that lead past swamps of prehistoric vegetation and cliffs which form the natural setting for the giant animals. They will see woolly mammoths, sabertoothed tigers, extinct giant turtles, dinosaurs fifty feet long, and carnivorous monsters two stories high, all breathing, eating, and fighting as though they were alive, writes Edwin W. Teale.

Constructed of wood, steel, canvas, and papier-mache, they will be operated electrically. Each will contain from one to sixteen motors, ranging in strength from one-eighth horsepower to two horsepower. In all, approximately 500 electric motors will be employed to give lifelike motions to the animals on display.

Expert operators at switchboards will make the huge creatures swing their heads from side to side, roll their eyes, lash their tails, and open and close their jaws. Hidden where they can see the crowds, these operators frequently will give spectators an added thrill by having the monster suddenly swing toward them with wide-gaping jaws.

Along the railings of the walks there will be hundreds of earphones by means of which spectators may hear lectures on the particular animal before them. These lectures will be repeated continuously by the use of phonograph records in a central control room below. Earphones are to be employed instead of loud-speakers to avoid interference with the sound effects of the exhibition. For the huge mechanical animals will not only move, but also "talk." Onlookers will hear, among other things, the snarl of the saber-toothed tiger, the monstrous hiss of the great Brontosaurus and the trumpeting of the prehistoric shovel-jawed elephant.

Behind the early-world landscapes circling the walls of the main floor, concealed lighting will create the color effects of sunrise, sunset, and twilight. During dusk, the public will see pterodactyls, giant wing-creatures of prehistoric times, go flapping overhead across the darkened sky.

In preparation for this spectacular display, engineers of the firm of Messmore and Damon, New York makers of animated exhibition models, have been working for four years. Each animal is to be constructed the exact size of the ancient beast it represents. Realising the educational value of the display, curators of the American Museum of Natural History have been co-operating to make the exhibits and their surroundings scientifically accurate.

TWO KILLED IN RACE FOR LIFE IN TUNNEL

23 Littlebrough Workmen Caught by Train

Littleborough, Eng.—Two of a party of 23 workmen were killed by a train after a vain race for life through the famous two-mile Summit railway tunnel.

The men had walked a mile into the tunnel to carry out repairs, when the Manchester-Leeds express was signalled.

While the party sought shelter in recesses in the tunnel wall the train went through at 40 miles an hour. Two men, J. R. Goldie of Littleborough, and A. Childs of Todmorden were found dead on the line.

They had rushed to one of the recesses and, finding it filled by their workmates, they had raced toward the next one and were caught by the train.

Congregation Coughs and Choir Is Silent as Protest Against Vicar

Manchester, Eng. — Remarkable evidence was given at the commission of inquiry here into the three-year-old dispute between the vicar of Lumb-in-Rossendale and some of his parishioners.

It is alleged against the vicar—the Rev. Theophilus Caleb—that he has been guilty of taking an "unchristian and provocative attitude toward his parishioners."

Mr. Frank Hindle told how Mr. Caleb received a warm welcome to Lumb. Then, in 1927, said Mr. Hindle, the vicar admonished a woman from the pulpit. On another occasion the vicar, from the pulpit, stated that there was a certain young woman who had been slandering. He gave her three minutes to stand up.

When she failed to do so the vicar said: "If she had stood up I would have taken her to the high court."

Describing the development of the dispute, Mr. Hindle said that in 1929 the choir agreed to a silent protest. They stood mute in their pews.

A coughing method of protest was started by a woman who had a cold. Mrs. Caleb remonstrated with her in church. Then there was general coughing.

Mr. Hindle agreed that people used to "boo" the vicar and his supporters outside the church.

Mr. Caleb, it was stated in the case, was born a Hindu.

BAY STATE RIVER FREE TO ANGLERS

Massachusetts Plans Development of Public Fishing Grounds.

BOSTON, Mass., May 6 (By The Canadian Press) — Massachusetts fishermen are digging bait and winding flies. In order to implement the earliest colonial laws which provided that hunting and fishing should be free to all the inhabitants of the Commonwealth, and at the same time to adjust an apparent conflict between property rights of land owners and fishing rights of sportsmen, the state has embarked on a new departure.

When the fishing season opened on April 15, the local Isaak Waltons, for the first time in history, were able to whip stretches along one of its best known rivers, leased by the state for the sole purpose of fishing.

The stream is the Westfield River, an excellent stretch of trout water. Strips of land extending ten feet back from the water along the east branch, and totalling more than 25 miles, are already under lease by the state, with the prospect of more than 50 miles eventually being turned into public fishing grounds, according to R. J. Kenney, director of the Commonwealth's fisheries and game division.

Two years ago a balance of funds in one of the divisions' branches enabled the groundwork to be laid. The Westfield was selected and a few leases obtained. Stretches of land along both sides of the river and covering some of the most desirable trout pools in the stream have since been obtained in towns of Huntington, Chesterfield, Cummington, Worthington, Chester and Middlefield. It is eventually hoped to secure leases along the river's three branches, at $20 a mile per year for the ten foot strips, and to purchase the strips at the end of a five-year period. In this manner a considerable area of land for fishing will gradually become state property, to be maintained for the sportsmen's benefit.

All the leased stretches have been plainly marked by signs to avoid trespass on private property, and rights of way have been clearly indicated.

To insure that both the owners of the leased lands and adjoining property holders will be amply protected, special game warders have been assigned.

Talkies will be produced in Vienna.

Ships Battle Ice, Wind and Fog During Voyage in Northern Waters.

NO LIVES LOST.

ST. JOHN'S, Nfld., May 6. — Newfoundland's annual foray into the northern icefields is over for another year. The sealers are back. First to arrive in port after more than a month among the floes was the Beothic, well known in Arctic waters through her voyages to the Canadian government's outposts in the north. She slipped into St. John's harbor on April 12, with 5000 seals, leaving her three sister vessels in the smallest fleet ever to set out in pursuit of the whitecoats and harps, to stow their gear and follow.

But for heavy winds and thick fog with unusually heavy ice conditions, this year's fishery would have been a good one, insofar as the average take was concerned. But the elements conspired against the "swilers." Captain W. C. Windsor of the Beothic reported "one of the worst springs for many years."

The fleet, small at the outset, was further depleted a week after sailing, when in mid-March both the Neptune and the Ranger were caught in the ice, and lost their propellors, necessitating towage back to St. John's. That left the Beothic, Eagle, Terra Nova and Imogene, all steamers well known in the annals of the seal fishery, to carry on.

The weather being what it was, the Beothic bore up for home on April 9, dropping her crew off at coastal villages in Bonavista and Conception Bays, until only a skeleton roster remained on her arrival here.

While this year's catch of the four vessels engaged was small in comparison with the ordinary year's take of 200,000 or so, the season was without any major misadventures such as the loss of the Viking off Horse Island last March, when a score of men were killed in the explosion which wrecked the ship. The men's health generally was good.

Minor misfortunes, however, were plentiful and kept the catch low. Just after sailing the Beothic spent several days caught in an ice jam. On March 11 she was again imprisoned in tight ice north of Cape John. Ice conditions were unprecedented. On March 17, while the disabled Ranger and Neptune awaited assistance 60 miles to the southward, the four sealers were forced to tuck themselves in close under the lee of icebergs and wait for calmer weather.

Next year, however, past hardships will be forgotten and more than enough to man all the Dominion's sealers will be jostling for places on the foredeck. This year more than forty stowaways (including two girls) had to be put ashore after the steamers had actually got under way, so great is the Newfoundlander's urge to sail north and kill seals.

Lakefield A.Y.P.A. Holds Social Evening

LAKEFIELD, May 6.—(Examiner Correspondence). — The A.Y.P.A. held a social evening on Monday night with a large attendance including a number of new members who signed up and were welcomed by the officers and old members. Among those who joined were: Mrs. Balkwell, Misses Odell Watson, Mary Webdale, Jean Blewett, Vera Bockwill and Joan Balwell, Messrs. C. C. Stenner, W. Chappell, Roger Stenner, George Stenner, Robert Stenner, Fred Marsden, Percy Marsden, Wes Adamson, John Brown, Joe Blewett, Herrick Brown, James Riel and Ralph Hampton.

Miss Winnie Payne, the president, was in the chair. The nomination of officers was held and the following were nominated for office:

President, Miss Winnie Payne; vice-president, Mrs. Mendal Smith; secretary, Mr. L. J. Charlton; treasurer, Mr. Jack Woodhouse; visiting committee, Mrs. Chappell, Mrs. Earnshaw, Miss M. Webdale and Mr. H. Brown; dramatic committee, Misses Odell Watson B. Graham, Jean Blewett, Messrs. P. Marsden, Robert Stenner and Joe Blewett; property committee, Mrs. M. Hampton, Miss E. Marsden, Messrs. John Hampton and Walter Chappell.

The annual banquet will be held on Monday, May 16, at 7 o'clock in the parish hall. The remainder of the evening was spent in games and contests with refreshments served by the committee.

The presence of four past presidents was remarked and much appreciated as in the years since the A.Y.P.A. was organized it has owed much to its president, who each left behind a record of achievement which reflects credit on them and on the association.

MOUNT PLEASANT

Mr. and Mrs. T. H. Shield and children of Peterborough were guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. Shield over the week-end and motored to Toronto on Monday remaining in the city till Tuesday evening. Mrs. G. Shield accompanied them.

Reindeer meat shipped from Alaska to the United States last year was valued at more than $100,000.

CONTRACTS REVEAL INTERESTING DATA

E. Z. Massicotte, Montreal Archivist, Unearths Information About Early French Traders.

MONTREAL, May 6 (By The Canadian Press)—Study of conditions in the fur trading business in the early days of New France throws a revealing light on the life of that period, E. Z. Massicotte, Montreal archivist, reports in connection with his investigation and interpretation of contracts drawn up between early French traders and settlers and French exporting and exploring companies.

The archivist has traced 13,055 contracts signed between the years 1670 and 1770. It shows that traders undertook, even in those early days, to travel to Northern Quebec, to the Lake Superior district and west of Lake Winnipeg. The contracts of some of the men who first ventured beyond the Rockies have been unearthed by Mr. Massicotte and he soon expects to publish his findings in this connection in volume form. Detroit and the Southern United States received their quota of pioneers.

Few women ventured to travel the rough paths with the first adventurers. But as early as 1700 some women took to the trail and soon afterwards whole families moved into the wilderness in search of pelts and forest game. "The women revealed the same foritude and courage as men," says the archivist.

"There is a curious fact to be noted," says Mr. Massicotte, "and that is that a good many of these whose contracts remain to-day went to the area which is now Detroit. Detroit as a matter of fact remained French in character for a long time. Late in the 19th century a French newspaper was still being published there by Abbe Richard."

Mr. Massicotte expects to launch into the study of contracts signed between 1760 and 1840, in the near future and anticipates discovering much data on early western pioneers.

KING, QUEEN ATTEND WEDDING OF LORD HYDE TO MISS GLYN

All London's Elite Gather at Colorful Ceremony in Westminster.

CROWDS OUTSIDE.

By Betty Twist

(Special to The Examiner)

LONDON, May 6. — The most magnificent wedding since that of the Duke and Duchess of York took place in Westminster Abbey on Monday. The Hon. Marion Glyn, daughter of Lord and Lady Wolverton, had the honor of a princess when she married the King's godson, Lord Hyde, the elder son of the Earl of Clarendon, Governor-General of South Africa, and the Countess of Clarendon. The King, who has not attended a wedding since his illness more than three-and-a-half years ago, came with the Queen and the 700 guests represented all that is distinguished in society, diplomacy and politics. The bride entered by the west door, a privilege usually only accorded to royal brides, and the ceremony was performed at the high altar.

While the abbey bells above pealed out their glad message to the thousands waiting outside to catch a glimpse of the young couple and the King and Queen, the bride, on her father's arm, passed through the blue and gold gates under the abbey "lantern," and escorted by her retinue of golden maidens and children, moved up the aisle to the chancel.

Wore Pale Gold Satin

The sunlight streaming through the stained glass windows added the final touch of perfection to the tableau set within the historic gray walls. The bride's gown of pale gold satin moire gleamed through a cloud of creamy lace and tulle and her headdress of pearls lay like a strand of moonlight across her dark hair. Eight tiny girls in dresses of golden-hued satin veiled with amber net and wearing chaplets of green and gold leaves, grouped themselves round her, and at either end of her spreading train stood two small pages attired in jerkins of old-gold satin and the tartan kilts of their clans. The two elder bridesmaids, one the sister of the bride and the other of the bridegroom, also wore long-sleeved dresses of gold over which fell gold net. Bouquets of red and gold striped tulips gave another splash of color to the sunset scheme.

The bride curtseyed to the King and Queen who stood beside their carved oak chairs on the south side of the sanctuary. The King had a white carnation in his buttonhole and the Queen's caped coat of pastel pink romaine blended with the surroundings. The bride handed her bouquet of golden-hearted orchids to her bridesmaid and ascended the altar steps.

Organ Notes Swell

The bishops in golden copes with pointed mitres intoned the nuptial prayers. Scarlet-cassocked choirboys took up the response. The swelling organ notes vibrated through the building so that the flames of the candles upon the altar flickered, lighting up the golden vases filled with lilies and the cloth and frontal of cream-embroidered brocade which was the gift of Their Majesties to the abbey on the occasion of their coronation.

The King and Queen signed the marriage register after the ceremony. They followed the bridal party out of the abbey through the guard of honor formed by the Duchess of Clarendon's Own Boy Scouts of which Lord Hyde is a rover. The 40 ushers, an unusually large number for a wedding, were then all kept extremely busy assisting the guests through the crowds and setting them on their way to the reception at Lady Wolverton's house in St. James' Place. The scene outside the abbey seemed scarcely less spectacular than that within. The magnificent furs and colorful gowns of the ladies were silhouetted against the black coats of their escorts and nosegays of orchids were as plentiful as daisies. The bride's mother wore orchids to tone with her gown of dark brown chiffon and marron-shaded velvet coat. Purple orchids were pinned to Lady Honor Bridegroom's sable coat and Lady Patricia Ward, in black, had a bunch of rare rose blooms. Lady Hamilton looked very tall and handsome in a short-coated black suit worn with an amusing "matelot" hat in bright pink crepe. Lord Derby was amongst the guests, as also Lord Salisbury and Lord and Lady Stanley, who had brought a small son to act as page.

Present From King

One of the largest rooms in the St. James' Place residence had to be reserved for the presents. The position of honor had been given to the silver bowl inscribed "To George Lord Hyde on the occasion of his marriage from the King and Queen, April 18, 1932," and to the diamond brooch with the royal cipher, Their Majesties' gift to the bride. The King had sent a personal letter to the Hon. Marion Glyn. "My dear Marion — The Queen and I send you this small brooch with all good wishes for your happiness."

The Princess Royal and her husband presented the bride with a dressing case fitted with brushes and mirror in blue-green enamel, while from Princess Victoria came an antique gold and enamel trinket box. There seemed no end to the glistening array of jewels. A necklace of pearls and another of diamonds which could be turned into bracelets, pendant and chain, or hair ornaments, was from Lady Wolverton to her daughter. A ruby brooch set in diamonds had come from the Earl of Clarendon, whose official duties prevented him from leaving South Africa to attend his son's wedding.

COBOURG PRESBYTERY HOLDS MAY MEETING AT GARDEN HILL

Conference Favors Rev. Richard Roberts of Toronto as Next Moderator.

OTHER BUSINESS.

MILLBROOK, May 6.—(Examiner Correspondence). — The May meeting of the Cobourg Presbytery was held in St. Enoch's church, Garden Hill, on Tuesday, the chairman, Rev. W. W. Jones, B.D., of Millbrook, presiding, and the attendance of lay and clerical delegates being particularly good.

The May meeting is the most important of the year as it is the gathering immediately preceding Conference, which meets this year in the Cambridge Street United Church, Lindsay, the first week in June.

There were two sessions, morning and afternoon, and reports were most satisfying, the motion introduced by Rev. Mr. Tanton of Cobourg, to the effect that the July meeting of Presbytery be eliminated for purposes of organization, the election of chairman and treasurer to take place at the present session and there be no further gathering until September, being shelved owing to its being unconstitutional; General Council meets in September at Hamilton, and the chairman pointed out no Presbytery meetings may be held the first two weeks of that month in consequence. However, on motion, it was decided the present officers should carry on until September, thus covering a period of fifteen months in their respective positions.

Devotional Period

At 1.30 a.m. the Presbytery set a precendent, in the midst of a busy session, in setting apart one hour for a devotional period, the Rev. G. S. Sisco, of Port Hope, who leaves the Conference in July for his new charge at Sarnia, delivering a thought-provoking and inspiring address on the topic, "Our Father, which art in Heaven." The first words of the creed: "I believe in God, the Father ..lmighty," were the basis of Mr. Sisco's remarks, which were a real contribution to elevated and spiritual thinking, a distinction being made between the eminance of God as revealed in nature, and personality which has to do with His transcendent character. "In every one of us we soon realize a downward drag, and the only one who keeps the higher nature on top is that soul who constantly struggles to obtain the victory over evil."

During the course of the session Presbytery put itself on record as desiring to express appreciation of the fine spirit of fellowship and leadership enjoyed through association with Mr. Sisco, while in the Bay Conference, and prayed him God-speed and success in his new field of labor.

A resolution was also placed on the books by which Presbytery recorded its absolute confidence in the New Outlook, the church paper, and the splendid and persistent loyalty of its editor; also in the Sunday school periodicals and their editor, Rev. Archer Wallace.

Presbytery took a distinct stand on the question of prohibition and the resolution, brought in by the convenor of the committee on social service and evangelism, Rev. Mr. David of Baltimore by which it pledged loyal support of temperance sentiment as delineated and espoused by the Ontario Prohibition Union, was unanimously passed.

Next Moderator

The afternoon session featured a warm discussion of the nomination by the Cobourg Presbytery of the next Moderator for the United Church of Canada, the decision finally going in favor of Rev. Richard Roberts of Sherbourne street church, Toronto, by a unanimous, standing vote.

Commissioners to General Council were elected, the clerical delegate being Rev. W. W. Jones, B.D., of Millbrook, who received twenty-five out of the thirty-three votes; with A. A. Martin, school inspector for Northumberland county, of Brighton, as the lay representative. Representatives to the Settlement Committee of Conference are Rev. G. W. Barrett of Brighton and W. H. Harper of Cobourg, lay delegate.

Speakers of the afternoon included Rev. Dr. Bishop, who presented the appeal for financial assistance for Albert College, Belleville, which Presbytery endorsed, each minister to present same sympathetically to their respective congregations; and Rev. George Williams, field secretary for the M. and M. fund of the church, who presented information of a most important character.

The ladies of the church served dinner at the noon hour, the vote of thanks being replied to, on behalf of her co-workers, by Mrs. S. Gray, in a particularly able manner. W. A. O'Brian was the lay delegate to Presbytery from the Millbrook charge, and was also appointed the delegate to conference in June, with H. C. Argue as alternate.

SCIENCE FINDS NEW MERITS IN ALL-BRAN

Has "Bulk" and Vitamin B for Constipation, and Iron for Blood

In the past ten years millions have found Kellogg's ALL-BRAN the safe "cereal way" to overcome common constipation—with the headaches, backaches, loss of appetite and energy, that so often result.

Behind this success is the proved effectiveness of ALL-BRAN. Laboratory tests show ALL-BRAN brings two things needed to overcome common constipation: "Bulk" to exercise the intestines. Vitamin B to tone the intestinal tract. ALL-BRAN also contains twice as much blood-building iron, by weight, as beef liver.

The "bulk" in ALL-BRAN is much like the bulk in lettuce. Inside the body it forms a soft mass. Gently it clears the intestines of wastes.

How much more pleasant it is to use this delicious cereal than to abuse your system with pills and drugs—so often habit-forming.

Just eat two tablespoonfuls daily with milk or cream—sufficient to overcome most types of constipation—in serious cases, with every meal. If you have intestinal trouble not relieved this way, see your doctor.

Special cooking processes make ALL-BRAN finer, softer, more palatable. It is not habit-forming. Appetizing recipes on the red-and-green package. At all grocers. Made by Kellogg in London, Ontario.

Handy Recipes

COTTAGE CHEESE SALAD

½ pound cottage cheese
1 tablespoon minced onion or chives
1 teaspoon paprika
Lettuce or romaine
1 pimento.

Mix the cheese, onion or chives and paprika well and pack in a small bowl to set in the refrigerator to chill. Cut the pimento into slices. When ready to serve place the mold of cheese in the center of a platter or chop plate. Arrange the lettuce or romaine around the edge in six bundles and hold together lightly with strips of pimento. Pass spicy dressing with this salad.

CARMEL CUSTARD

3 eggs, slightly beaten
3 cups milk
½ teaspon salt
½ cup brown sugar
Nutmeg.

Mix well the slightly beaten eggs, sugar and salt. Pour over this slowly the milk, stirring until the sugar is fully dissolved. Pour into six custard cups or into a large baking dish, sprinkle with grated nutmeg, set in pan containing hot water, bake in a moderate oven (325 degrees Fahrenheit) until firm, about thirty minutes. Test by inserting a knife in the center of the custard. If it comes out with jelly-like substance adhering, the custard is done. The oven must not be hot enough to make the water in the pan boil.

TOMATO SOUPS

1-2 cups strained tomato pulp.
2 teaspoons sugar
½ teaspoon soda
2 or 3 cloves
1 bay leaf
3 tablespoons flour
3 tablespoons butter
1½ teaspoons salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
3 cups milk

Melt the butter, stir in the flour and seasoning, add the milk gradually, cook until thickened, stirring constantly and boil one or two minutes.

Cook the tomatoes until they are tender. Before adding to the white sauce, add sugar and soda to the pulp. Cloves and bay leaf may be cooked with the tomatoes. Add to white sauce and season to taste. Add more milk if necessary.

MILLBROOK

A delightful social occasion was provided by the afternoon tea for which Mrs. L. M. Bonneville was hostess at her home, King street, on Wednesday from four to six o'clock, the event being under the auspices of the W.A. of St. Thomas' Anglican church.

Westmacott, president of the W.A., Miss Annie Armstrong, and Mrs. Fallis. Mrs. T. G. Harkness presided at the cashier's table in the hall.

A pleasant hum of conversation from the living-room greeted incoming guests, while pouring tea in the dining-room were Mrs. John Dawson and Mrs. H. Attwool, those who served, in addition to the convenor of the team committee, Mrs. J. E. Allen, being Mrs. H. W. Jordan, Miss Margaret Simpson, Mrs. Cornish, of Toronto, a visitor of Mrs. Bonneville's, and Miss Ada Attwool.

Guests of the afternoon were pleased to have the opportunity of meeting Mr. and Mrs. Cornish, nephew and niece of the hostess, who had come for the week-end, and remained over for the tea. The W.A. plans to have a number of similar social gatherings within the next few weeks as a means of adding to its funds.

Just Between Us Women

A daily chat with Examiner neighbors conducted by Anne Wilcox

"If wishes were horses, beggars might ride:
If turnips were watches, I'd wear one at my side."

* * * * * * *

So runs the old rhyme which has a grain of truth in it.

* * * * * * *

To be sure, wishes aren't horses, and turnips aren't watches, but the wish to have either, is the first step toward having it.

* * * * * * *

Of course, in this generation an automobile would be wished for instead of a horse and a watch of small size to wear on the wrist would surely be chosen.

* * * * * * *

But the idea remains that mere wishing isn't enough to procure what one desires, yet it is the first step toward fulfillment. One never would wish for an undesired thing, nor would one work toward making such a wish come true.

* * * * * * *

So many persons let a passing thought, or an expressed desire be the full extent of their power of wishing. These persons remain in the plight of the beggar in the jingle.

* * * * * * *

They never get what they wish for the wish evaporates into thin air as soon as the thought passes or the words escape the lips.

* * * * * * *

There are others who begin to formulate plans by which their wish may come true and they start toward the desired goal almost immediately. Someday they will get what they want literally, unless they cease their efforts.

* * * * * * *

Great minds are wishing great things and they are forging the way to get them. If the wish is vast, such as the desire for communications with Mars, for example, such minds are not daunted.

* * * * * * *

They work away with the intent to make progress toward such a stupendous fulfillment and to leave steps in science whereby others in future generations may trend to gain the prized end.

* * * * * * *

Inventors are continually making wishes come true and to-day every homemaker is benefitting by some such desires which have been pushed ahead to make labor-saving devices and contrivances which originally were just wishes in some persons' minds.

* * * * * * *

We do not have to go so far afield to prove the results which can become realities through wishes put into action. We all know boys and girls who were determined to get higher educations because the craving of their wishes would not let them stop short of the wish being fulfilled.

* * * * * * *

Everyone has wishes and they can be realized just in proportion to the power of the persons to project their thoughts out into the world of tangible things.

* * * * * * *

Everyone is doing this very thing in little ways. A plan carried out is a wish made manifest.

CULBERTSON on CONTRACT

PROVING THE RULE

Rules generally accepted can be said to be the experience of the human race as to the best course to follow under certain specified conditions. This does not necessarily mean that a rule will work all the time. It is sufficient to make it a good rule that it has proved its worth in the majority of cases to which it is applied. The basis of rules laid down in Contract Bridge are the same as those formed by society in other lines of endeavor. They are good rules because they prove their worth in the majority of cases, but in Bridge, as in life, the alert player of the game must be awake to the exceptions which constantly crop up. Neither the rules of bidding nor the rules of successful play are immutable. They are, like the railroad time-tables, "subject to change without notice." Today's hand centers around a divergence from ordinary practice and hence the rule when applied to defense.

Neither side vulnerable.

1—A Forcing Takeout requiring partner to respond. A much better bid than a minimum bid of notrump.

2—West's three notrump response indicates that his hand was a minimum Opening bid.

North opened a spade and South won with the Ace. Many Contract players would unthinkingly return the Knave of spades in this situation, although it must be obvious that such a play is a losing one. West had played the Ten on the Ace. Apparently, he held one and only one more. If this should be the Queen, as appeared probable from his play, then the return of the Knave must establish the nine in the Dummy. South, therefore, must not return his highest remaining spade, but lead instead the five and North's King won. North now discontinued the lead of the spade suit and shifted to a heart, as nothing could be gained by continuing the suit. West then won four clubs and three heart tricks. He needed but 2 tricks to complete his contract. The diamond Ace accounted for one of them, but West felt it would be better to avoid taking the finesse, if possible, and therefore chose as a means of exit from his hand a lead of the spade 9 from Dummy. Sure from the lead of the deuce, which he read as fourth best, that North held but two more spades, great was his surprise when South showed up with the Knave of spades. South then cashed his established heart and led a diamond. West was thus compelled to take the finesse in that suit which he had sought to avoid and when it lost, his contract was defeated. After the Opening lead of the spade, the entire problem of defense rested upon the lead to the second trick. By refusing to woodenly use a rule designed to meet a different situation, South had saved the day.

Question: When do you take out with two notrump?

Answer: Holding 2 plus honor-tricks but lacking adequate support, and having no biddable suit, bid two notrump.

That Body of Yours

By James W. Barton, M.D.

THE COLON OR LARGE INTESTINE.

The large intestine, that is, the large part of the food canal, is called the colon. It begins just about at the point where you know your appendix lies, on the lower right side of the abdomen.

From this point it goes up the right side of the abdomen, then across the abdomen to the left side a little below the stomach. It makes a sharp turn downward and continues downward on left side, to the point where its wastes leave the body.

Now anywhere along this tube or intestine, trouble can arrive. As it has to make an S turn where it starts, a sharp turn up on right side where it goes over to the left side, an even sharper turn as it turns downward at left side, and another S turn at lower left side, you can understand why pain arises at these four points when there is a large amount of gas in the intestine.

If, in addition to these four turns, there should be a little loop or kink anywhere along the intestine, pain would result due to the gas pressure.

Sometimes there are troubles other than gas formation—kinks, adhesions, growths, inflammation, and other conditions.

Instead of giving the barium meal by mouth and waiting for it to get down into large intestine, this varium meal or enema is now injected into the large intestine.

Dr. P. C. Schnoebelen, St. Louis, points out that this method gives a better view of the pouch and curvature at lower left side, shows whether the pouch itself is doing its work properly; shows up any obstruction, or any little defects of the lining of the colon; will readily show the effects of any treatment that has been given.

This is certainly a convenient and rapid method of learning much about the condition of the large intestine.

If there appears to be no real disease or growth there, the pain and distress may be due to what is called 'irritable colon,' usually due to faulty health habits of the patient who, in trying to use a 'rough' diet to correct or prevent constipation, uses so much rough food that the intestine becomes irritable, spasms occur which prevent passage of waste, and pain and inflammation result.

"The treatment naturally is soft foods—meat, chicken, fish, eggs, cream, butter, well cooked cereals, strained soups, stewed fruits, and simple desserts."

Mount Pleasant

MOUNT PLEASANT, May 6 (Examiner Correspondence))—A special meeting was held in the Women's Institute Hall on Monday evening when a committee of the Women's Institute met with the members of the School Board and discussed the subject, teaching music in the school.

The president of the W.I. Mrs. G. Shield presided and the secretary, Mrs. A. Tully reported having received a letter regarding the meeting to be held in Millbrook Town Hall on Tuesday afternoon when the subject will be discussed by the Institute branches of East Durham, and the school trustees of the different sections. Colonel E. E. Synder, P.S.I. of Port Hope will address the gathering. It was decided that as many as could get the opportunity owing to the busy season, would attend this meeting in Millbrook. Miss M. McCamus, teacher, was present and explained the "teaching of music in the school."

H. Gardiner voiced the sentiment of the meeting in a motion, "That the Mount Pleasant school have music taught." Ir Lowe supported the motion and the vote was unanimous.

LINDSAY SEEKS ITS BACK TAXES

Water Commission Shows Operating Profit for Year 1931 of $21,000.

BUILDING AT RESORTS.

LINDSAY, May 6 (Examiner Correspondence).—According to the auditor's report the local Water Commission had an operating profit for 1931 of $21,000. It was decided by the Commission that those in arrears for water would not be prosecuted if it was found that they could not meet the obligation because of straightened circumstances.

Acting Mayor Begg is authority for the statement that the finances of the town are in a deplorable condition because of back taxes. Toronto auditors who have been on the municipal books for some weeks have completed their work. Their report will be in the hands of the council in June.

Although the contest for the reeveship in Fenelon Falls resulted in the election of A. E. Tiers over Foster Kelly by twenty-five votes, the school question, which was the issue in the contest, is far from being settled. The supporters of a new Continuation school are not discouraged over the outcome of the election, and are still hopeful of seeing a new school erected. The government grant has been withheld until a new school replaces the present structure.

There is considerable building activity at the different resorts at Sturgeon Lake. Five new cottages are under way at Thurstonia, and four at Kenstone, a suburb of Thurstonia.

Your New Skin—White-Fresh-Smooth

Wipe Away Those Blackheads And Ugly Skin Scales

Try this Specialist's Recipe

Thousands have enlarged pores and do not know it. Every enlarged pore is due to irritation. Unless you get rid of skin pore irritation, foreign matter collects, and the consequence is unsightly blackheads, pimples, blotches, sallow darkened colour and coarse rough skin.

Crème Tokalon Skinfood White Colour (non-greasy) now contains a marvellous new soft, creamy wax extracted from flowers, combined with predigested dairy cream and olive oil. It is tonic, astringent and nourishing—penetrates instantly, soothes irritated skin glands, tightens enlarged pores, dissolves blackheads so that they fall away, whitens and softens darkest, roughest skin. Keeps the driest skin fresh and delicately moist, but not greasy. Equally adapted to take off the shine from an oily skin or sleek, shiny nose.

Crème Tokalon Skinfood (White colour) gives indescribable new skin beauty and freshness in 3 days—such as can be obtained in no other way. It should be used every morning.
